PRESENT?

4 1/2 - there is a gathering of people at a specific place for a specific reason, but this gathering is broken down into special-interest groups. More like "self-interest groups". A key person is having difficulty getting their attention.

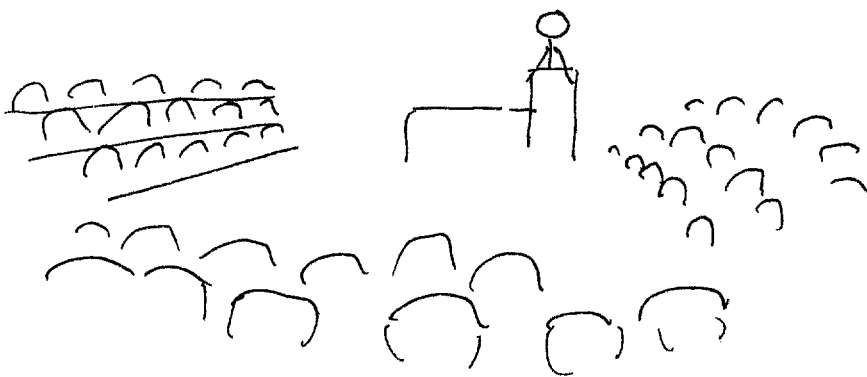

Cannot seem to get them organized.

Break

4 1/2 - when I went back, the entire group was organized and very attentive. I felt as if they were aware of my presence again. So, I apologized for interrupting them before, and they all started laughing in a friendly and approving manner. As if it took my interruption to get their attention in-line so-to-speak.
