Enclosure(s)
FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

(i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.

(ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

(i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual’s name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.

(ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

(iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

(i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIAP requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.

(ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.

(iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks—often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.

(iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.
EXPLANATION OF EXEMPTIONS

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE: WALL STREET BOMB PLOT

FACTS DEVELOPED:

AT DENVER COLORADO:

Reporting as directed by letter from Director of Bureau to Division Superintendent SAMSON, dated September 28, 1921, GFR, and Division Circular Letter No. 28, dated October 3, 1921, relative to the above entitled matter, this District reports that there has never been any information whatever in this District relative to this matter.

Concluded.
To-day IRVING SADOFSKY, who uses the name IRVING SAXON, and who resides at 1814 Woodhaven Boulevard, Woodhaven, L. I., called at this office and stated that he is acquainted with one Miss LENA SPECTOR, who resides at 356 Grand Street, New York City, and who is at present employed and has been for some time past as stenographer by the W. J.

Saxon stated that a few months ago Miss Spector notified the Burns Agency of her intention to leave her position and they refused to accept her resignation. (She presumes, because she knew too much about details of the business being carried on by the office.)

According to Saxon, Miss Spector informed him that WILLIAM LINDE, who runs an office at Room 1201, World's Tower Building, 110 West 40th St., under the name of the International Slavic Press, is, in fact, an employee of the Burns Agency and maintains the above office for the purpose of obtaining for the Agency all information available concerning the different labor organizations in New York City and labor conditions in general.

Miss Spector also informed Saxon, according to his story, that she spent about half of her time at the Burns office in the Woolworth Building and the other half at Linde's office in the World's Tower.
Building, and that on or about Feb. 26th Linde sailed for France for the purpose, according to Miss Spector, of attempting to locate the driver of the wagon which was blown up on September 16, 1920, in Wall Street. She added that Sergeant Wood of Police Headquarters was a frequent caller on Linde. (Agent's note: Sergeant Wood is possibly Sergeant Clement Wood of Headquarters who spends practically all of his time on labor matters and strikes.) According to Saxon's story Miss Spector was informed by Linde just prior to his departure from this country that he expected to locate the driver of the wagon above referred to, either in France or Russia.

When questioned as to his motive for bringing the foregoing information to this office, Saxon's reasons were rather hazy and it is not improbable that he may later be an applicant for a position.

J. G. TUCKER, Special Agent.
This report made pursuant to request of Acting Division Superintendent Kelly, under date of October 12th, 1921, for a detailed report of investigation of any leads on the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, and that the same be forwarded in report form to the Director of the Bureau, marked for the attention of "GFR."

This agent received a report made by William J. West, Boston, Mass., for December 31st, 1920, with the request to investigate GIOVANNI COSTA, alias LOUIS COSTELLO, alias VALERIO VANZI, alias JULIUS TERRY, alias JULIUS FERRY, stating that his true name was GIOVANNI COSTA, and that he had been arrested in Boston, Mass., prison record No. 15574; arrested March 5, 1916, for attempting to enter a residence and having burglar tools in his possession. He had also been arrested as EDWARD FERRY, in New York, on August 30, 1904, for petty larceny; as JULIUS TERRY, in New York City, Jan. 10, 1911, for petty larceny and given six months in the penitentiary. Under the name of COSTA, on June 16, 1906, at New York City, given six months in the penitentiary for petty larceny. On March 3, 1919, sentenced to Albany County Penitentiary, from Albany County, N.Y., No. P-14483, as poor box thief. In Pennsylvania, under the name of JULIUS FERRY or FERRIE, at Philadelphia, June 24, 1908, arrested for larceny from poor boxes, and on July 14, 1908, for same offense, and was sentenced to two years in the Philadelphia County Prison, terms to run concurrently. On November 12, 1912, was arrested in Philadelphia, as a suspicious person supposed to have thrown a bomb in a butcher shop, and on November 26, 1914, at Philadelphia, arrested on a charge of entering with intent to steal. He, however, was discharged on this last arrest.

At Cincinnati, Ohio, under the name of LOUIS COSTELLO, arrested December 15, 1914, for practicing a trick game and fined $50 and costs. At Detroit, Mich., under the name of JULIUS TERRY, arrested October 9, 1912, for robbing poor boxes, fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days.

On December 31, 1918, COSTA was paroled from the Massachusetts State Penitentiary at Charlestown, Mass. His parole was revoked June 3, 1919, and he was brought back to Charlestown, and was confined until May 8th, 1920, when he was paroled and went eventually to Beaverton, Oregon.

Information was gained connecting this subject with the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION through a telephone conversation received by Agent C.J. Scully, of the New York office, advising him of a press report to the effect that one ERIC LUNDBLAD, who is now confined in the Wampum Penitentiary, Wisconsin, had that while he was serving a sentence in the Massachusetts Prison, Charlestown, Mass., had had become acquainted with the above subject, who professed to be an expert on bomb explosives. and threatened to get even on Wall Street when released and also that he would prepare a bomb and place it in a suitcase near a bootblack stand near the police station in Charlestown, Mass.

On December 31st, 1920, this office received a telegram from Agent Hanrahan, at Boston, Mass., requesting a careful and discreet inquiry regarding the above subject, who is supposed to reside at Beaverton, Oregon.

Agent Word, on January 3rd and 4th, interviewed the Postmistress at Beaverton, Ore., and learned that the above subject was residing at Beaverton and was receiving mail at P.O. Box #356; that the above subject and his wife conducted a soft drink establishment at that place which was considered by the general public to be a bootlegging establishment and rather a tough place, for the reason that several ex-convicts frequented the place and it was kept open nearly all night and that there were a good many drunks there.
Agent Word returned to headquarters and notified the office at Boston as well as the New York office regarding his investigation and on January 4th, 1921, this office received a telegram from Agent Reddy, of New York, requesting the whereabouts of the above subject on September 16th, 1920, the date of the Wall Street Bomb Explosion.
Agent Word, in company with the postmistress at Beaverton, Ore., got through all the registry receipts and money orders for August to JOHN P. WHITE, an attorney at 40 Court St., Boston, Mass., in the name of VALERIO VANZI, and on Sept. 10th, 1920, he bought a money order for $25 in favor of JOHN P. WHITE, under the same name. The handwriting is identical and the postmistress states that he has never been away from Beaverton to exceed three days since his arrival.

Agent Word went to Beaverton, Ore., on January 8th, 1921, and ascertained that the above subject had sold his soft drink establishment, and is now, or was some time after January 8th, 1921, running a road house about four miles north of Vancouver, Wash.

On January 10th, 1921, Division Superintendent W.R. B. received a letter from Agent in Charge T.M. Reddy, of New York, enclosing a picture of the above subject, which agent Word states is a perfect likeness of the subject.

In March, 1920, this office was requested to locate NICOLO RECCHI, who is a stone mason, and reported to be an anarchist who might have something to do with the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION. RECCHI was supposed to be receiving mail at P.O. Box #9, Astoria, Oregon. Agent Word made an under cover investigation at Astoria for several days but was unable to locate RECCHI or gain any information whatsoever concerning him and it is believed by Agent Word as well as this agent, that such a man was never in Astoria, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

In Re: Wall Street Explosion.

Referring to Bureau letter dated October 18th, initialed G.F.R. and numbered 212205-668, concerning Di Gregorio, an Anarchist, alleged to be employed as a bookkeeper in the office of J. P. Morgan & Company, your attention is respectfully called to a report of Agent John L. Haas of the Intelligence Division of this office for October 17th, the substance of which report is to the effect that no person of the aforementioned name was ever employed by that concern, and that this phase of the Wall Street Explosion was investigated during the Fall of 1920 by former Director W. J. Flynn and by Mr. Sherman Burns, of the Burns Detective Agency.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD J. BRENNAN

Desire you interview Louis Costello immediately regarding Wall Street explosion secure detailed statement forward special delivery desire no publicity concerning this matter cover movements after his release from custody local police.

Stop two.
Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of a letter from Division Superintendent Brennan, directing that a detailed resume' of any information in the files of this office covering investigation of leads on the Wall Street Explosion, be forwarded to you.

The only investigations conducted by this office in connection with the Wall Street Explosion, are the cases of JOE RUSSO and E. RECCHIA.

The investigation of RUSSO grew out of the fact that correspondence from him was found in the possession of certain anarchists in Boston.

RUSSO was arrested, frankly admitted that he was an Anarchist; in fact, boasted of it, and has already been deported.

All correspondence found in the possession of RUSSO was in Italian and was sent to New York for translation. The translations were made and copies of these letters are in your files under the title "JOE RUSSO- Anarchist".

The investigation of E. RECCHIA was made as a result of a letter from Division Superintendent George Lamb, New York, dated March 13, 1920, initialed "CJS". This letter requested a discreet investigation of RECCHIA, whose address was given as 898 Union Street, San Francisco. A description of subject, as well as a statement of his occupation was requested.

This matter was fully covered in a report made by Special Agent F. W. Kelly, dated March 22, 1920, under the title "E. RECCHIA- 898 Union St., San Francisco- Bomb Plot Connection".
Mr. Wm. J. Burns, -2- Oct. 20-1921.

842.36

It was found that two persons resided at 898 Union Street by the name of E. RECCHIA—EMIL and EUSTACE, said to be brothers.

The investigation indicated that these men bore excellent reputations and that they had nothing to do with the explosion.

In connection with the report above referred to, a list of Italian Anarchists, with their addresses, was furnished, which may be of interest.

Very truly yours,

E. M. Blanford,
Special Agent in Charge.

CC—Mr. C. E. Breniman,
Division Superintendent,
Los Angeles, California.
Report

Title and Character of Case: Bomb Explosion, Wall St., NYC, Sept. 16, 1920. Anarchist Activities.

Facts Developed:

Giovanni Costello, alias Louis Costello, alias Valerio Vanzi, alias Julius Ferry.

At Cincinnati, O.

Reference is made to report of Agent William J. West of Boston office, made on December 31st, 1920; also report of Agent O. H. Slater, Cincinnati, made on January 10th, 1921, both reports being under above heading.

Agent learned that on October 15th a party had been arrested at Cincinnati giving name as Joseph Schmidt on the charge of robbing a poor box at St. Ludwig Catholic Church, located at 8th and Walnut Sts., Cincinnati, and this party was later identified by Captain Dunning of the Bertillon Department, Cincinnati police, as being one Louis Costello who had a previous record as a poor box thief. This agent had Agent Slater make investigation at police headquarters for the purpose of finding out if party arrested was one and the same as referred to in previous reports. Agent Slater learned this was the same Costello as referred to in these reports. Therefore agent, on October 20th, sent the following wire in code to the Director:

"Please refer report Agent West Boston office December this first nineteen twenty and report Agent Slater Cincinnati January ten nineteen twenty one in re bomb explosion Wall Street New York City September 16, 1920, anarchist activity. Louis"
H.L. Scott

Costello mentioned report Agent Slater and thought to be same subject as mentioned in report Agent West now in custody local police on charge robbing church poor box. As only information this office has relative any possible anarchist activities of Costello contained in report Agent West desires to be advised immediately by wire if Director desires Agent At this time to interview Costello regarding any knowledge he may have regarding Wall Street explosion as subject may be released at any time."

Under date October 21st Agent received following reply in code from the Director:

"Desire you interview Louis Costello immediately regarding Wall Street explosive. Secure detailed statement forward special delivery. Desire no publicity concerning this matter. Cover movements after his release from custody local police. Two."

This agent and Agent Slater were directed by Agent-in-Charge WEAKER to interview COSTELLO as per instructions contained in wire #1 of Director above referred to.

Agents interviewed COSTO, alias Costello, who is being held at County Jail having been assessed by the local police court fines aggregating $200.00 same being on charges of petit larceny, disorderly conduct and being a known thief. COSTO's interview was taken partly in questions and answers copies of which are herewith attached and made part of this report.

COSTO admitted all of the arrests and convictions as set out in reports of Agents West and Slater and further stated that he was a petit thief who had never attempted other than this with exception he was arrested at Boston, Mass., on March 5th, 1916. Costo did not seem adverse to answering questions asked him but could not in the main give dates correctly. Costo denied emphatically as will be shown in the questions and answers herewith attached that he at any time made statement.
H. L. Scott.
Re: Bomb Explosion. Wall St.
Oct. 22, 1921.

To ERIC LUNDHALL as set out in report of Agent West above referred to.
He stated he did know party whose first name was Eric who was confined in the Massachusetts State Prison at Charleston at the same time he was describing him as a second story man who was in bad with the prison officials and who withheld grievances against them for what he thought was mistreatment of him. Costo stated in his opinion Lundhall was crazy in the head and had pipe dreams and was always talking about some invention. Costo stated if Lundhall had ever made any statement regarding his talking to him about explosives or blowing up Wall Street or getting even with him or placing any dynamite in any suit case near the bootblack stand in Charleston the same was not true and evidently was told by Lundhall to gain favor of prison officials wherever he might be confined.
Costo said his movements since leaving prison could be easily traced by the information which is contained in the questions and answers attached to this report after time he left Massachusetts State Prison at Charleston as he had gone directly to Beaverton, Oregon, and remained there or in that vicinity until about July of this year when he came east as set out in questions and answers. As will be seen from his statement he denies emphatically any knowledge as to chemistry or explosives of any kind; furthermore that he has not been to New York City for many years as he feared being picked up there; that all of his arrests and convictions have been for petit offenses. He states he would not do anything against the U. S. Government as he is well satisfied here and he does not believe in the taking of human life and that although he would not be what is termed a squealer or a rat he would if he had any knowledge of any plan which was contemplated for the blowing up of any place he would give such information.

In order to prevent the same, although he would not give any information that might lead directly to the apprehension and conviction of anyone after a crime had been committed but that he would say as to whether he or not he knew anything about it but would refuse to give any information further but stated he could truthfully say at this time that he knew nothing whatever of any of the bomb explosions that occurred in the east; that he did not know anyone in anyways connected with them; that he did not know anything about it except he had a hazey recollection of having read something about it when he was in Oregon. He stated these things were entirely out of his line in that he was only a petty thief and was careful in violating any laws which called for heavy sentence and that he did not belong to any radical organizations of any kind whatsoever and had never affiliated himself with them and that he had never associated with radicals or any other law violators other than those which would naturally be in his own line.

Further speaking of ERIC LUNDBALD he stated he had no intention of associating with him after he got out of prison as Lundbald was a second story man and he could gain nothing by association with him.

Copies of this report and statement taken are being sent together with copies of the report above referred to to the Portland, Oregon, office in order that they may check up subject's story as to his movements and connection there.

Copies of report are also being sent to the Boston and New York offices for their information.

statement of JOHN COSTO, alias Louis Costello, and other alias, taken at Cincinnati, Ohio, at Hamilton County Jail. COSTO questioned by Special Agents H. L. Scott and O. H. Slater.

Q. What is your real name?
A. John Costo.

Q. When and where were you born?
A. Born October, either 1886 or 1887, at Bologna, Italy.

Q. When did you come to this country?
A. Came to the United States about 20 years ago; entered port of New York. At that time was single. Am now married. My mother and father never came to this country.

Q. Where is your wife at present and what is her name?
A. She is at Beaverton, Oregon, Box 396, with her people, William Toogli, who is the owner of a confectionary store there. My wife's first name is Jennie. I married her at The Dallas, Oregon, about nine years ago. Have one child, a girl age 8.

Q. Are you a naturalized citizen? [ALL INTELLIGENCE IS UNCLASSIFIED]
A. No, never took out any papers.

Q. Do you belong to Communist party or any radical organization?
A. No.

Q. Did you serve sentence in the state prison at Charleston, Mass.?
A. Yes. Sentenced to three to five years around December, 1918. I was paroled from there, don't know year. I violated parole and went back and was only out a few days. When I was first released from Charleston I went to Albany, New York, and was arrested there the same day. I entered the city on petit larceny charge. Served three months and at expiration of term went back to state prison as parole violator and served almost all of my sentence then.

Q. After you were released where did you go?
A. I went directly to Oregon. My wife was residing in Boston at 59 Myrtle St. At expiration of my sentence we went to Beaverton, Oregon. Stayed there probably eight months and conducted business. From there went and opened up a place five miles out of Vancouver, Washington, which is across the river from Portland. Stayed there six months. Made a failure and had to close down my business back to Portland, couldn't get any employment. This was during summer of 1921. My funds getting scarce I came east to Chicago, Milwaukee and Cincinnati in quest of employment. Didn't get job had to go to old resources and got arrested.
Q. Where did you run place in Vancouver?
A. On River road, four miles out under name of Costo. It was a road house. When I failed there I returned to Portland and stayed there a few days. Then came over east and went to Chicago for a few days. Don't know where I stopped there. From there went to Milwaukee. Had room on 2nd St. but couldn't give number.

Q. Did you work for anybody in Boston after you got out on parole?
A. No. Didn't work for anybody as had to leave the city same day I was released. Required my wife to show transportation before I was released and I had to go.

Q. Were you released there on May 8th, 1920?
A. Yes it was April or May. I left on the next day for Oregon. My wife bought tickets for Portland, Oregon. The only stop we made was at Chicago to change trains.

Q. When you got to Portland where did you go?
A. A sister of my wife, Tressie Solar, was waiting for us. We waited for the next connection of suburban train to Beaverton.

Q. What is your sister-in-law's address in Portland?
A. I don't know. I think she went to California with her husband. I think her husband works in a restaurant and confectionary at Beaverton before I went there. The moment I went there he stepped out and I took hold and I ran it about six or seven months.

Q. Then where did you go from there?
A. Went and opened up a place at Vancouver. The name of the place was River View Inn. I had everything in name of Vanzi which was a fake name I put the property in. The place was closed but was run under name of Vanzi.

Q. After you closed that down where did you go?
A. Back to Portland. I don't know the month, sometime in May or June, 1921.

Q. Where did you and wife live in Portland?
A. We had an apartment but don't know exact address but we lived in this apartment.

Q. Where did you go from there?
A. I came over to Chicago, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. This was probably the middle of this July. Went to Milwaukee, then over to Muskegon by boat, back to Milwaukee, then from there to Chicago, then down to Cincinnati. Got to Cincinnati two days before I was arrested on October 15th for petit larceny. Had a little room here in Cincinnati but don't know address.
Statement of John Costo.

Q. Were you arrested March 5, 1916, with Rosario Conti and John Dinatli in Boston, Mass.?
A. Yes. That's the time I got sentence of three to five years. John Dinatli got sentence of four to seven years.

Q. Were you a seaman for awhile?
A. Yes.

Q. Were you arrested in New York under name of Edward Ferry, and also arrested as Julius Terry, in 1904?
A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever been arrested for anything except petit larceny?
A. No except this three to five year sentence.

Q. Did you run a confectionary in Cincinnati at one time?
A. Yes on McLicken Ave. I don't remember address. That was about 1913.

Q. Were you arrested at one time under name of Valerio Vanzi and served term in an eastern penitentiary in Pennsylvania?
A. Yes.

Q. Who was it secured your parole out of Massachusetts prison?
A. The Board of Parole.

Q. Do you know a man named Donnaruma?
A. Yes. I know him but he wasn't the man who got me paroled. He was a newspaper man. I never worked for him.

Q. In the month of June, 1920, were you in Oregon?
A. Yes. You can figure two days after my release I went directly to Oregon, which is a true statement.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody you were an expert in explosives?
A. No never told anybody that. Don't know anything about explosives or chemistry.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody that you did?
A. No. When we were arrested in Boston we had a fistful of dynamite. We got caught in the act before we performed the act which was to rob a safe in a church.

Q. Did you ever carry dynamite in a suit case?
A. Never.

Q. Q. Did you ever tell anybody you were going to blow up any place?
A. No. I was just a little fish.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody you would place a bomb under the police station in Charleston?
A. No.
Q. Did you ever make any threat like that?
A. No, no reason for it.

Q. Did you ever make any statement about the bomb explosion in Wall St.?
A. No.

Q. Where were you when they had explosion in Wall St.?
A. I think I was in Oregon. I don’t recollect exactly. I recollect of reading something about it but don’t know where I was.

Q. When was the last time you were in New York?
A. Many years ago because I was pretty well known as a petit theft and would be picked up. I was no ways near New York.

Q. Have you ever been in New York since the last time you were arrested there?
A. No.

Q. Have you any grievance against the government?
A. Absolutely no.

Q. Did you ever make any threats against any government officials?
A. No.

Q. Were you ever arrested at any time by the government?
A. No.

Q. Do you know Eric Lundblad?
A. Yes I know him.

Q. Where did you know him?
A. Right in Charleston prison. He is a second story man. He is a big Swede. He was going to try to get me out when he got out.

Q. Did you ever tell him anything about blowing up anything?
A. Absolutely not. That man is crazy in top of his head. I kept his company in prison more or less as sympathy. He was a second story man.

Q. Did you ever see him since you got out?
A. No never did.

Q. Did he ever talk to you about explosives?
A. No his mind was rambling.

Q. What made you think he was crazy?
A. His line of talk. Some days he had some new invention which was some pipe dream. He sent to the War Department at Washington some protection for submarines in order to get a patent. I don’t know where he is now.
Q. Did he get out before you?
A. Yes. He was going to get me out.

Q. What were you going to do when you got out?
A. We didn't have any plan. Just prison talk. His line was out of mine. He was a second story man and I was figuring on staying away from state prison — it is too long. I never mentioned Wall Street to him.

Q. Did he ever say he was going to blow up anything?
A. Not to my recollection. He had some grievance with the prison officials because he was mistreated. He wouldn't act like a sensible man. I didn't approve of his way of speaking of prison officials.

Q. Who do you know in Cincinnati?
A. Only one man named Morris Brown, cigar store at Vine St. below Liberty. He is just interested in me. He came to see me yesterday.

Q. What sentence did you get here?
A. Sentence to $50.00 and costs, charge disorderly conduct, $50.00 and costs known thief. Next day tried for petit larceny. Pleaded guilty, received sentence of $10.00 and costs. The judge called me back and said he didn't give me enough and gave me $100.00 and costs. I have to serve it out. I was arrested once before for a little flim flam game on a fellow for $50.00.

Q. Do you know anything about explosives?
A. No absolutely not. That is not in my line. If I did know of anything I wouldn't tell anything about anybody or anything already done but if it was not yet done I would tell about it to prevent it.

Q. Who knew you were out in Portland, Oregon, and around there?
A. The Sheriff at Vancouver, Wash., knew I was there. His name is William Thompson. I know the brother of the Chief of Police named McCurdy at Vancouver. McCurdy is in sand and gravel business at Vancouver. McCurdy used to come to my road house for supper.
Beaverton, Oregon:

While at Beaverton, Oregon, on another investigation, this agent received information that the above named subject had sold out his business near Vancouver, Wash., some weeks ago and had brought his wife and daughter and left them with her father, WILLIAM FOGGI, at Beaverton, Oregon; that he is now going under the name of E.L. SMITH; that on October 13th, 1921, he sent a letter registered from Chicago, Ill., to his wife at Beaverton; that on October 17th, 1921, he sent another registered letter to his wife from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Agent thought it was well to make a report of this, as the Bureau might wish to know of his movements.

Summit Avenue Station. He bought cigars at the stand, five for me and five for himself. He then went into the toilet and saw an opportunity there to talk to me and asked me again if I wanted to join and I said it was impossible for me to do it. I would not do it. Again he grabbed me by the coat and said "if you dare to say a word of this your head will be blown off without you knowing anything, or when it will happen." He then bought one ticket for Newark, and made a bad eye at me. He told me that at anytime that I wanted to make up my mind to go and 'see him in Charleston, South Carolina, and to go only about four blocks from the station in a western direction until I reached a restaurant, which is located on a main street near the theatres, the restaurant being painted white, and ask for him at this restaurant. He said there was a building something like a church across from the restaurant. He told me to walk into the restaurant with a cigar in my mouth.

Q. What did he say about the organization?
A. He did not mention what it was. He said it was an organization that wants to get rid of rich people and did not like the present Government.

Q. Did he mention any names?
A. No.

Q. Did he say anything about this organization being in more than one place?
A. Yes. Branches all over.

Q. Did he mention any of the cities?
A. No.

Q. Do you know where this man Antonio Balestino is now?
A. I do not know. He asked me to come to Charleston any time I made up my mind.

Q. On this occasion that you spoke of, of having the conference with him and he asked you to join an organization of which he was a member, he did not mention the name of the organization?
A. No. He said it was to get rid of the rich people and we don't like the present government.

Q. Did he mention anything about the Wall Street Explosion?
A. Yes.

Q. What did he say about that as far as his organization had anything to do with it?
A. He said our organization had something to do with the Wall Street Explosion. He said "we are powerful", and said if you join us you will be a powerful man and you won't have to be afraid.

Q. What were his exact words about the Wall Street Explosion?
A. Coming up Newark Avenue he was looking back and forth. He has a habit of pulling his mustache. He said "Wallace, if you join you will be all right. I said it could not be. He said "are you afraid of getting caught?" I said I would not do anything that is wrong. He then said "how could it be wrong?" He said you never will get caught if you join us. Think how powerful. Think about the Wall Street Explosion. Did they get us. They will never get us.

Q. Did he mention the organization as being connected with any other explosions?
A. No.

Q. Did he say anything about the bombs sent through the mail?
A. No.

Q. Or the time they tried to blow up the Attorney General's Home in Washington?
A. No. The only thing he said about the Wall Street Explosion showing any connection he may have had with it was they did not get us yet, and said they never will get us.

Q. He offered you $10,000 simply to sign an application to join the organization?
A. Yes.

Q. In order to join that organization you would have to go to Charleston, South Carolina?
A. Yes. He said if I want to join to come down to Charleston, S.C.

Q. He did not give you the name of the street where he was, or the name of the restaurant?
A. He did mention the name of the street but I have forgotten it.

Q. He knew that you had been in Charleston and knew Charleston pretty well, and simply described to you where this restaurant was?
A. I did not tell him at first. He first mentioned the places and I said I have been in Charleston. I was there three days. He told me where it was. At the Tube Station I had intended to get a Police Officer, and when I saw him on 2d Street in a saloon he had a .45 automatic in his pocket.

Q. Was that the only time that you saw him that you had this talk?
A. I saw him in June and July in Jersey City. I have not seen him since the last time. He usually is at 2d Street and Brunswick Street.

Q. In any particular store?
A. In the saloon run by Tony. An Italian saloon.

Q. You have seen him frequently around that saloon?
A. Maybe once a month.

Q. You have seen him several times?
A. Yes. Before the last.
Q. Did you know any of the people that he associated with?
A. He hangs around with most everybody around there.

Q. Do you know any of their names?
A. He would not be seen with anybody. If he knows you good he will talk to you. If he don't he would not talk to you.

Q. Do you know any fellows here that know him?
A. Yes. A few of them.

Q. Who were the other two men that you told the Warden you knew of in South Carolina?
A. Three of them. One is Antonio Balestino's brother named John, and the other is called Pasquale Russo. He mentioned that they have a big office in Mexico City, which were the headquarters.

Q. He did not mention the name of any one in Mexico City?
A. No.

Q. Is there anything else that you can tell us that will help us out?
A. That is about all I can think of.

Q. Do you know whether this man was ever arrested either here or in New York?
A. I do not know. He owns a Cadillac. In June I repaired it for him.

Q. Did he have a New Jersey license?
A. No. He had a Connecticut license. He told me he owned the car.

Q. He seems to be a man with a lot of money?
A. Yes.

Q. If we should want to get in touch with you where can we find you?
A. I used to live at 245-4th Street, Jersey City. I had furniture there. This week they took it away. I bought it on the installment plan.

Q. What is your wife's father's name?
A.

Q. In this conversation when he was telling you how they pulled off the Wall Street Explosion, did he mention anything else that they had intentions of doing?
A. No. Nothing else. My regular address would be care of

Q. Did this man say anything to you about the wagon in the Wall Street Explosion?
A. He mentioned everything about the explosion.

Q. What did he say about this wagon that was used in the Wall Street Explosion?
A. As far as I can recall he said "see how powerful we are. A bunch of detectives in the United States are jackasses. If you join us you will be all right. See how nice everything was done. The wagon came from Paterson. He said everything worked all right." He kept asking me to join the organization.

Q. Did he say anything about the driver of the wagon?
A. No. His brother John is stout, full face, bald hair. He is often with his brother.

Q. Did you read the papers about the Wall Street Explosion?
A. I read the papers as far as the account went.

Q. Did you read any of the descriptions given of the wagon and the driver?
A. No.

Q. How did you know that this organization had anything to do with the Wall Street Explosion?
A. He told me everything.

Q. Is it the same organization that you spoke of in connection with the explosions in Cuba?
A. I read about the explosions and said I think they were the ones that done it. That was my imagination.

Q. He never mentioned anything about the Cuban explosion?
A. No.

Q. How did this man come to speak of the wagon?
A. He wanted me to join the organization.

Q. Did you ask him any questions about the Wall Street Explosion?
A. No. I attempted to get a Police man at saloon, corner of 2d St. and Brunswick Street.

Q. How did he happen to speak about the wagon?
A. He said "see how strong we are. The wagon came from Paterson. Nobody knows anything. These detectives are all jackasses. Antonio Balestino is about 40-45 years, about 6', large moustache, puffed eyes, puffed cheeks, not much hair on top of head. Has pompadour style, about 180-190 pounds, black hair, mixed with gray, moustache turned up at ends, blue eyes, good dresser, English very well, also speaks Spanish. Has mole under lower lip, straight nose, thumb half bent on left hand. He thinks he can trust me.

Q. How old are you?
A. 23.

Q. You were born where?
A. In New York. Living in Jersey City 20 years.
Q. Is your father an American citizen?
A. Yes.

Q. How long are they in this country?
A. 23 or 50 years.

Q. Is your father an American citizen?
A. Yes.

Q. What is his business?
A. Mason. He lives in Staten Island with my mother. Mariners Harbor.

Q. What prompted you to give this information?
A. I tried to get the Warden since the first day I came in.
Instructions of Spec. Agt. C.J. Scully:

Pursuant to a communication from P.J. Sullivan, Warden of the Hudson County Jail in Jersey City, to the effect that subject who is confined at this institution pending trial on the charge of false representation" and other charges, had information as to the authors of the Wall Street explosion, agent accompanied by Agent Dillon, proceeded to this institution and interviewed subject. After considerable persuasion he finally consented to repeat the story he had told the warden. His statement was reported stenographically by Agent Dillon, copies of same are attached hereto. This man is of Italian parentage, born in N.Y., somewhat ignorant and very much in fear. His story is very vague and his idea seems to be to escape trial or punishment for the charges against him by offering to go to South Carolina for the purpose of locating the persons he mentions in his statement, part of which was made in the presence of the Warden. Object stated he would not sign any paper.

STATEMENT OF MADE AT HUDSON COUNTY JAIL, JERSEY CITY, N.J. NOVEMBER 22, 1921. 73452

Present: John L. Haas, Special Agent.
        James W. Dillon, Special Agent. Acting as Stenographer.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

Q. You say on a certain day a man approached you?
A. About the 20th or the end of September.

Q. On about the 18th or 20th of September, last year?
A. 1920.

Q. You were approached?
A. By a man named Antonio Balestino. He formerly lived at 218 Railroad Avenue, Jersey City, near Cole Street, 1908.

Q. How long have you known him?
A. Since 1908. We lived in the same house.

Q. Will you tell us the story in your own way?
A. I would not refuse to say anything. This man Antonio Balestino came up to me. I did not have any appointment with him or any idea of meeting him. I met him at 2d and Brunswick Streets. I said "Hello Tony". Then we went into a saloon on the corner of 2d Street and Brunswick Street. We went in there and he ordered two wines, which I refused to drink, because I do not drink it. He then ordered cigars. He then called me aside and said "I have something important to tell you." He said "I know you are a pretty wise little boy". He said "you want to come along with me and make easy money?". I answered him "what is it for stealing, if it is for stealing I will refuse to do anything". He then said "No, not for stealing". He said it is money which I will pay you. I then asked him what it was and he said it takes time for me to tell you, not so quick. I said "don't be foolish, if you have anything to say tell me." He then called me aside again, with no one around and asked me to join his organization. I do not know the name of the organization. He told me that as soon as I put pen and ink on application it would mean $10,000 for me, which I refused until I knew the straight facts what this application was for. He then said it is an organization which hates the rich people, it doesn't like the present government, and I told him "what are you trying to do, kidding yourself". He then grabbed me by the coat and said "Young man, keep your trap shut, my word slipped, but you must join us." I said "nothing doing". He then took his hat off, cleaned it on the inside and said "come on, we take a little walk". Then we came up to Newark Avenue and Brunswick Street and walked up to Five Corners. On the way up to the Five Corners, he told me about the bomb explosion in New York, saying he was one of the members. This is not an affidavit and I do not know whether he was telling me the truth or not. Then we walked down toward the Tubes at Informant in re'Wall St. Explosion.

FACTS DEVELOPED: Reference is made to report of Agent Haas; dated at New York City, November 23rd, 1921, in regard to who is confined in the Hudson County Jail, Jersey City. I interviewed and find that he tells a very disconnected story and I do not believe any confidence can be placed in the tale he tells. He continually repeats that it may be that this fellow was just lying to him, which would make it appear that he was trying to get out of the statement that he had made originally, that he did have information regarding the Wall Street Explosion. It was impossible to get any further information than what is already in Agent Haas' report.

Memorandum for Mr. Burns:

I attach pencil memorandum left by Mr. Dangerfield, of the Washington Post, who has called several times requesting information concerning the Linde arrest - particularly whether or not finger prints were of value in that investigation.

He is desirous of running several articles in the Washington Post sponsoring the finger print idea, and thinks the Linde story will be an excellent one to use.

Further portions of the confession referred to by Cosgrove show that Lindenfeld knew of the plans for more than a week prior to the explosion, but denies any actual part in the bombing preparations. He gives New York addresses of various individuals involved in the plot, most of whom have since left the country, and also gives a New York address where the communists are alleged to have paid over the cash to the plotters.

Cosgrove averrs that his information shows Lindenfeld had close connections with Moscow, from where he received funds regularly. By the Polish secret service it is asserted that the suspect attended at least one conference at Moscow of the third international; that he was born in Warsaw, has many relatives here and carries a Polish passport. For most of the time since March he has been living in Warsaw, posing as an American.

Ends Relentless Search.

The hunt for suspects in the Wall street explosion has been one of the most relentless in the history of crime.

The Burns Detective Agency, of which William J. Burns, of the Department of Justice, was the former head, has been on the case since the explosion.

The organization unearthed many clues which have proved of substantial worth.

Today spoke with Lindgren relative to the write up in the papers regarding the Wall Street Bomb Case, and he said that the reporter from the New York Call had called and told him he had an interview with Burns and that Burns told him that in the reports he had secured from the papers that Lindgren had at the time of his arrest, he secured enough information to show that Linde was known, and that he was one of the delegates to the Third International.

This Linde is not the same Linde, as the one that went was a Lithuanian, and this Linde is a Polish Jew, and he is not the same man according to the picture appearing in the papers.

Mr. W. L. Hurley,
Department of State,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hurley:

I have received but one cablegram from Mr. Cosgrove, and will, therefore, appreciate it if you will be kind enough to direct a cable communication to the American Minister at Warsaw requesting that he advise by cable the whereabouts of Mr. Cosgrove. If he is able to communicate with Mr. Cosgrove, I will appreciate it if he will be kind enough to inform Mr. Cosgrove that it is my direction that he, Mr. Cosgrove, cable me not less than once a week.

In line with this same matter I am in receipt of confidential information that William Edward Copa, who sailed from New York last week, presumably for Great Britain and Ireland, intends to visit Warsaw. I will appreciate it, therefore, if you will advise Mr. Cosgrove that Mr. Copa is intending to visit Warsaw, apparently for the purpose of interviewing Mr. Williamando, which should be prevented by all means.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Darby:

I am enclosing herewith a cabled copy which I would appreciate your transmitting to the Japanese Minister at London, for delivery to our Mr. C. L. Haggard.

I would also appreciate it if the American Minister could be requested to advise us when the cabled copy is delivered to Mr. Haggard, so that we may know it has safely reached his hands.

My dear Doctor,

I have your favor of December 3, 1921, with which you enclosed copy of a letter received by your consular agent at New York City from the Assistant Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island relative to Mr. William Linde.

I shall call this matter immediately to the attention of Mr. Burns upon his return to the city, which will be either Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, and I can assure you he will take immediate action in the matter in order to relieve any embarrassment which may have been occasioned.

With expression of my highest esteem, I remain,

Dear Mr. Hurley:

Mr. Burns has communicated with me asking that I request you to send a cable to the American Minister at Warsaw with instructions to Coogrove and Altendorf that Mr. Burns desires that they - Coogrove and Altendorf - talk to no one concerning the Linde matter until further instructions from him.

Mr. Burns has also requested that if possible the American Minister at Warsaw be asked to advise the State Department by cable of the exact situation in Warsaw, as we have had no official confirmation of the Linde arrest or the matters connected therewith.

It will be appreciated if this matter can be given immediate attention.

Reference is made to Bureau's telegram dated December 9th, which reads as follows:

"International News Service advises they received wire from Omaha stating that a Bulgarian was arrested by police connection in all street explosion. We have no records this man. Can not believe he has any connection with the matter. Desire you make immediate investigation with police. Wire immediately just what there is to it".

Upon instructions received from Special Agent in Charge E. W. Byrn, Jr., Agent immediately got in communication with the Omaha Police and investigation developed as follows:

A grey-haired man described as being about 50 years of age, neatly dressed, called at a downtown Western Union Office and left a message with instructions to have it immediately delivered to the Police. The message was a crude, poorly written note, written on two leaves torn from a memorandum pad and is as follows:

"Go South on Howard Street. Find a dark skinned man with long black hair wearing a green sweater with red stripes in collar. He runs a rooming house. Ask him if he was ever in San Francisco and if he drove the one horse wagon of dynamite in Hall Street."

The night manager of the Western Union Office, Mr. N. H. SCH stated that this man came to the office, and was in a very excited state of mind and stated to him "Don't think I am drunk, but hurry this message to the police station". The man in question, MIKE STINE, a BULGARIAN, was found at the GRAND HOTEL, 520 South 13th St.
If I K I N E just south of HOWARD STREET and answered the description to the letter. He was taken to the POLICE STATION and severely grilled. He states that he was in NEW YORK but once in his life, and that was when he landed in NEW YORK from BULGARIA in 1902 and by profession he is a professional athlete, acrobat and wrestler, and has been connected with CARNIVAL COMPANIES for several years past. His wife is an American. The AK-SAR-BEN, which is an Omaha Fall Festival, occurred during the period of September 14th to the 25th, inclusive, 1920. The CON KENNEDY CARNIVAL COMPANY was one of the attractions here during this fall festival. MIKE STINE was a wrestler connected with one of the exhibits and the management for the CARNIVAL COMPANY states that he arrived in OMAHA with the CARNIVAL on the evening of September 17th or 18th and that they had come from showing at CHIPEWA FALLS, WISCONSIN. The men who were responsible for the fall AK-SAR-BEN Festival verified the information furnished by the CON KENNEDY CARNIVAL COMPANY MANAGEMENT and identifies MIKE STINE as being here that week. "FARMER" BURNS, who is known in the wrestling world and who resides in OMAHA, is acquainted with MIKE STINE and states that his best recollection is that STINE was here with the CARNIVAL COMPANY during the time mentioned, either the 17th or 18th to the 25th, 1920.

A CITY DETECTIVE, V A N D U E S E N , who is now CHIEF OF DETECTIVES, states that on the 21st of September, 1920, STINE was mobbed by some of the patrons to his exhibit, through a decision in a wrestling match made by STINE, that somebody threw a brick which hit STINE and he still bears the scar. V AN D U E S E N was present and active in stopping the small riot. On interviewing STINE and his wife, STINE states that he believes that a man, who has been acting queerly and who may be insane, was responsible for this message being sent to the Police. The police are of the opinion that the three responsible connections which apparently establish an alibi for STINE show his innocence and they are prepared to release him from jail.

STONE was in CHIPPEWA FALLS or enroute from CHIPPEWA FALLS to OMAHA on the 16th of September, 1920, from the information furnished by the CON KENNEDY CARNIVAL COMPANY, and the time and distance was so great that he could not have been in NEW YORK at that time. For the past three years he has spent considerable time in making OMAHA a sort of headquarters where he has secured employment with various CARNIVAL COMPANIES.

Title and Character of Case:
MIKE STINE (BULGARIAN) Omaha, Nebr.

Facts Developed:
At Omaha, Nebraska.

I received information at an early hour on the morning of the 9th inst., that Police Sergeant Frank Williams, together with Detectives Graham and Haney and Officer Simpson, had, on the night previous, arrested a suspect, who was thought to be connected with the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION OF SEPTEMBER 16, 1920.

Owing to the fact that the officers making the arrest were not on duty this forenoon, I was unable to gain accurate and detailed information early in the morning. However, the information secured from the Police was to the effect that the Police had received an anonymous communication, delivered by a WESTERN UNION MESSENGER, on the night of the 8th inst., this anonymous communication reading as follows:

"Go south on Howard Street. Find a dark skinned man with long black hair wearing a green sweater with red stripes in collar. He runs a rooming house. Ask him if he was ever in San Francisco and if he drove the one horse wagon of dynamite in Wall Street."

The Police Officers mentioned, upon receiving this communication immediately made an investigation and apprehended MIKE STINE, who was employed as a clerk in the GRAND HOTEL, 520 SOUTH 13TH STREET. STINE was identified principally by the fact that he wore the sweater described. STINE protested his innocence to the officers, avowing that he had not been in NEW YORK since 1902 when he landed in that port coming from his native country.
Mike Stine

Bulgaria. Stine is a carnival show man and claims that he can prove conclusively his whereabouts on the date of the Wall Street Explosion. He is not known as ever having been connected with any radical activities. When the investigation had progressed thus far and while I was endeavoring to get in touch with the arresting officers who were at home asleep, I received the following coded message from the Bureau:

"International News Service advise they received wire from Omaha stating Michael Stein a Bulgarian was arrested by Police connection Wall Street explosion. We have no record this man. Cannot believe he has any connection with matter. Desire you make immediate investigation with police. Wire immediately just what there is to it."

This message was received at 11:20 A.M. Just prior to the receipt of this message, Agent Sherwood, had been assigned to carry further the investigation in the matter. Immediately on receipt of the Bureau's telegram, I prepared the following telegram, which telegram was given to the stenographer for coding shortly before 12 o'clock noon. This telegram was sent during the noon hour:

"Telegram received re Wall Street Explosion. Police last night received anonymous note by Western Union messenger as follows Quote Go to south of Howard street find a dark skinned man with long black hair; wearing a green sweater with red stripes and red collar. He runs a rooming house. Ask him if he was ever in San Francisco and ask him if he drove the one horse wagon of dynamite in Wall Street Unquote. Police later in night located Mike Stine clerk Grand Hotel five twenty south thirteenth street who answers description and wore sweater described. He is Bulgarian athlete claims to have not been in New York since he landed there in nineteen naught two is not known locally as a radical. Investigation already in progress before receipt your wire. Facts thus far developed insufficient upon which to base any opinion Will wire you further."

Agent Sherwood continued the investigation and realized that the Bureau desired prompt advice by wire, Agent Sherwood at 2:30 reported verbally certain of his findings in his investigation. As a result of this report I, at 2:30 P.M., sent the Bureau the following.

coded telegram:

"Referring to my telegram today Wall Street explosion Stine was with Carnival Company Chippewa Falls Wisconsin week of explosion was enroute Omaha 17th and in Omaha 18th. These facts substantiated by reputable parties. Find no basis whatever for accusation."

At 3:30 P.M. I received the following telegram, from the Bureau:

"Why don't you wire us relative Michael Stein matter?"

to which I immediately replied by wire as follows:

"Telegram received re Mike Stine. Already wired you twice today this matter. First wire sent at noon. Second wire sent at 2:30. Unable to understand why these wires not already in your hands"

The further details of the investigation are not gone into in this report but are covered in the report as prepared by Agent Sherwood of even date, which report shows an absolute lack of any basis, in fact, for the accusation.

Under the circumstances as set forth in the report of Agent Sherwood, it is not felt that any further investigation is warranted and the matter is therefore considered closed in report of Agent Sherwood, bearing even date.

Concluded.
A resident of Cleveland, born in Bulgaria, who has at various times in the past given this Agent information on the activities of radicals of Bulgarian birth, called on Agent today and pointed to a new item appearing in the Cleveland News, December 10th, 1921 under a Omaha Nebraska headline dated December 9th, reading as follows:

"Mike Stine, a Bulgarian, is under arrest here and police are investigating his possible connection with the Wall street explosion of September 16th, 1920, in which thirty-four persons were killed.

Stine was arrested after a note had been brought to the police by a messenger boy asking the police to seek a man answering Stine's description and question him regarding the explosion.

The suspect denied knowledge of the Wall street tragedy. The messenger said the note had been given him by a well-dressed man.

'I was in New York only once in my life', Stine told police. 'That was when I landed from Bulgaria in 1902. I don't know anything about that explosion.'

Stine is held awaiting word from the New York police and the local police are seeking the sender of the note."

The informant states that he has known SUBJECT for seven or eight years; he states that SUBJECT has been in Cleveland and Chicago and in many other cities throughout the United States where he has appeared before his countrymen as a wrestler; he is quite certain that the SUBJECT is the same man he knows, but this can easily be determined if it is ascertained that he is a wrestler and answers the description, which he gives of SUBJECT, as follows:

About 30 to 35 years of age; weight about 150 pounds; about 5'5" or 6" tall; dark complexion; dark hair; usually is smooth shaven; he does not think Subject has an occupation, but believes Subject to be a Communist and to be actively interested in Communist activities.

Informant called particular attention to the statement:

SUBJECT is alleged to have made to the Omaha police, "I was in New York only once in my life. That was when I landed from Bulgaria in 1902". Informant does not know whether SUBJECT was in New York on the date of the explosion in Wall Street, but he states he knows for a fact that SUBJECT was in New York and attended a Communist meeting on Albany St. on Thanksgiving day, November 24th, 1919. He is not certain of the address on Albany St. at which the meeting was held, but believes it was number 24. Informant, himself, was there and talked with SUBJECT. He does not know where SUBJECT'S membership in the Communist Party may be placed, but believes he is probably a member of one of the Chicago branches. Informant has not been in New York City since that date and does not know if SUBJECT has; he further states that one PETER CHEFF, whose unknown, but who is believed to be in New York City at the present, is a prominent Bulgarian, also at that meeting on Albany Street, November 24th.

This information may be of interest to the United States Attorney General and has been in New York City a number of years. Agent desires to have the fact that the informant told him this thing kept secret; not to permit the fact that it was told to the investigating agent to be leaked out.

Mr. Probert, general manager of the Associated Press, informs the Department that the regular transmission time from Warsaw to New York for Associated Press messages is 8 - 15 hours.

The last Associated Press Dispatch received from Warsaw was filed at five minutes past eleven o'clock last night, and was received in New York at 2:14 A.M.

The difference in time between New York and Warsaw as at 7 hours, the transmission time would thus appear to be 10 hours and 34 minutes.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

WARSAW, December 20—(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)—The Polish police believe that Wolfe Lindenfeld is hiding much of what he really knows regarding the Wall Street explosion of September, 1920, in connection with which he was arrested here at the instance of the American Department of Justice, and continue questioning him, who Lindenfeld, was also known as William Linde, declares the Communists have planned a revolution in Poland for early next year, but has begged the authorities not to ascribe the statement to him. His assertion that he knows M. Chitcherin, the Soviet Foreign Minister, and has talked with him in Moscow is doubted here.

According to Mo Gutkowski of the Polish police, Lindenfeld's formal statement recites the details of his employment by William J. Burns before
DAY CABLE -12

$3,000 to cover expenses. Lindenfeld reported to Mr. Burns for only a few weeks after his arrival.

M. Gutkowski believed, from the information in his hands, that Lindenfeld became an active Communist and did not communicate with Mr. Burns for fear that his activities here would be detected. Mr. Burns, it is believed here, suspected Lindenfeld of "double crossing" the investigators of the bomb plot, and sent Silvester Cosgrove to Europe to ascertain his whereabouts. Then began the match of wits lasting for months which ended in Lindenfeld's arrest here at the request of Cosgrove.

From Mr. Burns

Recorded
Room 1606, 350 Madison Avenue;
New York, December 30, 1921

Mr. W. J. Burns,
13 Park Row,
N Y City.

My Dear Mr. Burns:—

I wish herewith to put myself on record as to the hypothesis which I hold and the procedure which I think ought to be adopted and justify myself by so doing because of my first-hand knowledge of Mr. Fischer's personality, his habits, his present condition and the letter in question.

The facts which I have recited to you are to me conclusive that the letter written to our house, stating how Mr. Fischer got the information was a sincere effort to reciprocate to Mr. Fischer for his not disclosing the source of the information which he had, and which he claims to have gotten from the air, because of his mental condition.

In my judgment, the only hope as far as Mr. Fischer is concerned of tracing the perpetrators of this crime, will be by the employment of Mr. Fischer, preferably in his old job with the French High Commission in order that his weekly itinerary will take him to the same places where he was taken during the month of July 1920, and where by accident he made the acquaintance of the man in whose pocket he found the letter prophesying the Wall Street explosion. The re-employment of Mr. Fischer by the French High Commission, according to Dr. McCurdy, and the belief of myself and other members of his family, will do more than any other one thing to bring him back to a normal mental state. If by any chance, this means can also be supplemented by persuading Mr. Fischer to see Dr. McCurdy weekly as a patient, we shall very materially increase our chances of winning his voluntary co-operation.

As this co-operation can only be secured as the result of his being restored to approximately his normal mental condition and by a policy of utmost frankness on the part of his sister or myself, whereby we urge upon him his duty to prevent the sacrifice of any more innocent lives by going of his own notion and accord to the highest authority, i.e., Mr. Burns with his proffer of voluntary and complete co-operation.
Both my sister and myself believe that we will be able to accomplish this in the near future. When however, this is accomplished, I am of the opinion that for the sake of Mr. Fisher's health and for the sake of the object in hand a much wiser course for the Department of Justice to cooperate with him while still employed by the French Commission as the effect on his ego of being given this important work to do, would be apt to throw him off his mental base again, and hence jeopardize the potentialities of Mr. Fischer's co-operation.

I gave Mr. Brennan the names of some people who know about Mr. Radansky, and by way of getting a confidential opinion from my intimate personal friend, William Clarke, who is one of the Directors of Merriwold Park, I called him up today and I asked him confidentially if he thought that he had any revolutionary tendencies. He said that he is nothing but a tenor singer and talks primarily about himself and did not believe that he ever had an idea in his head about the welfare of others. While this is absolutely sincere, of course, I realize with you that this will not be enough to change your hypothesis regarding his connection with the matter, but knowing Mr. Clarke as I do and his personal contact with Mr. Radansky, I feel certain that a further investigation of the man, his character and movements will convince you that this hypothesis will not be adjudged by you as worth following up further.

Mr. Brennan acquiesced in the plan of myself and sister continuing our efforts to get from Mr. Fischer some further admission regarding the validity of the information which we received by letter, but more particularly to impress upon him the seriousness of his obligation to voluntarily go to the Department of Justice, tell them what he knows, and offer his whole-hearted co-operation and thereby possibly be the means of apprehending those criminals and even possibly saving the lives of many innocent ones, so we are watching our opportunity and will be ready to take advantage of it whenever it present itself.

If you care to see me in the morning, a telephone to my office, Murray Hill 1879 will reach me. I have no appointments prior to 12.45.

With best wishes, believe me,

Faithfully yours,

Seeral messages reach Washington from Poland.

Washington, Dec. 23—Several cable messages were understood to have been received by the state department today from Warsaw, and it was indicated that included among them might be a message concerning the recent arrest there of Wolfe Lindenfeld in connection with the Wall street bomb explosion of September, 1920. The messages were being decoded tonight and were expected to be placed before officials tomorrow.

Director Burns of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice was expected to return late tonight from New York, and if the messages contain any reference to Lindenfeld, they will be transmitted to him. Pending definite information, officials declined to discuss the case tonight.

That "take the bureau to the man," is the new slogan of the Veterans' Welfare Bureau. Many Porterville disabled ex-soldiers have been visited many times by special representatives of this board. They now are wondering what is being accomplished by the "bureau being taken to the man."

That on Thursday, December 15th, the local Chapter of the Red Cross will open up a salvage shop in this city. This shop will have a double purpose as it will mean money for the Red Cross,

WAR'S HORRIBLE WASTE

MENTION, C. "Walkingwell" was the assistant-secretary of the treasury, in charge of "finances" during the war. While he was in the treasury he became deeply impressed with the magnitude of government expenditures, and the looseness, inefficiency and waste, that are a part of government methods.

Dear Mr. Burns:

I am greatly relieved to find that we are getting better service in the transmission of communications. I hope it continues.

Shall I do as requested by our Mission and have your last cable to Cosgrove repeated, or would you care to draft a fresh one in view of the information contained in the attached?

Very truly yours,

William J. Burns, Esquire,
Director, Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice.
Dear Mr. Daugherty:

The Bomb Explosion in New York was not done by the parties whom you suspect; in fact, your Mr. Burns knows no more about it than Dr. Cook did about the North Pole.

Burns is just giving the newspapers something to print to secure a part of the Christmas Money going the rounds, and should be dismissed immediately for his connection with the matter.

He is simply pulling off another old gag to bolster up his fast failing prestige, the same as he did when investigating the Frank Case.

He might come back to Atlanta and run out to Marietta, Georgia, and see his esteemed compatriot Mr. Howell, and he could possibly find the party who blew up Wall Street in Marietta.

The country is laughing in their sleeves at your man The Famous Sluth of New York.

Stop letting him kid you as it is too serious.

Respectfully yours,

John [Signature]

Reference to interview with W. C. Copeland Idaho Springs Colo. to letter addressed to Director Burns.

Interviewed W. C. Copeland saying that his permanent residence is 3731 Avenue A Council Bluffs Ia., where his wife and daughter are now living. He also has a son, Clyde C. Copeland who is in the commission business at 1201 Howard St., Omaha Nebr.

This gentleman is 75 years of age and an old soldier. He draws a pension from the government of $500 per month. He does not seem to get along well at home and travels around the county a great deal.

In April 1921 he was living at the "Old Soldier's Home" at Los Angeles Calif.

He returned to Omaha in May 1921 and in November 1922 he came to Idaho Springs Colo., where he rented a house and claims that he will remain in Idaho Springs until about March 1, 1923.

This old gentleman is a close reader of newspapers and imagines that he is a detective.

He knows nothing of the "Wall Street Explosion" and had not been East of...
Omaha in 40 years.

The description that he forwarded by his letter was forgotten by him and he admits that he had never spoken to the man about whom he was writing.

Several times during the last two years when various crimes were reported in the newspapers this old gentleman called on various sheriffs and volunteered information which was useless and unfounded.

One instance was with Sheriff Birdell of Colorado City, Colo., another with Sheriff Hall of Greeley, Colo.

This old gentleman is seemingly mentally unbalanced on the subject of crimes reported in the newspapers.

In Re: Wall Street Explosion.

Dear Sir:

Agent Scully informs me that Thomas J. Smith, of Brooklyn, the man who identified De Filippis as the driver of the wagon used to transport the explosives to Wall Street, and who also identified Tito Ligi as the man seen near the scene of the explosion talking to De Filippis, called at the office of Bureau today and stated that he was quite anxious to see a picture of Lindenfeld, alias Linde, who, according to the newspapers of even date, is said to have confessed to the plot.

Smith, although he made an affidavit that De Filippis was the man he had seen, now states that he is not positive that De Filippis was the driver, and Agent Scully is firmly of the belief that Smith is again seeking notoriety and cannot be depended upon in any manner.

Smith was not furnished with any information whatsoever, and upon leaving the office he stated that if Director Burns should require his services he is perfectly willing to appear at any time he might be wanted.

Yours very truly,

Edward J. Brennan

Mr. W. J. Burns,
Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

Since talking to you on the telephone, I have talked with Mrs. Pope who advises against encouraging Mr. Fischer in the hope that he was to be re-employed by the French Commission at least until such a time as this was a certainty. The reason for her taking this position she said she thought was better not to say to me over the telephone.

Again I wish to reiterate that the hope of getting the voluntary and successful co-operation of Mr. Fischer depends upon keeping him in good health, and keeping him from going out of town, which his disease tends to make him want to do. I believe Dr. McCurdy agrees with me that his employment is the best means of keeping him in a mental condition for cooperation, and that this ought not to be delayed one minute longer than necessary, as he talks continually of going out of town to visit his cousin in White Pines, Pa., and is constantly trying to get the money from the family for this purpose. Hence, anything that you can do in the meantime, to satisfy yourself by direct contact with the French Commission as to the advisability of his being re-employed there, ought to be done. I believe I explained to you that Dr. McCurdy seems to think that the re-employment by the French Commission would be much less likely to result in a blow-up on his part than if he was employed in a new position, especially as they know him there and are fond of him, and understanding the purpose of the effort, will give their fullest co-operation.

After talking with Mrs. Pope tonight, I shall know whether or not it will be best to carry out your suggestion regarding the preliminary move on the part of Mr. Arnaud. It certainly would not be a fortunate thing to encourage Mr. Fischer in the hope of re-employment unless this was going to be carried out.

Of course, I understand that you have not adopted my hypothesis and still feel that it ought to be adopted and carried through, since it does not jeopardize working on your hypothesis in the matter.

I am and shall continue to give you my whole-hearted co-operation but this will be of little avail unless it is reciprocated by you.

I am, with all sincerity,

Faithfully yours,

Pursuant to Director's letter as noted below, agent called at the office of Mr. Witty but failed to find him in. Mr. Witty later called at the Bureau office and in the presence of Special Agent W.E. Dunn, stated in substance as follows:

That he is a mechanical engineer and chemist, residing at 307 East 27th Street, New York City, Apartment #6, and with place of business in Suite 619, 38 Park Row, New York City; phone Cortlandt 7900.

That on the day of the Wall Street explosion, he met one, HENRY KUNTZ, at his office, 434 Lafayette Street, New York. Mr. Kuntz at that time was the proprietor of IL TELEGROFO PROMOTION DEPARTMENT. There was also present at the time, one VINCENZO CARNEVALE, who was a travelling salesman for Kuntz. Mr. Witty states that before reaching the above mentioned office he purchased a copy of the New York Globe, said newspaper containing an account of the Wall Street explosion. As soon as he arrived at Kuntz's office he called the attention of both Kuntz and Carnevale to it, stating "What are these people doing anyway - why don't they go to their own country and do those things." Kuntz replied "We are stung again," and the conversation then turned into other channels. Shortly after this occurrence, Kuntz and his business moved to 2413 3rd Avenue and at the present time is located at 180 Broadway, under the name of the
Mr. Witty further stated that Kuntz is a disbarred lawyer who served a jail sentence of three years at Trenton, N.J., having been tried, he believed at New Brunswick, Middlesex County, N.J.; HENRY KUNTZ now resides on Oaktree Road, Iselin, N.J. (one station below Rahway, N.J.)

Mr. Witty worked for Kuntz from November 15th to December 23rd, 1920 at the above mentioned place on Oaktree Road as a contractor, doing repairing and altering on this house. During this time, each evening, about 15 to 20 people, among them being CARLO TRESCA and his brother, gathered there. None of the others were known to Mr. Witty, but they all appeared to be Russians.

He also noticed while working at this address, a woman whose last name he did not know but whose first name was NINA. She appeared to be a Russian and would leave this place about once a week for New York City and she always came back with a bundle of papers, an automobile calling for her and bring her back each time; a number of times Carlo Tresca came for her and brought her back again.

At one time he had occasion to open up a sofa for her, for the purpose of getting a piece of jewelry which had fallen in between the cushions and upon opening up this sofa, discovered not only the piece of jewelry but a roll of what appeared to be documents or papers about six inches long and about four or five inches in diameter, rolled up and tied with a red ribbon. She was very much surprised to see this and said she wanted no one in the World to see it.
She took it away from him and replaced it in the same place and told him to nail the lining. This sofa was located in the parlor near the fireplace.

Mr. Witty further stated that a Mrs. Renz, who now lives at 16 Norcross Ave., Metuchen, N. J., informed him that Martens, the Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. had spent over two months at this house in hiding but he could not state just when this took place, but Mrs. Renz could give further particulars regarding this.

He also said there was room on the second floor of this house which contained a number of bookcases and that there was a man on watch there all the time to see that nobody went through that room. In one corner of the room was an iron box that looked something like a safe. While installing a toilet at this place, he noticed Kuntz and Carlo Tresca in this room. Kuntz removed a number of papers from the safe and handed them to Carlo Tresca and told him not to stop anywhere but to go straight to where he was going and to be very careful.

At the place on Oaktree Road while he was employed there, a man and his wife acted as caretakers. The man's first name was Carl, but his last name was unknown to him. These people were discharged while he was working there, evidently on account of the fact that Carl's wife said to Nina that she would see that she would go to jail for what she was doing at this place. Carl's wife told Mrs.
Renz that on the night following the Wall Street explosion, a man was NEW YORK, N.Y. 1/5/22 1/4/22 WALL STREET EXPLOSION J.L. HAAS murdered on this property and his body buried there. Mrs. Renz informed Witty of this. Mrs. Renz also informed him that a woman who is a relative of this man who was said to have been murdered and buried there, was being paid to keep her mouth shut and is being shifted from one place to another. Mrs. Renz claims to be personally acquainted with this woman. Witty states that it was while working for Mrs. Renz in July, 1921 that she informed him regarding this woman.

At New York, N.Y.

DATE 2/25/23 BY G. W. W.

On December 31, Agent, accompanied by Special Agent Leslie of this office, proceeded to the above address for the purpose of locating subject. On arriving there it was learned that subject was then visiting her uncle in Patterson, N.J. Her mother, to whom Agents stated that they were newspaper reporters, could not or would not furnish subject's postoffice address in Patterson.

It was learned, however, that subject would return to New York City late Monday night and would, positively be in New York on Tuesday, January 3rd.

On January 3rd, same Agents again proceeded to the above address and learned that subject was then at home, but still in bed. After a short wait she appeared and upon being questioned by Agents stated that she was the individual whose picture appeared in the copy of the Illustrated Daily News, dated Dec. 30, 1921, which Agent at that time showed to her. Agents then identified themselves, presenting their credentials and requested her to accompany them to the Bureau office, stating in answer to her questions that instructions to call on her came from the man in charge of the New York office, and that Agents had not seen and were not under any special instructions from Mr. Burns. Subject then asked Agents to come back in about an hour in order to give her time to get dressed and have her breakfast.

REFERENCE:

Copies of this report furnished to:

Washington: New York
Agents then took up a position on Grand Street, from where the entrance to subject's residence could be covered and kept the residence under observation until about 9:40, having in the mean time communicated with the Bureau office by telephone. At 9:45 Agents returned to subject's residence and accompanied by subject proceeded to Bureau office.

At the Bureau office subject was questioned in the presence of Agent by Special Agent in Charge, Edw. J. Breman and later questioned by Agent alone. Subject positively denied having received any communication from WILLIAM LINDE other than one cablegram and one registered letter containing a report, both of which were delivered to Mr. Myers at the office of the Burns' Agency. Prior to leaving the U.S. LINDE also sent her a post-card which was presumably mailed at the Pier prior to sailing of the ship. LINDE sailed on Feb. 26th and the post-card was received on Feb. 28th. Subject also received a cablegram addressed to "Esther Newman, 945 or 745 DeKalb Ave., Brooklyn," this being LINDE's sweetheart at that time. This cablegram was also brought to the attention of the Burns' Agency.

After further questioning with reference to COPET her brother HARRY SPECTOR and her sweetheart IRVING SAXON, subject was instructed to return to her home and think the matter over to communicate with this office if she should remember of any communications that she had received from LINDE, or any other matter bearing on this question.

She was also instructed not to tell anyone that had been examined at this office.
AN CHARACTER OF CASE:

ROBERTS, M. C.

FACTS DEVELOPED: At Cincinnati.

Acting upon information received from Lieutenant of Police Seebaum that he was informed by William Schuerman, 1014 York St., Cincinnati, that party by the name of M. C. Roberts, 948 Martin St., had told Schuerman he knew more about the bomb explosion at New York on September 16th than the U. S. Government, agent interviewed WM. Schuerman, who is employed by The Enquirer, Cincinnati, O., at the Classified Ad Counter.

Schuerman stated that on the evening of December 29th M. C. Roberts called at the Enquirer office and paid for the insertion of an add under the Situations Wanted Male Column as follows:

"Wanted by well educated man situation to take care of invalid. No objection to travel. Can act as courier."

This advertisement was paid for one insertion which in the December 30th issue. Roberts informed Schuerman that he knew more about the explosion in New York than anyone in the government service and that the party who was apprehended at Warsaw, Poland, and in custody of the authorities there was not the person responsible for the explosion. He requested Schuerman to send a reporter to see him, advising he could give the reporter a big item for publication. Schuerman informed him that the reporters were responsible to the editor; that he had no authority to issue instructions to the reporters but would convey this information.

Re: M. C. Roberts.

Jan. 9, 1922.

To the Editor which Schuerman failed to do. Schuerman described ROBERTS as a man about forty years of age and appeared to be a foreigner, smooth face, the lower lid of left eye drooping considerable and very noticeable.

Agent then called at 948 Martin St. and interviewed MRS. UNDERWOOD, a niece of Roberts, who stated that ROBERTS' wife died about four weeks ago and until that time they were living at 1621 Group St., Louisville, Ky. He then remained with his deceased wife's sister, Mrs. MARY BURGE, at 226 North 20th St., Louisville, Ky., then coming to Cincinnati for the purpose of obtaining employment and lived with her on Martin St. the entire time while in Cincinnati. She further stated that her uncle, M. C. ROBERTS, was then out of the city but was expected back in a few days, claiming she did not know where he had gone.

On January 4th agent returned to interview MRS. UNDERWOOD again and endeavored to locate ROBERTS on this date and was informed by Mrs. Underwood that Roberts had returned to Louisville, Ky., and no doubt could be located by calling upon MRS. MARY BURGE or OSCAR SAMUELS, who runs a pool room in Louisville, Ky., exact address not known. She further stated she understood her uncle to say that he would get a room at 1813 Group St., Louisville, Ky.

Copy this report is being referred to Louisville, Ky., Bureau office in order that subject may be located and interviewed there.

Concluded here pending further developments.

Wall St. Bomb Plot
DOCUMENT (S) CANNOT BE SCANNED

DESCRIPTION:

Not legible
January 7, 1922.

Mr. A. G. Bishop,
President,
Flint Chamber of Commerce,
Flint, Michigan.

My dear Mr. Bishop,—

I desire to acknowledge receipt of the resolutions adopted by your Chamber of Commerce December 31, 1921, urging the government to exert every effort to bring to justice the parties responsible for the bomb explosion in Wall Street September 19, 1920, as well as calling attention to the need of additional legislation of a character which would make amenable to our criminal statutes activities of individuals advocating the overthrow of the government of the United States by force and violence.

I want to express to you my appreciation of the loyal and patriotic attitude taken by the Chamber of Commerce, of Flint, Michigan. It is indeed gratifying to note that you realize the existence of the influences at work within our national life which are detrimental to our institutions and the ideals which have so long characterized the American people. While these influences are limited to a very small portion of our population, yet they are, I believe, of such importance as to merit very careful attention on the part of the government and all public spirited citizens.

You may rest assured that the Department of Justice under my administration will exert every effort within its power to effectively enforce such laws as now exist.
Mr. A. G. Bishop.....3, January 7, 1923.

I believe you will note from the annual report which I submitted to Congress that I pointed out the need of certain legislation tending to make unlawful the activities of aliens and citizens engaged in pursuits for the ultimate overthrow of the government of the United States by force and violence.

My dear Dora:

You probably are informed from the letters of Fela about a misfortune that befell me, that is, how I was detained then I attempted to leave Russia? I was put to prison for six weeks and released on bail, which my Annie had deposited my case has been set for the 29th of this month and I hope I will be able to come out, everything I posses has been confiscated; my clothes, my passport and other papers also my check book all I have is one suit of clothes and I want to come to America ? ? ? I would like to have your assistance ?????????????

but I have so much news that when I arrive it will create such a sensation which America never heard before, tell it also to Mr. Garvin. If I should wire I would like him to send me by cable a steamer ticket and $100, and should he not want it nor Mr. B. go over to Mr. Clinton Wood, 29 Green Ave, Brooklyn, and tell him the same, tell him I have written to you and that I don't want Mr. B. and would let him have every information, I would like him to come and take me off the steamer, should you not succeed with him go over to the Press Club, 21 Spruce Street, New York and inquire about Mrs. Cope who is living on Amsterdam Avenue and tell all about it, he might then send me a steamer ticket and should you be able please come to 34th Street, Corner Broadway, the house where Rogers and Peet are located.

there is in this house a detective bureau and there you will find Mr. Haller, if you should happen to see Mr. Haller tell him all about it and I am convinced that you will receive satisfaction from this source, if you should succeed wait for my telegram which I will send you from the port stated on the steamer ticket which must be valid for a first class passage because I have no passport, and therefore I could not arrive as a passenger of any other class.

In regard to the gossip about myself I am not attempting to explain in this letter and shall tell you all about it after my arrival in America, remember, whatever I told you in my office before my departure I will keep faithfully,

I hope that you will fulfill my request and that you will endeavor to get me back, send your wires and letters to the address of Anna and also send the money in her name, please await my wires, remember, when speaking with these gentlemen do not let tone know that you spoke with the other, but tell him that you received instructions from me to ask just that party, please see that you attend to everything the way I am asking you, you may tell them all of the great sensation that I was in Mo. – and that I am a member of the 3rd and they will know the rest, cursed be the day in which I left New York, if you are going to wire to Anna ask somebody to do it for you and I will wire you thereafter.

Kissess for yourself and the children, yours

P. S. Please see to it that I get a the $100 and the steamer ticket.

Dear Sir:

Being ever on the watch for stray straws - I came across a couple of names whose owners are interested in such things as the Destruction of Wall St. management - and who consider such infinitesimal things as 37' lives as only a drop in the "Bucket of Fate."

Pinckney A. Wood, of 191 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y. may be an Inventor and an efficiency engineer with numerous patents, but is a Red Hot Socialist and in "ENTIRE" sympathy with the malcontents of the Wall St. explosion - or he may be one of your men - also on the watch anyway - he may be worth looking up.

Mr. Chadwick (or Chapman) has a new Lunch Room on 4th Ave. near Baltic St., been there about 6 weeks or so - he is preparing a getaway - to sell out. He's got a good stand. - He is a Russian Jew born in Petrograd. Speaks English fluently, has fair education - principally in Music, medium sized, clear complexion, flashing brown eyes - Judas cut of feature, slightly hunchbacked - growing whiskers, moustach and chinwhiskers - a la Franco. Good meals - a good cook. He may also be a plant - or he may not. Just sending my impressions.

Another sympathiser with Lenin's and Trotsky's plans is Shapiro Propr. Stationery Store, 5th Ave. near St. Mark's Place - a little man with a deep gash or scar - from a saber, he says, on his left temple - got when he escaped from lead mines in Siberia, said to be a free mason. - This is what I wanted to see you about in my letter to you sent care of Commissioner of Police Enright while in New York City. Did you get it? - all this simply to prove to you I'm trying to "make good" for the glory of the Flag and possible employment - as an Agent. I cannot get work in my own line - Pictorial Decorator - and tho I starve, do you think I'd turn Socialist? nothing doing. Perhaps you can see I am loyal and well - you are no fool. 'I leave it to you. You understand.

Sincerely and respectfully,
C. Thoo, Lundquisto,

I have been waiting seven days to hear from you and not a line has been received. Why don't you cable what the situation is? Newspapers here are teaming with interviews given by you and Altendorf. Have tried through American Minister to reach you but have failed. I asked American Minister seven days ago through State Department for statement of situation but no reply. Did you receive my messages? Answer at once using your code addressing me at Department of Justice.

Dear Sir,

Very over on the watch for stray straws—I came across a couple of names whose owners are interested in some thing in the destruction of Wall St. management—and who consider such infinitesimal things as if they were only a drop in the "bucket of fate."

Pinckney A. Wood, of 191 Pacific Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y. was an inventor and an efficiency engineer—was numerous patents, but is a "Red Hot Socialist" and in "entire" sympathy with the malcontents of the Wall St. explosion—or he may be one of your men—also on the watch anyway—he maybe worse looking safer.

Mr. Chadwick (or Chafersman) has a new "shoo in" room on 4th Ave., near Baltic St.—been there about 6 weeks or so.—He is preparing a getaway—to kill out. He's got a good outfit.—He is a Russian Jew—born in Belgrade. Speaks English. Fluently. Has fair education—principally in Russian.
Medium-aged, clear complexion, sandy brown (ex-Judas cut of teeth) hair, much receding—growing whiskers, moustache, and chin whisker—a la Truvine.

Lord Mends—A Good Lord—

He may also be a plant—or he may not. Just reading my impressions. Another sympathizer with

Lewins and Jotham, Kansas—Is Skiters

Rothstein in Kentucky. Said to be a true Mason. This is what I wanted to see you about, in my letter to you. Best care of Commissioner P. W. Tonight, while in New York next. Did you get it?— all this simply to prove to you

I'm trying to "make good" for the glory of the Day and possible employment as an agent. I cannot get work in my own line—Pictorial Decorator—and this I have done. Do you think I'd turn Socialist? nothing doing. Perhaps you can see

I leave it to you. You understand.

Title and Character of Case

(Informant) Southland Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal.

Wall Street Bomb Explosion

Facts Developed:

At Los Angeles, California.

Acting under instructions from Agent-in-Charge, and in compliance with telegram of Director, dated January 3, 1922, Agent interviewed subject relative to his knowledge of the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION. Subject had removed from the address at 912 West Sixth St., and is now living at the Southland Hotel, Los Angeles, Calif.

Subject stated that his name is [redacted] that he is an American citizen; that he is a salesman and Commercial Traveler by occupation; that he is an honorably discharged soldier, having been a member of the United States Marine Corps; was discharged on account of disability, June 22, 1918; that he is a Vocational Training student, receives compensation from the Government, and is under the jurisdiction of the Reno, Nevada office of the VETERANS BUREAU, and is in Los Angeles endeavoring to obtain a transfer from the Reno, Nev., jurisdiction to that of the Los Angeles Veterans Bureau; he is being taught salesmanship and advertising; he states that after his discharge from the Marine Corps on June 22, 1918 he obtained employment in the PLANT PROTECTION SERVICE of the UNITED STATES SHIPPING BOARD, and was in charge of the protection of the assembling plant of the Submarine Boat Corporation at Port Newark, New Jersey from July, 1918 to March, 1919; and that one of the men working under him at that time was one CLAYE.

MARTIN: he states that he was in NEW YORK CITY at the time, and several days prior to the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, and was stopping at a small hotel or rooming-house on Seventh Avenue, near 32nd Street, and that he was seeking employment, and had just put in an application to Colgate & Company in Jersey City for employment in their advertising department; he states that on the day of the explosion he went for a ride with CLYDE MARTIN in an automobile; that the latter was driving; they drove to WALL STREET and parked the machine in front of a large office building near the corner of WALL and BARCLAY STS., about a block and a half from the place of the explosion; he states that he remained seated in the car while his friend went into the building; he states that he observed a horse-drawn vehicle turn into the traffic on Wall Street going in the direction of the Banking House of J.P. MORGAN COMPANY; that he did not know what street the wagon came on to WALL ST., from, but was under the impression that it turned into WALL STREET from BARCLAY STREET; that he particularly noted the wagon for the reason that it looked like a peddler's wagon, and among all the motor drawn traffic the sight of a horse-drawn vehicle was unusual; that he saw the wagon stop about a block and a half away and a few moments before the explosion; he states that just prior to the explosion he saw the driver of the wagon dismount from the wagon and come hurriedly to the corner of WALL and BARCLAY STREETS, where he joined another man and they went up Barclay Street; he states that the driver of the wagon was a good-sized man, round shouldered, had a dark moustache and was poorly dressed, and he, [ ] is of the opinion that he could identify this man if he saw him again. Informant further stated that immediately after the explosion the street was jammed with people and he states it took almost an hour for him and MARTIN to get their machine out of Wall Street and back into Broadway. He stated that he returned to his rooming-house, and the next morning, after reading the extras, giving the account of the explosion, he decided that he had better turn in to the authorities an account of what he had seen and observed the day before; that on Seventh Ave., near the Pennsylvania Hotel he approached a uniformed policeman, whom he described as being very large, light complected and "hard-boiled," states that he told the policeman his story and that the policeman told him to keep his mouth shut and not to "butt into the affair;" says that the policeman took his name and address, but that the attitude of the policeman was so aggressive and unfriendly that he decided to say nothing further; he states that the next day (second day after the explosion) he was at the corner of Seventh Ave., and 32nd St., in an old saloon, where he usually passed his time, when he was approached by a stranger who bought him a drink and entered into a conversation with him; that this stranger asked him where he was from, and being told from California, asked him if he did not want to go back there, to which he, informant, replied that nothing would suit him better; the stranger then said that he would furnish him a ticket to San Fran-Informant.

Cisco if he would leave at once and keep away; that he asked the reason for the offer and the stranger replied: "Well you know what you said to the policeman yesterday; well I will furnish you a ticket to San Francisco if you will leave and never say anything about the matter." He stated that he accepted the offer and that the stranger left and returned with a railroad ticket from New York to San Francisco, Cal., which he gave to informant, and that he left town that night enroute to San Francisco. Informant states that he does not know the name of the person who furnished him the ticket, but described him as being:

About 35 to 40 years of age.
About 5 ft. 2 or 3 in. in height;
Weight about 135 lbs.
Dark complected; smooth shaven;
Black curly hair.
Very well dressed and spoke English perfectly, but impressed him as a foreigner of some kind and states that he could identify him if he should see him again.

Informant stated that his ticket was PENNSYLVANIA RY., to Chicago; UNION PACIFIC, Chicago to San Francisco, via Denver, Colorado and Ogden, Utah; that he had, since his return to the Coast, been certified to for compensation and had been in vocational training at San Francisco, Reno, Nev., and Los Angeles, Cal. Upon inquiry he stated that he did not know the present address of CLYDE MARTIN and had not heard from him since he left New York. He also stated that he had been interviewed at the Los Angeles Office of the W.J.BURNS DETECTIVE AG about a week previous and had told them part of this story, but the part relative to the tender and acceptance of the ticket from New York to San Francisco; he intimated that if furnished employment by this Bureau and sent to New York City he believed that he could, by hanging around his old haunts, 32nd St., and Seventh Ave., locate these two men or find out a good deal relative to the case.

Manager Pross of the Los Angeles office, W. J. Burns' Detective Agency, states that he had previously interviewed and that story varied considerably with that given Agent. Pross told Pross that he told the policeman about the driver of the wagon leaving the scene of the crime immediately after the explosion on Wall Street, - and it will be noted that his story to agent was that he did not approach the policeman until the next day, and that, near the Pennsylvania Hotel. He also told Pross that while he saw the wagon he did not see where it went; to agent he stated that he saw the wagon stop in front of the Morgan Bank. Also, it is noted that he did not tell Pross anything about receiving the transportation from New York to San Francisco. In agent's judgment and observation of subject, in making his statement, it is believed that subject invented the greater part of the story as he went along, as he was very hesitant in his speech and to some extent seemed to fit his answers to agent's questions; also, the fact that he wishes employment in the Bureau, with trip to New York, would indicate that there is an ulterior motive behind his story. Upon reporting this interview in full to Agent-in-charge, the following telegram was sent:-

In Re: Wall Street Explosion.

Referring to your letter of October 20th, to which was attached a memorandum of information telephoned by Mr. William R. Fitch, of the Admiralty Division of the Shipping Board, and which memorandum in substance sets forth that Mr. Carpenter, a friend of Mr. Fitch's, had ventured the opinion that the members of the crew of the SS. City of Alton should be covered by an agent of this Bureau; that a mutiny case is up for trial in New York at the present time in which this vessel is involved, and that the crew are boasting that they knew something about the Wall Street Explosion and other bomb plots in which this Department was interested, Agent Scully of this office interviewed Mr. J. T. Carpenter, Attorney at Law, who is connected with the firm of Johnson & Higgins, 49 Wall Street, which concern makes the necessary arrangements for the placing of insurance for the various vessels operated by the Shipping Board.

Mr. Carpenter stated that at the present time there is in this city, namely: Philip Bender, Hens Raudin, Leoned Kurdroof, Henrik Sipan and Rudolph Dorsch, all former seamen on the SS. City of Alton. That during the early Spring these men were arrested at New Orleans on a charge of "Mutiny on the High Seas", but who when arraigned before the United States Commissioner were released, due to the fact that the officials at New Orleans did not appear to have sufficient evidence to warrant a successful prosecution. These men have instituted civil suits in this State against the United States Shipping Board and the Northern Shipping Company, asking damages of ten thousand dollars each for false arrest, and there is also an action pending in the Municipal Courts for the salaries the men claim are due them for work on the aforementioned steamship.

Mr. Carpenter added that in the course of his investigation he had learned that Bender was reported to have stated that he was in possession of certain facts concerning the Wall Street Explosion, and the purpose of his requesting that this Bureau investigate the matter was so as to determine whether or not Bender was telling the truth.

For your information, this matter was carefully investigated by the Bureau during the month of March of this year. It appears that the matter was first called to the attention of the Shipping Board by United States Consul Haberle, of Rio, Brazil, who had forwarded a cable notifying them that Bender and others were being sent to New York in custody on board the SS. Huron, they being charged with mutiny while on board the SS. City of Alton. However, the plan of transportation was changed and the men were sent to New Orleans on board the SS. Rushville.

At New Orleans, on April 2, 1921, the men were arraigned on the charge of "Mutiny on the High Seas"; before United States Commissioner Arthur Browne, but were released by the Commissioner, who stated that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant taking the case further.

Under date of March 28, 1921, J. M. Toliver, Agent in Charge at New Orleans, forwarded a letter to this office in response to a telegram sent him on March 23d, in which he states: "I have examined this case from all angles but fail to find any connection whatsoever with the Wall Street Explosion."

The finger prints and photographs of the five suspects were sent to New York, where, upon being exhibited at Police Headquarters and search of the files made there, failed to show any record concerning any of them.

Philip Bender was also investigated by the Baltimore Office of Bureau during the month of September, 1920, in connection with a report that he was a probable Russian representative in the United States, and certain allegations made against Bender at the time were thoroughly investigated, but could not be substantiated, and the Immigration authorities were unable to find sufficient grounds to institute deportation proceedings.

It is to be noted that the photograph of Bender was exhibited by Agent Barbera to Gaetano De Grazio, the blacksmith who shod the horse destroyed in the Wall Street Explosion, and that De Grazio advised that Bender was not the man who had brought the horse into his shop.

A Mr. Clune, representing Mr. Carpenter, is at present making every effort possible to secure information concerning Bender and the others, and he, Clune, promises to immediately notify this office in the event that he learns of anything that might be of value to our investigation.

Dear Mr. Hurley:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 6th instant, transmitting corrected copy of the telegram No. 246 which was the first one received from Warsaw, dated December 21, and shall await with great deal of interest the letter which will be in the State Department post.

I appreciate very much your kindness in this matter.

Yours very truly
In connection with Bureau letter dated January 5th and initialed GFR:JR, requesting this office to make a strictly confidential investigation of the above two men who, it is reported, were associated with a man named EDWIN FISCHER during the summer of 1920, FISCHER being the man who predicted to the day the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION and who it later developed was mentally unbalanced.

I have to report that the only thing we have on file regarding TERRY or DAVIS is contained in newspaper clipping from the "Evening Bulletin" dated September 20, 1920, which merely states that FISCHER upon being interrogated stated on September 10th he called on his relative, DR. LUTHER TERRY in Philadelphia and not finding him at home went to the Germantown Club where he had luncheon with SAM WILLIS DAVIS and that after this "few snifters", after which he remained overnight in the room of a friend in the Bellevue Stratford.

SAM WILLIS DAVIS, as far as I can find out is not known at the Bellevue Stratford and there is no such Club in Philadelphia as the Germantown Club, but there is a Germantown Cricket Club. Inquiries there, however, developed that DAVIS is not...

DR. TERRY is a highly respected dentist, who has a dental parlor at the address given—3076 Franford Avenue, but does not reside there. He has been in this locality for nearly 35 years.

I do not think that either of these men have ever been interviewed by newspaper men.

An investigation will be made at the Bellevue Stratford, in order to determine whether or not they remember FISCHER having stopped there on the night of September 20th 1920.

To be continued.

Dear Sir -

The following individuals, of New York City, have been mentioned in connection with the investigation of the Wall Street explosion:

1. LCARCONN, a Communist;
2. THOMAS DAVCOX, a Communist;
3. REBECCA SHELY, an organizer for the "Peoples' Council;"
4. ALBERT LBRENKE, a Communist; also closely associated with Carlo Tresco and Arturo Giovannitti, of the Italian Chamber of Labor;
5. JOHN DUBRENKE, who represents the Slavic and Bohemian Workers of the Communist Party;
6. HERMAN RABLING, an I. W. W.
7. GARBAID, an Italian;
8. VISINOFF, a Russian Jew.

The above individuals have been mentioned by a confidential informant of this office, and it is desired that you ascertain immediately their present location in New York City; further, that you submit a detailed report on the activities of each one of these individuals.

Your attention is directed to the following, excerpt from a report received from one of my confidential informants:

"On the 8th of September, 1920, a group of the leaders of the Communists met on Madison Avenue in Chicago, Illinois. This group was composed of the chairman of different groups such as the Industrial and Technical Groups. There were present two couriers from the Third Internationale at Moscow, namely BERNARD WOLFF and a Russian chemist. At this meeting three men and one woman were selected to execute the Wall Street explosion. They went to Perth Amboy or Elizabeth, New Jersey, or some small town in the neighborhood, and bought a horse from a junk peddler in that vicinity."

It is desired that you ascertain immediately whether or not this meeting actually took place in your city; also, secure all possible data concerning Bernard Wolff referred to above.

Kindly forward your reports covering your investigation of this matter without delay.

Dear Sir,

According to information which I have received from a strictly confidential source, JOB CEDNITUS or SETHMIDUS or SEDINIDERS, a Latvian, was the individual who drove the wagon used in the Wall Street explosion. Shethmides is described as follows:

- Age: 34 to 36 years
- Height: 5'7" or 8
- Weight: 170 lbs.
- Build: stocky
- Complexion: dark
- Beard: smooth shaven
- Hair: dark brown
- Remarks: speaks with a strong foreign accent.

According to my informant, this individual was at one time a resident of Chicago, and connected with him was a well-known Communist named BARBER.

I desire that you ascertain immediately all possible information concerning the above referred to individuals, giving special attention to such data as will assist us in ascertaining their present location.

Dear Sir -

According to information from a strictly confidential source, one JOSE CELUNITUS or SHETMIDUS or SEDWIDERS, a Latvian, was the driver of the wagon used in the Wall Street explosion. He is described as follows -

Age .......................... 34 to 36 years
Height ........................ 5'10" or 8"
Weight ........................ 170 lbs.
Build .......................... Stocky
Complexion .................. Dark
Beard .......................... Smooth, shaved
Hair .......................... Dark, brown
Remarks ..................... Speaks with a strong foreign accent.

The informant further states that this individual was registered at the Bohemian headquarters, 222 East 72nd Street, New York, under the name of RUBIN KONSKY.

In order to verify this information, it is desired that you check immediately at the headquarters and make an effort to secure confidential information concerning this individual.

I also understand from my informant that WILLIAM WILE, an organizer of the Ship Loyal Workers Union, is very well acquainted with Shotmides. Wile stated to the informant that Shotmides is a carpenter by trade, and that at one time he worked for the Victrola Company as a cabinet-maker.

In securing information concerning Shotmides, it might be well to make undercover inquiries to ascertain exactly the amount of information Wile has concerning him.

Mr. W. J. Burns,
Bureau of Investigations,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. Burns:-

When you left me on Monday morning you assured me that you were going directly to the office to attend to the matter of arranging for Mr. Fischer's employment through Mr. Arnaud of the French High Commission. I dropped in to see Mr. Brennan yesterday and he either knew nothing or would say nothing. I cannot understand your not having seen Mr. Arnaud as you definitely said you were going to do when you left me on Monday. Does this mean that there can be no action prior to your return another Saturday? I can see no reason for a continued delay since you only have to give me the information about the job, who Mr. Fischer should see, or give it to Mr. Arnaud and he would call up Mr. Fischer and tell him the particulars. From all that I have said you might wrongly infer that I felt Mr. Fischer would be willing and able to hold down such a job. This is extremely problematical, but of course, I am very much in favor of it being tried since it is the only way that the Doctors think he can be benefited at this time.

I called up Mr. Brennan this morning and left word for him to call me after lunch. He did not do so and I called him. He again said that although he had talked with you, he had nothing to say. I told him to say to you again that it was a question of a job very shortly or the sanitarium indefinitely.

It was Friday, the 15th of December when I came to your Hotel in Washington and laid this matter before you, at which time you said, as I remember it, that it would be a good plan to employ him, mentioning the Department of Justice. I agreed that it would be well to do so. I said to you, as I have previously said to the New York Officers that the procedure of the Department of Justice was menacing to my brother's mental condition, and that a job would certainly be helpful and therefore put him in position to co-operate with you. Had I had this decision to make, or any similar decision to make in my own office, or by any of my subordinates, I would consider it reprehensible if the thing had not been carried out immediately.

I think you gave it to me in return for the co-operation which I have so whole-heartedly given you, which has cost me a great deal of time and some money, that you either carry out this plan at once or advise that you do not intend to do so.

The family will not be able to live with Mr. Fischer much longer, as I repeatedly warned you during these last four and a half weeks. If it now eventuates that you are not able to use him along the lines that I have proposed, and you acquiesced to, because of the progressive development of his mental disability, you alone will have to bear the responsibility for this failure.

My anxiety in this matter is three-fold: Primarily, of course, Mr. Fischer shall be taken care of in the way most likely to get him well; secondly, that we wish to secure through his recovery effective co-operation in discovering those to blame for the Wall Street disaster, and finally, that the family who are now suffering a very serious inconvenience by retaining him at home instead of placing him in an institution, shall be relieved of this great and exhaustive care.

Trusting that you will have the kindness to either employ Mr. Fischer at once or to frankly disclose to me that you have no intentions to secure employment for him, for which information I shall be obliged.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Sir,—

Personal and confidential:

I note that several reports have been received recently made by agents of your office other than Special Agent Starr upon certain angles of the Wall Street bomb explosion involving interviewing informants having information concerning the same.

I desire to have all investigations made relating to the Wall Street bomb explosion which involve obtaining information from informants performed under your direction by Special Agent Starr, and this matter should be intrusted to no one else except upon specific instructions from me. Will you kindly arrange to carry out this policy?

