SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The target is a tall structure. There are columns reaching upward with some sort of enlargement at the top. The target is constructed mainly of steel and there are reinforcement wires between the main columns. I think that the color was light green with concrete at the base covering the area like a patio or driveway.

The top looks like a rounded structure and I sensed a presence of people there. It was sunny and people were walking around the base of the structure. The most prevalent perception was one of height yet very dry and calm.
