← flat narrow, rather windy in some places.

Site is located in a dry parched area with tall hills or mountains in the background. There is a long, narrow, flat road leading to an isolated complex of buildings. There is an offit structure at the site that is smooth, curved, shiny and close to the ground. Other structures at the site are more conventional, i. e., regular buildings. There is a rumbling sound like heavy vehicles moving on the road. There is also a hissing sound like steam escaping.