(Information contained herein is unclassified)
Information came to this office that W. A. TUCK, now an inmate of the State Penitentiary at Raleigh, N. C., had made some statements connecting himself with the Wall Street Explosion. This information seemed to come straight. Therefore pursuant to instructions from Agent in Charge Fred'k. C. Handy, Agent proceeded to Oxford, N. C. to interview one, J. A. HUTCHINS, formerly of the U. S. Revenue Service, to whom statements had been made. J. A. HUTCHINS had in his possession a written order from W. A. TUCK to his wife at Roxboro, N. C. requesting her to turn over certain letters to J. A. HUTCHINS in person. Therefore Agent transported J. A. HUTCHINS to Roxboro, N. C. and in company with him interviewed MRS. W. A. TUCK and also her brother, GEORGE MONK. Both stated to Agent that W. A. TUCK had confessed to them that he had been mixed up in the Wall Street Explosion in New York City and that he had grown both anxious and restive under the strain of remorse and horror. The particular letters sought could not at this time be found, but effort is being made to locate them. The confession to GEORGE MONK was made along in September, 1921 and prior to the arrest of W. A. TUCK on the charge of forgery. Agent interviewed Sheriff E. D. HUNT, Oxford, N. C., who stated that W. A. TUCK had confessed to him both in person and...
by letter. This letter reads as follows:

Sheriff Hunt
Dear Sir

To confess my crime may mean death to the body but to not confess means death to both body and soul, so I am forced to tell all for I can not sleep or rest in the day for there is something hanging over my sole that I can not rid myself of. I am a member of the bunch of men that attempted to blow up Wall St N Y but we failed to do what we hoped to do. For the last three months it has worried me so I could not stay any one place long at a time. My wife or no one else knows anything about my being in it but I was.

I am the man that got the T. N. T. to make the bum. I got it from the American Die Plant Kingsport Tenn, taken it to Buffalo, delivered it to two of the band and returned to W. Va stayed 45 days took a trip to N Y City was met by the same two men that I delivered the T. N. T. to and was taken to an old two story building out of the city. We had to be masked before we went in. I met seven of the band that night. I know no one by name but by faces. And I also know where five of the bunch can be found. I can not write any more I am tired.

May God forgive my wretched sole that it may find rest somewhere,

W. A. Tuck.

At the time of the arrest, various papers and letters were taken from the possession of W. A. TUCK. These letters show him to be connected with a forgery scheme, but have no connection with the Wall Street Explosion. He is at present serving a term of one year in the State Penitentiary for forgery in this case.

At Raleigh, N. C. Agent in company with Agent in Charge Fred C. Handy, interviewed W. A. TUCK at the State Penitentiary. According to his statement, made voluntarily, W. A. TUCK, in search of a job, landed in Charleston, W. Va. and asked a man at the depot where a certain plant was. This man stated that he would give him a job, led him to a hotel, revealed himself as being a detective and stated that the duties would consist mainly of carrying messages and doing as told.
This was in 1918. This man was known to W. A. TUCK as CHARLES McLILLARD. He was of Russian appearance, smooth faced, dark complexion, had a very flat mouth, was rather round shouldered and weighed about 160 pounds. W. A. TUCK carried several letters for this man. The letters were in code. During the summer of 1920 he was ordered from Charleston, W. Va. to Kingsport, Tenn. where he was given an ordinary looking suitcase by CHARLES McLILLARD and another man named W. M. PERKINS and instructed to proceed to Buffalo, N. Y. via Detroit, Mich.; that he might be met by two men at Detroit when he got off the train, but if not he was to continue on to Buffalo. This suitcase had the initials of "W. M. C." upon it in red letters and he was to be recognised by this suitcase. He was not met at Detroit so continued on to Buffalo where he was met at the depot by two men and carried in an auto to some house in the western part of the city. Here he found nine men, among whom were the two men who had given him the suitcase at Kingsport, Tenn. who had evidently come by the short route.

At this time the men revealed to him that the suitcase contained T. N. T. and that they were engaged in the business of robbing banks, with a particular bank in New York in view. He was given the option of joining the band or of going back home if he could get out of Buffalo alive. He joined the band.

In this band there were nine men, only two of whom appeared to be Americans, the others looking like Russians or Greeks. They all went under different names, some of which used were:

Charles McLillard (Chief):

W. M. Perkins (Chief when McLillard was not present)
W. H. Perkins was one of the men who appeared to be American. He was tall, raw boned, had very prominent nose and looked like a "Texas ranger". While in New York City he passed under the name of CHARLES ADKINSON.

W. T. DALESTON, ROBT. McFARLAN and LCKEEZER were other names remembered as having been used by the different men. None of the correct names were known.

After the meeting in Buffalo, N. Y., W. A. TUCK returned home to Madison, W. Va. About August 15th, 1920 a second meeting was held in New York City. W. A. TUCK was met at the depot by two of the men whom he recognised and who gave the signal of "the first finger raised", and was taken by auto to some two story house about two miles from the depot. Seven of the men were here. Plans were advanced but postponed on account of the absence of some of the party. So W. A. TUCK again returned to his home under instructions to return to New York at a later date. In December 1920, he received a code letter at Madison, W. Va. stating that operations would be further delayed on account of some of the men being sick with the "flu". Then the Explosion took place. And in about March 1921, CHARLES McMILLARD wrote him that the whole job had been bungled and due to the fact that the police were hot after them, they would not attempt anything else for a long while, but advising him to keep in touch with them. At a still later date, LCKEEZER wrote him that two of them had been picked up at some southern port on suspicion and taken to Norfolk, Va., but had been released. They had had a narrow escape.

Immediately after this W. A. TUCK severed communication with the men and slipped over to Roxboro, N. C. to live with his brother-in-law GEORGE LONK. Later he got into the trouble over the forgery.

W. A. TUCK states that nothing was ever said about blowing up Wall Street. Always before him the plan had been represented as for bank robberies. Not until he received the letter from Mc MILLARD saying that they had bungled the job, did he realize that he had been instrumental in bringing about such death and destruction.

It seems plainly clear from an examination of W. A. TUCK that he was connected in some way with some sort of a gang. But this letter referred to above is the only bit of real evidence connecting him with the Wall Street Explosion. Effort is now being made to locate this letter, as W. A. TUCK states he carefully preserved this and other letters received from the gang.

W. A. TUCK is a white man, 32 years old, 5ft. 8in. tall and weighs 133 lbs; hair is black and growing to a point down over the forehead; eyes are brown; face meagre and slender; and he has two small scars on the back of his head. A picture of W. A. TUCK is being sent to the Bureau.

W. A. TUCK states that he would recognise all the men in the gang but that he did not know any of their true names nor did he know where any of them could be found, except that two of the men, two brothers might be found at Chillicothe, Ohio. He thinks they went by the name of Mc Keezer and were known familiarly as "Shorty" and "Bill". Agent suggests that if the Bureau deem it proper, such pictures as it has of suspects be submitted before W. A. TUCK for recognition by him.

My dear Mr. [Name],

In the great rush that we have had in this office for the past several months, or at least since my taking over the direction of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice it has been impossible for me to personally handle all of my mail, as you probably know. For that reason your splendid and loyal efforts to aid in ridding the government of the radical element who has no place here, were overlooked by me until the receipt of the report of our special agent who called on you and to whom you were good enough to relate the valuable information contained in the report.

I am, therefore, taking this opportunity to express to you personally and on behalf of the Attorney General, our appreciation for what you have done. I also desire to assure you that the source of everything you have furnished to the government will be treated in the strictest confidence. Therefore, in order to utilize to the very fullest extent the information which you have furnished, I am sending to you a very confidential man to whom I would like to have you talk as freely as possible and give him any further points you may be able in this matter.
Any further cooperation or assistance you may be able to render will be greatly appreciated.

With sincere regards, I remain

Yours very truly

RE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION:

Dear Sir:

Adverting to your letter of January 19th, 1922, initialed JEH:R, advising that several reports have been received recently made by Agents of the New York office, other than Special Agent Starr, upon certain angles of the Wall Street Bomb Explosion, I desire to state that I have had this investigation on my mind all the time, am watching it closely and am endeavoring every way in my power to follow out your suggestions and instructions concerning same, in having reports on this matter come thru one source, namely, Agent Starr. Outside of Special Agent Starr, myself, and the Misses Donnelly, no other attache or employe of this office, excepting, of course, the Agents working on the absolutely confidential angle of this investigation, has ever been in the possession of any reports pertaining to same since I have been instructed to handle this matter this way.

I refer to attached copy of bureau letter, dated December 30th, 1921, initialed CIK:FMB, wherein it is noted the last two lines of the first paragraph read as follows:

"in which he states that he has information of value relative to the Radical Situation."

This letter, like a great many more along this line, was assigned to the Intelligence Branch of this office to handle and it is for this reason that Agent John L. Haas, interviewed this Mr. and reported a statement of his interview.
with him which refers to the Wall Street Bomb Explosion. (See Agent Haas' report for January 5th, 1922.)

I assure you that I am watching this closely.

Very truly yours,

At New York, N.Y.

This afternoon I visited the office of Amerikanskye Izvestia, 274 E. 10th Street, where I met comrades POLESHUK and MURASHKO but nothing of interest happened there. From there I went to the club of Union of Russian Toilers, 266 E. 10th Street, where I met comrade BEREZOWSKY, KISELOFF, CZAJUN, SUPRUN, SAMUSIN and LADUTKE. BEREZOWSKY was debating there with MENSHEVIK and during his debate said that if he was in power then he would hang any man who is not anarchist. Later BEREZOWSKY went with me to my house where during our conversation he informed me that AIDA is not very active among the Russian anarchists but that her activities are confined to the Jewish and American workers. BEREZOWSKY also told me that he is not intimate with AIDA, but that his girl is ROSA, whom he first met when ADOLF SHNABEL was in this country. At that time BEREZOWSKY was living with ROSA in SHNABEL'S rooms.

My dear Mr. Burns, your letter of the 19th received and I must thank you for the confidence received from you.

In regards the information which I gave Mr. John L. Haas. I must say that since that time, I made some more investigation myself into the matter and I have come in contact with a person who knew a good deal about the case. At any time that your confidence of man will see me, I am ready to discuss everything to his and if necessary will be more than happy to do all to assist.
I do not thing that with I have closed a our Government on such cases and I consider my duty to do all I can for the department

With my best and truest wishes

Sincerely yours.
I met the two men that you sent to see me. They came late in the night. I did not tell them much. Now, Brother Burns, I am going to tell you a chapter in my life. I am going to tell you what I want to do—all in my power to see that justice is done. When you say that the Wall Street explosion was the work of the third international, you are everlastingly right. Had District Attorney Pelletier of Boston done his duty, things might have been different. When Ludy of 12,3 Martens came over from Russia with his three hundred million to do business with the American business men providing the United States government would recognize Russia and be the first Ambassador. He brought with him a two-edged sword. His other motive was to organize an under ground movement to destroy this government by force and violence. I want to ask you just what part of that money did Pelletier and his trusty assistant, Gallagher get when they did not arrest the Blegen.
Miss Nellie Prosser, in charge of the five New England states, trusted friends and co-workers under orders from Ludwig E. L. Marten. Mr. Sproule went once a month, and sometimes more to Martin office in New York to take orders and a week before the explosion she wrote to me and said she was in a room for days so close to the Stock Exchange she could almost hear the tickers. I am sending you a handful of letters take of them and in due time please return the letters double crossed me lately I sent to Attorney General Allen at Boston and turn over to his assistants Albert Herzfeld and Louis Goldberg a lot of valuable evidence. You be sure and get it done. It will show a whole Mrs. Sproul and how the Ballen then work and are still doing it. The Workers Defense Conference of 724
Washington & Boston were the worst, the Union of N.C. and Chicago are Father Son of Holy Ghost first last and all the time it is the third Internal like in-ground object destroying the United States Government by force and Violence they are Criminal Anarchists the gang of criminals destroys the Mother of my children and turned her into the devil not for to believe that corner and she was going to be known who blew up Yale Street, P.P. Sargus and William J. Kirk Frank Lee Kirk was first Sargent of Company 9 of Lowell and in fame the new and wrote her all the army and Wang he is a married man he left in Lowell love, I want you Lowell Mom and William 11. As good let about the mother I had them.
I have been in labor movement for about twenty years honestly tried to stop the song of criminal anarchist he set the movement back 50 years with their insane program of force and violence. I had a good home and loved my wife and children. These criminal anarchists have destroyed all and turned my home into a burnable property. I do not understand my two children and her mother and I have tried every way to get her to come home but to no use. They have criminal insane soul she can be arrested under the morrow act and Rob Lassproe and do you take his right she will confess and we will know who blew it. Well if Mr. Burnie I am going to stay with you may God help you I do not want fortune or fame only justice. I want you to let me alone these devils will not court from me since these devils will not court very sincerely, William E. Blodgett

WALL STREET BOMB PLOT.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At Idaho Springs, Colo.

Reference is made to Bureau letter (GFR.JR.) dated January 18th, 1922, and handed this Agent by Agent in Charge Samson with instructions to make appropriate investigation.

Agent interviewed W. A. COPELAND whose permanent address is 3731 Avenue A, Council Bluffs, Iowa, where his wife and daughter now are living. He also has a son, CLYDE C. COPELAND who is in the Commission business at 1201 Howard Street, Omaha, Nebraska.

W. A. COPELAND is 75 years of age and an old soldier. He draws a pension from the Government of $50.00 per month. He does not seem to get along well at his home and travels around the country a great deal.

In April 1921 he was living at the Home for Old Soldiers, at Los Angeles, California. He returned to Omaha in May 1921 and in November 1921 came to Idaho Springs, Colorado, where he rented a house and claims that he will remain in Idaho Springs until about March 1st, 1922.

This old gentleman is a close reader of the newspapers and imagines he is a detective. He knows nothing of the Wall Street explosion and has not been East of Omaha in 40 years. The description forwarded in his letter has been forgotten by him and he admitted that he had never spoken to the man about whom he was writing.

Several times during the last two years, when various crimes were reported in the newspapers, COPELAND called on various sheriffs.

and volunteered information which was useless and unfounded. One instance was with Sheriff Birdsell of Colorado Springs, Colorado, another with Sheriff Hall of Greeley, Colorado.

MR. COPELAND is seemingly mentally unbalanced on the subject of crimes reported in the newspapers.

Case closed in Denver.

Attention Mr. J.B. Hoover.

Dear Sirs-

I am enclosing herewith copy of a letter, translated from the German, from one CHAS. ENGELS, dated January 23, 1922, re above subject.

This letter was forwarded this office by United States Attorney Hayward under date of January 28th, 1922, and is being transmitted to you for your information. It appears that the writer of the attached letter is mentally unbalanced.

Re: Wall Street Explosion.

The cause of this explosion is connected with international anarchists, magicians and spiritualists. The master mind is WILLIAM HANDGEN, or PROF. HERMAN NADALL. He uses various other names. He resides in New York or near saloons as mind-reader or sign-painter. I became acquainted with him in Peoria, where he also left his wife. I am still in telepathic connection with this HANDGEN, and I know through him, himself, that he is guilty of this crime (or connected with this crime).

No do not laugh, gentlemen. The matter is similar to a wireless telephone. I also bet $100 that I am right. If you have a representative here I would explain everything better in words. It is not Professor Svengali. He speaks French and German, 48 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches high. I also enclose here his photo. I have word from him place of birth where he is also looked on as a criminal.

Yours truly

on the 6th of September, 1920 a group of leaders of the Communists met on Madison Avenue in Chicago; that this group was composed of chairmen of different groups such as industrial and technical groups; that there were present two couriers from the Third International of Moscow, namely BERNARD WOLFF and a Russian chemist. That at this meeting three men and one woman were selected to execute the Wall Street explosion; that they went to Port Amboy or Elizabeth, New Jersey, or some small town in that vicinity, and bought a horse from a junk dealer there. Further requesting to ascertain whether or not this meeting was actually held in Chicago, also to secure all possible data concerning BERNARD WOLFF referred to above.

The time given in this information leads to the time of the establishment of the American Agency of the Communist International, which consisted of three members, CHARLES SCOTT, LOUIS FRAINA, and YAVKI. YAVKI is a Jap, formerly connected with the I.W.W., and secretary to WILLIAM HAYWOOD for some time. LOUIS FRAINA is well known to this office. CHARLES SCOTT is described as a Lett, a former resident of Boston, Mass., connected with a Lettish newspaper in that city.

Another individual who was in this country at that time who could be suspected of being connected with the Communist International, was MICHAEL BERG alias GROUZENBERG.

Confidential informant, known as who has been employed by a Cleveland industrial concern, and whose reports have been received by the local office of the Military Intelligence, reported that around the date given in the Director's communication, LOUIS FRAINA was to arrive in Chicago and hold an important conference with a number of leaders of the local Communist movement in the rear of a store located in the 100 block on Madison Street, Chicago. Altho the reliability of this informant has been questionable, Agent at that time together with a number of other agents engaged in radical investigations, kept a close watch in that particular block for several days, without result. MICHAL GROZENBERG has been living in Chicago for about two weeks, spending most of his time with his wife and two children in a small cottage in Ravinia Park, Illinois, proceeding from here to Mexico where he established connections with the radical leaders in Mexico.

Further inquiries will be made in this matter and additional report will follow.
Reference is made to communication from the Director of the Bureau noted below advising that JOE CELUNITIUS, a Latvian, was implicated in the Wall Street explosion and that at one time he resided in Chicago and was connected with a well known Communist named BARBER.

Extensive inquiries have been made by Agent thru confidential informants and interviewing a number of prominent Latvians of the Chicago radical colony with the result that this individual is absolutely unknown. A check was made by Agent of the roster of the Chicago Latvian Branch of the former Communist Party, without result.

Inquiries as to the individual connected with the above named subject, whose name is BARBER, resulted that this name is also absolutely unknown in extreme radical circles of Chicago. Agent has been in constant contact with the radical situation in Chicago for the last five years and the names JOE CELUNITIUS and BARBER are unknown.

Further inquiries will be made in this matter and additional report will follow.

Dear Mr. Hurley,

I will appreciate it if you will send the following cablegram to Dr. Stanislow Gulkowska, second chief of the Department of Justice at Warsaw, Poland.

It is further requested that when the message is delivered to Dr. Gulkowska it be in Polish so as to facilitate his handling the same:

"Received your letter to me through Special Agent Cosgrove, and greatly appreciate your splendid cooperation and work, and hope you will continue it until the matter is solved. Am writing to you to request that you kindly forward through our State Department all facts, papers, and safety deposit box key relating to the matter. These should be placed in an envelope marked for me, and securely sealed. Hand it to United States Minister Gibson, who will see that it reaches me safely."

The above subject is named among several others about whom information is desired.

From the files of this office it appears that subject has been for some time associated with various pacifists organizations, engaged to a certain extent in interfering with the activities of the Government in the recent World War.

In the past few months nothing of any importance has been heard regarding subject.

The files also show that REBECCA, SHELLY, resided at 418 W. 118th St., N.Y.C. Telephone Morningside 6656. Agent communicated with that telephone number and learned that, that is a switchboard in a large apartment house and was informed by the man at the board that there is no REBECCA SHELLY at that address. There is, however, an AVIS SHELLY, a trained nurse.

Files also show that REBECCA SHELLY has parents residing either at Chesaning, Mich., R.R. #1 or at Three Rivers, Mich., or possibly at both of those places.

Among the names of individuals regarding whom information is requested in bureau letter noted below, there appears the name of "one McCARTHY, a Communist". This is presumed to be JOHN P. McCARTHY, who was in 1920, Secretary to the James Connelly Branch of the Irish American Labor League, who met at 250 W. 25th Street, which is the address of the "Irish People", an Irish Publication. At the present time, according to report of confidential informant dated 12-19-21, re Irish American Labor League, it would appear that subject is a branch organizer of the Communist Party. He is also mentioned in the report as being the Captain of Irish Group Section C, Group 1. It is further noted from reports that the Irish American Labor League is also located at 262 W. 23rd Street. In October 1921 subject was a delegate to the conference of the Workers League. Subject's party name is FARRELL. Any further information obtained will be forwarded immediately.

Mr. W. J. Burns,

Dear Mr. Burns:

This time, I have been unable to carry out properly the instructions which you gave me regarding having Mr. Arnaut send you particulars as to their proffer to cooperate with you in the employment of Mr. E. P. Fischer.

My wife has had a serious attack of appendicitis and I am partially laid up with an attack of lumbago but would say that I have written to Mr. Arnaut, (see copy of letter enclosed) and trust that this is the information that you wish.

I again state that if anything I wrote to you in my previous letter was unwarranted in any way I apologize. I was beginning to feel that my efforts to cooperate would be of no avail and since both my brother-in-law's health and the reputation of the family were seriously involved, this made me both impatient and apprehensive.

Referring to my diary in the matter I find I sent to you in the matter of the advice and cooperation of Dr. Mac Curdy you would have to make your arrangements with him yourself. He is one of the foremost men in his profession and has been continually kept advised of Mr. Fischer's condition through letters Mr. Fischer has written and report of his conduct.

My recommendation that you confer with him regarding procedure was due to the fact that dealing with an insane person, particularly technical and professional matter, both your own interests and the interests of Mr. Fischer's health seem to me to make it advisable to procure the promise you gave me of proceeding only along the lines of his advice.

It is not necessary of course for you to tell me anything about your own plans in this matter, but I do feel that if you have come to the conclusion that it is no use to follow along the line that I have suggested in the matter you ought to say so and to drop the matter.

I am, with all sincerity,

February 9, 1922.

Dr. Stanislow Gulkowske,
Second Chief, Department of Justice,
Warsaw, Poland.

My dear Doctor Gulkowske,—

I received your letter, and was very glad indeed to hear from you.

I want to take this occasion to reiterate my sincere thanks which I sent in a cable to you for the great aid and assistance which you rendered to Messrs. Cosgrove and Altendorf while they were in Warsaw. I cabled you yesterday as follows:

"Received your letter to me through Special Agent Cosgrove, and greatly appreciate your splendid cooperation and work, and hope you will continue it until the matter is solved. Am writing to you to request that you kindly forward through our State Department all facts, papers, and safety deposit box key relating to the matter. These should be placed in an envelope marked for me, and securely sealed. Hand it to United States Minister Gibson, who will see that it reaches me safely."

You will note that I am asking you to send all papers in your possession, together with all books, documents, and papers taken from Linde personally, including the safety deposit box key. We will take good care of them, and the return of whatever portion of this material you desire returned to you will be strictly carried out.

I am also glad to know that you are taking a very deep interest in this matter, and I am quite sure that you will never regret having aided us.
Dr. Stanislow Gulkowski...2. February 9, 1922.

You state in your letter—

"We are short some material which no doubt is in the United States, and which would be of great value to me, and would help my investigation."

Now, I wish you would be more specific, and tell me just what material we have on this side that will aid you. As a matter of fact, if you will check up closely on everything Linde has said, and told you in Warsaw, you will be able, in my opinion, to solve this entire case from Warsaw. For instance, it would be very interesting if you could get Linde to tell you just when he was in Warsaw, how long he was there, and what he did. I am quite sure if Linde is handled quietly and carefully by yourself alone, that you can get the true story from him, especially if you point out to him his position at the present time. Bear in mind the fact that Linde's greatest weakness is that he is a physical coward. We positively know that. He cannot come into this country unless we give our consent, and if he remains there, unquestionably you will either have him shot, or send him to prison, for we have a great deal of proof here that Linde plotted against Poland with the bolshevik.

I have already notified the William J. Burns International Detective Agency that you will be entitled to this reward, if you succeed in getting the facts from Linde that will result in the apprehension and conviction of those responsible for the Wall Street bomb explosion, and there will be no doubt whatever of its being paid to you in cash.

I also want to state that if you succeed in getting all these facts which will establish the identity of those responsible for the Wall Street bomb explosion, we will arrange to have you come here with Linde.

If you need any help from this side, or if you want an agent from here who knows all of this case much better than Cosgrove or Altendorf, I will be very glad to send him, and I await your further reply in the matter.
February 9, 1922.

Do not hesitate to cable freely at our expense. My understanding is that this matter is now to be carried on between you and me personally.

Trusting that everything will be satisfactory, and that you will succeed in getting this tremendous reward, I am, with very best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

William J. Burns

Director in Chief,
United States Department of Justice.

P. S. Messrs. Cosgrove and Altendorf also wish to be remembered to you.

My dear Mr. Arnold:

Mr. Pope, the brother-in-law of Mr. E. P. Fischer, states that he had talked with you concerning the reemployment of Fischer in the hope that it would have a tendency to improve his condition of mind, which would enable him to give us whatever information he may have concerning the Wall Street Explosion.

I am, therefore, writing to ask whether or not it is your intention to give him employment. Mr. Pope intimated that he might give him employment in the Government. This, of course, we cannot do under any circumstances.

I wish, therefore, that you would write me as to that the situation is and I would ask you to keep this letter in the strictest confidence. This Department greatly appreciates your kindness.

Yours very truly,

My dear Mr. Arnaud:

Last week Mr. W. J. Burns, Chief of the Bureau of Investigations, Department of Justice, requested me to have you advise him in particular as to the offer you made of employing Mr. E. P. Fischer, presumably he would like to know when you could take him on; what compensation ought to be arranged, so as not to make him feel he was either getting too much or too little for his services; what work he could be doing; where it would take him and whether it would be more or less identical with the work which he was originally employed upon during the time he received the information about the Wall Street bomb plot.

In making your reply I think you perhaps should state whether or not you feel that Mr. Fischer was of any value to you whatsoever. If so, whether you are prepared to pay that part of the cost of his employment yourself.

Your reply should be directed to Mr. W. J.
Department of Justice, Washington, D. C. and I will be to you if you will send me a copy of your letter.

Dear Mr. Hurley,

I enclose a communication addressed to Dr. Stanislaw Gulkowski.

I will appreciate it if you will have the same forwarded to him in the diplomatic pouch through the American Minister at Warsaw.

Very truly yours,

The Honorable,

The Secretary of State.

Sir:

The Bureau of Investigation of this Department has been conducting a very extensive inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the Wall Street Bomb Explosion of September, 1920. This investigation has progressed to a point where the identity of certain parties, believed to have been actively connected with the carrying out of the bomb outrage, is known to the Department. One William Linde, who is in possession of considerable information relating to the Wall Street Bomb Explosion, is at the present time in the custody of the Polish authorities, and is confined in the jail at Warsaw, Poland. Representatives of this Department, through the courtesy of the American Minister at Warsaw, have interviewed Linde and have procured from him information of value in the investigation now in progress.

My purpose in communicating with you at this time is to request that the American Minister at Warsaw be directed by you to make official representations to the Foreign Office of Poland, in this case. It is our earnest desire that William Linde be held in jail by the Polish authorities until certain angles of the investigation, now in progress in this country, can be completed. In a cable received by you from the American Minister at Warsaw, dated February 15th, 1922, the statement was contained, that in absence of definite charges against Linde he would probably be released by the Polish authorities. The information in the possession of this Department indicates quite clearly that Linde has intimate knowledge of the perpetrators of the Wall Street Bomb Explosion, if he is not one of the actual conspirators in the plot. I have been informed that Linde has also indulged in certain fraudulent practices in connection with passport matters in Poland, and at the time the investigators of this Department were in Poland, he made an assault upon one of our representatives. His release, therefore, by the Polish authorities at the present time, would be very harmful to the results of our investigation and I, therefore, make the request that very strenuous representations be made by the American Minister at Warsaw to the point of having Linde detained until such time as the American government may advise the Polish government as to the steps which it desires to have taken for his return to the United States.

Faithfully yours,

Attorney General.

PETER J. McGOWAN, the author of the letter addressed to the Department in Washington alleging that JOSEPH STROUD engineered the Wall Street Bomb Explosion is without a doubt a harmless mental defective possessed of certain hallucinations.

I found him living in a dingy little hall room in a cheap boarding house at the address he gave in his letter, No. 34 East 126th Street. He has a fixed idea that JOSEPH STROUD is gifted with supernatural power and by standing at windows of buildings and "operating" from there is able to make "good things" as well as "bad things" happen. During my interview I ascertained that he worked at certain times with each of the three concerns mentioned in the letter and also that MR. JOSEPH STROUD is the General Manager of MORTON B. SMITH COMPANY at 241 Front Street, New York, the largest concern dealing in scrap metals. McGowan claims he broke his wrist in cranking a Ford car while in the employ of that concern and was therefore laid off. He evidently has an invalid grievance against the General Manager and his diseased mind having his wrist broken and subsequent loss of employment a "supernatural work" of MR. JOSEPH STROUD. He also told me he had seen MR. JOSEPH STROUD stand at a window of the building in 20 Broad Street and "operate", while he (McGowan) was working...
NAYLOR & CO., 120 Broadway, which is the Equitable Bldg. He claimed that MR. JOSEPH STROUD could stand at a window and "operate" so that customers would come into the house.

When asked about the statement in his letter that MR. SMITH of Naylor & Co., knew about MR. STROUD's ability to operate in this mysterious manner indicated, he said that one day while looking out from one of the windows of their office in the Equitable Bldg. MR. SMITH remarked that before the building at No. 20 Broad Street was put up you could see Governor's Island. Since he (McGOWAN) knew that MR. JOSEPH STROUD was called "the Governor" he knew that MR. SMITH meant by saying "you could see Governor's Island" that MR. STROUD was operating from that building.

As stated before, the man's mind is afflicted and the information contained in his letter is simply the hallucination of a harmless lunatic.

PETER J. McGOWAN is a man about 35 years of age, 6 feet tall, extremely slender and emaciated, weighs probably 150 pounds, has dark hair well streaked with gray. He has a very low forehead and bulging eyes with an expressionless stare. He is now selling Nunnally's candies to stores on commission basis.

My dear Mr. Witty:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of the 16th which I have read with much interest. You can rest assured that you need have no fears whatever for the safety of Mrs. Berg. I think this is the name, or whatever her name is, anyway it is the woman you spoke of as a widow living alone. You may also rest assured that we will not have the slightest tendency to disclose what is being done.

I hope you will go on with Star and aid him in any way you possibly can, and I will appreciate it very much indeed.

Very truly yours,

February 6th: In company with Agent Anderson I took up watch at 180 Broadway for Henry Kuntz who is described as follows: 5' 4", dark complexion; dressed in light gray suit, light gray overcoat and light gray fedora hat. Agents remained until 5:30 P.M. when they discontinued as no one answering the above description was seen leaving the premises.

February 7th: Continuing on the above investigation Agents Anderson, Starr and the writer took up watch for subject at 180 Broadway. At 5:00 P.M. subject came out with another man and was designated by Agent Starr. They walked to the Hudson Terminal Building where they separated, subject boarding a Hudson Tube train for Jersey City where he boarded train which left at 5:37 P.M. Agents then discontinued. Subject's description follows:

45 years old, 5' 4", 155 pounds, dark hair, dark complexion, clean shaven; dressed in blue suit, very dark gray overcoat, dark brown fedora hat and black bow tie with red dots.

February 8th: Continuing on the above investigation, Agent Anderson and the writer took up surveillance in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:00 A.M. At 10:50 A.M. subject entered, carrying a large package. He came out at 1:00 P.M. and walked to and entered Cross Restaurant, Fulton St. near Broadway, where he met a woman whose description follows:

Washington (D) New York (2) HOU:FJM FEB 16 1922 1000
cription is as follows: 35 years old, 5' 3", 140 pounds, dark hair, Jewish appearance; seal coat, black hat trimmed with gold braid. They left restaurant 1:40 P.M. and walked to and entered office at 180 Broadway. Came out together at 2:00 P.M. Subject carried handbag. They walked to Fulton Street subway station where they separated, subject boarding train to Brooklyn and alighting at Clark St. station where he entered telephone booth and called Watkins 5864. He asked for Mr. Mallory or Malloy and said, "Is this Lew - this is Henry. I spoke to one of the boys - there was nothing doing. I have another party in mind, but cannot give any money on mortgages at present." He then left the booth and walked to and entered Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights, near Clark Street and entered the elevator. Agents were unable to learn the name of the person on whom he called. He came to the street at 5:00 P.M., carrying same bag and boarded subway. He rode to Fulton St., N.Y., from where he walked to Hudson Terminal Building and boarded train to Jersey City for Iselin, N.J. Agents then discontinued.

February 9th: Continuing on the above investigation, in company with Agent Anderson, Agent resumed surveillance in the vicinity of subject's place of business, 180 Broadway, N.Y. At 10:45 A.M. subject was observed entering. He came out at 12:00 Noon in company with a man described as follows: 50 years old, 5' 5", 175 pounds, clean shaven, tortoise shell glasses, Jewish appearance; dressed in dark suit, dark fedora hat, dark gray overcoat. They walked to and entered Gross Restaurant, Fulton St., near Broadway. Came out at 12:35 P.M. in company with two other men and walked to and entered the Equitable Trust Co., 222 Broadway. Subject and friend came out almost immediately and walked to Broad way and Fulton St. where they separated, subject entering his office at 12:45 P.M.

At 1:00 P.M. he came out, boarded subway and alighted at 33rd St. from where he walked to Manhattan Opera House and purchased tickets. He then walked to the Metropolitan Opera House where he met a woman previously described and entered at 1:45 P.M. The opera La Boheme was playing. Agent Anderson covered 40th Street side of building while the writer covered Broadway side, but were unsuccessful in locating subject due to the large crowds and the number of exits. Surveillance was then discontinued at 5:10 P.M.

Mr. W. J. Burns Director,

My dear Mr. Burns,

Your letter of the 13 received and I am very glad to receive a word of confidence from you once more.

I thank you very much for the interest which you are taking in helping me in regards to the patent which I am expecting.

In regards the other matter I have been to see Mr. Star this morning with some more news. I am confident to say that I believe to have reached the spot where the horse and wagon for the transportation of the bomb came from you believe same as I do that if we can get a concrete evidence on that the whole thing is about solved.

I would like to have some instructions from you about this matter. I trust Mr. George Star with my heart and soul but I am afraid for the safety of Mrs. Berg who is a lonely widow living out in the country and in a very bad location also.

With my best wishes to see you personally which will be a great honor for me,

I remain, yours truly,

Received instructions to keep above mentioned subject under surveillance. Agent accompanied Agent Harry C. Leslie.

For information in regard to above subject's movements see report of Agent Harry C. Leslie for even dates.
Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:30 A.M. At 10:45 A.M. he entered. He came out at 12:30 P.M., walked to William St. and boarded subway, alighting at Clark St. Station, Brooklyn. He went to Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights near Clark St. At 1:30 P.M. woman previously described, who accompanied subject to Manhattan Opera House, entered. Subject and woman came out at 4:30 P.M. and boarded subway. Subject alighted at Fulton St., N.Y., and walked to 180 Broadway. He came out in a few minutes and walked to Hudson Terminal Building where he took train to Jersey City. At Jersey City he boarded train at 5:37 P.M. for Iselin, N. J. Agents then discontinued.

February 11th: Continuing on the above Agent took up watch for subject at 180 Broadway at 9:45 A.M. At 10:45 A.M. I was joined by Agent Anderson who had covered station at Iselin, N. J., as per instructions, but subject did not leave from this station. At 11:00 A.M. subject entered building. Returned to the street at 12:10 P.M., walked to William St. and boarded subway train, alighting at Clark St., Brooklyn, and proceeding to Standish Arms Hotel. He came out at 4:30 P.M. and proceeded to the Clark St. subway station and boarded train to Fulton St., N.Y. From there he walked to office on 125th Broadway. He came out at 5:00 P.M. and went to Hudson Tubes where he boarded train to...
Jersey City. At Jersey City he boarded the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J., followed by writer, and arrived at Iselin at 6:30 P.M., about ten minutes late. He met a young girl about sixteen years of age on train. Subject said, "Hello! You must have got on after me. I was looking for you, but didn't see you." They both alighted and entered Dodge Touring Car No. 125-329 N. J. Two young boys, about ten and twelve years of age, also entered the car. They drove East on Lincoln Highway and I discon-tinued.
FACTS REFER TO CHICAGO ILL.

Reference is made to Bureau communication noted below, advising that on the 8th of September, 1920 a group of leaders of the Communists met on Indiana Avenue in Chicago; that this group was composed of chairmen of different groups such as industrial and technical groups; that there were present two couriers from the Third International of Moscow, namely BERNARD WOLFF and a Russian chemist. That at this meeting three men and one woman were selected to execute the Wall Street explosion; that they went to Port Amboy or Elizabeth, New Jersey, or some small town in that vicinity, and bought a horse from a junk dealer there. Further requesting to ascertain whether or not this meeting was actually held in Chicago, also to secure all possible data concerning BERNARD WOLFF referred to above.

The time given in this information leads to the time of the establishment of the American Agency of the Communist International, which consisted of three members, CHARLES SCOTT, LOUIS FRAINA and YAVKI. YAVKI is a Jap, formerly connected with the I.W.W. and secretary to WILLIAM HAYWOOD for some time. LOUIS FRAINA is well known to this office. CHARLES SCOTT is described as a Leo, a former resident of Boston, Mass., connected with a Lettish newspaper in that city. Another individual who was in this country at that time who could be suspected of being connected with the Communist International, was MICHAEL BERG alias GROUZEMBERG.

Confidential Informant, known as [REDACTED] who has been employed by a Cleveland industrial concern, and whose reports have been received by the local office of the Military Intelligence, reported that around the date the Director's communication, LOUIS FRAINA was to arrive in Chicago.
important conference with a number of leaders of the local Communist movement in the rear of a store located in the 100 block on Madison Street, Chicago. Although the reliability of this informant has been questionable, Agent at that time together with a number of other agents engaged in radical investigations, kept a close watch in that particular block for several days without result.

MICHAL GROZENBERG has been living in Chicago for about two weeks, spending most of his time with his wife and two children in a small cottage in Ravinia Park, Illinois, proceeding from here to Mexico where he established connections with the radical leaders in Mexico.

Further inquiries will be made in this matter and additional report will follow.

reference is made to communication from the Director of the Bureau noted below advising that JOE CELUNITIUS, a Latvian, was implicated in the Wall Street explosion and that at one time he resided in Chicago and was connected with a well known Communist named BARRER.

Extensive inquiries have been made by Agent thru confidential informants by interviewing a number of prominent Latvians of the Chicago radical colony with the result that this individual is absolutely unknown. A check was made by Agent of the roster of the Chicago Latvian Branch of the former Communist Party, without result.

Inquiries as to the individual connected with the above named subject, whose name is BARRER, resulted that this name is also absolutely unknown in extreme radical circles of Chicago. Agent has been in constant contact with the radical situation in Chicago for the last five years and the names JOE CELUNITIUS and BARRER are unknown.

Further inquiries will be made in this matter and additional report will follow.

On February 6th, accompanied by A.O.M. and Informant Mr. [Name], Agent proceeded to Metuchen, N.J., where Mrs. Rentz was interviewed regarding the above subject and certain of his associates or employees. Mrs. Rentz did not give a very well connected story and appears to be holding something back.

One of the persons whom she gave information about is Mrs. Bayersdorfer, who, she states, spoke to her about a man being buried on the Kuntz property. This Mrs. Bayersdorfer is a German about 45 or 50 years of age; 5' 10" tall; very stately in appearance; gray hair; speaks German, French and English. Her present address is not known. At that time she owned some property at Westwood, N.J., which she sold after having had some trouble with the authorities at Westwood with reference to accusations of spying made against her during the World War. About two years ago in July it was understood by Mrs. Rentz that Mrs. Bayersdorfer was preparing to go to Germany. During the summer of 1920 she was in Cuba. In October 1920 a letter was received from her by Mrs. Rentz from which it appeared that she was employed as a maid in the Woodward Hotel, N.Y. City. In July 1921 Mrs. Bayersdorfer was at Mrs. Rentz' home in Metuchen. According to Mrs. Rentz, Mrs. Bayersdorfer had some trouble with Kuntz, which trouble hinged on some information in the possession of a relative of hers. This relative is understood to have been killed by Kuntz.
and buried on the KUNTZ property. MRS. RENTZ states that the grave was seen by several people and that on the following day some laborers were brought to the property and the entire lot was either dug up or ploughed up so that all signs of the grave were obliterated.

Later on, according to MRS. BAYERSDORFER, the body was dug up and buried again under the garage.

MRS. BAYERSDORFER, after having left Iselin later returned and was looking for HENRY KUNTZ and while trying to locate him boarded with MRS. FAITH on Oaktree Rd., at the Coreigea Place, and it is understood that when KUNTZ learned that MRS. BAYERSDORFER was looking for him he disappeared and did not show up for about a month after she left.

MRS. RENTZ also spoke of the care-taker employed by KUNTZ, whose first name is KARL, and whose last name is not known. He is described as being short, stocky build, German, light complexioned, light mustache and hair, round face. His wife is described as being a very heavy-built woman. This care-taker, according to MRS. RENTZ, can be reached thru RICHARD KLEINFELDER, 467 E.185th St., Bronx, N.Y.

Another person, who resided for a time on the KUNTZ estate, was MRS. GREENBERG, KUNTZ' niece, who has since moved to the Bronx. Her husband is understood to be a High School Teacher in a High School in Washington Heights, N.Y. City. MRS. RENTZ lived in what was known as the TAPPAN property and moved from there about 32 years ago to what is known as the COREIGEA Place. On September 25 or 26th MRS. RENTZ moved to her present address in Metuchen, N.J. directly opposite MRS. RENTZ and is understood to have been implicated in the Rosenthal murder case in New York City.

MRS. RENTZ also mentioned one SZABO, an Hungarian whose address is not known and a man by the name of "FRANK" at Colonia, N.J., whose last name is not known. Also a family by the name of FAITH on Oaktree Rd. This is understood to be the family which has taken over the CORBEIGEA place.

Agent went to 457 E. 185th St., Bronx, N.Y., for the purpose of locating "KARL" thru KLEINFELENDER. KLEINFELENDER was absent and his Plumbing establishment was closed. The other tenant in the building, a Tin-smith and Roofer, undertook to deliver a message to KLEINFELENDER and Agent accordingly wrote a note telling KLEINFELENDER that he had a client who was fixing up an estate near White-Plains, N.Y., who wished to get in touch with "KARL" and requested KLEINFELENDER to mail the address to a cover at a Postoffice Box address which Agent uses for such purposes.

The house inhabited by MRS. RENTZ was purchased from MR. HENAY KUNTZ, who informed her at the time of the sale of the house which was shortly after her husband's death, that she would not have to make any further payments other than what she had made at the house and that she need not worry about money or thing else that she might need as she would be well taken care of provided that she kept this house for his convenience of interviewing persons whom he brought down to keep her mouth shut about all that she saw or heard.
Mr. [ ] called at this office on Feb. 7th and corrected some of the above information. He also gave the following description of subject: about 5' 4", dark hair, dark eyes, stocky build, smooth face, dark complexion, always wears soft black hat and black bow tie, gray coat with no belt, dressed neatly, weighs about 170 lbs., and has Jewish appearance. He further states that when he had occasion to locate subject in order to endeavor to collect from him for work done he had occasion to meet him at various addresses, which he recalls as follows:

Room 74,180 Broadway;

Office of some Promotion Co., on the 12th floor of World Bldg.,

Office in a building at 34th St., & Madison Ave.

Office of KLEIN, a Real Estate shark on Church St., between Cortland and Liberty Sts. (This KLEIN is understood to have the investing of subject's money all of which investments are handled in KLEIN'S name. This information, however, is not corroborated, but is merely informant's belief.)

All checks delivered to informant by subject were drawn on the Equitable Trust Co., of New York, Colonial Branch, St. Paul Bldg., N.Y.City.

Informant states that MRS. RENTZ is afraid to tell all she knows. After Agents had left Metuchen yesterday, MRS. RENTZ told informant that the woman who does her washing and who has lived in Iselin for about 20 years, knows about a shack on the KUNTZ property which was visited daily by two men with a suit-case prior to the time of the Wall Street Explosion. There was a fire or explosion in th shack about a week prior to the explosion on Wall Street. This woman is a heavy drinker, and for this reason informant is doubtful whether or not she can be trusted. She is at MRS. RENTZ' house every Monday to do washing and if necessary could be interviewed there.

Informant is leaving for Washington and will return and call at this office on Thursday, February 9th.

Male voice called and inquired for Kuntz. Spooner answered and said that there was no one in the office but himself. Party calling asked him to deliver a message to Kuntz to the effect that Modell's Outfitting called in reference to a suit - tell him it is impossible to get it in that size for him.
At Naugatuck, Connecticut, in reference to Nicoli Recchi, anarchist, said to have been seen there by Chief of Police Schmidt of the Naugatuck Police Force.

Agent interviewed Chief Schmidt who stated that at a celebration given by the Daughters of Mount Carmel, an Italian society, July 16th, a man who answered Recchi's description was seen by him setting off fireworks.

Inquiries made by agent showed that the Connecticut Fireworks Company of New Haven had furnished the fireworks for the celebration. Agent then proceeded to New Haven.

On July 20th, agent interviewed Luigi Faugho, Manager of the Connecticut Fireworks Company, who stated that an Italian had been employed by him with four fingers gone from his left hand, by the name of Nickoli Kepasph and resided at Merritt Avenue, Woodbridge, according Faugho he has known subject for a period of three years, during which time subject has always conducted himself properly.

Agent proceeded to Merritt Avenue, Woodbridge, where Mrs. Sarah Lillie was interviewed and stated that she had known subject for twelve years and that she thought he was an American citizen. Is married and has thirteen children, the oldest being a son, aged 25 years, who is at present employed somewhere in New York city. Subject is a st
And has been employed outside of New Haven, being gone for several weeks at a time according to Mrs. Lillie, subject told her that he lost his fingers several years ago setting off fireworks.

Agent waited until six o'clock at which time subject was seen by agent on his way home. The thumb and first, second and third fingers are gone on his left hand. He is about 45 years of age, very stocky built and weighs about 160 lbs. Eyes blue, five feet seven inches, hair dark brown, heavy sandy mustache.

Inquiries made at the Westville Post Office in reference to kind of mail received by him, show that he has received none for several years. Agent attempted no questioning of subject.

Awaiting instructions.
"The jails, the dungeons you reaen to bury & precting voices are now replenished with languishing conscientious workers, and, never satisfied you increase their number evey day."

"It is history of yesterday that your guns are shooting and murdering unarmed masses by the wholeale.

"Do not sit down and expect us to cry and pray. We accept your challenge and mean to stick to our war duties. We know the all you is for your defense as a class. We know also that the proletariat has the same right to protect itself, since their press has been suffocated, their mouths muzzled, we mean to speak for them with the voice of dynamite, through the mouth of guns."

"Do not say we are acting cowardly, because we keep in hiding—Don not say it is abominable. It is war—class war and you were the first to wage it under the cover of the powerful institutions you call order, in the darkness of your laws, behind the guns of your boneheaded slaves.

"No liberty do you accept but yours—The working people also have a right to freedom and their rights—our own rights we have set our minds to protect at any price.

"We are not many, though, perhaps, more than you dream of, but all are determined to fight to the last, till not a man remains buried in your bastiles, till not a hostage of the working class is left to the tortures of your police system, and will never rest till your fall is complete, and the labor masses have taken possession of all that rightly belongs to them.

"There will have to be bloodshed—We will not dodge it. There will have to be murder. We will kill because it is necessary. There will have to be destruction—We will have to destroy to rid the world of your tyrannical institutions.

"We are ready to do anything and everything to suppress the capitalist class, just as you are doing anything and everything to suppress the proletarian revolution.

"Our mutual position is pretty clear.—What has been done by us so far is only a warning that there are friends of popular liberty still living—Only now we are getting into the fight and you will have a chance to see what liberty loving people can do.

"Do you seek to believe that we are the Germans or the devil's paid agents? You know well we are class conscious men with strong determination and no vulgar liability. And never hope that your cops and your hounds will ever succeed in ridding the country of the anarchistic germ that pulses in our veins. We know how we stand with you and know how to take care of ourselves.

"Besides you will never get all of us, for we multiply nowadays.

"Just wait and resign to your fate, since riches and privilege have turned your head.

"Long live social revolution! Down with tyranny!

"THE ANARCHISTIC FIGHTERS"
Almost simultaneous with the explosions in other cities a bomb was exploded in Paterson N.J. at the home of Harry Klotz, 331 East 31st Street on the night of June 2, 1919 at 12:20 a.m. (after midnight). The bomb which successfully exploded did considerable damage to two buildings although no loss of life occurred. The foundation of the two family residences at the above address indicated that the bomb had been placed against the concrete foundation. It tore a hole large enough for a good sized man to climb through into the foundation. Its effect in the interior of the house did a great deal of damage indicating that it contained very high explosive.

With a careful examination of the spot where the initial explosion occurred, it was ascertained that many small holes were pierced, but no particle of the bomb container could be found. There was however scattered all about the driveway between the two residences a large number of pieces of pink paper, which after being placed together developed to be the circular headed "PLAIN WORDS". It read as follows;

PLAIN WORDS.

"The powers that make no secret of their will to stop here in America the worldwide spread of revolution. The powers that be will have to accept the fight that they have provoked. The time has come when the social question’s solution can be delayed no longer. Class war is on and cannot cease, but with a complete victory for the international proletariat.

"The challenge is an old one, oh, "democratic" lords of the autocratic republic! We have been dreaming of freedom, we have been talking of liberty, we have aspired to a better world, and you jailed us, you clubbed us, you deported us, you murdered us whenever you could.

"Now that the great war is over, waged to replenish your purses and build a pedestal to your saints, nothing better can you do than to protect your stolen millions and your usurped fame than to direct all the power of the murderous institutions you created for your exclusive defense against the working multitudes rising to a more human conception of life."
From a confidential informant it was learned that an anarchist newspaper titled "L'Ordine" was published in Brooklyn N.Y. by one Roberto Elia, an old time member of the L'Era Nuova Group. Several samples of "pink paper" such as was used was found in the print shop of Benjamin Mazzotta. The confidential informant was asked who in his opinion would undertake to print "PLAIN WORDS" and whether or not Roberto Elia would undertake to do it. The informant said that he had heard that Elia was working in a small printshop in Brooklyn and that possibly he would undertake to print the circulars.

A paper expert examined some pieces of the circular headed "Plain Words" found at the scene of the explosion in Paterson, and determined that it was "machine finished cover paper" 20X45" five hundred sheets to a ream weighing about thirty five pounds per ream. He said that in all likelihood the J E Linde Paper Co., Cliff Street, New York City had sold the paper. This information was forwarded to the New York office by Special Agent Frank R. Stone together with the fact that ROBERTO ELIA was the printer and publisher of the anarchistic publication "L'ORDINE" and that in all likelihood the pink paper would be found at this shop.

Investigation by Special Agent Scully of the New York office disclosed the fact that pink paper and a copy of "PLAIN WORDS" were found in the print shop. ROBERTO ELIA and Andrea Salsedonias Arrera were arrested and later confessed that they had printed the circular "PLAIN WORDS".

PRINCIPALS INVOLVED IN EXPLOSION AT PATERNON.

From a strictly confidential source it was learned that the "En Sorte" members were the active agents of the Galleani crowd of Lynn Mass and that they were carrying on a fight against the philosophical anarchists of the L'Era Nuova Group. The principal agitator for the Galleani group was learned to be one FILIPPO CACCI who together with another female comrade "GEMMA MEILLO" were the two persons responsible for the explosion of the bomb in Paterson.

GEMMA MEILLO was arrested on March 16, 1920 at 324 Market Street, Paterson N.J. No evidence directly connecting her with the explosion in Paterson was found, but considerable mass of letters and newspapers indicated that she was a member of the "inner circle" of the Galleani crowd. Among her effects was a clipping from the Philadelphia Bulletin headed

BOMBS UNSOLVED
AS TIME PASSES

Terrorists Who Wrecked Three Homes Still at Large After Twelve Days.

CAPTURE SEEMS REMOTE.
This incident referred to the explosion of bombs at the home of Justice Robert Von Moschnitzker; Captain Mills and Ernest T Trigg all of Philadelphia.

There was also found in the effects of Gemma Mello a postcard dated December 13, 10:30 p.m. 1918 Philadelphia Pa. signed by B Mariani on the opposite side of which are two symbolic figures representing Life and Death. This was about the time of the explosion of the first bombs in Philadelphia and the illustration on the postcard is to say the least significant.

In the books and other literature taken there was found a red covered book entitled "Faccia A Faccia col Nemico" (Face to Face With the Enemy). It is described in an advertisement issued by the Cronaca Soverisiva as "a judicial chronicle of militant anarchism". "It is a very elegant volume, copiously documented and illustrated, which Mentana dedicates to the most demoniacal and most sacrilegious of the International Revolutionary Movement, and in which file off the shining and admonitive figures of the most unprejudiced annunciators from Sofia Perowskaja to 78743 Duval, from Ravachol to Valiant Henry Caserio.

"An epic page of revolt, a volume of living history, documented, instructive, instigative, that every revolutionary person must read, must have in his library.

"It contains more than five hundred pages, and more than fifty illustrations. Bound $1.50, unbound $1.25 post paid."

This book illustrates the minute constructions of various bombs used by anarchists for the assassination of a number of persons.

Gemma Mello admitted that she had read this book but other than that would make no comment. She is now being held at Ellis Island pending the decision of the Department of Labor to effect her deportation.

Continuing further into the investigation of the "En Sorte" it was learned that Pietro Muccini was a close companion of Nello P Caci as was F Scatena 37 Lake Avenue, Clifton, N. J. Luigi Martinelli it was also ascertained was a member of the "En Sorte" and an ardent supporter of the Galleani cause. Continued efforts to ascertain their whereabouts in Caci have been unsuccessful. There has been some intimation that he has returned to Italy, where most of the active comrades of Galleani are now located.

In a communication which Gemma Mello received from Seebach, Switzerland in November 1919 it is stated "Since I am here, I have just heard from Nicola Di Andrea. I know that the others have arrived, but I didn't hear from them."

" I also received a post card from Schiavina who is in Carrara. He informed me that he was there with Nicola and Frujetti.

" I have learned that the "Cronaca Soverisiva" will be published in Gerba."

The above mentioned are all members of the Galleani group who have either been deported or returned by some means to Italy. With the arrest of Gemma Mello, Caci has not been heard of since although it is indicated that he was in hiding among some comrades, awaiting an opportunity to return to Italy.
FILLIPO CACI

During the period that a search was being made for Caci it was learned that Carlo Mensa, who conducted a barber shop near the Francisco Ferrer Club Rooms (321 Straight Street) was collecting funds to enable Caci to leave the country. It was also found that Angelo Motta who was taken in custody was also interested in raising money for Caci. After a few days Mensa, Motta and another Italian one Tony Di Santi left this city for Milwaukee, but in all likelihood with the idea of returning to Italy.

The latter part of March Caci received a letter from Andrea Guido, dated Palermo, Italy March 10, 1920. It reads as follows:

Dearest Fillipo:–

I hope this letter finds you in good health and I have known several things. I can assure you that my family and I are enjoying good health. Through the newspapers I have known of the arrest of several persons there—so—attention! My best regards forever.

Andrea

Another letter received by Caci from Schiavina who was known as "Galliani's confident" reads as follows:–

Dear Sir:–

I was about to write you for some time and reply to your letter that I received through Solari. I received the thousand liras that you sent. I inform you also that in taking up the work again we are very much pleased in seeing the comrades with whom we have fought together, fighting the common battle and still love the Cronaca now reissued.

Speaking of you I must tell you that I feared that you were among the members who were put in jail. I am glad you escaped the danger, but I tell you if things don't change your turn will come very soon. But things must change, must they not?

The Cronaca Soversiva is here but on account of the high cost of material it could not live long if the Italian comrades of America did not send their help. We cannot impose on the Italian comrades to help our paper because they must sustain many other newspapers. We will follow the left wing of our movement in Italy. I have visited some centers of the North Italy and I have consulted with them and decided that they do not intend anarchy as we do. But I hope if our paper will live long enough we will accomplish good work. I desire to do well, this desire is not dead with me crossing the Atlantic. On the contrary it is augmented on account of what I have suffered.

Just think that at a meeting we held last Sunday we spoke to 50,000 or 60,000 workers. The hope to do well is vast. The moment for the realization is a fact and we hope that we will obtain the most of it.

Italy is full of explosive material, but the (firemen) are doing their best to put out the fire. For example the day before yesterday the workers took possession of a big factory in Turin. Many workers were enthusiastic and they wanted to do the same thing with every factory organized by the Chamber of Labor. But the organizer of the Chamber of Labor went through the factory and advised the workers to watch out against the possible inciters who were the agents of the masters.
It is always the same way, when everything is ready the agent of the enemy appears.

The revolution in Italy will commence first against the Socialist Party and other similar organizations. Then against Capitalism and State.

Last night the police force entered the factory occupied by the workers and took away the red flag and the black flag which for two days were put on the flag staff. No one knows how things will go.

I am not a pessimist but I don't see any solution now except the revolution, even when the temporizers do their best to delay it. Awaiting new events we are working.

R Schiavina.

In connection with the publication of the Cronaca Soversiva at Genoa it is interesting to note that the paper is circulated in the United States under the title "A STORMO". The above communication indicates that CACI was the principal agent of the Galleani group who remained in the United States.

Nearly all of the group have left Paterson, at least no trace of them has been found since the arrest of Gemma Mello. A mailing list of those persons receiving the Cronaca Soversiva in Paterson is given as follows with notations:

LUIGI MARTINELLI—Arrested May 19, 1920 aboard S S Canopic attempting to leave United States as a Stoway.

GEMMA MELLO—Confinned at Ellis Island, awaiting deportation as an alien anarchist.

ANGELO Motta—Left this city ostensibly to go to Milwaukee Wis. Had him in custody but no evidence ascertained with which to hold him.

EMILIO BOCCHIO—Now under investigation for receiving and circulating anarchist newspapers from Italy.

RUGGERO BACCINI—Arrested by this office April 28, 1919 for receiving and circulating copies of Cronaca Soversiva. Was released by Department of Labor on $1,000 bail and defaulted. Information is that he returned to Italy on S S Canopic, White Star Line shipping as a baker and member of the crew. Left country without a passport, January 10. Cacci succeeded Baccini as Galleani agent in this city.

PIETRO BALDISEROTTO—Arrested as member of L'Era Nuova Group. Also arrested by this office in 1918 for anarchist activities. Was released by Department of Labor on both occasions when warrant of arrest was cancelled.
ANNIBALE STRANESI—Taken in custody by this office for examination following arrest of Gemma Mello and gave considerable information concerning Galleani group in Paterson, is a naturalized American citizen, but now the owner of a silk mill.

F. SCALERA—Left his home at Clifton, N.J., shortly after arrest of Gemma Mello. Information is that he has returned to Italy.

PIETRO MUCCINI—Companion of Cacci. Arrested aboard S.S. Canopic attempting to leave as a stowaway. Criminal charge of failing to register for the draft made against him.

PIETRO CACI—Brother of Filipo Cacci, has left country for Sweden with a woman whom he claimed was his wife.

All of the above named men were active in the "En Sorte," which group composed the individualist-terrorist anarchists under the leadership of Luigi Galleani before he was deported last year.

MUCCINI AND MARTINELLI

These two young Italians resided at 324 Market Street, Paterson, N.J. On the night that Gemma Mello was arrested at this place they were present, but Agent not knowing of their connection did not take them into custody. Further investigation disclosed the fact that particularly MUCCINI was active in the Galleani movement and was particularly intimate with CACI. Returning to 324 Market Street at 6 a.m. it was found that both of them had left the city. Meanwhile it was ascertained that MUCCINI was associated with SERIMA, an active member of the Harlem group and a printer by trade. SERIMA according to information had full information concerning the bomb plot of June 2nd, but has since returned to Italy.

On information furnished by Special Agent Scully and at his request I boarded the S.S. Canopic Pier 61, North River, N.Y., for the purpose of locating Italian stowaways. After a search of the ship they were found hiding in lifeboats on the after deck. In all eleven were found, two of whom I immediately recognized as MUCCINI and MARTINELLI, who had been absent from Paterson more than two months.

Formal complaint has been made against MUCCINI for violation of Section 6 of the Selective Service Act, while MARTINELLI is being held by the New York police for carrying a revolver. Both of these men admitted to me that they had failed to register for the draft and accordingly I have made a similar complaint against MARTINELLI.
CONCLUSION

It is established beyond a reasonable doubt that the bomb plots of June 2nd were conceived and directed by Luigi Galleani and were exploded on the day that he was deported from this country. Naturally persons or his followers who remained in this country were selected to do the deeds and it would appear that he appealed to the more ignorant of his followers who desired to become martyrs to the cause.

That there is still in the United States some person or persons whom were identified with the plot can be assured and careful and precise investigation will eventually disclose their whereabouts.

As to the explosion of the bomb in Paterson it to determine both from circumstantial evidence and that of a confidential informant whose identity cannot be revealed that GEMMA MALLO and FILIPO CACI were the two persons who executed the deed.

There is still an opportunity to go further a step with the investigation with the arrest of PIETRO MUGGINI who undoubtedly has information which he has not yet disclosed. I have sufficient evidence against him to show that he was actively identified with CACCI and the Galleani group so that before his matter is disposed of he may make a statement which will assist the government.

In addition to this possible source of information there is the opportunity to secure valuable information from another informant within the next month or six weeks which may for all times clear up the bomb plot and definitely establish the identity of the persons who were responsible for it.

Emmett T. Drew
Special Agent

Paterson N.J.
May 15, 1920.
Upon investigation at the Astoria, Oregon Post Office,

I found that G.T. TUCKER held Box No. 926. It was rented April 30, 1919, and he paid the last quarter, 12-30-1919, which pays him up to March 31, 1920. Previous to that this box was held by GENE FISHER. The postmaster did not know what business FISHER was in. Postmaster Wise, of Astoria, gave this agent all assistance possible in watching this box unobserved, even provided a key so that I could go to this box after the mail was delivered at 11 P.M., any evening. On March 22nd no mail of any kind was delivered to this box.

On March 23rd a paper was placed in this box in the evening mail, entitled "Alameda County Union, Labor Record," official paper of the Building Trades Council of Alameda County, devoted to the interests of organized labor. Dated at Oakland, Cal., Friday, March 19, 1920. This paper contains an article headed "Spies in the Labor Movement. Veteran Slough. Give's Inside Dope." Marked on the margin of the paper "See Page 7." This paper was addressed to O.H. EDE, Secretary Shipyard Laborers, Riggers and Fasteners Local 38-A-19, Astoria, Ore. On this same date a letter came directed to G.T. TUCKER, Shipwright, Local 1500, Box 926, from the Liberty Loan Organization, 329 Stark St., Portland, Oregon.

On March 24th no mail whatsoever was delivered to this box.

On the 25th a package of 500 cards was delivered to this box. Printed thereon "Quarterly Working Card, Building Trades Department, American Federation of Labor." This package of cards came from JOHN P. DUNN BROS., 721 6th St., Washington, D.C.

This agent learned by inquiry that the ship yard workers union and the carpenters' union were consolidating and would hereafter run under the name of the Carpenters and Builders Trade Union. They have no headquarters at the present time and there was no way for this agent to learn anything about the movements of TUCKER or EDE without creating suspicion. Neither one of these parties is in the city directory or the telephone directory. As I was instructed to be very careful, I did not inquire at this time anything about TUCKER or EDE, owing to the fact that the Department had not given us any description of RICCI, or the time that he might have arrived in Astoria, or how the Department secured the number of the box alleged to be used by him at Astoria, or what trade, if any, he was following. I did, however, go to the financial secretary of the Socialist Party at 262 Taylor St., Astoria, Ore., and gave as an excuse that I wished to ascertain if WAINO RIIPPA was still carried on their books, the real purpose being to ascertain if RICCI had affiliated with this organization. I learned by examination of the books that he had not. I did not think it would be wise at this time to see TUCKER or EDE, to look over the membership of their locals, as I expected to watch the box for another week at least, for any mail that might come for RICCI.

Since returning to headquarters, have learned that the Department has now sent us a description of the subject, upon which we will work later.

On March 26th, all the mail that was placed in this box was a letter from the local Moose Lodge.

MEMORANDUM.

The consolidated reports of the New York, Philadelphia, Newark and Boston districts of the Bureau, next attached, will show in detail the progress to date in the developments of facts in connection with the series of bomb explosions of June 2d, 1919 at Washington, D. C., Boston and Newton, Mass., Philadelphia, Pa., Cleveland, Ohio, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Paterson, N. J., which occurred almost simultaneously and about midnight of that date, resulting the death of two persons--a watchman employed in the vicinity of the New York explosion at Judge Nott's home, and the other believed to be the person responsible for the explosion at Washington, D. C.

The investigation in complete detail is shown in the special reports of the district offices. It must necessarily be considered a progressive report to date, and the facts disclosed might fairly lead to the belief that the ultimate solution of the mystery is not so far away.

Fragments of the wearing apparel of the victim at Washington, and photographs, were furnished agents of the Bureau not much to work on to be sure, and for nearly a year a supreme effort has been made to ascertain the identity of the Washington unknown, and apprehend those responsible for the outrages. The reports will show the cooperation of the police departments, secret services and post office inspectors.

With the meagre clues available, the extent of the investigation must be inferred from a careful reading of the reports.
THE COLLAR.

With laundry mark "K.B.", this lead was followed through every Chinese laundry in the districts. Other laundries, steam and hand, were fine-combed. The post office inspectors provided with photographs of the collar, assisted on this feature. The various laundry trade journals published photos of the collar showing the "K.B." initials and these publications were circulated broadcast over the United States. No definite results have been reached.

THE NECKTIE.

The torn necktie was traced to 86 Bowery, New York, the Silver Rose Shop. The Proprietor remembered selling one tie from a stock he had purchased from Wholesalers Friedman & Friedman. The proprietor Rosen remembered having sold the tie in question to a man but could furnish no description of him. A clerk in the store thought the purchaser was an Italian whom he had met while he (the clerk) had been operating a store in Brooklyn during May, the month previous to the explosions and who had remarked while purchasing the tie that he was tired of America and was going away. Rosen and his clerk were shown each suspect brought in but failed to recognize his customer.

THE SHOE.

A damaged sandal with rubber heel attached was found near the Washington explosion. New York and Boston shoe repairers who might have put on the rubber heels were questioned. A New York cobbler at 314 Avenue B said he had fixed a similar rubber heel to a like shoe brought to his shop by a foreigner shortly before June 25. This shop is close to Rosen’s haberdashery hereinbefore mentioned. This foreigner was quickly located so that a very promising clue ended there.

LEAF FROM THE DICTIONARY.

A fly leaf from an Italian Dictionary was found near the Washington explosion and the Societa Libraria Italiano, 145 Mulberry Street, New York City, was visited. The leaf proved to be from a 1913 edition which had not been distributed by them for two years past, but 10,000 copies had been sold in the United States.

THE HAT.

The hat found at the Washington explosion led to Philadelphia. It had once been repaired at a Philadelphia store or shop operated by an Italian and was near the tailoring establishment of Titilio & Campanella who will be mentioned in connection with the piece of clothing, further on in this report.

It could not be ascertained where the hat was originally purchased.

THE PISTOLS.

Two revolvers were salvaged from the Washington wreck, one of these, an automatic, was splintered; the other a S & W was intact. This clue led to Philadelphia and Boston and at the latter city it developed that one of the guns was purchased there by a man giving the name of Luigi Calisseri and residence Medford, Mass. This name and address were fictitious it was afterwards learned.

PLAIN WORDS—(pink circular)

These were printed at a shop in Brooklyn, N. Y., where Robert Elia, the subject now at Ellis Island, was employed. The printing was done by Andrea Saldeso, a recent suicide at the Park Row Building, who admitted before his death that a Nicoli Recchi, an anarchist formerly of the Bronx, N. Y. district, gave the order for the printing. Recchi is now believed to be in Russia. Elia, above mentioned, identified photographs of the Galleani or Cronaca-Sovversiva group of Boston, Mass., and Barre, Vt., and volunteered the information that one Sberna possessed valuable information concerning the plot on the Attorney General. Sberna is now in Italy departing about the time of Elia's arra

PIECE OF CLOTH.

The cloth from the apparel of Washington bomber, was sold over the counter at the establishment of Titilio and Campanella of Philadelphia. Seven years of the cloth was sold but no record made of the sale by the firm.

Three anarchist groups in particular have been under suspicion and closely observed; The "Galleani or Cronaca Sovversiva", Boston, Mass., "Spanish Anarchists", Philadelphia, Pa., and "The Russians", New York, N. Y. Others not so prominent have not been overlooked.

Information was furnished to the effect that one Valdinucci was the man killed in Washington. This we do not know to be a fact but his description closely resembles that of the destroyed anarchist. He is missing in any event, and when the suicide Saldeso was shown a photograph of him showed extreme nervousness, denying however, that he had ever seen any person who resembled the photograph. Carlo Lodi, an anarchist of the Galleani group who had been prosecuted by Mayor Davis of Cleveland (also selected for bomb demonstrations) is believed to be Carlo Valdinucci, the bomber killed a

CONCLUSION.

On examining these reports where the pronoun "I" is used, the investigating agent is meant.

Respectfully,
SULLY REPORT IN RE
BOMB EXPLOSIONS OF JUNE 2, 1919

NEW JERSEY investigation.

THE EXPLOSIONS.

Almost simultaneous with the explosions in other cities a bomb was exploded in Paterson, N. J., at the home of Harry Klots 331 East 31st Street, on the night of June 2, 1919, at 12:20 a.m. (after midnight). The bomb which successfully exploded did considerable damage to two buildings although no loss of life occurred. The foundation of the two family residence at the above address indicated that the bomb had been placed against the concrete foundation. It tore a hole large enough for a good sized man to climb through, into the foundation. Its effect in the interior of the house did a great deal of damage indicating that it contained very high explosive.

With a careful examination of the spot where the initial explosion occurred, it was ascertained that many small holes were pierced, but no particle of the bomb container could be found. There was, however, scattered all about the driveway between the two residences a large number of pieces of pink paper, which after being placed together developed to be the circular headed "PLAIN WORDS." It read as follows:

PLAIN WORDS,

"The powers that make no secret of their will to stop here in America the worldwide spread of revolution. The powers that be will have to accept the fight that they have provoked.

The time has come when the social question's solution can be delayed no longer. Class war is on and cannot cease but with a complete victory for the international proletariat."
"The challenge is an old one, oh, "democratic" lords of the autocratic republic; We have been dreaming of freedom, we have been talking of liberty, we have aspired to a better world, and you jailed us, you clubbed us, you deported us, you murdered us whenever you could.

Now that the great war is over, waged to replenish your purses and build a pedestal to your saints, nothing better can you do than to protect your stolen millions and your usurped fame than to direct all the power of the murderous institutions you created for your exclusive defense against the working multitudes rising to a more human conception of life.

The jails, the dungeons you reared to bury all protesting voices, are now replenished with languishing conscientious workers, and, never satisfied you increase their number every day.

It is history of yesterday that your gunmen were shooting and murdering unarmed masses by the wholesale.

Do not sit down and expect us to cry and pray. We accept your challenge and mean to stick to our war duties. We know that all you is for your defense as a class. We know also that the proletariat has the same right to protect itself, since their press has been suffocated, their mouths muzzled, we mean to speak for them with the voice of dynamite, through the mouth of guns.

Do not say we are acting cowardly, because we keep in hiding—do not say it is abominable. It is war—class war and you were the first to wage it under the cover of the powerful institutions you call order in the darkness of your laws, behind the guns of your boneheaded slaves.

No liberty do you accept but yours—the working people also have a right to freedom and their rights—our own rights we have set our minds to protect at any price.

We are not many, though perhaps, more than you dream of but all are determined to fight to the last, till not a man remains buried in your bastiles, till not a hostage of the working class is left to the tortures of your police system, and will never rest till your fall is complete and the laboring masses have taken possession of all that rightly belongs to them.

There will have to be bloodshed—We will not dodge it—There will have to be murder—We will kill because it is necessary. There will have to be destruction—We will have to destroy to rid the world of your tyrannical institutions.

We are ready to do anything and everything to suppress the capitalist class, just as you are doing anything and everything to suppress the proletarian revolution.

Our mutual position is pretty clear. What has been done by us so far is only a warning that there are friends of popular liberty still living. Only now we are getting into the fight and you will have a chance to see what liberty loving people can do.

Do you seek to believe that we are the Germans' or the devil's paid agents? You know well we are class conscious men with strong determination and no vulgar liability. And never hope that your cops and your hounds will ever succeed in hiding the country of the anarchistic germ that pulses in our veins. We know how we stand with you and know how to take care of ourselves.

Besides you will never get all of us, for we multiply nowadays.

Just wait and resign to your fate, since riches and privilege have turned your head.

Long live social revolution! Down with tyranny!

(Signed) "THE ANARCHISTIC FIGHTERS."

PECULIARITIES OF CIRCULAR (Composition)

"*you jailed us, you clubbed us, you deported us"

It will be noted that reference is made to "you deported us." According to the records of the Immigration authorities, Luigi Galleani and his compatriots from Lynn, Mass., were put aboard a boat sailing for Italy on this day. (June 2, 1919)

"since their press has been suffocated"

Indicates a possible reference to the prohibition of the publication "Cronaca Soversiva" which was the newspaper (anarchistic) published at Lynn, Mass., by Galleani and the "individualist-terror anarchists."

AUTHOR OF CIRCULAR:

It is to be noted in reading the circular "PLAIN WORDS" that the sentences are long and complex. Some sentences run for for an entire paragraph before a period is used. From a highly reliable and confidential source it is given that this is the "editorial style" of Luigi Galleani. It will be noted that the use of the dash - in punctuating sentences is superfluously used.

Here below is a translation of excerpts from several letters written in the handwriting of Luigi Galleani at the time that the Cronaca Soversiva was published in Barre, Vermont. It will be noted that the style of writing is similar to that contained in the circular "PLAIN WORDS". Galleani at this time signed himself under the name de plume "JOSE".

"And if with you all the good comrades will understand the responsibility that brings with it the promise made to the comrades of the U.S and to alleviate you will give their forces an active good will, a constant and genial operosity, the temperate ambient of a useful proof. You will find the saturations of enthusiasm and general propositions for which Barre has been till to-day, and will be in the future-indicated to the comrades of other localities as the most fervid and most intellectual center of propaganda of the U.S.

Regards to good Oassi and old Fruzzetti and all the good ones. Receive the best regards from the whole tribe and from "JOSE!"

"And for change: long life to the violence, now and ever!"

It will be noted the word "till" is used as in the circular headed "PLAIN WORDS."

In another communication written by Galleani the following appears which perhaps defines in his own words the style of writing which he adopts.

"As to the circulars I will do my very best to condense comprehending the invitation for collaboration that you suggest, which I believe, is of great meaning, but I will give a stronger accentuation, underlining with a little more force, the necessity to build up rebels and encourage acts of rebellion."

In the second paragraph of "PLAIN WORDS" the following statement is made defining briefly the principles of the persons responsible for the circular.

"Class war is on and can cease but with a complete victory for the internal proletariat."
Galleani and the Cronaca Soversiva circle were nominally "international anarchists." The foregoing written by him at the time that the "Cronaca Soversiva" was started as a newspaper indicated the scope which he expected to cover with the anarchistic propaganda:

"I do not know Vezzani's address. He can certainly be the best correspondent, being very intelligent and independent. You can ask Ciome about his address and send it to me as soon as possible. I wrote to 'Pouget' of La Voix du Peuple in Paris who will write from there.

In Milan we will have another good correspondent. In Switzerland we will have Gross and Bertame. In Egypt we will have D'Angio who will also send me some articles.

I also hope to have some correspondence from Doinola Niowehamis from Holland. Tmerkesoff will write from London, but not very often.

In the first issues I will publish a collection of good articles written by the most famous comrades, especially for the "Cronaca Soversiva."

I believe we will have good success, if we can have free circulation. I will give to the newspaper an extraordinary impulse and a personal ambient of sympathy.

That is all-go to the devil, I am busy."

Jose'

Following the explosion at Paterson an "under cover operator" began to work his way in with the Italian anarchists of Paterson on the basis that if one of the number was not responsible for the explosion of the bomb on June 2, 1919, some one at least had knowledge. From June 1919 until February 1920, the investigation of the L'Esra Nuova Group of Anarchists and the Francisco Ferrer Association was continued, culminating in the arrest of practically all of the members.

Careful examination of certain of the number did not disclose any information which would substantiate the fact that the bomb explosion of June 2, was the work of any member of the L'Esra Nuova Group. Information obtained from various confidential sources strongly brought out the fact that certain members of the "En Sorte" (Insurgents) may have been responsible for the explosion.
PRINTING OF PLAIN WORDS.

From a confidential informant it was learned that an anarchist newspaper titled "L'Ordine" was published in Brooklyn, N. Y., by one Roberto Elia, an old time member of the L'Era Nuova Group. Several samples of "pink paper" such as was used was found in the print shop of Benjamin Mazzotta. The confidential informant was asked who in his opinion would print "PLAIN WORDS" and whether or not Roberto Elia would undertake to do it. The informant said that he had heard that Elia was working in a small printshop in Brooklyn and that possibly he would undertake to print the circulars.

A paper expert examined some pieces of the circular headed "Plain Words" found at the scene of the explosion in Paterson, and determined that it was "machine finished cover paper" 20X45" five hundred sheets to a ream weighing about thirty five pounds per ream. He said that in all likelihood the J. E. Linde Paper Co., Cliff Street, New York City, had sold the paper. This information was forwarded to the New York Office by Special Agent Frank R. Stone together with the fact that ROBERTO ELIA was the printer and publisher of the anarchistic publication "L'ORDINE" and that in all likelihood the pink paper would be found at this shop.

Investigation by Special Agent Scully of the New York office disclosed the fact that pink paper and a copy of "PLAIN WORDS" were found in the print shop. ROBERTO ELIA and Andrea Salsedonias Arrera were arrested and later confessed that they had printed the circular "PLAIN WORDS."

PRINCIPALS INVOLVED IN EXPLOSION AT PATERSON.

From a strictly confidential source it was learned that the "En Sorte" members were the active agents of the Galleani crowd of Lynn, Mass., and that they were carrying on a fight against the philosophical anarchists of the L'Era Nuova Group. The principal agitator for the Galleani group was learned to be one FILIPO CAGI who together with another female comrade "GEMMA HELLO" were the two persons responsible for the explosion of the bomb in Paterson.

GEMMA HELLO was arrested on March 16, 1920, at 324 Market Street, Paterson, N. J. No evidence directly connecting her with the explosion in Paterson was found, but considerable mass of letters and newspapers indicated that she was a member of the "inner circle" of the Galleani crowd. Among her effects was a clipping from the Philadelphia Bulletin headed

BOMBS UNSOLVED AS TIME Passes

Terrorists Who Wrecked Three Homes Still Free After Twelve Days.

CAPTURE SEEMS REMOTE.

This incident referred to the explosion of bombs at the home of Justice Robert Von Hoschnitzker; Captain Hills and Ernest T. Trigg all of Philadelphia.

There was also found in the effects of Gemma Hello's postcard dated December 13, 10:30 p.m., 1918, Philadelphia, Pa., signed by B. Mariana on the opposite side of which are two symbolic figures representing Life and Death. This was about the time of the explosion of the first bombs in Philadelphia and the illustration on the post card is to say the least significant.

In the books and other literature taken there was found a red covered book entitled "Faccia A Faccia col Nemico" (Face to Face with the Enemy). It is described in an advertisement issued by the Cronaca Sovversiva as "a judiciary chronicle of militant anarchism." It is a very elegant volume, copiously documented and illustrated, which Montana dedicated to the most demonical and most sacrificial of the International Revolutionary Movement, and in whose file of the shining and admonitory figures of the most unprejudiced annunciators from Sofia Perowskaje to Clemente Duval, from Ravachol to vailant Henry Caserio.

"An epic page of revolt, a volume of living history, documented, instructive, instigating, that every revolutionary person must read, must have in his library.

It contains more than five hundred pages, and more than fifty illustrations—Bound $1.50, unbound $1.25 post paid."

This book illustrated the minute construction of various bombs used by anarchists for the assassination of a number of persons.

Gemma Mello admitted that she had read this book but other than this would make no comment. She is now being held at Ellis Island pending the decision of the Department of Labor to effect her deportation.

Continuing further into the investigation of the "En Sorte" it was learned that PIETRO MUCCINI was a close companion of FILIPPO CAGI as was F SCALERA, 37 Lake Avenue, Clifton, N. J. LUIGI MARTINELLI it was also ascertained was a member of the "En Sorte" and an ardent supporter of the Galleani cause. Continued efforts to ascertain the whereabouts of CAGI have been unsuccessful. There has been some intimation that he has returned to Italy, where most of the active comrades of Galleani are now located.

In a communication which Gemma Mello received from Seebach, Switzerland in November 1919 it is stated "Since I am here I have just heard from Nicola Di Andrea. I know that the others have arrived, but I didn't hear from them."

"I also received a post card from Schiavina who is in Carrera. He informed me that he was there with Nicola and Frusetti"
"I have learned that the "Cronaca Sovversiva" will be published in Genoa."

The above mentioned are all members of the Galloani group who have either been deported or returned by some means to Italy.

With the arrest of Gemma Mello, Caci has not been heard of since, although it is indicated that he was in hiding among some comrades, awaiting an opportunity to return to Italy.

FILLIPO CACI.

During the period that a search was being made for Caci it was learned that Carlo Menza, who conducted a barber shop near the Francisco Ferrer Club Rooms (321 Straight Street) was collecting funds to enable Caci to leave the country. It was also found that Angelo Motta who was taken in custody was also interested in raising money for Caci. After a few days Menza, Motta and another Italian, one Tony Di Santi, left this city for Milwaukee, but in all likelihood with the idea of returning to Italy.

The latter part of March, Caci received a letter from Andrea Guido, dated Palermo, Italy, March 10, 1920. It read as follows:

"Dearest Fillipo;-

I hope this letter finds you in good health and I have known several things. I can assure you that my family and I are enjoying good health. Through the newspa-papers I have known of the arrest of several persons there-so-attentions. My best regards forever.

Andrea."

Another letter received by Caci from Schiavina who was known as "Gallicani's confident" read as follows:

"Dear Sir;-

I was about to write you for some time and reply to your letter that I received through Solari. I received the thousand liras that you sent. I inform you also that in taking up the work again we are very much pleased in seeing the comrades with whom we have fought together, fighting the common battle and still love the Cronaca, now resuscited.

Speaking of you I must tell you that I feared that you were among the members who were put in jail. I am glad you escaped the danger, but I tell you if things don't change your turn will come very soon. But things must change, must they not?

The Cronaca Soverova is here but on account of the high cost of material it could not live long if the Italian comrades of America did not send their help. We cannot impose on the Italian comrades to help our paper because they must sustain many other newspapers. We will follow the left wing of our movement in Italy. I have visited some cantors of the North Italy and I have consulted with them and decided that they do not intend anarchy as we do. But I hope if our paper will live long enough, we will accomplish good work. I desire to do well, this desire is not dead with me crossing the Atlantic. On the contrary it is augmented on account of what I have suffered.

Just think that at a meeting we held last Sunday we spoke to 50,000 or 60,000 workers. The hope to do well is vast. The moment for the realization is a fact and we hope that we will obtain the most of it.

Italy is full of explosive material, but the (firemen) are doing their best to put out the fire. For example the day before yesterday the workers took possession of a big factory in Turino. Many workers were enthusiastic and they wanted to do the same thing with every factory organized by the Chamber of Labor. But the organizer of the Chamber of Labor went through the factory and advised the workers to watch out against the possible incitators who were the agents of the masters.

It is always the same way. When everything is ready the agent of the enemy appears.

The revolution in Italy will commence first against the Socialist Party and other similar organizations. Then against Capitalism and State.

Last night the police force entered the factory occupied by the workers and took away the red flag and the black flag which for two days were put on the flag staff. No one knows how things will go.

I am not a pessimist but I don't see any solution now except the revolution, even when the temporizers do their best to delay it. Awaiting now events we are working."

R. Schiavina."

In connection with the publication of the Cronaca Soverova at Genoa it is interesting to note that the paper is circulated in the United States under the title "A STORMO". The above communication indicated that Caci was the principal agent of the Galleani group who remained in the United States.

Nearly all of the group have left Paterson; at least no trace of them have been found since the arrest of Gemma Hello. A mailing list of those persons receiving the Cronaca Soveresiva in Paterson is given as follows with notations:

LUIGI MARTINELLI—Arrested May 19, 1920, aboard S S Canopic attempting to leave United States as a stowaway.

GEMMA HELLO—Confined at Ellis Island, awaiting deportation as an alien anarchist.

ANGELO NOTTA—Left this city ostensibly to go to Milwaukee, Wis. Had him in custody but no evidence ascertained with which to hold him.

EMILIO DOCONTO—Now under investigation for receiving and circulating anarchistic newspapers from Italy.

RUGGERO BACCINI—Arrested by this office April 28, 1919, for receiving and circulating copies of Cronaca Soveresiva. Was released by Department of Labor on $1,000 bail and defaulted. Information is that he returned to Italy on S S Canopic, White Star Line shipping as a baker and member of the crew. Left country without a passport, January 10. Caci succeeded Baccini as Galleani agent in this city.

PIETRO BALDISEROTTO—Arrested as member of L'Era Nuova Group. Also arrested by this office in 1918 for anarchistic activities. Was released by Department of Labor on both occasions when warrant of arrest was cancelled.

ANNIBALE STRAMENSI—Taken in custody by this office for examination following arrest of Gemma Mello and gave considerable information concerning Galleani group in Paterson. Is a naturalized American citizen, but now the owner of a silk mill.

F SCALERA—Left his home at Clifton, N. J., shortly after arrest of Gemma Hello. Information is that he has returned to Italy.

PIETRO MUCCINI—Companion of Caci. Arrested aboard S S Canopic attempting to leave as a stowaway. Criminal charge of failing to register for the draft made against him.

PIETRO CACI—Brother of Filipo Caci, has left country for Sweden with a woman whom he claimed was his wife.

All of the above named men were active in the "En Sorte" which group composed the individualist-terrorist anarchists under the leadership of Luigi Galleani before he was deported last year.
MUCCINI AND MARTINELLI.

These two young Italians resided at 324 Market Street, Paterson, N. J., On the night that Gemma Mello was arrested at this place they were present, but the Agent not knowing of their connection did not take them into custody. Further investigation disclosed the fact that particularly MUCCINI was active in the Galleani movement and was particularly intimate with CACI. Returning to 324 Market Street at 6 a.m. it was found that both of them had left the city. Meanwhile it was ascertained that MUCCINI was associated with SBERNA an active member of the Harlem group and a printer by trade. SBERNA according to information had full information concerning the bomb plot of June 2nd but has since returned to Italy.

On information furnished by Special Agent Scully and at his request I boarded the S S Canopic Pier 61, North River, N. Y., for the purpose of locating Italian stowaways. After a search of the ship they were found hiding in lifeboats on the aft boat deck. In all eleven were found, two of whom I immediately recognized, as MUCCINI and MARTINELLI, who had been absent from Paterson more than two months.

Formal complaint has been made against MUCCINI for violation of Section 6 of the Selective Service Act, while MARTINELLI is being held by the New York police for carrying a revolver. Both of these men admitted to me that they had failed to register for the draft and accordingly I have made a similar complaint against MARTINELLI.

CONCLUSION.

It is established beyond a reasonable doubt that the bomb plot of June 2nd were conceived and directed by Luigi Galleani and were exploded on the day that he was deported from this country. Naturally persons or his followers who remained in this country were selected to do the deeds and it would appear that he appealed to the more ignorant of his followers, who desired to become martyrs to the cause.

That there is still in the United STATES some person or persons who were identified with the plot can be assured and careful and precise investigation will eventually disclose their whereabouts.

As to the explosion of the bomb in Boston it is fair to determine both from circumstantial evidence and that of a confidential informant whose identity cannot be revealed that GENNA MELLO and FILLIPO CACI were the two persons who executed the deed.

There is still an opportunity to go further a step with the investigation with the arrest of PIETRO LUCCINI who undoubtedly has information which he has not yet disclosed. I have sufficient evidence against him to show that he was actively identified with CACI and the Galleani group so that before his matter is disposed of he may make a statement which will assist the government.

In addition to this possible source of information is the opportunity to secure valuable information from another informant within the next month or six weeks which may for all times clear up the bomb plot and definitely establish the identity of the persons who were responsible for it.

SPECIAL REPORT.

Sometime ago Mr. Ferdinand Benidict, manager of the New Jersey Worsted Spinning Co., Garfield, N.J., called at this office to interview the U. S. Attorney regarding the radicals employed in his plant, where a strike was being conducted. The U. S. Attorney called me into the conference, at which time I suggested a system of espionage and the information that was to be obtained could be made use of by the Government in handling those who were amenable to its laws. Subsequently Mr. Benidict received anonymous threatening letters, which he turned over to me and which I in turn had given to the Post Office Inspector at Passaic, N.J.

The mail of Mr. Benidict was closely scrutinized with the result that a bomb was discovered in the mail addressed to Mr. Benidict. The same was turned over to Captain of Detectives Benjamin F. Turner, of Passaic, N.J., who cooperates with this office. He communicated with me by telephone and I asked him to bring the bomb to Newark, which he did immediately, and after a close examination of same he took the same back to Passaic, and at my request gave it to Agent Crystal of this office who covers Paterson and Passaic.

I asked Captain Turner to submit a report in the premises and the same is quoted below:

Aug. 27, 1919 at 5.40 P.M. one Nicholas Cowley, clerk in Post office Passaic, N. J. called on me and reported the following:

About 15 minutes ago we received a bomb over at the Post Office addressed to Mr. Ferdinand Benidict, residence 212 Boulevard, Passaic, and for sometime past Mr. Benidict has been receiving threatening letters written in Italian. Mr. Benidict had taken up the matter of receiving these letters with us and had instructed us to take charge of them and not deliver them, and when the bomb came to our office it was re-addressed to the Saville Hotel, Madison Ave. and 29th St. N. Y. where Mr. and Mrs. Benidict are now stopping. The matter was then called to the attention of Mr. Hoenberg, Asst. Postmaster, and when upon receiving the bomb, removed the outside wrapping paper and upon discovering the contents of the pasteboard box placed it into a pail of water.

At 5.50 P.M. I went to the post office and received the bomb, and went to the suburbs of our city and attempted to explode it by concussion, and not being able to do so, I then brought it back to my office. and kept it there until 10.30 a.m. Aug. 28, 1919, when in company with Detective Owen Cunningham, proceeded to open the bomb which I did.

Which was written on brown paper, there was a second piece of brown wrapping paper and the box was pasted together similar to those used by the UNEXDA BISCUIT Company, there was also a glazed piece of brown paper which the bomb had been wrapped in and placed in the box. The bomb was made up of heavy brown wrapping paper, and was about 3 1/4 inches in length and about 2 1/2 in. in circumference, and consisted of a quantity of a grayish powdered ingredient, which I am not familiar with, but when I have seen before and was told was manufactured for and used in hand grenades (I tested a small quantity of the grayish powder and it burns similar to other explosives powders that I have seen and used). This powder was carefully wrapped in part of a newspaper, and then a strip of cardboard about 2 in. wide has been wrapped around the powder, and then upon that a quantity of brown wrapping paper which made a covering of at least half inch on one end. There was round pieces of cardboard about two inches in circumference, which held the powder intact on each end, upon one of these cardboards was printed the following:

Trade
Rumer Woolen

Garanteed
Uker Woolen

This had evidently been cut from a heavy piece of paper, I also noticed that some sticky substance on these papers to hold them intact and in addition I found that the bomb had been carefully wound similar to the winding on an armature, the bomb there was something which resembles to this was a black cord about 9 inches in.

