SECRET/NOFORN

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

There are thirteen hostages, mostly foreign (non-US) nationals being held in the barracks surrounded by the Syrian troops in the southern portion of Beirut. Rudolf Cordes, the German national hostage will be one of the first to be released in the near term. The impression (however incongruous) persists that Frank Herbert Reed (Director of the Lebanese International School) will be released at the same time and in the company of Cordes. The captors have a pronounced reluctance to release any US hostages. In an area known as "Ash Shuwayfat" reportedly located southwest of the military barracks surrounded by the Syrian troops are the US hostages, Joseph Cicippio and Alann Steen (who have been very difficult to access previously). See Enclosure 3 The captors will attempt to move some of the US hostages under the cover of darkness. Cicippio and Steen are hidden under "deep cover." Neither Terry Waite nor Terri Anderson will be found in the barracks. They are at another location. It goes without saying that USMC LTC Higgins is not there either; in fact, Higgins has not been with any of the other hostages from the time he was taken captive.

It is anticipated that Polhill will be released with the second group of hostages. USMC LTC Higgins will be released from captivity sometime soon after the release of Cordes. At this time Higgins is located at a site known as "As Sarafand". He arrived there via Mazra an Nabi Casim and Al Khara ib. He is moved intermittently and sporadically between As Sarafand and the area bounded by Reservoir 1006, a site known as Anan, and a second unnamed reservoir located about 1 kilometer northwest of Reservoir 1006. See attached copy of partial map with highlighted areas at ENCLOSURE 2. Higgins release is assured by the pocket of pressure exercised by the Israelis from the south and by the (Syrian?) activity to the north. This facet (anticipated release) of the the hostage situation will take place in the very near future (late June and early July).
