SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

Site is an isolated, hilly, rural area. The vegetation is very lush and green. The site consists of a leveled, cleared area. There are two structures one is a wooden, house-like structure with a porch. The other is a long, wide building with a corrugated tin roof. Both are built on dirt. The road leading to them is winding and also dirt. In front of the structure are two vehicles. One is a very, large truck with an enclosed back reminiscent of a moving truck. The other is an old, rounded, 50's style pick-up with a wooden railing around the back. One to two miles to one side is a river which starts narrow and fast then widens. It winds through the hills and downhill. It is overgrown with lush vegetation. There is a water wheel with supporting structure on it.