Upon finding the contents of the box with it to the office of James J. there met Mr. Ferdinand Benidiot, no comments, but tore off sample, left the office I learned from master and who resides in Clatt, New Jersey Worsted Spinning, the manager, that he Mr. Benidiot trouble with a number of his act of the war and that Mr. J.
GENERAL SUMMARIZATION OF THE INVESTIGATION MADE OF THE BOMB EXPLOSIONS OF JUNE 24, 1919.

About midnight on June 24, 1919, a series of bomb explosions occurred in various cities throughout the United States, namely: New York, Washington, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Newtonville, Mass. and Paterson, N. J., said explosions resulting in two deaths, one in New York being that of a watchman employed in the vicinity of the residence of Judge Nott, and the other believed to be the person responsible for the explosion at the home of the Attorney General at Washington, D.C.

Immediately after the aforementioned explosions, Director Flynn instructed certain agents attached to the New York Division to devote their entire time to the investigation and to report to him daily the result of same.

Director Flynn furnished the agents of this division with a photograph of a portion of the collar worn by the anarchist killed at Washington, and this photograph was shown to practically every laundry in this district, but no information of any specific value was obtained. None of those persons operating laundries could furnish any data concerning the initials "K.B.", which appeared written in ink on said collar. Arrangements were also perfected with the various laundry journals to publish a copy of the photograph of the collar in their magazines, and these magazines were spread broadcast throughout the United States, resulting in many letters containing information, but which information upon investigation proved to be valueless. All kinds of laundries were visited—steam, hand and Chinamen, and the only information that appeared of value whatsoever came from a laundry known as

Mr. Noonberg also added that the Italian employees had made a demand that a German overseer in the New Jersey Worsted Spinning Co. be discharged, which is the general impression of those concerned in this matter is the reason for these threatening letters and this so-called bomb, being sent to Mr. Benedict.

On Aug. 29th, 1919, I turned this bomb over to Gerald Crystal, Special Agent of the Department of Justice in my office.

I tried to communicate with Mr. Rourke in the Bureau by telephone last Saturday the 30th ult., but could not get a good connection and again telephoned Mr. Rourke Tuesday morning, the 1st instant, at which time I told him about this transaction.

We are doing everything we can to run this matter down; both 'under cover' men being apprised of the transaction and are working on it. I hope to have something of interest to report later. You will be kept advised of developments.

I am endeavoring to have the powder analyzed and may have to take it to New York for this purpose.

BOMB EXPLOSIONS OF JUNE 2, 1919

MASSACHUSETTS investigation.

Immediately following the explosions which occurred in various cities of the country on June 2, 1919, and upon instructions received from the Director at Washington, a diligent investigation was instituted by the BOSTON DIVISION of the Bureau and has continued up to the present writing. A progressive report upon the MASSACHUSETTS features of the case follows.

THE EXPLOSIONS.

On the evening of June 2, 1919, bombs were exploded at the homes of various persons of prominence throughout the United States, including the home of the Attorney-General of the United States at Washington, D. C., and the homes of Judge Hayden at Boston, Massachusetts, and Representative Leland W. Powers at Newton, Massachusetts. The purpose of the investigations made by the Boston Division of the Bureau was to ascertain the perpetrators of these deeds and if evidence was secured in connection with one of the explosions to use that to its utmost advantage to establish its connection with the other explosions which were beyond any doubt the acts of one group of persons. At Boston and Newtown, Massachusetts the explosions occurred within one hour of each other shortly before midnight. Judge Hayden of Boston was the police court justice who sat at the trial of radicals arrested for participation in a "Red" riot at Boston on May 1, 1919. Leland W. Powers, a Representative of the Massachusetts Legislature, was actively interested in the passage of the Massachusetts Anti-operated on Willoughby Street, Brooklyn, where the proprietor stated that he was certain that the initials "K.B." represented a customer of his who at one time resided on Lawrence Street, Brooklyn, but whom he had not seen for sometime. A house to house canvass of the houses on Lawrence Street was without results, and further investigation showed that it would have been impossible for a person to have used the initials "K.B." on a collar a year or more ago, due to the fact that the particular brand of collar, namely "Contour", was not on the market at the time. However, the canvass was not limited to Lawrence Street alone, but covered the entire downtown section of Brooklyn as well as the entire city, including the suburbs.

The Post Office Inspectors also assisted in this phase of the investigation by circulating throughout the United States a circular with a photostatic copy of the photograph of the collar.

Director Flynn also turned over a portion of a blue polka dot necktie, which portion had also been found near the scene of the explosion in Washington. This part of the necktie was immediately taken by the agents of this division to various label concerns, and at the office of Henry A. Jacobs, 37 East 21st Street, an examination of the part of the tie developed the fact that the label on same had originally been printed to read "Silver Rose Shop, 86 Bowery".

At 86 Bowery, Hyman Rosen, the proprietor of the Silver Rose Shop stated that on May 17th he had received from the concern of Friedman & Friedman, wholesale necktie manufacturers, a consignment of neckties, among which were twelve blue ties with white polka dots, which ties retailed at the sum of $1.35. An immediate inventory was made of Mr. Rosen's stock, and it was found that only one of the ties had been disposed of. Rosen stated Anarchy Act which became a law on May 28, 1919.

EVIDENCE FROM EXPLOSION AT WASHINGTON, D.C.

As a result of the explosion at the home of Attorney-General Palmer, Washington, D.C., the person who placed the bomb there and who was apparently an Italian was blown to pieces. There was found at that time pieces of his clothing, a dark worsted cloth with green pencil stripe, one Arrow Brand Contour collar marked "E.B.", one pair of size 10½ rough tan leather sandals with red rubber heels, one automatic 32-caliber Colt revolver which when pieced together was found to contain the number 276442, one undamaged Smith & Wesson blue steel 32-caliber revolver numbered 265232, and other parts of his wearing apparel of lesser importance as evidence. Under date of June 10, 1919 and report of Agent Daniel of the Philadelphia Office the above records were received by the Boston Office, which from that time onward continued to follow any leads presenting themselves.

EVIDENCE FROM EXPLOSIONS AT BOSTON AND NEWTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

At the explosion which occurred at the home of Judge Hayden in Boston and the one occurring at the home of Leland W. Powers in Newton there was absolutely no evidence found that would assist in locating the criminals. All that was known at either place was that a bomb had been exploded and while various parts of the bombs were collected and examined by the State chemist yet no one had been observed in the vicinity of the explosion at the time it occurred. The only thing of any assistance whatsoever was information offered by M. P. Hayden, the son of Judge Hayden, who stated that a short while before the explosion occurred, and while he was on the street, he noticed an automobile in the vicinity which he, who is in the automobile business, judged to be a dark green colored Jeffery 1916 or Stutz automobile.

EVIDENCE FROM SUIT WORN BY WASHINGTON ANARCHIST

On June 10, 1919 Assistant Division Superintendent Scully of the New York Office reported it had been ascertained that the cloth in the suit worn by the Washington anarchist had been manufactured by the firm of Stürsberg, Schell & Co. of New York City and that 57-1/8 yards of the same cloth had been sold to the firm of Clement, Soule & Co., woolen jobbers, of Boston, Mass. On June 11, 1919 Agent Daniel of the Philadelphia Office reported that the woolen jobbing concern of J. B. Ellison Co. of his city, which had purchased part of the same cloth from Stürsberg, Schell & Co., sold one suitings to a tailor named A. R. West, 164 Cabot St., Beverly, Mass. Of the 57-1/8 yards sold to Clement, Soule & Co. of Boston it was found that they in turn, under their stock number 4271, sold one suitings each to McCarthy & Son, Salem, Mass., C. D. York, Boston, Mass., Schwartz & Bernstein, Gloucester, Mass., Jacob Skala, Canton, Ohio, J. L. Davidson, Hastings, Nebraska, Nels Nelson, Springfield, Illinois, H. H. Smith, Bloomington, Illinois, W. W. Lamb, Cornell, N. Y., John Brudder, Erie, Pa., and McMahon & Keyes, San Francisco, California and two suitings each to L. A. Herman, Erie, Pa. and Siksa Co., San Francisco, California. In addition to the above the Boston concern on July 10th and July 16th, 1919 made two cash sales concerning which they had no further information or recollection.

The sales made by the Boston woolen jobbing concern to the tailors above mentioned at Boston, Salem and Gloucester, Mass. were further followed out and the purchasers of the suits located. The suitings sold by the Ellison Co. of Philadelphia to the Beverly, Mass. tailor was also investigated and the purchaser located. The suitings sold by the Boston concern to tailors in other sections of the country were made the subject of reports from the Boston Office, to the office involved at that point in order that that office might further follow out the sales of these suits.

On June 15, 1919 it was ascertained from the Clement, Soule & Co. at Boston that the two suits referred to as cash sales could absolutely not be placed and from that time on this office, in connection with the other features of the investigation, incidentally interviewed tailors in the localities into which other parts of the investigation carried.

In view of the apparent belief that the Washington anarchist was an Italian, on June 25, 1919, twenty-nine tailoring establishments in the heart of the Italian colony in the North End of Boston were interviewed individually in the hope of locating the cash sales but met with no result. This same method was followed very closely at Medford, Mass. on July 17th, 21st, August 23, 9th, and on other dates without result, Medford being the city in which lived the purchaser of one of the revolvers who gave the name of Luigi Caliseri. In the same connection, in an investigation amongst the Italian radicals at Barre, Vermont on July 28th the Burlington, Vt. sub-office of this Division made an exhaustive search without finding any tailor who purchased goods from the Boston concern. On August 4th one Italian tailor by the name of G. Bigonta of 62 Lowell Medford St., Somerville with business at 562 High St., who purchased suits from Clement, Soule & Co. was located but he could not identify the suit in question nor did he know or ever hear of anyone named Luigi Caliseri. This same method was followed without result at South Boston and Somerville, Mass., while searching for a Wright St. The same method was also followed in the town of Milford, Mass., and in the city of Quincy, Mass. where are located large colonies of Italian radicals and while each tailor in both of the places named was interviewed no result obtained. Also on July 23d all of the Lawrence, Mass. tailoring establishments were canvassed but to no avail.

EVIDENCE FROM COLLAR OF WASHINGTON ANARCHIST

In accordance with information received by this office to the effect that the anarchist killed at the scene of the Washington wore an Arrow Brand collar, size 15½ Contour style, bearing laundry mark of "K.B.". On June 27, 1919 this office made arrangements with the laundry owners association to circularize all laundries in Massachusetts for a laundry mark of "K.B." or "R.B." (there being no "K" in Italian and assumption being it might have possibly been an "R"), which was done. In addition in July 1919 through this office there was published in the American Laundry Journal, a Troy, N.Y. publication taken by all laundry owners east of the Rocky Mountains, a notice relative to the collar mark of "K.B.", with a photographic cut of the same, and a request that any information be forwarded this office. In addition to the foregoing while conducting other features of the investigations at Medford, Mass., Milford, Mass., Quincy, Mass. and at Barre, Vt. all laundries in those places were interviewed individually, and while all had seen the reference in the journal no definite evidence was secured. On July 28, 1919 at Barre, Vt. was found a mark of "C.B." which when investigated further was found to relate to a person of French extraction who died in the Fall of 1918. At Medford, Mass. Kaloyannides Bros., of 17 Lowell St., fruit dealers, were investigated and found to have no reference to the mark.

Further, this office has also secured a paper inscribed with Chinese hieroglyphics setting forth what is sought after in connection with the laundry mark has been prepared and sent on Chinese laundries in the above places in the antici-character. On July 3, 1919, it was thought that a Chinese laundry in the vicinity of Wright street, Medford, had been located which had used the mark, but a visit to the place later with a Chinese interpreter indicated there had been a misunderstanding on the part of the laudryman.

EVIDENCE FROM REVOLVERS FOUND AT WASHINGTON

After the explosion of the bomb at Washington, D. C., there were found two revolvers, one blown to pieces and one intact. The damaged one when pieced together was found to be a Colt .32 caliber automatic, sold April 20, 1918, by James H. Jones, a clerk in the Iver-Johnson Sporting Goods Company at Boston to a person giving the name of Luigi Caliseri, 24 Wright street, Medford, Massachusetts.
This Colt automatic was reported as being numbered 276442. The uninjured gun was a Smith and Wesson, blue steel, .32 caliber revolver, numbered 265232.

On June 13, 1919, Agent Potter of the Springfield, Massachusetts, sub-office of the division ascertained that the Smith and Wesson gun manufactured by that concern in Springfield had been sold to the Simmons Hardware Company, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on October 22, 1917, and copy of this report was sent to the Philadelphia office.

With the information in reference to the Colt automatic sold at Boston to one Luigi Caliseri efforts were made to locate at Medford, Mass., a person by that name or by any similar name.
Previous to this the Boston police ascertained that one Alex
Tassinary lived at 26 Wright Ave., Medford, but had moved to 4 Commonwealth Ave., Quincy where they stated they were unable to locate him. This office located Tassinary at 4 Commonwealth St., Quincy and it appeared from the investigation made that he had no knowledge of or connection with the explosion. On September 24, 1919 Agent McDevitt of the Philadelphia Office, then working in Boston, made further investigation relative to purchases of other revolvers on the same date by two other persons in Medford, Mass. but this investigation brought no results.

EVIDENCE IN RE LUIGI CALISERI

In connection with the name of Luigi Caliseri given by the purchaser of the Colt automatic at Boston, this office made investigation at Boston, Medford, Quincy, Barre, Vt. and other places in an attempt to locate a person by that name or by any similar one. An extensive search of the files was made and there was taken therefrom the name of Ernesto Caliseri, P. O. Box 500, Fort Dodge, Iowa, but an investigation made at that point by Agent Daly of the Omaha, Nebraska Office eliminated that possibility. This office also reviewed the indexes of arriving aliens at the Port of Boston, the index of lookout notices of expected arrivals of undesirables, and the index of anarchists arrested in years past but nothing that would lead to Luigi Caliseri or to a person having the initials "K.B." was found.

July 22, 1919 the City of Quincy, Mass. was visited in the hope of locating a person named Luigi Caliseri or in locating a Wright St. in the Italian section but neither could be found. In view of the belief that the explosion was committed by an Italian anarchist and if an Italian he was more than likely from one of the northern provinces and as a large number of the stone-cutters at Quincy who are radicals and anarchists are from northern Italy, the headquarters of the Granite Cutters Union was visited to ascertain whether they had in their membership any Luigi Caliseri or any person recently deceased for whom any benefit had been asked, but their records failed to offer any information of assistance.

In like manner the Burlington, Vt. sub-office of the Division on July 28, 1919 made a similar search at Barre, Vt. among the Italian colony there, amongst the stone-cutters and in addition searched the tax list, license list and the records of the foreign steamship department of the National Bank.

EVIDENCE IN RE WRIGHT AVENUE

In view of the address of 24 Wright Ave, given by the person who purchased the Colt automatic under the name of Luigi Caliseri, this office throughout the months of July and August, 1919 conducted an exhaustive search of the residences, owners and occupants on Wright Street, Medford, but was unable to connect any Italian resident with the explosion or to find any Italian who had been employed in the construction of any of the houses on that street. It was found that the cellars of the houses between numbers 23 and 41 Wright Street were dug by one Custavo Napolai of South Medford, who had an Italian working for him who was said to be of bad reputation but impossible to learn his name. In like manner the search was made for Wright Street in West Roxbury, Mass., where was found Wright Road, in Roslindale where was found a Wright Street with no houses and in South Boston where was found a Wright Court with but two houses and no Italian occupants.

On March 26, 1920, a letter was received from the New York City office of the Bureau containing leads taken from an old file on JOSE LINDE in which reference was made to one "Sir Paggi" and to certain lots of land on Rye Street, Bedford and to other land on Belmont and Carroll Streets, Watertown. At Bedford, Mass. no information was secured but at Medford, Mass. there was found a Rye St. on which street it was found that lot numbered 16 contains two houses numbered 2 and 4 Rye Street, which from subsequent developments gave the office every reason to believe that 2 and 4 Rye Street, Medford was probably identical with the address of 24 Wright St., Medford given by the purchaser of the Colt automatic revolver. In tracing the ownership of this land it was found that the present owner purchased it from Carlo Zamagni, 72 Burrell St., Roxbury and that in 1917 it was assessed to one Domenico Ricci, then living in Somerville (and no doubt the Domenico Ricci of 16 Garden Court, one of the Galleani group heretofore mentioned in this report). These two lots of land are numbered 16 and 17, number 16 being 2 and 4 Rye Street and number 17 being 32 and 34 Rye St.

Following this lead further it was found that December 24, 1917 the Carlo Zamagni above referred to doing business under the firm name of Carlo Zamagni & Co. went into bankruptcy and that his company was composed of, in addition to himself, Ercole Valdinoccio of Newton, Mass., (brother of Carlo Valdinoccio one of the Galleani group who is herein before mentioned) living at that time at 304 Adams St., Newton, the home of Augusto Rossi, the anarchist, which is within a short distance of the home of Leland W. Powers where the explosion occurred on the night of June 2, 1919; Luigi Gori, and Luigi Contucci, both of Somerville, Mass. It was further found that the creditors of this company were Salvatore Paggi, 72 Burrell St., Roxbury (evidently the "Sir Paggi" above referred to) Eugenio Biordini, 147 Park St., Beverly, Antonio DeCarli, 196 Norfolk Ave., Boston, Giuseppe Frumana, 32 Marshfield St., Boston, Paolo Bostoni, 13 Washington St., Cambridge, Antonio D'Altri, 304 Adams St., Newton (home of Augusto Rossi, anarchist), Domenico Tosi, 13 Washington St., Cambridge, Agostino Ricacindelli, Hoocham, Mass., also known as Augustus Richal, and Augusto Rossi, 304 Adams St., Newton, in whose home, which was a rendezvous for Italian anarchists, was found by this office in the summer of 1919 after he had left for Europe a complete file of the subscribers to the Galleani publication "Cronaca Sovversiva", which index was hidden in the walls of a barn on the estate.

Carlo Zamagni was located at 60 Burrell St., Boston, Mass. and is now employed as a carpenter on a framed house under con-
At the corner of Belmont St. and Waverly Ave., Watertown, Zamagni interviewed relative to his bankruptcy petition stated that when he last heard of Domenico Ricci he was living with Ercole Valdinoci at the home of Augusto Rossi. To return to the notice in reference to Nicola Recchi or Ricci who has a disabled hand, when asked which of his creditors was the one with the crippled hand replied "That is Paggi". This office is now engaged in trying to ascertain the whereabouts of Paggi as well as in an endeavor to locate Domenico Ricci and, if he has not returned to Italy, Carlo Valdinoci.

EVIDENCE IN RE CARLO VALDINOCI

Carlo Valdinoci in 1917 was associated with Luigi Galleani, the leader of the Italian anarchists in the United States, in the publication of the Italian anarchistic paper "Cronaca Sovversiva" at 32 Oxford St., Lynn, Mass. In May of 1917 Galleani and his group became the subjects of investigation by this office on account of their opposition to the draft act. Valdinoci was at that time residing at 680 Somerville Ave., was a carpenter by occupation and at times was known under different aliases. At about that time a federal warrant was issued for his arrest on account of his use of the mails for the promotion of a lottery scheme. When last heard of Valdinoci had left Boston with a group of Italian draft-avoiders for Mexico.

EVIDENCE IN RE LUIGI GALLEANI AND HIS GROUP

Luigi Galleani, the publisher of the "Cronaca Sovversiva" was an Italian subject who resided in the U. S. for many years. In 1917 and through 1918 this office made investigations and reports in reference to him and his cohorts, with the result that a number of Italian anarchists were arrested on Immigration warrants. In June of 1919 Galleani together with Raffaele Schiavina, Luigi Solari, Alfonso Fagotti, Tugardo Montanari, Giovanni Frisetti, Vincenzo DeLeoce, Giobbe Sanchini and Irma Sanchini were taken into custody by the Immigration authorities for deportation. Under date of June 19th this office wrote New York advising them of the transfer of the above deportable aliens to Ellis Island stating:

"The two recognized leaders of this group are Luigi Galleani and Raffaele Schiavina. The former, who has lived in the United States a number of years and is a highly educated man, is the recognized leader of the Italian anarchists in this section and probably throughout the whole country. The latter, Schiavina, has been arrested a number of times, the last time having served one year in East Cambridge jail for refusing to register under the Selective Service Act, he having refused to so register after being permitted to have his freedom by the court if he would register, which he refused to do. It is the unanimous opinion of various officials who have come into touch with Galleani and his affiliations that any acts by the Italian anarchists of this country are known to Galleani."

Faustino Risieri, also one of the group, for whom there has issued an Immigration warrant of arrest could not be located, but when last heard of in May, 1919 was residing at the home of Augusto Rossi in Newton, Mass.

On December 4th, 1919 there was a daring attempt at highway robbery by Italians at East Braintree, Mass. and on April 15th, 1920 at Bridgewater, Mass. Italians held up and robbed a payroll clerk from a shoe factory of the sum of $18,000.00 and killed one man making a getaway in a high powered automobile and using rifles and shotguns from the back of the car. The police authorities have recently arrested and held without bail one "Bert" Vanzetti and one "Mike" Sacco. This office has ascertained from its files that both of these men are of the Galleani group and further investigations are to be carried out along this line in the hope of securing some information in reference to the bomb plot.

From the above it appears that this office has shown the connection of the Calianni group with the explosion through the location of property on Rye Street, Medford owned by members of the group, through the residence of part of the group on Burrell St., Roxbury, not far from the home of Judge Hayden and the residence of other members of the group at Newton, Mass., near the home of Ieland W. Powers.

EVIDENCE IN RE CIRCULAR "PLAIN WORDS"

June 4, 1919 the Springfield Office of this Division made inquiry at the American Writing Paper Co., Holyoke, Mass., relative to the paper on which the "Plain Words" circular was printed and following this suspicion was directed to one Benjamin Zitka, an employee of the concern who purchased 250 lbs of the same paper but a search of his home indicated that his printing press did not have the same type and that he was merely engaged in the novelty business.

EVIDENCE IN RE AUTOMOBILE AT HAYDEN HOME, BOSTON

Following the information given by W. P. Hayden, son of Judge Hayden of Boston, relative to a Jeffery car seen in that vicinity the night of the explosion which car bore a Massachusetts license of six numbers, this office secured a list of all licenses for Jeffery cars containing six numbers and investigations were made at Boston, Waltham, Norwood, Gloucester, Salem, Quincy, Wakefield, Chicopee Falls, Florence, Arlington, Somerville and Milton, Mass.; Barre, Vt.; New Haven, Conn.; Portland, Maine; and Providence and Woonsocket, R.I. without securing any information relative to the case.

EVIDENCE IN RE THEFTS OF DYNAMITE

Following any known thefts of dynamite this office on June 1919 investigated the reported theft of dynamite on May 5, 1919 from the Runaway Brook Golf Club, Bolton, Mass., where were employed several alien enemies, and which dynamite the State chemist thought was similar in composition to that used in a street car explosion at Methuen, Mass. One John Englehardt was taken into custody on the charge of unlawful possession of explosives but no evidence of any connection with the bomb explosions was secured and he was released.

CONCLUSION

Henceforth it is the intention of this office to follow the leads which have been developed in connection with the Galleani group as it is the opinion of the office that his organization was directly responsible for the explosions of June 2, 1919.
Simultaneously about 11:30 o'clock on the night of June 2nd, 1919 a series of explosions occurred in several different cities throughout the United States at the houses of prominent U.S. Government officials and other State officials. Among these was the house of the U.S. Attorney General A. HITCHKICK PALMER in Washington, D.C., at whose house one of the persons, whom it is thought planted the bomb, was blown to pieces.

On this particular night I was in South Philadelphia and distinctly heard all three explosions. In the morning I began an investigation and found that the Roman Catholic Church of "Our Lady of Victory" in West Philadelphia had been blown up, as well as the house of a jeweler by the name of LOUIS JAGIELSKY, about a mile below the Church. There is a large Italian settlement surrounding "Our Lady of Victory Church" and my very first impression after learning of the explosions and also that the Roman Catholic Church had been included by the plotters was that it was the work of Italians, owing to the knowledge I have had for a number of years that a great many Italians are openly opposed to the Roman Catholic Church more so than any other. Of course, this is the anarchist belief. My belief in this was further strengthened when I noticed the location of "Our Lady of Victory Church" and its Italian surroundings.

At Washington, D.C., I thought it probable he was a Philadelphia Italian.
Upon arriving at the Jagielky home I met a friend of the family, who called me aside and quietly asked me who I was and upon telling him he whispered to me "it might not be out of order for us to make some investigation regarding the brother of LOUIS JAGIELKY, the man whose home was blown up. GEORGE JAGIELKY," telling me that GEORGE was a very bad character and that his father, who had recently died, had disinherited him and his whereabouts were unknown; all of which proved to be true and we have never yet been able to find out whether GEORGE is living or dead. His Brother LOUIS it seems geeks afraid to talk very much about GEORGE as he (Louis) actually told me he would not put it past his brother, GEORGE, to do anything. I searched and ran out every clue to this angle.

Another very interesting feature about the Jagielky angle of the story is that a man, who lives around the corner from the Jagielky home by the name of HAMMOND, 6731 Spruce Street, and his wife persist in their statements that they saw a paste board box weighing about 50 pounds lying upon the lawn of the Jagielky home about ten minutes before the explosion and that HAMMOND himself picked this box up with the intention of taking it home as it was wrapped in paper resembling a package that had recently come from a Department Store but his wife, being of a very nervous disposition, demanded that he allow the box to remain where it was as he did not know what it contained, whereupon HAMMOND stated he allowed the box to remain there and within ten minutes after reaching his own home he heard the explosion and immediately referred to the box. He made a very careful investigation of this phase of the story but could not shake HAMMOND nor his wife from their statements. HAMMOND is known in the neighborhood as being "hot air." He is a directing painter and otherwise bears a very good reputation.

Some two or three weeks later LOUIS JAGIELKY found a piece of candle upon his lawn and turned it over to me.
I made a very careful investigation as the candle was peculiarly wrapped in a piece of manila paper and securely bound with a piece of strong string and had been burned down about three-quarters of an inch from the top, the paper and string remaining intact.
There were several thumb prints upon the candle grease that had leaked down over the paper and I had photostat copies of these thumb prints made at the time. JAGINSKY told me there was never any occasion for such a candle being there by reason of the fact he had never had any porch parties, street parties or affairs of that kind. I would not have thought so much about the candle story if it had not been for the story of the paste board box.
Inquiries by me developed the fact that this candle trick is one used among Spaniards and Mexicans a good deal; I believe the candle is used as a sort of fuse attached to an oil can which explodes but which I am not at all familiar with. I still have the candle.

While in Boston, Mass., upon this same investigation
I learned that LUCY CALISERIS, the man, who purchased the revolver at the Iver-Johnson Store in that city, which revolver was later found upon the body of the man who was blown to pieces in Washington, D.C., gave as his address 24 Wright Avenue, Medford, Mass. I made a very careful investigation, the same as other agents had, but nothing was ever developed. The thing simply ended at 24 Wright Avenue, which is the home of an American family, who have lived there for several years. I always considered this revolver the most important lead of all. This matter was gone over in a very thorough manner by DETECTIVE SERGEANT BURLINGTON of the Washington Police Department, who made a trip throughout this country upon this investigation. This address, 24 Wright Avenue, brought my thoughts again back to the Philadelphiaangles of the story. A careful investigation throughout Massachusetts developed that only in one or two towns was there such a place as Wright Avenue or Wright Street but there is a Wright Avenue in Camden, N.J. Upon returning to Philadelphia immediately began an investigation there but found there was no such number as 24 Wright Avenue. My thought was if the Italian, who purchased the revolver in Massachusetts, had purchased it under an assumed name he might have probably been a resident of Camden N.J. at one time and only remembered Wright Avenue at the time he made the purchase and gave this as his address.

Regarding the cloth in the suit worn by the man, who was blown up in Washington, investigation here developed that the cloth the suit was made from was sold to a tailor at 26th & Market Sts., who made up two suits of clothes from same.
but they were never delivered to the customer for the reason the suits were stolen by a burglar, who had entered the store. A complete investigation was made in Philadelphia of second-hand clothing dealers, etc., feeling that probably the suits had been sold at some time or another but nothing was ever developed.

The Italian-English Dictionary, which was said to have been found on the body of the man blown up in Washington was dated 1918. All Dictionaries published by the particular publisher of this Dictionary were dated 1916. The 1918 Dictionaries were not shipped to this country as the Dictionaries usually leave Italy six or eight months after publication, which would be 1914, and owing to the war at that time these Dictionaries were not shipped to the United States. Therefore, it is assured that an individual must have brought it here.

Another important phase of this story is told by the present Superintendent of Police -- WILIAM B. HILLS. HILLS was Acting Superintendent of Police in December 1917 and it was his home together with the home of local JUDGE GORMAN and Suprem Court Judge von Moscheisler, that was blown up on December 30, 1917, which was the first series of explosions here in Philadelphia, Superintendent Mills just the other day told me he had actually gotten down to the the man way, who had directed the Philadelphia explosions, a story I had never heard up until that date although Mills stated he reported the matter to this office, Mills stated the man, who directed the movement against the Philadelphia parties in 1917 was a man by the name of Shapiro from California and that it was done for the reason he (Mills) was the man who, in 1910 (I think) caused the arrest and imprisonment of a Red McCoy, whom he caught in the act of trying to dynamite a trolley car in a trolley strike. He was sentenced to ten years by Judge Gorman, but the case was appealed and Judge von Moscheisler refused the appeal. MILLS stated these records were at my disposal any time I wanted to see them and I had intended going on Monday to view the records but hearing that the director wanted what we have, I am giving the above story in lieu of the complete story from MILLS, MILLS states this emphatically and says it is all the truth but whether or not it is the same crowd that pulled off the June 2nd Explosions I do not know as yet.

Another very interesting angle that we developed was that as far back as 1917 the Jagiellky boys’ father had been reported to this office as a dangerous anarchist and a pro-German. There was nothing very tangible to work upon at the time and an ordinary investigation was made. Later on the two Jagiellky boys were reported as having failed to register for the draft. An investigation was made by me but it developed they had.

Another theory I worked upon was that assuming the report that old Mr. Jagiellky had formerly been a radical and an anarchist that he had given up his old time friends and thereby directed their bad feelings towards him. Another was that probably some of the Germans, who had been identified with the bomb explosions, had decided they would touch his house off as long as they were upon the other job of the Church. Another was probably GEORGE had become radical as his father, and joined the radical movement. LOUIS also admitted in a statement he made here in this office that his father was married the second time and that his mother is in reality his step-mother and on one occasion GEORGE tried to blackmail her after he had been accused by his father of stealing a number of diamonds and doctoring his accounts, etc. LOUIS declared that his father was never a radical and that he was a positive hater of the Kaiser.

These are about the only interesting Philadelphia ends of the story.
To: Dept. of Justice.

While walking with my baby near my home I discovered an acquaintance with a neighbor by the name of Berry, first name not known. After passing on the time of day and other subjects I mentioned the bomb exploding in front of J.P. Morgan's office. The news seemed to be a pleasant surprise to Berry. He then made a caustic remark about "getting after the capitalists," pulled out the Plumb Plan paper called "Labor." He quoted several articles and seemed to think me interested where I was 78787.
tip and nothing would have been accomplished. It takes unreasonable searches and seizures to get anywhere with a Red, also what they call subversive agents, one was needed to head off that Morgan bomb. Also propaganda teaching the public as to Red methods should be as much a right as the Dept. of Justice as sending out flower seeds by a congressman.

I thought it my duty to write this letter innocently, as I have read this pamphlet through and am surprised to think that the United States Government should allow such stuff to be printed. It is quite evident that the petitioners or aliens who made statement at the post offices or aliens who made statement at the post offices before a German Notary Public never meant to before a German Notary Public never

6. Why they disguised their pro-Red activity with the high sounding title National Popular Government League which means nothing.

The above questions need not be answered but I do object to being branded propaganda of this nature over my back fence by a man I never met before.

As with all questions of cruel punishments, as a matter of fact being sifted down it will show that some are inclined with the spirit of martyrdom or self righteousness for his so-called cause merely got a push in the face when he needed it.

Advises that Buchanan and Creighton went to Toronto this morning and from there to Hamilton. Edwin Philip Fisher was rested and adjudged insane. Entered Canada by footbridge at Niagara Falls September 8th. Supposed to be in the vicinity of Niagara on the Lake from September 8th to 12th inclusive. Went to Queens Hotel, Toronto, on September 12th, then went back to Niagara on the Lake to the Queens Royal. Slept on the floor as the hotel had been closed for the season. Went to Hamilton last night.

Was formerly an inmate of the Bloomingdale Insane Asylum, and was more recently in the employ of the French High Commission. Was adjudged insane in Hamilton under section eleven of the Canadian Immigration Law. Is now in the Hamilton jail. When he was being taken to the jail a card dropped out of his pocket and was picked up. The card contained the name of the wife of a supposedly well-known explosive manufacturer in Clifton, N. J. This man is said to quite a large laboratory. His name is J. Okichi Teckima, Jr. was also found a copy of the Soviet Bulletin dated September 12th, is still in the hands of the police. The agents have not been able to interview this man as yet, but Buchanan expects to have an interview with him either tonight or tomorrow morning. Is known to many of 1 for a number of years.

4:30 p.m. Memorandum of Telephone Information from Mr. Lamb, at New York, to Mr. Neale; reported by Greene.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED SECRET AND CLASSIFIED
DATE: 9/13/20 BY E.H.G.

Upon inquiry from Mr. Neale xxxxx for details on the arrest of Fischer at Toronto, Canada, Mr. Lamb stated that word had been received that Fischer had been arrested by the Canadian Police at Toronto, before arrival of two agents from Buffalo.

Fischer, it has been learned by New York office, was employed as a clerk by the French High Commission at New York but was let out because his mind seemed to be weakening. Mr. Lamb states the application of Fischer with the French High Commission was looked up and three references given checked up. One found to have died since Fischer's employment with the Commission; one of the others (name not given) stated that Fischer's mind had been weakening, but that he considered him absolutely harmless, so much so that he illustrated the point by citing Fischer's attitude on their hunting trips, stating that Fischer would turn his back when an animal was shot, as he could not bear to see anyone or anything injured. This same party said they could not conceive Fischer having become violent. Second man says he saw Fischer either on the sixth, seventh, or eighth of this month (could not remember exactly what date) and at that time Fischer acted very peculiarly. Fischer asked this man the question "Do they use dynamite on the farm?" Thinking Fischer meant no particular farm, the man replied that they did. Fischer then asked, "How much dynamite is there on the farm now?" The man recalls that he replied, "What in hell are you talking about?" Fischer then changed the subject and rambled on with some incoherent story and the man, realizing his mind was weak, left him.

Newspaper accounts from Toronto said he was talking bitterly about capitalists and intimated that he had intended to kill four "big men". The house of Fischer's father was covered by New York and a postal came to hand this morning from Niagara on the telling the father that he (the son) had waited until eight o'clock the night before for money at the hotel and asking that advising he was going to the Pontchartrain hotel at Detroit. We tried to reach Detroit but before Detroit answered reports were received from the newspapers that Fischer had been arrested at Toronto. Mr. Le got in touch with Blackmond at Buffalo, who had heard nothing about the arrest nor from the two men he assigned there this morning. Mr. Lamb instructed him to either get in touch with the two men at Toronto. and instruct them to interview Fischer and hold him until further instructed, or assign two more men to interview him immediately.

Scully just got word from McDevitt of Philadelphia that he had interviewed a man in that city who stated he had come up by train from Washington with a man named Fischer some ten days ago; that this Fischer claimed to have been quite a tennis player, in fact a champion (The Fisher at Toronto was a former amateur champion); this Fischer said he had been attending the Socialist and Anarchist hearings and spoke very bitterly. Told the informant that there was one hundred and fifty thousand pounds of dynamite in Wall Street and made very serious threats against J. P. Morgan. Immediately upon arrival of McDevitt, who is on his way to New York from Phila, the New York agents will interview a Dr. Bates, who also has some information. They will phone again when McDevitt's story is completed.

Mr. Lamb has interviewed four witnesses and it has been definitely established that the wagon was not painted red, did not bear the name Du-Pont nor did it have a sign bearing the name "EXPLOSIVE" and that these witnesses, who are intelligent and reliable, state now that the wagon was an ordinary delivery wagon with a step, and drawn by a single horse.

Police are making a thorough canvass of all stables in New York City, using the full force of their 15,000 men. Mr. Lamb is assigning New York men specifically to Italian stables on the theory that the Galliani group may be connected with the outrage.

Have use of Army trucks from Governor's Island and all of Mr. Riley's men on service of interviewing those injured and all witnesses, and statements are now nearly completed.

Only two contractors have licenses to carry explosives in that neighborhood. Thorough investigation eliminates them. DuPont wagon in New York was checked up and was actually in a garage between 11 a.m. and one p.m. yesterday.
Mr. Lamb states that it is becoming more and more evident that it is the work of radicals. Mr. Lamb expressed the opinion that Fischer had nothing to do with the actually explosion but "called the turn" fairly well on warning the people to stay out of Wall Street yesterday, but will continue to work on a possible connection between Fischer and the perpetrators of the outrage.

MEMORANDUM IN RE: EXPLOSION AT J. P. MORGAN'S OFFICE.

Reported by Agent Scully, New York Office.

"Mr. Reddy has just received information from Police Headquarters to the effect that statements have been secured from 3 men that it was a covered wagon, painted red, in front of the Assay Office a few moments before the explosion. One of these men crossed this wagon on Broadway and he remarked then that something terrible might happen if it was hit. The other two men also saw the wagon. One of the men say it was a Maxwell car that was probably blown to pieces as nothing has been found of this car.

Mr. Reddy has arranged with Police Headquarters for a further report."
MEMORANDUM IN RE: EXPLOSION IN J. P. MORGAN'S OFFICE.

Reported by Division Superintendent Lamb, New York Office.

"There is considerable evidence tending to show that a wagon painted red and marked 'explosives' was seen at Broadway and Anne going down Broadway. A few minutes later, it was reported by two other witnesses, names unknown, to the effect that they saw such a wagon. 'This was reported to Police Captain Cochran. These men stated that they were directly behind this wagon marked 'explosives' and one of them stated 'We will have a hell of a time if that thing goes off.' Dr. Wood of the hospital stated he had attended one man who said he was on the Treasury steps and saw a red wagon marked 'Dupont - explosives' with a red flag come around Wall Street. As the wagon came around in front it struck the curb and the explosion occurred, and the fellow remembers nothing else until he woke up in the hospital. This man later died. Dr. Wood does not remember his name as he failed to get it in the excitement.

With reference to W. J. Burn's alleged statement that he had part of a time clock Mr. Scully was with Burns this afternoon and Burns never mentioned such a story. There was found at the scene of the explosion a large number of slugs, 6½ in. long and 6½ wide, solid. The walls opposite Morgan's office are perforated with these holes made by the plugs. One of the slugs was blown from Wall and Broad to John St. between Broadway and Nassau, where it bounded on the sidewalk and hit a man. Mr. Morrison of the Dupont people stated that they only had one automobile in service today and it was in a garage between 11 A.M. and 1 P.M. They have no horse vehicles whatever. They transport explosives in red automobiles. The wagon was bolo" blown to pieces and the only part left is a piece of the wheel with the hub attached. It is almost certain that the explosion took place in the wagon. A Mr. Feldman from South Orange, N. J. came to New York in a Huppmobile automobile to see an accountant at 60 Wall St, and parked his car to go into the building, and in a few minutes the explosion occurred. The city records show no permit was issued to transport explosives today and whoever did it was taking a chance on violating the law.
Telephone message from Mr. Flynn, 10:25 pm.

Instructions given by Mr. Flynn to telephone Mr. Scott and advise him that from information on hand at time of telephone call, it cannot be definitely determined whether the explosion at New York City is due to a bomb or an accident.

The fact that iron slugs were found at the point of explosion and in the vicinity would indicate that it is a bomb.

Mr. Flynn states he expects to have determined by two p.m. tomorrow the exact nature of the explosion and will keep in touch with Mr. Scott during the night and morning.

MEMORANDUM IN RE: EXPLOSION AT J. P. MORGAN'S OFFICE.

Reported by Agent Tucker, New York Office.

It looks like that the explosion occurred from a bomb. One of the doctors of the Emergency Hospital attended a victim of the explosion who died later, and this victim made a statement to the effect that he saw the wagon with a "Dupont" sign and a red flag on it just before the explosion. Some of the men have found shrapnel which looks like part of a bomb. The face of Morgan's office and the building across the street have big dents which shows it was struck by something heavy.

Reported by Agent Scully, New York Office.

There are about 25 dead and about 200 hurt and some are very badly hurt. It is believed, though not certain, that the explosion occurred in a wagon opposite Morgan's office. There are no parts left of the wagon by which it can be identified. One young fellow in Morgan's office was killed and J. P. Morgan, Jr, was cut by flying glass. Have just received a tip that a letter was written from Canada by a man named Fisher to a man named Arnaud advising Arnaud to keep out of Wall Street today. Arnaud tore the letter up but we have two men on it, trying to locate the letter.

Memorandum.

Summary given to Mr. Scott at 10:50 p.m. of all memorandums received up to that hour.

Instructions by Mr. Scott:

1. Telephone Mr. Lamb at once and instruct him to check up on everybody in New York who has a license to sell, handle, or transport explosives.

2. Telephone Mr. Lamb and instruct him to check up on all contractors and excavators in the vicinity of the explosion that may have or have had occasion to use explosives and ascertain whether they were awaiting arrival of explosives.

3. Instruct him to check up on Statement of DuPont people that the only car they had in New York was in garage between the hours of 11 a.m. and one p.m. To ascertain definitely whether car was actually in garage at that time and to certify DuPont people's statement.

4. Telephone Blackmon at Buffalo and instruct him to assign three or four men immediately to Toronto to run down letter alleged to have been addressed to Arnaud of French High Commission by one Fisher of Toronto.

MEMORANDUM IN RE: EXPLOSION AT J. P. MORGAN'S OFFICE.

Reported by Division Superintendent Lamb, New York Office.

"Mr. Flynn called up about five minutes ago and is getting in touch with the Morgan people. We sent men to the hospitals to get statements from the wounded but they were suffering so they could not make statements. The Doctors were of the opinion it would do no good to see them. We are getting up a full list of those wounded and will have it by morning. The tip about the Arnaud letter came from a girl who is connected with the Illustrated News. She is the one who stated that Captain Arnaud of the French High Commission had received a letter warning him to keep out of Wall Street today. Arnaud threw the letter in the wastebasket but later got it out and put it together. This girl states further that the man who sent the letter is Edwin Fisher who was stopping at the Queens Royal Hotel, Toronto, Canada, but jumped his board bill September 14th. This Fisher states he is an anarchist. Our men are trying to locate Arnaud and will have him by morning to run this out."
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
WASHINGTON, D.C.

September 17 1920.

2:27 a.m.

Special Agent Creighton, at Buffalo, New York, located and answered telephone.

Mr. Neale instructed Creighton to get in touch with Agent in Charge Blackmond and advise him of telephone conversation; instructed Creighton to leave as soon as possible for Toronto, Canada, with one special agent and to investigate letter addressed by Edwin Fisher, to Arnaud of French Commissioner's Office, referred to earlier memorandum. To telephone Blackmond and request Blackmond to keep this office informed of all developments secured. Fisher to be investigated discreetly and "under cover" to ascertain whether or not he is an anarchist, as charged, and the purpose of his letter to Arnaud.

2:24:46 a.m.

Blackmond called and above confirmed to Blackmond, with instructions he assign two agents as previously telephoned to Creighton.

The following information has been received which may assist in determining the cause of the explosion in the above matter:

MR. HARRY MARSHALL, attorney-at-law, of Camden, N.J., came to the office on Saturday, September 18th, and stated that MR. NELLAN C. SHIVERS, employed by the WARREN-WEBSTER COMPANY—CAMDEN, N.J., had told him (MR. MARSHALL), that SHIVERS' brother, name unknown at this time, had been employed during the war by the E. I. DUPONT-DE NEMOURS COMPANY of WILMINGTON, DEL., in the transportation of T.N.T. from Carney's Point, N.J. to Boston, Mass. by automobile. The information is that large quantities of T.N.T. were transported by the DUPONT COMPANY in closed limousines which were driven through the city from Carney's Point, N.J. to some Airoplane Station at Boston, Mass.

The brother of MR. SHIVERS, above mentioned, made seventeen trips with loads of T.N.T. from Carney's Point, Boston, Mass., each time going through the streets of the city with no placard on the automobile or other means that the automobile contained explosives. MR. SHIVERS was paid $150.00 for each trip, and after making seventeen trips, he lost his nerve and refused to take another.

Wash; 1-Phila; 1-New York.
It is understood that this happened during the war and it is possible that the proper permits were issued for such transportation through New York, but it is also probable that these explosives were loaded in this manner without permits, and there may have been such an automobile loaded with explosives which caused the New York explosion.

This is submitted for what it is worth.

WALL STREET EXPLOSION OF September 16, 1920.

Facts Developed:

Interviewed MR. NICKEL, of the E.I. Dupont Nemours Company at 120 Broadway yesterday, in re shipments of Dynamite to places where excavations are being made in the Downtown Section.

He stated that a report of deliveries made each day was rendered to the N.Y. Fire Department on the day following the shipment. MR. NICKEL had the record taken from the files and showed this agent deliveries had been made to GEORGE A. FULLER, at 71 Wall Street, of 25 Lbs. of 40% Dynamite, Underpinning & Foundation Company, Wall & New Streets, 25 Lbs. of 40% Dynamite, Rogers & Haggerty, Worth & Center Street, 25 Lbs. of 40% Dynamite.

On Tuesday, September 14th, 1920, MR. NICKEL, stated that the last shipment to Spencer, White & Prentice at 96 Broadway was 25 Lbs. 40% Dynamite on August 20th, 1920.

When deliveries are made the driver of the wagon carrying the explosive has a receipt signed by the blasting foreman; keeps one and gives the copy to the blasting foreman to turn in to his Company, to have the bills checked against.
Agent interviewed Mr. Snyder, General Superintendent of the Foundation Company on the site of 475-83-91-97 Maiden Lane, New York, N.Y. The Foundation Company are here excavating prior to erecting a large building.

Mr. Snyder stated that he has a permit to keep dynamite on hand, but he has none in the magazine and has not had any as yet.

Pursuant to instructions from Ass't Division Supt. W. J. West, based on Bureau Telegram as referred to below, regarding Bomb Explosion on Wall Street, New York City, at 12 o'clock on this date, agent was instructed to proceed to Milford, Mass., at once, where a number of Italian Anarchists are known to be active, and endeavor to ascertain whether or not any of these Italians are away from Milford at the present time, and to check up, if possible, their recent activities.

Upon arriving at Milford, Agent immediately got in touch with a confidential informant (Italian) known personally to Agent, directing informant to call at once at the William Hotel. Upon informants arrival Agent conferred with him regarding various Italian Anarchists residing in Milford, chiefly Ralph Piesco, 16 Mt. Pleasant Street; Peter Angelo Bartone, 7 Genoa Street; Bernardo Rebeshchi, 16 Cedar Street; Nicola Piesco, 43 Beach Street; Michele Di Philippis and Saverio Piesco, 14 Pleasant Street, Milford.

Confidential informant advised Agent that with the exception of Bernardo Rebeshchi, he had seen these others on the street this day. He further stated that Michael Di Philippis is leaving Milford for the West next week, where he claims he is to teach. This man is said to be a graduate of Brown University; is an alien about 28 years of age and has been referred to as the brains of the alleged anarchist group of Milford, Mass. During the Hopedale strike this subject and his brother, In DI PHILIPPIS, who conducts a tailor shop in Milford, suspended from the window of the tailor shop, a black flag. This subject is said to travel considerably, and at one time addressed a gathering of Italians in Forster's Hall, Milford, declaring that the day would come when the Proletariat would rule and that he hoped to be a great leader of the movement; he has also claimed that a big government position was open to him in the west. He was at one time taken into custody and sentenced to prison for printing and circulating objectionable literature.

NICOLA PIESCO has boasted that he brought up his son, SAVERIO PIESCO to be an anarchist; that he himself believes in anarchist principles, and does not believe in any established form of Religion or Government; he is an alien and said to be active in the movement.

BERNARDO REBESCHI is said to be closely associated with the alleged anarchist group; this subject is said to have stated that "action", not "money" was what, to his belief, would bring results beneficial to the Proletariat.

PIETRO ANGELO BARTONE is known to be an active propagandist, organizing, collecting money and circulating literature. He is a correspondent of "IL PROLETARIO"; he has been very active in collecting money for their cause and has also been active in collecting for the defence of BARTHOLOMEW BENZETTI, now serving a term in the States Prison for Highway Robbery.

RALPH PIESCO is said to be an avowed anarchist and at one time was under suspicion as a member of the Milford gang of freight thieves.

Other Italians including SAVERIO PIESCO, while believing in anarchism and Socialist principals, and considered of the less dangerous type, were all accounted for. This man is more of a Socialist and was a conscientious objector during the war.

During the following day (Friday, Sept. 17th) Agent conferred with chief of Police Murphy, and in company with him paid a visit to Cedar Street, where BERNARDO REBESCHI resides, as Agent and confidential informant were unable to learn his whereabouts on the previous evening. It was found, however, that he was at work and had not left Milford.

Agent was also informed that there had been a wedding in Milford on Thursday, which was attended by most all the anarchists of that Town, and Franklin, a nearby town.

Chief of Police Murphy informs Agent that the anarchist group of Milford comprises between 20 and 25 members, and that they are all known to the Police and their movements have been closely watched and will further be recorded.

Confidential informant agreed to furnish Agent with any further information which he might obtain.

Agent remained in Milford during the day, and feeling that nothing further could be accomplished or ascertained in this town, returned to Boston in the evening.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent T. M. Reddy, Agent was directed to interview the following injured persons and ascertain information relative to the above explosion.

Agent visited the home of Paul Handicott, 919 Fox St., Bronx, New York City, N.Y., but Agent was unable to locate subject, he being out at the time, but was informed by Mrs. Goldstein, a tenant in the house, that he had left to visit his parents who were stopping at Edison, Long Island. Agent asked Mrs. Goldstein if subject had been severely hurt. She said no, that he had returned home after being attended to at the hospital.

MEMO to Mr. Lamb:

IN RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION,
George Weybrauch, 454 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn.

Interviewed the above named person at the home of his parents, 454 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

He is a messenger boy, aged 16, employed by Dow, Jones & Co., 44 Broad Street, New York City. He was cut on the head by falling glass, treated at the Volunteer Hospital, and went home unassisted.

He states he was so frightened at the time of the explosion that he did not observe anything, but ran from the scene.

MUTCH'S STATEMENT TO POLICE.

JOHN MUTCH is the owner of Maxwell car #255222 and he resides at 214 Main Street, Long Island City, New York. MUTCH made the statement at Police Headquarters that he parked his car in front of Morgan office facing Easton Wall Street at 12 o'clock today. As he left the car he noticed another car in front of his and in front of that was a covered wagon. He left his car and immediately started to Broad Street and as he reached the corner at Morgan's office the explosion occurred and knocked him out.

Pursuant to instructions of Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy Agent visited MUTCH at 214 Main Street, L. I. and found that MUTCH was proprietor of a cafe at that address. Agent found MUTCH intoxicated and could get no statement from him other than that he had made his statement to the Police and he considered that his statement was as clear as any statement that had been made by anyone. A young fellow that was hanging out in the saloon stated that MUTCH had been drunk since the accident and generally when he started on the drunk, he was good for about a week.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent T. M. Reddy, Agent proceeded to the home of Anton Market, 1138 Vyse Avenue, Bronx, New York City, N.Y., one of the injured victims in the above explosion; who said that he was 67 years of age, and was employed by the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, corner Nassau and Pine Streets, as porter, and on the day of the accident he was coming out of the building and the rush of people into the building at the time of the explosion caused him to be thrown to the ground, and his wrist was wrenched. He went to the hospital, and after having his wrist bandaged he returned to the bank and later left for his home. Subject had no opportunity to notice any vehicle that might have been on Wall Street, not being in that location.
Pursuant to instructions of Agent Scully I called at 186 Manhattan Street which is a two story building occupied by a grocery store and meat market; the meat market belonging to one NATHAN A. EISLER who runs a chain of meat markets in this city and resides at 640 Riverside Drive (141st Street) phone Audubon 5350. The grocery store is conducted by Irving I. Tannenwald and Julius Schanbach who resides at 270 West 118 Street. From inquiries in this neighborhood I was informed that there were no delivery wagons making deliveries from this place. I called at Mr. EISLER'S residence and was informed by a woman who claimed she was Mrs. Eisler, and over the telephone she stated that her husband was attending Tannenwald's funeral. I inquired who Tannenwald was and she stated he was one of the proprietors who occupied the part of the store her husband used as a meat market and that he had been severely wounded which resulted in his death owing to the inquiries received in the Morgan explosion and that the funeral was being held at Meyer's Funeral Parlors which I located at 228 Lenox Avenue. When I called at Meyer's funeral parlors the services were over so I telephoned again to EISLER and later had an interview with EISLER at his home. He could not furnish me with any information of benefit to the investigation but he claims there are no wagons attached to the store on Manhattan Street. EISLER further stated that Tannenwald and Schanbach were above suspicion in connection with the bomb plot. EISLER stated that Tannenwald's purpose for being in the vicinity of Morgan's was for the purpose that he intended to call on some concern to borrow money for his business, as it was necessary for him to raise $1500 for business purposes.

I called at Schanbach's home at 270 West 118th Street and interviewed his wife who stated her husband was attending the Tannenwald funeral, but I was unable to interview him up to a late hour so I requested Mrs. Schanbach to have her husband telephone me at the office as I believed the investigation could be closed by telephone with Mr. Schanbach.

At 11.00 p.m. Mr. Schanbach telephoned the office and stated that they make no deliveries and have no occasion to use vehicles of any description. He also stated that Mr. TANNENWALD left their place of business on Thursday at 10.00 a.m. stating he was going to the financial district to try and raise $1500 which was needed in their business. He did not see TANNENWALD again that day and on Friday Mrs. Tannenwald telephoned the store inquiring as to the whereabouts of her husband and about this time SCHANBACH was notified that a man was in the Morgue and on his person were papers connected with his business. He immediately went to the Morgue, identified Tannenwald, had the body removed and the funeral took place today.

SCHANBACH stated this man had no radical tendencies and I believe he is above suspicion.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, the undersigned agent made the following investigation. Interviewed MRS. HITCHINS, who is an aunt of the above named subject, who stated that subject was 29 years of age and that he worked for the Equitable Trust Company, as a clerk, and was accidentally killed outside of the Morgan Building. She further states that they have no connection with any organizations of a questionable nature.

Unless instructed to the contrary, matter closed.

The body of the unidentified young man, which has been at the Morgue since 3:50 P.M. on the day of the Wall Street Explosion, was identified Monday just before noon, at the City Morgue by a woman who claimed to be the mother of the young man. JOHN HAYES, a friend also identified the body. The mother said that the son was EMMER WALLACE KEHRER; that he resided with her at 422 South 4th Street, Brooklyn, N.Y. John Hayes who identified the body also resides at the same address. The mother told the Morgue Officials that her son was a chauffeur, but at the present time was out of employment. She said, in answer to questions asked her by attaches of the Morgue that she believed that her son was near the scene of the explosion on Wall Street looking for a job.

Dr. BENJAMIN SCHWARTZ, Assistant Medical Examiner, questioned Mrs. Kehrer. Mrs. Kehrer brought with her a chauffeur's license. The Morgue Officials did not take the date of its issuance. The doctors thought that the photograph was of the deceased, but from the report rendered it did not appear that they were certain of it, but an enumeration of the marks upon the body at the morgue were practically the same as were found by the officials of that institution.

The Morgue attaches thought the mother was of German extraction. She said that she recognized the cut in the newspapers and believing it to be her son visited the Morgue.
The Morgue attaches noticed that the mother was very calm and not apparently nervous.

In re: Investigation of persons killed.

All persons killed have been checked up with regard to their identity and occupation, especially as to whether or not any were employed as truck drivers. All persons killed have been identified and the check up to their business does not reveal any who were engaged as drivers.

Agent Bishop, who visited the Morgue, reported the apparent suspicious identity of Irving I. Tannenwald, whose body indicated that he had been very close to the explosion. Agent Francisco, however, in checking up Tannenwald's identity gives facts which tend to prove that the morgue identification was regular and that subject was a partner in a grocery store at 270 West 118th Street, where, on September 19th, agent Francisco found the funeral had just been held.

Inquiry was also made at the Morgue as to whether or not they kept record of names and addresses of callers, in the belief that should any of the persons involved in the placing of a bomb have been killed inquiry would be made for them. We were informed, however, that no such record was kept, in fact an unidentified body when received at the Morgue becomes property of the Police at once, which relieves Morgue officials of the responsibility of identity.

Pursuant to instructions of Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, I called at the residence of CARL F. SCHROEDER, 417 East 15th Street for the purpose of interviewing this man relative to the Morgan Bomb Explosion. I saw Mr. Frank Schroeder, father of the boy who stated his son was injured by flying glass but after being treated at the Gold Street hospital he was discharged. Mr. Schroeder, Sr. did not know where his son was employed but expected him home from lunch so I left a notice requesting him to call at the office. Later in the day subject called at the office and stated that he was at the corner of Nassau and Wall Streets at the time of the explosion but he could not furnish any details of interest. His injuries were very slight but he is still under treatment.

I then called at the residence of Mr. W. BIRD THORN, 333 East 28 Street and interviewed a woman who claimed she was Mrs. Thorn, who stated her husband's injuries were slight; that he was at his business at Bridges & Company, 85 Wall Street. Later in the day I called at Bridges & Company but Mr. Thorn was not in and was not expected to be in again that day so I left word requesting him to call at this office but up to Sunday he had done so. I then called at the Bellevue Hospital to interview JOHN DONOHUE of 1034 East 14th Street, Brooklyn and was informed by Dr. Patterson and Dr. Davis that Donohue had been received at the hospital on the day of the explosion at 2 p.m. and lived three and one half hours and during that time he was unconscious and no statement was taken.

Interviewed WALTER DICKERSON at St. Vincents Hospital who stated that he was at his desk on the ground floor of the Morgan Building, more toward the centre of the building than toward the Broad Street side and that the explosion came from a clear sky. He knew nothing at all about it.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

In the September eighteenth issue of the Springfield Union, Springfield, Mass., a news item of which the following facts was culled.

"That Mr. & Mrs. M. Darling, of Sunderland Mans., had received word from their son EUGENE, in the Wall Street Explosion, telling that he had held a position with the EquitableTrust Company, which is located adjacent to the Morgan Building, that he was standing at the window of his office, looking directly towards the explosion."

Agent interviewed EUGENE DARLING, this morning, and after a recital of the circumstances surrounding him, during the time of the explosion, he states that he did not observe any horse drawn vehicle in the vicinity, nor did he observe any wagon belonging to the Du Pont Powder Works, nor did he observe any suspicious persons departing from the neighborhood.

While he had talked about the explosion to various persons employed in Wall Street neighborhood, he had not heard any of them discuss the horse and wagon, or any suspicious persons.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent T. M. Reddy, Agent proceeded to address given as home of James W. Cassol, 1290 East 167th Street. Upon arrival in that vicinity Agent was unable to locate this number as 1029 was the last number on East 167th Street. Agent made inquiry at drug store on corner, also looked in the telephone book, but could not find the name or address of this party. Also visited the Fox Street Sub Post Office Station, and the clerk in charge, after questioning several clerks in the office and examining the list of forwarding addresses, informed me that he was unable to give me any information.
Facts Developed:

Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, I called at the office of JOHNSON & HIGGINS, 49 Wall Street, and interviewed said firm. I was informed that Mr. Byrne was detained at his home, 463-72nd Street, Bay Ridge, due to injuries received from the accident. I called Mr. Byrne on the telephone and he informed me that he walked up Wall Street with Mr. Hughes, who has already made a statement. Just before reaching Morgan's office Mr. Byrne saw a sheet of flames and was injured by flying metal and glass. He has no recollection of having seen any horse and wagon in the vicinity. An X-Ray picture revealed the fact that two pieces of metal, which doctors will extract this afternoon, were lodged in his head. He expects to be able to return to business in a few days.

Agent interviewed the following:

PATRICK FANNING, 2601 Bainbridge Avenue, Bronx, states that he is employed as a watchman in the building at 56 Wall Street, owned by A. Iselin & Company. Mr. Fanning states that this building is adjoining the Assay Office, and he could give no information whatever regarding the accident, being inside the building at the time it happened.

MRS. WILLIAMS, mother of GEORGE WILLIAMS, 945 St. Nicholas Avenue. Mrs. Williams states that her son is employed at Nabon & Company, 45 Wall Street, as a clerk. She stated that her son was too ill to talk and from what he had told her, had seen nothing of the explosion.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent T. M. Reddy, Agent proceeded to the home of subject, 1227 Hoe Avenue, Bronx, New York, N.Y.

Subject says that he is 58 years of age, a retired policeman, and now employed by Henderson & Co., 24 Nassau Street, N.Y.C., as messenger, - his duties being to deliver bonds.

He was coming up Wall Street, going west, on the south side of the street, in front of the United States Trust Company, 45 Wall Street, and when the explosion occurred he was blown into the hallway of same building. He was taken to the Volunteer Hospital and scalp wounds on head and cut on leg were bandaged, and he was transferred to his home by automobile, as otherwise he was not injured seriously.

Subject, when asked if he noticed any vehicle, horse drawn, or automobile, standing opposite Morgan’s Building or on the north side of the street where the Sub Treasury and Assay Office are located, said no, - that he did not notice anything on Wall Street as his mind was on the bonds that were to be delivered.

WALL STREET EXPLOSION

SEPTEMBER 16, 1920

Arranged by phone to interviewed JULIAN NOVAK, draughtsman, Mosler Safe Co., at 15 Park Place, regarding a remark made at time of explosion by a Young Italian Workman at his brothers place of employment. As JULIAN NOVAK'S information was all obtained from his brother, Agent considered it advisable to interview the brother ALBERT NOVAK, residence 170 East 180th Street and place of employment, Untermeyer Robbins & Co., gold ring makers, 38 Ferry Street, New York City. At the time of the explosion ALBERT NOVAK states JOSEPH FINNARO, (home address 923-225th Street) called out as the pleased "There goes the Navy Yard".

To go back to a time before the U.S. entered the war, Novak states that FINNARO was as good an American as one could find. NOVAK served 14 months overseas and while abroad received a letter from FINNARO, which was Anarchistic in Tone. He does not remember just what was in the letter in detail but says he will look thru his effects and see if he can find it, altho his remembrance is that he destroyed it. FINNARO joined the Russellites during the war. He has from time to time endeavored to sell Socialistic Literature at his place of employment, books such as "The Golden Age", etc. When he found out that the explosion occurred in Wall Street, he said, "Oh, that is nothing, that is only the beginning." He apparently has no one of like opinions at his place of employment. NOVAK thinks that if someone would get FINNARO'S confidence, a great deal of information could be obtained.
as FINNARO will talk if given a little opportunity. He has told NOVAK that in the Old German Press Building, Myrtle Avenue, near Borough Hall (or City Hall), Brooklyn, New York, there is a private printing plant, which cost $100,000.00. For some time they have been printing a pamphlet intended for free distribution on Sept. 21, 1920. The men employed on it, have been locked in and sleep and eat there. FINNARO will probably distribute his share in the District allotted to him on September 22nd, on which day Untermeyer, Robbins & Co., will be closed on account of a Jewish Holiday.

This information has also been reported by Capt. Carey, Homicide Bureau, Police Headquarters.

J.W. BURCH.
My dear Mr. Scully,

Following our telephone conversation of this morning, I offer the following data.

Sidney A. Reeve, Consulting Engineer, 280 B'way, New York City, residence St. Marks Apartment House, St. Marks Place Staten Island. Both he and his wife are officers on the Board of the Church of the Ascension and friends of Percy Stickney Grant. For many years Mr. Reeve has been known as a radical and a Socialist (though lately he has been disclaiming Socialism) and has predicted over and over again to the writer of this letter, as long ago as 1910 and as lately as 1918, the blowing up Wall Street and its financiers. To my knowledge he spoke to the Inter Collegiate Socialist Society in 1917 on "The Coming Revolution". He has written a book on Economics and has another in preparation. Mr. Reeve was forced to resign from the faculty of Worcester College (I think) some years ago on account of his radicalism. During the present year, he has been one of the speakers at the Church of the Ascension.

S. Jacobssohn lives on upper Bard Avenue, Staten Island, in what is known as the old DeKay or the "Haunted House", for from the street and rather isolated. Little, dark fat man with goatee. Up to about a year ago he lived in Stapleton with several middle aged women, one of whom was Miss Grace Todd, was discharged as Librarian of the Nat'l Civic Federation because of her Socialist activities. The neighbors in Stapleton reported that Jacobssohn was always trying to convert them to Socialism, that all sorts of queer "nuts" were accustomed to visit the house at any hour of the day or night, and that there were very strange (and wise) parties there on certain evenings. When he finally moved to Bard Avenue, his former landlord reported finding any number of queer, empty bottles and burned papers. The man and his associates are generally known as anarchists by the neighbors in the loose sense of the word. As I have only lately returned, I don't know very up-to-date news of them, but might find out if you thought it worth while.

Mrs. Herbert Wiener, 330 West 71st Street, New York. An Austrian woman of forty-two supposed to belong to the Emperor's family through a morganatic marriage. She was not an American citizen during the war until she married Dr. Wiener in 1917. Calls herself a Philosophical Anarchist and is thoroughly radical and pro-German. She has been doing laboratory work, but at Columbia College and a hospital for the last year or so, though nobody seems to know exactly to what end she is. I think a graduate chemist and is supposed to be making some sort of continual experiments.

Mrs. Wiener is a brilliant woman with what I should call a master mind who influences almost everybody she knows towards radical way of thought.

Though I realize that none of these persons may be what you are looking for, yet you may perhaps get a "lead" through one of them.
Pursuant to instructions of Assistant Division Superintendtendent Reddy I called at the address given for LOUIS K. SMITH 136 Greenwich Street, New York City.

Mr. SMITH is one of the reported dead of the explosion.

I interviewed the restaurant keeper on the ground floor who reported that he knew of no such person at this address. He said that there had been at various times since the accident nine or ten inquiries along this line.

I interviewed a woman on the top floor who said that she lived for nine years in the house and had never heard of Mr.
SMITH.

I interviewed also an attendant in the undertaking establishment of R. DUFFY, Greenwich Street who also said that he had no knowledge of anyone of that name in that vicinity having lost his life by the explosion. He reported that he had seen in the newspaper a statement that a MR. SMITH who was reported dead by the explosion had lived in Bayside, L. I.; he showed me also a piece of a cash weight which had fallen in front of the undertaking establishment at the time of the explosion. He said that he had weighed it this morning and found its weight to be a pound and a quarter. ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

IN RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION:

Acting on information received from MR. DOWLING, with offices at 61 Broadway, I met Special Officer Kane, who advised me of certain inflammatory statements made by ORLANDO ROSALES, an elevator operator with home address 64 West 107th Street, New York City. The subject is a foreigner, who recently came to this country from Spain. Accompanied by Special Officer Kane who procured a duplicate key for the locker which contains this man's clothes, we examined his coat and hat. In the band of his hat we found extracts from the Revised Statutes of the U.S. governing transportation of dangerous articles employed between ports in the U.S. and foreign ports. The sections of the Statute are as follows:

4278, 4279, 4280, 4472, 4473, 4475, 4476, 5353, 5354, 55.

This man appears to be very radical and is supposed to declared his intentions of becoming a citizen of the U.S.

He also has a brother employed at the Equitable Building elevator operator.

One of these was a clipping from a Hamilton, Ohio, newspaper, stating that subject had attempted suicide by hanging in February, 1913, while awaiting trial in the Butler County Court. There was also a letter several years old from subject's father, giving his address as W. H. KINNAN, 431 East Ave., Hamilton, Ohio. Furthermore, there is a report of one J. P. BROWN, probably and investigator for the Reformatory, dated April 23, 1915, indicating that after subject was paroled July 15, 1914, he lived with his parents awhile, then he got married while parole and he and his wife went to an unknown address on Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. It did seem that while living here he would inveigle pen into his wife's room, and there they would become intoxicated and he and his wife's brother (name not given) would then rob them. One man complained of losing $20.00 in this manner. Because of this a charge of assault and battery, also robbery, was placed against him and his wife. The charge was later reduced to larceny to which they entered pleas of guilty, and both were sentenced to the workhouse for thirty days and given fines of $25.00.

Another record shows subject was born July 8, 1890 in Hamilton, Ohio, and served three terms in the Boys' Reform School, Lancaster, Ohio, aggregating four years. The dates when he served this time is not given. There is another paragraph in a report that states that while on parole on December 23, 1911, he broke into a jewelry store, but did not get anything. The place and date of this offense is not given. Further the report says that he has a father, mother, two brothers and two sisters, but does not give their present address.

In view of the fact that Tabasco is very near Cincinnati, the Agent is sending copies of this report, together with copies of the Director's confidential letter to the Cincinnati office, for further investigation.
Printing directly in the center of the page shows shading of either type or a design of some sort. A smudge appears across this type and also a smudge over the left hand stamp on the envelope.

A number of people have handled this paper both at the office of the Washington Times and at this office.

I asked Mr. Gusack to find out the exact hour of arrival of this letter and he telephoned his office and learned it had been received on the "first delivery" yesterday (Sunday) morning, the 19th.

You will note the letter is signed "A. A. F."

At 10:20 a.m. today, Mr. Gusaek, former special agent of the Department and now a reporter on the staff of the Washington Times, called at this office and reported to the writer that an anonymous letter had been received by them in the mail "this" morning.

Photostat copy of this anonymous letter is attached hereto, reading as follows:

That was a good job in New York.
Detroit, Cleveland,
Pittsburg and Washington will be next.
Very soon

This is printed in black pencil in capital letters on plain white paper without watermark. Envelope is addressed "Washington times Washington D. C." and is a cheap white linen envelop without trademark or watermark. Address is written in black ink. Bears postmark, "Washington D.C. Sep 18, 7 a.m."

"For your information, Gusaek is per grata at this Department, due to an attempt made by him to induce one of Mr. Burke's stenographers to keep him posted on any good stories that may come thru the Chief's Office."

Above information phoned at 10:55 to Dick Flynn who instructed that photostats be made and mailed immediatley to New York.

Particular attention is called of the letter:
BOMB EXPLOSION, New York City.

Under date September 18th, last, this office was in receipt of the following letter:

"Mr. Weakley,

Dear Sir:

"I was in Ward N-1, Cincinnati General Hospital, discharged Thursday, and while there a woman in Ward N-2 made a singular prediction that New York City was to be destroyed in five days. Do you think that she could have had any pre-knowledge of what occurred in that city Thursday? I do not know the woman's name but I am sure she is in the Hospital yet. N-2 is the Psychopathic Ward.

Respectfully yours,

E. L. Cudeback, Hotel Thoma."

Agent interviewed writer of the letter, E. L. Cudeback, who stated that he did not know the name of the patient in the hospital who had made the remark but that two nurses, MRS. HULDA EMERSON and MISS LULA WENNING, could give the desired information.

At Cincinnati General Hospital interviewed MRS. EMERSON and she stated that about three days ago some woman patient was brought in who was crazy on religion and that she had made remark that "There would be Hell or Heaven in New York in five days." As the woman was evidently deranged no importance was attached to the remark. MISS MRS. EMERSON did not know the name of patient but I learned from MISS EDWARDS, nurse in charge of this ward, that the patient's name was ALICE POPPENBURG, who is a middle aged woman who is crazy on religion, claiming that she had messages from the Lord.

I talked with the patient, ALICE POPPENBURG, and it was plainly evident that she was insane upon question of religion and when I asked her about what she said in regard to New York City she said she had a dream that there was nothing left in New York but a
Report Form No. 2

R.L. Scott.

She said she did not know anything about the explosion other than someone had said there had been one there. She went on at great length about messages she received from the Lord regarding destruction of all people on earth unless they mended their ways.

Agent was satisfied after few minutes conversation with her she knew nothing whatever of any interest regarding the explosion in New York City.

Investigation concluded.

States that on Friday, Sept. 17th she went to KISH'S, Springfield Ave., Summit, N. J. to have her nails manicured. She was turned over to a very poorly dressed, common sort of a person, not the type that would be a manicurist. From conversation with the girl, Mrs. Spicer states she is positive the party is of German descent. In the course of her conversation the explosion was brought up and the young lady, whom Mrs. Spicer later learned was named MRS. EVA MOELTER, stated that she was all upset as her uncle was in the Sub-Treasury in Wall Street and that his horse and wagon had been blown up. She further stated that all morning she had been trying to call her aunt at Lyndhurst, N. J. Just before noon succeeded in getting the news to her. (Call between 9 and 12 A.M.).

On Saturday Mrs. Spicer returned to Kish's to get a magazine she had left there and also to learn if possible the young lady's last name. She found that the girl had left and had stated that she did not intend to work this winter but was going to live with her sister in Brooklyn. From conversation with this Mrs. Eva Moelten, Mrs. Spicer learned her husband's given name to be Randolph and further learned but does not remember definitely that the girl's sister lives on 53rd or 55th Street, Brooklyn.

Dear Sir:-

RE: WALL STREET DEATH WAGON AND HORSE
New York City.

In accordance with your telegraphic instructions of September 20th, 9 P.M. I directed Agents to go to Meriden, New Haven, Waterbury, Ansonia, Derby, Danbury, Bridgeport, South Norwalk, Stamford, and Greenwich, and confer with each Chief of Police and give them a description of the horse and wagon, obtained from the New York Daily papers, and requesting same be read at roll call, and to advise the Bureau of Investigation at Hartford by telephone of any clues.

At Stamford Agent learned of an auction sale of old horses and wagons two weeks ago. The auctioneer told the Agent that a number of rough looking Jews were buying and taking horses and wagons across the line into New York State, some going to Port Chester and Bedford, New York. I shall have this information followed up at once.

Most respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM P. HAZEN
Special Agent in Charge.
I asked Mr. Guseck to find out the exact hour of arrival of this letter and he telephone his office and learned it had been received on the "first delivery" yesterday (Sunday) morning, the 19th.

Attention: C. J. Scully.

Dear Sir:

Adverting to newspaper reports concerning the Wall Street Explosion of the 16th instant, it is noted therefrom that circulars signed "American Anarchist Fighters" were found in the vicinity of the explosion. For that reason it is desired to advise the New York office that this office is in possession of similar circulars, as follows:

On January 28, 1919, circulars about 5" x 3", in blue ink on white paper, were distributed in various cities in New England. These read as follows:

"Go - Head! The senile fossils ruling the United States see red! Smelling their destruction, they have decided to check the storm by passing the Deportation law affecting all foreign radicals. We, the American Anarchists, do not protest, for it is futile to waste any energy on feeble-minded creatures lead by his Majesty Phonograph Wilson. Do not think that only foreigners are anarchists, we are a great number right here at home. Deportation will not stop the storm from reaching these shores. The storm is within and very soon will leap and crash and annihilate you in blood and fire. You have shown no pity to us! We will do likewise! And deport us! We will dynamite you! Either deport us an free all! The American Anarchists."

The above circular was distributed widely in the business section of Boston in the early morning hours of January 28, 1919, by a man between 40 and 50 years of age; 5'8" in height, 160 lbs. weight, with small dark moustache, gray pants, dirty overcoat, soft hat, small black handbag; and a boy 15 to 18 years of age, 5'4", wearing blue overalls, blue coat and an all mixed gray hat.

On March 8, 1920, from Postal Station 3.
Philadelphia, there was sent to the Boston "Globe" copy of a two-leafed circular entitled "The Crowning Act of Shame" and signed by the "American Anarchist Federated Commune Soviets." The circular was in black ink on white paper.

At Franklin, Massachustees, a bomb was exploded during the night of January 28, 1919, and three Italians working on it were blown to pieces. At that time circulars were found pasted on the walls of the Ray Mill of the American Woolen Company. These circulars were addressed "To the working people of America" and were signed by "A Group of Working Men."

In connection with the investigation of the Explosions of June 2, 1919, on August 1, 1919 a letter was received, which contained the following notice:

"Investigate one Otto Bertram who is an ultra Bulchivist and belongs to the inner circle and knows about the Roxbury bomb affair - sells Revolutionary Age - works at Watt & Bond."

This circular was on white paper, printed in red ink with a stamp outfit usually used by children. This is merely referred to for the reason that newspapers reports indicate that a similar stamp outfit was used on the Wall Street circulars.

In addition to the above, it is desired to advise that since the arrest of Bartolomeo Vanzetti and Nicola Sacco, by the State Police for complicity in highway robbery and murder cases, the Italian anarchists have been engaged in the circularization of anarchists throughout the United States for funds. Vanzetti is now serving a term of twelve to fifteen years in State Prison and Sacco will be tried shortly on the charge of murder. Carlo Tresca, who spoke in Boston in July last, was here for the purpose of soliciting funds for the two above named Italians. One Jose Marinero (presumably a Spanish name) of 32 Battery Street, Boston, is circularizing the Spanish anarchists for funds for the above. 32 Battery Street is the office of the Italian daily "La Motizia," at which place is employed Aldino Felicani, an anarchist of the Galleani Group.

This office submits the above for whatever they may be worth and would be pleased to receive any suggestions in reference to the same.

Respectfully,

(signed) JOHN B. HANRAHAN
Special Agent in Charge.
Agent interviewed Mr. Keyes, General Manager of J. P. Morgan who stated that the following employees of Morgans had left the building shortly before the explosion, turned to their right, going east on Wall Street and were in about the center of the building when the explosion occurred. All three were injured and two of them are now at their homes and the other is in St. Vincent's hospital. The names and addresses are as follows:

- William Foley, at St. Vincent's Hospital. ✓
- Marvin Decker, 471 Madison Ave., Elizabeth, N.J. Telephone: Elizabeth 113-W.
- J. L. Richards, Danner Ave., Harrison, N.Y., Phone, Park 786.

Attached hereto is note from Mr. Keyes addressed to the above mentioned people requesting that they grant interview to agent. It is suggested that this note be used when calling as Mr. Keyes has instructed them to talk to no one except upon his request.

Agent interviewed Mr. Dryer of C. D. Halsey & Co., 15 Broad Street who stated that a Mr. Black of 55 Broadway was in to see him after the explosion and told him that he sat on the steps of the Treasury building and saw the explosion.
On September 20th, agents were assigned to visit all companies in New York manufacturing or selling rubber stamps, in order to identify that used in making the anonymous circulars. Agent Peter Lamb reported that he had evidently located the concern who made the stamp set in question. This set is known as "No. 0 Easy Marker" and is manufactured by R. H. Smith & Company, Springfield, Mass.

From their selling agents in New York, Force & Company, 535 Pearl Street, a list of stationers who have ordered this stamp either direct from the factory or from the selling agents during the past year, has been obtained and these stationers are now being visited.
Pursuant to instructions received from Asst. Division Superintendent T. N. Haddy, Agent called at the above address and there interviewed Mr. Bauman, who stated that the above concern were the sole agents for the R. H. Smith Company in the sale of "No. 0 Easy Sign Marker."

Within the past year the above named Company sold seventeen of these markers, and a complete list of these sales with names and addresses have been turned over to Mr. Haddy.
SUMMARY

WALL STREET EXPLOSION OF SEPTEMBER 16th

IN RE: DuPont or Dittmer wagon alleged to be in vicinity

I have in my possession six statements of different persons regarding having seen an explosive wagon in the vicinity of the explosion on Thursday, September 16th. Three of these said it was plainly marked with the name of the DuPont Company upon it. The other two are vague.

Statement #1 by GILBERT SMITH and corroborated by statement #2 of JOHN FURLONG, states in general that they were in an automobile in Broadway at 11:50 A.M. at the N. E. side of Vesey Street and Broadway and that at about that time they saw an automobile truck with a trailer plainly marked "DuPont Powder Works".

Statement #3 is made by Joseph L. Kinderman, 59 Lexington Avenue, who states that at 11:45 A.M., September 16th, at the corner of Broadway and Park Place, he noticed a red wagon marked DuPont Powder Company with the additional inscription, the DuPont DeGuers Company, also the word "Dun", painted in white letters and a red flag flying from the end of the wagon. He claims this wagon was drawn by a brown horse South on Broadway.

Statement #4 is made by Miss Gertrude Wall, o/c Col. Thompson, Bankers Trust Building, who states that on September 13th, she observed a red, one-ton motor truck with the word "Explosives" written over the head in white letters. She saw this truck on Wall Street at about New Street, going West at...
IN RE: DUPONT JITTAH WAGON ALLEGED IN VICINITY.

3:30 P.M. Miss R. T. McTague in the same office, states she saw a like wagon in about the same position on either Monday or Tuesday between 2 and 3 o'clock.

Statement #6 was made to Agent Davis about an hour after the explosion by William Gluckman, a messenger boy working for Charles McKeen & Company, 36 Wall Street. In substance, he states at 11:50 while walking west on Ann Street, near Broadway, he saw a wagon with a sign "Explosives" painted in white on the rear, passing south in front of St. Paul's Church. This was a horse drawn wagon, he says. He can furnish no further details.

On September 17th, agents O'Donnell and Stiffson called at the DuPont Company at 120 Broadway. They claimed that all horse drawn vehicles were disposed of some years ago and that they now use electric trucks in New York. These trucks are stored at 474 West 130th Street. They further stated no explosives were delivered in the vicinity of neighborhood since Tuesday, September 14th, that delivery, being made to the Foundation Company at Wall and Broad Street and consisted of 25 lbs. Investigation at the Foundation Company indicates this is probably correct. The DuPont Company also stated they have but one magazine in New York in 156th Street and Harlem River. They claim to have no TNT stored there. Agent O'Donnell's invest was followed by another on the 18th by Agent Devlin, especially with relation to the statements made by Furlong & Smith, that they had observed a DuPont automobile truck on Vesey Street, going East to Broadway, a short time before the explosion. Mr. Horse of the DuPont Company admitted to agent Devlin that this apparently correct but stated that the truck in question was on its way to Flatbush Avenue and was loaded with Lithopone, pigment and dry colors. This truck was numbered 101440 and was followed by a trailer. Agent Devlin does not mention name of the driver of this auto truck.

The second auto truck belonging to DuPont #101660 is accounted for by the DuPont people on that date as making deliveries in Brooklyn exclusively. The driver of that truck was Henry Siegel, 289 Ivey Street, Arlington, N.J. This truck is also said to have been carrying paint and dry colors on the date in question.

The DuPont Company are very emphatic in stating there were no explosives in either truck on September 16th. Agent Devlin obtained a list, said to include all explosives transferred or delivered by the DuPont Company from their dock at 108th street and East River on September 16th. The delivery farthest down town was at 38th Street & 7th Avenue.

The DuPont Company accounted for their truck being in the vicinity of Vesey Street and Broadway at the time in question, by stating that their two auto trucks on that date were loaded at Newark, New Jersey and after crossing the Hudson on one of the Ferry Boats, was making its way toward the Brooklyn Bridge. They are quite positive the truck did not go South on Broadway to take the ferry for Brooklyn at the Battery. It

It is respectfully suggested, that in order to conclude this phase of the case, the following be done:

\(^3\)
IRE: DUPTON C. DITTMER WAGON ALLEGED TO BE IN VICINITY.

1. Drivers of DuPont auto trucks be personally interviewed as to their movements on day of explosion.

#2. DuPont Garage (Brunswick Garage) 474 West 130th Street, be visited to check up the number of trucks stored there by DuPont and their construction.

#3. So far it appears that verbal statements only have been obtained from the DuPont Company. Would it not be well to have someone go through their records or have the DuPont Company itself furnish certified copies of deliveries, drivers' reports, invoices, etc., covering a period, including the day of the explosion.

IN RE: DITTMER POWDER COMPANY WAGON.

On September 16th, Agent Newman called at the Dittmer Powder Works, 102 West 130th Street and interviewed the Secretary-Treasurer, who admitted they have two horse-drawn trucks which are used for making deliveries in New York City. On the date in question, however, both of these trucks are alleged to have been not further down town than 45th Street and Broadway.

On September 17th, Agent Navarro, on further investigation reports that both horse-drawn wagons of the Dittmer Company were still in existence. Agent got in touch with the Superintendent of the Dittmer Stables at Bay Chester, New York, who verified the fact that both wagons had returned on the evening of September 16th.

It will be noted that this investigation is based upon the word of officials of the Dittmer Powder Company. Nothing of a documentary nature, such as certified copies of their records to back up their statements, has been obtained.
The following information has been received which may assist in determining the cause of the explosion in the above matter:

MR. HARRY MARSHALL, Attorney-at-law, of Camden, N.J., came to the office on Saturday, September 18th, and stated that MR. MELIAN G. SHIVERS employed by the WARREN-WEBSTER COMPANY-CAMDEN, N.J., had told him (MR. MARSHALL), that SHIVERS' brother, name unknown at this time, had been employed during the war by the E. I. DUPONT-DE NEMOURS COMPANY of WILMINGTON, DEL., in the transportation of T.N.T. from Carney's Point, N.J. to Boston, Mass. by automobile. The information is that large quantities of T.N.T. were transported by the DUPONT COMPANY in closed limousines which were driven through the country from Carney's Point, N.J. to some Airplane Station at Boston, Mass.

The brother of Mr. SHIVERS, above mentioned, made seventeen trips with loads of T.N.T. from Carney's Point N.J. to Boston, Mass., each time going through the heart of New York City with no placard on the automobile or other means of warning that the automobile contained explosives. Mr. SHIVERS was paid $125.00 for each trip, and after making seventeen trips, it is said he lost his nerve and refused to take another trip.
It is understood that this happened during the war and it is possible that the proper permits were issued for such transportation through New York City, but it is also probable that these explosives were transported in this manner without permits, and there may have been such an automobile loaded with explosives which caused the New York explosion.

This is submitted for what it is worth.

they were getting ready to start work at the end of business. When I glanced out I was talking to a fellow.

I tried to get away, but he followed me and said again that they were with J.P. Morgan and even all the bankers as well.

And that they mustn't speak.

And that I mustn't leave.

Something - I have an accurate description of the man and if you will say further instruction I will gladly give it.

Mr. W. J. Flynn,
Chief of Department of Justice,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

As at the present time everything is in order regarding suspicious parties travelling on railroads beg to call your attention to a man who arrived on our train 411 at 4:10 P.M.

He gave his name as Mike Koveak. He was ticketed through on the Pennsylvania for Detroit, Mich., but as it would be about an hour or so before the train left here for Detroit he showed me his ticket and said he wanted to hire an automobile to take him from Toledo to Detroit, Mich. I called the Toledo Transfer Company and they wanted $50.00 which they would have agreed to pay had it not been for someone saying that he could get a train on the Lake Shore at 4:50 P.M. at our Union Depot. This man who seemed to could not speak or understand English very well overheard this and asked me if I knew of a man I could send with him to Detroit stating that he would pay all expenses and give him $10.00 for going with him.

One of my Patrolmen Mr. Charles Walker was off duty at the time and I suggested that he go with him if he cared to and he agreed to do so. This man carried with him a piece of paper with the following written on it:

623 Waterman Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Walker delivered the man to the above address and the party paid him. As stated above this man carried with him a large telescope grip which was very heavy. He would not let the patrolman carry the grip for him. The man was well supplied with money and upon arriving in Detroit he would not take a taxi-cab but insisted on the patrolman going with him to the address given above which was done.

This man seemed to be Polish and talked very little English. He showed the patrolman papers which indicated that he was employed by the Du Pont Powder Works in New Jersey and he had papers in his possession showing he had been insured by that firm. He acted in a very suspicious manner regarding his grip. He seemed to be well acquainted at the house on Waterman Street and was met by two men there but they did not invite the patrolman into the house.
Toledo, O., Sept. 20th, 1920.

On the day of the explosion I was in the office of HOLLISTER, LYON & WALTON, 7 Wall Street, 8th floor. Sometime between 11.45 and 12 o'clock I was watching the stock quotations on the ticker, which is about four feet from a window facing towards Morgan's office. This window overlooks the length of Wall Street, so that I had a good view of the neighborhood in which the explosion took place just previous to the explosion.

MR. HOBLISTER, who was marking down quotations, was sitting before the ticket and got up to speak to some friend. As we try to keep a complete record of quotations, I took his place and as I did so, glancing down Wall Street towards the scene of the explosion, my impression was that there was a delivery wagon approaching the Assay Office from the direction of the East River, and that there was an automobile parked alongside of Morgan's office. I sat down then and within a minute or so the explosion took place, and as it did so there was a terrific pressure of air and it threw debris and dust and broken glass in the office, and I threw myself on the floor to avoid further missiles that might come through, and also to avoid anything that might come in the way of a further explosion. I laid on the floor long enough to be sure that the trouble was all over, and then ran to the window and looked down into the excavation of the building which is going on in Wall Street, between Exchange Place and Broad Street, thinking that the explosion had been of reserve explosives used for blasting and excavating, but could see no trouble down there nor any men hurt. My next impression was that of a burning automobile, the one that I had seen parked by Morgan's office. But I knew that the explosion of 10 or 20 gallons of gasolene could never cause the trouble that occurred. My next impression was the wreckage and the blood where the delivery wagon had been that I had seen, and then I saw the dead people on the street. One woman at the far east corner of Wall and Broad St. lying partly on the sidewalk and partly in the street; another body, apparently that of a man, lying up against the steps of the Treasury Building, and further along, on the same side of the street I saw several other bodies; also what looked to be bodies along the south side of the street on Morgan's side. I might add that as I threw myself on the floor when the explosion occurred the flames from the explosion came high enough for me to see them from the window as I threw myself down. I stayed at the window then, saw men come out from adjoining offices and from around the neighborhood, and saw the arrival of the first police and saw the attempts to block the line across Wall Street, and also saw the bodies removed.

I cannot tell just what the color of the wagon was that I saw, and that being the case, and the fact that I cannot give definite descriptions of what I saw, owing to the fact that there didn't appear to be any necessity for taking anything but a casual glance, and for that reason I have volunteered the information which I am giving, fearing that it is not definite enough for description of the wagon.

