2. (S/NF/SK) The target was Stonehenge, the famous paleolithic stone monolithic structure on the Salisbury Plain of Southern England. The identity of the builders of this structure have been lost to antiquity, although the persistently erroneous assumption is that it was built by the Druids. In 1949, Sir Edward Moore proved conclusively that Stonehenge was a minutely accurate predictor of lunar eclipses, the vernal equinox and possibly some stellar navigational calculations.

3. (S/NF/SK) SOURCE SUMMARY:

a. (S/NF/SK) Source had an exceptional session beginning with her opening descriptives of, "circular area, monumental, quiet, and smooth waters", an accurate description of a slow and lazy river nearby". Source continued by stating that the site, "symbolized a meaning, going back", and had a square as well as a round component and a "flat top" (NOTE: Source stated top as opposed to roof which is a significant discriminator).

b. (S/NF/SK) The structure was described by Source as "hard, stony, and designed to be looked at, an object of history". Additionally, Source quite accurately described the surrounding countryside of, "rolling hills, secluded, flat, isolated, green forests, fields, crisscrossing waters and grassy areas". Mid-session descriptives pertaining to art treasures, paintings and men are probably explained as a typical analytic overlay response to certain characteristics of the site.

c. (S/NF/SK) Source was further directed back in time to 3500 years from todays date, (the best estimate of the construction period), but failed to travel this distance possibly due to inexperience or possibly due to a desire to "view" historic events in the 1200-1500 A.D. era. At any rate, the descriptives tended to support perceptions of feudal England and the signing of the Magna Carta as opposed to the founding of Stonehenge.

4. (S/NF/SK) Inasmuch as the actual target was Stonehenge today, the fact that Source was unable to travel back to its construction date had no affect on the final evaluation. It is the opinion of the Interviewer that Source successfully acquired the proper target site and accurately described, beyond a shadow of doubt, the major and minor gestalts of that target.

