ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF INFORMATION REQUESTED IN ORDER OF PRIORITY:

SG1A 1. Is the vessel, [redacted] carrying contraband narcotics, if so, where on board is it stored?

RESPONSE: It was, it has been offloaded already. It was stored in small easy to handle packages, wrapped in plastic. It was stored in simple to find areas aboard the vessel. Some of the areas I saw were inside a closet, another was under a bunk, with clothes and other materials concealing it.

SG1A 2. Determine the current location of the [redacted]

✓ RESPONSE: The vessel is currently moving to port (or in the vicinity of a port) at the following coordinates: 19 05' N / 76 06' W.

3. Determine the time, date and location where the contraband narcotics will be unloaded/transferred.

RESPONSE: Contraband was offloaded two days ago (approximately 9th or 10th of April) on a small but inhabited island. There appeared to be a lot of tourists in and around the port facilities. The vessel did not dock, it anchored off shore and transported the contraband to shore in a very small craft during the night. This contraband was not destined for the United States. The location given for the port is difficult because of the proximity of other islands, but it is in the vicinity of: 23 02' N / 73 02' W.

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The target does not have contraband aboard. It did have it aboard until the night of the 9th or 10th of April when it was unloaded under cover of darkness and transported to shore, vicinity 23 02' N / 73 02' W. There are numerous small islands in the vicinity of this one. I felt that the area had a large tourist trade -- just lots of people around during the day. The vessel used to take the contraband to shore was very small and there were two or three men on the shore that received the packages (contraband). The contraband is not intended for distribution to the United States.

The contraband amounted to about eight to ten packages of what looked like cocaine. It had been loosely stored onboard the ship in closets (G7), under a bunk (G2), and under a seat of some sort (C9). The individual in charge of the vessel felt that he was under minimal risk -- he should be watched closely, as I perceive that he will try this type of operation again.

The current location of the vessel is ¹⁹~~10~~ 05' N / 76 06' W, still underway. Heading is south, southwest -- nothing more accurate could be determined.