My impression was that the wagon was an ordinary delivery wagon such as a grocer or butcher would use, or a cheap expressman. Further than that I cannot give any description.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, agent examined the following victims of the bomb explosion:

MISS FREDERICKA FRANKE, residing at 129 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, twenty years of age, employed by G. Amsinck & Co., 90 Wall Street, New York, as a bookkeeper stated she was standing in front of Morgan's Building with her back turned to the explosion with Edith Towrie and Rae McQuade, who are still in the Volunteer Hospital, that she saw no horse and wagon, that she was thrown forward to News Street into the Lincoln Trust Company. Knows absolutely nothing.

JAMES McCLELLAND, 143 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, New York, states that she was employed by Everett Rich & Company, 15 William Street, New York City, brokers, as a clerk in the Stock Exchange and was in stock Exchange, at 'phone, when explosion occurred. Saw absolutely nothing.

ANTHONY LORDREY, 591 Woodward Avenue, Brooklyn, forty-six years of age, a native of this country, states that he is employed by Post & Flagg, 38 Wall Street, as superintendent - engineer; that he remembers nothing as he was blown into the building, turned completely around by the force of the explosion, when he came out he saw part of a horse, persons lying about, clothes blown, etc., was taken to hospital and has his scalp dressed.
FRED THOMPSON, 16 New Haven Boulevard, Woodhaven, L.I. Could not locate, after every effort to do so.

Agent called at 226 East 96th Street, New York City and interviewed Isadore Harowitz, victim of bomb explosion, who said that he worked at L. M. Prince & Company, 20 Broad Street and he is a clerk in the Stock Exchange; that he was at the Exchange at the time of the explosion; that he did not hear or see anything that took place, outside of falling glass at the exchange.

J. J. SMITH, 381 E. 100th Street, New York City.
Agent proceeded to 381 East 100th Street and was informed in that neighborhood that there was no 381 and no one in that neighborhood had ever heard of subject nor did they know of any one that had been hurt in the explosion. Agent then went to 381 West 100th Street but the numbers only run to 270.

CHARLES WEST, 2531 Madison Avenue, New York.
Agent proceeded to this neighborhood and found that the last number on Madison Avenue was 2221 and no information could be found concerning this subject.

ALEXANDER CUMMINGS, 157 East 81st Street.
Agent proceeded to this address and interviewed a Miss Natabe, who stated that there was no one by that name at that address. She had seen his name in the paper and knew there had been a mistake. Agent then went to 157 West 81st Street and there found subject. He stated that he was a plasterer working on contract for Brown & Company, 36 Wall Street, that he was just going to lunch when the explosion took place.
place and a piece of glass fell, cutting his head and shoulders.
He knew nothing further concerning the explosion.

G. H. Dougherty, Spec. Agent.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

Agent proceeded to 460 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y., and interviewed Hugh McAllion, father-in-law of the deceased.

Mr. McAllion said that Mr. Weir was 27 years of age; married, wife and two children; that he was a salesman for Alexander Fisher, a broker; that he did not know his address, but it was located some place downtown; said he was in the army, stationed at Fort Hancock, but had been out for about twenty-one months; that he knew he belonged to no societies of any kind.

In the matter of A.J. WOONER, P.A. CASHIN—Checking up Radicals
New York Bomb Explosion.

At Pittsburgh, Pa.

Report of Confidential Informant 78683

On checking up the labor leaders and radicals of this district, as you requested me, I find all are present but A.J.
WOONER, who I reported an I.W.W. I learned he is employed at the Westinghouse Elec.& Mfg. Company, East Pittsburgh. His address is 4734 Washington St., Swissvale. His house was closed to-day. I may have something further to report tomorrow.

The radicals in this district seem to be pleased over the explosion in New York, which occurred to-day at noon. The men of 43rd Street are becoming impatient with the continuation of the strike. It was expressed to-day by a number of these men that they were going to apply for employment tomorrow at 43rd Street Yard.

P.A. CASHIN said he would get in communication with C.W. Yount and request that the strike be called off in the Pittsburgh District.

The men of Pittsburgh are planning to hold a meeting in a few days for the purpose of voting to call the strike off.

Agent learned at Des Moines through Mr. A.G. Ogle, Secretary of the United States Automobile Insurance Company, that one A. C. Allen, an abstractor of Nevada, Iowa, had sent a letter to their company which on the face was rather of a peculiar nature.

Agent secured the letter from this company and is as follows:

"A. C. Allen
Abstractor
Have had over $12,000.00 worth of abstract business in the last ten years with entire satisfaction.
Member of Abs. Association
Careful attention to all business Best set of abstract books in the county"

Nevada, Iowa, September 2nd, 1920

Gentlemen:

Would not care to make any connections which would in any way confine me as I am planning to get foot loose and try to "reach" an organization which has broken up my home and which cannot be "reached" through the present national administration. It cannot be done located in one spot. The days of my days will be spent exposing J. P. Morgan's wall street foreign building in America. He is the "nigger in the wood pile"

Very truly yours,

Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, Agent proceeded to 25 South Street, which is the Seamens Institute and was there informed that W. Bowman had lived in the Seamens Institute some days prior to the explosion. That he had returned to the Seamens Institute Friday morning last with both his hands bandaged and he stated that he had been injured in the explosion but at the time of Agent's call he had checked out and had left no forwarding address.
Facts Developed:

Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent T. M. Reddy, Agent proceeded to the home of D. O. Rigby, 1530 Vyse Avenue, Bronx, New York, N.Y., who said he was 23 years of age, and employed by the Automobile Insurance Company, 82 Beaver Street, New York, as clerk.

He said he was coming up Wall Street, on the south side of the Street, opposite the Assay Office, when the explosion occurred. He was thrown to the ground and hit in the head with something, and his clothes cut by the flying glass. He was taken to the Broad Street Hospital, and bandaged up, and left later for home in a hired automobile.

When asked if he had noticed any vehicle on Wall Street near the Assay Office at the time of the explosion, he said, no, that the only thing he noticed was quite a lot of people passing through Wall Street.

M. J. DRENNAN, Special Agent.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

Interviewed AL ROBERTS at the Post Graduate Hospital who stated that he was standing across the way from Schulte's Cigar Store on Wall Street. He can tell nothing about the explosion. He knows nothing at all.
Pursuant to instructions of Division Superintendent Reddy, I made investigation this afternoon of two automobiles that attracted considerable attention because of the fact that they proceeded northward on Elm and Lafayette Streets near the intersection of Worth Street shortly after the explosion occurred, filled with men who were traveling at an unusual rate of speed attended by loud blowing of horns. This investigation was based on a memorandum of Special Agent William B. Matthews, who received this information from E. A. Brooks, box manufacturer, at 199 Kingston Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, who was informed of this incident by his brother, R. G. Brooks, employed by the U. T. Hungerford Brass & Copper Company, 60 Lafayette Street, this city.

I called on Mr. R. G. Brooks at the office of the above-named company, who immediately introduced me to Mr. John E. Lewis, working at a near-by desk, as the person who saw the automobiles in question, and who described their unusual operation at about 12:59 p. m. on September 16, 1920, when they were speeding up Elm Street, near the intersection of Worth Street.

Mr. Lewis informed me that he was just approaching the intersection of Elm Street and Worth Street from the south on Elm Street, when he noticed two automobiles filled with men and making an unusual lot of noise with their sirens as they sped by him into Lafayette Street. The cars were going so fast, and they were blowing their horns so loudly that they attracted the attention of many people in the vicinity who rushed to the street.
to see what was going on. Mr. Lewis could not recall any descriptive details about the automobiles, explaining that they travelled so fast that he could not observe the license numbers, or the character of the people who were in the automobile. He remembered that there was one man riding on the running board of the first car who was bent over with his head inside of the car. The automobiles appeared to be moderate priced touring cars, and all the persons travelling in them appeared to be young looking men. Mr. Lewis did not attach any particular significance to these automobiles in connection with the explosion at the time they passed him, or he would have taken pains to observe the license numbers. He spoke to Mr. Brooks about this incident because it attracted the attention of so many people. Mr. Lewis stated that it was about 12:30 p.m. that the cars rushed by him near Worth Street. He followed the automobiles with his eyes as they speeded up Lafayette Street, and about two blocks north of Worth Street he lost sight of them when they mixed up in the traffic.

Mr. Lewis remembered seeing a young light-haired man in shirt sleeves standing at the corner of Elm and Worth Streets, who also saw the automobiles whiz by. He believed that this man was an employee of Conroe Brothers, manufacturers of paper, at the corner of Worth & Elm Streets. I called at the offices of Conroe Brothers, and interviewed the employees who were in the office between 12 o'clock noon and 12:30 p.m.

Mr. H. B. Thurston of Conroe Brothers was going down Lafayette Street at about 12:35 p.m. from the corner of White Street, where he had had lunch, but he did not notice anything unusual except that a police automobile was travelling with terrific speed south on Lafayette Street. Goyn Mackrell, Syvester J. Lynch, and William Kelly were present in the office during the noon hour, but they remembered only seeing automobiles travelling up Elm Street with wounded persons who were being carried from the scene of the explosion. He heard no reports about the two automobiles in question. Thomas Cowdey, another employe, saw a cheap automobile travelling unusually fast with people at the intersection of Leonard and Lafayette Streets as he was walking south, which he afterward concluded was carrying wounded people, because there were several other cars with injured persons being carried north-ward to the hospitals.

Mr. W. A. Smylie, who seemed to answer the description of the man given by Mr. Lewis, told the same story as Mr. Lewis.
He also concluded that those two were were the first ones carrying injured persons from the explosion, and several others followed a few minutes afterwards. He heard no one express any suspicion that these first two automobiles carried any others than injured people. He paid no attention to the license numbers, and was unable to give any description of the people in the cars than did Mr. Lewis. He said that in addition to the shrill blowing of the horns, he was attracted by the fact that the cars were proceeding north-ward on Elm Street, which is contrary to the regulations, as this is a one way street on which vehicles are permitted to go south-ward only between Worth and Pearl Streets. When he noticed other cars proceeding in the same direction with wounded people, he naturally believed that the traffic regulations were violated by the first two cars for the same reason.
I also interviewed the employees of Miller & Wright, located at the corner of Duane and Elm Streets, but found no one who remembered seeing the two automobiles which attracted so much attention two blocks above. They noticed a number of cars carrying injured persons, travelling at an unusual high rate of speed, but that was all. It is probable that the two automobiles in question did not blow their horn so frantically at Duane Street, but until they were approaching the intersection of Worth Street, where Center Street also intersects at an angle.

I also called on the O. & M. Envelope Company at the corner of Pearl and Elm Streets, where I only found one person, Mr. Adolph Hopfer, who was present in the office at 12:20 p.m. and made note of the unusual amount of traffic and noise on Elm Street. He said that he saw a moderate priced car pass his office on Pearl Street and then turn north on Elm at 12:30 p.m. travelling at very high speed and blowing its horn in a frenzied manner. It turned the corner so quickly, however, that he was unable to make note of the license number or the make of the car. He said that he afterwards noticed a number of cars going north on Elm Street carrying a number of persons from the explosion. He came to the conclusion that all the cars appearing to be violating the traffic regulations were engaged in ambulance service.

From said interviews, it appears to me that the two automobiles in question were probably the first that passed by with injured people, and that because of the excitement and confusion existing at the time, no particular note could be made of the license numbers or the character of the occupants. as they sped up Elm Street. I reported these facts orally to Mr. Reddy, and he agreed that it would not be advisable to pursue this investigation any further in the absence of any more definite information.

INVESTIGATION CLOSED.

Agent proceeded to #537 West 56th St., New York City, address given of above named party. At this address is a warehouse and storeroom of the Sheffield, Lawson, Decker & Co., and I was informed there that no one by the name of Alexander Leigh worked there, and was referred to the Payroll Office, 524 West 57th Street. I was informed at this office that the only one they had working for them similar to the name of Leigh was a man by the name of A. Leath, who lived at 3911 Avenue K, Brooklyn, N.Y. Agent telephoned the Brooklyn office of the Sheffield, Lawson, Decker & Co., Mr. Mackey, the Superintendent, who informed Agent that A. Leath was still in their employ.

In one of the afternoon papers the address of Alexander Leigh was given as 330 West 56th Street. I was informed at 330 West 56th Street, by the lady, who said that she had been living there for the past sixteen years, and that there was no one there by that name and never had been.

John J. Brennan (Stenographer in the Medical Examiners Office at the City Morgue).

Facts Developed

John J. Brennan, Stenographer in the Medical Examiners Office at the City Morgue told agent on Monday, the 20th, that while at the Volunteer Hospital on the afternoon of the explosion, he, Brennan, saw a severed leg lying upon the floor of the hospital morgue. Brennan states that he believes that this log had been blown off shortly above the thigh. Brennan did not ask where this leg came from but believed that it was brought there from the scene of the explosion.

Further investigation shows this leg has no connection with explosion. See yellow copy of this report.

B.J. Kealey, 22 Kings Place, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Interviewed the subject at his home. He states he is a Special Officer, employed by Hallgarten & Co., bankers, #5 Nassau Street, New York City.

Mr. Kealey was badly cut on the hand by falling glass; was treated at the Volunteer Hospital, and went home unassisted. He could not supply any information relative to the wagon, etc., as at the time of the explosion he was quite some distance away.

NAVARRO.
At Seattle, Washington.

Agent called at the office of Herrin & Rhodes, Bond Brokers, and Bankers, 119 Cherry Street, Seattle, where he met Mr. Herrin, senior member of this firm, who in turn introduced an employee of the firm, one D. O. Hood, who informed Agent that the day Hood had received from his wife's sister, a Mrs. Carkeek, of 116 No. 76th Street, (?) information to the effect that about two months ago, and at frequent intervals since that time, Mrs. Oscar Ekman, 116 No. 76th Street, Seattle, had told Mrs. Carkeek in substance that there would be bomb explosions in the principal cities of the United States; that the series of explosions would commence in Wall Street, and would be followed by other explosions in the financial districts of other cities, including Seattle; that the explosions would be caused by friends of the Soviet Government of Russia and would be a part of a reign of terror to be instituted in the United States, which would be preliminary to the taking over of the government of the United States by an American Soviet. The last talk with Mrs. Oscar Ekman had by Mrs. Carkeek, was on the day following the bomb explosion in New York, (probably on September 16, 1920) when Mrs. Ekman told Mrs. Carkeek in substance: "You see that I know what I am talking about. There will be more of these explosions soon and if you think anything of that brother-in-law of yours, you had better tell him to keep away from Herrin & Rhodes' office, as that is one of the places that will be blown up in Seattle."
Informant, D. O. HOOD, stated that he had a speaking acquaintance with MRS. EKMAN and her husband, OSCAR EKMAN, having met them when he was visiting at his sister-in-law's house. The couple have a neighborhood reputation as socialists and have been having socialist meetings from time to time at their home which have been attended by MRS. KATE SADLER, a local socialist, and others of the local element of similar views. MRS. CARTEEK said she had been invited to attend these meetings, but had not done so. She was invited to attend a "big" meeting there "next week."

OSCAR EKMAN, under the name of OSCAR ECHMANN, was reported to the Seattle office as "pro-German" on February 2, 1918, but the files show no action other than to contain this report to AGENT IN CHARGE WRIGHT under File #12417. Investigation continued.

I then went to 238 Ft. Washington Avenue, (Nassau Apartments) and talked with the elevator boy at that place and he stated there was no L. L. Roberts living in that building.

Interviewed the subjects who are street sweepers at 18 Burling Slip, New York. Mr. Ponzelle states that he was not in the vicinity of the Wall Street explosion. That his lunch hour is from eleven to twelve and that during this time he was several blocks away from the scene.

Pinto stated that he relieved Ponzelle but that he was sweeping at Cedar and Nassau Streets when the explosion occurred.

These men stated that they had not given an interview to any newspaper men.
IN RE: BOMB EXPLOSION. AGENT G. J. CYSTAL.

September 16, 1920.

Charles Peck, - Alleged suspect.
669 Eagle Avenue.
Bronx, New York.

Pursuant to instructions of Assistant Division Superintendent Thomas H. Reddy, proceeded in company with Agent Nevarrá, at 4:50 P.M. to the Huntspoint Subway Station, Bronx, New York, to interview one Schwartz, ticket agent, employed by the Interborough R.R. at the above station, who stated that on the previous night, he had been employed to play in the orchestra as drummer at a Mexican banquet given at the Pennsylvania Hotel, and during said banquet he happened to get into conversation with one, Charles Peck, a waiter attending tables located with a few feet from where this orchestra was situated.

He recalls this waiter making some remark to the effect that in a short time J.P. Morgan and other capitalists would "get theirs." Mr. Schwartz then informed both Agent Nevarrá and myself to call and interview one George Deninger, residing at 1410 Prospect Avenue, Bronx, New York, who also was employed on the previous night in company with Schwartz, as a drummer, and who had also heard Charles Peck make the above statement. I called and interviewed Mr. Deninger, who they accompanied both agents to the Pennsylvania Station Hotel, and there interviewed one Mr. Levy in charge of the banquet banquets at this hotel, who furnished both agents with Charles Peck's address. We, Agent Nevarrá and myself, then proceeded to the home of Charles Peck, 669 Eagle Avenue, Bronx, New York, and were admitted to his apartment by subject. He was then told to dress and accompany us to this office, and upon his arrival here, he was interrogated by Division Superintendent George Lamb and Agent Charles Scully.

WALL STREET EXPLOSION OF SEPTEMBER 16th.

In re: Towel Supply Wagon.

Based upon statement of persons to the effect that immediately following the explosion they had observed what appeared to be a Ford delivery truck belonging to some towel supply company drive over the legs of the dead horse, agents were assigned to check up all towel supply companies in the City. Agent Matthews finally brought JOHN FLECKENSTEIN of 379 Onderdonk Avenue, driver for the Scharf Supply Company, 101 Water Street, to this office. His statement is self explanatory.

Inquiries were also made at J. P. Morgan & Co., the Assay Building and No. 34 Wall Street, as to whether or not any baled cloth had been standing in front of their premises. Each answered negatively, however.
CHARLES J. GASS, Vice President of the Nafra Company, Inc., with offices on the twenty-third floor of the Equitable Building, fronting on Nassau and Pine Streets, and overlooking the junction of Nassau and Pine Streets, makes the following statement:

That about noon on September 16th, while seated at his desk in said offices, a loud explosion was heard which caused him to turn around in his chair and look through his windows towards Wall Street. At just that moment, a cloud of smoke with particles of flame, arose in front of and over the Assay Building on Wall Street. That hearing a crash of glass in the room of the President of the Nafra Company, he quickly moved into that room to see the damage and immediately left there for the scene of the explosion. He estimates that the time between the explosion and his arrival at the junction of Wall and Nassau Streets was not longer than four minutes.

When he arrived at the scene of the explosion, he noticed an automobile standing on all four wheels near the east end of the Morgan offices, on fire. This fire was shortly thereafter put out by firemen. He noticed a black covered delivery automobile, which he believes to be of the Ford type, standing some distance away from the burning automobile against the Morgan curb and between said automobile and Nassau street and just about opposite the carcass of the destroyed horse. The position of this automobile at first seemed catty-cornered to the Morgan curb, pointing toward the Washington Statue and headed that way. The driver was on the ground standing by the machine and when deponent first saw him, he climbed into the seat and tried to back his machine out of the position it was in, but was unable to do so unless he drove over the carcass of the horse, which he finally did. Deponent is under the impression that he took this machine in front of the Sub-Way and there assisted in relief work. Deponent is also unable to say what it was.

Defendant also noticed at least two and possible three burlapped packages of large dimension, which he believes contained rags. One of these, the largest, about five feet long by three feet thick, lay near the eastern end of the Sub-Treasury, about five feet from the curb. He is under the impression that the second bale lay near the middle of the street, opposite the Assay Office. This second bale was of smaller dimension than the first.

A cursory glance showed no sign of fire or effect of the explosion upon such parts of these bales as were exposed to view.

Defendant also noticed a ring of steel lying near the carcass of the horse, which resembled in large measure, the ring or part which is placed on an automobile tire, after said tire has been placed on the rim, and is used for holding said tires securely.

Defendant's recollection of the color of the smoke is that it was grayish yellow.

Defendant also noticed that the street was heavily littered with debris, consisting of papers, cloth and bits of wood.

Defendant further states that most of the bodies in the immediate vicinity of where the explosion occurred were very noticeably colored yellow.

Accompanying this statement is a diagram which, to the best of defendant's knowledge and belief, shows the presence of large objects at the scene of the explosion.

Dated at New York, N. Y.

RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION:

JOHN FLECKENSTEIN, stated that he resides at 379 Onderdonk Avenue and is employed by SCHARF SUPPLY COMPANY, 101 Water Street.

"I was going from uptown through Broadway and down Wall Street. I was about a quarter of the way to the Morgan Building when I wanted to get out of somebody's way who was ahead of me. Who it was I could not say or what it was, I could not see either. I turned more to my right to see what was coming towards me to see how to get ahead of the party ahead of me and with that there was something coming down. What it was I could not say. This was on the left, heading West. With that I was turning to my right to see what was in that view. I noticed two machines. What kind of machines I could not say until after the explosion. They were on the Morgan side, about even with Morgan's. They were stationary. I do not know what the moving object in front of me was. It may have been an automobile or a wagon but I could not say which. That machine was a number of feet ahead of me and whether he swung in on the side or kept going I cannot say. I kept going a few feet further when the crash came. I threw off my switch and just drifted with the machine. The machine was just lumbering along and I was a few feet away from the horse when I jumped and went towards the back of the machine. When I got to the machine the front wheels were right over the horse. Then I went back and looked to see what was doing around there and then forward again and saw that the biggest part was over so I tried to see what I could do for the people lying around. I got the fire extinguisher off the truck and started to play it on the people that were in the street by my. With that all the people came.
automobile that was burning. I then went to the machine that was burning. There were two machines burning; one was under control from my fire extinguisher so I went to the machine ahead of which the roof was burning, thinking that there would be another explosion from the gasoline tank. With that the fire Department came up and finished both jobs and they turned the one touring car bearing the Jersey license over to get at the flames underneath. With that I went back to my machine and cranked it over the dead horse and then started rumbling to the hospital. I made three trips and carried five people.

As soon as I came to I grabbed the slug which was lying on my lap and which had hit me in the stomach after going through my windshield. I was in my shirt sleeves at this time, dressed in a white shirt, sleeves rolled up. After I jumped out of the car running towards the back and returned to its front, all I saw of the wagon was the rear spring and the horse. The color of the horse was brown. There was one man running, full of flames, a well dressed man. He was heading towards Broad Street on Morgan's side.

Wood found on the roof, 36 Wall Street.

Facts Developed:

On the roof of the office building at 36 Wall Street, shortly after the explosion of the 16th, quantities of particles of wood and cloth, which may have been parts of a wagon and a wagon top, were found.

The samples of the above were picked up by Agent on Monday, September 20th, after tenants of the building had called the attention of Agent to the fact that the remaining part of it had not been removed. The samples are in an envelope accompanying this report.

BOSTON, MASS.

SEP'T. 20-1920  SEPT.16-17,'20.  WILLIAM E. HILL

At Milford, Mass.

Pursuant to instructions from Ass't. Division Supt. W.J. West, based on Bureau telegram as referred to below, regarding Bomb Explosion on Wall Street, New York City, at 12 o'clock on this date, agent was instructed to proceed to Milford, Mass., at once, where a number of Italian Anarchists are known to be active, and endeavor to ascertain whether or not any of these Italians are away from Milford at the present time, and to check up, if possible, their recent activities.

Upon arriving at Milford, Agent immediately got in touch with a confidential informant (Italian) known personally to Agent, directing informant to call at once at the William Hotel. Upon informant's arrival agent conferred with him regarding various Italian Anarchists residing in Milford, chiefly RALPH XPIESCO, 16 Mt. Pleasant Street; PETER ANGELO X BARTONE, 7 Genoa Street; BERNARDO X REBESCHI, 16 Cedar Street; NICOLA XPIESCO, 43 Beach Street; MICHELE XDI PHILIPPI and SAVERIO XPIESCO, 14½ Pleasant Street, Milford.

Confidential informant advised agent that with the exception of BERNARDO REBESCHI, he had seen these others on the street this day. He further stated that MICHAEL DI PHILIPPI is leaving Milford for the West next week, where he claims he is to teach. This man is said to be a graduate of Brown University; is an alien about 28 years of age and has been referred to as the brains of the alleged anarchist group of Milford, Mass. During the Hope Valley strike this subject and his brother LEO XDI PHILIPPI, who conducts a tailor shop in Milford, suspended from the window of the tailor shop, a black flag. This subject is said to travel considerably and at one time addressed a gathering of Italians in Forester's Hall, Milford, declaring that the day would come when the Proletariat would rule and that he hoped to be a great leader of the movement; he has also claimed that a big government position was open to him in the west. He was at one time taken into custody and sentenced to prison for printing and circulating objectionable literature.

NICOLA PIESCO has boasted that he brought up his son, SAVERIO PIESCO, to be an anarchist; that he himself believes in anarchist principles, and does not believe in any established form of Religion or Government; he is an alien and said to be active in the movement.

BERNARDO REBESCHI is said to be closely associated with the alleged anarchist group; this subject is said to have stated that "action", not "money" was what, to his belief, would bring results beneficial to the Proletariat.

PIETRO ANGELO BARTONE is known to be an active propagandist, organizing, collecting money and circulating literature. He is been a correspondent of "IL PROLETARIO" and he has been very active in collecting money for their cause and has also been active in collecting for the defense of BARTHOLOMEW BENZETTI, now serving a term in the States Prison for Highway Robbery.

RALPH PIESCO is said to be an avowed anarchist and at one time was under suspicion as a member of the Milford gang of freight thieves.
Other Italians including SAVERIO PIESCO, while believing in anarchism and Socialist principals, and considered of the less dangerous type, were all accounted for. This man is more of a Socialist and was a conscientious objector during the war.

During the following day (Friday, Sept. 17th) Agent conferred with chief of Police Murphy, and in company with him paid a visit to Cedar Street, where BERNARDO REBESCHI resides, as Agent and confidential informant where unable to learn his whereabouts on the previous evening. It was found, however, that he was at work and had not left Milford.

Agent was also informed that there had been a wedding in Milford on Thursday, which was attended by most all the anarchists of that town, and Franklin, a nearby town.

Chief of Police Murphy informs Agent that the anarchist group of Milford comprises between 20 and 25 members, and that they are all known to the Police and their movements have been closely watched and will further be recirded.

Confidential informant agreed to furnish Agent with any further information which he might obtain.

Agent remained in Milford during the day, and feeling that nothing further could be accomplished or ascertained in this town, returned to Boston in the evening.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, and accompanied by Agent Mitchell, proceeded to 432 East 4th Street, New York City for the purpose of locating SAMUEL SELTZER, and requesting him to accompany agents to the Department of Justice Office. He could not be located on this date.

Samuel Seltzer was however, located at the clothing establishment of HOCKMAN & CO., 752 Broadway, New York City and under suitable pretext, was brought to the offices of the Department of Justice and turned over to Mr. Scully.

While interviewing Mr. Newman of M. R. Gallagher & Co., 35 Wall Street, Mr. Newman stated that while he or no one connected with the office knew anything about the explosion or had witnessed anything on the street before the explosion, he thought that a man by the name of G. Leonardo Williams who had formerly been engaged with him in promoting an explosive during the war in 1918, who as he thought had marked radical and socialistic ideas and who was an experienced chemist and able to manufacture high explosives without the aid of machinery, would, in his opinion, be a man who is liable to be engaged in manufacturing explosives for the radicals. He stated that Williams was very hot tempered. He also stated that Williams had been born in Honolulu of American and Swiss parents. That he had worked in Germany for some of the largest chemistry houses, could speak German and Russian fluently and thought that the above information might be of some value to the Department of Justice. He also gave Agent a photograph of Williams with the following names of people who he said knew Williams and that he was confident that they hold the same opinion of Williams that he does.

U. S. Department of Justice,
Washington, D. C.,

My dear Sirs:

Subject: Bomb Outrage of September 16th.

By way of preface I wish to say that this is the first letter of its kind that I have ever written, and I believe I can safely say that I am known as a Conservative.

I hope you will not accuse me of calling your attention to the conditions of Society in New York City, which you will say is perfectly well known to yourselves. But do you think that at your distance that you do know as well as those who live here the conditions which confront us almost every moment in the day?

It is perfectly well known here that are hot-beds of these rascals who are making life unbearable, and that their lairs are well known, and they can be rounded up if it is the desire to do so.

It must be perfectly clear that the late outrage was not aimed at Mr. Morgan, but at the U.S. Sub-Treasury for the deportations, and it must be clear enough that the deportations were too few in number.

There is one phase of the situation that I must think, as well as thousands of others in New York City, which you have neglected, and I refer to that publication known as the New York Call. As long as this publication is permitted to be circulated, then so long will these rascals feed up on their imagined wrongs. That paper, I tell you, is wielding an influence, and if you will take the trouble to read the issue of this day it will clearly be seen that it is a tool of Lenin, and Trotsky. Those dead are magnified, and DuPont is quoted as saying that they did have a wagon of explosives in the vicinity of Wall Street at the time of the outrage. That we know is false. That is, I have certainly not seen such a confession in the press of New York City.

The explosion of September 16th will not be last - you know that - and I tell you that these rascals can be apprehended, but so long as the Call is printed, your troubles will be increased.

You will ask me: "Well, what are we to do about it?" I say, that no such publication would be permitted in the Southern States, then why is it permitted in New York? I also say that if you will permit such an organization as the Klu Klux Klan, it will be attended to, and no innocent man will suffer, and few guilty, but they will be shown the error of their ways, and it would be done quietly, and in an orderly manner.
Our lives are not safe here, and many in my own office just missed the last outrage by a miracle. I was in a stone's throw of it, as well as many others in my office, and a few of us had just passed the spot, and were thrown to the ground, but not hurt seriously.

I do not wish you to give publicity to my letter, not to make it known to my firm that I have written this, as it might not do me any good, but you can always see me, and if you desire I have some information which might be of importance. I do not know that it is, but if I were an Agent of the Dept. of Justice, I would make it my business to find out, for I have lived in a few feet of them for a year, and have always had my own opinion, and now something has come to my ears, but I do not know definitely what it is worth. I cannot write it.

I am well known to one young man who was formerly in your employ, and he can vouch for my integrity and character. I refer to Mr. Pike.

Please do not think that I am seeking anything, for I am not. I am well located, and am only giving expression to those feelings which are being expressed by an outraged public.

If you will curb that paper The Call, half your battle is over, but if you permit it to scandalize our government as it is doing every day, then you may fight and fight and fight, it will do little good. What can you expect of the poor ignorant fools who take this devilish paper as their Bible? If you doubt me, then come here and talk to the young men, particularly of the South, who are pure American born, and see what they will say about that paper. See what they also say about the fiends they meet every day on the streets with their gibberish.

I again ask you not to give my letter publicity, but to give it the consideration which it deserves, and if you wish to know of some of the hot-beds here, I can point them out to you, just the same as any citizen could point out to you the places that liquor has been sold openly, and is still being sold, and any man who wants to find it can do so. And I am not a prohibitionist, by a long shot.

Very truly yours,

John Henry Farr,
142 West 83rd Street.
Apartment No. 5.
MRS. BERTHA DOWNING MAGNUS, Director of Publicity of the Chicago Chapter of the American Red Cross and Editor of the "Chicago Red Cross Bulletin" called at this office and tearfully stated to me in substance the following:—

"I am a patriotic American who has worked tirelessly for the welfare of our country during the war. I am sorry to be forced to come to you and cast suspicion upon my own sister in possibly connecting her with the recent New York Bomb explosion.

My sister's name is MRS. OTTO (EDITH) YOUNG—and she is the wife of a New York City artist. I will not give her present address as an investigation by you might spoil my plans.

I know that Edith is an extreme radical who associates with anarchists and other violently inclined radicals who would hesitate at nothing. She is a writer of Anarchistic propaganda and as such comes into contact with the innermost workings of radicals. If this bomb plot was hatched in the vicinity of New York, I feel my sister will know all about it.

I am going to New York to meet my sister and assume that I favor all her doctrines and that I will assist her in any way possible."

MRS. MAGNUS stated that upon her arrival in New York she will at once visit the New York Bureau and endeavor to secure an "under-cover" position for a few weeks to enable her to pay in part her expenses.

CLOSED.
A telegram from the Bureau at Washington, dated to-day, instructing this office to endeavor to secure information relative to the New York City explosion was handed to me by Special Agent in Charge J. P. ROCKEY with instructions to comply with the request contained therein.

All "undercover" confidential informants, the local police bomb squad and all other sources from which information on anarchist activities in Chicago and vicinity is derived, were at once advised to immediately endeavor to locate leading anarchist agitators and check on their recent movements, to congregate in and near the meeting places of radical organizations and seek a clue to the identity of the perpetrators of the outrage.

Agent WALKER of this office overheard a conversation between two men who claimed that MR. MELVIN A. TRAYLOR, President of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago was an eye witness of the explosion and that he had a souvenir in his possession.

I interrogated Mr. TRAYLOR who stated in substance the following:

"I was sitting beside a window in the National City Bank of New York conversing with B. D. HARRIS, President of that concern when the bomb exploded.

I had entered the bank at about three minutes to twelve. Just as I was about to light a cigar I saw a sudden burst of flame reflected on the windows. It came like a flash and seemed to shoot up to the fifth or sixth story level.

Then came a roar and a crash and a shower of broken glass covered the sidewalks and streets. I heard screams and groans and then a sudden startling silence. Through the window I could see flames from the direction of the MORGAN..."
I saw the door policeman of the National City Bank pick up an eight or ten inch section of pipe about 2½ or 3 inches in diameter. It was scorching hot and he dropped it quickly. This was turned over to the police.

Major Jack Prentiss, who has seen service in France, met me and stated that he was in a barber shop on the 7th floor of the Stock Exchange when the explosion occurred. He told me that he had heard 42's and 175's explode but had never heard a blast to equal this one before.

Agents of the Chicago Office ascertained that "Big Bill" Haywood who had gone to New York City last week, presumably to arrange for bonds for the I.W.W. members still in jail, stopped off at Baltimore and was en route for Chicago where he arrived on September 17, 1920.

Pursuant to instructions of Division Superintendent Edward J. Brennan, all Agents are actively engaged in endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the perpetrators.

The Chicago Socialist appeared upon the newstands of Chicago on Sept. 16th and was printed before the occurrence of the explosion. I quote hereunder a few excerpts from the same relative to the publications attack on the House of Morgan.

"Socialists predicted Morgan's war in 1917. The Socialist Party warned the workers against it. Now the House of J. Pierpont Morgan is planning and plotting a new war. If you want another war, vote for Harding-Cox and Capitalism."

"New Morgan's War." World Banker Sets Stage for New Slaughter. "J. Pierpont Morgan and Co. have just lent the French Government $100,000,000 and have thereby entered into one more imperialist adventure at 6½. All in all, the group of keen Wall Street bankers who follow J. P. Morgan's lead in backing France are not worrying about getting 6½ interest on their loan for the next 25 years. If that 6½ means the agony of the common people of France, Germany, and Poland and the more shameful betrayal of Russia, at least American business men will have proved their ability to 'put it over'."

A copy of this issue has been send under separate cover to the Washington and New York offices.
Upon directions of Special Agent in Charge J. P. Rooney, Agent visited various I.W.W. headquarters, ascertaining the following facts: WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD left this city on Sept. 3 bound for New York, Baltimore, and Philadelphia, to deliver lectures there in behalf of the General Defense, and particularly to negotiate with the Civil Liberty League at New York relative to raising $50,000 blanket bail fund. He is supposed to have left New York on the 13th or 14th of this month. He arrived in this city this morning. HAYWOOD is scheduled to speak in Boston, Mass. on Sept. 30, 1920, going there from New Rockford, N.D., where he will address the convention of Agricultural Workers Industrial Union $400 on Sept. 27, 1920.

GEORGE HARRISON is on a lecture tour in the iron range section.

GEORGE SPEED is still in Ohio lecturing in various mining communities. RALPH CHAPLIN, GEORGE HARDY, and other leading I.W.W.s, are in Chicago. GEORGE ANDREYCHINE left the city on the evening of September 15th. No information as to his destination is available.

The news of the explosion was keenly discussed among the wobblies at the various gathering places. No information of importance was obtained. The general sentiment seems to be that the I.W.W. will be suspected and that arrests and raids will probably follow. They claim that bomb explosions will never achieve what they are fighting for, and they don't believe in such kind of sabotage.

Agent will make further efforts to keep in touch with I.W.W.s and secure all information available.
Subject is employed as a janitor, and attends to the office of HOGLE & COMPANY, the ground floor store of the SCOTT HARDWARE COMPANY, and the store of the FIFE CLOTHING COMPANY, which Agent understands is in the SCOTT BUILDING, across the street from the LITTLE HOTEL building, where HOGLE & COMPANY are quartered. Informant had a key to the office of HOGLE & COMPANY and from time to time in the evenings and on Sunday would let himself into the office, to write letters and to clean up odds and ends of his work. Subject would often be around at these times and, being talkative, often engaged informant in conversation, subject doing most of the talking. Subject appears to be a devout member of the Mormon Church and to have much faith in visions, revelations from a Divine source etc. Some of these were recounted by subject to informant, indicating belief in things palpably improbable. Informant says that subject is a socialist, and that he frequently expresses his belief in the Bolshevik system and his sympathy for the present Russian Government. That he is talking of the "Revolution." Many times subject talked of a coming "Revolution" in this country, when fire, blood, famine and pestilence would be the common lot. Informant had listened to these harangues merely for the entertainment they afforded him, and had received the impression from subject's talk that these things were to happen as a part of the Divine plan rather than being motivated by human agencies.

However, on a date that informant fixes rather definitely as during the last week in the month of July last, he had a conversation in which he told subject that he, informant, was going to leave the employ of Hogle & Co., and subject asked him if informant intended to go.
ALBERT GOLTZ, Murray, Utah. Bomb explosion, N. Y. City.
September 16th, 1920.

At Seattle, Washington:

On the evening of this date, WILLIAM E. KELLY, married, living at the corner of 21st Ave. and 4th Streets, Seattle, and employed as an accountant at the Bank of California, 2nd Ave. and Columbia Sts., Seattle, came to the Bureau office and made the following statement:

For approximately one year preceding the 7th day of August of this year informant was employed as a bond salesman by the firm of J. HOGLE & COMPANY, 169 Main St., Salt Lake City, Utah, which firm is a broker in securities. During this term of employment he became acquainted with subject, who is of German birth though believed to have been naturalized. He describes subject as somewhere about fifty-five to sixty years of age, an unusually short man—very little over five feet in height—strongly built, blue or gray eyes; wears bow spectacles; lives with his family consisting of wife, two sons, and one daughter, the daughter being the eldest, probably about twenty-two or twenty three years of age. Informant does not know whether the daughter is employed or not, nor does he know her given name. The elder of the two sons, also named ALBERT is about twenty-one years of age and was employed a little over a year ago as a waiter at the ALTA CLUB in Salt Lake City. Leaving there he entered the employ of HOGLE & COMPANY as an office boy, and remained with them until two or three months ago. The other son is about fifteen or sixteen years of age and works for the Western Union Telegraph Company in Salt Lake City, as a messenger. His given name is:... from the sea coast cities and SPECIFICALLY to stay away from the coast cities of the East. Informant has the impression that subject said that Seattle was "all right" for him to go to.

At the time informant did not think enough of the matter to inquire why he should stay away from the coast, and the conversation did not recur to him, that he recalls, until the explosion of yesterday in New York. He states, though, that on this occasion the conversation was of a casual nature, and subject had not been "expounding" to him, and there was no occasion that he can see why subject should make the statement.

During one of the many conversations in which subject had referred to the "Revolution" informant asked him whether this was to happen next day, next year, or a hundred years hence, and was told by subject that it would happen between that time and the first of next year. (1921).

Informant is positive in his statement that he never heard subject attack the government of the United States directly, or make statements that informant would consider disloyal. Of subject's antecedents, informant is not advised except that subject told him that he worked most of his life in the coal mines; that he had worked in the coal mines in Germany, and in various parts of the United States, including Utah. Informant thinks subject a poorly educated man, if not illiterate. He has the impression that subject has lived in Utah about fifteen years, though he cannot recall anything at this time on which this impression can be based.

This agent does not believe that this information is of any value but records it on the theory that in this matter the "millionth" chance should not be overlooked.

Closed at Seattle.
Referring to letter received from Division Superintendent Spencer, directing that we send to Washington immediately a resume of the reports in this office in re: WALL STREET EXPLOSION, I have to report that this office has very little information on this subject, and the only information of value is contained in Agent Ramsdell’s reports of 9/21/20; 9/22/20; 9/23/20; and 4/26/21 entitled "ROMOLO BACARID," and report of 5/31/21, entitled "WALL STREET EXPLOSION." All of these reports were rewritten recently and sent to Washington and same are now in the hands of Mr. Hoover.

The last time I was in Washington I was told by Mr. Hoover to read over these reports and interview Ramsdell, which I did. He is still of the opinion there is something to his reports and has told me that it might not be out of order to place an undercover Italian informant in the restaurant located at 216 Center Street, of Anarchists Scranton, Pa., which he said was the headquarters in that section. He stated this informant could get rooms on the south side, Scranton, where most of these anarchists live, in the vicinity of Breck and Prospect streets. He also stated that the informant could probably gather some information from CHIODUNA’S RESTAURANT, 210 Franklin.
Street. He said that CHIODUNA is still somewhere in Scranton, and that informant could start conversation with the anarchists by talking of LEGGI, who was sentenced under the Draft Act, CHIODUNA is probably living in the 500 block on Breck Street, South Side. Ramsdell stated he could get a photograph of him; that the County Detective in Scranton has a photograph.

Ramsdell also stated that he knows the names of four men in Scranton, who are friends of CHIODUNA and would willingly help him, and that it would not be safe to allow the police of Scranton to know anything about such an undercover investigation there as it was they who mixed the case up the last time.

RAMSDELL states that CHIODUNA made the statement that the body that was in the morgue the day after the explosion might be his friend JULIO and, at the same time, it is reported, that CHIODUNA asked another fellow if he would go to New York with him to see the body because the last time he (Chioduna) heard from JULIO he was in Paterson, New Jersey.

Ramsdell's reports also show that there was a meeting held prior to the Wall Street Explosion, at which a bomb that had been made was demonstrated.

Title and Character of Case:

WALL STREET EXPLOSION - New York City.

Facts Developed:

AT PITTSBURGH, PA.

Summary Report

Reference is made to a letter from the Director of the Bureau, initialed GFR, dated September 28th, ult., which requests that a detailed resume of any information in the files of the several offices of this Division covering the WALL STREET EXPLOSION be forwarded to the Bureau at Washington.

The following report covers investigation made by the Pittsburgh office in connection with this matter. It may be classified under three heads: Type Used in Printing Leaflets - Frank Brancozi and Mario Bovo - Miscellaneous.

Type Used in Printing Leaflets.

This investigation was based on a letter from Acting Agent in Charge at New York, T. H. Reddy, initialed CJS, dated October 13th, 1930. Mr. Reddy sent a set of rubber stamps of a type similar to that used in printing the leaflets found at the time of the explosion to the Pittsburgh office, and stated that Director Fynn instructed that a canvass be made of the entire Pittsburgh district for the purpose of ascertaining whether any stationer or dealer could recall having sold a similar set of stamps to any person during the past six months.
This matter was referred to Special Agent Tatoom for investigation, the results of which are fully covered in his report for October 15, 16, 18 and 19, 1920. Agent Tatoom found that the R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Springfield, Mass., was the sole manufacturer of these stamps, which were protected by copyright, catalogued as Number 0, and bear the trade name "The Easy" Sign Marker. It is manufactured at two prices, one being priced at $3.30, the other at $1.95. The more expensive set is provided with two tubes of ink, one red and the other black, and a patented rule for purposes of alignment, both sets carrying instructions printed in four languages other than English. These markers are the oldest on the market and the most expensive.

JAS, H. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, 431 Fifth Ave. and 3942 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, are sole agents for the R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY in this district, and have been for years. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, however, had not sold a set of stamps of similar style for fourteen months preceding Agent Tatoom's report, although the latter was advised by W.M. SMITH, an expert in the employ of the MATTHEWS COMPANY that any person sending a mail order to the SMITH COMPANY would secure the stamps direct.

In order to verify the statement of MATTHEWS & COMPANY that they were the sole agents for the SMITH COMPANY in this district, Agent Tatoom covered all the firms in Pittsburgh handling type of this nature, but was informed that the firms in question could not supply the exact type as used in the circulars. This would seem to verify the statement that MATTHEWS & COMPANY are the sole local agents.
In his report above mentioned Agent Tatoom requested that Acting Agent in Charge Reddy, of New York, ascertain from R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY if, in fact, the SMITH COMPANY had sold similar stamps to anyone in this district except MATTHEWS & COMPANY, above mentioned; I find no reply in the file to this request of Agent Tatoom.

In closing his report, Agent Tatoom calls attention to three points. First, that the alignment of the printing in the leaflets is not perfect, which would lead him to believe that the leaflets were printed from a set of type of a cheaper grade, $1.95, as it does not appear the cheaper set supplies a rule for alignment as does the more expensive set at $3.20.

Second, that on one leaflet "Remember" is spelled "Rememer" and on the other "Remenber", which would lead him to believe they were not printed by the same person. This mistake occurs again in the spelling of the word "prisoner"; on one leaflet being spelled "prisoner" and on the other leaflet "prisoners".

Further, Agent Tatoom calls attention to the fact that on one circular the words "political" and "of" are spelled in small letters with the exception of a large "C" in "political" and a large "F" in "of".

A perusal of Agent Tatoom's report, above referred to, is suggested as it is short and to the point.

For the information of the Bureau a pamphlet of the JAS. H. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, showing "The Easy" Sign Marker (page three) is enclosed in order that the discussion on the style of type used in the leaflets may be followed more intelligently.
FRANK BRANCAZI and MARIO BOVO.

This investigation was based on a report of Special Agent O. J. Scully, dated New York City, October 11th, 1920, which stated in substance that on the date mentioned Special Agents Tucker and Scully met a confidential informant, name not given, at the latter's telephonic request, who advised that RALPH D'MEGLIO, a friend of informant and an Italian and former classmate of informant in Africa, had given some information in reference to the WALL STREET EXPLOSION; that D'MEGLIO was a fugitive from justice, being wanted on a charge of murderous assault, and while hiding out at 34 President Street and 154 Novins Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., had met four Italians at 34 President Street through the proprietor of the latter address, said Italians having come in to secrete a number of pistols. FRANK BRANCAZI and MARIO BOVO were two of the Italians, the identity of the other two being unknown to D'MEGLIO. These Italians remained at the President Street address throughout the afternoon, and in the course of the conversation BOVO exhibited a letter he had received from BRANCAZI, the substance of which was to the effect that something must be done "for our existence", and that all four Italians spoke of a mysterious mission, but did not disclose character of same.

D'MEGLIO, wishing to remain under cover, did not offer to assist the other Italians, but two days later met said Italians, at a point not given by D'MEGLIO, and the Italians stated to D'MEGLIO in speaking of the EXPLOSION that it was a good job, but a bigger one would occur next time.

Agents Tucker and Scully then brought D'MEGLIO to the office of Director Flynn, where he was questioned and verified the story told by __________ with the exception that he, D'MEGLIO, met BOVO one day before he met BRANCAZI. The latter resided at Watertown, Pa. his Post Office Box being #25, and BOVO was believed to be living with him. __________ was then instructed by the New York office to remain with D'MEGLIO until such time as the Pittsburgh office could make an investigation, and a telegram, embodying substantially the facts as above set forth was sent to the Pittsburgh office.

Special Agent Ames, of the Pittsburgh office, being detailed to this investigation, located both BRANCAZI and BOVO at Waterman, Pa., Post Office Box #25, and ascertained the following facts:

BRANCAZI is employed at the Waterman Mine, check #711, description: Age, 35 or 40 years; smooth face; height, 5'7 or 2"; complexion, dark; hair, black; nationality, Italian; speaks fairly good English. He did not work on the following dates in September, 1920 - 8th, 9th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd and 23rd. It will thus appear that he was at work on September 16th, the date of the EXPLOSION.

MARIO BOVO, aged about 33, 6 ft., smooth face, black mustache, black hair, tan complexion, address Post Office Box #35, Waterman, Pa., is employed by the Snyder Mine of the Brush Creek Coal
Co., check #392; started to work at Snyder Mine on September 38th, 1920.

Through confidential sources, translations of letters received by both of these Italians were secured for a month or six weeks after Agent Ames began his investigation. It appeared from these letters that both BRANCAZI and BOVO were members of the I.W.W., but nothing appeared which would in any way connect them with the WALL STREET EXPLOSION. They were never interrogated by Agents of this office; however, for the information of the Bureau it appears that the Italians, above mentioned, were in correspondence with the following persons:

FRANCESCO ROMO, 60 Gilchrist St., Jersey City, N.J.

1001 West Madison Ave., Chicago, Ill. (I.W.W. headquarters from which El Politeriate, an I.W.W. Italian publication, is sent out.)

G. CANATTA, who sent copies of El Politeriate from Chicago headquarters to BRANCAZI.

GIOVANNI BALDASSI, 123 West 15th St., New York City. (Baldassi received ten years during the I.W.W. trial at Chicago, and was cut on appeal when the above letter was written.)

FILLIPO, R.F.D. #239, Lilly, Pa.

PIETRI CARULLO, 38 President St., Brooklyn, N.Y. (In this letter it appears Carullo may be working in conjunction with BOVO to manufacture and sell alcoholic spirits.)

FRANK ALVAN, Box #440, Bellingham, Washington.

G. MANGANO, 33 Carroll St., Brooklyn, N.Y. (Suggests that BRANCAZI form an I.W.W. Local #900 at Waterman, Pa.)

Under date of January 11th, 1921, Agent in Charge Hanrahan, Boston, per W.J.W., wrote a letter to Agent in Charge McKean, Pittsburgh, stating that he had learned from a confidential source that FRANK BRANCAZI had been corresponding with ALDINO FELICANI, the Italian anarchist leader of Boston, and on December 20th, 1920, BRANOZI had forwarded FELICANI $100.00 by money order #42269, serial #94136, and wrote as follows:

"Dear Feliciani,

Having read in the "Proletario" and other newspaper the cowardly and criminal frameup of this dirty society having for its object to cut the existence of our two best comrades, Sacco and Vanzetti. We have constituted in Homer City a sub-committee in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti and have collected among the comrades $157.35 which I enclose hereewith.

Fraternal regards. Yours for the cause."

MISCELLANEOUS.

A check was made of the radicals of the Pittsburgh district to ascertain who was absent from this district on September 16th, but no known radicals of anarchistic tendencies were out of town.

FLORIAN ZELENEK. On October 7th, 1920, subject was arrested at the St. Charles Hotel, Pittsburgh, by the local police for having in his possession a number of sticks of dynamite and some fuse. It was later turned over to this Department and after a thorough investigation both here and at New York City, where ZELENEK formerly lived, it appeared conclusively that this boy was a miner and had obtained the dynamite in West Virginia while mining and had brought some of it through to Pittsburgh, as it is not unusual with miners when they move from place to place. The story that he told when interrogated by this office was absolutely frank, and after a thorough proved to be truthful in every way. On this account, no further details will be given unless the Bureau so desires.
If you are of the opinion that the WALL STREET EXPLOSION was in any way connected with the GALLIANI GROUP, it might be pertinent to consider the following phases of the bomb explosions of June 2nd, 1919.

On that occasion the house opposite the home of Immigration Inspector in Charge W.W. Sibray was bombed. As the telephone book, through error, placed Mr. Sibray's house on the spot where the bombed house stood there is little doubt that the attempt was made against Inspector Sibray. The only resident of this district, according to Mr. Sibray, who had a motive against him, was one E. GROPPPI, Box 84, Gallatin, Pa., who was later deported, and at the time of the explosions was out on bail pending deportation. GROPPPI had a wife and two children and was very bitter on account of his pending deportation.

The leader of the Italian anarchists at Gallatin, Pa., is one ARTHUR CALVANI, who on one occasion was overheard by an Italian girl, about 13 years of age, to say in discussing GROPPPI'S deportation that the latter should not be deported and that he, CALVANI, and his group would stick behind GROPPPI at all events.

Shortly after the explosions, GROPPPI was taken into custody by Agent Ames, of this Department, and a search was made of both his person and his house. Among the literature found in his house was the pamphlet entitled "LA NOSTRA VIOLENZA (Our Violence), edited and published by IL CIRCOLA DI STUDI SOCIALI, West Hoboken, N.J., and my letter addressed to you, dated June 19th, 1919, I quoted some excerpts from this pamphlet, which were of the worst character possible. The pamphlet, itself, was also forwarded to you. On page five, t the heading: "Self-Defenses of RAVACHOL, EMILIO HENRY, GEORGE ETIEVANT, Before the Criminal Court of Seinne", appears the following preamble:

"The Society contains within itself the germs of all the crimes being perpetrated. It is the society which prepares them and the culprit is nothing but an executive instrument. Every social state supports a certain number and a certain order of crimes, resulting as a necessary consequence, from its organization."

PAGE 7.

Speaks of the bombing of the house of Judge Benoit and Attorney General Éluot, both of Paris, France.

Other excerpts are given in my letter, above mentioned, which will not be quoted here.

Special Agent Stroud, of the Milwaukee office, had formerly advised me that during his investigation of the bomb explosion in the Police Station at Milwaukee, which killed eleven policemen and detectives, he was firmly of the opinion that this bomb was planted by members of IL CIRCOLO DI STUDI SOCIALI.

Of course these references are very general, but they are in as a background to the study of various bomb explosions which you will perhaps make in connection with the WALL STREET EXPLOSION.

CONFIDENTIAL

Mr. W. J. Burns,
Director, Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

Reference is had to your letter dated September 28, 1921, initialed GFR, which was transmitted to me in Division Superintendent Gus T. Jones' letter of October 1, initialed GTJ, and which had reference to forwarding you immediately detailed resume of any information which I may have in the files of this Office, covering investigation of any "leads" on the Wall Street Explosion.

You are respectfully advised that there were no investigations and consequently no file was accumulated with reference to this explosion; and I therefore have no information in my files to furnish you with.

Yours truly,

T. B. Battle
Special Agent in Charge.

Referring to letter received from Division Superintendent Spencer, directing that we send to Washington immediately a resume of the reports in this office in re: WALL STREET EXPLOSION, I have to report that this office has very little information on this subject, and the only information of value is contained in Agent Randoll's reports of 9/21/20; 9/22/20; 9/23/20, and 9/26/21 entitled "ROMEO DACARIE," and report of 9/31/21, entitled "WALL STREET EXPLOSION."

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, SEPTEMBER 16, 1920. - RESULT: ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

FACTS DEVELOPED:
AT CHICAGO.

DATE 9/25/21 BY 59526/45

Agent being assigned to prepare a detailed resume of all information contained in the files of this Bureau Office covering investigation on the Wall Street Explosion, submits herewith the following report:

The above entitled subject matter was called to the attention of this Bureau Office in a Bureau telegram dated September 16, 1920, wherein it was requested to communicate with all informants with a view to endeavoring to secure information on this matter. Agent LOUBL, under date of September 16, 1920, submitted a report that all under cover informants and the bomb squad of the Chicago Police Department were advised to endeavor to locate leading anarchist agitators and to check on their activities and recent movements.

On September 27, 1920, former Director FLYNN wired instructions to locate and cover one "DOLLO-DODDA," well known I.W.W. agitator. A resume of the investigation conducted and still in progress in this matter, was prepared by agent THOS. P. KIMBER of this office in accordance with instructions contained in Bureau letter dated Sept. 21, initialed CFR-M.P., and forwarded to Washington on October 1, 1921.

Under date of October 10, 1920, a set of rubber type was sent to this office by the New York office, and a letter of the same date, stating that the set of rubber type was similar to that used in making up the anarchist circulars found in the vicinity of Wall Street at the time of the explosion, and requesting that an investigation be made in this division to ascertain whether the stamps were purchased within this division. Agent 0.18 submitted his report on this investigation on October 20, 1920. During the investigation, 35 concerns were called upon and interviewed, i.e., 4 type founders, 20 rubber stamp and stencil makers and 11 stationary concerns. The name of the manufacturer of this sample set of rubber type was ascertained and his local representative interviewed. The stock of this local concern was checked off since January 1, 1920 and the disposition of the six sets of rubber type which the concern carried on stock, ascertained and verified. Interviews with the other stamp concerns disclosed that no such set of rubber type or ones reasonably similar thereto, were kept on stock or disposed of by them.

A report by Agent D.D. DICKSON of the Butte office, dated October 21, 1920, shows that an investigation was made at the drug stores at Butte, Mont., to ascertain the amount of sales of Picric Acid Cause during July and August. The investigation was proceeded by advise from an anonymous informant at Butte, that 4 boxes of Picric Acid Cause were sold during the above mentioned period. It developed later that the amount sold was 4 boxes only, the investigation failed to bring to light any material facts.

Between the period of November 4, 1920 and December 16, 1920, a correspondence ensued between this and the Boston office, showing that one ALDINO BELICANI, a noted anarchist at Boston, Mass., was corresponding with S. BERNADELLI, 20 Lapio Street, this city.

Under date of November 16, 1920, former Director FLYNN forwarded to this office a memorandum with the names and addresses of 12 concerns in this division, who have purchased blasting gelatine of the Asta Explosives Co., between March 1 and September 15, 1920; it was requested to check up those firms to ascertain if their supply can be accounted for. A summary of the investigations made by the Chicago and St. Paul offices was submitted to the department and also to former Director FLYNN at New York, by Agent Leobl on December 15, 1921, and a report by Agent MAHIS covering his investigation at Milwaukee, on December 16, 1920. The explosives used by the concerns named in the memorandum, were accounted for as having been used for blasting salamanders, for mining purposes, for well drilling and blowing of stumps on farms.

Under date of October 27, 1920, a bureau letter was received enclosing photostat copy of an anonymous communication referring to a certain conversation which the writer overheard and which referred to the Wall Street explosion. Agent A.G. MAHIS of this office investigated this matter and ring report thereon under date of Nov. 19, 1920. No information was secured.

Agent H.C. LEWIS of the New York office under date of Oct., 6, 1920, reported of an interview with JOSUT SACHS, a suspect, in describing his movements during the month of September, 1920. Sachs stated that he spent certain days in Chicago on certain business matters. Agent CEBL investigated and verified this statement, rendering his report thereof under date of November 10, 1921.

Former Director HANNI, under date of December 17, 1920, requested this office to check up on a certain shipment of blasting gelatine consigned to one AMES at Olivet, S.D. This letter was transmitted to the Kansas City office for investigation on December 20.

Agent HANNI of the Sioux Falls office reported on this matter under date of January 5, 1921, showing that AMES accounted for 28 lbs. of dynamite but was unable to do so relative to 50 lbs., which he claimed were stolen from his farm by unknown persons. Agent HANNI subsequently re-interviewed AMES as to the 50 lbs of dynamite but could secure no satisfactory information. This was reported on by Agent HANNI under date of January 24, 1921. In a third report, dated March 21, 1921, Agent HANNI set forth that AMES was under grave suspicion of being an associate of two other men who attempted to blow up the dam across the James river near Olivet, S.D., in January 1921, and again in June, 1921.

Agent HANNI stated in this report that it was very much in evidence that the 50 lbs of dynamite, to which this report referred, have been used by AMES in his attempt to blow up the dam. Agent HANNI concluded this report by stating that the Sheriff of Hutchinson County, S.D., started an investigation under the State Syndicalist law and had set March 28, 1921, as the date for a "John Doe" proceeding in this matter.

Bureau letter dated December 21, 1921, submitted translation of a letter from one JOE BANDA, Benld, Ill., to one EDMO ALICIA, HI, both anarchists.
report from agent W.J. NEILL of the Detroit office, dated January 11, 1921, showed that one CONSTANTINO SANHEZCO, Italian anarchist of Detroit, Mich., was corresponding with B. B. MACNELL, 20 Laflin street, Chicago, Ill. Information has also been received from the Boston office under date of March 31, 1921, to the effect that one ANICO DUMAG, 70, Ua., Secretary of the Sacco-Vanzetti Defense in this city was corresponding with ADDINO AMIGIANI, anarchist of Boston, Mass.

Under date of April 26, 1921, former director N. J. F. sent telegraphic information to this office that in August 1920, a shipment of explosives was alleged to have been made from Omaha to Chicago by express to Gaetano Figro and John Carleton; that the package was reshipped to New York or vicinity; that in November or thereabouts, incense was and John Sellisco left Omaha to visit Frank Sattile at 725 28th st. Chicago, instructions were given this office to investigate this matter; the subsequent investigation of agent Oعالم disclosed that Frank Sattile was identical with Frank Sattile, 725 28th st., this city, and that no consignment came through to any Italian here from Omaha; further investigation developed that a package was shipped by express from Chicago to New York to "Ruso" or "uso" at either 67 or 147 - 73rd st., New York City. Appropriate investigations were made by the New York office in this matter showing that the package in question was delivered at 147 73rd st., New York City, received by "John Russo", the consignor being one "Tamone" of Chicago. In the course of further investigations by the New York and Chicago offices it was finally ascertained that the package in question was received by John Ruze, a Bohemian book dealer, 347 East 73rd St., New York City, on September 3, 1920, from Ferdinand Canapé, a prominent Bohemian book dealer, 3445 7.26th St.
this city, and contained a bundle of imported books. Investigations showed that none of the parties named had the reputation of being radical.

Investigation Concluded.

As a supplement, Agent desires to note that copies of the letter of Director BURNS, to which this report refers, were sent to the St. Louis, Milwaukee, Grand Rapids and St. Paul offices of this Division, with the request of acting Division Superintendent James P. Rooney, to comply therewith immediately.
Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your circular letter of the 29th instant quoting excerpt of the Director's circular dated the 28th instant, instructing that a resume' be made of leads developed in the course of investigations of the WALL STREET EXPLOSION, in which connection, you are advised that I have nothing to report under this head as nothing of a tangible nature was developed over here.

The principal investigation covered all of the high explosive manufacturers in the State and was undertaken by agents of this district. In addition to which, it may be stated that Mr. Flynn had Agent Ahearn working over here from time to time on certain leads, principally GIUSEPPE De FELIPIS, of Bayonne, N. J., who bore a resemblance of the composite picture of the driver of the horse and wagon which was blown to pieces by the explosion. De Felipis was subsequently arrested and removed to New York. There were some investigations conducted by Mr. Ahearn, of which I have no reports as he reported direct to Mr. Flynn.

It has always been my theory that the "CRONACA SOVERSIVA" outfit, if not the principal conspirators in the Wall Street explosion, they at least took an important part in it; the motive being a reprisal for the deportation of its members, and that the operations were directed by its leader GALLEIANI in Italy.

There is a mass of correspondence, reports and evidence in this case, some of it relating to Jersey, which has been submitted to Washington from time to time and a complete resume' of the situation put in book form by this office a copy of which was submitted to Director Flynn personally, as he was handling that case himself, although copies of most of the reports were furnished the Radical Division of the New York office as well as the Bureau in Washington, and accordingly, your attention is respectfully invited to it.

Yours very truly,

FRANK R. STONE

| FACTS DEVELOPED: | At Hamilton, O. |
| Reference is made to letter from Director of the Bureau to Agent in Charge Scott; dated September 27, 1921, initialed, "GFR-MMF", and marked Confidential relative to above named subject. This agent acting under directions of Agent in Charge Scott proceeded to Hamilton, Ohio on the morning of this date and first interviewed Chief of Police CHARLES STRICKER, who stated that KINNEAR was a known burglar and had served two sentences in Mansfield, Ohio Reformatory for burglary and also served several terms previous to being sentenced to Mansfield at the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster, Ohio, for larceny. Chief STRICKER stated that the police records up to 1913, were gone as they were destroyed in the 1913 flood, but that his record in the Juvenile Court could be found at the County Clerk's office. At the County Clerk's office it was shown that CHARLES KINNEAR and WILLIAM ROGERS on October 16, 1909 broke into the store of ELIJAH DANES, 217 S. 3rd St., Hamilton, Ohio, both pleading guilty to burglary on February 25, 1910, and were given indeterminate sentences in Mansfield Ohio State Reformatory. They did not have the record showing when he was released from Mansfield Reformatory, and on January 7, 1913 KINNEAR robbed the jewelry store of L. A. BOLI, 323 High St., Hamilton, Ohio, and on February 10, 1913, he pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary, and was given an indeterminate sentence in Mansfield Ohio State Reformatory.

CHARLES KINNEAR was born at Hamilton, Ohio July 8, 1890; his father, HUDSON W. KINNEAR, is manager of the RACKET STORE, Hamilton Ohio, 20 South 3rd St., and together with his wife, DELIA KINNEAR, reside at 532 Sth Bth St., Hamilton, Ohio, and are both looked upon as reputable, law abiding and industrious people. The father, HUDSON W. KINNEAR, has been working for this RACKET STORE for a period of about thirty (30) years. A sister of CHARLES KINNEAR was also arrested at one time at Hamilton, Ohio, charged with fornication and incorrigibility, and on October 8, 1910 was sent to the Girls' School, Delaware, Ohio, and since being released from this school she has married and is now leading a respectable life.

At Cincinnati, Ohio, April 20, 1915, CHARLES KINNEAR and his wife CARRIE (alias RUBY) KINNEAR, worked the "Badger Game" on a man named O'Mear, she enticing O'MEAR to her room where they robbed him of $42.00. They were given a sentence of $25.00 and 30 days each; April 22, 1915 CHARLES KINNEAR was released to an officer of the Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, Ohio, who returned him to that institution as a parole violator. KINNEAR is known to the Police Department at Hamilton, Ohio as "PRINCE" KINNEAR, and County Detective FRANK CLEMONS, who also is acquainted with KINNEAR stated he was called a "PRINCE." as he always readily admitted the charges for which he had been arrested, and they termed him a PRINCE owing to that fact, which name he now goes by in the Police Department. His wife, who is said to be now in Cincinnati, address unknown, was known at Hamilton as the "POSTAL CARD KID". She would don short dresses and put up a hard luck story in an effort to sell postal cards.
Chief of Police STRICKER, County Detective FRANK BLOMONS, Prosecuting Attorney ISAAC BAKER, Sheriff RUDOLPH LAUBAUGH, Police Officers H. J. DULLE and E. J. RUKEY all state that they have no knowledge of where KINNEAR ever worked, as he has been in trouble ever since a small boy, and has been confined the greater part of the last eleven years in penal institutions. Agent in Charge Scott is writing a letter to the Superintendent of the Mansfield Reformatory, and also the Superintendent of the Boys' School at Lancaster, Ohio to get the dates of his release from these institutions and also his record while there. This information when received will be forwarded to the Director at Washington, and any other information that can be obtained relative to subject.

At Mansfield, Ohio:

A letter dated September 27th initialed GFR-D marked "Confidential" signed by the Director, requests that an Agent be immediately dispatched to the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield, Ohio, for the purpose of obtaining their record of subject, including his photograph and detailed description. Furthermore, that an Agent proceed immediately to Tobasco, Ohio to make further confidential investigation of the past of subject's wife.

All other Cleveland Agents being out of town, I complied with instructions in said letter and immediately proceeded to Mansfield, Ohio, where I obtained a record from A. P. SPIKER, Identification Officer at the Ohio State Reformatory, which is as follows:

This information contained on a blank furnished by the State Reformatory, together with subject's photograph taken while an inmate of the Reformatory, are forwarded to the Bureau with this report.

Reformatory, who brought out certain papers and reports made on subject which were in the record room. One of these was a clipping from a Hamilton, Ohio, newspaper, stating that subject had attempted suicide by hanging in February, 1913, while awaiting trial in the Butler County Court. There was also a letter several years old from subject's father, giving his address as W. H. KINNEAR, 431 East Ave., Hamilton, Ohio. Furthermore, there is a report of one J. P. BROWN, probably and investigator for the Reformatory, dated April 23, 1915, indicating that after subject was paroled July 15, 1914, he lived with his parents awhile; then he got married while on parole and he and his wife went to an unknown address on Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. It did seem that while living here he would inveigle men into his wife's room, and there they would become intoxicated and he and his wife's brother (name not given) would then rob them. One man complained of losing $40.00 in this manner. Because of this a charge of assault and battery, also robbery, was placed against him and his wife. The charge was later reduced to larceny to which they entered pleas of guilty, and both were sentenced to the workhouse for thirty days and given fines of $25.00.

Another record shows subject was born July 8, 1890 in Hamilton, Ohio, and served three terms in the Boys' Reform School, Lancaster, Ohio, aggregating four years. The dates when he served this time is not given. There is another paragraph in a report that states that while on parole on December 23, 1911, he broke into a jewelry store, but did not get anything. The place and date of this offense is not given. Further the report says that he has a father, mother, two brothers and two sisters, but does not give their present address.

In view of the fact that Tabasco is very near Cincinnati, Agent is sending copies of this report, together with copies of the Director's confidential letter to the Cincinnati office, for further investigation.

DATE 2/25/23 BY SP-506/100

It would appear probable that these addresses are links in the chain of the Anarchist movement. A considerable amount of Bolshevik literature was found on the two men.

Investigation of V. PUSZEVICH develops that his correct name is VICTOR PUSWICZ and he conducts a bakery at 118 OCEAN AVE., JERSEY CITY, this is a two story and basement building, which he claims to be the owner of. He was born in KALISH, Poland in the year 1894 and is married and has two children, two and four years of age... arrived in the United States during May 1914 on the S.S. "Graf Waldsee" and went to Worcester, Mass. where he remained about five days and then came to New York, where he obtained employment at REISER'S BAKERY on Eighth Ave. between 24th and 25th streets. He remained here about nine months after which he worked in numerous places until he started business for himself at the present place in Jersey City on March 12, 1921.

He is a member of the Polish Benevolent Society, which meets at 118 Grand St., Brooklyn, N.Y. on the first Saturday of each month, and is not a member of any organization or society of any other nature. He is not a citizen but just prior to starting in business he was working for a man named REUSS at 1003 Fulton St., New York City from December 15, 1920 to March 29, 1921. He is not acquainted with nor does he know MEYER MEHRING or ALEX. KRYSTAL.

His reputation in the neighborhood is of the best. His credit with the trade people with whom he does business is good. I do not believe him to be a radical of any nature. He is very anxious to become a citizen and is now applying for his first papers in Hudson County.

INVESTIGATION CLOSED.
While at Milford, Mass., where Agent proceeded on the 23rd instant in connection with other investigations, information was there received from the local postal authorities concerning radical activities displayed in that town by Italian radicals.

The assistant postmaster showed Agent a copy of each Italian radical newspaper received at that post office, together with a list of the names of the persons to whom the newspapers were addressed.

Notwithstanding the fact that SAVERIO PIESCO removed early this year to New Britain, Connecticut, where he, together with CONSTANTINO ZONCHELLO of New York City and G. De FILIPPIS of 37 Dixon Place, Brooklyn, New York, and others, had been very active in the preparation of a radical convention scheduled to be held in that city last Spring, a considerable number of radical newspapers is being delivered at his former address, 14½ Mt. Pleasant street, Milford. The newspapers delivered periodically to this address are: "GUERRA DI CLASSE" ("Class War"), a Syndicalist publication of Milan, Italy; "SPARTACO", an anarcho-communist sheet of Rome, Italy; another "SPARTACO", a Syndicalist weekly of Foggia, Italy; "LA CONQUISTA", an anarchicomunist periodical of Philadelphia, Pa.; and "IL PROLETARIO", the organ of the I. W. W. and of the Italian Syndicalist Federation of Chicago, Illinois.
Copies of "IL PROLETARIO" are sent out weekly by RAFFAELLE PIESCO, 16 Mount Pleasant street, Milford, Mass., who receives them by the dozens, to the following persons:

GIULIA MONTANARI, 20 Cohen St., Framingham, Mass.
PACOLO CANATA, 18 Cohen St., " "
A. DEL VECCHIO, 22 Bridge St., " "
DOMENICO TASSINARI, Box 79, " "
T. VITALI, 253 Waverly St., " "
NICOLA MANCINI, 253 Waverly St., " "
ANDREA DONATI, 2 Bridge St., " "
PASQUALE PAGLIA, 66 Smith St., New London, Ct.
CIRO PANTOMO, 27 Beatty St., Pawtucket, R. I.

It is to be noticed that the Milford subscribers to "IL PROLETARIO" are not included in the foregoing list, which may indicate that the copies for them are personally distributed by RAFFAELLE PIESCO.

RAFFAELLE PIESCO is also a recipient of "GUERRA DI CLASSE" and of "SPARTACO", of Foggia, Italy.

Other newspapers of radical nature shown to Agent by the assistant postmaster at Milford are: "L'AVANTII" of Milan, and "UMANITA' NOVA" of Rome, Italy.

Copies of "L'AVANTII" are addressed to FRANCESCO GIANNANTONIO, 17 Free street, Milford, Mass., while copies of "UMANITA' NOVA" are addressed to B. REBESCO, 16 Cedar St., Milford, Mass.

Facts Developed:
At New York, N.Y.

Based on letter from Director Burns, noted below, requesting this Bureau to investigate subject's present activities and also his radical connections and his interest in the final disposition of the "SACCO VANZETTI" case. My investigation disclosed the following facts:

The files show that subject is a member of the Unemployment Council, of which RUDOLPH BLOOM alias RAY BAKER, is the organizer. (Report of P-137, 8/31/21.)

Subject's name is connected with one CAPRARA, Executive member of the Communist Party, scheduled to make speeches in favor of SACCO VANZETTI. (Report of P-137, 8/31/21.)

On September 23rd I got in touch with JOSEPH SPECTA, who is now out of the Bureau and was informed that subject works in the neighborhood of 137th Street and Broadway, New York City, in a restaurant; that his home address is either 134 Sullivan Street or 214 Thompson Street, New York City; that he is a member of the Hotel Workers Union, 133 West 61st Street, N.Y.City, which is an I.W.W. organization; that he is a member of the Latin Group, which meets at 183 Bleeker St., N.Y.City.

All information contained herein is uncensored.

MARIO GIORDANO, connected with the "Ordine Nuovo", an Italian Communist Paper, published in Italy, was employed and was informed that GIORDANO does not know subject, although he has heard of him, but in what connection he could not recollect.

On September 24th, I proceeded to the P.O. Station at 158 Green Street, New York City, covering both 164 Sullivan Street and 214 Thompson Street, New York City, but subject was unknown to the carriers, nor did any removal notice appear on the book. One MARIA ORIGGI, living at 160 Sullivan Street, interviewed by me, stated she did not know subject at all.

Inquiry at the "Roma Undertaking Shop", kept by one C. ROBERTI at 168 Bleeker Street, N.Y. City, in the rear of which store the Latin Group holds its meetings, resulted in disclosing nothing of subject.

On September 26th, I visited several restaurants on Broadway in the vicinity of 137th Street, City and finally succeeded in locating subject, whom I interviewed under plausible pretext and learned the following facts:

His correct name is MARCO ORIGGIO, son of LIUGI, and Aonio ORIGGIO. Subject is a cook or waiter by occupation, living 14 Thompson Street, a native of Genoa, Italy; immigrated to the United States about 9 years ago. During the war he served as a cook, for 2 years and a half, on board the "SS. Western Queen", a Shipping Board, from which service he was honorably discharged. He has not made application for full citizen papers, and he claims to be in possession of the first papers and feels entitled to the full papers for having served in the Navy. He is now married and works as a waiter at Liberty Restaurant, 3 Hamilton Place, near Broadway and 166th Street, N.Y. City. In the course of our conversation, hold in the Italian language, I asked him in English, "why I could not get any information about his whereabouts, either at the P.O. covering his residence or at 163 Bleeker Street." MARCO ORREGGIA answered in a very understandable English, something like this: "It means that the Postal Authorities have no up-to-date list of the people to whom they deliver mail, for I got letters, both from the United States and from Italy. As to the 163 Bleeker Street I don't know whether the Undoe maker knows me, but I often frequent that place."

A description of subject is as follows. Age about 30, dark hair, smooth shaven, height 5ft 6 in., 12 eyes black, weight 145 lbs. He appears to be a clear talker with some education.

STATEMENT OF WILLIAM A. O'NEILL, SPECIAL OFFICER, BANK OF AMERICA, 44 WALL STREET.

O'Neill stated to agents Burke and Matthews that on Thursday, Sept. 16th, he left the Bank of Commerce, 46 Wall Street and proceeded West on North side of Wall Street and that as he approached the Assay office he saw standing in front of same a one-horse open express wagon, with stave or racks on sides. That this wagon was a dark greyish color. About the middle of the wagon he noticed quite a large box. That this box was about two feet long and about 16 inches wide and from eight to ten inches deep. The box reminded him of a ketchup box. The wagon appeared old and ricketty. Its wheels were reddish stripes. The horse was dark in color and looked old. O'Neill noticed under the seat of the wagon what appeared to be canvas rolled up. The seat of this wagon stood about two feet from the body of same and was of a collapsible character. At the time of the explosion, O'Neill was on Wall Street in front of the Bankers Trust, returning to his place of employment. He was blown to the sidewalk by the explosion.

Statement of J. J. Dobbyn, Manager Hollister Lynn & Walton, 7 Wall Street, N.Y. City.

He states that on the day of the accident he had noticed a wagon with a bay horse just outside of the Assay Office and what attracted his attention particularly was the contrasting color of the wagon, the body of the wagon appearing to be a maroon brown or red. He was unable to give the definite color from the distance he was at. This wagon, he states, must have been standing there for an hour or more. He had occasion to look out of the window at different times during the period from 11 to 12 o'clock. He further stated that during all this time the wagon was un-attended.

J. S. Johnson, Spec. Agent
Street. He said that CHIODUNA is still somewhere in Scranton, and that informant could start conversation with the anarchists by talking of LEGGI, who was sentenced under the draft act. CHIODUNA is probably living in the 500 block on Breck Street, South Side. Ramsdell stated he could get a photograph of him; that the County Detective in Scranton has a photograph.

Ramsdell also stated that he knows the names of four men in Scranton, who are friends of CHIODUNA and would willingly help him, and that it would not be safe to allow the police of Scranton to know anything about such an undercover investigation there as it was they who mixed the case up the last time.

Ramsdell states that CHIODUNA made the statement that the body that was in the morgue the day after the explosion might be his friend, JULIO, and, at the same time, it is reported, that CHIODUNA asked another fellow if he would go to New York with him to see the body because the last that he (Chioduna) heard from JULIO he was in Paterson, New Jersey.

Ramsdell's reports also show that there was a meeting held prior to the Wall Street Explosion, at which meeting a bomb that had been made was demonstrated.

RE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

Dear Sir:

Adverting to your letter dated September 28th, 1921, initialed GFR:O'S, in reference to the above matter, I beg to advise that I have just received a communication from FRANKLIN L. DODGE, Agent in Charge of the Grand Rapids office, stating that his office has no record of any investigation made on the Wall Street explosion.

It appears that Agent Dodge, apparently through inadvertance, failed to forward this information to you direct, as he was instructed.

Yours very truly,

Acting Division Superintendent.
With reference to Division Superintendent Brennan's letter above mentioned, also to letter of Director Burns dated Washington, D.C. September 28th, 1921, requesting a detailed resume of the information developed by investigations in this district in connection with the WALL STREET EXPLOSION, the following summary is submitted:

On the night of September 16th, 1920, the date of the WALL STREET EXPLOSION, telephone communication was received from the Bureau advising that one EDWIN P. FISHER had been arrested in Hamilton, Ontario, by the local police there and was being held on a technical charge of insanity; that on or about September 6, 1920, FISHER had been talking with one JULIAN MYRICK of 38 Nassau Street, New York City, relative to dynamite for use on a farm; that later it was alleged that FISHER told people in Toronto that he was going to kill three or four millionaires; that FISHER was formerly employed as a clerk by the French Commission in New York City and directed that Agents be immediately sent to Canada for the purpose of questioning FISHER in regard to his different conversations, to trace his movements previous to his arrest and to obtain all information he may have had which might implicate him or any of his associates with the New York explosion.

Agents Buchanan and Creighton left Buffalo on the first train for Canada and after locating FISHER in the Hamilton city jail, interrogated him closely and to great extent in regard to his conversations with various persons in the United States and Canada. He was also questioned thoroughly in regard to all his movements and activities previous to his arrest (see detailed report of Agent W. L. Buchanan, Buffalo, New York, for September 21, 1920, copy of which is on file in the New York city office as well as in the Bureau at Washington).

On Sunday, September 19, 1920, Agents learned that Messrs. McCoy and O'Hara, detectives from the New York Police Department, were in Hamilton with a subpoena for the purpose of bringing FISHER to New York. Arrangements were then made by Agent Buchanan with the Supervising Special Agent in Charge of the Canadian Immigration Service to release FISHER in the custody of him, (Buchanan), to be taken by him across the border into the United States. On arrival at Buffalo, New York, FISHER was turned over to the New York police officers for removal to that city. Pursuant to instructions from Division Superintendent Lamb, Agent Buchanan accompanied FISHER and the New York police officers to New York City. On arrival there, FISHER was taken to Police Headquarters and questioned by Commissioner Enright, Inspector Coughlin and others, in the presence of Agent Buchanan. FISHER was afterwards taken to the office of the District Attorney for New York County and questioned, but Agent Buchanan was not permitted to be present at this interview. As directed by Division Superintendent Lamb, Agent Buchanan remained in the office of the New York District Attorney until after the interview, when FISHER was taken to the Bellevue Hospital and committed to the Phychotherapy Ward for examination.

While in New York City on October 11th, 1920, for a conference, I was informed by Director Flynn that immediately after the explosion, pamphlets were found in the mail box on Wall Street, signed "American Anarchists", printed with a certain kind of rubber stamp. A set of these stamps were furnished me and I was directed to have the Agents in this district make a thorough investigation of all places selling rubber stamps with a view of determining where these stamps were obtained. Agents from this office investigated 522 places in this District where rubber stamps were sold and aside from learning that these stamps were made by the Easy and Economy sign makers, of Springfield, Mass., no further tangible evidence was obtained.

On October 11th, while in New York City, Agent C. J. Scully handed me a memorandum stating that GAETANO CARUSO, an Italian resident of Corona, Long Island, had been arrested in that city charged with robbery at Waterbury, Connecticut, and that in his effects a letter was found dated May 6th, 1919, from #73 Cumberland Street, Rochester, N.Y., signed "Vera", stating that she was working as a Cashier in Rochester; that the comrades had to meet on a Sunday to discuss the affair of fifty dollars for Ferrari. It was stated that she had not heard from SBERNA, that no one was present except STEFFELLO. The memorandum also stated that a search of the residence of CARUSO was made and a number of small boxes containing firecrackers were found and that said boxes were labeled "made in Rochester, New York", etc. Eleven names of Italians with Rochester addresses were also found among CARUSO'S effects.

Agents from this office made every effort to locate the person signing herself "Vera", at #73 Cumberland Street, Rochester, New York, without avail. It was learned, however, that the Cumberland Street address was a building containing several apartments which were occupied by persons with "shady" reputations and that an Italian girl named ROSE NARDI had formerly lived there. Upon investigating further it was learned that ROSE NARDI was employed as a waitress at the Seneca Hotel, Rochester, New York; that she was living with an Italian who kept a poolroom on North Clinton Street, Rochester, N.Y.; that she is a radical and associated with a number of Anarchists now meeting weekly at the Labor Lyceum, commonly known as Dynamite Hall, Rochester, New York. Investigation failed to show any connection directly or indirectly between the NARDI girl and CARUSO. In connection with the investigation of CARUSO, the eleven Italians whose names were found among his effects were investigated and it was learned that while CARUSO had been in Rochester some of them were found to have been friends or acquaintances of his. However, no further connection of a definite nature was established. Investigation was also made in connection with all manufacturers of fireworks in Rochester, New York, but none could be found using boxes or cartons of any kind, labeled "made in Rochester, N.Y."

On December 27th, 1920, Agent in Charge Reddy of the New York office notified this office that one JOHN T. SHANNON of Buffalo New York, had made statements to Agent Richard I. Maher of the New York office, to the effect that the morning after the WALL STREET EXPLOSION, an Italian by the name of BENNY CARRO arrived in Buffalo from New York City and that SHANNON overheard CARRO inform two other Italians that he had left New York City about one and one-half hours after the explosion had occurred; that the Government men in Park Row were up in the air about it and that if they knew what he did about the explosion, the matter would be cleared up quickly. Thorough investigation of this matter was made by the writer and Agents of this office and it was learned that SHANNON who was formerly taxi driver and informant for the Prohibition Enforcement Bureau in Buffalo, N.Y. had a grudge against CARRO, who is a Buffalo Italian employed as investigator for the Van Dyke Taxi-cab Company, for which SHANNON formerly worked and that SHANNON'S story was made up of whole cloth. SHANNON has since been indicted for bribery and has a very bad reputation. It is also suspected that he is of unsound mind.
About one hundred alleged Anarchists, mostly of foreign birth, the greater number of whom were Italians, whose names and addresses were furnished this office by the New York office and other sources, were thoroughly investigated throughout this District with a view of ascertaining their whereabouts on or about the time the explosion occurred in New York City, without obtaining any definite connection with the affair. Investigation shows, however, that a number of the above named Italians are connected with the Saversiva group of Boston, Massachusetts, and that they are now meeting secretly once a week in Rochester, New York. Two of this Anarchistic group, SALVATORE SOLOMONE and LUIGI QUERCIA were arrested in Rochester, New York, by the local police about the time the attempt was made to blow up the residence of Attorney General Palmer in Washington, D.C., while they were sticking up leaflets signed/"American Anarchists". They were sentenced to six months in the Monroe County jail for this offense and afterwards arrested upon deportation warrants by the local Immigration Inspector at Rochester, N.Y. He recommended deportation after the hearing, but the warrants were afterwards cancelled by Assistant Secretary of Labor Post, and they are still in Rochester.

In addition to the foregoing, information has been received at the office from local sources stating that certain persons might have knowledge of the perpetrators of the explosion, all of which were thoroughly investigated without result.

The above report covers practically all of the investigation made in this District in this case.
At Lakeville, Minnesota:

In accordance with the Director's letter referred to, investigation was made in the above entitled matter. Reference is also made to reports of Agent Gerald P. Murphy, Saint Paul, for August 8th, and September 28th, and Bureau File 38-134-4 and 38-134-9.

Agent called at the First National Bank, Lakeville, Minnesota, and found that Soren P. Williamson, the husband of Mrs. S. P. Williamson, formerly had an account in this bank. The bank account was commenced with a deposit of four hundred ($400.00) dollars in November, 1915. In November 1917, this savings account was increased to six hundred ($600) dollars and later to eight hundred ($800) dollars and the entire sum was withdrawn on May 5th, 1920, and the account closed. No other deposits were made since that time.

This information was secured from Cashier Roach. Mr. Roach has known Soren P. Williamson and wife ever since they came to Lakeville, Minnesota, some twelve or thirteen years ago, and spoke highly of both Williamson and his wife as honest, industrious people.

Mr. Roach said that Williamson withdrew his money from the bank to buy a small plot of land near Lakeville, on which they are now living.

Agent next interviewed Postmaster Rowan and ascertained that no other mail has come through the Post Office for either Mrs.
WILLIAMSON or her husband since September 27th, when Agent Murphy was last at Lakeville, Minnesota, and the letter referred to by Agent Murphy in his last report was the only piece of mail that went through his post-office after August 6th, 1921.

Agent went to the home of Mrs. WILLIAMSON and interviewed her at length under the pretext that Agent was a parole officer from the Iowa State Penitentiary. She was very willing to discuss the subject of her brother's record since he has been in the United States.

Her brother ALFRED LARSEN was born April 1st, 1887, in Odder, Denmark, and he came to this country in 1905. Her husband came about a year later and she herself came to this country in 1909. Her brother came to Lakeville and visited with her husband before her arrival. Her brother worked for different farmers in that vicinity for a few months, then went to Minneapolis, and from there to Iowa and Nebraska. She did not see him, nor did she hear from him for a number of years. She first heard from him when he was in the Iowa State Penitentiary at Anamosa, Iowa. This was sometime in 1917, and he had been in the penitentiary a year and a half or more before he wrote to her or before she knew that he was serving time. Her brother asked her to assist him by having him deported to Denmark. She did this and communicated with the Immigration officers in Saint Louis, Mo. He was ordered deported and was about to leave for Denmark. She ascertained the approximate date he was to sail and advised her parents in Denmark when they could expect him in Copenhagen. She did not learn of his escape from Ellis Island until her parents advised her that he did not reach their home at Hasselager. She then made inquiry of the Immigration authorities at Ellis Island, and was advised that he had escaped from Ellis Island on August 30th, 1919.

She did not again hear from her brother until some time in April, 1921, when she received two telegrams from an attorney named COLIER, Oakland, California. In these telegrams Attorney COLIER asked her to send him five hundred ($500.00) dollars, saying that her brother was in serious trouble. Shortly afterwards she received a letter from her brother, who was then in the Alameda County Jail, California, and he continued to write her from that time until his trial and conviction. She has not heard from him since he entered the Folsom Penitentiary in California.

She states that the only times she has ever seen him since he has been in the United States were on two occasions when she visited him at the Iowa State Penitentiary. She never received any letters from him except during the time he was in the Iowa State Penitentiary, and during the time he was in the Alameda County Jail in California. Inquiry was made as to whether he did not communicate with her through a courier or through some other person, but she denies this emphatically. Inquiry was particularly made as to whether she was not in communication with him during the part of 1920, but she denies ever having had any word from him by correspondence or otherwise from the time he left the Iowa State Penitentiary until the telegrams were received from Attorney COLIER in Oakland, California, advising her that her brother was in serious trouble.

Mrs. WILLIAMSON stated further that in a letter written by him from the Alameda County Jail, he made reference to having written her shortly after his escape from Ellis Island, saying that he had given this letter to some third party to mail, and he asked whether she ever received it. She did not receive that letter and so advised him. He did not tell her to whom he had given the letter and she has no idea who this third party was. She does not know where her brother was when he wrote this letter, but he says that it was shortly after his escape from Ellis, Island.

In another letter from the Alameda County Jail, he told her that after his escape he was near enough to her to speak with her through the window, but that he did not do so because he knew the officers were after him, and he did not want to cause her any trouble. As she was in Lakeville at this time, she infers that her brother meant to say that he was in the vicinity of Lakeville, and that on the occasion referred to, he was right at her house, but she did not see him, and she knows of no one about Lakeville who did see him if he was there at that time.

Inquiry was also made as to whether her brother had not given her money at various times during his residence in the United States, and particularly in the latter part of 1920. She says that she has never received one cent from him since he has been in the United States.
During the time he was in the Iowa State Penitentiary, she gave him small sums of money and bought him certain textbooks which he asked her to furnish. These included a Spanish grammar and a geography. On one visit to him at Anamosa, Iowa, he made a vague reference to money that he had in Wyoming. At that time Mrs. WILLIAMSON asked him why he requested her to secure these textbooks for him if he had money of his own in Wyoming. He did not reply and from his actions she judged that he was romancing about this wealth in Wyoming.

