SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The target ship is a mid sized cargo ship. Black and white appear to be the major colors -- a black hull and white bridge and cranes.

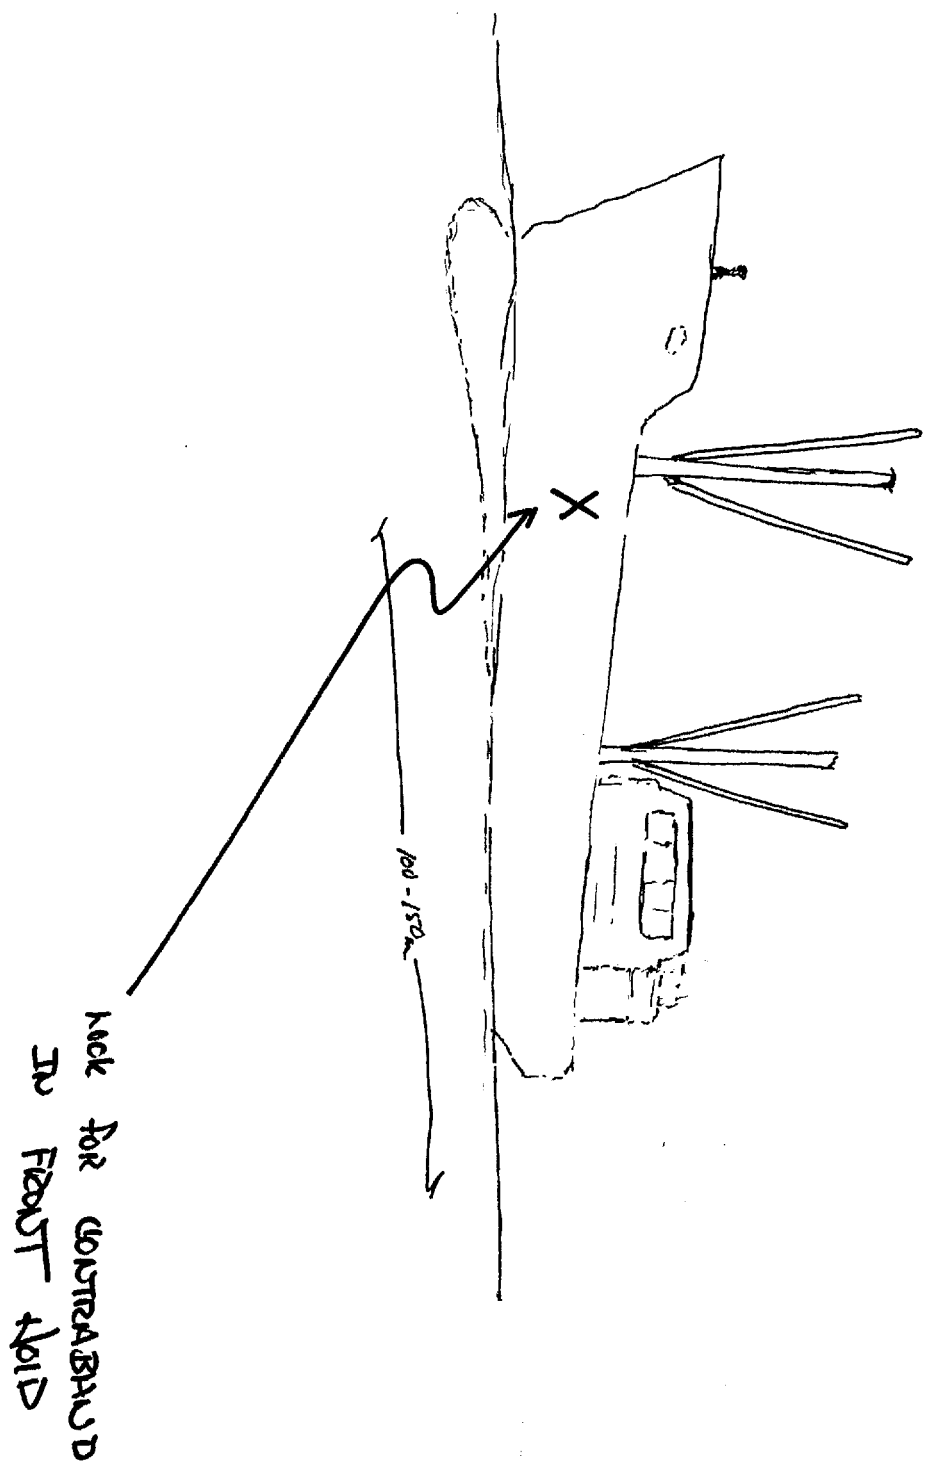

The ship rides low in the water and could be mistaken for a tanker if you did not know what to look for. There are cranes fore and amidships used for lifting things into and out of the <sup>e</sup>holds (see sketch). The bridge of the ship is located to the rear with just a small deck beyond that.

The product is located in the cargo holds under large amounts of other things -- I don't know what it is that is on top of them. The plan is to keep everyone at bay by making it to difficult to find the product. It would require a long time to unload to get to it. It will be difficult to see the product without uncovering it -- no, it would be impossible. It is however, wrapped in plastic several times and the plastic is dark colored green or black.

