Just wait out an Athos storm, you no more dramatic haven than ra, high on a spur above the Aeens its dovecote of cells onto tiers alconies propped by aged beams.

act of faith. Clutching the splinstepping over a gap in the floor becked down mesmerized at walls

THE YEAR 1071 was a bad one for the Byzantines, East and West. At Manzikert, in the highlands of eastern Turkey, the multinational Byzantine Army, riven by dissensions and desertions and for once sloppy in reconnaissance, was annihilated by the invading Seljuk Turks it had marched east to destroy. An tolu ward backed and forth to clutching ground

Bari, sacked by the Normans after a three-year siege. Five years after the Battle of Hastings in England, the Normans had conquered southern Italy.
The year 1204 was even worse. On April 13, Fourth Crusaders en route to Jerusalem committed what historian Sir Steven Runci-man called "the greatest crime in history," the "Christian Sack of Constantinople."