With reference to the Spanish grammar, her brother told her that he had been in Mexico, but she does not know where. He claims to have been shot through the arm when he got into some trouble in Mexico, but she does not know the nature of this trouble nor where it occurred. She does not know where her brother has been in this country except during the times when he was in jail. He spoke one time of having been in Portland, Oregon, and another time of having been in Detroit, Michigan, but in each of these places it appears he was there but a short time.

On one of her visits to Anamosa he spoke of having served nine months in some penal institution a short time before his entry into the Iowa State Penitentiary. She thinks that he told her he was in the Oklahoma State Penitentiary but she would not be certain of this. At that time he told her there was a period in his life that he would not tell about. She did not know until Agent's interview that her brother had served time in the Minnesota State Penitentiary at Stillwater, and she now believes that he was referring to the time spent at Stillwater when he said there was a period in his life which he would not discuss.

With reference to the request of Attorney COLLIER for five hundred ($500) dollars to defend her brother, she wrote Attorney COLLIER that she had no money and could not furnish even a small amount to aid him. At that time she also wrote the District Attorney for Alameda County, telling him about Attorney COLLIER's request for five hundred...
($500) dollars, and advising the County Attorney that she did not send the money because she was in poor financial circumstances on account of her husband’s illness, and that if she had the money she would not attempt to aid her brother further because she was discouraged with his inability to keep out of trouble.

While her brother was in the Anamosa State Penitentiary, she thought it would be a good thing if he were deported to Denmark because her mother was worried about him, and expressed the desire that he come home if his deportation could be arranged. But she now feels if that he were in Denmark he would be a greater source of worry to her aged parents than he is now, and she is not interested in having him again ordered deported. She says her parents are respected people and that this brother is the only one of the family who has ever been in trouble. She says that when he was a small boy eight or ten years of age, he received an injury about the head. She attributes the criminal tendencies which he has shown to this injury. She now realizes that he is a confirmed criminal and can account for his conduct in no way except that his brain is affected by a skull depression or something of this nature.

Mrs. WILLIAMSON showed Agent two letters which she had received from him at Anamosa. She explained that she had destroyed practically all of the letters she received from him because she did not like to have them around the house where there was a possibility of some persons learning that her brother was in the Penitentiary. She has not heard from him since he has been in the Folsom Penitentiary. She accounts for this by the fact that she wrote him at the Alameda County Jail, about the time of his trial, saying that if he went to a penitentiary she did not desire that he write to her in envelopes which would show that he was in the penitentiary. She told him that she would furnish him plain stamped envelopes if he could use them; but that she did not want letters coming to her in this small town with penitentiary stationery. Since that time he has not written to her.

Mrs. WILLIAMSON and her husband purchased three acres of land and the small house they are living in in July or August, 1920. This land was purchased for fifteen hundred ($1500) dollars. They paid one thousand ($1000) dollars down and owe a balance of five hundred ($500) dollars, which is in the shape of a mortgage. Her husband has been sick for one year now with heart trouble. He was in a hospital in Minneapolis for four months during this time. As he has been unable to work for one year they are practically destitute. She told Agent that she has been sewing night and day in an effort to support her daughter, fourteen years of age, who is going to school, her husband and herself.

Agent talked with SOREN P. WILLIAMSON, her husband. In discussing their financial circumstances he explained that he hoped to make a living for himself by raising chickens on this three acre plot. He said that he was handicapped for funds to commence this industry, because of his long period of sickness. This enabled Agent to make inquiry concerning his finances, and he said that he had no bank account since he drew the money out of the First National Bank to buy this small plot of land; that he had never had a bank account in any other bank other than the First National Bank at Lakeville, Minnesota; and that he is now entirely out of funds. He said that he had lived in Lakeville, Minnesota, continuously from the time he came to the United States until now except for a period of a few months when they were in Logan, Utah. They went to Logan, Utah, in February, 1920, for their daughter's health, and he expected to get work there at his trade, a carpenter, but he was unable to secure work, and they returned to Lakeville, Minn., in the early spring of 1920. This trip cost him in the neighborhood of five hundred ($500) dollars. They then decided to make their permanent home in Lakeville, and shortly afterwards bought the small farm where they are now living.

It was learned from Mrs. WILLIAMSON that she has another brother, MINOR LARSEN, who is 32 years of age, a shoe-maker by occupation, but she does not know his present address. He served fourteen months in the Army in France, and she has not heard from him since his discharge from the Army.

Agent learned from the Postmaster that on Saturday, October 1st, a collection was taken up in this little town and eighty ($80) dollars was raised to aid Mr. WILLIAMSON and his family. Because he is unable to work, the family were in very bad circumstances and the town people recognized this and attempted to aid them in this manner. Cashier ROACH of the bank advised Agent that the hospital bill of WILLIAMSON when he spent four months in a hospital at Minneapolis this year, was paid by a lodge of which he (ROACH) and WILLIAMSON are members. WILLIAMSON was unable to secure hospital care in any other way.

Agent also made inquiry of the Postmaster as to whether either
WILLIAMSON or his wife had correspondence with any bank outside of town, and was informed that the Postmaster had never seen any mail matter which would indicate that these people might have an account elsewhere. There is a second bank in Lakeville, Minnesota, the Farmers' State Bank, but it would found that WILLIAMSON has no account there.

From Agent's observation of both Mrs. WILLIAMSON and her husband, he is convinced that they are telling the truth in connection with this entire matter. Mrs. WILLIAMSON is a very intelligent woman, speaks good English, and shows evidence of being a woman of good breeding. Her manner of answering questions was very satisfactory. She answered all inquiries without the slightest hesitation, showed no reluctance whatever in giving all the details and in fact volunteered any particular which she thought might be of importance. She made no effort whatever to shield her brother because, as she expressed, she had come to realize that he is a confirmed criminal and is no way in which she can hope to change his career. The destitute circumstances in which they are living give credence to the story that they are in need of financial assistance and when all things are considered, it is difficult to believe that Mrs. WILLIAMSON has received any considerable sums of money during the past year as the records in this case might indicate.

The information required in connection with Identification Order No. 130 will be secured and forwarded at the earliest possible time.

It is requested that the Director please indicate whether tracings of all mail received by Mrs. WILLIAMSON are still desired.

Investigation concluded.

Dear Sir:

Re: WALL STREET EXPLOSION

In response to a letter of September 30th, from Division Superintendent Baley, Atlanta, with reference to forwarding all information in the files of this office relating to the Wall Street explosion, I am enclosing in triplicate copies of the following reports:

A. V. French 12/10/20—Anarchistical Information
Leon E. Howe 1/31/21—Suspect at Auburndale, Fla.

An examination of the index in this office shows that these are the only reports in our files relating to this explosion.

Yours very truly,

Howard F. Wright,
Special Agent in Charge

HPW:B
CC: Division Supt. L. J. Baley, Atlanta, Ga.
ANARCHISTICAL INFORMATION

STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS, EVIDENCE COLLECTED, NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF PERSONS INTERVIEWED, PLACES VISITED, ETC.

At Tampa, Fla.

Agent, on the night of December 8th, received from a confidential source, the following letter written in Spanish, and mailed to the Chief of Police of Tampa, Fla., from whom it was secured for the information of this Bureau.

Sr Tefe de Policía
City Hall, Tampa
Señor:

I have the honor of notifying you as confidential information which I have just received has arrived today from New York a certain party who seems to be Italian or Russian who has all the probabilities of being the head of the explosion on Wall Street.

I am not urged by hoping to collect the amount offered by Mr. Burns -------

As far as I have been able to find out he resides on 14th St., around the neighborhood of 1811.

The reason why I notify you is so that you can have someone on his watch in Ybor City.

Yours truly,
Toaquin Alonzo Garcia.

Agent has by careful inquiry located one Toaquin Alonzo Garcia, who is a cigar maker by trade, has a family and has lived in Ybor City for the past nineteen years.

As Garcia does not speak English and understands but few words, subjects daughter, a girl of fifteen, was called in as interpreter. Subject claimed that he knew nothing of such letter; that he had no knowledge or acquaintance with any one coming from New York at any time recently, and that he did not write such letter, altho he would be only too glad to advise the authorities if he had.

Wash, D.C.
any knowledge or information that he thought would interest the Government.

Agent asked him to sign his name, which he did and same is attached to the Washington copy of this report on back of envelope. While he wrote his name in full he stated that at his bank he signed only "J. A. Garcia" as will be noted on attached envelope.

Agent has made cautious inquiry as to the reputation of this J. A. Garcia in the neighborhood in which he lives and the result is that he is a quiet and law abiding Spaniard.

Agent has been making some farther investigation to ascertain if there is other person or persons of same name in this city.

Agent will not make further investigation unless advised to do so.
At Lakeland, Fla.

Reference is made to letter of the Chief of the Bureau dated October 27, 1920 TFB with reference to Inc. 30647, same being a photostat copy of letter from Arthur P. Dunne of Auburndale, Fla., reporting that a man suspected of being connected with the WALL STREET EXPLOSION had been talking to him.

Agent covered this matter while on vacation at Lakeland, Fla., and has not previously reported owing to rush of other cases. Mr. Dunne made the following statement to agent:

"I rode from Auburndale to Lakeland with the man in question. He had a delivery car, an Overland, with a "For Sale" sign on it. He said he was buying up bags, and was away from home about a week at a time. He said he lived in Tampa, but had been away for the summer months in New York. He stated he had been around the place where the WALL STREET EXPLOSION had taken place, and seemed very anxious to know whether any arrests had been made in the case. He said they would blame some Italian and that would be the end of it. He talked of chances for bargains in jewelry in New York in the jewels that were brought back from Russia. We then talked of a kind of government they now had in Russia, and he was very much in favor of it as it gave such good chances to the common people. As he described it to me, he seemed to favor all the unrest in the labor element in this country. He seemed to be the kind of man who would have something to do with explosions."
He was about 5-4 in height, smooth face, about 30 years old, sharp shifty eyes, and I think he was a Jew.

Agent made some inquiries in Tampa at junk yards, but was unable to locate such a man. I have instructed Mr. Dunne to obtain the man's name or auto license number the next time he sees him and I will be advised by him when the information is obtained. Tampa has a large foreign radical element employed in its cigar factories.

Agent is inclined to think that the man described by Dunne was a Spanish Jew, there being a large number of that race engaged in the junk business in Florida.

Case closed.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
INVESTIGATION OF WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Reference is made to letter from the Director dated September 28th, 1921, GFR-0'S, on the above matter, copy of which was furnished this office by Acting Division Superintendent ROCHEY.

The only connection this office has had with the above entitled matter was an investigation predicated on a letter from Acting Division Superintendent ROCHEY REDDY of the New York City office dated March 29th, 1921, which requested a search for one ANDREA CIOFALO who was said to be a prominent anarchist and whose description was similar to that of a man who drove the wagon containing the explosive into Wall Street on September 16, 1920.

This office made an investigation at Carlinville, and Bond, Illinois, where the subject was thought to be and also enlisted the aid of the Postmasters and the local authorities at various points in southern Illinois in an effort to locate this individual. No trace, however, of this man was found and the investigation was closed.

REPORT MADE BY: Harold L. Scott.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
BOMB EXPLOSION WALL STREET NEW YORK CITY,
SEPTEMBER 16, 1920. ANARCHIST ACTIVITIES.

FACTS DEVELOPED: AT CINCINNATI.

Complying with the request in letter of the Director of the Bureau, dated September 28, 1921, addressed to Division Superintendent Weakley, requesting a resume of all information in the files of this office, covering investigations of any leads on the WALL STREET EXPLOSION, beg to furnish the following:

Under date of January 20, 1921, report was made by Special Agent ORA M. SLATER, under the above heading, being based upon communication of Special Agent in Charge T. M. REDDY of New York City, who enclosed copy of report of Agent WILLIAM J. WEST, dated December 31, 1920. Agent SLATER checked up and made report as to the record of one GIOVANNI COSTA, alias LOUIS COSTELLO, and other aliases, wherein criminal record of this man was had as far as same applied to the files of Cincinnati. Copy of Agent SLATER'S report is attached hereto and is self-explanatory.

Also under date of October 29, 1920, report of Special Agent SLATER, investigation was made of certain RUBBER STAMP MARKERS delivered to GEORGE J. KLOFFER & SONS, printing supplies, 10 West High Street, Springfield, Ohio. This investigation was conducted as requested in report of Special Agent R. N. BUTTERWORTH, Springfield, Mass., referring to his report of October 15, 1920. Copy of report attached hereto.
Reference is also made to report of Special Agent HAROLD L. SCOTT, dated September 20, 1920, wherein communication was received from E. L. GUDERBECK, Thomas Hotel, this city, advising that a woman patient at the General Hospital, Cincinnati, had made certain statements regarding the New York Explosion. This investigation shows that this woman was mentally deficient, and was laboring under an hallucination, and merely talked at random regarding this explosion. Copy of this report is attached hereto.

The above are all the investigations made by the Cincinnati office pertaining to this matter, and no leads of any benefit were derived from any of these investigations.

Concluded.
October 5th, 1921.

STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS, EVIDENCE COLLECTED, NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF PERSONS INTERVIEWED, PLACES VISITED, ETC.

GOVANNE COST, Alias LOUIS COSTELLO, Alias VALENTINE VAIST, alias JIMMY SIT, THE ALIAS NICKEL PLATE CONTAINED.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent HENRY J. DEPT, Boston, Mass., under date of December 16, 1919, received at this office with letter from Special Agent T. H. HENRY, New York City, under date of January 5, 1920, under the above entitled caption.

This agent was detailed by Agent in Charge SCOTT to make this investigation, and called at the Identification Department, Detective Headquarters, this city, and find that their record on LOUIS COSTELLO is the same as that shown in the report of Agent HENRY. The $50 and costs which they show as having been assessed against COSTELLO in Cincinnati December 16, 1914 was the result of an attempt upon the part of COSTELLO and a party named STEINER, who represented to AUGUST BUCH, grocer, 2135 Hamilton Avenue, this city, that they wanted to purchase this grocery store. STEINER telling BUCH that an "evidence of good faith," he, STEINER, would place $500 in the hands of some "honest man", and that BUCH should also do the same, and that they would then close the deal. BUCH's suspicions became aroused and he notified Detectives LOUIS BUEH and Sam BLAIR who were in the neighborhood of the BUCH grocery. LOUIS COSTELLO was waiting in the vicinity of the grocery, and was the "honest man" referred to by STEINER. BUCH and STEINER went to where COSTELLO was standing to deposit the money with COSTELLO, and the detectives were then to apprehend COSTELLO and STEINER, but BUCH not seeing the detectives became frightened and ran. COSTELLO and STEINER were then arrested by the detectives, and COSTELLO was given $50, and costs for practicing a trick pass. STEINER, who had $500 on him, was not arrested.
a grocer at 6th & Plum Sts., Cincinnati, Ohio, was sentenced to the Ohio State Prison. There are no other police records here against LOUIS COSTELLO. Agent made inquiry in the vicinity of 163 E. 9th Street, this city, where the COSTELLOs are said to have resided, but failed to find anyone there knowing.

LOUIS COSTELLO, F. W. WENDELL, grocer at 164 E. 9th Street, states that he remembers LOIS COSTELLO, who traded there for a short time in 1914, but that he did not know her husband. LOUIS COSTELLO, THE BUDVIA REAL ESTATE AGENCY, at the S. W. Court & Main Sts., this city, who own the property at 163 East 9th Street, have no record of ever renting property to LOUIS COSTELLO and claim they know nothing whatever pertaining to him, as the property was evidently sub-rented during the year 1914 and no record could be found showing that COSTELLO ever resided there, although F. W. WENDELL, the grocer at 164 E. 9th Street, remembers LOIS COSTELLO as residing there a short time and that she still a small grocery bill.

Agent called at the GENEA CLUB—a club composed of waiters and cooks on Garfield Place, this city, and learned from the secretary, who produced the books for 1914, which failed to show the name of LOUIS COSTELLO or any of his aliases, as being a waiter in this city. Agent then called at the headquarters of the Eastern Union, 629 Main St., this city, and talked to the business manager, DANNY A. BURBAN, who stated they had no books previous to 1915 of any records of any waiters, and the books at that time failed to show the name of LOUIS COSTELLO. Detectives LOUIS BOLL and DANNY state that they never knew COSTELLO to work any place while in Cincinnati, but that he evidently was here a very short time.

No further information could be obtained here regarding LOUIS COSTELLO. Our investigation will be considered closed unless further leads are obtained. Nothing could be learned of subject ever having been connected with any bomb explosion in here.
At Springfield, Ohio.

Reference is made to report of Agent R. H. DUFFY of Springfield, Mass., under the above heading made on October 15th.

Agent called on the GEORGE J. KLOPP & SON CO., printing supplies, 10 West High St., Springfield, Ohio, on an afternoon of this date and Mr. G. J. KLOPP stated on February 9th, 1920, he purchased of R. H. SMITH MFG. CO., Springfield, Mass., four boxes of economy wax markers, two boxes of easy markers and now has on hand one box No. 0 easy sign rubber markers, which is only box No. 0 in stock. Has on hand now four sets economy markers, two No. O's, two No. 111 and two No. 112. The last he purchased was of date February 9th, 1920, from R. H. SMITH MFG. CO. He has no O-28 in stock. Those purchased on February 9th, 1920, he sells to merchants who use them to mark signs which they place in their windows or stores.

Investigation concluded unless further directed.
Under date September 18th, last, this office was in receipt of the following letter:

"Cincinnati,

Mr. Weakley,
Dear Sir

I was in Ward N-1, Cincinnati General Hospital, discharged Thursday, and while there a woman in Ward N-2 made a singular prediction that New York City was to be destroyed in five days. Do you think that she could have had any pre-knowledge of what occurred in that city Thursday? I do not know the woman's name but I am sure she is in the Hospital yet. N-2 is the Psychopathic Ward.

Respectfully yours,

/\ "E. L. Cudebeck, Hotel Thomas.

Agent interviewed writer of the letter, E. L. Cudebeck, who stated that he did not know the name of the patient in the hospital who had made the remark but that two nurses, Mrs. Hulda Emerson and Miss Lula Wenzling, could give the desired information.

At Cincinnati General Hospital interviewed Mrs. Emerson and she stated that about three days ago some woman patient was brought in who was crazy on religion and that she had made remark that "There would be Hell or Heaven in New York in five days". As the woman was evidently deranged no importance was attached to the remark. Miss Mrs. Emerson did not know the name of such patient but I learned from Miss Edwards, nurse in charge of this ward, that the patient's name was Alice Poppenburg, who is a middle aged woman who is crazy on religion, claiming that she had messages from the Lord.

I talked with the patient, Alice Poppenburg, and it was plainly evident that she was insane upon question of religion when I asked her about what she said in regard to New York she said she had a dream that there was nothing left in New York, Washington 3; Cin. 3.

tree. She said she did not know anything about the explosion other than someone had said there had been one one there. She went on at great length about messages she received from the Lord regarding destruction of all people on earth unless they mended their ways.

Agent was satisfied after few minutes conversation with her she knew nothing whatever of any interest regarding the explosion in New York City.

Reference is made to letter from the Director dated September 28th, 1921, GFR-0's, on the above matter, copy of which was furnished this office by Acting Division Superintendent ROOHEY.

The only connection this office has had with the above entitled matter was an investigation predicated on a letter from Acting Division Superintendent ROOHEY REDDY of the New York City office dated March 29th, 1921, which requested a search for one ANDREA CIOPALO who was said to be a prominent anarchist and whose description was similar to that of a man who drove the wagon containing the explosive into Wall Street on September 16, 1920.

This office made an investigation at Carlinville, and Elda, Illinois, where the subject was thought to be and also enlisted the aid of the Postmasters and the local authorities at various points in southern Illinois in an effort to locate this individual. No trace, however, of this man was found and the investigation was closed.

Dear Sir:

IN RE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION.

This day a telegram was received from the Boston Office of Bureau advising that Edwin P. Fischer and sister had left Horse Neck Beach, South Westport, Mass., on Tuesday last for their home at 33 West 92d Street, New York City, and that they had sent by parcel post, three suit cases and one package. The telegram further set forth that the Bureau requested the subject be kept under surveillance.

The address given in the aforementioned telegram is that of Edwin P. Fischer, who was the first suspect taken into custody in connection with the Wall Street Explosion, and who was brought back to the United States from Canada by the Buffalo Office of Bureau.

An investigation made early today tends to show that the house on West 92d Street is not being occupied at this time, inasmuch as the shades are drawn and no response was given to persons applying there.

This place will be watched, however, and should Fischer be seen about he will be placed under surveillance.

A copy of this letter is being sent to the Boston Office of Bureau.

Yours very truly,

Edward J. Brennan

Director, Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir: Attention of J. E. Hoover, Esq.

In reference to the Bureau's telegram of October 1st concerning surveillance of one EDWIN P. FISCHER said to have been receiving mail at Box 49, South Westport, Massachusetts, it is desired to explain to the Bureau the reason for the inability of the office to carry out telegraphic instructions in detail.

The Bureau telegram above referred to was received at Boston very late Saturday evening, October 1st, and the contents of the same conveyed by Agent Crockwell to Agent West Sunday morning, October 2nd. Agent West left Boston Sunday on the 12:30 noon train for New Bedford, Massachusetts, for the purpose of locating the said Fischer. Upon his arrival at the South Westport post office, which is eight miles from the nearest carline and can be reached only by automobile, he ascertained that the postmaster, an appointee within the past month, knew very little about the matter other than that there was an Edwin P. Fischer somewhere near Horse Neck Beach receiving mail which was being delivered to him by the rural carrier.

Agent West then proceeded to the home of the rural carrier and was informed that he was automobile riding and it was unknown just when he would return. It was, therefore, necessary for the carrier to return to New Bedford, Mass., for the night, this being necessary on account of lack of transportation and boarding facilities at South Westport.

The next morning, Monday, October 3rd, the Agent returned to South Westport and from the carrier ascertained that Edwin P. Fischer and sister W. A. Fischer were staying at the Horse Neck House, Horse Neck Beach, conducted by a Mr. Heald for the past two weeks. The Agent also saw two letters addressed to them for delivery on that same date, October 3rd, at about 5 P. M.
In view of the absolute necessity of Agent West to appear in the District Court at Boston on Tuesday morning, October 4th, in the case of U. S. vs. Bosdan (larceny of Government records), in which matter he appeared as the first and principal witness for the Government, he had to return to his official station Monday night.

On Tuesday afternoon, October 4th, Agent Poole was assigned to continue surveillance of Fischer, the details having been furnished him by Agent West, and he proceeded to Horse Neck Beach. Upon arrival he was unable to locate the Horse Neck House, and after guarded inquiries in the neighborhood, covering approximately 18 miles, and an interview with the postmaster, he learned that practically all hotels and cottages at the Beach, which is a small, isolated place eleven miles from the nearest carline, were closed about September 11th last, and that Fischer had evidently left there last week.

Upon receipt of this information Special Agent West communicated with the postmaster at South Westport by telephone and was informed by him that Fischer left Horse Neck Beach about the middle of last week, leaving no forwarding address.

Agent West then, upon close of court Wednesday, October 5th, resumed the matter and left Boston at 6 P. M. that date for Horse Neck Beach, where he ascertained that Edwin T. Fischer and his sister Maud Fischer had been residing at the hotel of Mr. Head for about the past month and had left Horse Neck Beach for New York City at 2 P. M. Tuesday afternoon, October 4th. They gave their New York City address as 33 West 92nd Street. They also delivered to the postmaster at Horse Neck Beach, for transmission by parcel delivery to their New York City home, three suit cases and one package. This was also verified by him through inquiry of the rural carrier at South Westport, Mass., and upon Agent's return to the office from Horse Neck Beach at 9 A. M. this morning, the Bureau and the New York City office were advised concerning the same.

It is regretted that the telegraphic instructions were not complied with in detail, but the cause for such failure was due to the inaccessibility of the place and of the inability to get an Agent there in time.

Very truly yours,

John B. Hanrahan

No. 0 is one of the most useful sizes in the list. While not too large for shelf and showcase cards, it is large enough for many kinds of window cards and the smaller class of outdoor signs. It is the smallest set having our special design figures.

$3.00, same @ $1.95
No. 2 Complete Set, including capitals, small letters, figures, ornaments, points, &c., with Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge, together with Pads and Ink, in polished wooden case

Complete as above, except without outfit, in leatherette box

Capital letters only, in leatherette box, no outfit

No. 3 Complete Set, including capitals, small letters, figures, ornaments, points, &c., with Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge, together with Pads and Ink, in polished wooden case

Capitals and small letters, put up without outfit, in leatherette covered box

Capitals only, in leatherette box

A larger set of the same style as No. 1. When additional plainness is required this set will be found very satisfactory. Not too large for shelf and window cards.

This is a still larger set of the artistic De Vinne' design. Especially fine for out-door displays, as vegetable and grocery store fronts and door stands.
"THE EASY" SIGN MARKER.

No. 4 Complete Set, including capitals, small letters, figures, ornaments; points, &c.; with Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge; together with Pads and Ink, in polished wooden case $6.90
Capitals and small letters put up without outfit; in leatherette covered box $4.90
Capitals only, put up in leatherette covered box $2.85

Larger than No. 3 and read at a greater distance, makes a bold, clean-cut sign of much character.

No. 5 Complete Set, including capitals, small letters, figures, ornaments, points, &c.; with Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge, together with Pads and Ink; in polished wooden case $8.90
Capitals and small letters, are also put up without Outfit, in leatherette box $6.30
Capitals only, put up in leatherette boxes $3.70

This is a true De Vinne face, but slightly taller and slenderer than No. 4. It is the set par excellence for small bulletin and chart work. A favorite with Sunday and secular schools for these uses.
THE EASY SIGN MARKER

The Set, put up in two cloth-covered boxes includes capitals, small letters, figures and points. Outfit includes Extra Large Pads and 36 inch rule, with Ink, &c. $11.50

Capitals and small letters, in a cloth-covered box, without outfit $8.00
Capitals only, in cloth-covered box $5.15

A splendid large set, suited for the larger class of sign and placard work and to newspaper and mercantile bulletins. It is easily read the width of an ordinary street away, the figures being equally as bold and clear as the letters. Special bulletin outfit supplied when wanted.

A new set, brought out to meet the demand for a larger letter in the style of No. 31. It has been an unqualified success from the start and is one of the best sellers in our whole list. Especially favored by canvassers and traveling salesmen.
No. 51, "Quentell," Complete Set, including capitals, small letters, figures, ornaments, points, &c., with Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge, together with Pads and Ink, in polished wooden case ................................................................. $4.00

No. 51, "Quentell" Set, is also put up without Outfit, in cloth covered box ........................................... $2.50

A clear-cut, dignified letter, that looks well anywhere. It has the advantage of being more condensed than most styles and is available where space is limited. The figures and ornaments of this style are particularly good.
No. 41 The Handsome and Popular "Tudor" Style.

No. 41 Complete Set, including capitals, small letters, figures, ornaments, points, &c., with Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge, together with Pads and Ink, in polished wooden case .................................................. $4.00
No. 41 Set is also put up without Outfit, in cloth covered box .................................................. $2.50

This adaptation of one of the best of the old "Missal" letters, makes perhaps the most artistic sign-marker produced. It is particularly desirable for high-grade rug and carpet stocks, fine tailor goods and the like. It also makes beautiful Sunday School charts and texts, especially if used in two colors, with initials in red for example.

THE ECONOMY SIGN MARKERS.

The Economy Markers are, as the name implies, made to afford the essential features of good sign-marking apparatus, at the lowest prices consistent with accurate work and lasting materials.

They are well made, accurately aligned and attractively put up. The accessories furnished are of high grade and the line as a whole is excelled only by our "Easy" sign markers, from which they differ in such points as, slightly fewer pieces, less expensive case, simpler rule and spacer, single pad with distributor, and smaller ink tube. All these are of the highest quality.

There is nothing cheap or crude about the line and where a less perfect set than the Easy will satisfy, the Economy will be found the best value obtainable. A good assortment of styles is offered, put up in both polished wood and leatherette covered boxes.

The "EASY" Sign Marker.

With Patent Type Guide and Spacing Gauge.

THE MOST PERFECT HAND PRINTING DEVICE MADE.

SOME SPECIAL FEATURES.

The "Easy" Sign Markers were the pioneer line in this class of apparatus, and as several important details are protected by U. S. and foreign patents, none of the imitating lines are their equal in effectiveness. While too well known to need detailed description, attention is called to their wide range of usefulness to merchants and shopkeepers in every line, to schools and societies, and wherever sign or card printing, price ticketing, chart and bulletin making and all similar publicity devices are involved.

Styles and Sizes are carefully selected to serve a wide range of uses. Many of these are our own private designs. There is a style for every use.

Rule and Spacer. In this, the most important feature of the outfit, the "Easy" is unequalled. No other sign marker has, or can use our patent spring-tensioned spacer, rubber surfaced presser feet or circle gauge; And no marker without them can compete in quality and scope of work.

Ink. Our inks are brilliant black and red. They are not faded by exposure to sunlight. "Easy" signs are permanent signs.

Instructions (in four languages) are unusually clear and comprehensive. Styles and prices with brief description follow.

Pittsburgh, Pa.
Reference is made to a letter from the Director of the Bureau, initialed GFR, dated September 28th, ult., which requests that a detailed resume of any information in the files of the several offices of this Division covering the WALL STREET EXPLOSION be forwarded to the Bureau at Washington.

The following report covers investigation made by the Pittsburgh office in connection with this matter. It may be classified under three heads: Type Used in Printing Leaflets – Frank Brancozi and Mario Bovo – Miscellaneous.

TYPE USED IN PRINTING LEAFLETS.

This investigation was based on a letter from Acting Agent in Charge at New York, T. M. Reddy, initialed CJS, dated October 13th, 1920. Mr. Reddy sent a set of rubber stamps of a type similar to that used in printing the leaflets found at the time of the explosion to the Pittsburgh office, and stated that Director Flynn instructed that a canvass be made of the entire Pittsburgh district for the purpose of ascertaining whether any stationer or dealer could recall having sold a similar set of stamps to any person during the past six months.
This matter was referred to Special Agent Tatam for investigation, the results of which are fully covered in his report for October 15, 16, 18 and 19, 1920. Agent Tatam found that the R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Springfield, Mass., was the sole manufacturer of these stamps, which were protected by copyright; catalogued as Number 0, and bear the trade name "The Easy" Sign Marker. It is manufactured at two prices, one being priced at $3.20, the other at $1.95. The more expensive set is provided with two tubes of ink, one red and the other black, and a patented rule for purposes of alignment, both sets carrying instructions printed in four languages other than English. These markers are the oldest on the market and the most expensive.

JAS. H. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, 431 Fifth Ave. and 3942 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, are sole agents for the R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY in this district, and have been for years. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, however, had not sold a set of stamps of similar style for fourteen months preceding Agent Tatam's report, although the latter was advised by W.M. SMITH, an expert in the employ of the MATTHEWS COMPANY that any person sending a mail order to the SMITH COMPANY would secure the stamps direct.

In order to verify the statement of MATTHEWS & COMPANY that they were the sole agents for the SMITH COMPANY in this district, Agent Tatam covered all the firms in Pittsburgh handling type of this nature, but was informed that the firms in question could not supply the exact type as used in the circulars. This would seem to verify the statement that MATTHEWS & COMPANY are the sole local agents.
In his report above mentioned Agent Tatoom requested that Acting Agent in Charge Reddy, of New York, ascertain from R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY if, in fact, the SMITH COMPANY had sold similar stamps to anyone in this district except MATTHEWS & COMPANY, above mentioned. I find no reply in the file to this request of Agent Tatoom.

In closing his report, Agent Tatoom calls attention to three points. First, that the alignment of the printing in the leaflets is not perfect, which would lead him to believe that the leaflets were printed from a set of type of a cheaper grade; $1.95, as it does not appear the cheaper set supplies a rule for alignment as does the more expensive set at $3.20.

Second, that on one leaflet "Remember" is spelled "Remëmer" and on the other "Remëmber", which would lead him to believe they were not printed by the same person. This mistake occurs again in the spelling of the word "prisoner"; on one leaflet being spelled "prisoner" and on the other leaflet "prisoners".

Further, Agent Tatoom calls attention to the fact that on one circular the words "political" and "of" are spelled in small letters with the exception of a large "C" in "political" and a large "F" in "of".

A perusal of Agent Tatoom's report, above referred to, is suggested as it is short and to the point.

For the information of the Bureau a pamphlet of the JAS. H. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, showing "The Easy" Sign Marker (page three) is enclosed in order that the discussion on the style of type used in the leaflets may be followed more intelligently.
FRANK BRANCAZI and MARIO BOVO

This investigation was based on a report of Special Agent O. J. Scully, dated New York City, October 11th, 1920, which stated in substance that on the date mentioned Special Agents Tucker and Scully met a confidential informant, name not given, at the latter's telephonic request, who advised that RALPH D'MEGLIO, a friend of informant and an Italian and former classmate of informant in Africa, had given some information in reference to the WALL STREET EXPLOSION; that D'MEGLIO was a fugitive from justice, being wanted on a charge of murderous assault, and while hiding out at 34 President Street and 154 Nevins Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., had met four Italians at 34 President Street through the proprietor of the latter address; said Italians having come in to secrete a number of pistols. FRANK BRANCAZI and MARIO BOVO were two of the Italians, the identity of the other two being unknown to D'MEGLIO. These Italians remained at the President Street address throughout the afternoon, and in the course of the conversation BOVO exhibited a letter he had received from BRANCAZI, the substance of which was to the effect that something must be done "for our existence", and that all four Italians spoke of a mysterious mission, but did not disclose character of same.

D'MEGLIO, wishing to remain under cover, did not offer to assist the other Italians, but two days later met said Italians, at a point not given by D'MEGLIO, and the Italians stated to D'MEGLIO in speaking of the EXPLOSION that it was a good job, but a bigger one would occur next time.

Agents Tucker and Scully then brought D'MEGLIO to the office of Director Flynn, where he was questioned and verified the story told by [redacted] with the exception that he, D’MEGLIO, met BOVO one day before he met BRANCAZI. The latter resided at Watertown, Pa., his Post Office Box being #25, and BOVO was believed to be living with him. [redacted] was then instructed by the New York office to remain with D’MEGLIO until such time as the Pittsburgh office could make an investigation, and a telegram, embodying substantially the facts as above set forth was sent to the Pittsburgh office.

Special Agent Ames, of the Pittsburgh office, being detailed to this investigation, located both BRANCAZI and BOVO at Waterman, Pa., Post Office Box #25, and ascertained the following facts:

BRANCAZI is employed at the Waterman Mine, check #711, description: Age, 35 or 40 years; smooth face; height, 5'7 or 8"; complexion, dark; hair, black; nationality, Italian; speaks fairly good English. He did not work on the following dates in September, 1920 - 8th, 9th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd and 23rd. It will thus appear that he was at work on September 16th, the date of the EXPLOSION.

MARIO BOVO, aged about 33, 6 ft., smooth face, black mustache, black hair, tan complexion, address Post Office Box #25, Waterman, Pa., is employed by the Snyder Mine of the Brush Creek Coal Co., check #392; started to work at Snyder Mine on September 28th, 1920.

Through confidential sources, translations of letters received by both of these Italians were secured for a month or six weeks after Agent Ames began his investigation. It appeared from these letters that both BRANCAZI and BOVO were members of the I.W.W., but nothing appeared which would in any way connect them with the WALL STREET EXPLOSION. They were never interrogated by Agents of this office; however, for the information of the Bureau it appears that the Italians, above mentioned, were in correspondence with the following persons:

FRANCESCO ROMO, 60 Gilchrist St., Jersey City, N.J.

1001 West Madison Ave., Chicago, Ill. (I.W.W. headquarters from which El Politeriate, an I.W.W. Italian publication, is sent out.)

G. CANATTA, who sent copies of El Politeriate from Chicago headquarters to BRANCAZI.

GIOVANNI BALDASSI, 123 West 15th St., New York City. (Baldassi received ten years during the I.W.W. trial at Chicago, and was out on appeal when the above letter was written.)

FILLIPO, R.F.D.#229, Lilly, Pa.

PIETRI CARULLO, 38 President St., Brooklyn, N.Y. (In this letter it appears Carullo may be working in conjunction with BOVO to manufacture and sell alcoholic spirits.)

FRANK ALVAN, Box #440, Bellingham, Washington.

G. MANGANO, 23 Carroll St., Brooklyn, N.Y. (Suggests that BRANCAZI form an I.W.W. local #900 at Waterman, Pa.)

Under date of January 11th, 1921, Agent in Charge Hanrahan, Boston, per WJW, wrote a letter to Agent in Charge McKean, Pittsburgh, stating that he had learned from a confidential source that FRANK BRANCAZI had been corresponding with ALDINO FELICANI, the Italian
R.B. Spencer, Oct. 5, 1921

anarchist leader of Boston, and on December 20th, 1920, BRANCAZI had forwarded FELICANI $100.00 by money order #43269, serial #94136, and wrote as follows:

"Dear Felicani:

Having read in the "Proletario" and other newspapers the cowardly and criminal frameup of this dirty society having for its object to cut the existence of our two best comrades, Sacco and Vanzetti. We have constituted in Homer City a sub-committee in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti and have collected among the comrades $157.35 which I enclose herewith.

Fraternal regards. Yours for the cause,"

MISCELLANEOUS.

A check was made of the radicals of the Pittsburgh district to ascertain who was absent from this district on September 16th, 1920, but no known radicals of anarchistic tendencies were out of town.

FLORIAN ZELENKO. On October 7th, 1920, subject was arrested at the St. Charles Hotel, Pittsburgh, by the local police for having in his possession a number of sticks of dynamite and some fuse. It was later turned over to this Department and after a thorough investigation both here and at New York City, where ZELENKO formerly lived, it appeared conclusively that this boy was a miner and had obtained the dynamite in West Virginia while mining and had brought some of it through to Pittsburgh, as it is not unusual with miners when they move from place to place. The story that he told when interrogated by this office was absolutely frank, and after a thorough check proved to be truthful in every way. On this account, no further details will be given unless the Bureau so desires.
If you are of the opinion that the WALL STREET EXPLOSION was in any way connected with the GALLIANI GROUP, it might be pertinent to consider the following phases of the bomb explosions of June 2nd, 1919.

On that occasion the house opposite the home of Immigration Inspector in Charge W.W. Sibray was bombed. As the telephone book, through error, placed Mr. Sibray's house on the spot where the bombed house stood there is little doubt that the attempt was made against Inspector Sibray. The only resident of this district, according to Mr. Sibray, who had a motive against him, was one E. GROPPI, Box 94, Gallatin, Pa., who was later deported, and at the time of the explosions was out on bail pending deportation. GROPPI had a wife and two children and was very bitter on account of his pending deportation.

The leader of the Italian anarchists at Gallatin, Pa., is one ARTHUR CALVANI, who on one occasion was overheard by an Italian girl, about 12 years of age, to say in discussing GROPPI'S deportation that the latter should not be deported and that he, CALVANI, and his group would stick behind GROPPI at all events.

Shortly after the explosions, GROPPI was taken into custody by Agent Ames, of this Department, and a search was made of both his person and his house. Among the literature found in his house was the pamphlet entitled "LA NOSTRA VIOLENZA (Our Violence), edited and published by IL CIRCOLA DI STUDI SOCIALI, West Hoboken, N.J., and in my letter addressed to you, dated June 19th, 1919, I quoted some excerpts from this pamphlet, which were of the worst character possible. The pamphlet, itself, was also forwarded to you. On page five, under the heading: "Self-Defenses of RAVACHOL, EMILIO HENRY, GEORGE ETIEVANT. Before the Criminel Court of Sèinnè", appears the following preamble:—

"The Society contains within itself the germs of all the crimes being perpetrated. It is the society which prepares them and the culprit is nothing but an executive instrument. Every social state supports a certain number and a certain order of crimes, resulting as a necessary consequence, from its organization."

PAGE 7.

Speaks of the bombing of the house of Judge Bеноit and Attorney General Bulot, both of Paris, France.

Other excerpts are given in my letter, above mentioned, which will not be quoted here.

Special Agent Stroud, of the Milwaukee office, had formerly advised me that during his investigation of the bomb explosion in the Police Station at Milwaukee, which killed eleven policemen and detectives, he was firmly of the opinion that this bomb was planted by members of IL CIRCOLA DI STUDI SOCIALI.

Of course these references are very general, but they are given as a background to the study of various bomb explosions which you will perhaps make in connection with the WALL STREET EXPLOSION.

SUMMARY REPORT

Reference is made to a letter from the Director of the Bureau, initialed GFR, dated September 28th, ult., which requests that a detailed resume of any information in the files of the several offices of this Division covering the WALL STREET EXPLOSION be forwarded to the Bureau at Washington.

The following report covers investigation made by the Pittsburgh office in connection with this matter. It may be classified under three heads: Type Used in Printing Leaflets — Frank Brancasi and Mario Bovo — Miscellaneous.

TYPE USED IN PRINTING LEAFLETS

This investigation was based on a letter from Acting Agent in Charge at New York, T. H. Reddy, initialed CJS, dated October 13th, 1930. Mr. Reddy sent a set of rubber stamps of a type similar to that used in printing the leaflets found at the time of the explosion to the Pittsburgh office, and stated that Director Flynn instructed that a canvass be made of the entire Pittsburgh district for the purpose of ascertaining whether any stationer or dealer could recall having sold a similar set of stamps to any person during the past six months.

ORIGINAL
This matter was referred to Special Agent Tatmon for investigation, the results of which are fully covered in his report for October 15, 16, 18 and 19, 1920. Agent Tatmon found that the R. H.
SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Springfield, Mass., was the sole manufacturer of these stamps, which were protected by copyright; catalogued as Number O, and bear the trade name "The Easy" Sign Marker. It is manufactured at two prices, one being priced at $3.20, the other at $1.95. The more expensive set is provided with two tubes of ink, one red and the other black, and a patented rule for purposes of alignment, both sets carrying instructions printed in four languages other than English. These markers are the oldest on the market and the most expensive.

JAS. H. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, 431 Fifth Ave. and 3942 Forbes
Street, Pittsburgh, are sole agents for the R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY in this district, and have been for years. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, however, had not sold a set of stamps of similar style for fourteen months preceding Agent Tatmon's report, although the latter was advised by W. H. SMITH, an expert in the employ of the MATTHEWS COMPANY that any person sending a mail order to the SMITH COMPANY would secure the stamps direct.

In order to verify the statement of MATTHEWS & COMPANY that they were the sole agents for the SMITH COMPANY in this district, Agent Tatmon covered all the firms in Pittsburgh handling typo of this nature, but was informed that the firms in question could not supply the exact type as used in the circulars. This would seem to verify the statement that MATTHEWS & COMPANY are the sole local agents.
In his report above mentioned Agent Tatam requested that Acting Agent in Charge Reddy, of New York, ascertain from R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY if, in fact, the SMITH COMPANY had sold similar stamps to anyone in this district except MATTHEWS & COMPANY, above mentioned. I find no reply in the file to this request of Agent Tatam.

In closing his report, Agent Tatam calls attention to three points. First, that the alignment of the printing in the leaflets is not perfect, which would lead him to believe that the leaflets were printed from a set of type of a cheaper grade, $1.95, as it does not appear the cheaper set supplies a rule for alignment as does the more expensive set at $3.20.

Second, that on one leaflet "Remember" is spelled "Rememer" and on the other "Remember", which would lead him to believe they were not printed by the same person. This mistake occurs again in the spelling of the word "prisoner"; on one leaflet being spelled "prisoner" and on the other leaflet "prisoners".

Further, Agent Tatam calls attention to the fact that on one circular the words "political" and "of" are spelled in small letters with the exception of a large "O" in "political" and a large "F" in "of".

A perusal of Agent Tatam's report, above referred to, is suggested as it is short and to the point.

For the information of the Bureau a pamphlet of the JAS. H. MATTHEWS & COMPANY, showing "The Easy" Sign Marker (page three) is enclosed in order that the discussion on the style of type used in the leaflets may be followed more intelligently.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
WALL STREET BOMB PLOT

FACTS DEVELOPED:
At Omaha, Nebraska.

The following report is made pursuant to instructions contained in Sixth Division Circular No. 28, dated October 3rd and pursuant to Director's letter to Division Superintendent Samson, dated September 28th, of the

The report of Agent H. L. Hess for September 17th and 18th, 1920, made on September 20, 1920, entitled A. C. Allen, possible connection with bomb plot, Nevada, Iowa, deals directly with the question. A. C. Ogles, Secretary of the United States Automobile Insurance Company, delivered to an Agent of this office on the 17th inst. a letter which had been received by that Company on September 4th, which letter was written by A. C. Allen, a well-known abstracter, of Nevada, Iowa. The letter is as follows:

"Nevada, Iowa, September 2nd 1920

Gentlemen:

Would not care to make any connections which would in any way confine me as I am planning to get foot loose and try to "Reach" an organization which has broken up my home and which cannot be "reached" through the present national administration. It cannot be done located in one spot. The rest of my days will be spent exposing J P Morgan's Wall Street Foreign Building in America. He is the "nigger in the wood pile".

Very truly yours,
(signed) A. C. Allen"

Investigation was immediately made and it was ascertained that Allen is an abstracter, who has spent some time in insane asylums; that he is violently patriotic and had not been out of NEVADA, IOWA, during the past 60 days except for a short trip to an abstracter's meeting in Kansas City. ALLEN apparently has a hallucination concerning monied people and feels that these people have been responsible for his separation from his wife. He also appears to believe that J. P. Morgan is building up foreign labor bodies in order to eliminate the Americans. While the report was that ALLEN is unquestionably unbalanced regarding the Morgan and other financial situations, the investigation was that he has not been out of his home town at or near the time of the bomb explosion, except for the one occasion upon which occasion his presence has been accounted for. This investigation was concluded in view of the circumstances outlined.

Further investigation was made touching upon the Wall Street Bomb Explosion. This investigation also being made by Agent Hess at points in Iowa, the reports being entitled "WALL STREET EXPLOSION, New York City", made November 26, 1920, for the period November 22nd to 24th inclusive, also report entitled "WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, New York City", made December 6, 1920, for period December 3rd and a third report entitled "WALL STREET BOMB, New York City" for period December 6th, 1920, made on December 7th, 1920. These three reports deal with certain dynamite shipments made by the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY to parties in IOWA. The destination of these various shipments was checked up by Agent Hess in these three reports and no developments of moment resulted from the investigation.

I find no other information in the files of the Omaha Office relative to the matter. In order that the Director might, without delay, refer to any one of these reports mentioned, copies thereof are attached hereto.

Agent learned at Des Moines through Mr. A. C. Ogle, secretary of the United States Automobile Insurance Company, that one A. C. ALLEN, an abstracter of Nevada, Iowa, had sent a letter to their company which on the face was rather of a peculiar nature.

Agent secured the letter from this company and is as follows:

"A. C. Allen

After conferring with the District Special Agent in Charge

REFERENCE:  F
COPIES OF THIS REPORT FURNISHED TO:  3 to Washington; Daily
James H. Daly by long distance phone, Agent left for Nevada, Iowa, arriving there at midnight; located Mr. Bert B. Childs, who is City marshal and Court Bailiff at that place. From Mr. Childs Agent learned that A. C. ALLEN is an abstracter as stated in his letter; that at one time he had been confined to any asylum; that he is considered an expert abstracter; and has always been known as of weak mentality but perfectly harmless, and at the present time is tolerated by the community who are all aware of the circumstances surround his case.

Agent later interviewed A. C. BATTAM, Mayor of Nevada, Iowa, and who is, incidentally, engaged in the abstracting business. He states that he has known ALLEN for forty years, in fact since birth; that the man has developed his weak mentality within the past five years; that some three years ago he was sent to Clarinda, Iowa, to the asylum, but was later released through the efforts of his parents; that he is in no way connected with any radical organization or activities, the man being very patriotic; that to his personal knowledge ALLEN has at no time been away from Nevada, Iowa, within the last sixty (60) days, except a short trip to an abstractor's meeting in Kansas City.

Agent later interviewed ALLEN personally and the following facts were developed: that ALLEN is 42 years of age; that he is a married man but is at the present time divorced from his wife who is living with their daughter in Los Angeles, Calif. That he has a hallucination concerning monied people, and feels that these people have brought up the trouble between him and his wife. He also has the idea that J P MORGAN is building up foreign labor bodies in order to eliminate the Americans, and ALLEN being passionately nationalistic thinks that this should be stopped.
It is Agent's belief that this man is harmless but that he should be put in some place of refuge within the near future as from investigation his condition is seemingly growing worse from day to day. His chief mental trouble seems to be the idea that the monied interests, Masonary, and the national administration have all combined to eliminate Americans from their due deserts. Agent secured from ALLEN's father, MR. M. C. ALLEN, copies of letters which this man has written from when away from visits, and that all bear out the statements which have already been incorporated in this report.

As no connections could be located between this man and any radical organization or other dangerous activities, Agent considered the investigation concluded.

Investigation concluded.
At Des Moines, Livermore and Ottesen, Iowa, dated November 22, 1920, as follows:

"Title: Wall Street Explosion Stop. Check up immediately forwarding two copies your report to Bagley, Kansas City. Disposition the following blasting gelatine sold Aetna Explosive Co. Stop June 19th, forty-three hundred pounds, seventy-five percent J. A. MITCHELL, Des Moines, Stop. May 8th nine hundred pounds, seventy-five percent H. JACOBSON, Ottosen, Iowa."

Agent later learned thru Superintendent Bagley, Kansas City, that this stock was under letter of instruction from W. J. FLINN, now at New York City under date of November 18, 1920.

Investigation here showed that the AETNA EXPLOSIVE CO. of Chicago, Illinois, maintain desk room at #507-9th Street this city; that they have no regular force at this point; that J. A. MITCHELL, who resides at #3939 Seventh Street, this city, looks after their magazines here and also takes care of the deliveries of this company in this district. He is the sole person here and is stated as their representative.

Agent proceeded to this man's residence but was unable to locate him, his wife stating that he was at Redfield, Iowa, on a blasting job. Agent discussed the explosive business conducted by her husband and learned that MITCHELL operated under the name of DES MOINES POWDER COMPANY; that he does independent blasting.
work, looks after all AETNA deliveries which were sold thru the Chicago office and sold to the general trade, dynamite and other products, selling AETNA goods on which he was paid a commission.

MITCHELL'S wife stated that she looked after her husband's books and a check was made covering the dates mentioned in telegram. No record was found that would show the receipt of this shipment of dynamite, in fact no record was found that showed the receipt of any dynamite of over sixty percent content.

Agent attempted to locate MITCHELL at Redfield, Iowa, and after some delay, did so and arranged a meeting for the following day at which time MITCHELL came to the hotel and the following facts were learned; That he is a general agent for the AETNA EXPLOSIVE CO. of Chicago, Illinois. That he takes care of their business in this district having charge of their magazines, making all deliveries and looking after their collections. He also sells their product on a commission basis, operating under the name "DESMOINES POWDER CO."

He further states that he has never had any "gelatine" dynamite in this district; that the highest test stuff he has ever stocked was sixty percent regular ammonia in the 1-1/3" and 1 1/4" sizes; that to the best of his knowledge there has never been any 75% gelatine dynamite shipped into this territory with in the last eighteen months and that he would undoubtedly know of it if there had been.

MITCHELL submitted his books and copies of invoices, bills of lading, etc. for examination. From these figures record was compiled showing amount of dynamite received from June 15th to July 15, 1920. Also a record was made showing disposition during this period.

Agent is incorporating shipments received in case a check-up is needed from the AETNA COMPANY'S books. The record of shipments will be held in the Bureau office at Omaha, Nebraska, in case any figures are required from them.

Agent proceeded to Livermore, Iowa, a small town about twelve miles from Ottosen, Iowa, where he was personally acquainted, and after making inquiries, found that H. JACOBSON, mentioned in the telegram, was evidently HAROLD JACOBSON, a young farmer who lived about five miles from Ottosen, Iowa; that this man is the oldest member of a well known and highly respected widow woman of that place, who is at the present time engaged in farming his mother's land. The JACOBSON family are well and favorable known, being residents of Later investigation was made thru the local freight agent, R. H. SKIVER, at Ottosen, Iowa, and records show that on May 14, 1920, a shipment of dynamite, 200# in all, was received for this man JACOBSON from the AETNA EXPLOSIVE CO. Minnesota Transfer, Minnesota; that this shipment was made from St. Paul, Minnesota, on May 6, 1920, their way-bill #321. It was billed as eight cases 75% gelatine dynamite 25# per case-200#. There was also one box of caps. The station agent known consignee personally and states that it was to be used by him in clearing a piece of his mother's farm land and that he has heard of the work being done, as stated by JACOBSON to him, at the time delivery was made.

Agent attempted to get in touch with JACOBSON personally but was unable to do so, he being away at the time. In talking with his mother however, Agent learned that about 60% of the stuff had already been used; that her son had blasted rock with it and that he intended to clear stump land with the balance 140#. She states that they did not receive 900# as stated in the telegram, but 200# as shown on the bill of lading at the station here.

DR. W. M. SHIPLEY, well known surgeon at Ottosen, Iowa, states that he has known this family for many years; that they are very reliable and of fine character; that their statements can be believed and absolutely relied upon.

Arrangements were made for HAROLD JACOBSON to send a shortment covering this entire transaction to Agent and this will be made a part of the Bureau records at Omaha in case it is needed at any future time. Agent returned to Des Moines, Iowa, and as no new instructions received, concluded this investigation here. Concluded.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, New York City

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At Des Moines, Iowa.

Upon arrival at Des Moines, Iowa, Agent was in receipt of the following telegram from Division Superintendent of New York:

"This office desires of tracing shipment quantity of 75% explosive gelatine made by Des Moines Powder Company, Des Moines, Iowa, and shipped through the Aetna Explosives Company to some point east. It is requested that this matter be given immediate attention and full particulars concerning shipment be wired here at once."

Agent was in touch with J. M. MITCHELL who operates there under the name of DES MOINES POWDER COMPANY and discussed thoroughly with him pertaining to the 75% gelatine shipment. Reference is made at this point to previous report made by Agent under this same title under date of date Nov. 22-24, 1920.

Mr. MITCHELL positively states that he has never at any time handled any 75% gelatine shipments for the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY; that he has never to his knowledge shipped anything through the state of Iowa going east.

Agent then called upon the various railway express agents at Des Moines and discussed with them the going over of all express way bills, etc. This would be a large task and Agent wired Division Superintendent Lamb asking for further instructions.

Later a telegram was received from Division Superintendent Lamb asking that a check be made of all shipment east for the past eight months. No record was found of any shipment by the Des Moines...
Powder Company during this time and no shipment of this particular material or any material which might possibly be of this kind. Agent shall again request the New York Office to furnish any data which would enable the agent in making a more thorough check.

Investigation concluded.

Making reference to report of Agent's of November 22-24, 1920, in which it is stated that a sworn statement would be secured from HAROLD JACOBSEN of Ottoson, Iowa.

Agent today has secured and filed in the Bureau office at Omaha, Nebraska, a sworn statement from HAROLD JACOBSON to the effect that on May 14, 1920, he received 200 pounds of 75% Gelatine, that he has used 50 pounds of this and has in his possession at the present time the balance 150 pounds. In case a copy of this affidavit or the original should be wanted in the New York Office the same may be secured from this office.

Investigation concluded.
The following report is made pursuant to instructions contained in Sixth Division Circular No. 28, dated October 3rd and pursuant to Director's letter to Division Superintendent Samson, dated September 28, GFR.

The report of Agent H. W. Hess for September 17th and 18th 1920, made on September 20, 1920, entitled A. G. ALLEN, possible connection with bomb plot, NEVADA, IOWA, deals directly with the question. A. G. OGLE, secretary of the UNITED STATES AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE COMPANY, delivered to an Agent of this office on the 17th inst. a letter which had been received by that Company on September 4th, which letter was written by A. C. ALLEN, a well-known abstracter, of NEVADA, IOWA. The letter is as follows:

"Nevada, Iowa. September 2nd 1920

Gentlemen:

Would not care to make any connections which would in any way confine me as I am planning to get foot loose and try to "Reach" an organization which has broken up my home and which cannot be "reached" through the present national administration. It cannot be done located in one spot. The rest of my days will be spent exposing J P Morgan's wall street foreign building in America. He is the "nigger in the wood pile".

Very truly yours,
(signed) A.C.Allen"

Investigation was immediately made and it was ascertained that ALLEN is an abstracter, who has spent some time in insane asylums; that he is violently patriotic and had not been out of NEVADA, IOWA, during the past 60 days except for a short trip to an abstracter's meeting in Kansas City. ALLEN apparently has a hallucination concerning monied people and feels that these people have been responsible for his separation from his wife. He also appears to believe that J. P. Morgan is building up foreign labor bodies in order to eliminate the Americans. While the report was that ALLEN is unquestionably unbalanced regarding the Morgan and other financial situations, the investigation showed that he has not been out of his home town at or near the time of the bomb explosion, except for the one occasion upon which occasion his presence has been accounted for. This investigation was concluded in view of the circumstances outlined.

Further investigation was made touching upon the Wall Street Bomb Explosion. This investigation also being made by Agent Hess at points in Iowa, the reports being entitled "WALL STREET EXPLOSION, New York City", made November 26, 1920, for the period November 22nd to 24th inclusive, also report entitled "WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, New York City", made December 6, 1920, for period December 3rd and a third report entitled "WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, New York City" for period December 6th, 1920, made on December 7th, 1920. These three reports deal with certain dynamite shipments made by the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY to parties in IOWA. The destination of these various shipments was checked up by Agent Hess in these three reports developments of moment resulted from the investigation.

I find no other information in the files of the Omaha Office relative to the matter. In order that the Director might, without delay, refer to any one of these reports mentioned, copies thereof are attached hereto.

Agent learned at Des Moines through Mr. A. G. Ogle, secretary of the United States Automobile Insurance Company, that one A. C. ALLEN, an abstracter of Nevada, Iowa, had sent a letter to their company which on the face was rather of a peculiar nature.

Agent secured the letter from this company and is as follows:

"A. C. Allen

James H. Daly by long distance phone, Agent left for Nevada, Iowa, arriving there at midnight; located Mr. Bert B. Childs, who is City marshal and Court Bailiff at that place. From Mr. Childs Agent learned that A. C. ALLEN is an abstracter as stated in his latter; that at one time he had been confined to an asylum; that he is considered an expert abstracter; and has always been known as of weak mentality but perfectly harmless, and at the present time is tolerated by the community who are all aware of the circumstances surround his case.

Agent later interviewed A. C. BATTAG, Mayor of Nevada, Iowa, and who is, incidentally, engaged in the abstracting business. He states that he has known ALLEN for forty years, in fact since birth; that the man has developed his weak mentality within the past five years; that some three years ago he was sent to Clarinda, Iowa, to the asylum, but was later released through the efforts of his parents; that he is in no way connected with any radical organization or activities, the man being very patriotic; that to his personal knowledge ALLEN has at no time been away from Nevada, Iowa, within the last sixty (60) days, except a short trip to an abstracter's meeting in Kansas City.

Agent later interviewed ALLEN personally and the following facts were developed: that ALLEN is 42 years of age; that he is a married man but is at the present time divorced from his wife who is living with their daughter in Los Angeles, Calif. That he has a hallucination concerning monied people, and feels that these people have brought up the trouble between him and his wife. He also ideas that J P MORGAN is building up foreign labor bodies in order to eliminate the Americans, and ALLEN being passionately nationalistic thinks that this should be stopped.
It is Agent's belief that this man is harmless but that he should be put in some place of refuge within the near future as from investigation his condition is seemingly growing worse from day to day. His chief mental trouble seems to be the idea that the monied interests, Masonary, and the national administration have all combined to eliminate Americans from their due deserts. Agent secured from ALLEN'S father, MR. M. C. ALLEN, copies of letters which this man has written from when away from visits, and that all bear out the statements which have already been incorporated in this report.

As no connections could be located between this man and any radical organization or other dangerous activities, Agent considered the investigation concluded.

Investigation concluded.
IN RE: ISAAC WEINSTEIN
(Wall Street Explosion).

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Pursuant to instructions received, I this day made efforts to locate one ISAAC WEINSTEIN, who was reported as residing on the corner of Second Avenue and 12th Street on the second floor of an apartment house.

Discreet investigation was made at all four corners of 12th Street and 2d Avenue, and I was unable to locate any person who had ever heard of a man named ISAAC WEINSTEIN as residing in that vicinity.

The letter carriers engaged in delivering mail on 2d Avenue and 12th Street, were interviewed, and neither of them were able to recall having ever heard of any person named WEINSTEIN as living there.

At 37 Rutgers Street I find that this address is occupied by the FREIE ARBEITER STIMME, a Yiddish radical publication, but as far as is known WEINSTEIN is not known there.

Inquiries were made concerning the ST. MARKS RESTAURANT, where it was reported WEINSTEIN visited. However, I was unable to locate such a restaurant in a radius of one half mile, from 12th Street and 2d Avenue, nor is such a restaurant listed in the telephone directory. This investigation will be continued.
Miss Frances M. Keightley, Washington, D.C.

My dear Miss Keightley:

Please give to Mr. Burns the following information:

(I spoke of it to him while he was here and since that time I have secured the names in question.)

A special agent of the Department of Justice by the name of Buscha frequently met an anarchist by the name of Savry secretly in the office of the Division of Investigation, Shipping Board, in Philadelphia. About the time the Governor was appointed these meetings ceased.

My information is that this anarchist was giving information of some kind presumably about the Wall St. explosion. It occurred to me that perhaps this information if it is of any value might be kept from the Governor unless he knew of the existence of the reports made by Buscha and if he calls for the reports made by Buscha and they are not available he can draw his own conclusions.

I just received the names by mail and am forwarding same to you so that you may give them to him confidentially.

With kindest regards and best wishes,

I beg to remain

Yours very truly,

S. F. Goddard

Dear Sir:

Referring to your letter addressed to Division Superintendent L. J. Baley, Atlanta, Ga., requesting any information in our possession covering investigations on any "leads" on the Wall Street Explosion:

I beg to advise that the only case handled by this office which had even the slightest reference of being connected with the Wall Street Explosion, was the case of PHILIP BENDER et al., members of the S/S "CITY OF ALTON," charged with Mutiny on High Seas, on which the Bureau has a file. However, it later developed that there was no connection whatever with this case and the Wall Street Explosion.

In Re: Wall Street Explosion

Reference is made to letter of September 30th from Superintendent Weakley requesting that copy of reports covering above matter be forwarded you immediately.

I am enclosing herewith report made under date of January 18, 1921, which is the only lead under this subject that has come to this office.

Very truly,

J. M. Towler,
Agent in Charge.
Referring letter from the Chief under date of January 11th initiated "TFB" stating that above subject had written to the Bureau at Washington stating that he might be able to give some information regarding the Wall Street explosion.

Agent called on Mr. Schmidt and found that 832 Mississippi Avenue is one of the fire halls of the Memphis Fire Department.

Schmidt stated that the only information he had was merely superstition on his part drawn from conclusions he had reached after attending a performance at one of the local theaters in Memphis at which a party by the name of Alexander, a supposed mind reader and fortune teller, had given an exhibition of his skill. He stated that Alexander did not make any reference to the Wall Street explosion, but did predict that the Lyric Theater in Memphis would fall in in the next few days. This event, however, did not come to pass. I asked him if he had ever talked to Alexander, or had ever heard him make any other such statement during the course of his stay there, and he stated he had not.

After talking with subject I find that he is very anxious to make a connection with the Bureau and stated that he had a wonderful experience while in the Army and was satisfied that he would make a good man as he was a very close observer and was splendid at reading human nature. The sum and substance of this is, that he is simply looking for a job and drew on his imagination in regard... to Alexander.

Alexander was in Nashville for quite a while and caused a good deal of sensation and he is now showing in Birmingham. I understand that he will be back in Nashville soon and I will make a point to see him while he is here and feel him out, even though I personally have no faith whatever in the opinion of subject.

The case is closed.

REPORT MADE BY: W. J. West.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
BOMB EXPLOSION, Wall St., New York City, September 16, 1920.

On Sunday morning, October 2nd, Agent Crockwell notified the writer of the receipt of Bureau telegram advising that EDWIN P. FISCHER, who disclosed some information concerning the Wall Street Explosion September, 1920, was receiving mail through post office box 49, South Westport, Mass., and directing that FISCHER be located and placed under surveillance, investigation of the matter to be made under cover.

Agent left for New Bedford, Mass., on the 12:30 noon train Sunday, October 2nd, via N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. At the New Bedford, Mass., post office it was learned that South Westport was 14 miles distant, accessible only by automobile, and that the post office was situated in Tallman's store. Agent proceeded to Westport, Mass., via trolley and there secured automobile for conveyance to South Westport, eight miles down in the country.

Mr. Richard Wright, postmaster at South Westport, Mass., the post office being situated in Tallman's store, stated he came from New Bedford only three months ago and was postmaster only for the past month and was not very well acquainted with the persons receiving mail. He had at that time rented boxes #1, 2, 41, 42 and 45, as well as box 46, taken for October, November and December. He stated that box 49 was unoccupied. He stated, however, that there was also attached to the station a rural carrier, Mr. Mark Gifford, who had been delivering mail to a Mr. E. P. FISCHER living down at Horse Neck Beach, three miles from there. The postmaster understood that FISCHER had been receiving mail for about one month through the rural carrier. He did not know FISCHER'S home address or his description, but believed he was staying at a cottage somewhere near the beach.

Agent then proceeded to the home of Mark Gifford on Horseneck Beach Road, but upon arrival there learned from his mother that he had gone automobile riding and she did not know when he would return. The driver of the automobile, Mr. H. M. Lewis of Westport, stated that Mr. Gifford being a single man and it being Sunday would probably not be home Sunday evening. As it was then dusk and there appeared to be no alternative to staying in the road to await the arrival of the carrier, Agent had to return for the night to Westport and from there to New Bedford, Mass.

Monday, October 3rd, Agent called the Boston office on the telephone at 9 A.M., and advised of Sunday's activities. Agent then proceeded in the same manner as theretofore to South Westport, Mass., and met the rural carrier, Mr. Gifford, on the road. Mr. Gifford stated that EDWIN P. FISCHER and a MISS M. A. FISCHER had been staying at Horseneck Beach for two weeks past, at the Horseneck House run by a Mr. Head, and had been receiving mail through box 49. He could give no further information concerning the couple other than that they had been receiving mail and were there at that time so far as he knew.
Agent, having ascertained that MR. E. P. FISCHER was residing at the Horseneck House of Mr. Head, and as it was absolutely necessary for the writer to appear in court at Boston, Mass., on Tuesday morning, October 4th, at 10 A. M., as the first and principal witness in the case of U. S. vs. James J. Boshan (violation Section 47, Criminal Code -- larceny of Government records) and as it was then noon of October 3rd, Agent returned to Westport and thence to New Bedford, Mass., where he telephoned the information to the Boston office.

At New Bedford, before telephoning, Agent also ascertained through the New Bedford, Mass., post office that in the mail that date for South Westport, Mass., there were two letters addressed to MR. EDWIN P. FISCHER, Box 49, Horseneck Beach, Mass., one postmarked "Flushing, New York, Forest Hills Station, October 2nd, 6 P. M.", and from ROBERT ANDERSON POPE, 331 Madison Avenue, New York City, postmarked "Forest Hills Station, October 2nd, 5 P. M." Mr. Riley, in the office of Postmaster Oliver at New Bedford, showed the two above mentioned letters to the writer.

After conversation with the Boston office on the telephone, it was decided that Agent should return to Boston, in order to be present at court in the morning. Agent left New Bedford at 3:37 P. M. via N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., arriving in Boston at 5:30 P. M.

On October 4th the Bureau was advised by wire of the location of EDWIN P. FISCHER at Horseneck Beach and of the receipt of the above letters. On October 4th, Agent Poole of this office was assigned to continue the surveillance during the presence of the
On October 6th, Agent Poole telephoned the Boston office that after covering Horseneck Beach he was unable to locate any E. P. FISCHER or to locate the Horseneck Beach House.

The writer then called Postmaster Wright at South Westport on the long-distance telephone and was informed by him that FISCHER had left Horseneck Beach the middle of last week and had left no forwarding address. The Bureau was again advised by telegraph concerning this latest information.

At the close of court on October 5th, Agent left Boston at 6:00 P.M. for Fall River, Mass., and thence to Westport, via trolley, where he secured automobile service from H. M. Lewis. Proceeding to South Westport, to the home of Mark Gifford, the rural carrier, it was learned that he was at a Masonic meeting in New Bedford, Mass., and was not expected home before midnight. Proceeding from South Westport to Horseneck Beach, Mr. John Gifford, who conducts a summer post office there, stated that the only two visitors on the beach — a "peculiar" man and a woman, both named "FLESCHER" — had left Horseneck Beach the afternoon before. He stated that they had been residing for some weeks with Mr. Head, two cottages below. Mr. Gifford also stated that his postal station closed September 30th, but through mistake he received late Monday afternoon, October 3rd, two letters addressed to "Mr. FLESCHER" which his girl delivered.

Mr. Head, at Horseneck Beach, was next interviewed under a pretence. His register contained the names of EDWIN P. FISCHER and MAUD FISCHER of 33 West 92nd street, New York City. These persons, Mr. Head stated, had been with him for about a month past as boarders and had left for their New York home at 2 P. M. the afternoon before walking over to Westport Point and taking Manchester’s stage from there to Westport Factory, thence by car to Fall River, Mass. As to their baggage, he stated that they had some suit cases and bundles, which they gave to Mr. Gifford to send parcel post. He also stated that the couple were brother and sister; the man an exceedingly large man, of light complexion and about 50 years of age, while the woman was in the forties. He also heard them mention a possible trip to Philadelphia via the City Line, and a visit to Washington in the very near future. They intended, however, to go directly from the beach to their New York home. For five days CATHERINE WHITNEY of 3604 Broadway, N.Y.C., said to be his stenographer, visited him. Agent then returned to the home of Postmaster John Gifford at Horseneck Beach, and he stated that the baggage referred to was given by him to Mark Gifford, the rural carrier.

Agent then proceeded from Horseneck Beach to the home of rural carrier Mark Gifford, at South Westport and found he had not yet returned from New Bedford, although it was then 11:30 P. M. Agent then returned to Westport Factory and from Westport Factory to Fall River by trolley. Upon arrival in Fall River, at about 1:00 A.M., Agent called rural carrier Mark Gifford on the telephone (Westport 15-3) and he verified the fact that FISCHER and his sister left Horseneck Beach the afternoon before and that he received for parcel post four packages - three suit cases, one a wicker suit case, and one package, all addressed to, 33 West 92nd street, New York City.

Agent made a search of the registers at the hotels Mellen and Mohican at Fall River, Mass., but found nobody by that name registered on October 4th.

At 6:00 A.M., October 6th, Agent proceeded to the Fall River Line Wharf and made inquiry of the purser on board the SS Commonwealth, but was informed by him that the state-room list for their westward trip on the evening of October 4th had been sent to New Haven upon the arrival of the boat at New York. He could not recall any person on account of the large number travelling.

Agent left Fall River Line Wharf on the 7:38 A.M. train via N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and arrived at Boston at 9:05 A.M., to resume case in court at 10 A.M.

On October 6th the Bureau was wired concerning the departure of the FISCHERS for New York on October 4th, and the New York office was also advised by wire concerning the same.

CLOSED.
At Los Angeles:

With reference to Bureau letter above referred to, directed to Div. Supt. Breniman, beg to state that the Los Angeles office of the Bureau made no investigation whatsoever upon any leads in reference to the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION in New York City. At the time of the explosion, and since that date, I have been acting as Agent in Charge of the Los Angeles office, and no report was referred to this office from any other office of the Bureau for investigation relative to the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION and there appeared to be no leads to investigate in this district. I read the newspapers published in this district with particular care, during the time that articles were appearing regarding said explosion, with a viewpoint of making any investigation that seemed possible.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt from the Division Superintendent, Roy O. Samson, of this Division, Circular Letter No. 28, 6th Division requesting that I forward to the Director a detailed resume of any information in the files of this office covering investigation on any leads on the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, and reference is made to the letter of the Director addressed to Division Superintendent Roy O. Samson dated September 28th, GFR.

Going through the files in this office, I find the following information is of record:

Bureau letter signed by W. J. Flynn, Director, dated February 21st, 1921, JPM, in relation to the above matter. Attached to this letter was an anonymous letter mailed in Rome, Italy, addressed to HON. A. Mitchell Palmer, U. S. S. Attorney, Washington, D. C., reading as follows:

I am glad to notify your Honor that Nicola Bassetti and his wife Amalia and his brother in law Giocondo G. Glassi all living in Franklin, Kans. Crawford County they are all dangers anarchists.

Nich Bassetti and G. Glassi had stolen explosive dynamite from Mine N 15 of Western Mining and Coal Co. before Xmas 1918 and on 1919 and 1920. Wife Amalia she carried the dynamite to Joplin Mo. with her automobile an shipped to New York, so we had the plot that wreck your home and so on at last the wreck of Wall St. New York.

They made pretty good money for that.”

This matter was assigned to Agent Portley of this office, who made the required investigation at Pittsburg, Kansas.

This investigation disclosed that the Western Mining and Coal Company had powder stolen only once during the last six years. That this was in December(3rd)1919, when 700 sticks of dynamite and 400
Reference is had to your letter of September 28, 1921, initialed GFR, making inquiry concerning any investigation that may have been made in this Division concerning the Wall Street Explosion.

While I was sure that no investigation had been made concerning this case, I communicated with each of the Agents in Charge in this Division and have been advised by them that no investigation was made in any of the Districts of this Division for the reason that no "leads" were developed anywhere in this section.

Very truly yours,

Gus T. Jones
Division Superintendent.
caps and 500 feet of fuse were stolen from the magazine and shaft No. 16, Franklin, Kansas. This dynamite was later recovered, but the caps and fuse were never found.

NICOLA BASSETTI and GIONCONDE GALASSI are employed at shaft No. 15 by this company and have been so employed for several years. The investigation further disclosed that there were a large number of Italians employed in the mines in that district who were considered Anarchists and blackhanders of the worst type, and that it is easy for these Italians and other miners to obtain dynamite without stealing it, the practice being that each morning each miner draws from the mine supply office a carton of dynamite containing twenty sticks and twenty-five pounds of black powder. He can save from five to ten sticks of this dynamite a day and in this way accumulate in a short time quite a quantity of the same.

NICOLA BASSETTI and GIONCONDE GALASSI are subscribers for the "UMANITA NOVA" an Anarchist paper published in Milan, Italy by EMILCA MALATESTA.

On January 3, 1921, the home of the Deputy Sheriff of Crawford County, in which county Franklin, Kansas, is situated, was blown up by dynamite; both BASSETTI and GALASSI were suspected as being responsible for this act.

At the time this investigation was made it was thought unwise to interview BASSETTI and GALASSI in relation to the subject matter in this anonymous letter.

NICOLA BASSETTI was interviewed by Agent Portley in relation to his subscribing for the UMANITA NOVA, the Anarchist paper. He stated that he was 59 years of age, married, two children, born in Italy, came to the United States 15 years ago. Lived a short time in Scranton, Pa., then came to Kansas where he has resided ever since. That he is a coal miner and that he is not a citizen of the United States. That he secured his first papers several years ago at Chicopee, Kansas, but has never secured his citizenship papers. That he married AMELIA GALASSI thirteen years ago at Chicopee, Kansas. That he is not a subscriber and never has been for any Anarchist papers; that he is not an Anarchist and not a member of any radical society, but is a member of the Miners Union.

AMELIA GALASSI, the wife of NICOLA BASSETTI was also interviewed and states that she was born in Italy; came to the United States about 14 years ago; that her parents reside about 200 miles from Rome. That her father came to this country with his two sons, her brothers, PAUL and JOE GALASSI. That her father returned to Italy in April of 1920; that he lives at Fossato, Divigo, Italy; that she does not belong to any radical, black-hand or Anarchist society. The ANGELE ANGELO went to Italy with her father and he lives near her father's home in Italy.

The Italian Consul at Frontenac, Kansas, RAFAEL PERGATORI, which is within five miles of Franklin, Kansas, gave the information that only a small part of Italians make applications through his office for passports to enter Italy. That the following is a list of the ones he handled in 1920:

Rosano Paylorarro
Guiceppe Firono
Lorenso Capestrani
Listello Olimpie
Fransisco Papi

Investigation further disclosed that the reason that the father of the GALASSI family returned to Italy in April 1920 was because he could not get along with his sons and BASSETTI and wife. That one VINCENT VIOLA is a vicious Anarchist and was arrested by the Labor Department during the war, but never deported.

GIOCONDE GALASSI is about 45 years of age; 160 pounds; 5 feet, 9 inches; dark hair and complexion; slouchy appearance and is considered harmless by those who come in contact with him in the mine.

NICOLA BASSETTI is 39 years old; about 5 feet, ten inches; 180 pounds; dark hair and complexion; good dresser; a strong force character; strong athletic build.

AMERLIA BASSETTI is 30 years old, about 5 feet, 5 inches; 160 pounds; stout build; very dark complexion; wavy black hair; good looking.

The investigation further disclosed that AMERLIA BASSETTI has made trips to Joplin, Missouri, at one time being shadowed by an Agent of this office. She at that time visited another Italian, at Joplin, this woman being in jail there and also bought some fruit in Joplin and delivered it to her. It developed she was not known to the officers at Joplin.

On March 19, 1921, this office received information that NICK BASSETTI and one MC COY from Joplin, Missouri, were in jail at De Queen, Arkansas; that they had among their possessions two Colt revolvers and short sawed-off shotgun and complete miner's outfit. The investigation by this office of this matter disclosed that BASSETTI and this man MC COY were taken off the Kansas City Southern going north at Mena, Arkansas, for creating a disturbance on the train. That they were both drunk and were held for creating disturbance; that BASSETTI carried a suitcase in which were a double-barreled sawed-off shotgun:—12 guage, and a 38 Special Colt pistol. MC COY had a 41 Colt pistol in his grip. These men claimed that they were traveling in that territory in search of work.
October 8, 1921.

Mr. Coy's correct name is Bruce Mitchell; he is of Scotch descent and a coal miner in the Pittsburg, Kansas, coal fields. A photograph was obtained of Bassetti and copies of the same were forwarded to the Bureau office. These photographs also contained a description of Bassetti.

In this connection, I refer to the reports made by Agent Ed Portly, of this office, as follows:

February 27, 1921,
March 12, 1921,
March 21, 1921,

copies of all these reports being forwarded to the Bureau at the time the investigations were made.

On April 16, 1921, one E. E. Fader called at this office and advised me that he was Director of the Industrial Employment Survey, Kansas City, Missouri; that he formerly was a captain in the United States Army and was stationed near Philadelphia during the years of 1918-1919, and that during the month of January 1919 there were several bomb explosions in Philadelphia, damaging the home of a Federal Judge there and also a Catholic church. That a short time thereafter he was stopping at the Little Hotel on South Broadway Street at Philadelphia; that the owner and operator of this hotel was Norman Sherwood; that this man Sherwood and a clerk, whose name he did not recall, but who was principal in a graded school in Philadelphia, informed him that a few days before these explosions five men of foreign descent registered at this hotel and gave their address as New York City and that they left the morning after this explosion, leaving a forwarding address for their mail to a Post Office box in New York City. He does not recall the number of this Post Office box. He advised me that he did not recall the names of these men as shown by the register sheet of this hotel. That he made a report of this matter to the United States Intelligence office at Philadelphia and that Lt. Fetterolf and Capt. Elkins and Major Geary, who were at that time connected with the Army Intelligence, were familiar with his report. That these men are all now living in Philadelphia and engaged in banking and bonding business there. That a Special Agent of the Department of Justice of the Philadelphia office by the name of Mo Devitt is also familiar with his report. Mr. Fader further informed me that he had recently read in the newspapers about several parties being taken in custody as they landed in New Orleans and taken to New York City on a charge of being implicated in the bomb plots on Wall Street and that the name of one of these parties sounded familiar to him as being one of the names registered at the Little Hotel in Philadelphia, referred to above, but that he could not recall the names.
October 8.

In connection with the foregoing paragraph, I refer you to my letter to the Chief, Bureau of Investigation, under date of February 16, 1921.

Very truly yours,

Oscar Schmitz,
Special Agent in Charge.

The Director's letter of October 10th, initialed GFR and copy of an anonymous communication advising that information regarding the Wall Street Explosion could be obtained in a woman's apartment at the corner of West End Ave. & 107th Street, Telephone, Academy, 2142, was handed me for investigation.

The telephone number mentioned is registered under the name of SAMUEL LEVY at 230 West 105th Street, which is at the corner of Broadway, 2 blocks from the point mentioned by the anonymous communication. SAMUEL LEVY, is a middle aged man, married has one child, lives at his present address for the past six months, occupying Apartment 4-D. The house in which he resides is very high-class, and Levy's reputation appears to be of the best.

At the corner of 107th Street and West End Ave. there are two large apartment houses, one of seven stories, the other five, and in each there reside approximately 50 or more families.

It would appear that the information contained in the anonymous communication mentioned is not only very vague but apparently incorrect and unreliable.

To-day Agent Tucker interviewed Special Employee [Redacted] who stated that last night at a meeting of that branch of the Italian Defense Committee which is under direction of BALDAZZI, on DI CIAMPIS, the Recording Secretary mentioned the name of GIOVANNI DI GREGORIO and stated that the latter was one of the brightest men in the ANARCHISTIC movement and was employed as a bookkeeper in the offices of J.P. MORGAN & CO.

Di Ciampis also stated that Di Gregorio had been very active as intermediary in an attempt to bring together the Defense Committee directed by Baldazzi and the one under direction of Carlo Tresca but had been so far unsuccessful. Tresca's group meets at 208 East 12th Street, New York City and Baldazzi's at 123 West 15th Street.

[Redacted] was unable to obtain any further information at the time but will endeavor to obtain further information at the earliest opportunity.

No action in this matter will be taken, awaiting instructions from Director Flynn.

IN RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION.

Referring to Bureau letter of the 11th instant, initialed G.F.R., concerning a report made by former Confidential Informant for October 2, 1920, regarding the meeting of the Italian Defense Committee, at which meeting the name of Giovanni Di Gregorio was mentioned as being one of the brightest men in the Anarchistic movement and also being employed as bookkeeper in the office of J. P. Morgan & Company, Agent Scully informs me today that upon receipt of the aforementioned report a memorandum containing the information herein set forth was sent to former Director Flynn and a notation was made that no investigation would be made in lieu of further instructions. However, Mr. Scully is of the opinion that Mr. Flynn informed him several days after the receipt of the memorandum that an investigation made showed that there was no such person as mentioned, who was in the employ of the J. P. Morgan Company.

Agent called at the offices of J.P. MORGAN & COMPANY, and interviewed MR. MARTIN EGAN, who states that there was no person by name of GIOVANNI DE GREGORIO who had ever been employed by this firm either as bookkeeper or any other position, in fact all bookkeepers are Americans and thoroughly investigated before they are employed. Mr. Egan states that there may have been some one using a different name employed as porter or bootblack (as these are the only Italians employed here) and if a description of subject were obtained it would be easier to determine. This matter was investigated by Mr. Sherman Burns, sometime ago, and the files and records thoroughly examined but subject's name was not found there. This information was given agent by Mr. Egan.

Special Agent in Charge,
Mr. E. J. Bronnan,
Box 241, City Hall Station,
New York City.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your communication of the 14th instant concerning DI GREGORIO, an anarchist, alleged to be employed as a book-keeper in the office of J. P. Morgan and Co.

As there appears to be a certain degree of uncertainty in regard to this individual, it is desired that you make immediate inquiries and ascertain as a fact, whether or not this individual is now or ever has been in the employ of this corporation.

Very truly yours,

At New York, N.Y.

I proceeded to Brown & Coombe, Stockbrokers #100 Broadway, New York City, which firm Mr. KESSLER is connected with. He stated that the only thing he knew about the Explosion was that he read in a newspaper that one E.P. FISCHER predicted that on or about Sept. 16th, 1920 there would be an explosion in Wall Street; that he made some remarks regarding this newspaper article to his daughter at the time, and if he had had any information he would surely have reported it to the authorities.

> F. W. KELLY,
> Acting Division Superintendent.
>
> P.S.- Think you will find something on this under title "ALBERT KERNE, ED LIPSON, et al. Also in confidential informant reports."

Attention is called to the following reports:

> 2/1/205 - 69"
Reports of F. W. Kelly, titled "GENERAL RADICAL ACTIVITIES STATE OF MONTANA", dated July 3, 1920; all of page 3;

Case titled "RADICAL ACTIVITIES, BUTTE DISTRICT", dated August 28, 1920; paragraph under title "RUSSIAN BRANCH UNITED COMMUNIST PARTY OF AMERICA", on page 3;

Case titled "RADICAL ACTIVITIES, BUTTE DISTRICT", dated September 18, 1920; the bottom paragraph of page 3, first paragraph of page 4;

Case titled "ALBERT KEENE, 110 West 40th Street, New York City", dated September 18, 1920;

Case titled "GENERAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN, BUTTE DISTRICT", dated November 29, 1920; paragraph 1 of page 2;

Reports of D. F. Costello, titled "ALBERT KEENE, RUSSIAN COMMUNIST, N. Y. Bomb Explosion", dated February 6, 1921;

Case titled "ALBERT KEENE, RUSSIAN COMMUNIST, N. Y. Bomb Explosion", dated February 24, 1921;

Report of F. W. Kelly, titled "ELI KUSMINOW, alias ALBERT KEENE, Butte, Montana, Applicant Citizenship in U.S., Summary radical activities reported this office", dated April 25, 1921;

Report of D. H. Dickason, titled "GENERAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN, BUTTE DISTRICT", under date of June 11, 1921; the paragraphs under the title of "UNITED COMMUNIST PARTY", on pages 1 and 2.
There is very little in these reports touching directly on the NEW YORK BOMB EXPLOSION, but the man, ALBERT KERNE, seems to have been under suspicion, and some of these reports are mentioned merely to show his whereabouts on certain dates before and after this occurred.

Investigation closed unless further information called for.

Giovanni Costa, alias Louis Costello, alias Valentino Vanni, alias Julius Terry, alias Julius Perry.

At Cincinnati, O.

Reference is made to report of Agent William J. West of Boston office, made on December 31st, 1920; also report of Agent O. H. Slater, Cincinnati, made on January 10th, 1921, both reports being under above heading.

Agent learned that on October 15th a party had been arrested at Cincinnati giving name as Joseph Schmidt on the charge of robbing a poor box at St. Ludwig Catholic Church, located at 8th and Walnut Sts., Cincinnati, and this party was later identified by Captain Dunning of the Portillon Department, Cincinnati police, as being one Louis Costello who had a previous record as a poor box thief. This agent had Agent Slater make investigation at police headquarters for the purpose of finding out if party arrested was one and the same as referred to in previous reports. Agent Slater learned this was the same Costello referred to in those reports. Therefore agent, on October 20th the following wire in code to the Director:

"Please refer report Agent West Boston office December thirty first nineteen twenty and report Agent Slater Cincinnati January ten nineteen twenty one in re bomb explosion Wall Street New York City September 16, 1920, anarchist activity. Louis Wash. 2; Cinti 2; New York 2; Boston 2; Portland 2."

H.E. Scott.

Costello mentioned report Agent Slater and thought to be same subject as mentioned in report Agent West now in custody local police on charge robbing church poor box. As only information this office has relative any possible anarchist activities of Costello contained in report Agent West desires to be advised immediately by wire if director desires agent at this time to interview Costello regarding any knowledge he may have regarding Wall Street explosion as subject may be released at any time."

Under date October 21st agent received following reply in code from the Director:

"Desire you interview Louis Costello immediately regarding Wall Street explosive. Secure detailed statement forward special delivery. Desire no publicity concerning this matter. Cover movements after his release from custody local police. Two."

This agent and Agent Slater were directed by Agent-in-Charge WEAKLEY to interview COSTELLO as per instructions contained in wire #2 of Director above referred to.

Agents interviewed COSTO, alias Costello, who in being hold at County Jail having been assessed by the local police court fines aggregating $200.00 same being on charges of petit larceny, disorderly conduct and being a known thief. COSTO'S interview was taken party in questions and answers copies of which are herewith attached and made part of this report.

COSTO admitted all of the arrests and convictions as set out in reports of Agents West and Slater and further stated that he was a petit thief who had never attempted other than this with exception he was arrested at Boston, Mass., on March 5th, 1916. Costo did not seem adverse to answering questions asked him but could not in the main give dates correctly. Costo denied emphatically as will be shown in the questions and answers hereafter attached that he at any time made statement.
H. L. Scott.

to ERIC LUNDBALD as set out in report of Agent West above referred to.
He stated he did know party whose first name was Eric who was confined in the Massachusetts State Prison at Charleston at the same time he was, describing him as a second story man who was in bad with the prison officials and who held grievances against them for what he thought was mistreatment of him. Costo stated in his opinion Lundbald was crazy in the head and had pipe dreams and was always talking about some invention. Costo stated if Lundbald had ever made any statement regarding his, Costo, talking to him about explosives or blowing up Wall Street or getting even with him or placing any dynamite in any suit suit case near the bootblack stand in Charleston the same was not true and evidently was told by Lundbald to gain favor of prison officials wherever he might be confined.
Costo said his movements since leaving prison could be easily traced by the information which is contained in the questions and answers attached to this report after time he left Massachusetts State Prison at Charleston as he had gone directly to Beaverton, Oregon, and remained there or in that vicinity until about July of this year when he came east as set out in questions and answers. As will be seen from his statement he denies emphatically any knowledge as to chemistry or explosives of any kind; furthermore that he has not been to New York City for many years as he feared being picked up there; that all of his arrests and convictions have been for petit offenses. He states he would not do anything against the U. S. Government as he is well satisfied here and he does not believe in the taking of human life and that although he would not be what is termed a squealer or a rat he would if he had any knowledge of any plan which was contemplated for the blowing up of any place he would give such information.
in order to prevent the same although he would not give any information that might lead directly to the apprehension and conviction of anyone after a crime had been committed but that he would say as to whether he or not he knew anything about it but would refuse to give any information further but stated he could truthfully say at this time that he knew nothing whatever of any of the bomb explosions that occurred in the east; that he did not know anyone in anyways connected with them; that he did not know anything about it except he had a hazy recollection of having read something about it when he was in Oregon. He stated these things were entirely out of his line in that he was only a petit thief and was careful in violating any laws which called for heavy sentence and that he did not belong to any radical organizations of any kind whatsoever and had never affiliated himself with them and that he had never associated with radicals or any other law violators other than those which would naturally be in his own line.

Further speaking of ERIC LUNDBALD he stated he had no intention of associating with him after he got out of prison as Lundbald was a second story man and he could gain nothing by association with him.

Copies of this report and statement taken are being sent together with copies of the report above referred to to the Portland, Oregon, office in order that they may check up subject's story as to his movements and connection there.

