2. (S/NF/SK) VIEWER TASKING: Due to a previously aborted session in which 003 did not acquire the target, 003 was told that he would be working a DEA problem. He requested to start the session in stage 4. He was given the initial cue [redacted]. Additional cues included "move to the specific point in space-time of the specific activity of interest" (this was unbenknownst to 003 to represent the unloading point/time). "Using the time-line given determine the time of this activity," "Using these maps (Carribean and Eastern US) determine the location of this activity." Next 003 was told to turn his attention to a second ship the [redacted]. The following cues were given "time and place of interest" (this was to represent the unloading, instead 003 obtained the [redacted] in a waiting posture with no contraband.) The next cue was "unloading point" 003 viewed the point at which drugs were off-loaded onto the [redacted] so the cue "final destination/unloading point" was given. 003 was given the timeline and the maps again. Summary of Information

First incident, involving the cue [REDACTED] was connected with a small group of people meeting at a water front area, on a wooden platform with poles (pier?). At least one person involved was very upset, felt that he had been "taken", was not satisfied with the outcome of the meeting at all, but felt trapped/forced into accepting outcome because he had no other "choice." Location was vic of 22deg 50"N/74deg 40"W on or about afternoon of 25 June.

SG1A

Second incident involving [REDACTED] began with vessel waiting, relaxed in calm, bright, secluded sunny waters. Sense of stopped or anchored out. A rendezvous occurs, "like" the handoff of a relay race; material is transferred (vic 13deg 20"N/60deg 40"W); vessel then proceeds to point offshore of east coast of Florida, where cargo is broken down into smaller loads and moved in a dispersed fashion to shore vic 27deg 40"N/80deg 30"W. The significant date associated with this is late on 21 June. An attempt to obtain phonetic information about the name of the "mother" ship produced "ARAMEZA."
