Mr. James M. Cox,
President,

Dayton, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Cox:

My attention has been called to the editorial entitled "Crime's Hidden Cost" which appeared in the March 15, 1936, issue of the Springfield News and the March 17, 1936, issue of the Dayton News, quoting from the address which I delivered last month before the Round Table Forum, under the auspices of the New York Herald Tribune.

As you have noted, the stultifying influences which hamper law enforcement work have a triangular aspect with rotten politics, crooked lawyers and unscrupulous bail bondsmen continuing their efforts toward criminal ends.

Proper law enforcement is also of a triangular nature; one side being comprised of local agencies; the second side, Federal agencies; and the third side must be completed by a cooperative public. With these three forces working together, each putting out its best efforts, it is hoped that the stultifying influences will eventually be overcome. Editorial leadership such as yours have evidenced can be of inestimable benefit toward gaining this end.

With best wishes and kind regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

CRIMINALS

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the criminal investigations of the Department of Justice, talks a forum on "crime and youth" at New York that the 12,000 homicides and other depredations of our 1,000,000 criminals cost the country $15,000,000,000 a year—the equivalent of half the national debt. "The only thing that can put the criminal out of business," says the chief of the G-men, "is for the American people to make it their business to combat crime and all the filthy, stultifying influences which foster crime."

At the top of his list of those influences Mr Hoover puts the "rotten politics" which has sold organized crime the protection essential to its existence. Next comes the crooked lawyer, frequently with political connections, who uses the knowledge often gained at public expense to undo the law he has taken oath to defend, by slipping offenders through technical loopholes so that they may continue to prey on society. The unscrupulous bail bondsman is the third of an unholy trio.

Oust these influences and honest authorities could much more readily cope with crime. To that end the public's weapon is the ballot. When he relinquished his post as safety director of Philadelphia some years ago, Gen. Smedley Butler made this observation: "The crime situation will not improve until the people get mad enough to do something about it." Why don't we? Because that yearly $15,000,000,000 bill, which ought to paralyze the pocketbook nerve, is levied invisibly. Let the cost of crime be paid by a direct tax so called, and how long would we put up with it?

CRIME'S HIDDEN COST

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the division of investigation of the department of justice, tells a forum on "crime and youth" at New York that the 12,000 homicides and other depredations of our 3,000,000 criminals cost the country $15,000,000,000 a year—the equivalent of half the nation's debt. 1:05 ...

I returned the telephone call of Governor James M. Cox of Dayton, Ohio, who wanted to know if there was any reason why the Bureau shouldn't get into the Thompson kidnapping case out there. I advised the Governor that there has been no indication of any violation of the kidnapping statute, in other words, no indication of interstate transportation. Governor Cox stated he believed there was such a violation as the woman and child were seen in Detroit. I told him there was no real confirmation of that as far as I knew; that there wasn't anything substantive to show that the child had been taken in interstate transportation as being kidnapped. I advised him I would look into the matter, check the facts, and write him a letter.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ACTING ASSISTANT TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
MR. MATTHEW F. McGUIRE

Re: UNKNOWN SUBJECTS; Hopewell Memorial Cemetery
Association; Mail Fraud

The Cincinnati, Ohio, Field Division of this Bureau is in receipt of information that the trial of Morton Gilbert and his associates on the charges of mail fraud in the Federal Court at Cincinnati, Ohio, ended on May 20, 1939, at which time Gilbert was convicted and sentenced to serve a term of fifteen years. Several defendants, including one named Bernstein, were acquitted. United States District Judge John H. Druffel has advised the Special Agent in Charge of the Cincinnati Field Division of this Bureau that he suspects there was jury tampering in behalf of Bernstein, due to the fact that the evidence against Bernstein was rather conclusive.

ORIGINAL FILED

Judge Druffel advised that Bernstein has a brother in Cleveland, Ohio, who is reputedly wealthy, and a Cleveland attorney named Weiss was present in Cincinnati throughout the trial, which lasted three weeks, although Bernstein was represented by a very reputable Cincinnati attorney, former Supreme Court Judge Robert W. Gorman. Weiss, however, did not represent Bernstein during the trial. Judge Druffel advised that Weiss has a reputation at Cleveland as a "fixer." He also advised that a number of the jurors in this case came to him after the trial and informed that they wanted to convict Bernstein, but that a juror by the name of Key (phonetic spelling) held out for Bernstein's acquittal and refused to convict any defendants unless Bernstein were acquitted. Judge Druffel advised he desired that this Bureau make an investigation to determine whether there was any effort made on behalf of Bernstein to tamper with the jury and also whether there was any bribery of a juror on behalf of Bernstein.