Copies of report are also being sent to the Boston and New York offices for their information.

COSTO said that he would probably have to serve out the fine which is being held against him unless his wife, to whom he has written was successful in raising sufficient funds to pay him out. As per instructions in telegram of Director a line will be kept on Costo should he be released and any additional information that can be secured from any other source regarding COSTO will be promptly reported.

Continued.
EXTERNALS FOR MR. J. D. HARRIS

A representative of this bureau is proceeding abroad to make a confidential investigation in several of the European countries. Though the courtesy of the State Department arrangements have been made for the transmission to go through them of such cables as our representative may have occasion to forward.

I would appreciate it if you would advise me as to the method to be followed for the reimbursement to the State Department for the charges upon these cables.

Very truly yours,

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

DATE 12/12/22 BY 316R16/22

Q. What is your real name?
A. John Costo.

Q. When and where were you born?
A. Born October, either 1895 or 1897, at Sologna, Italy.

Q. When did you come to this country?
A. Came to the United States about 20 years ago; entered port of New York. At that time was single. Am now married, my mother and father never came to this country.

Q. Where is your wife at present and what is her name?
A. She is at Beaverton, Oregon, Box 599, with her people. William Fogg, who is the owner of a confectionary store there. My wife's first name is Jeannie. I married her at The Dallas, Oregon, about nine years ago. Have one child, a girl age 8.

Q. Are you a naturalized citizen?
A. No, never took out any papers.

Q. Do you belong to Communist party or any radical organization?
A. No.

Q. Did you serve sentence in the state prison at Charleston, Mass.?
A. Yes. Sentenced to three to five years around December, 1918. I was paroled from there, don't know year. I violated parole and went back and was only out a few days. Then I was first released from Charleston I went to Albany, New York, and was arrested there the same day I entered the city on petit larceny charge. Served three months and at expiration of term went back to state prison as parole violator and served almost all of my sentence then.

Q. After you were released where did you go?
A. I went directly to Oregon. My wife was residing in Boston at 59 Myrtle St. At expiration of my sentence we went to Beaverton, Oregon. Stayed there probably eight months and conducted business. From there went and opened up a place five miles out of Vancouver, Washington, which is across the river from Portland. Stayed there about six months. Made a failure and had to close down my business. Went back to Portland, couldn't get any employment. This was during summer of 1921. My funds getting scarce I came east to Chicago, Milwaukee and Cincinnati in quest of employment. Didn't get job and had to go to old resources and got arrested.
Q. Where did you run place in Vancouver?
A. On River road, four miles out under name of Conto. It was a road house. When I failed there returned to Portland and stayed there a few days. Then came over east and went to Chicago for a few days. Don't know where I stopped there. From there went to Milwaukee.

Q. Did you work for anybody in Boston after you got out on parole?
A. No. Didn't work for anybody as had to leave the city same day I was released. Required my wife to show transportation before I was released and I had to go.

Q. Were you released there on May 8th, 1920?
A. Yes it was April or May. I left on the next day for Oregon. My wife bought tickets for Portland, Oregon. The only stop we made was at Chicago to change trains.

Q. When you got to Portland where did you go?
A. A sister of my wife, Tressie Solari, was waiting for us. We waited for the next connection of suburban train to Beaverton.

Q. What is your sister-in-law's address in Portland?
A. I don't know. I think she went to California with her husband. I think her husband works in a restaurant and confectionery at Beaverton before I went there. The moment I went there he stopped out and I took hold and I ran it about six or seven months.

Q. Then where did you go from there?
A. Went and opened up a place at Vancouver. The name of the place was River View Inn. I had everything in name of Vanzi which was a fake name I put the property in. The place was closed but was run under name of Vanzi.

Q. After you closed that down where did you go?
A. Back to Portland. I don't know the month, sometime in May or June, 1921.

Q. Where did you and wife live in Portland?
A. We had an apartment but don't know exact address but we lived in this apartment.

Q. Where did you go from there?
A. I came over to Chicago, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. This was probably the middle of this July. Went to Milwaukee, then over to Kaukagon by boat, back to Milwaukee, then from there to Chicago, then down to Cincinnati. Got to Cincinnati two days before I was arrested on October 15th for petit larceny. Had a little room here in Cincinnati but don't know address.
Statement of John Conti.
Page 3.

Q. Were you arrested March 5, 1916, with Rosario Conti and John Dinatli in Boston, Mass.?
A. Yes. That's the time I got sentence of three to five years. John Dinatli got sentence of four to seven years.

Q. Were you a seaman for awhile?
A. Yes.

Q. Were you arrested in New York under name of Edward Terry, and also arrested as Julius Terry in 1904?
A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever been arrested for anything except petit larceny?
A. No except this three to five year sentence.

Q. Did you run a confectionary in Cincinnati at one time?
A. Yes on McElhenny Ave. I don't remember address. That was about 1913.

Q. Were you arrested at one time under name of Valerio Venezi and served term in an eastern penitentiary in Pennsylvania?
A. Yes.

Q. Who was it secured your parole out of Massachusetts prison?
A. The Board of Parole.

Q. Do you know a man named Donnaruma?
A. Yes. I know him but he wasn't the man who got me paroled. He was a newspaper man. I never worked for him.

Q. In the month of June, 1920, were you in Oregon?
A. Yes. You can figure two days after my release. I went directly to Oregon, which is a true statement.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody you were an expert in explosives?
A. No. never told anybody that. Don't know anything about explosives or chemistry.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody that you did?
A. No. When we were arrested in Boston we had a fistfull of dynamite. We got caught in the act before we performed the act which was to rob a safe in a church.

Q. Did you ever carry dynamite in a suit case?
A. Never.

Q. Q. Did you ever tell anybody you were going to blow up any place?
A. No. I was just a little fish.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody you would place a bomb under the police station in Charleston?
A. No.
Q. Did you ever make any threat like that?
A. No, no reason for it.

Q. Did you ever make any statement about the bomb explosion in Wall St.?
A. No.

Q. Where were you when they had explosion in Wall St.?
A. I think I was in Oregon. I don't recollect exactly. I recollect of reading something about it but don't know where I was.

Q. When was the last time you were in New York?
A. Many years ago because I was pretty well known as a petit theft and would be picked up. I was no ways near New York.

Q. Have you ever been in New York since the last time you were arrested there?
A. No.

Q. Have you any grievance against the government?
A. Absolutely no.

Q. Did you ever make any threats against any government officials?
A. No.

Q. Were you ever arrested at any time by the government?
A. No.

Q. Do you know Eric Lundbald?
A. Yes I know him.

Q. Where did you know him?
A. Right in Charleston prison. He is a second story man. He is a big Swede. He was going to try to get me out when he got out.

Q. Did you ever tell him anything about blowing up anything?
A. Absolutely not. That man in crazy in top of his head. I kept his company in prison more or less as sympathy. He was a second story man.

Q. Did you ever see him since you got out?
A. No never did.

Q. Did he ever talk to you about explosives?
A. No his mind was rambling.

Q. What made you think he was crazy?
A. His line of talk. Some days he had some new invention which was some pipe dream. He sent to the War Department at Washington some protection for submarines in order to get a patent. I don't know where he is now.
Q. Did he ever say he was going to blow up anything?
A. Not to my recollection. He had some grievance with the prison officials because he was mistreated. He wouldn't act like a sensible man. I didn't approve of his way of speaking of prison officials.

Q. Who do you know in Cincinnati?
A. Only one man named Morris Brown, cigar store at Vine St. below Liberty. He is just interested in me. He came to see me yesterday.

Q. What sentence did you get here?
A. Sentence to $50.00 and costs, charge disorderly conduct; $50.00 and costs known thief. Next day tried for petit larceny. Pleading guilty received sentence of $10.00 and costs. The judge calle me back and said he didn't give me enough and gave me $100.00 and costs. I have to serve it out. I was arrested once before for a little flimflam game on a fellow for $50.00.

Q. Do you know anything about explosives?
A. No absolutely not. That is not in my line. If I did know of anything I wouldn't tell anything about anybody or anything already done but if it was not yet done I would tell about it to prevent it.

Q. Who knew you were out in Portland, Oregon, and around there?
A. The Sheriff at Vancouver, Wash., know I was there. His name is William Thompson. I know the brother of the Chief of Police named McCurdy at Vancouver. McCurdy is in sand and gravel business at Vancouver. McCurdy used to come to my road house for suppers.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

DATE 10/24/71

Pursuant to instructions received to locate and place under surveillance, the above named, I this day ascertained that he resides at No. 145 East 60th Street, New York City.

A close watch on the aforementioned address failed to show that the subject was at home, therefore, I made guarded inquiries which developed the fact that he was out of the city and was not expected to return until after the first of November.

Oct. 24:

Continuing on the above matter, I learned that Radamsky is now engaged on a concert tour and that he is believed to be engaged in the cities in the Northern part of New York State. His manager, DANIEL HAYER, whose office is located at Aeolian Hall, No. 33 West 42nd Street, Room 1447 is also out of the city and is believed to be with the subject.

At the office of Hayer I verified the fact that both Radamsky and Hayer are out of town but the clerk was unable to furnish me with their address or where they can be located within the next few weeks.

Further inquiries developed the fact that the subject will give a concert at Aeolian Hall on Nov. 24th. The local post-office has no forwarding address on file for Radamsky.
Information of one or another of Kramer, formerly an inmate of the Atlanta Penitentiary during the summer or fall of 1917.

This communication was handed this Agent, who proceeded to the Atlanta Penitentiary and interviewed the Chief Record Clerk, and the records were carefully gone over, and the following information obtained: That on June 19, 1917, Louis Kramer, alias Louis Leo Kramer, was received from the Southern District of New York, New York City, having been sentenced on June 13, 1917, for conspiracy and violation of the registration for army service laws, registered number in the penitentiary #7379. Subject was released from the Atlanta Penitentiary on June 3, 1919, and was immediately placed under arrest by U.S. Marshal Thos. E. McCarty, Southern District of New York, while leaving the penitentiary. The records also show that Subject was wanted for deportation by Immigration Inspector Thos. V. Kirk, Jacksonville, Florida.

Upon entering the Penitentiary, Subject gave the following addresses in case of serious illness, to notify his friend Miss Millie Jackson, 237 So. 9th Street, Brooklyn, N.Y. It was later charged to notify his uncle, George Glassberg, 132 St. Marks Place,

Copies of this report furnished to:
Atlanta—Washington
New York City.

Agent was informed that Subject was a personal friend of Alexander Berkman, and Harry Weinberger, an Attorney of New York City.

Description of Subject as follows, at the time of entering the prison in 1917:

Age 22 years.
Height 5 ft. 5 in.
Hair, dark chestnut.
Eyes, Blue.
Complexion, slightly dark.
Weight, 115 lbs.

Agent secured two copies of photograph and one copy of Bertillon measurements, which are being forwarded, as per request, to the Washington Office.
Dear Sir:—

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN CLASSIFIED.

DATE 1/31/19.

The attached clippings are taken from today's issue of the Indianapolis Star, and it occurred to me that possibly an old acquaintance of mine is mixed up over this Wall Street affair. Of course the possibility is remote, but never the less it exists just the same.

The description as given by the driver of vendor, coincides in every particular with James Campbell of Buffalo, New York. Financial Secretary of Local No. 84 of the Molders Union in that City, and a good anarchist or Bolshevist.

Campbell claims that he is Scotch, and speaks with an extremely pronounced accent, the in appearance he is the last man on earth that would be taken for a Scot. His features and complexion places him among some of the Latin nationalities.

His dark complexion, wiry in appearance, about 36 years of age, has dark hair, and the only way in which he would not tally with the description is in height; I would judge him to be somewhat taller than the description as given. Of course it would be mighty hard for the vendor or any one else to give a very close estimate of a man's height while seated on the seat of a wagon.

Campbell according to his own telling was in close touch with the radical element in cities along the Atlantic seaboard; and he is also in a position where he could easily make a flying trip to New York without anyone being the wiser.

I first became acquainted with this man three years ago in April. I went to Buffalo as a detective in the employ of private interests, and it was necessary that I be a member of local No. 84, and also keep in touch with the labor movement in general in that city.

Local No. 84 has over 900 members, and originally was concerned; but due to the efforts of Campbell and his satellites is now completely "red," and can not by any means be placed as an American institution. I fought Campbell and his gang on the floor but as his influence increased I was finally whipped out; it finally came to the pass that even the President of the Local 84, (himself not a citizen) would not allow me to the floor in order to say a thing for the United States or to refute any of Campbell's Bolshevist, Anarchistic, I.W.W. propaganda.

All during this time, or until January of this year, Campbell talked Pro-German, reviled the Government, and in every way possible urged the kill and burn spirit among the members. He openly boasted of his connection with the inner circle of radicals of this country and especially of the eastern cities.

To recount all of his activities would draw this out to an unseemly length, but if I am ever called on to do so, will be glad to tell of his machinations as practised among the members of the Buffalo Molders Union. He was right in the thick of the attempt to get up the Tom Mooney revolution (camouflaged under the name of a general strike) and every other piece of radical activity in this country.
I have also good reasons to believe that several of the radicals in this country of local 84 including Campbell had some secret means of securing easy money during the war, in fact one of them admitted as much to me in the presence of my wife.

Then in January Campbell was arrested in the Communist roundup and every one expected that he would be deported, as he is not a citizen and every one knows that. However he was finally freed after about five weeks in jail, and he came back to local 84 as a martyr for telling the truth as he expressed it. Up to the time of my saving Buffalo on August 28th he was not as scatty as usual but he was carrying on his propaganda in a more subtle manner.

It was a surprise to every one in union circles when he was released from jail as he was the most violent spoken radical in the City of Buffalo all during the war and also thereafter. Why it is no great task to find Buffalo papers containing his prophecies in street corner meetings to the effect that the country would soon see a bloody revolution and that the workers would establish a Soviet form of Government.

Several times during his incarceration I consulted with John Doyle; one of the most prominent authorities and offering as to advisability of our going to the proper authorities and offering to tell what we know of this man. But then we decided to keep out as we thought that the Government agents had plenty against him already; an the possibility of his being released scot-free after his jag of radicalism never occurred to us.

John Doyle would be glad to tell what he knows regarding this bird; and myself and Doyle are the only two men of the Buffalo branch of local 84 that are willing to testify against him. John Harr- is, the Business Agent of the Moulders Union is extremely bitter against Campbell because of his part in promoting radicalism. However I do not think that Harris would make a good witness if anything does come up because of the fact that his holding the position as Bus. agt. is contingent upon keeping in the good graces of the red element. The I have no doubt that if approached in private, Harris could tip an agent off to a great many things.

Campbell's job is arranged so that he has two days per week that he does not need to be in the office, he is supposed to visit the sick. So it would be no great task for him to slip to New York on a night train, and get back to Buffalo with no question asked; and as he always boards with people as red as himself, he would no doubt have a good alibi arranged. I personally know his present landlady and argued on Bolshevism and kindred subjects many times with her.

Now, Mr. Flynn, it is possible that I am bothering a very busy man, with something that you may consider of no importance. I have not told the one tenth part of this fellow's (signatures) activity as I know it, and I feel strongly in the matter as he is of no good whatsoever and would never become Americanized. Of course this clue or lead amounts to nothing. I would want my letter to you kept in the strictest confidence.

Though if it comes to a pass that I am needed to tell you what I know, I will be glad to testify at any time. Or if there will be any investigations of radical activities in the union. I will also be glad to tell you what I knew regarding the sentiment in local 84; and furthermore, I will have the backing of international President Joe Valentine of the Molders Union. (It was a source of great surprise to many union men in Buffalo that 84 was not investigated by the Labor Committee.)

Will close this letter by assuring you of my kindest regards and best wishes for your success.

Yours very truly,

John J. Doyle lives at #15 Chenango Street, same city.
The City of New York offers $10,000 REWARD for arrest and furnishing of evidence sufficient to warrant and secure the conviction of the person or persons guilty of causing the disastrous explosion on September 16, 1927, on Wall Street near Broad Street, this City, resulting in the maiming and wounding of a large number of people.

$500 REWARD is offered to any person furnishing this Department with information leading to the discovery of the ownership of the horse-drawn wagon which was used at the time and place of said explosion.

DESCRIPTION OF HORSE AND WAGON WHICH CARRIED EXPLOSION:

HORSE—Dark Bay Mare, about 15 3-4 hands, 15 years, weighing approximately 1,500 pounds, long mane and stubby foretop, evidently clipped about a month ago. Severe scarring on left shoulder. Few white hairs on forehead.

SHOES—Hind shoes marked JHU and NOA in same size letters about half apart. The front shoes were padded, circle in center reading "Niagara Hoof Pad Co. Buffalo, N.Y."

HARNESS—Single set of heavy wagon harness, old and worn, had been repaired. Turret rings were originally of brass, one now broken, the other silver and evidently belonging originally to coach harness.

WAGON—Single, top, capacity one to one and one-half tons, red running gear, black with fine white lines. Three-foot wheels on front, 4 1-2 foot hind wheels of patent. Body 5 feet 6 inches high, 53 inches wide on outside, about 8 or 8 1-2 feet ground to top of wagon. Shaft attached was not the one originally belonging to it, narrower than the couplings provided for holding shaft to wagon.

Photo of shoes will be found on reverse side of this circular.

Police authorities are requested to furnish a copy of this circular to all horse shops, blacksmith shops and stables within their jurisdiction for the purpose of identifying the horse and wagon.

RAILROAD COMPANY.

Shipper’s No. 117564

Agent’s No.
CONDITIONS

Sec. 1. The carrier or party in possession of any of the property herein described and for which the company is accountable shall be liable for any loss thereof or damage thereto, except as hereinafter provided.

No carrier or party in possession of any of the property herein described and for which the company is accountable shall be liable for any loss thereof or damage thereto, except as hereinafter provided.

In case of negligence or willful misconduct of the carrier or party in possession shall not be liable for loss, damage or delay occurring after four-hour delays (exclusive of legal holidays) after notice of the arrival of the property or despatch or at port of export. Any delays during a long-continued delay of the carrier or party in possession shall not be liable for loss, damage, or delay occurring while the property is stopped and held in transit upon request of the shipper, owner or party entitled to make such request, or resulting from a default or vice in the property or from riots or strikings or for country damage on cotton. When in accordance with general custom, on account of the nature of the property, or when at the request of the shipper the property is transported in open cars, the carrier or party in possession (except in case of loss or damage by fire, in which case the liability shall be the same as though the property had been carried in closed cars) shall be liable only for negligence.

In case of negligence or willful misconduct of the carrier or party in possession shall not be liable for loss or damage occasioned by fumigation or disinsection, or for country damage on cotton, in which case the liability shall be the same as though the property had been carried in closed cars.

In case of negligence or willful misconduct of the carrier or party in possession shall not be liable for loss, damage, or delay occurring while the property is stopped and held in transit upon request of the shipper, owner or party entitled to make such request, or resulting from a default or vice in the property or from riots or strikings or for country damage on cotton. When in accordance with general custom, on account of the nature of the property, or when at the request of the shipper the property is transported in open cars, the carrier or party in possession (except in case of loss or damage by fire, in which case the liability shall be the same as though the property had been carried in closed cars) shall be liable only for negligence.

The term "water carriage" in this section shall not be construed as including transportation across rivers or in lake or other harbors when performed by the rail carrier, and the liability for such transportation shall be governed by the other section of this instrument.

Sec. 2. In issuing this bill of lading this company agrees to transport only the property herein described to the destination or port of export (if intended for export) set out in the bill of lading, in accordance with the terms hereof.

The material in this section shall be construed as lessening the time allowed by law or as setting aside any local rule affecting car service or storage.

Sec. 3. Any carrier is bound to transport said property by any particular route or by any particular train or vessel, or in time for any particular market or on any particular day, except as hereinafter contained or as may be necessary to forward said property by any route or road between the point of shipment and the point of destination; but if such diversion shall be from a rail to a water route the liability of the carrier shall be the same as though the entire carriage were by rail.

The amount of any loss or damage for which any carrier is liable shall be computed on the basis of the value of the property at the time and place at which the loss or damage occurred, but in no event shall the amount of any loss or damage be greater than the maximum amount to which such property may be exposed under the conditions of the carriage or such as the carrier may reasonably be expected to anticipate.

Claims for loss, damage, or delay must be made in writing to the carrier at the point of delivery or at the point of origin within four months after delivery of the property, or in case of failure to make delivery within four months after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed. Unless claims are so made the carrier shall not be liable.

Sec. 4. All property shall be subject to necessary cooperation and handling at owner's costs and charges. The amount of any charge shall be paid by the owner, at his own risk and subject to the same for greater cooperation in the use of machinery, and shall not be held responsible for deviation from the straight route.

Hon. A. Mitchell Palmer,
Attorney General, Dept. of Justice,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

If you have a real desire to go to the bottom of the Wall Street bomb outrage of the sixteenth of September, if you are willing to have an investigation conducted without interference by CIO-BOLCHEVIEK, or any other radical, religious, political, or booze intrigue, and if you are not afraid of having Department of Justice agents in New Jersey show up, if justice so demands, I suggest that you appoint me as special United States Attorney to act with Mr. Flynn, as quickly as you can.

You have ample Louisville, Kentucky references regarding my competency and responsibility.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) BRADFORD CHESTER

MEMORANDUM: RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION:

JOSEPH L. KINDMANN of 59 Lexington Ave., called at the office of the Bureau today accompanied by a reporter of the New York Call. He stated in substance that on Thursday, Sept. 16th he had left the office of Berger and Berger, Attorneys with offices in the Woolworth Building at about 11:45. That about five minutes later he arrived on the corner of Broadway and Park Place where his attention was called to a quarrel between the driver of a motor truck and the motorman on a trolley car and that he noticed a wagon behind said trolley car, wagon being painted red and marked DURONT POWDER COMPANY that that right under this was inscribed "The DuPont De Nemours Co." Also the word "Danger" painted in white letters and that a red flag was flying at the end of the wagon. He was not certain of the color of the horse but thinks it was brown. Kindmann claims that this wagon apparently came through Mail Street and proceeded South on Broadway.

Madame Couttier states that just preceding the explosion she turned west into Wall Street on the downtown side. Then she reached the Morgan Building, she started diagonally across the street intending to go up Nassau. She states that she has a vivid recollection of seeing a wagon standing outside the U.S. Naval office as she crossed. The wagon she describes as having no top and general in appearance to those used for delivering newspapers around New York City. It was not very high she adds and to the best of her recollection she said it was painted a dark brown or gray. In general appearance it was a very old wagon. The box attached, she states, was facing west, i.e., towards Trinity Church. She saw no one on the wagon or no one in the vicinity of it who appeared to be the owner. Neither can she recall seeing anything inside the wagon. This wagon, she states, had sides of about 7 or 8 inches in height. She does not recall whether there was a dash heard on the back.

Madame Couttier states she also recalls that the policeman who has his post at the corner of Wall and Broad Streets was standing there at the time she started across Wall Street. She cannot recall seeing the chocolate wagon which was supposed to have been somewhere near one of the corners of at Wall and Broad. The wagon cannot recall seeing the chocolate wagon which was later found around... in front of Morgan's offices. She is, however, quite positive of her description of the wagon, especially as to it having no cover or sides of any kind; also she states to the best of her knowledge and recollection it was standing still from the time she turned into Fall at William. The Madame can be located through Mr. H. N. Schnarr, c/o Temple & Co., Inc., 13 William Street, New York City.

M.D.T. 11:30 P.M. Sept. 18/20.
Superintendent T. M. Reddy, Agent proceeded to the morgue, 29th Street and First Avenue, to examine closely bodies that had not been identified and carried away.

The only unidentified body is that of a male, who is apparently from 19 to 21 years of age. He looks like an American, and has only distinguishing mark upon his body, that he was born with. The mark is a mole on the right side of his chin, which is small but very dark in color. The body is of a man five and half feet in height, brown hair, smooth face, blue eyes, with rather heavy eyebrows. His eyebrows are noticeable for the reason that they are longer and wider than those found in the average run of men. In life it was believed by the morgue overseer, William Ward, that the man weighed in the neighborhood of 135 pounds. The man's hair was straight and quite long on the top of his head. The wounds upon this body were in the stomach and in the middle of the back on the right side. The stomach wound was a bad one; while the back wound was not as large in diameter, it appeared to be fully as deep a wound as the other. No dental work shows in the front of this man's mouth, and his teeth are white and in fair condition.
The body of this unidentified man was one of the first bodies received at the morgue, and the records there show that it arrived on the 16th instant at ten minutes after 4:00 P.M. The body was first taken to the Volunteer Hospital, and apparently the man died almost immediately at his arrival at that institution. There was no clothing or effects at the morgue. The morgue officials stated that they understood that the clothing and effects were removed by the police at the Volunteer Hospital.

The day of the explosion Mrs. Margaret Dunne, who gave her address as 234 West 24th Street, N.Y.C., called at the Volunteer Hospital and identified the body as her nephew. The body was removed by an undertaker to the home of the Dunnes on 24th Street, as the Morgue people claim, and after the arrival of the body the Dunnes discovered that it was not their nephew. Since that time the body has been at the morgue on a slab, and is at the present time of reporting unidentified.

As it was Saturday afternoon the Medical Examiner's office at the morgue was closed and no information could be secured there at that time.

Overseer William Ward said that the autopsy upon this body was performed at the morgue by medical examiners who have all record. The body of the unidentified man was thought by the morgue people to be that of Robert Westby, and it was confounded with the original Westby who was injured in the explosion, and his body for a time was labeled as Robert Westby No. 2, and the body of the unidentified man was labeled as No. 1, and the morgue authorities did not know which was which until the relatives clearly identified No. 1.

WALL STREET EXPLOSION

XDOCTOR NEMORIN GULHEMPE,
135 West 15th Street, New York.

Pursuant to instructions of Agent Scully and based on a code telegram from the Boston Bureau dated September 18, advising that in their check-up of local anarchists, one DR. NEMORIN GULHEMPE of 21 East Miridian Street, Boston and a member of the GALLEANY group could not be located there. Information was received that he was in New York City and that his place of residence was 135 West 15th Street, New York City. I proceeded to above named premises and ascertained that subject was unknown there; further inquiries about the neighborhood failed to disclose anyone who knew anything about subject.

I then proceeded to 135 East 15th Street, inquiry there disclosed no information about subject.

(signed) Joseph Barbera
Special Agent.
Based upon information received by 'phone from Mr. Sheehan, Naval Intelligence, 44 Whitehall Street, New York City, Agent called and interviewed Mr. Sheehan, and proceeded to 55 West 16th Street, - at which place Commander Wurtzmeckler was interviewed.

He stated that at 10:00 A.M. on the morning of September 16th, he received a communication from the Southern Drill Grounds, Va., which was as follows:

Subject: DYNAMITE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN FOUND IN COAL.
Received from New York by U.S. Steamship Florida.

Ref. (a) Despatch from Combatron Three to C in C and Batdiv Seven # 0014-0941.

The above ref. read as follows:

1) 0014 - FLORIDA REPORTS HAVING FOUND A STICK OF DYNAMITE IN COAL RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK PERIOD VESSELS OF BATTLESSHIP DIVISION FIVE WILL TAKE NECESSARY PRECAUTION.

2) THE ABOVE IS QUOTED FOR YOUR INFORMATION AND TAKE ACTION AS MAY BE POSSIBLE (3) C T VOGEL GEAND Chief of Staff.

The coal for the battleship Florida was supplied from the Navy coal barges, No. 601 and No. 577. Barge No. 601 was loaded at Bayonne, N.J., July 20, 1930, and was taken from Bayonne to Gowanus Canal on July 20th, where the barge remained until September 8th, - on which date she was towed to the Florida by the Navy Tug No. 56. 760 tons of this coal was allotted to the Battleship Florida, the balance was taken by the Spanish Steamship Alphense 13th. The battleship Florida was sealed by Members of the crew.

Alphense XIII was sealed at her berth at the foot of 79th Street, North River, by the Atlas Stevedoring Company, with offices at 50 Court St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Barge No. 577 contained 500 tons, was towed to Constable Hook by Navy Tug No. 56, and arrived at Bayonne Sept. 1st at 11:20 A.M. Left Bayonne loaded, September 3rd, at 4:20 P.M. for Gowanus Canal, where she remained until September 8th, - at which time she was towed to the battleship Florida by Navy tugs No. 51 and 61.

The steamship Alphense XIII was advised by the Naval authorities of dynamite being found in the coal of the battleship Florida, and did not change her sailing date, which was to-day, September 18th.

A telegraph was sent by the Naval Intelligence Bureau to the battleship Florida, requesting further information as to whether any more dynamite had been found.

Matter to be continued. Special Agent.
Pursuant to instructions from R.M. Buttorworth, Special agent in Charge, Springfield Office of Bureau, Agent proceeded to investigation of the above entitled matter based on letter from G. T. LAMB, Division Superintendent under date of Sept. 17th 1920 and M. J. D. G. H. M.

At the Smith & Wesson Factory the following information was obtained by Agent:

No. 234737-32 Cal/Hand Ejector sold to Cowdroy & Co., 17 Battery
Place New York City. Purchased March 24th, 1921. No. 234737-38 cal.
How Departure sold to Abercorbie & Fitch Co., Cor Madison Ave.
Hand Ejector sold to Warren Bros., Birmingham Ala. purchased March 8th, 1915. Catalog is being forwarded showing cuts of the above models.

Case closed this office.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

Agent was instructed by Agent in Charge, Eddy to investigate information given by one W. H. Pflanz, 689½ Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, in regard to red covered wagon purchased by J. Abate and Brothers, September 16th, 1920. Agent interviewed Mr. James Abate and was shown the wagon purchased. Agent questioned subject as to where old wagon was that he had before purchasing present one. Subject stated that where he purchased present wagon from Barbuto & Tillili, 411 Flushing Avenue, he gave $65.00 and old wagon to boot. Agent and subject proceeded to Barbuto & Tillili, 411 Flushing Street and the old wagon with subject’s name on the side was still in the possession of Barbuto & Tillili.

Pursuant to instructions of Assistant Division Superintendent Ready, relative to information received in this office that a member of the National Metal Company, 1662 Woolworth Building, in speaking of the explosion had said "It may be our horse and wagon but it is not our stuff", called at their office and interviewed both members of the firm, Mr. William Rosenfeld, and Mr. A. A. Rusher.

Mr. Rosenfeld stated that he was in Washington, D.C. when the explosion occurred, and Mr. Rusher that he was in Chicago, Ill., at the same time. They both informed me that their company did not deal in explosives of any kind; that they had only purchased one lot of explosives in their entire business career, and that this lot was bought last April from the DuPont de Nemours Company and used, as soon as delivered, for the purpose of blasting some metal bought by their company in Delaware. They said they have neither horses nor trucks and do not usually make any deliveries but when they are required to do so they engage the services of John Sweeney, Pier 18, S.R.

Joe Harris mentioned in the letter lives at 550 Eagle Street, Buffalo, New York.

John J. Doyle lives at 15 Chenango Street, same City.
A telegram from the Bureau at Washington, dated today, instructing this office to endeavor to secure information relative to the New York City explosion was handed to me by Special Agent in Charge J.P. Rooney with instructions to comply with the request contained the rein.

All "undercover" confidential informants, the local police bomb squad and all other sources from which information on anarchist activities in Chicago and vicinity is derived, were at it once advised to immediately endeavor to locate leading anarchist agitators and check on their recent movements, to congregate in and near perpetrators of the outrage.

Agent WALKER of this office overheard a conversation between two men who claimed that MR. MELVIN A. TRAYLOR, President of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, was an eye witness of the explosion and that he had a souvenir in his possession.

I interrogated Mr. TRAYLOR who stated in substance the following:

"I was sitting beside a window in the National City Bank of New York conversing with B.D. HARRIS, President of that concern when the bomb exploded.

I had entered the bank at about three minutes to twelve. Just as I was about to light a cigar I saw a sudden burst of flame reflected on the windows. It came like a flash and seemed to shoot up to the fifth or sixth story level.

Then came a roar and a crash and a shower of broken glass covered the sidewalks and streets. I heard screams and groans and then a sudden startling silence. I sought the windows I could see flames..."
I saw the door policeman of the National City Bank pick up an eight or ten inch section of pipe about 2\(\frac{1}{2}\) or 3 inches in diameter. It was scorching hot and he dropped it quickly. This was turned over to the police.

MAJOR JACK PRENTISS who has seen service in France met me and stated that he was in a barber shop on the 7th floor of the Stock Exchange when the explosion occurred. He told me that he had heard 42's and 175's explode but had never heard a blast to equal this one before.

Agents of the Chicago Office ascertained that "Big Bill" who had gone to New York City last week, presumably to arrange for bonds for the I.W.W. members still in jail, stopped off at Baltimore and was enroute for Chicago where he arrived on Sept. 17, '20.

Pursuant to instructions of Division Superintendent Edward J. Brennan, all Agents are actively engaged in endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the perpetrators.

The Chicago Socialist appeared upon the newstands of Chicago on Sept. 16th and was printed before the occurrence of this explosion. I quote hereunder a few excerpts from the same relative to the publications attack on the House of Morgan.

"Socialists predicted Morgan's war in 1917. The Socialist Party warned the workers against it. Now the House of J. P. Morgan is planning and plotting a new war. If you want another war, vote for Harding-Cox and Capitalism."

"New Morgan's War."

World Banker Sets Stage for New Slaughter.
"J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. have just lent the French Government $100,000,000 and have thereby entered into one more imperialist adventure at 8\%--All in all, the group of keen Wall Street bankers who J.P. Morgan's lead in backing France are not about getting 8\% interest on their loan for their 25 years. If that 8\% means the agony of the ordinary people of France, Germany and Poland and the most shameful betrayal of Russia, East America..." men will have proved their ability to put it over."

A copy of this issue has been send under separate cover to the Washington and New York offices.
IN RE: 1920 EXPLOSION

September 18, 1920.

George Pearsall, 14 Bondhen Street, Elmhurst, L.I.

Pursuant to instructions of Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, agent called at the office of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, located at Room 1548, Woolworth Building, New York City, and called upon Mr. F. G. Frieser, who turn directed him to George Pearsall, above named, who stated as follows:

That shortly after noon on September 16, 1920, he was in the office of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, Suite 1548, Woolworth Building, which is located on the 15th Floor, when he heard a violent explosion and went to the window. He observed a cloud of dust and then noted that something struck on the roof of a nearby building and rebounded. On the afternoon of September 17, 1920, he proceeded to the roof of the building upon which he observed the unknown substance land and found it to be a piece of cast iron composition metal which he brought with him to the office the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service. The roof of the building upon which this metal was found is the Astor Building, No. 17 Broadway, about ten blocks away from the place where the explosion was heard. Agent finds that the piece of cast iron metal found by George Pearsall is to all appearances a portion of a window weight similar in composition and shape to many other pieces found in the immediate vicinity of the explosion.

George Pearsall stated that he has heard several people discuss the explosion, but has not learned that any of them observed a wagon in the immediate vicinity, nor any suspicious characters hurriedly leaving the place, nor has he learned of any suspicious circumstances connected with this explosion.

The piece of material that was found by George Fearsall has turned over by Agent to Assistant Division Superintendent TODAY.

Dr. Annie Starr - dentist - residence 21 Meridian St., E. Boston, born July 5, 1888, at Borison, Russia, was very friendly with Dr. Guilhempe, and must be in close touch with him at present. She and Kahawagey receive all mail addressed to Dr. Guilhempe when it is offered for delivery by letter carrier.

Letter carrier John Kelley informed agent that he delivers lots of mail for Dr. Guilhempe to Annie Starr and Ferris A. Kahawagey, but cannot get any information from the abovenamed where the doctor has gone to or when he will return to East Boston.

Agent believes that Dr. Annie Starr is the same person that visited GALLEANI at Immigration Station, Long Wharf, Boston, on the day that the latter was removed to Ellis Island for deportation.

Agent called on Post office inspector Dawkins and had him notify Supt. Sullivan of the E. Boston P.O. to have a tracing made of all mail received by persons mentioned above, and forwarded to Agent.

Unless otherwise instructed Agent considers his part in this case closed.
Pursuant to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, I interviewed Mr. Hart of the Electric Boat Corporation, 11 Pine Street, N.Y. City. Mr. Hart was supposed to have known the chauffeur who had been an eye witness at the Wall Street Explosion. Mr. Hart stated that this information erroneous and that he did not know of such a man, but did know of a chauffeur who had received by ticker, news of the confession of the chauffeur (driver for Pierce) whose statement the newspapers had taken.

Paul Hokanson,
717 - 50th Street, Brooklyn.

20 years old; employed by the White Star Steamship Company, 7 Broadway, New York.

During lunch hour he was standing at 45 Wall Street, talking to a friend named Julie (first name); could not recall full name at this time and does not know where he resides at present. He works for Osborne & Company, 45 Wall Street. Julie was standing with his back-to-the-wall and Paul Hokanson was facing him, when suddenly he heard a very loud report and immediately smoke was emanating from the grates in the sidewalk in the vicinity where he was standing. He did not realize what was going on, when glass, stone and so forth began to fall all around him. He was struck on the head by missiles, and contends that his life was spared by his having on a very stiff straw hat. He started to run up William Street, when the crowd started down William Street, and somebody brought him to a drug store to receive first aid, after which he was taken to the hospital; his wounds were dressed and he was taken home.

Pursuant to suggestion of Special Agent West, after receipt of Bureau telegram, Agent proceeded to E. Boston, and checked the above persons for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not any of them were absent from Boston on the day of above mentioned explosion.

G. SOLARI could not be located on Cottage Street, E. Boston, and must be living there under another name.

EDOARDO ALESSI, is very seldom seen by letter carrier. All mail is delivered to a woman who answers when letter carrier calls. Was home on day of explosion.

FRANCIS FARULLA, is a marble cutter and has not been away from E. Boston for sometime. Receives mail nearly every day.

Dr. NEMORIN GUILHEMPE - left for New York City about July 1st and had a money order sent to him at 135 West 16th Street, N.Y. Is a member of the GALLIMANI group. Occupation dentist. Born Nov. 19, 188 Paris, France; nationality French; mother's name Bertha; father's name John; mail is still delivered for him at 21 Meridian St., E. Boston. and received by Dr. Anne Starr, who was living with Dr. Guilhempe at above address. A party by the name of Ferris A. Kahawagey, who formerly lived at 839 Saratoga Ave., E. Boston, is now living at 21 Meridian St., E. Boston.
Agent Ramsdell, of Scranton, telephoned from Stroudsburg, Pa. today advising that he had received information several days ago, (prior to the Wall Street Explosion), to effect that a certain Italian named RONALO BOROVOLIO had a bomb in the cellar of his residence; that in company with several Police Officers he visited the house of the aforementioned Italian but failed to find any bomb. However, it was noted that a number of pieces of sash weight were lying about the place and that the location of the house was a short distance from a factory engaged in the manufacture of sash weights.

Ramsdell advised that he would telephone again on Sunday, September 19th, between 11 and 12 noon. However, up to date nothing has been heard from him.

G. J. SCULLY.
Mr. Wallace Cohou denied the fact that he was standing at the window on the second floor, or any other floor, of the Bankers' Trust Company building at the time of the explosion. He denied that he saw any wagon or any other vehicle passing down Wall Street, as he was not in a position to see anything.

Mr. Cohou has promised Agents to make inquiry among the employees of the Bankers' Trust Company for persons able to furnish us with information concerning explosion.

M. V. KERWIN, a clerk in the Schulte Cigar Store, 36 Wall Street, the front of which store was completely demolished by the explosion, states that he and his associates in the store did not see a thing and can give no impressions of what was in the street. They were stunned by the explosion and went to their respective homes shortly after.

ELSIE M. ARP, Private Secretary of Seward Prossor, President of the Bankers Trust Company, corner of Nassau and Wall, stated that she was in the office with Mr. Prossor when the explosion occurred and that the windows facing Nassau Street, four in number were completely shattered and fell upon both her and Mr. Prossor. A missile was hurled through the window, passed over Mr. Prossor's head and continued the length of the room, embodying itself in a book-case at the extreme end of the room.

Mr. Prossor was so unnerved by the explosion that he went home and has not returned to the bank as yet.

Facts Developed:

In pursuance to instructions received from Assistant Division Superintendent Reddy, I interviewed Captain Moore, Captain of the Police Protective Force, of the National City Bank, Wall and Williams Street. He stated that about a year ago, he had seen a shabbily dressed man wandering around the National City Bank collecting blotters and money deposit slips. The man apparently had no business in this Bank and when the Police Force at Philadelphia had sent instructions to various Bank in Wall Street to increase their forces on a matter of precautionary protection. Captain had one day on seeing the stranger in the Bank asked him his address, which was given as follows:

W. J. Green - Post Office Box 492, City Hall Station, E.Y.City. This man has not visited the Bank since, therefore, Captain Moore is of the opinion that he might or have had a hand in the Wall Explosion.

Dear Sir:

1/31/23

The attached clippings are taken from to-day's issue of the Indianapolis Star, and it occurred to me that possibly an old acquaintance of mine is mixed up over this Wall Street affair. Of course the possibility is remote, but never the less it exists just the same. The description as given by the driver of vendor, coincides in every particular with James Campbell of Buffalo, New York. His Special Secretary of Local #64 of the Molders Union in that city, and a good anarchist or Bolshevist.

Campbell claims that he is Scotch, and speaks with an extremely pronounced accent, tho in appearance he is the last man on earth that would be taken for a Scot. His features and complexion places him among some of the Latin nationalities.

His dark complexion, wiry in appearance, about 36 years of age, has dark hair, and the only way in which he would not tally with the description is in height; I would judge him to be somewhat taller than the description as given. Of course it would be mighty hard for the vendor or any one else to give a very close estimate of a man's height while seated on the seat of a wagon.

Campbell according to his own telling was in close touch with the radical element in cities along the Atlantic seaboard; and he is also in a position where he could easily make a flying trip to New York without anyone being the wiser.

I first became acquainted with this man three years ago in April. I went to Buffalo as a detective in the employ of private interests, and it was necessary that I be a member of Local #84, and to keep in touch with the labor movement in general in that city.

Local #84 has over 900 members, and originally was considered; but due to the efforts of Campbell and his satellites is not completely "red," and can not by any means be placed as an American institution. I fought Campbell and his gang on the floor but as his influence increased I was finally whipped out; it finally came to the point that even the President of the Local 64; (himself not a citizen) would not allow me to the floor in order to say a thing for the United States to refute any of Campbell's Bolshevist, Anarchist or propaganda.

All during this time, or until January of this year, Campbell talked Pro-German, reviled the Government, and in every way attempted to stifle the Kill and burn spirit among the members. He openly boasted of his connection with the inner circle of radicals of this country and especially of the eastern cities.

To recount all of his activities would draw this out to an unseemly length, but if I am ever called on to do so, will be glad to tell of his mis dereactions as practiced among the members of the Molders Union. He was right in the thick of the attempt to get up the Homestead revolution (camouflaged under the name of a general strike) and every other piece of radical activity in this country.
I have good reasons to believe that several of the radicals in this country of local 84 including Campbell had some secret means of securing easy money during the war, in fact one of them admitted as much to me in the presence of my wife.

Then in January Campbell was arrested in the Communist country and everyone expected that he would be deported, as he is not a citizen and everyone knows that. However he was finally freed after about five weeks in jail, and he came back to local 84 as a martyr for telling the truth as he expressed it. Up to the time of leaving Buffalo on August 20th he was not so mouthy as usual but he was carrying on his propaganda in a more subtle manner.

It was a surprise to every one in union circles when he was released from jail as he was the most violent agitator radical in the City of Buffalo all during the war and also thereafter. Why it is a great task to find Buffalo papers containing his prophecies in street corner meetings to the effect that the country would soon see a bloody revolution and that the workers would establish a Soviet form of Government.

Several times during his incarceration I consulted with John Doyle, one of the most prominent authorities and offering as to advisability of our going to the proper authorities and offering to tell what we knew of this man. But then we decided to keep out as we thought that the Government agents had plenty against him already; and the possibility of his being released scot-free after his jag of radicalism never occurred to us.

John Doyle would be glad to tell what he knows regarding this bird; and myself and Doyle are the only two men of the Buffalo women of local 84 that are willing to testify against him. John Harris, the Business Agent of the Molders Union is extremely bitter against Campbell because of his part in promoting radicalism. However I do not think that Harris would make a good witness if anything ever comes up because of the fact that his holding the position as Bus. a.gt. is contingent upon keeping in the good graces of the red element. The two men of the Buffalo who have no doubt that if approached in private, Harris could tip an agent off to a great many things.

Campbell's job is arranged so that he has two days pay week that he does not need to be in the office; he is supposed to visit the sick. So it would be no great task for him to slip to New York on a night train, and get back to Buffalo with no question asked; and as he always boards with people as red as himself, he would not have a good alibi arranged. I personally know his present landlord and argued on Bolshevism and kindred subjects many times with her.

Now, Mr. Flynn, it is possible that I am bothering a very busy man, with something that you may consider of no importance; I have not told the one tenth part of this fellow's activity as I know it, and I feel strongly in the matter as he is of no good whatsoever, and would never become Americanized. Of course if you get a clue or lead amounts to nothing I would destroy my letter to you in the strictest confidence.

Though if it comes to a pass that I am needed you what I know, I will be glad to testify at any time. Or I will be any investigation of radical activities by the unions. I will also be glad to tell what I know regarding a commitment in Local 64; and furthermore I will have the backing of International President Joe Valentine of the Molders Union. (It was a source of great surprise to many union men in Buffalo that 64 was not investigated by the Dusk Committee.)

Will close this letter by assuring you of my kindest regards and best wishes for your success.

Dear Sir:

The attached clippings are taken from today's issue of the Indianapolis Star, and it has occurred to me that possibly an old acquaintance of mine is mixed up in this Wall St. affair. Of course the possibility is remote, but never the less it exists just the same.

The description as given by the driver or vendor, coincides in every particular with James Campbell of Buffalo N.Y., Financial Secretary of Local 84 of the molders' union in that city, and a good anarchist or Bolshevist.

Campbell claims Scotch nationality, and speaks with an extremely pronounced Scotch accent; tho in appearance he is a lank man on earth that one would take for a Scot. His features and complexion places him among some of the Latin nationalities.

He is dark complexioned, wiry, in appearance about thirty-five, has dark hair, and the only way in which he would not tally with the description is in the height; I would judge him to be somewhat taller than the description as given. Of course it would be mighty hard for the vendor or any one else to give a very close estimate of a man's height while seated on the seat of a wagon.

The E. I. DuPont DeNemours Company, Powder Manufacturers, 130 Broadway, having been interviewed with reference to the statements made by JOHN FURLONG, 215 Dongan Street, Staten Island, and GILBERT SMITH, 21 East 21st Street, New York, who noticed an automobile truck on Vesey Street going East to Broadway, a short time before the explosion occurred in Wall Street, about 12 o'clock noon, September 16th, 1920.

MR. HORSE, Manager of E. I. DuPont DeNemours Company, and Mr. HICHEL, chief clerk, furnished this agent with the following information:

The truck referred to in the statements of John Furlong and Gilbert Smith was one of two which loaded at 240 Vanderpool Street, Newark, N. J., the morning of September 16th. Truck G.U.C. 101440 is a five-ton one, and was driven by O. MILLER, whose address is 97 Magazine Street, Newark, N. J. This truck was destined for GREEN & ELLIOTT, 22 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. It was loaded with lithopone, paint pigment and dry colors. This truck had a trailer in which were the barrels and casks of material mentioned above. The truck - G.U.C. 101660 is a five-ton truck also, the driver being HENRY SHIGEL, whose address is 289 Ivy Street, Newark, N. J. This truck was also loaded at 240 Vanderpool Street, N. J. on the morning of September 16th, and its deliveries were at the following:

BUSH TERMINAL BUILDING, Pier 24, Brooklyn, N.Y.
DE VOE & REYNOLDS, East 9th Street, Brooklyn, N.Y.
THE KEYSTONE VARNISH CO., 71 Otsego Street, Brooklyn, N.Y.
T. H. LEVY, 222 – 44th Street, Brooklyn, N.Y.

This truck also had a trailer which carried lithopone, paint pigments and dry colors, for delivery at the places above stated.

E. I. DuPont DeNemours Company positively state that there were no explosives of any kind on these two trucks.

The DuPont Company have all their explosive material stored in the Lower Bay, and when deliveries are to be made they are brought by special boats to Pier at 108th Street and the East River, which dock has been leased and authorized by the City for their use in the handling of explosives.

On September 16th the only explosives transferred and delivered by the DuPont Company, from the 108th Street and East River dock were as follows:

The only truck used by the DuPont Company for transfer and delivery of explosives is an electrical one which made all the deliveries above mentioned, and works exclusively from the pier at 108th Street & East River.

Mr. Morse states that the two trucks above mentioned which were coming from Newark, N. J., and bound for Brooklyn, and probably came over a Hudson River Ferry and were transversing Vesey Street on their way to the Brooklyn Bridge. It is not likely that they had gone South on Broadway to take the South Brooklyn Ferry, he thought. In any event the DuPont Company are very explicit and pronounced in their statement that these two trucks from Newark did not carry explosives of any kind, and were the only two trucks belonging to the Company which were anywhere near Wall Street at this time and on this date.

Telegram addressed to Post Office Inspector in Charge, New York From Chattanooga, Tenn. September 18, 1920.

Two postal cards mailed Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 17th addressed to I. C. Wilson, Reed House, Signed R. W. R. received here today. Message on cards bears fine etching under magnifying glass; first one reads: "You are up against a bunch of friends who you will suspect. I was supposed to be one of them but could not be a friend anymore. You had better keep your eyes open from now on. What do you think of the J. P. M. explosion after all? I am telling you now from a financial point of view you will be blown up if you don't be more careful".

Second card reads: "This is the only channel through which I can render an apology in the form of an explanation which must be deferred a few days. It was not wholly expected on my part but I did not expect it so soon. The abruptness of it did not surprise me at all. Will write again as you send me so as I sent to you but I did not have the heart to be a traitor. I certainly am entitled to your pardon was sent to doublecross but did not have the heart to be a traitor. I am not going to give you one neither am I going to give you their dope. Would much rather help you than ruin you. End quote;"

Addressee is sauvé and well dressed stranger at Reed House from Chicago since May 1st. Proposed to be selling oil leases. Considerably in arrears with room rent. Has grip and typewriter in room. Very seclusive and has no known associates. Photographed copies tonight's mail. Advise Flynn.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

In Department of Engineering, - of which C. D. Ellis, in Chief, reports in connection with newspaper statement that the Du Pont de Nemours Company has not horse drawn wagons in use for the delivery of explosives in New York, the following facts:

That on one Saturday afternoon within the last two months about 3:30 he saw a horse drawn wagon with this company's name on its side, and an inscription "Dynamite" or "Explosives" on it, (he is not sure which). It carried a red flag. He is not clear about the exact location of the wagon as to streets, but is certain that it was south of the Brooklyn Bridge, New York entrance; its color appeared to him as a dirty cream, but he was chiefly impressed by the fact that its driver sat well back in the wagon, in such a position as would make it almost impossible to see cross currents of traffic. He says it could...
to him at the same time that trucks approaching or overtaking the wagon could not possibly, from any sign on it, suspect the nature of the load in the wagon. The worn, ramshackle appearance of the wagon also impressed him in consideration of his knowledge of the wealth and importance of the Dupont Company.

If an interview is necessary Mr. Rosenberg would rather have it take place at his business address than his home.
Agent visited 86 Broadway where there is excavating work being done and found that Mr. A. V. O'Neill of that address has a permit to keep on hand 25 pounds of dynamite.

In the absence of Mr. O'Neill, the undersigned spoke to Mr. Murray, General Superintendent, and Mr. Ross, who is in charge of the dynamiting, etc.

He stated that they have delivered to them by the Du Pont de Nemours Company dynamite as required, and that it is delivered this way:

That the truck comes there and inquire if they need any. If they need fifteen from them, or as the case may be, 25 pounds. He stated they are licensed, as are also the Department, Bureau every morning.

President Wilson Wanted to Die in England

Where the Treasure Is the Head
And Where Your Heart Is You Willingly Go Treasuring.

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be, also."—Luke xii:34.

What you love, admire and respect you are eager to help and defend. The man or nation for whom you have the deepest feeling you would gladly take for your partner.

After reading this, readers will understand better President Wilson's desire to tie up the United States with England in a "League of Nations" that would make England ruler of the whole world, including the United States.

Exactly how Mr. Wilson feels about England you may learn from a short statement made by Dudley Field Malone, now independent of date for Governor in the State of New York.

Mr. Malone knows President Wilson as intimately as any man. He worked under him, appointed by him, for four years.

Recalling a conversation with the President, Mr. Malone said this:—his words are quoted verbatim:

"When Woodrow Wilson was Governor of New Jersey he said to me, 'I have a profound affection for England. I would like nothing better than to spend my declining years in the countryside of England. A bicycle trip through England is the sort of delightful recreation I could think of.'"

President Wilson, then Governor of New Jersey, now President of the United States, spoke of England as one might speak of his own land. He spoke of England certainly as a country deeply loved, if not beloved above all. A man would desire to spend his declining years only in the country of his great affection.

As for the bicycle ride through England, Mr. Wilson's preference would perhaps change now to a different kind of vehicle. He was living simply when Governor of New Jersey.

Little did the President think, when he told Dudley Field Malone that he would like to end his days in England and spend his vacations bicycling through England, in what grand style he would visit England one day.

He did not dream then that he would go to England to be met at the dock by the great dignitaries of England and at the railroad station by the King. He did not imagine that he would drive through the streets of London in a carriage drawn by four horses, perched on the horse-back, the consent of the Senate, without consulting the people of the United States in any election, agreed to tie up the United States in the English League of Nations, agreed that the United States should have one vote against England's six, agreed to an arrangement which fortunately will be repudiated at the coming election.

Nothing more important could be published than this brief statement by the President to his end and subpost appointee, Dudley Field Malone. What would you think if you heard a man in public office say, "I have a profound affection for England; I would like nothing better than to spend my declining days in the countryside of England. A bicycle trip through England is the most delightful recreation I could think of?"

You would say: "The gentleman has a perfect right to spend his vacation bicycling in England, Japan, Timbuctoo, Russia or Mesopotamia, and a right to end his days where he pleases. But—if any treaty is to be made between the United States and England, if this country is to be tied up in a league in which England would dominate, I want the man who makes the contract on behalf of the United States to be the President of the United States, with the man who said, 'I would like to spend his declining years in THE AMERICAN COUNTRYSIDE, and I should also want the man represent the United States in a deal that might give control of the world to England a man more interested in the American than in the English countryside.'"

The English countryside is beautiful; green all the year round in some places. English roads are excellent for bicycling, the inns are comfortable; you can do very well with a bicycle in England, although much better, of course, with four cream colored horses and an apartment, in Buckingham Palace.

But the American countryside has also its charm. And if it is lacking here and there, as regards inns and roads and other accommodations, Americans are content to stay here and help to make it better.

When you discuss the League of Nations, remember that you are discussing an arrangement made between the Prime Minister of England—a man who looked upon the country in which he was born and said—"I love this land—" and Queen sitting with him in the carriage and giving him the place of honor. He did not imagine, when he told Dudley Field Malone that he would go to England and ride in the royal carriage, straight to Buckingham Palace, and spend his little English vacation there, sleeping in a room big enough for a skating rink, in a bed with the lion and the unicorn staring at each other from the bed posts, and with most magnificent English flunkies to "draw the bath."

If Mr. Wilson had told Mr. Malone of his love for England AFTER the Buckingham Palace visit and the drives in the four-horse carriage the thing would not have so much meaning. You would say: "Buckingham Palace, the four cream-colored horses, the King and Queen waiting at the station went to the President's head a moment. He was excited."

But when the President told Mr. Malone that he wanted to spend his declining years "in the English countryside," that his idea of a vacation was a bicycle ride in England, he was simply a promoted college president, acting as Governor of New Jersey. He had never spoken to a King or Queen in his life. He was simply saying what was in his heart, namely, that he looked upon England as the country most beloved, a country in which a man would enjoy bicycling when young and dying when old.

Mr. Wilson, he who, with...

MEMO. to Mr. Lamb:

In re: EMB OUTRAGE OF SEPT. 16, 1920.

Undersigned interviewed Mr. Lawrence Serbin, 50 years old, a peddler, living at 308 Grand Street, New York City.

He stated that he was peddling chocolates from a wagon in front of the New York Stock Exchange on Thursday, September 16th. At 11:45 he states that a man, about five feet, eight, weighing about 150 pounds, about 40 years of age, dressed in a dark checked suit, wearing a derby hat, whom he took for a detective, walked up to him and said: "You know you are selling bad chocolates, now go away from here and don't come back." Serbin states that he moved his wagon around to Wall Street, and stopped it outside of the Bankers' Trust Company, which is just west of Broad Street, on Wall. He had not been there more than ten minutes, or to be exact, he states that he looked at his watch and it was four minutes to twelve. Parked opposite his wagon was a taxicab. At this time there appeared a wagon, which he describes as open, very dirty, which had no top, had high sides, and was light in color. It was drawn by a dark, brown horse, which he says, was very old and shabby. The wagon appeared to him like one which would be used to haul brick; the driver on the seat, he describes, as being a man 35 or 40 years of age, about 5 feet, six or seven inches tall, of medium build, weighing possibly 140 or 150 lbs. This man had a black cap on, did not have a coat on; had a very heavy beard, and was unshaven.

It was impossible for the track to pass between the automobile and the wagon from which Serbin was selling chocolates, and he called out to Serbin: "Pull up a bit, buddy," with a strong Scotch accent. The wagon was bound East.

Serbin states that this wagon had just gone past him, and had probably could have reached the scene of the explosion when he heard the crash and was knocked down. He received a broken wrist, severe burns on the upper right arm, and severe ribs fractured. He was not cut, because he was thrown up his wagon.

JAMES A. KENNEDY.
My dear Chief:

I am sending you herewith copy of telegram sent this office by agent Marsh, of Memphis, which may be of interest in connection with the investigation of the explosion.

I have wired Marsh, asking him if he can give me a line on this man's address here. If I get it I will telephone you. If this man is buying jewelry here, his presence has been noted in one of the trade journals.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir:

I have the honor to enclose herewith a copy of the VOLNA or "THE WAVE", a publication received from Chicago, Illinois and seized from the American Express Company on September 14th. I had a translation made of the principal articles printed in this volume and beg to state that references are made to The Honorable, The Attorney General. I feel that he should receive this first hand, therefore I am sending it to you with a translation made by the most reliable translator in New England, who, formerly was a Special Employee for this District.

Two articles are of particular interest to the authorities and are typically anarchistic. The whole magazine is a militant anarchistic publication. There is no trace where it was published, but there is hardly any doubt, but that it was published in Chicago, where Russian and I.W.W. publications are printed, such as the Golos Truzenika—"The Toiler's Voice.

It will be noted that there are no names or cities printed in full, especially one article which the translator thinks is meant for Cleveland.

Agent examined one body that had been identified and an undertaker ordered to remove, - which attracted the attention of the officials at the morgue.

This body, of a male, was brought into the morgue about four o'clock on the afternoon of the explosion, - directly from the corner of Broad and Wall Streets in an ambulance that the morgue officials say was accompanied by police officers. The body is in very bad shape; evidently this man was so close to the explosive that he must have gotten its full force. The head and face are so badly burned, blackened and lacerated that it would seem almost impossible to recognize the man. The mouth was filled with cotton by the physicians, and was opened sufficiently to show that on the left side of the upper jaw the man had worn a partial set of false teeth. A little left of the center of the mouth was a cap of gold. The man's shoes were mangled and mangled, - the right one being much worse than the left. It was hard to determine just how many toes were upon the right foot. Starting at the ankle were severe wounds and lacerations.

The body looked to the investigator as if it had been close to a powder explosion. It was a peculiar odor wherever the skin or flesh had been mangled or lacerated. Perforations made some small missiles... were noticeable on different parts of the anatomy. On the 17th instant a woman came to the morgue and asked to view this body. After looking at it she said that it was the body of her husband, Irving L. Tammenwald. The woman said that her husband was a grocer in Brooklyn, in partnership with another man, and that he lived with her at 650 East 102nd Street, New York, N.Y. The woman stated that her husband was a German who had been in this country fifteen years.

The morgue officials said that they believed that the woman declared that she did not know what had taken her husband so near the scene of the explosion on the 16th.

Saturday, Sept. 18th, the morgue officials were notified that the body would be removed by A. T. Meyers, undertaker, 288 Lenox Avenue, New York, N.Y.

As the man was brought to the morgue direct from the corner of Bred and Wall his clothing, what was left of it, was removed at the morgue. The morgue overseer untied the bands and the agent carefully examined the remains of the clothing. As but the upper part of the pantaloons had been blown away. A pair of blue suspenders were buttoned onto the pants. The coat torn very badly, and little of it remained. The cloth hat and gray check, of flax material.

In the opinion of the morgue officials the sole of clothes was not a new one. One shoe was all that was the body, and that had a "Walker" stamp on the in...
The underclothing was of a light summer texture, and evidently a union suit. The shirt was white, of ordinary material.

The body of a male, identified as Jerome McKeon, had been removed from the morgue before the Agent's arrival, but overseer Ward called the Agent's attention to the following facts that had been noticed and commented on at the morgue:

The morgue officials stated that this body was very badly mangled, showing that the deceased must also have been apparently quite near the force of the explosion. This body was also brought direct from Wall and Broad Streets by the police in an ambulance to the morgue, and was one of the nine brought in shortly after four o'clock on the day of the accident. This body was claimed by William McKeon, who said that he was the father of the dead man. The morgue record show that Jerome McI was about 33 years of age, born in the U.S.

Special Agent.
Miss Brunning states that she was returning from Nash. She turned into Wall Street at Nassau, in front of the Sub-Treasury. She continued along Wall Street on this side (North) to where Schulte's Cigar Store is located - about No. 36 Wall. At this point she decided to cross the street to #37, where she is employed, and as she turned to do so noticed a large automobile, apparently a touring car, painted black, no occupants, standing in front of the Post & Flagg Building (?) and sure of name of this building but is at about No. 38 Wall - which she started to cross in front of. However, in the middle of the street and passing this auto at the moment she started to cross was a wagon moving west and going very slowly. She hesitated for a moment and crossed in front of this wagon very close to the horses head.

In describing this horse and wagon, Miss Brunning states the most noticeable feature of it was that the horse was apparently very old and his shoes made a great deal of noise as they hit the pavement, as they were loose or too heavy for his feet. The horses were dark, as she says, and heavy. As to the wagon, Miss Brunning says she can best describe its color as "split-pea color", a yellowish green or greenish yellow. It appeared to be a builder's wagon, such as used for loading dirt or brick. However, all she saw of the wagon was a front view, as the side of it was hidden from her by the auto at the curb. On the seat of the wagon was a man, also Miss Brunning states looked very lazy and stupidly sitting in a relaxed position with the reins let loose. He appeared to be wearing a coat and had turned down in front or all-around, probably of dark gray material. She saw recall whether or not he was wearing a coat, but thinks he had a light colored shirt on. As to his face, she states it was dirty and looked as tho he needed a shave. Casually, says Miss Brunning, he looked like a "bum". He appeared to be an old man.

Miss Brunning cannot recall whether the wagon was an open one or had a top, neither could she tell from the front view which she obtained whether there was anything in the wagon.

Miss Brunning states that she reached No. 37 and was about to go into the building when she turned her head toward Broadway to see the time on the Trinity Church Clock. It was at this moment that the explosion occurred. In other words between the time that Miss Brunning crossed from the curb on the north side of Wall Street in front of the wagon, to the step at the entrance of No. 37, the wagon had progressed just about sufficient time, at its very slow pace, to get in front of the assay office where the explosion is supposed to have occurred.

Miss Brunning also states that two male employees of the Equitable Trust Co., were standing outside the Morgan Building on Wall Street when she started across the street, and as she neared her building noticed that both had started east on Wall Street, apparently also returning to No. 37, their place of employment. Both these men were hurt and taken to Volunteer Hospital. Their names are GEORGE LANG and JACK BUNA.

Pursuant to suggestion of Special Agent West, after receipt of Bureau telegram, Agent proceeded to E. Boston, and checked up the above persons for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not any of them were absent from Boston on the day of above mentioned explosion.

G. SOLARI - could not be located on Cottage St., E. Boston, and must be living there under another name.

EDOARDO ALESSI, is very seldom seen by letter carrier. All mail is delivered to a woman who answers when letter carrier calls. Was home on day of explosion.

FRANCIS FARULLA, is a marble cutter and has not been away from E. Boston, for some time. Receives mail nearly every day.

Dr. NEORIN GUILHEIME - left for New York City, and had a money order sent to him at 125 West 15th St., as a member of the GALLIBANI group. Occupation dentist. Born in Paris, France; nationality French; mother's name Berthe; father's name John; mail is still delivered for him at 21 Meridian St., E. Dr. Annie Starr - dentist - residence 21 Veridian St., N. Boston, born July 5, 1888, at Borison, Russia, was very friendly with Dr. Guilhempe, and must be in close touch with him at present. She and Kahavagay receive all mail addressed to Dr. Guilhempe when it is offered for delivery by letter carrier. 78936

Letter carrier John Kelley informed agent that he delivers lots of mail for Dr. Guilhempe to Annie Starr and Harris A. Kahavagay, but cannot get any information from the abovenamed where the doctor has gone to or when he will return to East Boston.

Agent believes that Dr. Annie Starr is the same person that visited GIANNAI at Immigration Station, Long Wharf, Boston, on the day that the latter was removed to Ellis Island for deportation.

Agent called on Post office inspector Dawkins and had him notify Supt. Sullivan of the N. Boston p. o. to have a tracing made of all mail received by persons mentioned above, and forwarded to agent.

Unless otherwise instructed agent considers his part in this case closed.

Dear Sir:

This will acknowledge receipt and thank you for your letter of the 18th instant with its very interesting detail. Perhaps it would be helpful and will be further developed.

Very truly yours,

Director.
Pursuant to instructions from Agent Scully and based on a communication from Boston, Bureau, dated 9/20/20 and upon information contained in report of Agent Valkenburgh dated 9/17/20, Agent this date visited above numbered premises and in guise of a prospective patient was able to procure an interview with wife of subject, from whom I ascertained that subject is 32 years of age; born in France; in the United States about 11 years, naturalized in Boston and is conversant in French, Italian, Spanish and English. She further stated that her maiden name is Camuso, that she was born in Boston of Italian parents, and that previous to her marriage to subject he maintained an office in the home of her parents 27 Maverick Street, East Boston, Mass., at which place he received patients for dental work and ailments requiring medical attention. While practicing in Boston subject's patients were mostly Italians. Subject obtained his degree to practice medicine from the College of Physicians and Surgeons attached to the University of Boston.

Subject came to New York City last June and opened an office on the ground floor front of a double apartment house at 352 West 15th Street, New York City, at which place subject and his wife intend to remain permanently.

Subject's main reason for coming to New York City was to take a post-graduate course in eye, ear and nose work at the Ophthalmic Hospital and school on East 23rd Street, New York City.
Subject spends all of his days at the hospital and can be found in his office at night only, or by appointment. Subject's wife further stated that they have no relatives or friends in New York City and that therefore the doctor intends to become a member of the French Society in order to gain social friends and patients. To her knowledge subject has no radical tendencies and is strictly an American.

Continuing on the above investigation, Agent Anderson and the writer took up surveillance for subject in the vicinity of 130 Broadway at 9:45 A.M. At 10:40 A.M. he entered. He came out at 12:40 P.M. took Seventh Avenue subway to 23rd St. and then walked to the Chelsea Hotel, 23rd St. near Seventh Avenue. He called for Mr. Cantor, Room 214. He was shortly found by Mr. & Mrs. Cantor and another young woman and they went up in Hotel elevator to Room 214. They appeared in about ten minutes without hats and coats and entered dining room. Both women had bobbed hair. It was learned from Hotel Manager that Cantor registered as M. H. & Family, February 17, 1922, New York. He is supposed to have arrived from Germany on the S.S. Olympic February 15, 1922. Further information will be obtained concerning Cantor. At 1:30 P.M. they left restaurant and returned to room. Subject appeared alone in a few minutes and left hotel, taking subway to Park Place from where he proceeded to his office, entering at 1:55 P.M. At 2:15 P.M. he came out, walked to William and Fulton Sts. and boarded subway train to Clark St., Brooklyn. From there he walked to the Standish Inn Hotel, Columbia Heights. He came out at 4:45 P.M. and boarded subway to Fulton St., New York City, where he walked to the Hudson Terminal Building and took train to Jersey City, leaving there on train for Iselin, N.J. at 5:25 P.M. Agents then discontinued.

Surveillance.

February 27th.

Continuing on the above investigation, Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance for subject, in the vicinity of 180 Broadway. At 12.40 P.M. He came out, boarded subway at Fulton and William Street, rode to Clark Street, Brooklyn, walked to and entered Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights, at 1 P.M. He came out at 4 P.M., boarded subway, rode to Fulton Street, New York, walked to the office at 180 Broadway. He came to the street at 5.10 P.M. and walked to the Hudson Terminal Building, where he boarded train for Jersey City, and later boarded train which left at 5.37 P.M. for Iselin, N.J. Agents then discontinued.

February 28th. Surveillance was resumed for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway by Agent Anderson and the writer. At 11.40 A.M. subject came out, walked to William and Fulton Sts., boarded subway train to Clark Street, Brooklyn, and then proceeded to the Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights. As he was observed to leave up to 5 P.M. Agent Anderson proceeded to Jersey City and covered 5.37 P.M. train for Iselin, N.J. but subject was not observed.

The writer continued surveillance at Standish Arms Hotel until 6.15 P.M. when I was joined by Agent Anderson. Agents continued surveillance until 9 P.M. as subject was not observed to leave up to this time, and then discontinued.

March 1st. Continuing on the above investigation, agent Anderson resumed watch for subject at 180 Broadway, while the writer took up surveillance at Standish Arms Hotel, Brooklyn, up to 11 A.M., but as subject was not observed at the hotel I discontinued watch and proceeded to 180 Broadway and joined Agent Anderson. At 1:30 P.M. subject was observed to enter. He came out at 3:30 P.M. boarded subway, rode to 42d Street, Grand Central Station. He then walked to and entered 29 W. 48th Street. This is a small building and agents were unable to follow without exciting suspicion of subject. The following are located in this building:

- Dr. Matthes, Chiropodist
- Dr. Laurie, M. D.
- Dr. Johnson, M. D.
- L. Boner
- J. J. Breadley
- Stanley 3. Jooley, Real Estate
- A. Allen Taylor
- Corolym Nunder, Gowns

He came out at 4:15 P.M., boarded subway, rode to Brooklyn Bridge Station, walked to E. J. Willis, Auto Supplies and hardware, remained a few minutes, then went to 91 Park Place, to Woods Suburban Water System Company, came out almost immediately, thence to Terminal Drug Co., 28 Barclay Street, remained about 10 minutes, came out carrying small package. He then proceeded to Hudson Terminal Building, boarded train for Jersey City, N.J. and boarded 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N.J. Agents then discontinued.

March 2d. Continuing on the above investigation, Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway.

At 11:10 A.M. he came out and walked to William and Fulton Streets, boarded subway, rode to Clark Street, Brooklyn, to Standish Arms Hotel. He left hotel at 1:20 P.M. and returned to his office at 180 Broadway. At 2:50 P.M. he came out with a young woman, 25 years of age, 5' 4", 125 lbs, dark red hair, eyeglasses, dressed in brown hat; dark blue coat. They walked to Hudson Terminal build where they boarded train for Jersey City and then boarded train for Iselin, N.J. leaving at 3:07 P.M. Agents then discontinued.

At Washington, D. C.

Reference is made to letter dated Feb. 25, 1922, from Agent in Charge, Edw. J. Brennan, New York City, to the Director.

Agent called at the Supply Dept. U. S. Navy and learned from Mr. W. Dann, in charge of the wireless apparatus department, that their records show no sale of such apparatus made to subject, but that his department has made four or five hundred sales of the article mentioned. Mr. Dann also stated that they have records of two U. S. vessels named "Southern", both of them being tugs, but neither of them being fitted out with wireless apparatus.

Mr. Dann stated that the desired information might be secured from Mr. Steinfeldt, Board Survey, Appraisal and Sale, Navy Supply Depot, 29th and 3d Ave., So. Brooklyn, N. Y.

Copies of this report are being forwarded to the New York office of this Bureau.

Investigation concluded in Washington, D. C.
Nov. 28, 1921.

Captain Thomas J. Tunney,

My dear Mr. Larsen:

Your recent letter for which please accept my thanks has been received, and with the information it contained I believe that I can get a reference from either Los Angeles or San Diego should such be required.

If you can give me a similar line on your stay in El Paso and Mexico, I think I have all the information necessary to act.

Very truly yours,

My stay at the Washington Hotel was Ed. Milton. I also used the same name in shipping and reshipping suitcase to and from Los Angeles and San Diego.

I think this is the information you desire. I wish to thank you for the postage stamps you sent me.

Anything further you wish to know and if it is possible for me to give, you are welcome.

Captain Thomas J. Tunney,
68 William Street,
New York City, N. Y.

My dear Captain Tunney:

Again I am in receipt of a letter from our friend Alfred Larsen of which I am sending a copy to you and to Judge Henshaw with a copy of my reply.

As a student of psychology, you will draw your conclusions from the disjointed statement at the head of the letter: "My stay in Mex. covers nearly 3 months." This is hardly born out by the contents of the letter which further contradicts Larsen's former statements that he came out to Los Angeles with lots of money won by gambling in Mexico.

Please let me know if you have found anybody about Detroit who remembers Larsen, in which event, I would like to have some kind of a letter recommending Larsen to show him and convince him that I am keeping faith.

Yours very truly,

My dear Mr. Larsen:

Your letter of the 13th ult. has been received and I wish to thank you for your efforts in acquainting me with the past though I am sorry that you cannot mention someone from whom a letter of recommendation could be obtained covering your stay in Mexico or at least a portion thereof.

I am now endeavoring to get recommendations from Detroit or Pontiac and if you can think of any dates on which you definitely know that you have been at a certain place such as El Paso, Tiajuana, San Diego, etc., I would thank you to give them to me with the name you were using at the time and the exact address of the place where you were staying.

My dear Mr. Lyders:

Replying to your letter of October 13th, I will give you an outline of my movements in Mexico. Arriving at El Paso, Tex., I met a man by the name of Joe Gonzales, I think his address is Joe Gonzales, Cruillas, Tamalipas Co., Mex. Together with him I went to Miss Green's Curio Store where he bought odds and ends of things he was taking home with him to Cruillas. He sent them home after which we crossed the river not far from town at night.

We went as far as La Ciudad de Phihuahua, Mexico. I left him after staying with him there about 3 weeks and returned to El Paso and then went to Mexicali, Mexico and on through to San Diego. When I went to Mexico I intended to get a boat from Tampico to England but I could not talk and got disgusted and out of money, so I came back to get a boat out of Canada, but first I wanted to see my sister.

Leaving Mexicali on account of there being no work, it being yet some time before the cotton picking season opened up, I went on to San Diego where I stopped for several days at the Washington Hotel under the name of I think it was the same as I was under in Oakland, Robt. Fredericksen.

There I met a man by the name of John Verden who was working for the race track people. He gave me $2.00 and told me to go over and try for a job on a wooden bridge they were then building near the race track. I got a job there carrying lumber and doing

WALL STREET BOMB SET BY BOSTON REDS

Clues to Series of Outrages on June 2, 1919, Found by Federal Agents.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—Revelations indicating that the anarchists who bombed the homes of Judge Albert F. Hayden of Roxbury and Leland P. Powers, State representatives, of Newtonville, on the night of June 2, 1919, were leaders of the gang that terrorized the whole country have been made by the Department of Justice.

Agents have discovered that the group of “Reds” whose headquarters were in Boston also engineered explosions in New York, Philadelphia and Washington at the same time, and were responsible for the Wall street bomb horror last September.

Roberta Ella, an Italian Anarchist, arrested and held by the Department of Justice several weeks before deportation, is said to have implicated the so-called Galleani group of Boston “Reds” in a nation-wide bomb plot.

Elia is declared to have admitted he was a member of the gang, and that it was he who printed the pink propaganda circulars found wrapped about bombs in many cities of the country.

The arrest and statements of Elia have substantiated the theory of the investigators, the department claims.

The Boston bomb explosions occurred simultaneously with similar outrages in the home of Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., New York City; in the rectory of Our Lady of Victory Church and the home of Louis Jagcley, jeweler, Philadelphia; at the home of A. Mitchell Palmer, then attorney-general, at Washington; the home of Mayor Harry L. Davis of Cleveland; that of Max Gold, silk mill owner, Paterson, N. J.; United States Judge W. H. Thompson, and W. W. Sibrey of Pittsburgh, immigration inspector.
United States in the United States, or national prohibition as a member of Governor Hanley's flying squadron.

Miss Shawe went to Providence some years ago as a teacher of music at the Slade Mansion Select School. She had also been a teacher of singing at Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass., and for some time was a glee club director and choir leader in Danville, O. Since 1918 she has been an instructor in the Gibbs Secretarial School.

She is survived by two brothers, J. Noble Shawe and Loyal Phillips Shawe, the well known singer.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the home of her brother in Colburn street. Burial will be in Hillsboro, O., her birthplace.

Eight Hours of Third Degree Questioning Fail to Change His Flat
Denial of Charge

(By United Press)

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 9.—Acting on information contained in a mysterious note, police late last night arrested Mike Stine, a Bulgarian, and are holding him for investigation in connection with the Well street dynamite explosion of September 16, 1920. An unidentified man sent the note to police station. It told police where Stine could be found.

Stine, who says he is a circus acrobat and professional athlete, declared he has not been in New York since 1903, when he landed from Bulgaria. His wife corroborated his story.

"The man was very excited," Night Manager Nelson of the Western Union said.

When arrested Stine was working as night clerk at the Grand Hotel, a cheap lodging house in the foreign quarter.

Eight hours of third degree questioning have failed to change Stine's story that he has not been in New York since 1903, police said. He is held incommunicado and the third degree will be kept up.

"Until we find the man who sent the note we will have nothing to make public," Chief of Detectives Pszanowski said.

The note which led to Stine's arrest read:

"Go south to Howard street. Find a dark-skinned man with long, black hair, wearing a green sweater with red stripes and red collar. He runs a rooming house. Ask him if he was ever in San Francisco and ask him if he drove the one-horse wagon of dynamite in Wall street."

The note was unsigned.

Dear Sir:

Referring to my previous letter requesting an investigation be made in your district concerning the purchase of the rubber stamps used to print the anarchistic circulars found at the time of the explosion in Wall Street, it is respectfully requested that a notation be made in the daily reports, of the names and addresses of stores visited, this request coming directly from Director Flynn,

It is further requested that copies of your reports be furnished this office.

Very truly yours,

T. M. Brady
ACTING SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE.
Frank H. Stone, Esq.,
Lawyers Building,
Newark, N. J.

Dear Sir:

Agent in Charge Hanrahan of Boston, forwarded a telegram to this office on October 11th, advising that in connection with the investigation of the sale of rubber stamps similar to those used in making up the circulars found after the Wall Street Explosion, that his investigation tends to show that similar type is manufactured by the Fulton Type Company, of Elizabeth, N. J., therefore it is respectfully requested that an investigation be made to definitely ascertain whether or not his information is authentic.

It is also called to your attention that the word "for" in the set of type sent you, differs from any other similar type, and an investigation at Elizabeth will readily determine whether or not the Fulton Company manufacture the same style.

Very truly yours,

T. M. REddy

ACTING SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE.
Edward J. Brennan, Esq.,
Division Superintendent,
Post Office Box 455,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

I am forwarding you under separate cover, a set of rubber type similar to that used in making up the anarchist circulars found in the vicinity of Wall Street at the time of the explosion on September 16th.

It is respectfully requested that an immediate investigation be made in your territory to ascertain whether the stamps used were purchased there. It is to be noted, however, that Agent Hanrahan of the Boston District, reports that the Hans Kollesse Company and the Superior Type Company, both of Chicago, Illinois, manufacture rubber stamps similar to the sample sent you, which sample is the work of the R. H. Smith Company, Springfield, Mass.

For your information, a campaign is being made in all the Italian sections throughout the entire East, and up to the present time no information of value has been secured, and it is thought that it is quite probable that the stamps were purchased in some city in the Middle West.

Director Flynn instructs that the name and address of every place visited be incorporated in the agent's report, and a copy of same sent this office.

Very truly yours,

T. M. Reddy
Acting Special Agent in Charge.

On instructions of Agent In Charge Callaghan to investigate this subject as to his connections with any radical organizations and as to his whereabouts on Sept. 16, 1920:

Agent this day proceeded to the Postoffice at Millgrove, R.I. and was informed by MR. HARRIS, the Postmaster, that subject had box 183 for about a year; that he gave up the box on July 1st, 1930 and has not been seen since that time; that he was employed at the R. I. Malleable Iron Works at Millgrove during the time he had said postoffice box.

Agent next called at the R. I. Malleable Iron Works and interviewed JAMES SAUNDERS, supt. of the yard at said works. MR. SAUNDERS stated that DEL VECCHIO worked for him for about 2 years; that last July he and his family went back to Italy; that during the time DEL VECCHIO was employed by the R. I. Malleable Iron Works he received all kinds of anarchist papers but MR. SAUNDERS did not think DEL VECCHIO was an anarchist. He was a rabid Socialist but never talked Socialism or anarchy to any of the other men employed at the foundry during the time he worked there.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your telegraphic request for reports on the investigation of Zelenko, I am herewith attaching the result of the investigation made by Agent Thomas J. Callaghan.

Very truly yours,

ACTING SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE.
S. White, Esq.,
P. O. Box 451,

Dear Sir:

The following information was furnished this office by Mrs. Harry Sweetman of 4 Brevort Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

That some years ago she was a resident of a small town called "Germany" which is situated near Carbondale, Pa., and which is in the immediate vicinity of an old coal mine which had been abandoned some thirty years ago. That this abandoned mine was the rendezvous of an organization known as "The Black Hand." Their operations were confined solely to Pennsylvania.

She further states that this abandoned mine was some years ago raided by the authorities and quantities of dynamite and other explosives found, arrests made and the gang apparently broken up. Recently she has been advised that suspicious characters are again inhabiting the old mine and she is convinced that an investigation of the inhabitants of said mine might show some connection with the recent explosion in Wall Street.

The informant in this case promised to furnish further information and if same is secured, you will be so advised.

Dear Sir:

I am forwarding you under separate cover, a set of rubber type similar to that used in making up the anarchist circulars found in the vicinity of Wall Street at the time of the explosion on September 16th.

It is respectfully requested that an immediate investigation be made in your territory to ascertain whether the stamps used were purchased there. The sample sent you is the work of the R. E. Smith Company, Springfield, Mass.

For your information, a canvass is being made in all the Italian sections throughout the entire East, and up to the present time no information of value has been secured, and it is thought that it is quite probable that the stamps were purchased in some city in the Middle West.

Director Lynn instructs that the name and address of every place visited be incorporated in the agent's report, and a copy of same sent this office.

In re: Frank Brancasi and Marie Bovo
Wall Street Bomb Explosion

At Indiana and Warren, Pa.

Reference is made to report of Agent G. J. Scully under date of Oct. 11, 1920, entitled Wall St. Bomb Explosion, and my report under date of Oct. 13th, concerning the above entitled case.

Continuing investigation, I proceeded to Waterman, Pa., and interviewed Mr. G. J. Steinheiser, the Superintendent of the Waterman mine, where the said Frank Brancasi is employed, and ascertained the following information:

1. Frank Brancasi started to work at Waterman, Pa.
Dec. 22, 1919.

2. Resides at house #322, Waterman, Pa. The boarding boss of the house in question is Peter Pace.

3. Radical activities, according to Mr. Steinheiser, are that subject Frank Brancasi has been very quiet since he has been employed at the said mine. He is very smart, and is a good worker.

4. Marie Bovo, who is employed at the Snyder mine, has only been there since September 28th. Mr. Steinheiser was unable to state the activities of Bovo, because he had not been employed long enough at the mine in question.

I next proceeded to the post office and interviewed the postmaster Mr. Uberm and obtained a letter written in Italian, postmarked Brooklyn, N.Y., Oct. 14, 1920. Return address Pietri Carallo, 38 President St., Brooklyn, N.Y. (I refer to Agent Scully's report which states that a meeting was held at 34 President St., Brooklyn, N.Y. concerning the bomb explosion.) A copy of the translation of said letter is as follows:

Dear Friend George:

I received your dear letter and I had a good time that you wrote to me. We were thinking about you because you did not write to us. We thought something happened, then we received your letter and felt glad. You state that you are in Waterman, Pa. There is nothing to be done that we can't get any house— as soon as we find house we will let you know. Here in New York will be— Liquor we can not find it is very scarce that those people that has license on Tonic the Govt. took all off this time. The Govt. license to Proffianno all complete. If you think you will be able to make this tonic the alcohol spirit here in New York is lots. There will be a lot of business to be done. This is left to you. Nothing else. Receive best regards from your companion.

Dear Brancazi:

We received your letter yesterday and it made us feel very good that branch has decided to participate in our congress. I am deeply grateful to all the comrades of the branch. The time has arrived for the Italian Revolutionary workmen of America to take a clear and precise position and no half way methods. You that from some time past have been reading the Proletario must understand what our ideas are. It is through that at times we have had against our will to punish certain people but that was done to safe guard the dignity and seriousness of the labor movement and above all safe guard the ideals that some of these people have been attempting to frustrate for illiteracy purposes an gain you that are acquainted with DePizzol have had occasion to talk to him, and I believe he has told you if I belong to the Journalistic family or that of the stone cutters there for not being a Journalist I have not used and subterfuge but have gone ahead like a rock driving and driving until cleared up. I have felt and feel very sorry whenever I had to resort to different methods, but believe me it has been impossible to refrain from doing so, our movement needs to be purified and expel from our ranks all those that are not true to our cause.

I have done all I could in the past fourteen months that I have been alone to place back to the goods road our movements and today I believe I am on that good road because the corporation of good comrades will not fail you there in Penna. We can organize strong groups and create a great movement that will hit back at the yellow press you and the other comrades will contribute with enthusiasm like always in order that we may expel from the houses of the laboring class those newspapers that are our dishonor and the cause of our slavery. I like Cannata and the other comrades and the C.E. give greetings to the strong groups of Waterman with the hope that others will follow and join our ranks. At the present time our movement is not in a bad way, you may learn this from the Proletariat, from now on we will try to do more because we are together and the enthusiasm to work will not fail us. At some time I will come to Indiana County and then we will have the occasion to make our acquaintance personally with our comrades from there. Do the papers arrive always. I hope so, because we do not mail them here.

BOMB EXPLOSION  WALL ST. NEW YORK CITY  Sept. 16, 1920

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At Bridgeport, Conn.

William P. Hazen, relative to investigating explosive handled by firms as listed in photostat copy, result in the following information:

Margaret E. Burns, bookkeeper for the Burns Company, Contractors, Bridgeport, Connecticut, states that the company handles nothing but 75%, 60% and 40% L. & F. Dynamite. Dynamite caps and fuses, and that the company uses the greater part of the explosives for their use in evacuation work. Sales are made however mostly to individuals, in small quantities from one to twelve boxes.

These people are well known to the company. The largest buyer being the Bridgeport Sewer and Construction Company, which firm since August 23rd, has bought 16 boxes or 750 pounds of 60% L. & F.

Records show that two Italians CAMPO BROS. of 47 Lexington Avenue, Bridgeport, Connecticut, purchased one box of 50 pounds 40% L. & F. with caps and fuse, September 10th, 1920. According to the records on file at the company's office, purpose given for buying, the explosives, was to use it on their farm. Miss Burns states that she does not know whether CAMPO BROTHERS have a farm or not. This sale was reported to Agent in Charge Hazen by Telephone.

Miss Burns also states that prior to August 23rd, no record was kept as to the sale of dynamite, but was advised however by the State Police on August 23rd, to keep a record. She also reports that my dynamite has been stolen.

Mr. Curtis, General Manager of the Bridgeport Sewer & Construction Company, offices at 169-179 Lindley Street, Bridgeport, Connecticut, states that he is a large user of 40% L. & F. for the purpose of excavation work, buying mostly from the Burns Company contractors, and some from the Caldo bond Company, Boston, Mass.
He states that he has never sold over five sticks to any one person since he has handled explosives. Also states that he has never had any stolen from his magazine or elsewhere.

Mary Jeffries, Bookkeeper of the Pierce Mfg. Co. with office at 786 Housatonic Avenue, Bridgeport, Connecticut, states that the company has not handled any explosives in four years, and gives as the reason, for the Pierce Mfg. Company's name being shown on the photostat copy, as dealing in explosives, because Mr. Pierce has been interested in the Iron Lodge Company, up to a short time ago. Agent proceeded to the office of the Iron Lodge Company, 520
North Avenue, Bridgeport, Connecticut, and interviewed Timothy McNally, who has direct charge of the company's magazine. Stated that Mr. Pierce had owned an interest in the company up to a short time ago. States that the company handled nothing but 40% L. & F.
most of it being used by the company for blasting purposes. He states that the company has only sold four cases of 40% L. & F. in the last six months, in small amounts, from one to six sticks to a

DUPLICATE

FACTS DEVELOPED

Harry J. Hansell, Bookkeeper of the W. H. Arthur Company, Contractors, Glenbrook, Connecticut, states that the company handles nothing but 40% L. & F., most of it being used by the company, for blasting purposes. The only sales being to the City of Stamford.

Hansell reports that no explosives have been stolen.

At Ridgeport, Conn. Oct. 15, 1920

Agent tried to locate Louis Jacques of the Louis Jacques Construction Company, and was informed by his wife, that Mr. Jacques was still in New Jersey, and had no idea when he would be back.

At Danbury, Conn. Oct. 15, 1920

Robert Menzie, head clerk for the Hull Hardware and Plumbing Company, Danbury, Connecticut, states that up to six months ago the company had on hand 75% L. & F., since that time the company has handled nothing but 40% L. & F. the total amount 75% L. & F. was sold to the Danbury & Bethel Gas Company of Danbury, Connecticut. Other customers of the 40% L. & F. being Joe Roberts, Contractor at Ridgefield, Connecticut, Del nicholas, of Torrington, Connecticut, and Gustave Leguist, Contractor, the last three contractors mentioned all have contracts from the State, building new roads. Small quantities have also been sold from one to ten sticks to Customers well known by the company. Menzie also stated the company had never had any explosives stolen. Agent then interviewed Frank Garland, Superintendent of the Danbury & Bethel Gas Company, who stated that the total amount of 75% L. & F. purchased from the Hull Hardware & Plumbing Company, Danbury, had been used on a transmission line between Danbury and Stevenson, and that to the best of his knowledge none of it had been stolen. He also stated that the gas company had not sold any of this lot. At Francisco Valerio, contractor with offices at Mansfield Avenue, Stamford, Connecticut, at present working on Putnam Park Road, states that he has handled 40; L & F, but has had so many accidents, that 40; L & F is the strongest that he uses now.

