4. Manpower requirements were discussed, including our POM submission for FY82. The GDIP Staff is considering our request for 5 spaces to support this program. It was explained that INSCOM currently has a nine-man task force working on the project, and that all resources are "out-of-hide" to keep the program functioning. Hence, INSCOM was not asking for an increase to the project manning level, but rather some relief from the current manpower drain on existing resources.

5. The Senate Staffers appeared to be very satisfied with the meeting, and thanked everyone for a very informative session.