- Miss Gandy

Judge Druffel also advised that he has heard a rumor to the effect that defendant Morton Gilbert paid $7,000 to Attorney Ralph Skilken, of Dayton, Ohio, in an effort to prevent his indictment and conviction in this case. Judge Druffel stated that Skilken is in the same office with Leo Calvin Crawford, who was recently named by the President as United States Attorney for the Southern District of Ohio, and according to newspaper dispatches, Crawford's name was sent to the Senate last week. Judge Druffel advised that Skilken and Crawford are both friends of Francis Canny, who recently resigned as United States Attorney for the Southern District of Ohio. He also pointed out that an indictment was returned in this case against Morton Gilbert and his associates by the 1938 Term of the Federal Grand Jury at Dayton, Ohio, and that this indictment was faulty, for which reason he insisted on a new indictment prior to the trial of the case.

Judge Druffel also advised that he understands James W. Cox, former Governor of Ohio and former Democratic nominee for President of the United States, is in possession of information to the effect that Morton Gilbert paid $12,000 to Attorney Ralph Skilken to prevent his indictment and conviction in this case, and Mr. Cox intends to bring this matter to the attention of Senator Ashurst, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, in a further effort to block confirmation of Crawford's appointment.

For your further information, Morton Gilbert informed a Special Agent of this Bureau that he is in possession of information of value to the Government, which he will furnish in an effort to aid himself. In view of Gilbert's reputation, two Special Agents interviewed him in the County Jail at Cincinnati, and advised Gilbert that no bargain could be made with him.

b3 [REDACTED]

He discussed the matter with Edwin Judy, formerly with the Division of Securities of the State of Ohio, and was referred by Judy to Attorney Ralph Skilken. Gilbert indicated that in his conference with Skilken, he was informed that for a fee of $10,000 he, Skilken, would guarantee Gilbert that an indictment would not be returned. Gilbert stated that he paid Skilken $7,000 and gave him undated checks for the additional $3,000, Skilken inferring that he could take care of the case through United States Attorney Canny, also referring to him as "the boss." Gilbert, however, was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in October, 1938, and he stated he then "raised so much hell with Skilken" that Skilken returned $2,000 through Judy. Gilbert was informed by Skilken that the reason for the indictment was that James H. Cleveland, First Assistant United States Attorney at Cincinnati, who has been Acting United States Attorney since the resignation of Mr. Canny, forced through the indictment and Mr. Canny was unable to do anything with Cleveland.

Gilbert did not mention the name of Leo Calvin Crawford at any time during the interview and was not questioned concerning Crawford.

Gilbert furnished four cancelled checks, payable to Ralph Skilken, totalling $7,000, all of which were deposited in the Third National Bank and Trust Company, Dayton, Ohio.

With reference to Leo Calvin Crawford, it was noted that the checks were paid to Skilken long before the resignation of Mr. Canny, and therefore before Crawford was under consideration for appointment as United States Attorney.

5/31/39

Judge Druffel advised the Special Agent in Charge at Cincinnati on May 25, 1939, that the Grand Jury is being recalled in order to hear additional testimony in connection with this case, and it is probable that a number of additional individuals will be indicted in connection with the operation of the Arlington Memorial Cemetery, one of the organizations operated by Morton Gilbert. In the operation of this cemetery association, Gilbert was associated with several prominent Republican politicians at Cincinnati, and Judge Druffel indicated the possibility that these men might be indicted.

He also pointed out that if Leo Calvin Crawford is confirmed as United States Attorney, an embarrassing situation might result in view of the money allegedly paid by Morton Gilbert to Ralph Skilken who has been associated with Crawford.

The above facts are being referred to you for your information, and it is requested that you advise whether any investigation should be instituted by this Bureau.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to letter from this office dated April 28, 1939, under the above caption, Bureau file #36-2241.