Most of this he purchases from the Hull Hardware & Plumbing Company, Danbury, Connecticut. He states that he keeps a close check on explosives in his magazine, and has never had any stolen.
He also states that he has never sold any dynamite to any one.

At Canaan, Connecticut, Oct. 15, 1920, 9:30 A.M.

Mr. Canfield, General Manager for the New England Line
Company, Canaan, Connecticut, states that the company handles only 40;
L & F, that the company does not sell any, using it all for blasting purposes. States that about 2 years ago, an Italian by the name of Ned Tassetti, or Nettasetti, stole a half a box of 40; L or 25 pounds of dynamite. He states that it later developed that this Italian had used it blasting rock for a cellar for his home.
He states that this man came to Canaan about five years ago, from where he does not know. At one time he worked for the New England Line Company, and later for Barnum & Richardson, from Canadians, Canaan, Connecticut. He states this man was prosecuted.

ATT: CHARLES J. SCULLY.

Dear Sir:

The following is a report in advance of Agent Lynch's report:

Investigation by Agent Lynch discloses that the half inch rubber alphabet stamps of letters, figures and characters were sold by ISIDORE M. GOLDSTEIN, 53 Church Street, owner of the New Britain Stamp Works, New Britain, Connecticut, on the Friday preceding Labor Day, August 27th, or Friday, September 10th, 1920, after Labor Day.

Two men came into this shop which is on the second floor and which is divided by a partition. ISIDORE M. GOLDSTEIN, has a brother named, DAVID GOLDSTEIN, who was at work behind this partition the day these two men called and purchased a box of rubber alphabet stamps, and figures, which were set in a wooden box, instead of a paste board box similar to the one used by the R.H. SMITH COMPANY, Springfield, Mass., and which you sent to this office.

ISIDORE M. GOLDSTEIN, has refreshed his memory somewhat and stated that the men paid $3.25 for this box of stamps. ISIDORE M. GOLDSTEIN, had some difficulty in finding out just what they wanted, but finally both said they wanted rubber stamps. During this conversation DAVID GOLDSTEIN, overheard the talking and recalls that the men stated they were from Middletown, Connecticut. He, DAVID GOLDSTEIN, did not see these men.

There is still another set of #66X.
furnished by the CENTURY RUBBER STAMP WORKS, Inc. 551 Pearl Street, New York City, and sold by the New Britain Stamp Company.

A comparison made with the R.H. Smith Company Stamps, and the stamps in the catalogue of the CENTURY COMPANY, marked 66X, show that they are similar. The figure one is exact, and the figure three shows a slight difference in the curve. The character 1¢ also shows a difference, but the dollar sign is exact.

Agent Lynch asked ISIDORE GOLDSTEIN whether or not he sold paper, and in reply to this question, GOLDSTEIN, stated that the men inquired if he sold paper. GOLDSTEIN, has no paper for sale. An investigation will be made as to the sale of paper.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM P. HAZEN
Special Agent in Charge.
Pursuant to instructions of Director Flynn, I interviewed JAMES F. STAREK at the offices of LOEKE & COMPANY, attorneys, with offices on the 13th floor at 7 Wall Street in regard to a statement made by Mr. STAREK to Special Agent W. R. PALMERA. Mr. STAREK gave his residence as 511 East 78 Street; a naturalized American citizen of Czecho-Slovakian origin. He was naturalized June 11, 1911 and voting at the 78th Street and Avenue A, 18th Congressional District. Mr. STAREK took me out on the piazza of the 13th floor at #7 Wall Street and pointed out from that distance the spot where the horse was alleged by him to have stood; he then gave me a rambling statement about a tar tank having under it burning logs and noticed sparks being blown by the wind in the direction of the explosive wagon.

Agent then interrogated Mr. STAREK as to how he knew the wagon was an explosive wagon from the distance which he stood. Mr. Starek then answered that he was not sure that it was an explosive wagon but that he thought so on account of it being painted a redish color. He then told me a story that a man got off of the wagon with long dark hair and seemed to put the reins back in the wagon and as he did his hair became disarranged and that then the man alighting from the wagon pushed the hair back from his forehead he also told me that when he went to the scene of the explosion, the fire engines were pouring water on the burning log, in this he is absolutely mistaken as the fire... engines only distinguished the fire which was fiercely burning in an automobile on Wall Street.

While I was interviewing Mr. STAREK, Mr. MALCOLM S. MCNEAL WATTS, a member of the firm of Locke, Watts & Stephenson of which Mr. STAREK is an employee told me not to place much credence in any statement made by Mr. STAREK as he was very erratic and not very reliable in any statement he would make; that he had lost a large amount of money, and if you would listen to some of his statements about the monies he (Mr. Starek) was making STAREK should have been a millionaire a hundred times over while Mr. WATTS wound up by saying that Mr. Starek was a fine linguist he was a little wrong in the head.
Pursuant to instructions received by Director Flynn, I called upon Mr. DANIEL HURLEY with residence at 1515 Lexington Avenue,
New York, License 8617, Blaster in Charge of the work at the South east Corner of Broad and Wall Streets. Mr. HURLEY gave me the following statement:

"I have been handling explosives for a large number of years and have been actively in charge of all blasting done on this work.
I did not order any dynamite or explosive to be delivered to this work upon the day of the explosion because of the fact we had already 25 lbs. on hand of 40% powder."

I then asked Mr. HURLEY as to the manner in which they handled their explosives. Mr. HURLEY replied that he and he alone was the only one who handled any explosive on the job and that Mr. JAMES DUMPHY, 44 Rivington Street, New York, license 18312 was the magazine keeper at night who came on duty at 6:30 p.m. and remained on duty until 6:30 a.m. when he was relieved by Mr. GEORGE C. MORTIAR.
Mr. HURLEY further informed me that not one stick of explosive had been missing from the job and that he could account for every stick of explosive used on the job.

I then asked Mr. HURLEY on account of his wife experience and knowledge in the handling of explosives if he had been at the scene of the explosion. Mr. HURLEY answered that he was there about one minute after the explosion and was about 200 feet away from the scene.
and it was his opinion on account of the small cavity and the damage done by the explosion along with the noise, it was something much higher and more powerful than 40% powder or dynamite and it was a new explosive to him. I then inquired for Mr. JAMES DUMPHY who showed me his license #8312 as a magazine keeper. Mr. DUMPHY informed me that he reported for work at 6:30 p.m. and had active charge of the magazine until 6:30 a.m. when he was relieved by Mr. GEORGE C. MORTIMER and that the key of the magazine never left his possession and nobody was permitted to handle any of the explosives except Mr. HURLEY.

I then went to 96 Broadway and interviewed WILLIAM MACK of 242 West 149th Street, license #8391, Blaster in Charge of this operation. Mr. MACK gave me the following statements - "I have 30 years experience in the handling of explosives and after looking over the scene of the explosion I want to say to you that no 40% powder as used for blasting or dynamite used for blasting could cause this result, it was a very very powerful explosive, what it is I am not prepared to say. I

I then asked Mr. MACK as to the methods used in handling explosives on his work. Mr. MACK said that the explosives during the day were under a Mr. BART KELLINER and that no person could handle or have possession of any of the explosives except he, Mr. MACK or Mr. KELLINER. Mr. MACK also informed me that they had not received nor had they sent in any order to receive any explosive of whatever nature on the day of the explosion.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
Wall Street Explosion

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At 9.30 a.m. accompanied by Special Agent Allegra I proceeded to Astoria, Corona, Flushing, Elmhurst and College Point, L.I. and canvassed the following places for information regarding the sale of a set of rubber printing stamps:

CORONA, L.I.

In the store of Drapkin Brothers, No. 20 East Jackson Ave. I was informed by Mr. Drapkin that he had sold a set of the type similar to the sample I showed him; he stated that he had sold the set about three months ago, but that all he could remember about it was that the purchaser was a young man, whom he thought was an American; he was unable to furnish any description other than this, although he was quite positive that the man was not a foreigner of any kind. He stated that he would try to refresh his memory on the matter and if any details or a better description of the man should come to his mind he would telephone to the Bureau office. I then called at the following places:

Stationery store, 70 E. Jackson St. Does not handle

Dear Sir:

I am forwarding you under separate cover, a set of rubber type similar to that used in making up the anarchist circulars found in the vicinity of Wall Street at the time of the explosion on September 16th.

It is respectfully requested that an immediate investigation be made in your territory to ascertain whether the stamps used were purchased there. The sample sent you is the work of the R. H. Smith Company, Springfield, Mass.

For your information, a canvass is being made in all the Italian sections throughout the entire East, and up to the present time no information of value has been secured, and it is thought that it is quite probable that the stamps were purchased in some city in the Middle West.

Director Flynn instructs that the name and address of every place visited be incorporated in the agent's report, and a copy of same sent this office.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

I am forwarding you under separate cover, a set of rubber type similar to that used in making up the anarchist circulums found in the vicinity of Wall Street at the time of the explosion on September 16th.

It is respectfully requested that an immediate investigation be made in your territory to ascertain whether the stamps used were purchased there. It is to be noted, however, that Agent Hanrahan of the Boston District, reports that the Hans Helmeoe Company and the Superior Type Company, both of Chicago, Illinois, manufacture rubber stamps similar to the sample sent you, which sample is the work of the R. H.

For your information, a canvas is being made in all the Italian sections throughout the entire East, and up to the present time no information of value has been secured, and it is thought that it is quite probable that the stamps were purchased

Dear Sir:

Agent in Charge Hanrahan of Boston, forwarded a telegram to this office on October 11th, advising that in connection with the investigation of the sale of rubber stamps similar to those used in making up the circulars found after the Wall Street Explosion, that his investigation tends to show that similar type is manufactured by the Fulton Type Company, of Elizabeth, N. J., therefore it is respectfully requested that an investigation be made to definitely ascertain whether or not his information is authentic.

It is also called to your attention that the word "for" in the set of type sent you, differs from any other similar type, and an investigation at Elizabeth will readily determine whether or not the Fulton Company manufacture the same style.

The following is a letter received by Brancasi from A. Presi:

Dear Brancasi:

We received your letter yesterday and it made us feel very good that the branch has decided to participate in our congress. I am deeply grateful to all the comrades of the branch. The time has arrived for the Italian Revolutionary workers of America to take a clear and precise position and no half way methods. You that from some time past have been reading the Proletarian must understand what our ideas are. It is through that at times we have had against our will to punish certain people but that was done to save guard the dignity and seriousness of the labor movement and above all save guard the ideals that some of these people have been attempting to frustrate for inferior purposes. I am gaining you that are acquainted with DePace have had occasion to talk to him, and I believe he has told you if I belong to the Journalistic family or that of the stone cutters there for not being a Journalist I have not used and subterfuge but have gone ahead like a rock driving and driving until cleared up. I have felt and feel very sorry whenever I had to resort to different methods, but believe me it has been impossible to refrain from doing so, our movement needs to be purified and expell from our ranks all those that are not true to our cause.

I have done all I could in the past fourteen months that I have been alone to please back to the good read our movements and today I believe I am on that good road because the corporation of good comrades will not fail you there in Penza, I organise strong groups and create a great movement that will hit back at the yellow press you and the other comrades will contribute with enthusiasm like always in order that we may expell from the houses of the laboring class those newspapers that are ours dishonor and the cause of our slavery. I like neman and the other comrades and the C. W. give greetings to the strong groups of Waterman with the hope that others will follow and join our ranks. At the present time our movement is not in a bad way, you may learn this from the Proletarian, from now on we will try and do more because we are together and the enthusiasm to work will not fail us. At some time I will come to Indiana County and then we will have the occasion to make our acquaintances personally with our comrades from there. Do the papers arrive always. I hope so, because we do not mail them here.

With fraternal regards, your comrade,
A. PRESI"

In re: Frank Boveto and Mario Bove

Dear Brancasi:

In reply to yours of the twelfth inst.
We have received $35.00 for the cause and we have sent out the receipt.

The P.S. branch will be welcomed in our congress if she it will decide to subscribe to the principals of the Proletarian Socialism which the congress inspires. Inform the Secretary who forward official subscription to the O. P. of P.S.I. of this place and he will receive a reply which will be conclusive and to the point.

Regards and solidarity.

A telegram was received from the New York Office, requesting information as to whether or not Brancasi and Bove are Anarchists.

From information obtained from a confidential source, I am satisfied that Brancasi is a member of the I. W. W. This is verified by the correspondence he has received, which is above mentioned.

Brancasi subscribes for the Italian publication, entitled - "El Proletario". On October 14, Brancasi received this publication under separate cover through the mail, from Chicago, Ill, addressed to Box 25 - Waterman, Pa.

I attach to this report photostatic copies of the letter referred to in this report.

A copy of this report is being sent to the New York Office.

Bove's activities and other information will be reported on later.

It is respectfully requested that an immediate investigation be made in your territory to ascertain whether the stamps used were purchased there. The sample sent you is the work of the R. H. Smith Company, Springfield, Mass.

For your information, a canvass is being made in all the Italian sections throughout the entire East, and up to the present time no information of value has been secured, and it is thought that it is quite probable that the stamps were purchased in some city in the Middle West.

Director Flynn instructs that the name and address of every place visited be incorporated in the agent's report, and a copy of same sent this office.

Very truly yours,

T. N. Reddy

At Providence:

Acting on instructions from Agent In Charge Callaghan to investigate this subject as to his connections with any radical organizations and to his whereabouts on Sept. 16, '20.

Agent this day proceeded to 340 Atwell's Avenue, where subject was supposed to reside. On arrival at this address was unable to find anyone who knew subject. Later learned that subject was employed at the Turks Head Club, this city.

Called and interviewed the steward of the Turks Head Club, who stated that TOMASELLI had been employed at this club since Jan. 1917 as second cook working steadily at the club since that time; that he had never seen him with any radical newspapers and never discussed radicalism with any of the other men in the kitchen.

Agent interviewed TOMASELLI, who stated that he was 26 years of age and had been in this country since May 1911; was not a citizen. His explanation of receiving the anarchist paper "L'Era Nova" was that at one time he was a member of the Karl Marx Club, which was located on Atwell's Avenue and was broken up by the Government during the war; that he had attended 2 or 3 meetings at the club and after that this paper was mailed to him at 340 Atwell's Avenue, where he resided at that time. He never contributed any money for this paper and he presumed his name was taken from the list of members of the club at that time.

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge Hanahan Agent interviewed the following fireworks concerns in Boston, that clue might be furnished to perpetrator of explosion on Wall Street,
New York, on Sept. 16th.

At MASTER & FEDS FIREWORKS CO., 18 Hawley Street, the manager stated he knew little of the business, but would refer Agt.
to their factory at Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

At AMERICAN FIREWORKS CO., 76 Sumner St., the manager was out and Agent was informed to ask for Mr. GIOGLI at the factory loc-cated in Randolph, Mass.

At the NATIONAL FIREWORKS CO., 34 Sudbury St., Agent interviewed Mr. PLANTN, accountant, but was referred to Mr. Hill or Mr.
Geo. Clark at their plant in West Hanover, Mass. He further stated that some explosions at Hanover were investigated by Mr. Wedger, the state explosive expert.

At RANDOLPH FIREWORKS CO., 81 High St., Agent interviewed Mr. CASILLA, one of the firm, who referred to Mr. MARIANI, at their Randolph plant.

DODGE STEVENS CO., 86 High St., are jobbers.
JACOB WHITCOMB CO., 92 Federal St., are jobbers.
UNITED STATES FIREWORKS CO., 58 Devonshire St., o not be located at that address.
EDMUND S. HUNT & SON, Weymouth - it is reported that the senior is dead; the son not doing any business. Their specialty was firecrackers, a composition of potash and powder.

The above comprise all fireworks concerns in Boston.
In interviews the details of accusations were apparently known and mention was made that the ingredients which might cause a yellow smoke was composed of sulphur (commercial in 300 lb barrels) and chlorate of potash (commercial in 112 lb bags) which are purchasable anywhere.

CASE CONTINUES.
Upon instructions of Special Agent in Charge, J. Haas,

I did not find any rubber stamps in any of these places.
At Providence, R.I.

On instructions from Agent in Charge Callaghan, Agent this day visited the following stores and submitted to them the set of price markers identical with the set used to print circulars found in the postal boxes in New York on the day of the explosion in order to ascertain if they handled same.

None of the stores named below which were visited by Agent sell price markers similar in size and character:

1. E. G. Billings, Snow Street.
4. F. E. Chester, 3 Pine St.
5. E. L. Freeman, 109 Westminster St.
11. A. A. White Co., Westminster St.

ED. H. ADAMS, mentioned above as visited by Agent advised that he was for several years president of the New England Rubber Stamp Dealers Association. He felt sure that the price marker submitted by Agent was manufactured by the R.H. SMITH MANUFACTURING CO., SPRINGFIELD, MASS. Examination of the BOMB EXPLOSION, 111 Street, New York City, Sept. 16, 1920.

(Alleged anarchistic plot)

FACTS DEVELOPED: at Springfield, Mass.: Pursuant to instructions as contained in letter from T. H. REDDY, of New York Office, dated Oct. 9, 1920, to the Boston office, and quoted in report of Agent Poole for Oct. 11th, Agent called on the following firms in Springfield, dealing in rubber stamps:

- ALBERT W. GIFFORD, 31 Lyman St.,
- R. P. CHILDS CO., 274 Main St.,
- FRED W. NASH CO., 571 Main St.,
- MORGAN CAMERON CO., 235 Main St.,
- JOHNSON'S BOOKSTORE, 531 Main St.,
- SPRINGFIELD OFFICE SUPPLY COMPANY, 82 Worthington Street.

These firms include all the stores in Springfield dealing in rubber markers and other rubber stamps.

ALBERT W. GIFFORD stated that they did not carry markers but that sets similar to one shown by Agent could be purchased at R. H. SMITH MFG CO.

R. P. CHILDS' salesman stated that that company carried a stock of SMITH'S markers which were purchased about two years ago, but none have been bought since as sales are slow. When shown sample said that no sale had been made locally for several months of either the EASY or ECONOMY marker in this size. He promised to look over the files and check up the sales on this size and would consult Mr. CHILDS on his return to Springfield on Saturday as to any sales.
made by him of these markers and notify Agent. They had been sold.

At HOGAN CAMEOH CO., Mr. Cameron stated that they carried SMITH stock, but after consulting his order book said that no markers of their size of sample had been sold by his firm since April, 1920.

At JOHNSON'S BOOKSTORE, the clerk said that they carried the larger type of marker, but had never carried the set of sample as they purchased the smaller line of markers from B/ GARDEN of Baltimore. Agent looked at one of BAKENGARDEN's sets and the type was different.

At SPRINGFIELD OFFICE SUPPLY CO., Agent interviewed Mr. PREVOST, in charge of the rubber stamp department, who said that his company had started to sell the rubber stamps in August and carried the SMITH line of markers. He consulted his books and found that no markers of this style had been sold by the company.

Agent called on HERM W. NASH CO., and was informed that they sold some rubber stamps but had never carried a line of rubber markers.

CASE CONTINUED.
At Glen Moore and Cornog, PA.

Reference is made to letter from Division Superintendent Spencer, dated and initialed "RBS:N"-11/27th 1920, listing certain firms in this territory reported by the AETNA EXPLOSIVE COMPANY as having purchased Aetna Blasting gelatine, between March 1st and September 15th 1920, and requesting that these firms be checked up with a view of ascertaining whether or not their supplies can be accounted for. Second

Second on the list of firms submitted is the KEYSTONE TRAPPE, Chester, PA., apparently intended for the KEYSTONE TRAPPE ROCK COMPANY. Glen Moore, Chester County, PA., which company received a shipment of 550 lbs. of Aetna Blasting Gelatine from the magazine of the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY of Norristown, PA. on August 18th last (date and size of shipment corresponds to date in Mr. Spencer's letter)

Agent interviewed JOHN S. GALT 346 W. Chestnut St., Lancaster, PA., president of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK AT HONEY-BROOK, PA., at Cornog, PA. MR. GALT is the president and owner of the KEYSTONE TRAPPE COMPANY PLANT at Cornog, PA. (shipping and mail station, Glen Moore, PA.) MR. GALT stated that the shipment of 500 lbs. of Aetna Blasting Gelatine had been received from the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY of Norristown by truck on August 18th. It was kept carefully guarded and unopened until August 21st following when the boxes were opened and checked in presence, showing that they contained exactly the amount of four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500), the object of this transaction being that Thompson was to transfer his offices to the use of the Standard Oil Co., and they in turn would eject Webster from his office.

Subject also informed me that Mr. Hoyt purchasing agent for the Standard Oil Co., of New York and one of its officers had stayed away from his office five days upon information received from the Standard Oil that subject had intended closing up offices of Standard Oil Co., at 26 B'way. Mr. Hoyt is also alleged to have said to a personal friend of the subject who was in business with him that the subject was erratic and mentally irresponsible.

Subject informed me that the Du Pont Powder Co.'s secret service had also endeavored to frame him by having a professor of one of the Paris Universities write him a letter in English requesting the subject to send copies of a song written by himself called the Battle Hymn of Democracy. I then asked the subject how the sending of this song could frame him. He informed me that this was one of his secrets. The subject then said the Du Pont Secret Service had endeavored to prove him insane in 1919 and on May 1st, 1920 the Du Pont Secret Service and the Standard Oil Secret Service had tried to brand him as a Bolshevik because he had smashed the League of Nations.

Subject further informed me that he was so well known all over that all United States Senators sent him copies of their speeches. Subject said that the Bankers in New York were supporting the League of Nations and that was the reason they wanted subject declared insane as he was destroying the League.

Subject further stated that the Standard Oil, Du Pont Powder
Company, High Finance and the "Booze" Ring tried to assassinate his brother, Benjamin, who was private secretary to Congressman Lilly of Connecticut, and that this same general system killed the Congressman.

That a Mr. Sault, a United States Secret Service agent had something on United States McLean of Connecticut and that this senator could not speak without first advising Mr. Sault and obtaining his consent.

Subject also informed me that the German Professors had a form of poison which would cause the slow breaking down of the nervous system causing insanity. Subject claims that this dose was given to his brother by German Interests. Agent inquired from the subject what evidence he had to corroborate his statement that agents in the Department of Justice in Jersey should be shown up. Subject also informed me that Mr. Stone in the Jersey office real name is Mr. Stein, stating that he personally believes that Stone is wrong, but could give me no proof for making this statement.

Subject also stated that the Secretary of War Baker should be impeached and that if Roosevelt was living this would have been carried out. He further stated that Baker's brother is in Paterson, N.J., and closely connected with textile industries.

After a lengthy interview in which subject spoke incoherently agent decided that subject is mentally sick.

James C. Dunn, SP. Agent
At Rochester, N.Y.

Agent visited four places in Rochester, N.Y. where rubber stamps and printing sets are made or sold and only one place, that of E. BREWSTER MYERS, 363 Main Street, East, was found to be handling stamping sets similar to samples.

MYERS buys these stamping sets from the ROBERT H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY, of Springfield, Mass. It might also be noted, that all of the stamps he handles, are larger than the sample. He stated that he has not sold or even had in stock this kind of stamping set in the smaller size.

TO BE CONTINUED.
Agent this day visited the following stores in efforts to locate where a set similar to the one used in printing the circular found in the postal boxes in New York on Sept. 16, '20 might be found. None of the places named below sell the price markers of the same size and character to the one submitted for their inspection.

1. J. C. Hall, 69 West Exchange St.
2. E. F. & T. J. Hayden, 92 Veybosset St.
5. Providence Paper Co., 46 Veybosset St.
7. A. Pints, Atwells Ave.
8. Excelsior Hardware Co., 275 Atwells Ave.

Vincenzo Alcella, Atwells Ave.

The above named comprise the stores selling stationery and supplies in the Federal Hill district, which is the Italian settlement. Some other stores such as grocery and markets were visited by agent in order to ascertain if they might have for their own use type of the same variety as the one in agent's possession but without results. Continued.
R. H. SMITH catalogue revealed that the sign marker used to print the catalogue is identical in every respect with the "EASY NO. 0." sign marker manufactured by R. H. SMITH COMPANY. In this connection MR. ADAMS advised that each firm and in fact each set of sign markers have their own peculiar ornaments.

MR. ADAMS also stated that the SMITH goods are handled very little in this vicinity but are used very extensively in HARTFORD and NEW HAVEN, CONN. and in fact they are used so extensively in the above named cities that the salesmen or other dealers in the same line do not canvass Hartford and New Haven.

Fac-simile of the "Easy Sign Marker" was taken from the catalogue of the R. H. SMITH COMPANY and is being forwarded to New York with a copy of this report.

Investigation continued.

October 15, 1920.

W. P. Hansen, Esq.,
Post Office Box 548,
Hartford, Conn.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your letters dated October 13th and 14th, concerning the investigation made by Agent Lynch on the rubber stamps at New Britain, Conn., it is respectfully requested that it be immediately ascertained whether or not Goldstein sold the set of stamps known as "No. 6 Set", manufactured by Smith & Company, of Springfield, Mass., or a set known as "No. 56 X", manufactured by the Fulton Specialty Company, of Elizabeth, N. J. It is also requested that you ascertain whether the stamps sold by Goldstein were purchased by him from the Century Rubber Stamp Company, of this city, and if so, the date of said purchase, together with the number of the bill, this so that we might trace same in this district.

For your information, it is quite certain that the set of stamps used in making up the circular found in the vicinity of the Wall Street Explosion, were manufactured by the Smith Company of Springfield, and not by the Fulton Specialty Company, of Elizabeth, N. J.

While many of the letters in both sets of stamps appear to be similar, the word "for" used by the maker of the aforementioned circular, is distinctive from all other styles made by other manufacturers than the Smith Company, therefore it is respectfully requested that at the time of each investigation your agent exhibit this particular stamp.

I am forwarding to you today, a second set of rubber stamps.

Very truly yours,

T. M. Reedy

ACTING SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE
At 71 Hanover & Randolph, Mass.

Continuing this matter from the 14th instant, Agent interviewed Mr. George Whase and Mr. Hill of the National Fireworks Dist. Co. at their factory in West Hanover, Mass. This plant is the largest of manufacturers of fireworks in this district. About 400 hands are employed, including over 200 female help. Both men were conversant with details of explosions, and relative to the yellow flame and smoke, suggested there might have been over one bomb on wagon, the detonation not exploding some, and the ingredients burning. They mentioned all formulas were on file in Washington; that arsenic, saltpeter, sulphur and antimony burned with yellow smoke. Further that all three powders could be purchased at any drugstore. Questioned as to any losses of stock in their plant, both admitted there were petty thefts occurring right along, that it was hard to estimate stock, owing to weather conditions. Dry weather caused more consuming of materials in manufacture. No high explosives used, the object of fireworks displays being for effect rather than for destruction.

Agent visited the United States Fireworks Co., at Randolph, Mass., and interviewed Mr. Generinno Esposito, the foreman. Three men are employed there; there were no vacations this year, and a loss of stock by theft. No information was obtained outside that ingredients of fireworks such as potash and rod arsenic gave facts showed forth a yellow smoke. Three materials were set off to illustrate in presence of Agent.

Agent visited The Randolph Fireworks Co., at Randolph, Mass., and interviewed the foreman, an Italian named Marianne. Three men are employed here, and have not left the plant, except the son of Marianne who is now employed in a shoe factory. Both men interviewed spoke very little English. No information was gathered of moment.

Agent visited the American Fireworks Co., at Randolph, Mass., and interviewed Mr. Giosiere, and brother, foreman of the plant. Seven to eight men are regularly employed. There have been no vacations this year, and no stock missing. This concern has given displays in Boston, and claim their accounting of stock is exceedingly accurate.

Agent in above visits noted the preponderance of Italian help. Questioning the postmasters and inhabitants of these towns, show that they are law-abiding; own their own homes, are married and have families. Special inquiry as to vacations showed that none of these employees have been away this year, excepting the National, where there are most 200 men employed. No suspicion was placed on men leaving for other employment. The two fires mentioned in previous report were investigated by State Explosive Expert, Wedger, and while suspicious circumstances surrounded them no convictions were made. List of employees names is being secured to check with anarchist list.
Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge J. B. Hanrahan, Agent called at the office of Walter Wedger, State Explosives Expert, and received from him the following letters from subject, together with answers from the L. E. Knott Apparatus Company of Cambridge, Mass., who turned them over to Mr. Wedger:

Dear Sir:

Please find enclosed fifty cents in stamps (50¢) for which please send me one pound of nitric acid.

Yours truly,
William Klug,
St. Aloysius Academy,
Fayetteville, Ohio.

P.S. Send the rest of the money in glycerine.

Mr. Wm. Klug,
St. Aloysious Academy,
Fayetteville, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

We duly received your letter of March 22nd enclosing 50¢ in stamps and asking us to send (1) lb. of Nitric Acid and also some Glycerine. The present price of a pound of Nitric Acid in a glass stoppered bottle is 60¢. On account of the dangerous nature of the item we have to pack it in a spe-social box filled with mineral wool. We render an additional charge of 50¢ for this case. The shipment could then be sent forward by express, but it would be a heavy case and the charges would be considerable. It would be our recommendation that you purchase a small quantity of this material from your local druggist if he is able to supply it, and in that case the total expense would be very much less.

We should also want to know if you are an Instructor at St. Aloysius Academy. We do not supply material of the nature of your order unless we know exactly where it is to be used.

We are, accordingly returning herewith your remittance and if you wish to have us send forward the Nitric Acid you will kindly send us a remittance of $1.10 and also please give us information regarding the position which you hold.

We are

Yours truly,

Dear Sir:

Would you please tell me if there is a chemical which, if exposed to the air, will take fire, and if there is if you could put them up in glass bulbs 3/4 inch in diameter and about the price for one dozen or a hundred bulbs.

Yours truly,
wm. Klub, Lab. 16.

Mr. William Klug,
St. Aloysius Academy,
Fayetteville, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of your letter of Sept. 21 asking if we could furnish glass bulbs 5/4" in diameter filled with a chemical which when exposed to air would take fire. We regret to advise that we are not in a position to supply an article of this description and do not know where they may be purchased. Regretting we are unable to serve you at this time we are,

Respectfully,

Facts Developed:

At Boston, Mass.

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge Hanrahan, Agent interviewed the following fireworks concerns in Boston that clue might be furnished to perpetrator of explosion on Wall Street, New York, on Sept. 16th.

At Master & Wells Fireworks Co., 18 Hawley Street, the manager stated he knew little of the business, but would refer Agent to their factory at Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

At American Fireworks Co., 76 Summer Street, the manager was out and Agent was informed to ask for Mr. Giosi at the factory located at Randolph, Mass.

At the National Fireworks Co., 64 Sudbury Street, Agent interviewed Mr. Flynn, accountant, but was referred to Mr. Hill or Mr. Geo. Clark, at their plant in West Hanover, Mass. He further stated that some explosives at Hanover were investigated by Mr. Wedger, the State explosive expert.

At Randolph Fireworks Co., 81 High St., Agent interviewed Mr. Nasella, one of the firm, who referred to Mr. Mariane, at their Randolph plant.

Dodge Stevens Co., 86 High St., are jobbers.
Jacobs Whitcomb Co., 92 Federal St., are jobbers.
United States Fireworks Co., 68 Devonshire St., could not be located at that address.

Dear Chief:

The circular "GO AHEAD" signed "The American Anarchists" was distributed by one S. A., ESPi, a Spaniard and a member of the "L'Era Nuova Group" of anarchists in Paterson. The information came thru our "under cover" operative who you are now in touch with personally who used to work in Paterson, Espie having told him that he, Espi, had circulated the circulars in question.

Drew is working on this and I told him to get in personal touch with you on any important developments.

My efforts to have my Russian "under cover" man sent to Detroit to develop the Anarcho-Communists and Volna situation have come to a halt on account of the state of the appropriation we we will not be able to follow this out for the want of funds unless you personally feel the matter is of such vital importance that you would care to make a special matter of it and thereby incur the expense which the Bureau does not feel it can undertake at this time. Personally, I don't feel as if I would care to recommend that this be done by you at this time.

I will continue developing at this end and if it assumes sufficient importance will again take the matter up with you.

Yours very truly,

TITLE OF CASE AND OFFENSE CHARGED OR NATURE OF MATTER UNDER INVESTIGATION:

At Warren, R.I.

Acting on instructions of Agent in Charge Callaghan, to investigate the above subject as to his connections with any radical organizations and as to his whereabouts on Sept. 16, 1920.

Agent this day proceeded to Warren, R.I. and interviewed the Postmaster with reference to subject's mail coming to Post-office box 603 in that city. He stated that box 603 was rented to a woman named VERA VITA up to about a year ago when the box was given up by this woman as he, the Postmaster, understood that she moved to Boston at that time; that PARMIELLA also had his mail come to this box during the time it was rented by this woman. Where they lived in Bristol he did not know as they do not keep anyone's address here in the Post Office when the box is rented. The last mail that came to the box for PARMIELLA the Postmaster stated was about 10 months ago - said mail coming from Italy and as PARMIELLA could not be located in Warren at that time the mail was returned to the Head Lottery Office in Washington, D. C.

Agent next called at the Warren Ny Co. and interviewed Mr. SMITH, the time clerk of this concern.

He stated that PARMIELLA was never employed by the Warren Ny. Company but the VITA woman was employed there for a time up to about a year ago and her address at that time was 17 Harris Ave. Agent called at 17 Harris Avenue but no one in this neighborhood seemed to know PARMIELLA or the VITA woman. Agent next conferred with Chief of Police WALSH and with him made several inquiries in Warren concerning PARMIELLA. Finally located an Italian grocer that knew PAPARELLA and he advised that PAPARELLA and his wife died about a year ago of influenza.

Thomas J. Callaghan,
Special Agent.
At Bristol, R. I.

On instructions of Agent In Charge Callaghan to investigate the above subject as to his whereabouts on Sept. 16, 1920 and as to his connections with any radical organizations:

Agent this day proceeded to the neighborhood of 372 Hope Street, Bristol, and made inquiries concerning subject.

As advised that subject has resided in Bristol for about 10 years and bears a very good reputation among the citizens of this town; that at one time he conducted a tailor shop at this address but had recently opened a grocery store at 237 State Street where he was located at the present time.

Agent next called at 237 State Street and interviewed Mr. Delauro. He stated that he had resided in Bristol for the past 10 years; that he previously conducted a tailor shop at 372 Hope Street and about a year ago he gave up the tailoring business and opened a grocery store at the present address; that he never subscribed to the New Era and never received this paper or any other anarchist paper while he has been in Bristol and could not understand how his name could be connected in any way with any anarchist paper; that he has not been out of Bristol for the past 3 or 4 months and in fact the only time he leaves Bristol is when he goes to Providence to order goods for his store. Subject is well known to the police in Bristol, who all speak very highly of him and are positive that he was in Bristol on Sept. 16, 1920.

AGENT W. L. Buchanan having transmitted to me instructions from Agent in Charge Blackmon, in regard to making inquiries as to whether or not any sets of "Easy" sign markers have been manufactured, handled or sold in the city of Rochester, N.Y. and he having handed me a sample of the stamps or type, I called on numerous persons, corporations and business concerns, who might be engaged in the manufacture or sale of articles of this character.

In only one place was any trace of this set of rubber stamps found. The Hackendahl Manufacturing Co., 95 State Street, Rochester, N.Y., showed me a catalog of the R. H. SMITH MANUFACTURING CO., SPRINGFIELD, MASS., which indicates that this company either makes, or deals in this kind of stamping setup as a jobber. A page from this catalog is being attached to the copy of this report which is being sent to the New York office.

TO BE CONTINUED.
Reference is made to three letters from Acting Special Agent in Charge T. X. Reddy, of New York Office, initialed "CJS-ML" and dated 10/13-14/20 in above matter.

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent Stone I proceeded to the factory of the FULTON SPECIALITY COMPANY 128 Fulton Street, Elizabethport, N.J. and interviewed Mr. E. R. UNDERWOOD president of the company.

I showed Mr. Underwood the set of rubber stamps which Agent Stone had furnished me with, said set of stamps being in a black cardboard box and did not bear the manufacturer's name or any trade-mark. Mr. Underwood examined it carefully and also made use of several catalogues. He then told me the set was "The Easy Sign Marker 50" and was manufactured by the R.H. SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY of Attleboro, Mass. Positive identification was due to the word "for" as Smith Company is the only one which uses that particular style. I ined the Smith Company's catalogue (ten years old) and noticed that set was priced $1.70.

Mr. Underwood told me that the New York Agent of the Smith Manufacturing Company was Mr. W. A. FORCE 550 Pearl Street, New York City. He phoned to Mr. Force at my request and secured some additional information about the "Easy Sign Marker". According to Mr. Force, I showed Mr. Underwood is several years old for this reason;

Sign marking outfits which contain capitals and small letters, when manufactured by the Smith Company today, contain a black ink pad, a ruler and a spacer. Outfits which have no ink pad, ruler or spacer, today have capital letters only. The Smith Company has followed this rule for several years, and as the outfit I showed Mr. Underwood has both capitals and small letters and no ink pad, etc., it was probably manufactured two or three years ago.

Mr. Underwood has manufactured rubber stamp outfits for years and is, in my opinion, qualified to give expert opinion on the subject. He is certain that the ANARCHIST PUBLISHER circulars were made with one of the Smith Company's outfits, also that it was an outfit manufactured several years ago. Both capitals and small letters were used in the circulars also the word "for" with the peculiar line from the bottom of the letter "r". Furthermore the circulars were printed with red ink and the...
Just black ink, which is the color of the ink pads furnished with the stamp sets manufactured today by the Smith Company.

Mr. Force also states that the Smith Company makes up rubber stamp sets for peddlers and suggests that the company be interviewed along that line for a "lead".

The Fulton Specialty Company has a large factory at Elizabethport and according to Mr. Underwood supplies practically all of the New Jersey stores with rubber stamp sign markers for their trade. The company's trade-mark is "Fulton" and every set they put out is so marked.

I called at a number of stores in Elizabethport and Elizabeth and found where rubber stamps sets were handled, they were of the Fulton Company's make. I mentioned this to Mr. Underwood and he informed me that I would find this true in practically all of the stores in this state.

I visited the following stores but did not find any set like the sample I carried, nor did any of the proprietors recall having sold a stamp set to any foreigners or any suspicious characters:

WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

Facts Developed:

Acting under instructions from Special Agent Emily of the New York office, Agent proceeded to investigate subjects who sent a letter to the Director. E. J. Fley dated October 15, 1932.

Agent interviewed Mr. J. J. Warner, of the Department of State Police at Watertown, N.Y. and in conversation between Warner and Agent, Agent fully believed that it was more or less of a family affair.

Agent then proceeded to interview the different subjects and questioned them as to what they knew about subject. POLISH, a Russian, one subject that worked near POLISH stated to Agent that this subject had been spreading propaganda in the way of Bolshevik, and that he fully believed that the subject, POLISH was a Bolshevik. Agent asked subject Griffin if subject, POLISH offered him any literature or did he act out of the ordinary in his opinion. Subject Griffin stated that at one time he told him that in a year from that time everybody would be alike in this country and that there would be no such a thing as a capitalist.

Agent then proceeded to Holcombsville, N.Y. and interviewed subject, POLISH, and had quite a conversation with him. He explained that his brother-in-law owed him $500 and that he went out and sold a whole lot of things about him that were not so.

Agent then interviewed two farmers living nearby the subject POLISH and inquiry of his activities and loyalty to this country, and they informed Agent that while they have known him for two years and have... never found him to do anything wrong. They informed Agent also t at during the war he purchased $150 worth of Liberty Bonds, while his reason for not being an American citizen is through ignorance.

The Honorable

The Attorney General.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of October 7, 1920 (Reference JEB), in which you state that the services of Major Charles R. Steese would be highly desirable in certain phases of the investigation into the Wall Street Bomb Explosion, I have the honor to advise you that the War Department is agreeable to granting this officer a leave of absence in order that he may assist Mr. Fairfax Faulty to conduct any technical investigations in the city of New York. However, as Major Steese is not at present under orders to proceed to New York, and as the nature of the duties required are in no way connected with his army duties, it would appear that the Department of Justice should arrange to reimburse Major Steese to cover any expenses incident to the trip to New York from Washington and return to his proper station.

Very respectfully,

P. C. Harris

The Adjutant General.
Referring to a memorandum made by Agent C. J. Scully of the New York office for Mr. Blackmon, Agent in Charge in this city, dated October 11, 1920 in which was included a copy of a letter written to subject and signed "Vera", with the return address 73 Cumberland Street, Rochester, N.Y., on the back of the envelope.

Agent proceeded to Rochester, N.Y. to this address, which is a cheap apartment house, but could find no one among the tenants answering the description of "Vera" and none of the persons now living at that address were able to recall any such party having lived there. I did learn, however, that there were two Italian girls, who roamed together there a year or so ago by the name of Nardi. One of these girls was called Rose and it is said that she is at the present time working in some restaurant in the city of Rochester. It is also reported that, at one time, she was connected with the Amalgamated Garment Workers' Union. An effort will be made later to locate this girl to see whether or not she is the one referred to.

Agent also proceeded to the Rochester Fireworks Company at 1183 Main Street, East, and inspected the cases made by this concern. They have no boxes or containers of any kind marked "Made in Rochester." They do not manufacture fire crackers but purchase them from H. Backes & Sons, Inc., Tallingford, Conn.; E. J. Hunt & Co., Weymouth, Mass., and the National Fire Works Distributors, Buffalo.
Agent also visited another place, that of the Antonelli Fireworks Company, formerly located at 14 Hand Street, and now located at 392 Lyle Avenue, Rochester N.Y. They manufacture candles and set pieces. They have nothing marked with the label "Made in Rochester."

Agent then endeavored to locate the persons whose addresses were found among the effects of GAETANO CARUSO, as follows:

J. SCALA of 225 North Street; JOE SALA of 245 Gibbs Street; JOSEPH SALA of 347 Clinton Street and JOSEPH AMATORE of 225 North Street are one and the same person whose correct name is JOSEPH SCALA AMATORE. AMATORE formerly kept a pool room and barber shop at 225 North Street and lived at one time, at 245 Gibb Street. He is married and has five children, present address 37 Lyndhurst Street. He has a pool room at 347 Clinton Avenue and is in partnership with a man by the name of TONY VINCENZ, whose name and address was also found in the effects of CARUSO. AMATORE has just been sentenced to serve one year in the Monroe County Penitentiary for receiving stolen goods. He bears a very bad reputation and his place is a hangout for persons of questionable character. Upon being interviewed AMATORE /never to have known any person by the name of GAETANO CARUSO. He stated that if CARUSO ever has been at his place, he was there under another name. He said that he would like to see a picture of the man, and could probably then identify him.

TONY VINCENZ, is now running the pool room at 347 Clinton Avenue, and AMATORE is his partner in business. He resides at 10 Martin Street. He is an ex-prize fighter, and his reputation is not any too good. He served two years in the Army.
and received an honorable discharge. He stated that he remembers CARUSO as a man about 28 or 30 years of age, who came into his pool room about two years ago and wanted to run a dice game, using "phony" dice, but he would not permit him to do so. He states that he believes him to be a crook and a bad man but has not seen him since the time mentioned above. He could give no further information regarding him.

ANTHONY SALVAGGIO whose address is given as 1 Howell Street, Rochester, N.Y. This address is an apartment house called "The Bennett" and is managed by the Garfield Insurance Company. There is no such person living there, in fact, there are no Italians in the place. The records, for two years back, were searched but no trace of any such person could be found.

LOUIS ILADI, address given 178 Hobard Street, Rochester, N.Y. An Italian family reside at this address but LOUIS ILADI is not known to have been there at any time.

LUIGI MIGLIACCO, address given 178 Hobard Street, is a married man, a barber once in the employ of JOSEPH ANAFONI at 225 North Street. He lived at the above address about two years ago, but has been away from the city of Rochester since that time.

TONY VINCENZI stated to me that when last heard of MIGLIACCO was in New York City and he believes him to be there at this time, although he does not know his address. MIGLIACCO might at one time have used the name of LOUIS ILADI.

PAUL G. MAFODANO, is a young law student employed in the office of J. Russell Ponzolici, at 6 State Street, Rochester, N.Y. He is a young man about thirty years of age and bears a good reputation. He is a runner for this law office and they handle a considerable number of the police court cases. He re-receives a salary and a commission for any business that he secures for the office. Upon being interviewed, he stated, that he has never heard of GAETANO CARUSO and could not understand how his address should have been among CARUSO's effects, unless CARUSO might have noted it down for use, in case he needed an attorney in Rochester. NAPOLITANO also searched the records of the office but could find no trace of any record of their having done any business for him.

JOE CERNATORI of 225 North Street, could not be located at this address and no such person could be found in the city.

T. CARUSO of 225 North Street, Rochester, N.Y.
This man could not be located and no one could be found who knew him. He is evidently the same person as GAETANO CARUSO, GAETANO being translated as Tony or Thomas at times.

None of the above persons, who were located, have been away from the city of Rochester, N.Y., during the past year.

In connection with the foregoing, an informant in Buffalo, who about ten years ago, during the Lawrence Textile Strike was employed as an operative for Inspector Weiss of the Boston Police Department, states that at the time of the above mentioned strike a man by the name of CARUSO, whom he believes to be GAETANO CARUSO, a member of the I.W.W. and an anarchist, together with two others, Ettore Giovannetti and the third one's name unknown, were arrested for having dynamite in their possession and for being implicated in the riots in Lawrence, Mass.

I spent several days in New York City trying to get connections with the Wall St. Explosion. On Sunday, October 10th, after the farewell meeting of WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD, held at the Rand School, New York City, a group of I.W.W. gathered at 53 Second Ave., among whom were present FRED BLOSSOM, CHARLES ROTHFISHER, WILLIAM WY, JOHN BULSAZZI, JACK LONE, R. F. LOGAN, WALTER T. NEFF, JOHN WALSH, ROY BROWN, BEN FLETCHER, JOHN HOWARD, JACK FREDRICKS, J. H. BRYER, RATHOFSKY and several others. After discussing the present I.W.W. situation, the conversation turned to the Wall St. explosion. Ben Fletcher said that the inability of the police authorities to uncover the secret of the bomb is encouraging and a few more bombs like these would perhaps tend to soften the hearts of the reactionaries to release all political and class conscientious prisoners. SNYDER interrupted saying that the reason the police are keeping the case close is because the DuPont Corporation is responsible for the outrage. FRED BLOSSOM replied that it was foolish to believe that a corporation like the DuPont could manage to cover the identity of the driver of the horse and wagon, not only from the police, but from individual reporters, who would not stop at anything. At this moment, W. T. Neff interrupted by asking what we thought about the recent appeal made by the SOCIAL REVOLUTIONISTS. This question seemed to strike some of the leaders so sudden that it took their breath away for a few minutes. They looked at each other with suspicion, the first one to recover being Blossom. He turned to Neff with a sharp look and asked if he meant the appeal of the Social Revolutionists of Russia. Neff somewhat confused answered "Yes." It seemed that Neff was intending to reveal something of interest being that his conversation came while the bomb question was being discussed. Meanwhile Blossom explained that what Neff was leading to was very interesting as the Social Revolutionists of Russia sent out an appeal to the whole civilized world protesting against the atrocities of the Bolsheviks towards the leaders of the Social Revolutionists. Notwithstanding the fact that some of the Bolshevik leaders in this country are trying to whitewash the deeds of their leaders in Russia, it has been learned that many of the prominent leaders of the S.R. were killed and a large number are in prison. I learned later from Neff that the S.R. and the anarchists combined in their work, their main object being to overthrow the regime of the Bolsheviks, and therefore they have not been threated by the Department of Justice in this country. I asked Neff at the heads of their famous fighting squad, known as the "BOY&VIANIZATIVA," otherwise known as the terrorists of the bomb squad, this he replied that they are still in existence in Russia but didn't think they were of any use in this country because at present their whole interest lies in the Russian revolution. "Then the S.R. of this country are not interested in the political and class conscientious prisoners of America?" I questioned. To this he replied that all the liberal and revolutionary organizations of this country are working for their release and still I said are being kept behind the bars. "Don't you think," I said, "that the remark made by Fletcher that a few more bombs would do wonders is true?" Yes he said there are still a few groups in this country that are active in this kind of work, but they have no connection with any labor or social organization. At this time I asked him if it was true that ALEXANDER GATZ, the main leader of the S.R. of Russia was coming to this country. He stated that this was impossible because he was kept as a prisoner in Moscow by the Bolsheviks but the work in this country is taking care of by his best friend D. SHERMAN. Here I learned that Dr. Sherman is the guiding spirit of the S. R. in this country and that he was the right hand of Gatz.

Here I must mention that Gatz was the main organizer of the terrorists groups in Russia. He is one of the most prominent leaders of the S. R. organizations. He took active part in the revolution of 1905 and kept in constant fear the Czar and many officials. He was exiled to Siberia, where he stayed until 1917 when released by the Revolution. It is said that he was responsible for the execution of the Smer. I also learned that Dr. D. Sherman, the leader of the S.R. in this country, is a personal friend of Dr. LINDSAY of Cincinnati B. A. KRESSINKIN or otherwise known as KRASINKIN, a former prominent member of the S.R. The connection of Kressinkin with L. A. C. K. MARTENS is somewhat puzzling the leaders of the COMMUNIST Party, for he is considered as one of the opposition.

Other members who are prominent and very active in the S. R. organization in this country are H. SLUTSKY, A. CHERNOV, and S. SHACHEMANSTEIN. D. Sherman is supposed to be the secretary of the S. R. organization in this country. The most active branches of the S.R. organization are in Chicago. There are several in New York City and one in Paterson, N. J. I am inclined to believe that a combination of the anarchists with the S. R. groups, financed by Martens are engaged in terrorist work. The interest that is being displayed by Martens and his associates to the election of CHRISTIAN-SCHI, probably is used as a cover to detract the attention from their real work. Concerning the "VOLNA" the Russian anarchist publication; it is being shipped in bundles from several cities to fictitious addresses in order to deceive the post office authorities. The procedure is rather an involved one. The paper might be printed in Paterson, N. J., where it is boxed and shipped by express to DETROIT, for instance. There it is reboxed and mailed to a fictitious address, and so goes into the dead mail. The post office authorities then open it and believe that it is printed in Detroit, thereby leading them astray. This procedure is followed each time the paper is printed, different points being used each time.

I would like to call attention to the Social Revolution organization. Although this is a small organization, it is a very good one and is becoming very active, conducting their work in an underground manner. The Social Revolution organization has been very active recently in foreign countries, such as France, Italy, and other countries. They are publishing a newspaper called "THE FREEDOM OF RUSSIA," (WALIA RUSSIA), which is edited by one VIKTOR ZENZINOV and LEBEDIOV at PRAGUE, Austria, both of whom escaped from the Bolshevik regime. BORIS SOKOLOF, a prominent Social Revolutionist, who is in Paris, France, at present, made an appeal to the S. R. of this country in behalf of the prisoners held by the Bolsheviks.

CHARLES ROBIT and ROSE WEISS have moved their offices to 110 West 40th St., New York City. I was told that they are taking possession of Martens' suite of offices, owing to the fact that Martens has greatly reduced his force and is, I understand, engaged in conspirative work.

I believe it would be very advisable to follow closely the activities of the small groups such as the Social Revolutionists and anarchists, it being my belief that they are responsible for most of the terrorist work now going on in this country. It will probably take some time for an informant to get in on the inside of these groups unless he is possessed of exceptional ability, as they are working very secretly, at this time.

Oct. 11-17 During the remainder of the week I covered several Socialist meetings and one I.W.W. meeting, which was held at the Hungarian home, Newark, N. J. The Hungarian branch of the I. W. W. have gained a lot of members recently. The Hungarian Singing Society have joined the I.W.W. as a unit. The Hungarians are the only active branch of the I. W. W. in Newark and vicinity. The Communist and Communist Labor Party gave an entertainment at the Metropolitan Theatre recently, under the auspices of the Women's League and Political Defense League. The activities of the Communist and Communist Labor Party are increasing. This was the first affair held since May, and it was a failure.

At Newton, Upper Falls, Mass. 2/1/63 SP 3/23/63

Pursuant to instructions from Acting Special Agent in Charge, Hanrahan, Agent visited the factory of the Masten And Wells Fireworks Company at Newton Upper Falls, Mass., and interviewed foreman Mr. Strugstad and one other employee.

The plant is small, entirely enclosed by high fence and employs about eight men, all married and residents in the vicinity except one.

In conversation Mr. Strugstad confirmed previous report that maximum powder kept was 500 lbs. and no high explosives on premises. Further being conversant with details of explosion in New York, he stated that antimony burned, would give a yellow smoke, but at plant none was used.

No vacations had been had this year and no loss of stock known.

This investigation will be continued.

Wall Street Bomb Explosion

At Indiana and Warren, Pa.

Reference is made to report of Agent C. J. Scully under date of October 11th, 1920, entitled Wall Street Bomb Explosion, and my report under date of October 15th, concerning the above entitled case.

Continuing investigation, I proceeded to Waterman, Pa., and interviewed Mr. C. J. Steinheiser, the Superintendent of the Waterman mine, where the said Frank Brancasi is employed, and ascertained the following information:

2. Resides at house No. 1525, Waterman, Pa. The boarding house in question is Peter Pass.

3. Radical activities, according to Mr. Steinheiser, are that subject Frank Brancasi has been very quiet since he been employed at the said mine. He is very smart, and is a worker.

4. Marie Novo, who is employed at the Snyder mine, has only been there since September 20th. Mr. Steinheiser a unable to state the activities of Novo, because he had not been employed long enough at the mine in question.

I next proceeded to the post office and interviewed the postmaster Mr. Uber, and obtained a letter written in Italian, postmarked - Brooklyn, N.Y., October 14th, 1920. Return address - Pietro Carillo, 36 President Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. (I refer to Agent Scully's report which states that a meeting was held at 36 President St., Brooklyn, N. Y., concerning the bomb explosion.) A copy of the translation of said letter is as follows:

"Dear friend George: I received your dear letter and I had a good time that you wrote to me. We were thinking about you because you did not write to us. We thought something happened, then we received your letter and felt glad. You state that you are in Waterman, Pa. There is nothing to be done that we can't get any house - as soon as we find we will let you know.

Here in New York we will be - 'Lazzeri we can be' in very good, that those people that has license on the Govt. took all of this time. The Govt. license to run are all complete. If you think you will be able to handle the political spirit here in New York is will be a lot of business to be done. This is lot of nothing else. Receive best regards from your ear..."

Wall Street Explosion.

Acting on information obtained from the W.A. Force Company, that a set of the "Easy #0" had been sold to Theo.H. Moss and Son, No. 74 Pearl St. on September 7th, 1920, I called at the above address and there talked with Mr. Moss Jr. who conducts a stencil and rubber stamp business. He advised me that an Agent from this Bureau had already called there and that he had given him all the information he had concerning the set which he sold and which was delivered to the Purchasing Department of the Cunard Steamship Line. I returned to the office of the Director and was there engaged on matters in connection with this investigation during the balance of the

Thomas J. Callaghan
Special Agent.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

Pursuant to instructions of Director Flynn and accompanied by Special Agent Allegra, we proceeded to Long Island City and interviewed David Breen of 190 West 7th Street, Long Island City. At this address Mr. Breen conducts a blacksmith shop.

I showed him a photostat copy of the front and hind shoe of the horse killed in the Explosion on Wall Street. I interrogated him as to the possibility of him having shod the horse. After making a very close study of the photostat copies of the shoes, stated that, he, Mr. Breen, has had thirty years experience as a blacksmith. That it was his opinion, the shoe being lighter than those used in New York, the horse had been shod in the country, by one who had very little experience in this trade.

Mr. Breen explained to me about the inside of the shoe at the toe. He stated that the bar running across the top of the shoe should have been cut off on the inside, whereas the bar was left projecting on the inside of the shoe of the horse killed in the explosion. He also called my attention to the eight holes for the insertion of the horse shoe nails explaining that each hole was as wide on the outside as on the inside whereas the holes on the outside of the shoe should not be as large as those on the inside.

It was Mr. Breen's opinion that the horse was shod in the country by a Jewish or Italian blacksmith with no American experience.
explosion occurred at 11:58 A.M., September 16, 1920, on Wall Street, taking place in front of the United States Assay Office, and opposite the building occupied by the J. P. Morgan Company.

The explosion resulted in the death of 38 persons, and in injuring more than 175 others.

About ten minutes after the explosion, all of the agents available, were dispatched to Wall Street, where they were engaged during the entire day in making search among the ruins for such evidence that might tend to determine the cause and the responsibility for said explosion.

An immediate investigation was made to determine the character of the business of those persons either killed or injured, this for the purpose of learning whether they owned or operated the horse drawn truck which had been totally destroyed, and to ascertain whether any of them was implicated in the matter. This phase of the investigation was without results.

From the investigation made by the agents of this division, it would appear that shortly before noon on September 16th, a horse drawn truck was parked in front of the U.S. Assay Office.
Office; that the horse was a dark bay mare, about 15 years old. The wagon was described as a single truck, dove colored, with red operating gear. The statements given concerning the description of the wagon conflict, as several persons interviewed stated that the wagon was covered, while others specified that the wagon destroyed was what is known as a rack truck, and that no cover was on same.

An investigation was immediately made of the known Italian Anarchists residing in this district, for the purpose of ascertaining their present whereabouts, and also as to learning the character of the business in which they are engaged. This investigation covered more than two thousand Italians, who are believed to be advocates of anarchistic doctrines, and particular attention was paid in ascertaining as to the business of these persons, and whether or not they operated wagons. This phase of the investigation is still being covered, both by the agents and the Confidential Employees.

An investigation was also made by the Confidential Employees in the various radical groups in this district, such as the Union of Russian Workers, the I.W.W., Communist, etc., and from result of the investigations to date, it would appear that none of the aforementioned organizations had any hand in the matter, and that the explosion was the work of either Italian Anarchists or Italian Terrorists.

Just prior to the explosion, there were found several anarchistic circulars, said circulars being made up with rubber stamps on plain white paper.

Forty sets of rubber stamps have been purchased from the R. H. Smith Company, Springfield, Mass., said rubber stamps being similar to those used in the preparation of the circular hereinbefore mentioned, and to date more than two thousand retail stores have been visited in this district, but no information has as yet been obtained that would tend to show the identity of the person who sold the stamps. The Boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens, are being covered, as well as Richmond. Investigation is also being made in the suburbs, where it is known Italians reside. The average number of agents employed on this end of the investigation for the past 15 days has been five. Sets of rubber stamps have been forwarded to all of the principal offices this side of Chicago, and a request has been made to have a careful investigation conducted in the respective cities and districts.

Immediately after the explosion, a thorough investigation was made of the various concerns handling explosives, in and about this district, and it has been ascertained that all wagons of the said concerns were accounted for, and statements have been secured from the officials of these concerns that tend to show that no explosives were delivered by them in or near Wall Street on September 16th.

Immediately following the explosion, agents of this office were dispatched to the Wall Street District, where they were directed to make an examination of the roofs, window sills, copings, etc., of the various buildings in the vicinity of said explosion, for the purpose of gathering together such evidence as might be found.

Stables were visited for the purpose of ascertaining whether they had any record of a missing horse and wagon, but no results were secured.

Certain metal parts found near the scene of the explosion, have been carefully examined by a prominent metallurgist, who ventured the opinion that the metal shown him was used by but two concerns in this part of the country. Both of these concerns were visited, but nothing of importance was learned.

Many chemists have ventured opinions concerning the character of the explosive used, and to date no two agree.

Many letters have been received by the Bureau, naming suspects, and in each instance investigation has been made; also a number of persons have called at the office, stating as to what they saw after the explosion, and where any definite information was furnished, an investigation was immediately made.

A number of the suspects were examined, both by this office and by the Police, though none of the suspects are of apparent interest at this time, inasmuch as they proved that they had no connection with the explosion.

Several drivers whose wagons were in the vicinity of the explosion, were located and interviewed by this office, but no information of value was secured.

IN PT: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Pursuant to instructions of Director Flynn I proceeded to Hackensack, N.J., to interview Dr. Scheele in regard to a statement published in the New York papers on Friday, October 16th, and headed Hackensack, N.J.

Dr. Scheele denied having made any statements to any newspaper man in regard to the secret experiments he had made for the Government.

I interrogated Dr. Scheele as to the names of any or all persons who had aided him in preparing his report for the Government. He gave me the names of a law firm Allschuler & White, offices 84 Main Street, Hackensack, N.J.

I called at the offices of this firm and interviewed Mr. James H. White. Mr. White informed me that so far as he knew nobody had given out any information. However, he told me that the young lady stenographer, Miss Amette Pugnetti, 41 Kansas Street, Hackensack, N.J. had recorded the report for Dr. Scheele and that he, Mr. White, had brought Dr. Scheele's report to the Commercial Printing Co., 357 Park St. Hackensack, N.J., to Mr. Hodges, to be placed in book form.

I interviewed all the above mentioned parties who denied having talked to any newspaper man or any other person about Dr. Scheele's report. I then returned to Dr. Scheele's laboratory and asked him if he could recall discussing the report with anybody. He said he could not.

I again called on Mr. White and had him call up
Mr. Smith, editor of the "Hackensack Record", in regard to an article published the previous night, in his paper.

Mr. White questioned Mr. Smith as to the truth or falsity of this article and Mr. Smith advised Mr. White that it had come in an indirect way from Dr. Scheele through a certain government official. But Mr. Smith refused to give the name to Mr. White.

After receiving this information I again visited Dr. Scheele's office and carefully interrogated him as to any friendship he had with any government official. Dr. Scheele told me that the only Government official he was friendly with was a Mr. Jacob Binder, postmaster of Hackensack.

I next proceeded to Mr. Smith's office, editor of "Hackensack Record" and asked him if it had been correctly quoted by Mr. White? He said that he had been but he would not give me the name of his informant without first getting the consent of the informant. Leaving Mr. Smith's office I proceeded to the Post Office at Hackensack. Upon my arrival there I was informed that the postmaster had gone home. I then phoned his residence and was informed by his wife that he was out playing golf. I then proceeded to the golf links and interviewed Mr. Binder, the postmaster, who gave me the following statement.

Mr. Binder informed me that he was responsible for the reports published in the different papers, but he did not realize the importance of keeping it secret until it was too late. I then inquired from him why he, a government employee, should take it upon himself to write a statement of this kind? Mr. Binder replied that he could only advance two reasons; namely that it was a big newspaper story and he being half owner of the Hackensack Record now the importance of such an article and second that Dr. Scheele was not very popular. with the other citizens of Hackensack and by publishing this report it would place Dr. Scheele in better standing in the community.

After receiving this statement from Mr. Binder, I returned to Dr. Scheele's office and presented the facts as stated above. Dr. Scheele explained to me that he had permitted Mr. Binder to read over his report to correct the English if not correct, and that he had the utmost confidence in Mr. Binder on account of Mr. Binder being a government official. Dr. Scheele stated that at one time he was in the custody of Mr. Binder being placed there by government officials and on account of that he had the utmost confidence in Mr. Binder's silence.

Hon. Wm. J. Flynn,
Director, Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
New York City.

Dear Sir,-

I am advised that mail matter was received at Stafford Springs, Conn., Oct. 16, 1930 for GILBERTO SCALEN, POX 163, postmarked PATERSON N. J. Oct. 15-11 a.m. No return address.

Please have a good description of SCALEN sent to me as soon as possible so we can figure on the right talk to work on about Stafford Springs.

Yours very truly

Run out, or in other words, develop, and give me in the form of a memorandum all blasting gelatine sales that have been made by manufacturers or jobbers for a period of a month before the Wall street explosion, viz. from August 16th to September 16th, within a radius of 100 miles of New York City.

William J. Flynn, Director,
Bureau of Investigation,
Park Row Building,
New York City.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your telegram of October 16th, 1920, referring to report of Agent Killeen for the 13th inst., relative to the checking up of concerns in this city and vicinity, engaged in the manufacture or sale of rubber stamping sets, similar to sample furnished this office.

I beg to advise that the notation "closed" at the end of this report was not intended to indicate that the efforts of this office in this matter are at an end, but rather that this particular agent had completed the check up of the concerns assigned to him, at that time.

This investigation is being conducted by several agents in this office, and reports will be submitted to you regularly.

Very truly yours,

M. F. Blackmon.
SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE.
Dear Sir:

This afternoon I had a call from an Italian representing himself to be from the William J. Burns Detective Agency. He stated that he was looking for information as to where the Anarchists met in Hartford. I told him I did not know, that whatever meetings they had were held in private houses and there was only a few of them here, one group. He immediately answered, "Yes, that is the Gallini Group and they come from Bridgeport." I said nothing more to him and after he left the office my stenographer stated that while waiting for me, I being out to lunch, he mentioned the fact that he had been to the Police Department, and they did not give him any information about the Italian Anarchists in Hartford.

The above would indicate that Burns is operating in this District in rather a crude manner looking for the GALLINI group.

I treated this Italian indifferently, because I did not care to have him report that we were in any way anxious about his movements.

Yours very truly,

[Signature]

WILLIAM P. HAZEN
Special Agent in Charge.
I would have asked to have written to you a long time ago, a very long time ago, when that is. I was impressed in a cell at the Tombs in New York, and express to you my sincere praise for your courage is publicly demonstrating that certain gentlemen Luigi Ravarino Vise Bauaro. But the censor in the Tombs would not have permitted it. For that reason I am sending you this news from Italy, written, no sooner the "Savoirfaire" handkerchief were off my wrists, with the hope that it will serve to finish the work you have so well begun and convince those who are still doubtful of the necessity to keep this evil man far from our midst.

Mr. Ravarino came to see me for the first time on the first Sunday in January 1919, but I was not at home on that day. He, therefore met several other members with whom he spent the best part of the afternoon and evening. Upon meeting Ravarino the day after, I was told of this encounter which I wished to meet him (would that I had never done so).

I met him a few days later and after the usual handshake our first conversation. Where do you come from? I asked. From so, he said, where I work in a furniture factory.

My family lives in Paterson, in the home of a comrade Galle many was lit and he opened his batteries - I have always lived out the law, but now I have decided to take an active part in the move- ment I have promised the comrades of Providence and Boston that I would make an effort towards bringing about the publication of a real tionary newspaper and thus be in a position to carry on an active of propaganda. I have been in Comite's home and he has prom- his full support, placing at my disposal addresses of the best in the United States as well as the paper was ready. I am very acquainted with Giovanni and Venanzio, who have had to agree with it was only time lost to publish a paper like "La Parola del Medico". he agreed on the necessity to transform the "Review" into a real- ing newspaper. For this purpose I let them have 86 dollars (be- me the receipt) because they were short of funds for the publica- of the coming issues. And why do you not publish the Refraterie? Are you perhaps in need of funds? If so I can aid you with- do, and he put his hand to his wallet. I answered that con- the times were having it was not opportune to carry on a thing, and that I did not at all like to leave myself at the dis- the reactionaries, because to pose as a martyr was never to my self, we parted for the night.

Two days later we met again, and after drinking a cup of coffee a walk and opened a new discussion. Are you still de- to publish the newspaper? I asked. The paper is needed we said that we discussed the other night I see that you are a comrade I can confide. Therefore, I want to disclose to you a plan of mine which is more important than the newspaper. Our friend was placing his second line letters. I can save so much of that Polish, Italian, German and Czecho-Slovak paper money as to practically invade the United States. What do you think of it? Have you perhaps the idea of speculating in exchange? I said. Exchange, Ha! replied he. Some smart couraees have succeeded in printing a whole factory of counterfeit notes and they work with such precision that I defy anyone to distinguish the good from the bad, (and he drew out a roll of bills).

I expressed my admiration and he made strong efforts to make me understand that the time had come for the anarchists of America to imitate their comrades in France. What comrades are you referring to? I asked. Bonnot, Garmier, Plini, Dual, he answered. Have I not yet told you that I was a companion of these men in some of their famous feats? Ah, then you have also been in France. Certainly, he said, and he continued for the rest of the evening to tell me romantic stories about the activity of the French revolutionists. We left late that night promising to see each other two days later. The following day I met an old friend and naturally I spoke of the mysterious stranger. The newspaper, the counterfeit money, the addresses, Bonnot, Dual, aroused the curiosity of my old friend and I said I would introduce him to the mysterious comrade.

On the night chosen for the meeting I asked Bavaria to come to the home of an old comrade so that we would have an opportunity to speak freely. He accepted enthusiastically and we spent the best part of the evening and a good part of the night in my friend's house.

During the remainder of that night, in thinking of what Bavaria had said I could not sleep at all and a vague suspicion began to enter my mind. Tired from the sleep I had lost, I had barely begun to doze when I heard repeated knocks at the door of my room. I jumped from the bed and asked who it was. My friend's voice answered and I let him in, closing the door behind him. What has happened to you, I asked, while I lit the gas. Vito, he answered, I have not been able to sleep, that person is a spy, there is no doubt of it. He has contradicted himself too many times during the discussion. But why should we fear him, I said. If he is a spy he can do no more than leave us arrested as anarchists. The following day we thought of going to Paterson, to talk to comrades Caminita and receive some information. But we met Caminita in New York, and we learned from him what we already knew, that Bavaria was a spy.

Certain then of the real character of the new Bonnot, we decided to give the alarm and to warn the comrades, while I should feign ignorance and treat with the reptile. Though feeling within me an urge which I could barely restrain, I was compelled to approach him and continue to listen to his proposals which always became more daring. He spent money lavishly. Is it, perhaps, Polish money which you are spending? I asked him one day. No, he answered, it is quite different (as our friend was right. With seven hundred thousand dollars assigned to Palmer by the legislators of the American people, our friend was certainly well supplied.) I now earn an incredible sum by being an insurance agent for the Pacific Life Insurance. And he divulged a plan for a blanket insurance of 30,000 organized workers, which plan he was able to put into execution. This would have brought him, according to mbe said, the mere mere of 50,000 dollars who supplies you with railroad tickets? I asked him on another occasion. The insurance company be answered. Do you know I have become one of the best agents?

I certainly had, for the following day I heard of the raid in Paterson. The villain was active. The blood went to my head. There was no longer any doubt. I felt assured thinking that in New York he had succeeded in getting no other address but mine.

Two days later I was awakened by loud knocks at my door.
Who is it? I asked. It was the police who answered. My turn had come.
Bavarino had turned me over to the law.

You had received no other satisfaction in New York you ugly reptile! You can thank Mangano if in Brooklyn you have succeeded in catching Elia, Salcedo and Cannone, but watch out you wretch, for many are well-nigh acquainted with you, and your turn will come.

Insult your victims if you will by sending your letters to "Il Proletario" while you have the opportunity, but do not forget that your turn will come as by your work mine has come. Wretch!

Comrades of America, while I am lending my strength and giving my blood for our cause. Here in Italy, I exhort you not to forget Luigi Eugenio Vico Bavarino.

Mangano! Ah! Those spaghetti with sauce for Bavarini, the spy, and the attacks, the calumnies, the knife thrust in the back for Trecsa. Bravo Mangano? We recall when at the meeting, on the 7th of May, of the Workers' Defense League, Tresa said: "I would very willingly and enthusiastically cooperate with you for the defense of the victims of reaction, but I must confess that I do not feel enthusiastic, I cannot feel enthusiasm for such cooperation with you, when in your midst there are men, why by their moral authority have concealed, assisted, an agent of the Dept. of Justice: Eugenio Vico Bavarino."

Mangano? Ah! we recall that night when someone said: "Cut with the names," and Tresa said: I mean Giuseppe Mangano who has on more than one occasion entertained Bavarini in his home, from whom he has even accepted financial aid for the "Proletario". I speak of Mangano who tel-graphed the "Proletario" advising the publication of Bavarini's well known letter."

Ah! We remember well. And Mangano even then tried to defend his friend. He with whom he ate spaghetti with sauce, from whom he received money for the "Proletario".

And we are not the only ones to remember, but all those who were present as well. Mangano has shifted all the blame of the publication of Bavarini's letter to Pranzl, while he should have said frankly:
"I am a friend of the spy, I alone have eaten spaghetti in sauce with him."

Accomplices of spies, hold your tongue once for all.
Let Martello continue your noble mission unafraid for brave comrades support you and will be always near you in time of danger.

(to)

VITO MARIANI
Morra Trpino, Provincia di Avellino, Italy.

The comrades and friends interested please take note of my address.

Mangano of whom Mariani speaks is that C. Mangano "generalissimo" of the I.W.W. of Brooklyn, he who invited Mr. Bavarini, the spy, to eat spaghetti at his house, even when the alarm was given to all the comrades. And it is that Mangano who shared the table with Bavarini and who personally took the responsibility to publish in the "Proletario" the responsibility of the spy against comrade Tresse.

Mangano, that Mangano who telegraphed Presi: Publish.

And this is the word of one of Bavarino's victims. We have the opportunity now to say a few more things on the subject.

Everyone well-nigh knows that when we, certainly with some personal risk, followed this figure to investigate, to find him out, bring him to the light, something happened to shake and offend the conscience of the honest and conscionous radicals of New York, who followed our movements with anxiety and who were aware of what we were doing. The publication of a letter by Bavarino in the "Proletario", a letter injurious to Carlo Tresse.

When finally the editor of "Il Martello" unmasked Bavarino the spy, especially the comrades of New York expected to hear from the "Proletario" some honest word warning its readers of the error, of the danger which was present for all with the presence of Bavarino in the Italian radical movement in America.

But the "Proletario" kept silent, covering itself with shame.

And we also kept silent. But the "Proletario" to whom we could have said that by its silence it was masking itself, an accomplice of Bavarino has published, instead, articles by Baldassari, in which Tresse is accused of dealing with spies. Baldassari at Detroit, Mich. and at Hershey, Pa., unknowingly repeats a foolish accusation: Tresse is a spy. When he knows that Tresse exposes the spies as he has done with Bavarini, and he takes provoking agents by the throat as he is doing at present with Blossom, ex-secretary of the Paterson I. W. W. local.

And while we are on the subject we wish to make another contribution to the biography of this spy, who found complacent hospital-

Eugenio Vico Bavarino was born at Saluzzo 42 years or so of peasants. He studied at the College of Silvio Pellico at Salusso. He went to Milan where he became a sculptor. He left this profession to become a carabineer in Northern Italy, at Domodossola. He re-enlisted after three years. When he was discharged he went to France and to Germany. He came to America nine years or so ago and took a wife at Jeannette, Pa., where his parents now reside and against whom I hold the blame for his being a sly knave and a swindler.

And to think that the "palestrino" has not found one word of rage against this ex-carabineer of the king, against this agent of the secret police, while it finds many violent words every week to knife Tresse.

Shame.

CARLO TRESSE has been among us in these mining a mob of miners follows him, admires him, spurs him on, and with him in the tenuous struggle he is fighting against all exploiters.

He has given very successful lectures at New Derry, Alamon, Centre, Ernest, Iselin, in these Pennsylvania fields. Sunday was a strenuous day. He travelled through the valley in an automobile and Tresse always valiant, spoke at Iselin, in the morning, on the subject from "Slavery to Liberty", in the afternoon at Ernest, on "Capital and Labor" during which he reached to the bleeding point, those spies that were present and then, late at night, after a long and tiresome journey, he again spoke at New Derry on the "Italian Situation".

Very good lungs said Tresse. Five hours of essay hours of essay travelling through the tortuous roads of the valley, you tired? I asked him at the end of the day. And he answered, the miners one becomes a youth.

Tresse is anxiously expected to come here again.

Do you recall with what violence and fury the "Proletario" launched itself against that scamp Valenti, accusing him of he because he published the name of Caminita in a seditious column the latter?

Well, now we see Valdazzi. He publishes not only the first and second name of Nitro Ciavolo, but adds and repeats, archivist Ciavolo, when he knows that if doing so he is performing a malevolent act of information.

Ravarrino's informers and accomplices. He is an insect. Centrally. Let us pity him: he all realize it. But Caminita, ex-warrior and judge once a now manager of the "Proletario"; this Caminita, philosopher does he not know that in this way he is allowing the infidels fall deep down into the and where are to be found the informers, informers, including those who wear the sacred cloak of the revolutionary.

Informers and accomplices of spies. Move on forward!

Continuing above captioned matter, Agent, acting under instructions of Special Agent in Charge J. B. Hanrahan, covered the North End (Italian Section) of Boston, for the purpose of locating, if possible, any retail stores selling rubber type corresponding with sample set carried by Agent.

At the Dimond Union Stamp Works, large retail dealers in rubber, metal and printing stamps, located at 175 Washington St., Boston, Agent conferred with Salesman J. H. MOLLINEAUX, who examined box of type carried by Agent, and from stock carried by this company it was found that this type corresponds exactly with that manufactured by the ECONOMY SIGN MARKER, made by R. H. Smith Manufacturing Co., Springfield, Mass. Every letter is identical with that of sample, in regard to wood, rubber and size, and any printing done by the 1/2 inch ECONOMY MARKER shown Agent, would correspond exactly with sample of type in agent's possession.

MR. MOLLINEAUX informs Agent that he distinctly rememb sale of a box of ECONOMY SIGN MARKER, 1/2 inch size, capitals or letters, to two foreigners, during the latter part of July or the part of August; he distinctly remembers that one of these men was "bout 5' 8" in height, thin, dark, pointed face, very pale with no color; wore a felt hat, either dark brown or black, and the top coat of dark material age apparently between 32 and 38 years (this description tallies somewhat with that of ALTERNO HELIQUA, associated with "LA NOTIZIA", 34 Battery Street, Boston, previously reported on) The second fellow is described by MR. MOLINEAUX as being smaller, possibly 5' 4" in height, wore a dark black derby and was apparently about the same age as the former mentioned; heavy set, dark complexion and not so well dressed as the tall fellow. The tall fellow did the talking and made the purchase.

MR. MOLINEAUX believes that they were either Armenians, Serians or Italians, possibly Russians, but is positive however that they were not Jews.

The proprietor of the DIAMOND UNION STAMP WORKS, Mr. Benjamin Levy, appeared quite interested, and informed Agent that MR. MOLINEAUX was reliable.

Agent asked MR. MOLINEAUX to take his time and try to picture in his mind every detail regarding description of both parties and to try and recall every incident, no matter how small, connected with the sale, and that Agent would call upon him in the morning for any more definite description or details on this matter which he might be able to recall.

MR. MOLINEAUX stated that while he is not positive that he could identify the tall fellow, he is very positive he could identify the smaller one.

A further report will be submitted.

Sir:

Enclosed please find chart compendium of twenty-one statements of eye witnesses, Wall St. explosion. A number of other statements have been eliminated as being of no particular value in arriving at some consensus of opinion, based on actual observation, as to description of horse and wagon.

Out of the twenty-one statements, eleven fix the location of the wagon in front of or near to the U.S. Assay Office. Also, one observer says: "approaching the Assay Office." Also, one gives the location "in front of the Sub Treasury".

Out of the remaining seven statements, which give other locations than the vicinity of the Assay Office or the Sub Treasury, four locate a wagon in front of the Morgan offices, on Wall St. With one exception, however, the time of observations is not so close to noon as the observations on the wagon seen in front of the Assay Office. The exception fixes the time when he saw the wagon as "120' clock", but he was drunk when the statement was taken.

The clearest and most detailed statements are found among those which locate horse and wagon in front (approximately) of the Assay Office. Considered as to credibility, they come in about the following order: Arnold Wood (), Madame Coutzier (), Thomas J. Smith(), Frank L. Hughes(0), Chas. W. Dyer (), William A. Bell(), Angelo Falsetta *.
The Wood and Couttsier statements agree that the wagon did not have a top, and practically agree on other points. The Smith and Hughes statements do not cover the point as to top, but do not contradict the first two, which are very positive throughout. The Dyer statement asserts that the wagon was "covered"; top, and seat in front.

From an analysis of all the statements and the above mentioned in particular, a reasonable conclusion would seem to be:

Wagon: Dilapidated old wagon, with box sides, probably about one foot in height. No top. Dark or dirty grey body, or with paint worn off. Dark red wheels.

Horse: Aged. Thin and in poor condition generally. Front knees badly sprung. Dark bay. Probably clipped within few months. (See Dyer and Smith agreement on this point.)

Location: In front of Assay Office or about in front of alley between Assay Office and Sub Treasury.

Driver: There does not appear to be sufficient information to come to any conclusion on drivers description. In any case, he was not observed just before the explosion occurred.

Respectfully,

G.C. Holdridge,
Agent in Charge.

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT
Memorandum for Director W.J. Flynn.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Arrived at the office at 9 A.M. and later went to the office of the Arundel Corporation, 156 Nassau St., was there advised that Mr. Moore (Supt.) was confined to his home 711 St. Mark's Ave. Brooklyn, N.Y.

I then went to the office of the N.J. Ship Building & Dredging Co., 50 Broad St. and was there informed that Mr. Pullen (Supt.) was at their plant at Bayonne, N.J. and would not return until next morning.

I next went to the office of G.H. Breyman & Bue 17 Battery Pl. and was there informed that they use only straight dynamite.

I next went to 711 St. Mark's Ave. Brooklyn and there interviewed Mr. Moore of the Arundel Corporation. He stated that on hearing the Wall St. explosion he had his stock of Gelatine checked and there were 30 cases in the magazine, each containing 50 pounds which would be 1000 pounds, the amount of his U.S. Government permit.

He stated that there are two gelatine sticks in a case each of which weighs 25 pounds and measures five by twenty five inches.

I returned to the office at 4.30 P.M. and at 5.30 discontinued for the day.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

Pursuant to instructions from Agent Charles Scully, proceeded to interview one A. J. CAIOPULO\S at 55 Carlisle Street, New York City who conducts a steamship ticket agency and obtain all information regarding subject, who, it is reported, had sailed on S. S. "BELVEDERE" for Italy on Sept. 18, 1920.

From CAIOPULOS records I ascertained the following:

That on September 3, 1920 one Mr. William Trayna purchased three (3) second class tickets, numbered 81731, paying $180.00 for each, totalling $540.00 to PALERMO, ITALY, on the S. S. "BELVEDERE" which sailed on September 18, 1920, and secured room 548-ABE. Tickets were made out to one MRS. CARMINA M. TRAYNA (mother), MRS. GIOVANNA DI GRIGORIO (daughter) and MRS. MARIA DI GRIGORIO (daughter); ages - fifty-two, twenty-eight and twenty-six respectively.

MR. CAIOPULOS further states he does not know the addresses of the above three women, but does know that Mr. WILLIAM TRAYNA is the uncle of both daughters mentioned above and that he (TRAYNA) conducts a business known as the "UNIQUE NOVELTY WORKS" located at 30 East 23rd St., New York City. He also states that the father of the MRS. GIOVANNA and MARIA DI GRIGORIO died nine years ago in Italy and that the above three women arrived in the United States from Palermo, Italy in the year 1916. It is also ascertained th
(IN RE: GIOVAINIA D'GRIGORIO & FAMILY)  T. J. Crystal

A separate passport was issued each woman when applying for same, by the Italian Consul's office and from the Custom House Inspector - one permit was furnished for all three.

At Buffalo, N.Y.: w 9/8/1920 - 5 -

Acting under instructions from Agent in Charge Blackmon, to make inquiries and investigations relative to the concerns in this city, if any, engaged in the manufacture of fire works, I find, after careful investigation, that there are no concerns in the city engaged in such manufacture.

In a conversation with Detective Connolly of the local Police Department, however, I learned that there is an Italian by the name of PETRICK PAPASONE living at 189 Ellicott Street, this city, who makes practically all of the fireworks used by the Italians in this city in their religious and other public celebrations. He is commonly known among the Italians here as "Patsy, the boom maker".

Detective Connolly stated that PAPASONE bears a good reputation in this city and has never been in any kind of trouble nor has he ever been known to associate with radicals of any kind. He stated that on account of his ability to manufacture bombs, etc., he (Connolly) has often tried, in making investigations in black hand cases, to connect PAPASONE with persons known to be of questionable character but states that he has never been able to establish even suspicion against him.

I also made further personal inquiries regarding this man and find that he is respected and very well liked in the vicinity of his home. Also I made inquiries as to his recent movements, but have been unable to learn that he has been out of However close watch will be kept of this man and further report will be made, if anything of importance develops.

Memorandum for Director W. J. Flynn.

Left Washington, D.C. at 12:20 A.M., arrived at New York at 3:30 A.M. and came to your office, got permission to get located; rented room at 463 W. 23rd St., returned to the office and was assigned to the investigation of the Wall St. explosion, viz: to ascertain the recent sales of blasting gelatine from manufacturers and jobbers prior to Sept. 16, 29.
Continuing this investigation I visited the following jobbers and stores at Newark, N.J. and found that with one exception the stamp acts manufactured by the Fulton Specialty Company, of Elizabethport, N.J. are sold in the stores of this city:

Jobbers.

- Henry Friedman 78 Arlington Street
  Sell "Fultons".
- Carl Kneip 3 South Orange Ave.
- Newark Novelty Co. 272 New Street
  " None"
- Newark Motion Co. 30 S. Orange Ave.
  " None"
- National Sales Co. 150 Court Street
- Insdorf Bros. 59 Bank Street

Retail Dealers.

- Demboberger's Store Market Street
  " Baumgarten's"
- Behnes Dept. Store 609 Broad Street
- Grover Bros. 764 Broad Street
- Baker Printing Co. 261 Market Street
- Ed. A. Plates 221 Market Street
- R. R. Brandt 237 Market Street
- Universal Stamp Works 262 Market Street

At the Universal Stamp Works I was told that they used to handle the "Easy Sign Marker" manufactured by the Smith Company of Springfield, Mass., but had not had any in stock for at least two years. They could not recall to whom they sold the last one, but estimated that it was about two years ago.

The six "jobbers" mentioned above supply practically all of the stores in Newark and vicinity with the "Fulton" stamp acts, although some are supplied by Schrarnz & Bieker, of Jersey City, N.J. who also handle the "Fulton" make. The retail dealers mentioned above are the largest in Newark and it is noted that with the exception of Demboberger's Department Store, which handles the Baumgarten Company's make, of Baltimore, Md., all sell "Fultons".

I also visited the stationary store of E. Higlels, at 149 Springfield Avenues, Newark, who I recalled sold a number of books to the Communists prior to the raids last January, his name having been found on the covers of some of the books. He had a few stamps of the Fulton make and said that was the only kind he had sold for several years; also that he never had any of the Smith make and did not recall selling any stamp sets recently to any foreigners. His store is the only one in the neighborhood which sells rubber stamp prining sets.

I am told that the following firms in New York City are large jobbers in rubber stamp printing sets and supply some of the New Jersey stores:

- R. A. Stewart Co. 201 Broadway.
- Geo. W. Travers Co. 146 Chambers Street.
- Pulvermacher Bros. 176 Park Row.
- Frank Levy 435 Broadway.

Unless further instructed by Agent Stone I will consider this investigation CONCLUDED.
At Buffalo, Dunkirk, Tonawanda and Lackawanna, N.Y.

Careful investigation and inquiry has been made of places in the above named cities, which might be engaged in the manufacture of or in handling type or stamping sets, similar to sample furnished me, but in no case was type similar to this found to be manufactured or sold.

In only one place, that of the Monroe Drug Company of Dunkirk, N.Y., was similar type found and that was a set furnished to this company by their by the Easy & Economy Sign Makers, of Springfield, Mass. However, the set has been in the possession of this company for several years.

HANRAHAN
Arrived at the office at 9 A.M. and about 10 A.M. Left in auto.

with chauffeur Gernsick.

I visited the Underground Specialties Co. at 1476 Broadway and the Chestnut Ridge Corporation at 7 West 45th Street. I was informed by both companies that they have not used gelatine in their blasting operations for some time or since last Fall.

I next went to the office of the N.J. Shipbuilding and Dredging Co. 50 Broad St. there saw Capt. C. Fullen who told me that his Co. has a permit from the U.S. Government to carry 1000 pounds of gelatine explosives, that they use about 300 or 400 pounds per day and an equal amount is furnished each day so that the supply in their magazine would average 1000 pounds on the beginning of each day.

Mr. Fullen told me that the magazine is on board the drill boat and Captain A. Hickmon has charge of it. Upon the holes are drilled the magazine is opened by Hickman in the presence of the Government Inspector, the amount of explosives required is taken out and put in tin cases which are sealed, lowered into the drilled holes and so on.

He offered to give me a report showing receipts and amount of explosives used from the 1st of January '20 to date, also the amount on hand which can be checked. From what he told me I should judge he has a good system of checking and there is little chance of explosives being stolen. I will get this report on next Monday or Tuesday.

I next went to the office of the Actna Dynamite Co. 165 Broadway and will get a report by next Monday of all explosive sales covering a Investigation of Wall St. explosion.

MEMORANDUM FOR DIRECTOR W.J. MULLEN.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Covering a radius of 100 miles from New York City.

I then went to the office of the Grasselli Powder Co., 347 Madison Ave., and was informed that they do not manufacture any gelatine, that they have their plants at Imperium and New Castle, Pa., at which they manufacture powder and straight dynamite but no gelatine, and all information can be obtained from their Cleveland office.

I then went to 711 St. Marks Ave., Brooklyn, the home of Mr. Moore, Supplied the Arundel Co., and was informed by him that they are in the blasting business since last August and used no gelatine prior to that time. He promised to give me a statement showing the receipts and the amount of explosives used since that time to date, also balance of explosives on hand which can be checked up through the Dupont Co. and the Government Inspector's book, also if necessary the company's books will be produced.

At 5 P.M. I discontinued.

Arrived at the office at 9 A.M. and later went to the office of the Arundel Corporation, 156 Nassau St., was there advised that Mr. Moore (Supt.) was confined to his home 711 St. Mark's Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

I then went to the office of the N.J. Ship Building & Dredging Co., 60 Broad St., and was there informed that Mr. Fallen (Supt.) was at their plant at Bayonne, N.J., and would not return until next morning.

I next went to the office of C.H. Breyman & Sons, 17 Battery Pl., and was there informed that they use only straight Dynamite.

Memorandum for Director W.J. Flynn.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Arrived at the office at 9 A.M., saw you and then went to the plant of the Arundel Corporation which is located at the foot of Broadway, Brooklyn. I there interviewed Mr. Brown who told me that he is the only man who has access to the magazine of the Arundel Corporation where 80 per cent gelatine is kept, that he alone holds the key, and that every pound of explosive which enters or is taken out of the magazine is handled by him; also that he alone does all the blasting for the company, and when required, he is notified, taken in a motor boat to the magazine, extracts the amount of explosive required, and is then taken to the part of the river where holes have been drilled, inserts the explosive and sets off the blast. He also stated that he resides in Long Island and the motor boat sometimes calls for him there.

By this one man system an opportunity is afforded to take explosives unnoticed and manipulate the books so that they may not show irregularities, however further investigation may show this.

I then visited the offices of the Hypont and Hercules companies and will get their gelatine sales within 100 miles of New York within a few days.

The Atlas Co. stated they had already given the above to our Dept.

I returned to the office at 4:45 P.M. and at 5:30 P.M. discontinued.
Edmund S. Hunt & Son, Weymouth- it is reported that the senior is dead, the son not doing any business. Their specialty was firecrackers, a composition of potash and powder.