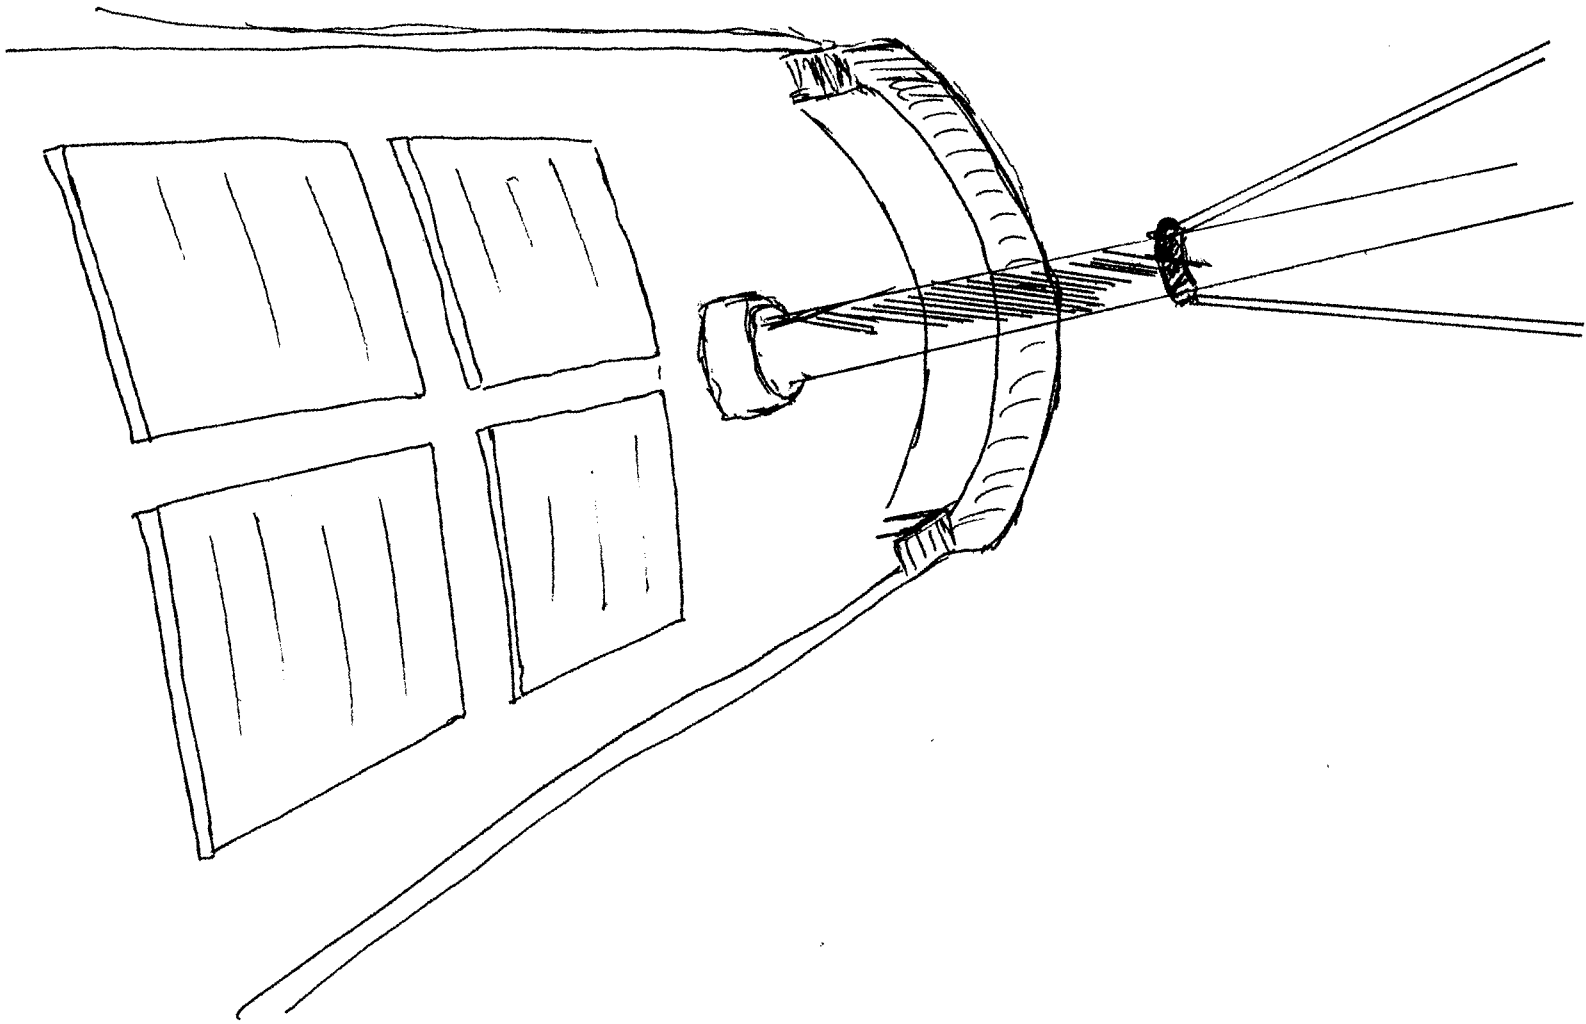

It will come back through the Panama Canal -- I can see it steaming through the cut heading south.