I wish to advise that the trial of MORTON GILBERT and his associates on charges of Mail Fraud in the Federal Court at Cincinnati, Ohio, ended on Saturday, May 20, 1939, at which time GILBERT was convicted and sentenced to serve fifteen years. Several defendants, including one named BERNSTEIN were acquitted. The United States District Judge, JOHN H. He advised that SKILKEN is in the same office with LEO CALVIN CRAWFORD, who has recently been named by the President as United States Attorney for the Southern District of Ohio. According to newspaper dispatches CRAWFORD's name was sent to the Senate last week. He was investigated as a Departmental Applicant under Cincinnati file #77-166. Judge DRUFFEL advises that SKILKEN and CRAWFORD are both friends of FRANCIS CANNY, who recently resigned as United States Attorney for the Southern District of Ohio. Judge DRUFFEL also pointed out that an indictment was returned in this case against MORTON GILBERT and his associates by the 1938 term of the Federal Grand Jury at Dayton, Ohio, and that this indictment was faulty, for which reason he insisted on a new indictment prior to the trial of this case.

GILBERT would not be indicted. GILBERT advised that he paid SKILKEN $7,000.00 and gave him undated checks for the additional $3,000.00. GILBERT stated that SKILKEN inferred that he could take care of this matter through Mr. CANNY, always referring to him as "the boss". CLEVELAND, First Assistant United States Attorney at Cincinnati, who has been Acting United States Attorney since the resignation of Mr. CANNY forced through the indictment and that Mr. CANNY could not do anything with Mr. CLEVELAND.

MORTON GILBERT did not mention the name of LEO CALVIN CRAWFORD at any time during the interview and he was not questioned with respect to Crawford.

MORTON GILBERT furnished this office with four cancelled checks, payable to RALPH SKILKEN in the following dates and amounts:

10-13-37	$ 500.00
10-20-37	500.00
11-24-37	5,000.00
12-13-37	1,000.00

All checks were deposited by SKILKEN in the Third National Bank and Trust Company, Dayton, Ohio.

So far as LEO CALVIN CRAWFORD is concerned it should be noted that these checks were paid to SKILKEN long before the resignation of Mr. CANNY and therefore before CRAWFORD was under consideration for appointment as United States Attorney.

This letter will confirm telephonic conversation with Mr. E. A. TAMM of the Bureau on this date. The Cincinnati Office will make no investigation either with respect to the Jury which sat at the recent trial or with respect to the payments made by MORTON GILBERT to Attorney SKILKEN, unless the Bureau so directs.

Very truly yours,

I am returning herewith the telegram addressed to you on May 11th by Honorable James M. Cox of Dayton, Ohio, relative to the possibility of my making an address at a meeting in Dayton in the near future before a community group.

I do not feel that it would be desirable for me to make this address; as a matter of fact, the pressure of work now pending before the Bureau is such that I frankly do not see how I could possibly arrange to fill this engagement in the near future.

Dear Mrs. Hughes:

Thank you so much for your kind letter of June 25, 1938, extending me a very cordial invitation to participate in the Citizens Welfare Convention which is to be held at Dayton, Ohio, on September 27th and 28th, 1938.

I was very much interested to hear the details of the meeting which you are planning and I am sure that it will accomplish much to bring before the citizenry of your community an understanding of the activities of the various agencies participating in the gathering. As you know, I would certainly enjoy the opportunity of discussing some of our problems with the delegates to your convention and I have checked my commitments very carefully to see whether it would be possible to visit Dayton at that time. However, I regret to advise that my prior engagements and the pressure of official duties during the coming fall season will not permit me to be with you.

If you so desire and will communicate with me, I will be very happy indeed to designate another representative of the Bureau to talk to the delegates on September 27th or 28th.

Mr. John Edgar Hoover
U. S. Department Of Justice Bldg.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On Tuesday and Wednesday of September 27th and 28th, We are conducting in Dayton a local CITIZENS WELFARE CONVENTION for the purpose of giving the average citizen a fundamental understanding of why social agencies exist. We are trying to make the point that what affects an individual in the community affects the whole community -- " that we are one of another."

This convention is considered a unique educational experiment. More than 150 organizations in the city are sending delegates with the understanding that these delegates will carry a resume of the convention proceedings back to their October meetings. Therefore, whatever we can accomplish in the convention will eventually spread to the entire community.

All of which is preliminary to asking you if you will do Dayton the tremendous honor of participating in the speaking program of our convention. You will probably recall that we extended you an invitation a year or so ago through former Governor James M. Cox. At the time you could not accept but you indicated that you might favor Dayton at a later time.

We cannot begin to tell you how favored we would be by an acceptance. Inasmuch as this is the only local Citizens Welfare Convention attempted to date, we do not believe you would be subjecting yourself to a precedent by accepting our invitation.

Will you be good enough to let us hear from you at an early date? Please do not say no. We like to get our men, even as Shirley Temple does. Seriously, we are eager for your acceptance.

Sincerely yours, Robert D. Hughes