.. describe the structure

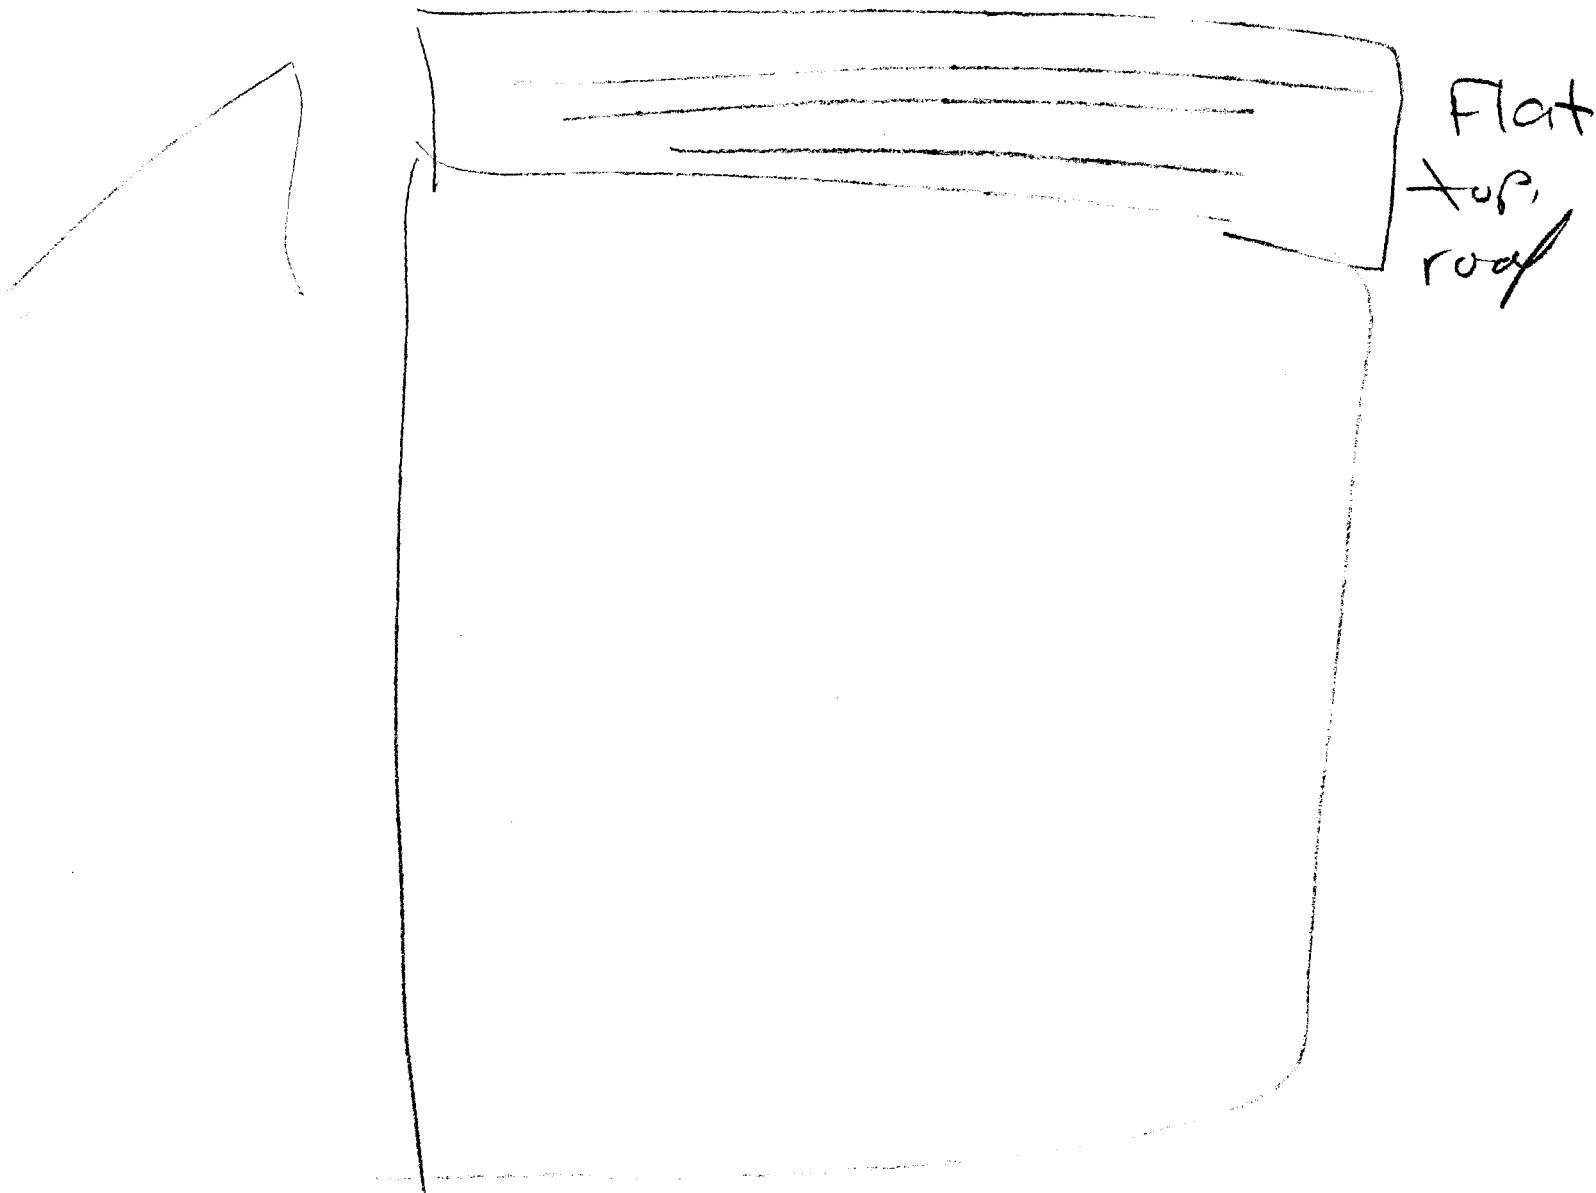

★ circle is always there, its always there, I see the circle now - But sometimes its hidden - I see a cross, its a black cross, hanging -

→ Tell me about the structure - peaceful, quiet, I see bar, I see protection inside, a feeling of being used to put, locked up, prison -

I sensed at first I was looking at a circle, a large man-made circle. The circle was decorative and I don't know whether it was painted or carved. I sensed this was a place of history. At first I did not sense people but when I came up closer to the structure I sensed people were inside looking, observing at things but the people were very quiet.

I sensed water nearby and the structure or circle was on flat, little rolling hills. I had sensed that the structure had a flat roof but then later I saw a ~~to~~ triangular roof. I sensed color with the ~~the~~ structure.

When I first went back in time, I did not know whether the circle was there or not. But if it was, it was not as pretty. I sensed a man who was a religious warrior who stayed at this place and prayed. I kept getting the feeling of God & country.

At one point when I went back in time, I sensed the water played an important part of this structure. I sensed people bringing materials to this place.

time, I saw people working hard, I kept associating a family or families associated with the structure.

At another point, I sensed royalty and again God & country and the signing of a paper between men.

Now, at one point I sensed a bloody, bloody, brutal battle or fight. At this point the structure was being ripped. It looked terrible. The war or battle was an internal Battle. I kept sensing family.

At another point, I could see that the circle was always there but somehow it looked different.

Now at one point, I sensed that this place also looked people up, ~~when I came back to the present day, I sensed that~~

At one point in time, I also sensed this was a place where men went to learn & study and they were robes.

Now, when I came back to present day, I sensed there were art objects or paintings with this structure.