The above comprise all fireworks concerns in Boston.

In interviews the details of explosions were apparently known and mention was made that the ingredients which might cause a yellow smoke was composed of sulphur (commercial in 300 lb barrels) and chlorate of potash (commercial in 112 lb. kegs.) which are purchasable anywhere.

Dear Sir:

This office is continuing in its attempt to have Rollineaux, referred to in Agent Hill's report of October 16th, identify Feliciani as the person who purchased the set of rubber markers from him. Although Feliciani is still in Boston he has changed his habits so that to date it has not been possible to have Rollineaux get a look at him. Another attempt at this is being made today.

A woman who formerly clerked with Rollineaux distinctly remembers the sale referred to in Agent Hill's report. She states that she was frightened by the appearance of the two men and requested Rollineaux to wait on them.

There is considerable doubt now as to whether or not Feliciani was one of the purchasers as he is over six feet in height and the taller of the two customers was around 5'6". Rollineaux is positive he would recognize the smaller of the two and it is thought that if you could loan us the book in your office containing photographs of well known anarchists he might be able to pick one of them out.

Search warrant is being obtained for Feliciani's mail and it might be advisable to secure search warrant for mail going to Mrs. Galleoni. The difficulty in the Galleoni case is in obtaining anyone in Wrentham who can translate the letters received by Mrs. Galleoni from Italy. It appears that it would be necessary to station someone who reads Italian in Wrentham to carry out this work.

Will you kindly call this to the attention of Director Flynn.

Yours very truly,

Mr. P. C. Ahern, a representative of Mr.
W. J. Flynn, Director of the Department of Justice, has called at my office and asked if the Members of the Institute could aid the Department in securing data regarding recent sales and thefts of Blasting Gelatin. This information is desired in connection with the investigation now being made of the Wall Street Explosion.

Mr. Ahern has asked me to secure if possible, a record of all sales of Blasting Gelatin which have been made by our Members during the last three months and six months if possible. If this information can be given in detail, as to the name of purchaser, location of delivery, quantity involved in the transaction, the Department will be grateful. The Department also desires to learn if there is any method of tracing thefts of this explosive for the same period.

In view of the foregoing, I have told
Mr. Ahern that I would address this letter to all the Members of the INSTITUTE and would give him the result of the replies as soon as they are received. If you do not handle Blasting Gelatin, advice to that effect will make a complete record for Mr. Ahern.

Any information that can be furnished at your early convenience, will be appreciated.

Cari compagni

C'è accluso vi spedisco il V. Rendiconto dell'attività amministrativa della Lega Italiana di Difesa, pubblicato sul nostro organo ufficiale IL PROLETARIO, comprendente le somme collettate nel corso del mio recente giro di propaganda nella Pennsylvania e nell'Ohio. Nel mentre ringrazio i compagni tutti che con affetto e con sacrifici di tempo e di denaro contribuirono al successo di quella iniziativa di propaganda, vi avverto che dalla data di chiusura di questo rendiconto, cioè dal 18 Settembre u. s. ho cessato di mia spontanea iniziativa di percepire lo stipendio come Segretario della Lega, per ragioni di economia amministrativa, pur disimpregando i lavori d'ufficio nei ritagli di tempo consentitimi dalle mie altre occupazioni.

Il giornale "Il Martello" è stato escluso dall'organizzazione dell'orto di Carlo Tresca, l'ignobile Rabagas, sulla cui vera coscienza pesa il tradimento ai danni degli eroici processati di Duluth, e la fuga vergognosa nell'occasione del processo dell'I. W. W. di Chicago, persevera tuttora nel suo tentativo di discreditare l'opera amministrativa e la propaganda dei compagni italiani dell'I. W. W. di New York in difesa dei prigionieri.

Quando per la prima volta apparve sul "Martello" l'accusa balorda dell'irregolarità della mia opera amministrativa, per ragioni di delicatessa ritenni di non prendere la parola in mia difesa, affidando ai compagni di affidare ad una commissione imparziale il compito della revisione dei conti. Furono nominati revisori i compagni Cannata e De Ciampis, e il loro rapporto che sfata la menzogna del gruppo troschiano, è stato riconfermato dal recente Convegno dei compagni di Boston. Ma è venuto anche per me il momento di parlare: l'errore di accaduto riscontrato dai Revisori nel II Rendiconto della Lega fu commesso da EMILIO VASCONI, che a quel tempo fungeva da Tesoriere della Lega, e io assolutamente decline ogni responsabilità al riguardo. Egli fu in possesso della copia originale di quel Rendiconto che io gli lasciai la scorsa del primo maggio, poche ore prima della mia partenza per il giro di propaganda nel Massachusetts. Quell'originale fu modificato e manipolato alla sua maniera prima di passarlo allo stenografo, e il lavoro di pubblicazione fu effettuato fuori del mio controllo, trovandomi in quel periodo di tempo fuori di New York. Poiché non è questione di ammanco di cassa, ma semplicemente di un errore di somma, i Signori del Sedicente Comitato Pro Vittime politiche, possono dunque rivolgere l'accusa di inerzia eca al loro compa Emilio Vassoni, che commise quello errore di somma, insieme a tante altre più deplorevoli azioni d'ingerenza politica.
Nei ranghi del Comitato Treschiano si annovera un certo Crivello, che Gallo, colonne del Martello sta cruttando contro gli uomini dell'I. W. W. la sua bava venenosa. Veramente egli è una di quello insignificanti nullità le cui insi suazioni non riescono a produrre nella considerazione mia più effetto che il ragh di un asino. Io non ho mai voluto prendere nota di questo soggetto, ma a quanto mi riferiscono quelli che lo conoscono bene, si tratta di uno spostato in cerca di reclamo, sedicente anarchico, che ha perduto il proprio onore e la fiducia del pubblico prostituendosi per i 30 denari settimanali al servizio di una unione gialla. Le cruttazioni di questo farabutto dallo colmo dell'organotto tresschiano saranno accolte dai compagni col sogghi-ghio di sprezzo con cui i fiori militi dell'I. W. W. sanno ripaga-re il tradimento di un miserabile mercenario, degno all'atto dei Polignani e dei Flynn.

Esprimo da queste pagine la mia protesta e la protesta della Loga contro le violenze commesse a Galatin, Pa., sulla persona del compagno Migra da un gruppo di incoscienti che pretendono chiamarsi anarchici.

La pubblicazione della lettera di Migra che suscita la protesta degli anarchici e un' altra azione ignominiosa la cui ressponsabilità risale ai dirigenti del Comitato Treschiano, con speciale riferimento a Emilio Vasconi. Pur non condividendo gli approfondimenti del comp. Migra sul conto degli anarchici e della loro posizione in seno all'agitazione pro prigionieri politici, espressi in quella lettera incriminata, io mi ritengo in dovere d'inviarlo quello scritto a Emilio Vasconi, allora Tesoriere della Loga, perché allarmato del pericolo della scissione che anda il Treschiano, desideravo che Vasconi si rendesse meglio conto della situazione e volgesse l'opera sua a comporre la ver-tenza fra il Migra e i dissidenti per via di buoni consigli e di ragionevoli, reciproche concessioni. Emilio Vasconi, avendo mano alla fiducia e all'amicizia in lui riposto, e violando le obbli-gazioni dell'onore e della più elemosario corrottezza, consegue quella lettera al Quintiliano perche questi se ne servisse ai sui scopi di diffamazione contro gli uomini dell'I. W. W.

Compagni!

Dopo questo doveroso dichiarazioni non intendo per tempo a polemizzare con avversari locali ed indegnissimi opera denigratrice e sfruttatrice a danno delle povertà politiche e biasimata da tutti gli onesti. La Loga Difesa continua' più alacre che mai, in mezzo cooperazione dei buoni, nella sua opera di con-naria e di agitazione. Crede a sempre,

(2nd M.V.) I don't know what about.
(M.V.) Mike is over working today. A certain tenant wanted to take off $5.00 for glass.
(2nd M.V.) Got any more trouble there?
(M.V.) No.
(2nd M.V.) Say, you had better file income tax blanks. Even thought you don't make over $5,000 a year, you had better file blanks. You don't have to pay anything.
(2nd M.V.) Yes, we had the houses for seven or eight years but never had them on record, but now it doesn't pay to take chances.

(M.V.) You had better get those blanks and file them.

(2nd M.V.) Yes, I will do that.
The papers "Umanita Nova" are still unclaimed at the post-office. A Joseph Russo is located at 442 North Clinton Street, who is 24 years of age, and employed by the Rochester Gas Company in the Collection Department. He has a good reputation, however, and is not considered the man. At 433 North Clinton Street is a vacant store which was operated a short time ago by Antonio Russo, a brother. This was a sort of progressive library for Italian literature, and the apartments above the store are now occupied by Italians. Inquiries among them elicited the information that two young men named RUSSO formerly operated the store below and lived together in a room in the rear of the store. They gave it up, however, about six weeks or two months ago and stated they were going to Italy. Nothing further could be learned as to their present whereabouts.

Another JOSEPH RUSSO was located at 231 Lyell Avenue. He conducts a barber shop at this address. He is a young man, married, and resides over the store. He has been here about six years, and is not believed to be the man wanted. In conversation with him, he stated that sometime ago some letters from Bridgeport, Ct. were offered to him by the mail carrier, but refused as they were not for him.

SAM WILSON - RALPH GERVERS.

I entered the office with the pretext that I had received a letter from a friend of mine in San Antonio, requesting me to inquire if this "ASSOCIATION" did any charitable work for war veterans outside of the city. I was informed by a middle aged man that his company formerly did this kind of work, but that now their business was to supply entertainments. The office which has only a desk and a few chairs is evidently only a booking office which adopted the name of Entertainment "The War Hospital Association" as a drawing business. The walls of the office bear the portrait of theatrical people.

Memorandum for Mr. Burns:

The following wireless message was received from Moscow, dated January 10, 1922, issued by the Soviet government relating to William Linde:

"In the 'Izvestia' Steklov, after demonstrating the improbability of Lindenfeld's declarations on the basis of which the Soviet Government are accused of being accomplices in the Wall Street outrage at New York, deduces from this that the incident is a manoeuvre to delay the recognition of Soviet Russia. The Bourgeoisie can level a thousand reproaches at the Bolsheviks but not that of being accomplices in individual terrorism, which is opposed entirely to their doctrines and tendencies. If Lindenfeld took part in outrages, it was not as a Communist, but as an 'agent provocateur' in the service of Burns' Detective Agency."

Respectfully,
March 3, 1922

Mr. W. L. Hurley,
State Department,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. Hurley:

I am enclosing herewith a letter for Mr. Leo J. Kenna, American Consulate General at Warsaw, Poland.

Mr. 14 1923 31

AMERICAN CONSULATE
Vienna, Austria.

January 24, 1922.

Sir:

A Polish citizen who recently returned from the United States and who does not wish his name mentioned at present called at this Consulate yesterday and stated that Mr. Cosgrove, a special agent of the Department of Justice is now in Warsaw for the purpose of causing the arrest of one William Linde alias Wolf Lindenfeld. The man in question, whose address is on file at this Consulate, claims that he could give valuable information to Mr. Cosgrove concerning Linde and has handed me a statement a copy of which is enclosed— to prove that he is well acquainted with Linde's movements for some years past.

While I have no means of knowing whether this man information which would be of value to Mr. Cosgrove I of course feel that nothing should be left undone to further the cause of justice and I therefore send you the copy of his statement with the request that you hand it to Mr. Cosgrove for his pursual.

If it should turn out that Mr. Cosgrove is interested in this man his Vienna address can be had at this Consulate. He claims that he would gladly assist Mr. Cosgrove without pay.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) Robert W. Heingartner,
American Consul on Detail
Vienna, January 19, 1922.

I know Wolf Lindenfeld recte William Linde since 1914. His radical activities are reaching back as far as 1915, he was working under direct orders of Louis W. Hammerling arranging wild strikes in ammuniton factories (Port Amboy-Wilmington).

May 1916 he tried to organize the polish working people in a special Federation (and separate trade unions) he did not succeed, because his opponents have proved, that all his work was a plain money making proposition for his own pocket. He denounced all his followers to the trade unions, and many good and loyal polish workers have lost their jobs.

His main business was to make trouble in small factories far away from the city and the labor centre. He was always showing badges and papers as a delegate of the U.S. Federation of Labor and to his friends the badge of Burns-Detective-Agency.

1917-1918 he started a polish paper "Trybuna" (2nd Ave bet. 12-13th Str. W.Y.) and tried to assembly and influence the socialistic polish workers. He had his own motor car, was motoring all over the Eastern States agitating against the Federation of Labor and special in Lituanian-Polish cercles.

Being a jew he had a very hard standpoint to get confidence from the Polish-lithuanian commists, for the same reason he was compelled to support a few poor polish actors, and jobless realestate agents in order to get in touch with the organized radicals.

1919. He was arranging in the suburbs of W.Y. and in the Eastern States States open radical meetings. He had no job, but always plenty money. At this time he started a campaign against the Polish government among the Poles in U.S. basis Soviet System. The Polish Lithuanian radicals in the States can always be misled by such men like Linde, who is able to introduce himself as an officer of the U.S. Federation of Labor, and to induce a poor degenerated fellow to commit crime.

My theory is that William Linde was mixed up in every political terrorist crime in the Eastern States since 1919. I am sure, that I will be able to cheque all crimes of W.L. since 1915.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Was engaged on the above matter today from 5:30 P.M. until 10:30 P.M.; during which time no information was secured.
March 7th. Continuing on the above investigation, Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9.50 A.M. At 10 A.M. subject entered. He came out at 12.45 P.M. walked to and entered Gross Restaurant, Fulton Street, near Broadway, and had lunch. He came out at 1.35 P.M. accompanied by two men whom he has met on previous occasions at Gross' Restaurant. They walked to and entered Equitable Trust Company, 222 Broadway, came out in a few minutes and separated, subject walking to and entering his office.

At 3.45 P.M. he came out, walked to Cunard Steamship Company, 25 Broadway, made reservation for Charles Kuntz on SS. Mauretania which sails April 4, 1922, and was assigned Room D 67. He then walked to William and Wall Streets, boarded northbound train, alighted at Times Square, walked to and entered Corona Typewriter Store, 129 West 42d Street, paid deposit on typewriter, then left and entered telephone booth and called Cortlandt 7451, this at 4.40 P.M., and asked if there was anything new. He called another number and spoke to a Mr. Eishel and said Dr. Gunning from Paterson was in to see him and he closed a contract with him. Subject then left and boarded neighboring train, rode to Cortlandt St., walked to Hudson Terminal Building and boarded train for Jersey City, where he later boarded the 5.37 P.M. train for Iselin, N.J., at which time agents discontinued.
Harry C. Leslie for March 7-8, 1922. Henry Kuntz

March 8th. Continuing on this matter, resumed surveillance for subject with Agent Anderson in the vicinity of 180 Broadway, at 10 A.M. Subject was observed to enter at 10:30 A.M. At 12:15 P.M. he came out, walked to William and Fulton Streets, and boarded subway, riding to Clark Street, Brooklyn, from where he walked to and entered Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights. He came out at 4:20 P.M. and proceeded to subway station, boarded train, alighted at Fulton Street, New York, then walked to and entered 180 Broadway.

At 5:15 P.M. he appeared in company with a man about 28 years of age, 5' 4", 145 lbs; dark hair, smooth shaven, dressed in blue suit, dark lavender overcoat, cream colored cap, black shoes, brown cloth top. They walked to Hudson Terminal, boarded train for Jersey City and later boarded the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N.J.

Agents overheard subject telling this man he could live at his home in Iselin, N.J. and that he could get a commutation ticket and come to New York whenever he liked, as it would be rather lonesome to remain all the time in Iselin.
Continuing on the above investigation, Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:40 A.M. He came out at 12:45 P.M. and went to the Gross Restaurant, Fulton St. near Broadway, where he had dinner. At 1:30 P.M. he came out with two men and walked to Broadway where they separated, subject returning to his office at 180 Broadway. At 3:00 P.M. he came out and walked to the Times Newspaper office, Beekman St. near Broadway, from which place he proceeded to a stationery store on Nassau St. near Maiden Lane. After leaving this store he walked to the Cunard S. S. Line office, 25 Broadway, and inquired about second class passage for his brother on the S. S. Albinio. He then went to the Red Star Line, 1 Broadway, and made similar inquiries regarding the S. S. Olympic. He returned to his office at 4:45 P.M. At 5:10 P.M. he came out carrying a grip and walked to Washington Market where he made some purchases of meats, vegetables, etc., after which he boarded train to Jersey City and there took the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J. Agents then discontinued.

March 4th: Continuing on the above investigation Agent resumed surveillance at 180 Broadway at 9:45 A.M. He came out at 12:10 P.M. and walked to Fulton St. station. At the station he ran to and boarded a crowded train that was just 2 A.M.
about to leave the station. There was only one door open and subject squeezed through. In order for Agents to board same train it would have been necessary to push in after subject and possibly cause suspicion. Agents then covered Commodore Hotel and 29 E. 48th St. up to 1:00 P.M., but as subject failed to appear Agent Anderson proceeded to Standish Arms Hotel, Brooklyn, while the writer covered 180 Broadway. At 5:00 P.M. subject left Hotel and boarded subway to New York. He went to Hudson Terminal Building, took train to Jersey City and there boarded the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J.

March 6th: Continuing on the above investigation Agents Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance at 180 Broadway at 9:45 A.M. At 10:15 A.M. subject entered. He came out at 12:15 P.M. and went to Gross Restaurant, Fulton St. near Broadway, where he had lunch and came out at 1:00 P.M. He proceeded to the Equitable Trust Co., 222 Broadway, remained five minutes and returned to his office. He came out at 2:10 P.M. and went to American Express Co., 65 Broadway, where he purchased a draft to the order of Moses G. Littman, c/o Comitee Ezra, Antwerp, Belgium, in the amount of $100. He then walked to Wall and William Sts., and boarded subway, riding to Clark St., Brooklyn, from where he proceeded to the Standish Arms Hotel. He came out at 5:00 P.M., boarded subject and rode to Fulton St., N. Y. C. He went to Hudson Terminal Building, took train to Jersey City where he boarded the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J.

A man called and told Kuntz he received a cable from Kisheneff and that he had sent $600.00 there. A woman then took the wire and spoke to Kuntz about this man's passport - that everything would be all right because everything would be fixed by Rose, who was going to straighten things out and give him a letter to Berlin. The man then got on the wire again and said he was leaving Saturday. Kuntz said he wanted to see them before they left and said "Tell Rose we will go to lunch uptown in her neighborhood." The man said "It would be more satisfactory to have lunch downtown in your neighborhood." Kuntz said "All right, I will get things fixed up for a nice little luncheon down here." The man said "When I get to Rose's I will call you up." Kuntz replied "Make it about 1:30 P.M."

(Kuntz) Hello, Mrs. Hammer around.
(F.V.) Yes, right here. Good morning Henry, how are you?
(Kuntz) Oh, nothing extra. How is the Doctor?
(F.V.) Fine. I saw him yesterday. We talked about every­thing and about everybody.
(Kuntz) That's fine.
(F.V.) We talked about you. I was very happy and he was very happy. I told him I am going out for a few days and he was glad.
(Kuntz) When are you going out? You can come to my house but we are going out tonight and then to a turkish bath, Rippen, Waxstein. I haven't been in the city for three weeks, but you are perfectly welcome.
(F.V.) I will be at your house tomorrow.
(Kuntz) Well, suit yourself. You come over tomorrow anytime you please. Listen, I will be home tomorrow on the 6:17 train. When are you going?
(F.V.) I might go late this afternoon. I thought maybe we would go out all of us together.

NAME OF CASE: EMERSON KUNTZ - SURVEILLANCE.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Subject was observed coming out of 180 Broadway at 11:15 A.M. in company with another man whose description follows: Age, 55; height 5' 7"; weight, 170 pounds; hair, black; beard, black streaked with gray; eye-glasses, partly gold tortoise shell; dressed in dark green suit, dark brown broadcloth overcoat and black hat. Both proceeded to barber shop on Beekman St. near Nassau St. At 12:20 P.M. both came out and proceeded to subway station on Ann St., subject boarding a Brooklyn train and his companion an uptown train. Agent followed men with beard who alighted at 42nd St. and walked east on 42nd St. to Bryant Park, 42nd St. & 6th Ave. He bought some bananas and a piece of chocolate of which his lunch consisted. This man walked around the Park until 3:00 P.M. when he sat down. This individual is probably a sick man as he walked very slowly and had to stop every once in awhile to rest. As Agent did not see him meet anyone and as he apparently was not expecting to meet anyone, Agent dropped this man and joined Agent Leslie at the Standish Annex Hotel at 4:00 P.M. where subject, Kuntz, was. For activities of Kuntz see report of Agent Leslie for today.

Discontinued at 9:00 P.M.
February 24th: Surveillance was resumed for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:35 A.M. At 12:10 P.M. he came out and walked to and entered the Terminal Barber Shop, Hudson Terminal Building, and was shaved. After leaving he boarded subway and rode to Grand Central Station to Hotel Commodore where he met a woman and a young man at 1:00 P.M. Description of woman is as follows: About 55 years of age, 5' 4", 160 pounds, stout build, black hair, wore glasses; dressed in black turban hat, seal coat. Young man, whose description is as follows, resembled woman who apparently is his mother: About 25 years of age, 5' 6", 145 pounds, black hair, small black mustache; dressed in black suit. They walked to and entered Cafe Restaurant, Hotel Commodore. They were later joined by another young man, apparently the brother of above described, and a young woman whose description follows: About 22 years of age, 5' 6", 130 pounds; dressed in brown coat with fox neck piece. At 2:40 P.M. subject came out alone and entered Liggett's Drug Store, Lexington Avenue and 42nd St., where he went to telephone booth. Agents were unable to obtain number or any of the conversation as adjoining booths were occupied. Upon leaving booth he spoke to a man whom he called Mr. Mazlin and said, "I just left Harry and Armanda," evident by the sons of Dr. Julius Hammer, above described woman being mother. Mazlin answered, "Yes," and asked subject how he was feeling.
the clerks in the store then spoke to Mazlin about prices of some stock in the store and he answered, "Don't bother me, I'm out." Mazlin is evidently an employee of Liggett's and is well acquainted with subject. Leaving Liggett's store subject boarded shuttle train to Times Square where he boarded the 7th Ave. subway to Clark St., Brooklyn, proceeding to the Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights, and entering at 3:15 P.M. At 5:10 P.M. he came out, boarded subway to Fulton St., New York, and proceeded to Hudson Terminal Building where he took train to Jersey City and thence to Iselin, N. J., on the 5:37 P.M. train. Agents then discontinued.

February 25th: Agents resumed surveillance for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 10:00 A.M. At 11:15 A.M. subject came out in company with a man about 55 years of age, 5' 7", 170 pounds, with black hair, black beard streaked with gray, eye-glasses, partly gold, and tortoise shell; dressed in dark green suit, dark brown broadcloth overcoat with velvet collar and black derby hat. They walked to barber shop at Beekman St. near Nassau St. where they both were shaved and had their hair cut. They came out at 12:20 P.M. and walked to William St. subway station. Above described boarded northbound subway train and Agent Anderson followed. Subject boarded southbound train and rode to Clark St., Brooklyn, from where he proceeded to the Standish Arms Hotel. At 4:00 P.M. I was joined by Agent Anderson and surveillance was resumed until 9:00 P.M. when, as subject had not appeared up to that time, Agents discontinued.

Agent Anderson followed. Subject returned to the office at 180 Broadway. He came out at 3:00 P.M. and walked to and entered M. Singer, Optician, 206 Broadway. He came out and walked to Patterson Bros., Hardware, 27 Park Row. Leaving there he returned to his office at 4:00 P.M. At 5:00 P.M. he came out carrying one large and two small packages. Walked to Hudson Terminal Building and boarded train to Jersey City where he boarded train which left at 5:37 P.M. for Iselin, N. J. Agents then discontinued.

February 15th: Surveillance was resumed by Agent Anderson and the writer at 180 Broadway, 9:45 A.M. At 10:45 A.M. subject entered. At 1:45 A.M. he came out and walked to Supress Dunn & Co., 76 Murray St., Irish Hardware & Scales. Came out and walked to Park Place. Walked back and forth between Broadway and Church St., apparently looking for some concern. He finally left and walked to and entered Toledo Scale.
Co., Chambers St. near Broadway, where he made an inquiry and then walked to and entered Equitable Trust Co., Colonial Branch, 222 Broadway. He remained about five minutes and then boarded subway and rode to Clark St., Brooklyn. From there he went to the Standish Arms Hotel, entering at 1:00 P.M. At 4:40 P.M. he came out and walked to subway, rode to Fulton St., N. Y., and proceeded to Hudson Terminal Building where he boarded the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J. Agent Anderson follows:

February 16th: Surveillance was resumed for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:30 A.M. At 10:15 A.M. I was joined by Agent Anderson who covered station at Perth Amboy, N. J., for subject, but he failed to leave from this point. At 10:30 A.M. subject entered. He came out at 12:20 P.M. with two men, one of whom can be described as follows: 45 years of age, 5' 5'', 175 pounds, dark hair, small dark mustache; dressed in dark gray overcoat, light gray fedora hat. The other was about 37 years of age, 5' 5'', 150 pounds, dark brown hair, smooth shaven; dressed in brown overcoat, brown fedora hat. They proceeded to and entered the Gross Restaurant, Fulton St. near Broadway. Came out at 1:15 P.M. and separated, subject returning to Equitable Trust Co., 222 Broadway. He returned to 180 Broadway at 1:50 P.M. Came out again at 2:30 P.M. and walked to John Chatillon Co., 89 Cliff St., Mfrs. scales and hardware. He remained about twenty minutes and then walked to and entered barber shop on Beekman St. near Nassau St., where he was shaved. Leaving, he boarded subway and rode to Clark St., Brooklyn, from where he walked to Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights at 3:50 P.M. The writer remained until 8:00 P.M. when he discontinued as subject had not been seen leaving up to that time. Agent Anderson continued the surveillance.

Gentlemen,

I wish to be informed whether these few lines has reached the correct authority who is investigating the late Wall St. disastrous explosion of Sep. 1920. I may be able to assist the Department who is working on above mentioned disaster. At present I refrain to write anymore, until I receive a favorable reply.

I remain,

Very truly yours,

Isaak M. Glielt

Mr. Isaac H. Drink,
46 Hancock St.,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir -

I am in receipt of your communication of the 9th inst., and I desire to advise you that I am instructing my representative in your vicinity to interview you with regard to the Wall Street Explosion.

MAR 15 1922
March 9th: Continuing on the above investigation Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:50 A.M. At 10:30 A.M. subject was observed entering. He came out at 12:15 P.M., walked to Gross Restaurant and had lunch. He came out at 1:00 P.M., walked to Abrams Scale Co., 71 Warren St., remaining there about ten minutes and returned to his office. At 3:55 P.M. he came out and walked to and entered the World Building where he boarded the elevator. Agents were unable to learn the office he visited. He came out at 4:50 P.M. and entered a telephone booth, after which he walked to Washington Market where he purchased poultry and vegetables. He then walked to the Hudson Terminal Building and boarded train to Jersey City where he took the 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J. Agents then discontinued.

March 10th: Continuing on the above investigation, Agents resumed surveillance for subject in the vicinity of 180 Broadway. At 11:00 A.M. he entered. He came out at 11:20 A.M. and boarded Bronx Park Subway. At 176th St. station he got up from his seat hurriedly and made an attempt to alight from the train, but remained. Agents alighted were unable to get on again after discovering subject remained the train. Subject was the only person in the car in which and it was necessary for agents to keep some distance away to seen. At 1:00 P.M. the writer was informed subject Rose Bonner, 2181 Grand Avenue, Bronx, near 183rd St. subway station. Agents proceeded to this address and found same to be a large new apartment house. Surveillance was continued until 2:30 P.M. at which time Agents returned to office and later covered 180 Broadway and Standish Arms Hotel in Brooklyn. At 5:10 P.M. subject came out of 180 Broadway and walked to Hudson Terminal Building, obtained a large parcel at the parcel room and boarded train to Jersey City where he took 5:37 P.M. train for Iselin, N. J.

March 11th: Continuing on the above investigation, surveillance was resumed at 180 Broadway. At 10:30 A.M. subject entered. He came out at 11:20 A.M., walked to Hudson Terminal Building Barber Shop and was shaved. He then made some purchases at a butter and cheese store in Hudson Terminal, after which he boarded subway, rose to Clark St., Brooklyn, and walked to and entered the Standish Arms Hotel, Columbia Heights. He came out at 5:00 P.M., boarded train to Fulton St., New York City, and walked to Hudson Terminal Building where he boarded train to Jersey City. Agents then discontinued.

March 8th, 1922.

Attention Mr. J. E. Hoover.

Dear Sir:

I am attaching hereto for your immediate attention report of Special Agent Jas. W. Dillon re #5 dated Mar. 8, 1922. In this report you will note that MARK J. WISSOTZKY and his brother SIMON L. WISSIG of Los Angeles, Cal., are preparing to go to Europe, presumably to Soviet Russia, and in order to obtain the necessary papers for this trip they are entering into a conspiracy with one HENRY KUNTZ, the subject of our confidential #5 to procure for them letters which would identify them as Agents of the Clifton Company.

I am sending this to you by special delivery in order that you may, if you so desire, communicate immediately with the State Department as well as the French and German Representatives at Washington. Kindly note marked sections of attached report.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD J. BREEN
Special Agent in Charge.

I expect him in about 10.30.

10.37 A.M. (Incoming)

Men
Kuntz.

Kuntz
Hello. I called you up this morning doctor and they said you left.

Man
We cannot go there. I think we can go there on business as agents of some company.

Kuntz
You can say. Supposing I give you letter that you are going in my behalf to buy some goods for me.

Doctor
The best would be some business firm should give me and my brother letter to buy and sell goods for them.

Kuntz
I may be able to get that today.

Doctor
We will have to get that today. I will have to go to Washington tonight and have it done. We have to go to the French and German Councils. I would like to get that. My name is Mark J. Wissotzky, and my brother is Simon L. Wissig.

Kuntz
Your passport says you are a Los Angélan.

Doctor
Yes.

Kuntz
The man can give you a letter for the two of you. Call me up about 11.30 or 12 o'clock.

11.10 A.M. (Incoming)

Man
Kuntz.

Kuntz
Hello. Come to my office at 4.45 and we can go to my house and have dinner and then you can be back at 8 o'clock.

11.24 A.M. (Outgoing)

Kuntz Main 6741. Mr. Kossock (?)

Kuntz
I will wait for you.
James W. Dillon for March 8, 1922. #5.

11:27 A.M. (Outgoing)

McG.  Hello.
Kuntz  I will be at your office at nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

11:41 A.M. (Incoming)

Man                 Kuntz.
Kuntz.  I have it under the name of the Clifton Company (?). I have been exporting and importing merchandise. I sold to Russia about $100,000 worth of machinery under the name of that company. Mr. Weckstein is the President of the Company. I will give you a letter signed by that company and I will give you a letter to a big lawyer in Washington. He can fix it up for you. You can have them both in half hour.

Doctor\[Kuntz]  I am at the German Consul. Will you have lunch with me?
Kuntz:  I have got to have lunch at 12.30 uptown. I will have them all signed and sealed. I want to give you some money. I will be away this afternoon for two or three hours. I will leave them with the girl. I made one letter for the two. It would look suspicious to write two letters. This lawyer will help you out and it will take no time.

11:44 A.M. (Outgoing)

Kuntz  Beekman 6103. Mr. Weckstein. (Note. This name has formerly been carried as Reckstein) I am giving a letter on behalf of the Clifton Company (?) to buy some merchandise in Russia. I am sending the letter over to be signed by the President, which is you.

FACTS DEVELOPED: At New York:

Continuing on the above investigation Agent Anderson and the writer resumed surveillance in the vicinity of 180 Broadway at 9:45 A.M. At 10:30 A.M. subject entered. At 11:45 A.M. he came out and walked to and entered Gross Restaurant, Fulton St. near Broadway, and had lunch. He came out with a man previously described and returned to his office.

At 3:45 P.M. the writer discontinued and reported to office in accordance with instructions from Agent in Charge E. J. Brennan. Agent Anderson continued surveillance of subject.
Boston, Mass., Thursday, 17th, 1922.

REPORT MADE AT: DATE WHEN MADE: PERIOD FOR WHICH MADE: REPORT MADE BY:

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
BOMB EXPLOSION, Wall St., N. Y. C.
September 16, 1920.

FACTS DEVELOPED:
At Boston, Mass. ISAAC MYER Glick, Boston, Mass., Informant.

Adverting to Bureau communication of the 13th instant, initialed GFR-JR, advising that ISAAC M. Glick, 45 Hancock street, Boston, Mass., was in possession of information, the writer reports that on the 15th instant a call was made at the above address and the said Glick located, who refused to be interviewed at his lodging house, but agreed to call at the Bureau office on the 16th instant, which he did.

ISAAC M. Glick was born in Galicia, December 25, 1884, removed to England when about four years old, was married in England where he now has a wife and one child, and came to the United States on the steamship "New York", arriving in New York in May, 1916, and thence came direct to Boston. He took out his first papers in 1917 and has made application for second papers, but apparently cannot receive the same on account of being placed in Class V during the period of the selective service draft. In November, 1919, he left Boston as a member of the crew on the SS "Oakland", Shipping Board vessel, for England and returned to the United States on the same vessel in January, 1920. During the war time period he was employed at the arms factory, Boston, working on detonators, and also for Dodge Machine Company of Dorchester, Mass., from both of which concerns he had in his possession recommendations relative to his reliability. He is now employed as a salesman for a first-aid house in Boston. During his six years' residence in the United States he claims to have lived the entire period at 45 Hancock street, Boston.

MR. GLICK stated that he felt that the Bureau at Washington misinterpreted his letter, for the reason that he had no specific information relative to any persons or organizations involved in the bomb explosion, but that it was merely his desire to get into touch with the Bureau for the purpose of securing transportation to Washington in order to give the Bureau the benefit of his psychic experiences as a prognosticator of coming events. He stated that previous to the World War he had predicted the coming of that cataclysm and had communicated with LLOYD GEORGE on the same. He also stated that in the past he had addressed communications to PRESIDENT WILSON and to SECRETARY OF THE NAVY DANIELS in reference to the "mystery ship" "Charles Whittemore". He exhibited letters of which the following are copies:

"NAVY DEPARTMENT
Washington, D. C.

Office of Secretary of Navy

Dear Sir:

Allow me to thank you for your letter of August 12, 1918, which has been referred by President Wilson to this Department for consideration. You are informed that the suggestion contained in your letter will be carefully considered. Your letter from the Admiralty is herewith returned.

Sincerely yours,

(Sgd.) Josephus Daniels."
"NAVY DEPARTMENT
Washington, D. C.  Op. 35 B.
Office of Secretary of Navy.  February 20, 1919.

Dear Sir:
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of recent date, making certain inquiries in regard to the success of a plan submitted by you August 12, 1918. You are informed that the idea suggested by you was carefully considered, but due to material conditions it was found impracticable to put it into execution. The patriotic spirit which actuated you in submitting this suggestion is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
(Sgd.) Josephus Daniels."

Further questioning of the informant brought information from him that he is intensely religious; that he is a conscientious objector in that he does not believe in Nations warring on each other; that he is now seeking divorce from his wife in England, and that his idea in the matter at hand was to offer his divinations or psychic revelations in the Wall Street Bomb case to the Government. He stated that he had predicted "in black and white" that a great calamity would occur about that time, although he did not know the form that it would take. After further conversing with him it was apparent that he was more or less mentally agitated, and his statements were entirely incoherent. He admitted he had no facts which he would offer, nor did he hear any reports from any individuals or organizations who might be involved in the case.

The office of the Commission on Mental Diseases, State House, Boston, was called, but they had no record of any person under the name of ISAAC or MYER GLICK having been confined at any time in any institution in Massachusetts.

Any further interview with MR. GLICK would appear to be useless. The matter is therefore deemed CLOSED.

(Female V.) Hello, Henry, how do you do?
(Kuntz) Oh pretty good. What's new?
(Female V.) Well I was going to tell you some good news - I am going to tell you something you don't know. The bill went through to let first offenders go out on parole. That is through the work of Randolph. The bill went through and it is up to the Governor to sign it.
(Kuntz) Well, that's fine. That's fine - I am glad to hear that.
(Female V.) I hope it will be realized because that is just as good as the other thing.
(Kuntz) I am going to the opera or theater with you some day.
(Female V.) Why don't you have supper with me?
(Kuntz) Why are you going to have supper?
(Female V.) Upstairs.
(Kuntz) He hasn't got any room there. All right young lady I will come up some time but not tonight.
(Female V.) We are simply going to have a supper. APR 7 1922
(Kuntz) Well I will come up some other time. Are you going over to Iselin?
(Female V.) No, I won't be able to.
(Kuntz) When do you think you will come over.
(Female V.) I want you to come here first.
(Kuntz) I will come over some other time but not tonight?
(Female V.) Do you want to go to the opera Thursday afternoon?
(Kuntz) All right, I will go.
(Female V.) Well I will get tickets.
(Kuntz) No, you had better come over some evening.
(Female V.) All right I will come over some evening. When will you go to Iselin?
(Kuntz) This Sunday. We will go Sunday and spend the day.

Monday, I went to 2nd St. In order to get the girls, because Clara Ellis, Aida's sister, was there at that time last week. I told her that they are working in that locality. Therefore, I hoped to receive information regarding this, but I failed to meet them there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday, I visited the office of American Izyvestie where I met comrade Buriia, the secretary of American Izyvestie. I asked him whether he knows where I can find Aida. He asked me why I went to see her and I told him that one girl asked me to find some work for her, and as Aida is working, then she may help her to secure work. Buriia said that he can't tell me where the $8, and that he will see her not before Sunday. I remained there for some time, and then comrade Kryshak came in. He is the man who went home with Aida Sunday night. Kryshak was deported from this country last year, but as the Soviet Government refused to admit them to Russia, he was returned to this country.

Buriia asked him whether he knows where Aida lives, and Kryshak took an envelope, and gave it to Buriia, stating that it is Aida's address, which she wrote herself.

Buriia then wrote it on a slip of paper and gave it to me. I enclosed with this report. (Address: 285 E 12 St. 4th floor.)

As to Berenovsky, I met him every day this week in the club of Union of Russian Tanners, 200 East 10th St. He is having a round of usual diet to one comrade or other to help him out with some money. He is still living with comrade Bondarenko.

IN RE: LENA SPECTOR
Wall Street Explosion

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Reported at 7.30 A.M. in the vicinity of 396 Grand St., the residence of subject, and joined Agents Seery and Gurevich.

At 8.50 A.M. subject came out, walked to Delancey St. and Suffolk St. I then designated her to above agents. She boarded car and rode to 14th St. and 6th Avenue, and entered Murray's Department Store. The writer discontinued, leaving the other agents to continue on same.

At 5.10 P.M. in company with Agent Vaccarelli, we found Agent Seery and resumed surveillance for subject. At 5.40 P.M. she left 14th Street side and mailed several letters. Then designated her to Agent Vaccarelli and discontinued at 6 P.M. leaving agents on watch.

RE: MRS. ELIZABETH VAIL: Informant re Wall St. Explosion.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At New York, N.Y.

Above informant recently called at this office and stated that the Wall St. Bomb was delivered in its rough state to the foot of Carroll St., City Island, N.Y., by an unknown woman and the work on it was completed by PETER and JOE COLLINS, who reside next door to the informant's home which is at 49 Carroll St., City Island, N.Y.

Informant saw the bomb delivered and later saw the two COLLINS place the bomb in a wagon belonging to the FOX WET WASH LAUNDRY, West Farms Rd., Bronx, N.Y., in which wagon the bomb was taken away. Informant further states that the COLLINS were expert bomb makers and that she had jeopardized her life in frustrating various attempts made by them to do damage by the use of bombs. They are assisted in their work by one JAMES AHEARN, an ex-Senator who lives across from informant.

Informant stated that she had been detained at an Institution on the Potomac River near Washington, all the inmates of which were crazy, and also in the Ward at Bellevue, which was also filled with crazy people.

Agent communicated with the Bomb Squad, N.Y. City Police and was informed today that MRS. VAIL has been arrested several times for disorderly conduct and is considered to be mentally unbalanced. Her particular obsessions are the Roman Catholics and a Protective League which she claims exists at City Island.

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:

MRS. W. L. BAYERSDORFER, Wall Street Explosion.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

I called at 106-108 Fulton Street, New York and inquired of the superintendent of the building if he knew anyone by that name in the building. He advised me that he did not, but that there were a great many subtenants in the 14 story building, whose names are not on the register.

Since the superintendent has a pronounced foreign accent and did not inspire much confidence, I deemed it best not to disclose my identity nor question him any further, but I shall interview the letter carriers who deliver the mail in this building and if unsuccessful with these I shall interview the Agents of the building.

WASHINGTON 3; NEW YORK 2; EXTRA 1 (VW)
In Re: HENRY KUNTZ.
Wall Street Explosion.

FACTS DEVELOPED:
at Perth Amboy, N. J.

Investigation of forwarding cards on mail received by above subject as per report of Agent Geo. J. Starr for March 29th 1922.

HARRY S. MEDINEST
167 Smith Street,
Perth Amboy, N. J.

This man is one of the best known lawyers in Perth Amboy; he was born and raised there and keeps very large offices on the main street of the town.

H. RIPPEI, 233 Front Street,
Perth Amboy, N. J.

H. Rippen is the owner of a very large establishment at this address dedicated to the manufacture of Tobacco Products. According to the Postmaster, Rippen was a very poor man 12 years ago and worked in Perth Amboy as a cigar maker, while his wife sold fish from a push cart.
The family is very wealthy now. Partner in the tobacco business with the father is a son Julius Rippen. I was assured by the postmaster that both of the Rippens are highly respectable citizens. The older Rippen is a Polish Jew, while the son was born in this country. H. Rippen and his wife are at present sojourning in Europe.

GLOBE TOBACCO CO.
233 Front Street,
Perth Amboy, N. J.

This company is headed by Julius Rippen. Nothing is known of it in Perth Amboy, and in my belief it is probably a company which was incorporated for the purpose of reducing the income of the original.
RIPPEY Concern. The premises at 283 Front Street have no sign of any kind and only a small visiting card over the door reading 38129.

"H. Rippen"
"Manufacturer of Tobacco Products" indicates the name of the occupant.

The information regarding Harry S. Medinets was secured from a policeman in a casual way to whom I did not disclose my identity.

The balance of the information contained in this report, as well as a corroboration of the facts regarding Medinets were obtained from the postmaster, after I had looked up the establishment of Rippen and the office of Medinets. I inquired of several business people in Perth Amboy, where the Globe Tobacco Company had their place of business, but no one could inform me, and even the postmaster had to inquire of the letter carrier regarding this concern, which facts strongly tend to prove my assumption as stated above.
Pursuant to telephonic communication received at this office from Mr. Brogelman of the American Railway Express Company concerning above subject, Agent interviewed Mr. Brogelman and learned the following:

GEORGE WESTON shipped a suit-case by American Railway Express from Pittsburg, Pa., on Dec. 20th, 1920 to Cleveland, Ohio, stating that he would call for it at Cleveland. On March 2nd, 1921 he called at the Cleveland office, American Railway Express and directed that the suit-case be shipped to him care of American Ry. Express, Jersey City, N.J., again stating that he would call for same. Recently, the American Ry. Express sent a post-card to "G. Weston, Jersey City, N.J." requesting that he call for his suit-case. This card was delivered to GEORGE WESTON, 45 Williams Ave., Jersey City, to whom the suit-case was later delivered. In the meantime G. WESTON, the original shipper called at the Chicago office of the American Ry. Express and requested that the suit-case which he had shipped to Jersey City be forwarded to him at Chicago where he would call for it.

GEORGE WESTON to whom the suit-case had been delivered at Jersey City was called upon by Special Agents of the Express Company and requested to return the suit-case which had been forwarded to him by mistake. He stated that upon receiving the suit-case he opened same and found that it contained some old clothing, a rain-coat, several newspaper clippings about the Wall St. Explosion and some letters pertaining to matrimonial affairs. Thinking that somebody was playing a practical joke on him he says that he threw away the contents of the suit-case. He has returned to the Express Company the suit-case and one clipping. Special Agent Brogelman of the American Railway Express stated that GEORGE WESTON is making every effort to locate the contents of the suit-case which he threw away.

The Chicago bureau office has been notified of this and request made that they communicate immediately with Mr. E.L. Hamilton, Gen. Agent, American Railway Express, Chicago, and ascertain from him what information he has regarding G. WESTON, the shipper of the suit-case and also arrange with him to be notified when G. WESTON calls for the suit-case in order to interrogate WESTON as to his identity, etc., and his interest in the Wall St. Explosion as evidenced by the clippings which were in the suit-case.

Continued.
While speaking with DORA ROSENBLATT at the I.W.W. Headquarters today, a fellow known as NEDLEMAN came into the hall and after greeting Dora, made the remark that he was informed from good authority that the capitalists have planted the bomb in Wall Street, and the cause of it was that one capitalist wanted to get revenge on another, and in order to do it and not be suspected he had the Bomb outrage committee, knowing it would be blamed on the Reds.

At this point DORA ROSENBLATT and other members of the I.W.W., whose names are unknown to me, checked NEDLEMAN and advised him to keep quiet as to what he has heard, for he will be picked up by the police and will then be involved in trouble. Nedleman insisted that it was from good authority that he had heard it.

NEDLEMAN is a member of the I.W.W., and went away about two months ago, and said he had been in Chicago and had just come from there. He is about 21 years old; 110 lbs; 5' 1"; blonde; clean shaven, long nose, wears eye glasses, dresses fairly well; has Jewish accent, speaks Jewish; has Jewish features and is a fanatic on the I.W.W. question.

WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

Facts Developed:

At Scranton, & Harrisburg, Penna.:

On May 4, 1921, was at the office until 12:30 p.m. and left at 2:00 p.m. for Harrisburg on subpoena before the United States Court as witness in the TITO LIGI case.

Arrived at Harrisburg about 7:30 p.m., May 5, 1921. At 9:00 a.m. went to the United States Court, Postoffice Building, Harrisburg, Pa. and reported to United States Attorney. Was then informed that the LIGI case would not come before the Court until ten o'clock the next morning, the 6th instant.

At 10:30 a.m., May 6th, the LIGI case was called before Judge Witmer, U. S. Superior Court, Middle District of Pennsylvania.

LIGI's lawyer waived the reading of the habeas corpus proceedings and LIGI pleaded guilty to draft evasion. The Judge questioned him at length, during which LIGI professed to be an Anarchist. LIGI was sentenced to one year in the Lackawanna County Jail and was told by Judge Witmer that a thorough investigation of his case would be made and should he change from his present attitude and help the government officials he would take this sentence into consideration and perhaps mediate it to his advantage.

Having no further business in Harrisburg and receiving no instructions, I took the 11:15 a.m. train for Scranton and arrived at Scranton, Pa. at 5:00 p.m.  Found that Special Agent Ramsdell had left for Philadelphia and was engaged with Special Agent Barbera until about 9:00 p.m.

Arrived at the office at 9:00 a.m., May 7th and at 10:10 a.m., called up Agent Scully, of the Department of Justice, New York and also tried to get in communication with the Director but was unable to do so. I was informed by Special Agent McCarthy that the Director had sent me a telegram on the 5th instant, instructing me to return to New York from Harrisburg. This telegram I did not get and my conversation over the telephone was my first intimation regarding same.

I will leave for New York at 3:47 this afternoon and will confer with Director as soon as possible.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUED.
At Scranton, & Carbondale, Penna.:—

Agent learned from the payroll records of the West End Coal Co., Scranton, Pa. that DOMINICK DANTE of Mocanaqua, Pa.—referred to in previous reports—was working every day in the month of September 1920 except September 3, 4, 5, 6, 12 and 19. In referring to the calendar of 1920 it will be noticed that the 5th, 12th and 19th were Sundays, therefore, this man is eliminated, so far as investigation goes in this case.

On May 4th at the request of Special Agent Ahern, agent went to Carbondale for the purpose of locating an Italian by the name of A. DANTE. Agent was informed by John Scalzo, an Italian Detective of the Carbondale Police Department, that a man by the name of DANTE was living in Carbondale but at present he was in Boston, Mass. but he is expected to return to Carbondale within a few days and Mr. Scalzo will immediately make an investigation and communicate with agent.

Agent received information that there are three Italians under investigation for threatening to blow up the Miners Bank in Carbondale, and that there is an individual under suspicion by the name of JOSEPH PESOLI, 50 Scott Street, Carbondale, Pa., who understands explosives. He is about 5' 6"; weighs 130 lbs., broad shoulders; dark hair; high cheek bones and large bulging eyes. Arrangements were made with informant that this man should walk north on Main St., Carbondale while agent stood in a drug store. Agent saw PESOLI and finds that he is of the above description. Agent will receive a photograph of PESOLI on Friday. This Photograph will be turned over to Special Agent Barbera, who will take same to New York for identification.
From description given by Special Agent Ahern, this man's description tallies fairly well with the man who was seen in the City of New York on Wall Street at the time of the explosion.

Owing to the fact that the Miners Bank case is being investigated and no arrests have been made in this particular, agent promised informant that the source of this information would not be revealed, therefore, agent requests that informant's request be granted.

Agent has arranged to get from the Pennsylvania State Police and the Lackawanna County Authorities about fifteen photographs of Italians who have been arrested recently in this county, among whom are a number of Blackhanders. These photographs will be turned over to Special Agent Ahern to forward to New York for identification.

Bureau of Investigation

New York Division

This is in continuation of Agent's report made under date of February 28, 1921, and it is submitted to furnish additional information relative to a group of Italian anarchists, which is conducting a subversive propaganda among workers at Beverly, Mass.

This investigation was undertaken in an endeavor to locate Vincenzo Leggio (correct name THOMO LEGGIO), the alleged driver of the wagon used to transport the explosives to Wall Street, New York, who it was believed, was a resident of either Lawrence or Beverly, Mass. Notwithstanding the fact that LEGGIO was recently located and apprehended in Scranton, Pa., Special Agent William J. Kent, under whose supervision this investigation is conducted, instructed Agent to continue this investigation, so that the Bureau may have records of the activities of the Italian anarchists in this section.

Under date of March 5th, Acting Postal Inspector in Charge T. W. Swift of the U. S. Post Office Department forwarded to the Boston Office of the Bureau tracings of mail addressed to Box 870, Beverly, Mass., which were sent to him by C. P. Pierce, Assistant Postmaster at Beverly, attached to a letter reading thus:

Reference: Copies of this Report Furnished To: Boston and New York Offices.
38102

"Beverly, Los Angeles, March 5, 1921.

T. W. Swift,
Acting Inspector in Charge.

Enclosed I hand you three copies of tracings made this day from mail directed to box 370, as you requested by letter of March 3rd.

I have examined the second and third class matter and they reveal matter of anarchistic character.

The box is rented to Vincento Crestaolo, 144 Park St.

(Signed) Calvin E. Pierce,
Asst. Postmaster.

The tracings of mail referred to above indicate that the following persons are receiving mail at Box 370, Beverly, Los Angeles:

- Circolo Studi Sociali
- Carlo Potenza
- Eusebio Quattrelli
- Cesar Blanci
- T. Piro
- Alessandro Obertelli
- Pasquale Ingenuo
- Adolfo Tronco
- D. Biancospino
- Miss IDA FRAZIER
- A. FRANCA
- Tony Vago
- E. D'ANGE
- Umberto P.
- Miss J. Quatelli
- A. PARYX.

The Circolo Studi Sociali, as stated in Agent's previous report, occupies the entire left hand side of the second floor of a three-story tenement located at 258 Ripton street. During the day time the flat is being used as a school house where CARLO or CHARLES FORTE, 28 Front street, is subverting the minds of several Italian boys who are being sent there by their parents to be taught the Italian language. In the evening the place is being used as a gathering place for the anarchists of that locality, while on Saturday afternoon it is converted into a meeting hall, where Italian speakers are preaching anarchism and communism. On March 12th there was held in the same flat a dance, the proceeds of which were sent to a committee organized in favor of the political victims.

That place, however, is not being used as a "meeting hall" when an American agitator is scheduled to address the gathering. This fact is revealed by a postal written by T. LUPI to E. JOHN, alias ELETTORS GIANCINI, an anarchist residing at 206 Oak street, Lawrence, Mass., which postal reads as follows:

"Dear,

Tell LEGIERE not to come, could not get the hall, and to have him speak at the club would not do for the American element. Now we are waiting for an answer to get the City Hall in about ten days.

We will let you know that if the Violinist wishes to come, he could leave Lawrence at 6 p.m., could get here about 7.30, could play couple pieces in the first two acts, and about 8.30 could get the Lawrence car and arrive early enough. Tell him that his name is on the circulars.

Regards to the good ones. Regards from Forte. Good bye.

T. LUPI."

BEN LEGIERE, referred to in LUPI'S letter, is a very active member of the I. W. W. and an advocate of One Big Union and communism. He is a resident of Lawrence, Mass., where he is connected with a committee organized among anarchists, communists and syndicalists of Lawrence, with the object to agitate the masses and to collect funds for the benefit of BARTOLOMEO VIANIETTI and NICOLA FERDINANDO SAGIO, who are awaiting trial at Dedham, Mass., on the charge of being implicated in a payroll robbery and two murders committed at South Braintree, Mass., in April, 1920.

The "violinist" also referred to in LUPI'S letter, is R. CAPURCIAI, who was to play in a festival given in the interest of SACCO and VANZETTI on April 25th, in Dreamland Theatre, Beverly.

T. or TONY LORI has not yet been identified. Discreet investigations have revealed that TONY or ANTONIO, the ruddy complexioned fellow residing at 145 Park street, as previously reported, and who displays a great activity at Beverly, answers to the name of ANTONIO PRIVIDERIO.

Forte and Prividerio are often taking trips together. On March 18th they were seen boarding the Lawrence street car, carrying two large suitcases. Forte returned to Beverly three days afterwards, while Prividerio remained absent for more than three weeks. The purpose of their trip has not been determined up to the present time.

The fourth person who was previously reported to be always in company with Forte is ORSETE BIANCHI, a very well known Italian anarchist, employed by the General Electric Co., Lynn, Mass., and residing at 48 Federal street, Beverly. It is to be noted that a warrant was issued for his arrest in 1919, for being distributor and collaborator of "La Cronaca Sovversiva". The warrant, however, could not be served as he was not located at 96 River street, Haverhill, Mass., where he was receiving the above mentioned anarchist newspaper. At present BIANCHI is very active in the anarchist movement. He is corresponding with ALEINO FELIDANI and FELICE GUADAGHI, two anarchists of Boston, who are the "backbone" of the Italian anarchist movement in the United States.

Requested by BIANCHI, GUADAGHI went to Beverly on February 17th, where he delivered a lecture on "GIORDANO BRUNO". In is number 19 of "EMANCIPAZIONE", dated May 1st, a radical newspaper published at East Boston, Mass., by GUADAGNI, appears the following: "Beverly - Blanchi - I will set the date for a lecture in the near future."

HERMANGO CUCINELLI, according to a confidential informant, is living at 47 Federal Street, Beverly, Mass. He went to that city from Haverhill, Mass., in company with ANTONIO ZANACULI, 47 Federal Street, during the period of the raid on violators of the selective service act. Both CUCINELLI and ZANACULI are at present members of the CIRCOLO STUDI SOCIALLI. Other members of the club, according to the informant, are:

COSTANTINO PIACIDO, 50 Federal St., Beverly, Mass.
GIULIO TOBI, 47 " " "
LUIGI GIOVANNI, 141 Park " " "
JACK MANNOTTI, 483 Cabot St., " "
RINALDO MARCE, 29 Mechanic " " "

PIACIDO is in correspondence with DOMINICK D'ETTORE, 32
Ridge Street, Providence, R. I.

Information was also obtained that a radical woman answering to the name of MARY SAMANI, residing at 145 Park Street, Beverly, is corresponding with FRED SAMANI, 55 Barrell Street, 20 Roxbury, Mass., and with MRS. MAZINA, 114 Oliver Street.

VINCENTO GRETAROLO, referred to in the Assi or's letter hereinbefore included in this report, ran the 144 same street. An identical name of Italian anarchists found in the possession of MANXIO ESPI, a Spanish anarchist of Paterson, N. J., who was arrested and brought before the Immigration authorities at Ellis Island, New York harbor, for deportation in February, 1920. The name in the list reads: "VIAG. NO CRAMANO, 116 River street, Haverhill, Mass."

The name of ALESSANDRO CRAMANO, now receiving mail at Box 270 Beverly, Mass., also appears in the list above referred to with the address Box 292 last Bridgewater, Mass.

DAGUINO INCampo's address at Beverly has not yet been determined. It is known, however, that INICAMP was a resident of Haverhill, Mass., in the past, when "LA CRUMACA SCOVERSIVA" was published in this country by HUGO GALENTI, INICAMP was receiving it at 75 River street, Haverhill, Mass. He was also a subscriber of "LA JACUNDER", an anarchist publication secretly edited at Paterson, N. J., by NOVIGIO CAMINITA, which INICAMP was receiving at 6 Baldwin street, Haverhill. INICAMP in corresponding at present with G. D'AGOSTINO, Box 632, Hanson, Mass., and with parties residing at London and Padua, Italy.

Under date of March 23rd and April 14th, respectively, FERRI CUCINELI, MISS L. CUCINELI, A. FRAMA, MISS TA FRAMA, A. CRAMANO and A. PANYA received communications apparently from the same person, judging from the handwriting on the envelopes. The communication to Mrs. A. FRAMA, Box 370, Beverly, Mass., was in the form of a postal card, and contained the following message:

"Dear Sir:
I will send you the photo within the next week.
Everything has been arranged for May 25th."
Everyone will be ready. Regards to Elsa, or Ida, and kisses to the young ones. Regards from Marietta.
Tel. No. 512 W.

Investigations on this subject have disclosed that MARY MICHORE, 12 Market street, Haverhill, Mass., answers to "Haverhill 512-W."

This investigation will be continued.

Dear Sir:

With reference to your confidential letter of February 25th, enclosing a composite photograph of the driver of horse and wagon which carried explosives to Wall Street, on September 16, 1920, I have had the attention of carriers at this office personally called to same, with instructions to advise me if they locate anyone answering the description.

I will be very glad to help, if possible.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Attached hereto is a composite photograph of the driver of the horse and wagon, which carried explosives to Wall Street, New York City, on September 16, 1920. This photograph is identified by the Blacksmith who shod the horse—on the day previous to the explosion, and it is also identified by another man who states it resembles one VINCENTO LEGGIO, of New York City, who may be at present in your city.

The description of this man has been circulated and is given here for your information should you not be conversant with it:

Apparent Italian, 30 or 35 years old; 5 feet 6 inches; medium build; broad shoulders; dark hair; dark complexion; small dark moustache, which at the date of the explosion represented about two weeks' growth. He wore a golf cap, pulled down over his forehead, and a khaki shirt turned in at the neck, as indicated in photograph.

Please call the attention of the Carriers in your Post Office to these photographs which are of the same men; pledge them to secrecy and instruct them that should they see any Italian who resembles photo (especially the one showing cap pulled down over the eyes), and who answers the description above given, to quietly locate him and report result to you immediately, after which please convey to me as quickly as possible.

Thanking you in advance and hoping our combined efforts to apprehend the suspect will be successful, I am

Sincerely,

Pursuant to instructions from Agent Scully, based upon article in New York Tribune of May 24, 1921, (article hereto attached) Agent, accompanied by detective Barth of the municipal bomb squad, called on J. J. Smith, Commissioner of Streets and Public Improvements for the city of Bayonne and from him ascertained the following:

Dr. Smith is a former horse shoe and now sells horse hoof pads in Bayonne and nearby cities and towns. Sometime in April, 1920, he purchased about five hundred pairs of "Bison" pads from the Taylor Co. of Buffalo, New York. Some of these pads were sold to Giacinto Esposito, 34 West 26th St., Bayonne, N. J.; Philip Soilly, 498 Broadway, Bayonne, N. J., and J. Kulmer of Paterson, N. J. and balance of purchase now in stock at his place of business, 45 East 41st St., Bayonne, N. J.

Inquiry at shop of Esposito developed the fact that he knew De Filippo, bomb suspect now in custody, and has known him for the past four years, during which time he has seen him daily about Bayonne. When asked if he had ever shod a horse for De Filippo he replied that he did not know that he had a horse, but he knew that he owned a Ford car and that he was trucking at New York City and Bayonne with this car. We then asked Esposito if he knew Castalano, baker who purchased a horse from Esposito, to which he replied that he knew him well and that he had shod the horse for him in the winter of 1919 and that in the early part of 1925, Castelano had disposed of his horse and purchased a Ford car. Esposito further stated that he has been handling horses for a number of years and that the horse he shod for Castelano was a very old and sickly one and that he was of a buckskin color.

So next interviewed horse shoer Reilly and he stated that he did not know De Filippo or Castelano and that he did not use "Bison" brand pads any longer as they were too expensive.

Examination of a number of "Bison" pads failed to disclose numbers, reported in Tribune article in fact the only number that could be found on pad was the size.

Our reason for interviewing blacksmiths Esposito and Reilly was due to the fact that their place of business is within a radius of three blocks of the home and place of business of the suspect De Filippo.

Esposito and Reilly bear excellent reputations in Bayonne and the veracity of their statements cannot be questioned, both being citizens of the United States.

Seriously note the first two weeks.
At 4:30 P.M. I arrived in the vicinity of Murray's Department Store, 14th Street and 6th Ave., in order to designate the subject to Agents Burke and Davis. I was joined by these agents about 5:00 P.M. Subject made an appearance at 5:30 P.M. with a man described as follows: About 5 ft. 6 in.; age 35; weight about 180 lbs.; full face, dark hair; Jewish appearance, brown mustache, wore derby hat, light suit and overcoat. Both boarded a 14th Street Crosstown Car and proceeded to Delancey and Suffolk Streets. Subject spoke to the man on the corner for a few minutes and then proceeded to Grand Street and entered #396 at 7:05 P.M. The writer discontinued at 7:10 P.M., leaving Agents Davis and Burke to continue the surveillance.

Reference is made to the report of F-888 dated February 21st, 1922, New York City, and also to communication from the Director of January 10th, 1922, as initialed below:

PICKNEY A. WOOD was located at 1046 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, care of Rundell. During the past year, he moved from 191 Pacific Street, Brooklyn to 212 Broadway, Brooklyn, and is now located at 1046 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn. The following information was obtained from carriers and policemen stationed in the locality of the above addresses.

Subject is of a retiring nature and does not readily enter into conversation. None of the parties questioned have heard him express his ideas regarding socialism, anarchism, etc., nor has there been any radical literature noticed, delivered to him. Subject is engineer for the Pawood Products Company with offices at 1046 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn; manufacturers of Perfected Automotive Devices, and according to information given by carriers, has patented several small automobile devices and sold shares or stocks on some of them.

CHAPMAN is the proprietor of a small cheap restaurant located on 4th Avenue near Baltic Street, Brooklyn. Agent engaged in conversation but was unable to persuade him to commit himself as regards his radical or socialistic tendencies. Subject is a Jew.
speaks very good English and is familiar with all the news of the day. The carrier on this route has never heard him express any radical tendencies nor has he noticed any radical literature in his mail.

SHAPIRO owns a small confectionery and stationery store at 57-5th Avenue, Brooklyn. Subject is a Jew and information received from various sources in this investigation, agent is inclined to believe that for that reason he is prejudiced against all things opposed to the Jewish movement, especially that in Poland. He has never been known to give an opinion on the radical or socialist questions or to have sold pamphlets or newspapers of that nature.

Investigation concluded.

Memorandum for Files:

Complying with the request of the Director, I called upon Major Churchill, of the Military Intelligence Division, concerning the detail of Captain T. W. Swett to the Department of Justice for the purpose of proceeding to Warsaw for assistance in the William Linde case.

Major Churchill informed me that Captain Swett would be an ideal man for the appointment, and he believed that the Attorney General, by addressing a letter to the Secretary of War requesting the detail of Captain Swett, could effect the arrangements desired. A communication was drafted in accordance with this suggestion, and delivered personally by me at the office of the Secretary of War on April 14, 1923.

Captain Swett was formerly assistant military attaché at Warsaw, and is thoroughly familiar with the procedure followed by Polish authorities.

PRELIMINARY OCCUPATION STATISTICS - WYOMING: 1920.

Washington, D. C., Sept 1, 1921. — The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, has issued preliminary general occupation statistics for Wyoming, which, though subject to change, are probably approximately correct. The number of persons engaged in each particular occupation, will probably not be announced until the tabulation of the occupation data, now in progress, has been completed. This will be about July 1, 1922.

According to the returns of the Fourteenth Census, there were 81,516 persons 10 years of age and over in Wyoming engaged in gainful occupations in 1920, constituting 41.9 per cent of the total population of the state (194,419), and 54 per cent of the population 10 years of age and over. In 1910, the 73,665 gainful workers were 50.4 per cent of the total population of the state and 62.5 per cent of the population 10 years of age and over.

Of the gainful workers of Wyoming in 1920, 47,124, or 88.5 per cent, were males and 9,392, or 11.5 per cent, were females. The male gainful workers constituted 81.7 per cent of all males 10 years of age and over in 1920, as against 87.5 per cent in 1910, while the female gainful workers constituted 15 per cent of all females 10 years of age and over in 1920, as against 14.9 per cent in 1910.

Of the gainful workers of Wyoming in 1920, 26,040, or 31.9 per cent, were engaged in agriculture, forestry, and animal husbandry; 8,799, or 10.8 per cent, in extraction of minerals; 15,379, or 18.9 per cent, in manufacturing and mechanical industries; 9,960, or 12.1 per cent, in transportation; 6,153, or 7.5 per cent, in trade; 14,078, or 1.9 per cent, in public-service; 4,180, or 5.1 per cent, in professional service; 6,071, or 7.4 per cent, in domestic and personal service; and 3,475, or 4.3 per cent, in clerical occupations.

Dear Mr. Hurley,

Mr. Allen O. Myers and Mr. Clinton Woods, special agents of the Bureau of Investigation of this Department, will sail May 10, 1922, on route to Warsaw, Poland, for the purpose of taking up certain angles of the Wall Street bomb explosion investigation, and interrogating William Linde, who is now held by the Polish authorities.

In view of the fact that these two men are going abroad on official business, I am requesting that in arranging for their passports, to which you so kindly consented to attend, that they be exempted from the payment of the usual fee.

I shall indeed consider it a favor if you will be kind enough to give letters of introduction to our representatives in Paris, Berlin, Warsaw, Stockholm, Riga, and Riga for Mr. Myers, which I am certain will materially assist in our investigation abroad.

The arrangements as they now stand are for Mr. Myers and Mr. Woods to proceed at once to Warsaw, and communicate with Mr. Gibson, the American Minister, in order that the details of the negotiations abroad may be carried out expeditiously and satisfactorily to the interests of this government. Mr. Myers and Mr. Woods are under strict instructions from me that no publicity shall be given to their mission abroad, and I will appreciate it if you will communicate with representatives of this government in Warsaw cautioning them upon this angle of their trip to Warsaw.

Your assistance in these matters will be considered a favor to this Department.

Wall St. Explosion Suspects.

Dear Sir:--

With reference to the above mentioned subjects I am attaching hereto memorandum from Special Agent Jos. A. Barbera of this office, who states that he accompanied Agent Ahearn to Garfield, N.J. and interrogated subject CUICI, and that a report of the interview was made by Special Agent Ahearn who is at present attached to the Washington office.

There is nothing in the file here concerning CUICI. In this connection I will say that all reports pertaining to the investigation of the Wall Street Explosion were forwarded some months ago to you at Washington. I am advised by A.O.M. that there is nothing in these files at Washington. It is suggested that Special Agent Ahearn be interviewed concerning this man CUICI.

Yours very truly,

Memorandum report in Re: Giuseppe Modica & Louis Cuici.

Special Agent Joseph A. Barbera

April 8th, 1922.

Shortly after the Wall Street Bomb, Giuseppe Modica and Louis Mastrangelo were arrested in Hackensack, New Jersey, for the placing of a bomb alongside of a school house, in not yet completed.

Both these men were interviewed by Agent Ahearn and myself, with a view of ascertaining if they knew anything about the Wall Street Bomb.

Louis Cuici was the informant in this matter, he having told Capt. of Detectives Turner of Hackensack, N.J. of the proposed dynamiting of the school. Louis Cuici was out on bail on a rape case and looking forward for clemency, informed Capt. Turner of the plot, seeking through this information to gain a suspended sentence.

Agent is of the opinion that Cuici was interviewed by Agent Ahearn of the Washington Bureau.

Agent is positive that reports were made by Agent Ahearn in the above matter.

DECL. 95219
MEMORANDUM for Director, Mr. Wm. J. Burns.

By Special Agent P. J. Ahern.

RE—Louis Cuici, Guiseppe Modica and Louis Mastrangelo—Wall Street Explosion Suspects.

Referring to my investigation of the Wall street explosion, September 16, 1920, I investigated the above named suspects at the Hackensack, N. J. jail.

Modica and Mastrangelo were hired to set a bomb at the home of one DeBriggio, a contractor, at Hackensack, N. J. They hired Louis Cuici to take them from Passaic, N. J. to Hackensack, N. J. in his Uncle's automobile as he was apparently in on the deal with them.

At the same time Cuici gave the information to Captain Turner, of the Passaic Detective Force, so that when these three men arrived at De Briggio's house, Modica and Mastrangelo got out of the auto for the purpose of placing the bomb and were arrested by the Passaic detectives, who were secreted near De Briggio's house.

Cuici, knowing what was about to occur left the locality immediately, but was later arrested on information given by Modica and Mastrangelo.

I was introduced to Louis Cuici at the Hackensack, N. J. jail by Captain Turner of the Passaic Detective Force. He (Cuici) stated that the Italian group (Galliani) located about 101 to 106 streets and 3rd avenue are familiar with the manufacture of bombs; that he could get in with them and get information regarding the Wall Street Explosion if he could get bail.

Although this man is a confirmed crook and is connected with the "Black Hand" society, Captain Turner stated he always acted square with him; that he would use his influence to get him bailed and would then turn him over to me to use as I saw fit.

Cuici was later bailed but was only a few days at liberty when he was arrested for another charge, broke jail and skipped.

Captain Turner and I saw Cuici's wife who promised to locate him but did not give the desired information up to the time I left
New York, August 22, 1921.

If Cuici is now at liberty some valuable information may be obtained from him regarding the Wall Street Explosion through Captain Turner who would only have to state to Cuici that the investigating Agent is O K and he, Cuici, will try to obtain the desired information.

RE: LINDENFELD

MR. M.F. LEARNER, 51 Morganside Drive, New York, N.Y. phone number Cathedral 7770, apt. 52, called at this office at about 12:20 this P.M., and gave the following information and suggested that we get in touch with a man by the name of PETER BOGATOR, who is employed in a Dairy Store, 481 Claremont Parkway (corner Washington and Claremont):

That BOGATOR can and will direct you to a party who has checks, one or more, which, it is said, were made out originally by LINDE or LINDENFELD in somebody else's name.

The above mentioned LEARNER stated to me that he is a mechanical engineer by occupation, formerly employed by the American Car & Foundry Co., at present out of employment.

In accordance with directions contained in bureau letter 5/8/22 JEH-GFR-JK requesting that Captain of Detectives Benjamin F Turner, Passaic N.J. be interviewed to ascertain present whereabouts of Louis Cuici, Agent sought this information from the source named but was unable at this time to secure anything definite.

Captain Turner states that Cuici was involved with others in a highway robbery in Paterson N.J. and that on the day of his sentence, Captain Turner secured his release temporarily to secure evidence against Giuseppe Modica and Louis Mastroangelo. Cuici was sentenced to serve a year in the Passaic County jail but he never returned to Passaic. Cuici was also involved in an alleged shooting and holdup in Garfield N.J. but the evidence against him was not sufficient to be tried. Agent learned from Captain Turner that Cuici was exposed by a former Detective Sergeant James Green of Passaic following the information which he gave as against Modica and Mastroangelo.

However Cuici who drove the car for Modica and Mastroangelo on the night they planted a bomb in Hackensack, was working with Captain Turner and through this information the last two named were convicted in Bergen County for conspiracy and sentenced to serve a term of three years in the State Prison at Trenton N.J. Both Mastroangelo and Modica are now confined in this institution.

Captain Turner states that he had received a tip that Cuici was in Buffalo N.Y. but this information was never verified.

May 10, 1922 At Garfield N.J.

Agent today in company with Captain Turner went to a shirt manufacturing plant to interview Mrs. Anna Cuici, wife of Louis Cuici. It was stated that the present whereabouts of Cuici was desired by the government, not for the purpose of apprehending him but to secure his cooperation. Mrs. Cuici stated that she was afraid her husband would again "be framed" and referred to the fact that Captain Boyle of the Garfield police was seeking him. Mrs. Cuici said she did not hear from her husband directly but it was intimated from what she said that Cuici communicates with his brother-in-law who is believed to live in New York city N.Y.
Captain Turner asked Mrs. Cuici, as did Agent, to meet her brother in law and arrange it so that CUICI can be interviewed at some place which will suit his pleasure. Mrs. Cuici stated that she would do so and that if arrangements were made she would communicate with Captain Turner who would in turn notify Agent.

Investigation continued.

In Re: WALL STREET EXPLOSION

FACTS DEVELOPED:
at New York.

I called at room 600 No. 32 Broadway and there examined the files of the "Journal of Commerce", starting with the copy of the number published on September the 17th 1920 and going back to July 20th 1920. Though I went over all the advertisements contained in the papers covering the above-mentioned period, I found no advertisement of an auxiliary schooner, as mentioned in the anonymous letter dated "New York, Dec. 19, 1921" and signed "Anxious".

A copy of this report is mailed to the Jacksonville, Fla. office and it is requested that inquiries be made in Savannah, Ga. if any auxiliary schooner was in dry dock there on or about September 17, 1920, which was offered for sale by its owners. It is further requested that this office be informed regarding the result of the investigation at Savannah.

This investigation is based on anonymous communication received by the Director of the Bureau, copy of which is hereto attached.

Dear Sir:

Every American should come over with any info., they might have about Bombers etc even though vague.

Just before the Wall St Explosion, a Mr. Pollock, a Lawyer, 74 Broadway, advertised, for sale, an aux. chooner (ship) which was then on dry dock for survey at Savannah, Ga.

On interview, he said the owners were desirous of selling because the ship was found seaworthy for a long un voyage. I called regarding more information a few minutes, (about 15 minutes) after the explosion and the Attorney said the matter of sale was off and seemed to be excited. I did not at the time know the explosion had taken place in Wall St at the time, because I had just walked down from Bway and Fulton street, where I was in an office during the Explosion. Although I walked past Wall on entering the Building 74 Bway, I did not know the location of the explosion, but was told by someone that it took place down on Broad St. The street was so dense I made no farther observation until after I called on the Atty in question. I was surprised after learning the location of the explosion and appeared odd that the attorney who was quite agitated, said nothing about it.

Was this ship intended as a get away for the Gang of Bombers. I do not desire to hurt the Atty but as an American, desire you to have the above information.

With best regards,

Anxious.

After having called at 348 Douglas Street, Brooklyn on two previous occasions (May 7th and May 8th) I again called at this address today, but did not find Mr. Lundquiste in. I was, however, informed by a man in the hallway of the house that Lundquiste was at work in a place on 4th Avenue and Sackett Street, where I found him working in painting the outside of an Italian barber shop. When I made myself known to him, he said "do not speak to me around here, as it might spoil my usefulness for your Department," though we were far from hearing distance of any one. I noticed immediately that the man is mentally unbalanced and suffering from the hallucination that he is possessed of wonderful "Sherlock Holmes" qualities. During the short conversation we had, he told me that the Italian owner of the barber shop was an anarchist, but a very liberal and good fellow, and that the Jewish store owner next door was a Bolshevist. He tried to impress me by using a number of technical and sometimes even obsolete words, though his conversation at times lacked completely any coherent sense.

When he saw a fraternity pin on me, he started in at the most violent anti-catholic talk, telling me that he was watching the Knights of Columbus, because they were trying a lot of underhand work in this country. He also stated that the party he mentioned in his letter was a member of this fraternity and that this circumstance had made him suspicious of him. I became completely convinced that the man is a lunatic when he told me the following: "The Catholics are going to put up Ex-President Wilson for President and Mayor Hylan of New York for Vice President, because they know that Wilson will die soon after election and then they would have a Catholic President, as Hylan would ascend to the Presidency, and that this was the aim of the Knights of Columbus.

In view of the foregoing I take the liberty to suggest not to answer this subject's last or any future letters, he may address to the Director of the Bureau, as he evidently uses the Bureau letter as a means to impress some of the neighborhood, inhabited mostly by foreigners, of his "usefulness" to the Department.

I inquired of a grocer in the neighborhood, for whom Lundquiste had done some work, regarding him without disclosing my identity and he told me "Lundquiste is a pretty good worker, but I think he is a little nutty".

This investigation is closed.

When it happened, I was hardly a dozen times around it happened. I was warning on a rising line. The only question has been "hanging in my mind ever since. "Why did I get so excited over it?" and "Why" does he show such utter hatred for me because he's been trying to do the 'Right thing' as every noologically might as well should? It has been a power to me. I hate to think he knows anything detrimental to his parents as well.

He is a Union man, at present employed by the B. F. Leeator company as a Kelser. His father is a Foreman Carpenter at the same firm and an estimable gentleman. The E. Service is a healthy, broad-shouldered, square-headed type gentleman. Previous to this climax they both his father and wife and the Young Man's wife were very pleasant in this happening, a cool atmosphere seemed to pervade them, a sort of strained familiarity. "Had I done such a crime to dare to do Right? Or, was it because of the Role of Informer? Even so. Why should this be such a change? You answer--I should not have shown the sin yet, why should such hatred be engendered, can it be possible that there was a deep conspiracy after all, and the Service was interested? That it was to be a precursor to a general reaction? Perhaps the deceptive perception of your premises?"

Failing this letter will be of some use
I am past respectfully the letter.

The above subject called at this office regarding another matter, and claimed to have some information regarding the Wall Street Explosion. He was questioned by Agent in the presence of Special Agent M.J. Claffter. FENTON stated that one DANIEL WELLS alias DANIEL W. WELLS, alias DANIEL ELLIOT, who owns a farm in the rear of Lion Church on the State line near Whitesville, Sussex County resembles the picture of the driver of the Wall Street bomb wagon which was published in the New York World in April 1921. MR. FENTON described WELLS as being short, stocky built man, blond hair, weighing 180 to 200 lbs; height about 5' 8"; blue eyes, bald head, about 23 years of age, according to his own statement; however, FENTON thinks he is much older, probably 30 years of age. FENTON says that WELLS has a peculiar shaped nose, the end of it being absolutely flat and pointed. This description, of course, does not correspond to the description of the driver of the wagon. Upon being shown the composite picture of the driver FENTON was forced to admit that it did not resemble WELLS. WELLS according to FENTON the ne'er-do-well and more or less of an out-law, capable of doing anything for money. FENTON is in Agent's opinion mentally unbalanced as a result of some trouble with the neighbors near Whitesville, Del., where FENTON owned a farm. CASE CLOSED. MAY 24, 1922.

CASE OF INVESTIGATION

RECORDED 7-11-1922.

WASHINGTON 2; BALTIMORE 1; NEW YORK 2; SUSSEX 4
FACTS DEVELOPED:

At Passaic N.J.-

Continuing investigation of this matter Agent interviewed Benjamin F Turner, Captain of Detectives, Passaic N.J. to ascertain whether he had received any word from Mrs Anna Cuici as to the present whereabouts of her husband. In an interview which Agent had with Mrs Cuici on May 10th 1922 Mrs Cuici agreed to locate her husband and arrange thru Captain Turner to have a meeting.

Captain Turner states that he has received no word from Mrs Cuici and that he is very apprehensive of securing information from this source. It is believed that Mrs Cuici communicates with her husband thru a brother in law who resides in New York city. It is not possible at this time to secure the name of the brother in law, but a further effort will be made to do so.

Arrangement will be made with the post office authorities at Passaic N.J. to secure tracing of mail received by Mrs Cuici.

According to Captain Turner he has no information as to the present whereabouts of Cuici.

Cable message from American Minister at Warsaw.

June 10, 9 P.M. 1922, No. 60 Communicating message from Myers to Hurley, for Department of Justice.

The Minister finally demanded (?) a private interview after he found that the Polish authorities were disinclined to grant it. Wood held a private interview lasting seven hours and he states that the subject furnishes no further information. It is declared by the subject that what he has reported is true and he says that he can prove the truth of his reports if he is permitted to go to America under an assurance of his liberty. When we arrived the authorities were about to release the subject on bail for a small amount. Although the Government of Poland is willing to allow the man freedom on bail, it will not permit him to return to America. Should he be allowed to be at liberty for two weeks at Warsaw he is willing to come back with Wood. Should it be desired the Minister will try to induce the Polish Government to put the man on a ship in the port of Danzig. On June ninth Myers interviewed the man personally. He thoroughly believes that the man is a genuine lad, who will not betray his associates of the Jewish race. No bigger liar than the man ever lived. Is useless to attempt attempt any more with him. Money and time are being thrown away. The probability is that all the summer months will be passed before the Government of Poland will permit the man to return and it is doubtful even then if we will succeed.

Radicals of strong influence are working for the man here. Have ascertained absolutely in what way the agents of the newspapers bought from the Polish Police information of a confidential character.

As regards the entire Linda matter affairs have been complicated by the exercise of poor judgment on the part of Josgrove. Unless they should receive definite instructions not to come Wood and Myers will return to the United States within one week.

Information of a valuable character for the Departments of Justice and Labor has been obtained by me.

All that Gulkowsky has furnished is humbug. He is a grafter. Please send message of love to my wife.

Memorandum for Mr. Burhs:

June 26, 1922.

I have carefully checked over the cablegram dated June 22, 1922, from Mr. Myers, and considering it in connection with the one dated June 10, 1922, it would appear that Mr. Myers has reached the conclusion that nothing further can be gained from Linde.

In the cablegram dated June 10th he claims that there is no bigger liar than Linde, and he feels that to make any further attempts is time and money wasted.

The question now is whether you desire to have Mr. Myers proceed to Italy in order to cover that situation. If you do, a cablegram should be sent at once as he no doubt is making plans for an early return to the United States, judging from his recent cablegram.

Respectfully,
CABLE MESSAGE FROM THE AMERICAN MINISTER AT WARSAW,
JUNE 22, 4 P.M.1922, No. 65.

Communicates a message to Hurley for the use of the Department of Justice. The story of Morgan is Linde propaganda set afoot here. We are not behaving like Cosgrove. Myers and Wood are holding their own. The Polish judicial authority will give his consent only in case Linde should go back to the United States. A demand is made by the Judge that a statement should be made as received from the Minister for Foreign Affairs declaring Linde an innocent man. Such a statement as this I have positively declined to make. The crisis in the cabinet stands in the way of my efforts for the time being. In case right men should be sent, the Minister will make the effort to induce the authorities to discharge Linde in order that we can take him with us to the United States.
If the Minister cannot accomplish his release within the next ten days, we will sail back to the United States.
Referring to my telegram of June 10, I repeat the statements made therein. Please send a message by telephone to my wife stating that I will be back by the middle of July.

GIBSON.
Warsaw, June 16, Detective Serjeant, Clinton Wood of New York, arrived here to fetch back to the United States the notorious Wolf Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, whose name was frequently mentioned in connection with the Wall Street explosion, in September 1920. Since the charges in connection with the Wall Street explosion, against Linde, were dropped he was nevertheless retained in the Warsaw prison on a charge of blackmail. He was to be released on bail of marks 800,000 when Wood arrived and prevented his release.

Cable Message from the American Liniator at Warsaw, No. 67,
June 30, noon, 1928.

Communicates a message from Bureau to the Department of Justice.

In the case of Linde favorable action on the part of the Polish authorities is still being awaited. However, I deem the prospects for obtaining it no better than before. In regard Linde and his wife I have learned from a person who formerly associated with them in New York that Mr. Linde (Mrs. Linde ?) is believed to be the more radical. She was in very close relations with the leaders of the Communists. Mrs. Linde furnished her husband with considerable information, but she also alleged to him that he was a traitor to their cause. It may be, therefore, that some of the information concerning Wall Street which Linde had came from her. I am inclined to advise that you have her followed up if you can find her and ascertain what she is doing. At the present time Linde is in prison. We urge us to obtain bail for him, but promise us nothing in return for our action. Referring again to my cable message of June 10, I assure you that nothing has so far happened which changes the views expressed in that message. I will make frequent reports and continue here until I receive instructions.

Director, Bureau of Investigation,

Department of Justice.
For Hurley for Justice for Burns from Myers. Your cablograms July 19th, 20th, 21st, delivered to me today at Paris. Information and data in my possession of such importance that I am taking full responsibility to disregard your instructions and am sailing on the AQUITANIA due New York next Friday.

My telegram from Warsaw July 19th should explain status of Lindo matter as well as attitude of Polish authorities. Political crisis in Poland still pending and becoming acute. Lindo may or may not prove valuable to our government. Will present the facts to you personally and leave you to judge. Am taking the authority to telegraph Gibson at Warsaw and Wood requesting Wood to follow out the plans outlined by us before my departure and under no circumstances to change them until I have had a personal conference with you.

Am suggesting you advise Gunthor at Romo of my delay that I will proceed to Romo after conference with yourself.

RE: WILLIAM LINDENFELD, alias WM. LINDE

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

Pursuant to instructions and based on the excerpt from newspaper reports reading as follows:

"Mrs. Dora Lindenfeld, wife of Wm. Lindenfeld, alias Wm. Linde, 510 West 184th Street, N.Y. City, has two children, Fabian, 5 years of age, and a daughter, Ruth, 13 years of age, who is understood to be suffering from partial paralysis. Mrs. Lindenfeld is variously reported as being a clothing worker or as being employed in a millinery shop. Evidently she is a socialist as she is understood to have referred to having learned certain things from friends whom she met at the Socialist Hall. She was married to Lindenfeld about 15 years ago. On July 18, 1917, she filed a complaint against Linde, alleging non-support. On September 21st, 1917, the court of Domestic Relations, Bronx, N.Y., Magistrate Nolan, ordered Linde to pay to his wife, $10. weekly for her support. It is reported that at that time Linde could not be found by the warrant officers."

Agent, for the purpose of locating MRS. DORA LINDENFELD proceeded to 510 - West 184th Street, and P. O. Station M, 2086 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, and found that she moved to #651 Fox Street, apartment #4, Bronx, N.Y., which is the home of her sister, MRS. SHAPIRO.

At #651 Fox Street, Agent learned that MRS. SHAPIRO is now at the mountains and that MRS. LINDENFELD is at home only after 6:00 P. M. daily, and in the afternoon on Saturday. AUG 18 '22

Wm. J. Burns.
At New York, N.Y., continuing the above investigation, Agent interviewed MRS. DORA LINDE, the wife of subject, at #851 Fox Street, Bronx, N.Y., and learned that she is employed by the LION HAT CO., #596 Broadway, N.Y.City, telephone Spring 2948.

MRS. LINDE is a member of the 8th Assembly District Socialist Club, but does not attend the meetings, as she devotes her entire spare time to her daughter, RUTH, who is suffering from heart trouble and partial paralysis of left arm and leg. This child receives treatment at the Lebanon Hospital Dispensary, Westchester Avenue, and Caldwell Street, Bronx, N.Y. Her other child, FABIEN, is at the mountains with her sister, MRS. SHAPIRO.

MRS. LINDE claims that she has been separated from her husband about 5 years and during this period she has neither communicated with him, nor has she received any communication from him, directly or indirectly, and has known nothing of his whereabouts except what she has read in the newspapers. She is very anxious to divorce him and said that she is going to take advantage of some new New York State Divorce Law which is supposed to entitle one to a divorce degree when the desertion by the other continues for five successive years.

MRS. LINDE is about 5 feet 5 inches tall, weight about 100 lbs.; very thin, brown eyes, brown straight hair, bobbed, long, covering her ears, dresses plainly and neatly.

MEMORANDUM FOR W.J.B.

Linde absolutely insists that he sent some five or six reports addressed to the Slavick Newspaper Bureau, World Tower Building, 110 West 40th St., New York City. These reports were mailed from Paris, Brussels, Berlin and Prague.

Owing to the fact that Lena Spectors' lover, Sarnoff, notified former Chief Flynn that Linde was going to Europe to try to locate the driver of the wagon used in the Wall Street Explosion, I believe it possible that Flynn made arrangements to obtain these reports. Suggest that a complete investigation be made at New York Postoffice to ascertain if any request was made by Flynn or any one connected with him, or the New York Office of the Department of Justice, to obtain these reports through the mails.

Dear Sir,

In view of certain developments incident to the investigation being made by the Bureau I desire that Edward Lindgren be at once located by your office, and placed under surveillance by two competent shadow men.

The importance of this subject is very vital to the Bureau, and I suggest that before proceed-

DATE 5/1/23 BY SPER 4/22
Dear Bill:

Just a line to bring you up to date on the Linde situation.

You will remember that Myers telegraphed Mr. Barnes on June 10th, stating the situation as he saw it and asking for instructions as to whether an effort should be made to take Linde home or whether the case should be dropped. Some days passed without any reply and Myers finally telegraphed Mr. Barnes direct asking for an immediate answer. This answer came this morning, and I have just had a call from Myers and Woods.

It has been evident since the arrival of those two men that they were working under an armed truce. They apparently agree on no single detail and while they maintain the outward amenable the atmosphere is electric at all times. Myers has certain very definite opinions, among others that while Linde has the desired information he will never give away his coreligionists who are mixed up in the bomb plot; that it is a complete waste of time to have anything to do with him, and that practically everything he said is a fabric of lies. Woods, who is a very quiet and gentle sort of soul, maintains in a moderate way that he thinks there is a perceptible element of good in Hinde and that his lies are so transparent that with patience it will be possible to win his confidence and get at the small amount of truth he is able to tell. I don't know whether this very charitable attitude is justified, but I must say that it makes a pleasing impression in all this welter of human cussedness.

w. j. barns

As you will probably recollect, Barns telegraphed as follows: "To, June 15th, 4 p.m. For Myers. Cable June 10th received. Do you believe that any information subject has given is true? Do you believe he has information which is important to us? If so, what methods do you recommend for obtaining such information from him? If he has no worth while information return at once. Show this cable to Gibson and consult him as to action. Barns". I told the gentlemen when they came in this morning that I was not in a position to advise them as to what course they should take as they were far better informed than I as to the answers to the questions in the telegram and that it was precisely these answers which must determine the action to be taken. I told them that ...they were sent over here as the experts in the case with full detailed knowledge and that they must make up their own minds; that when they had decided what they wanted to do I should be glad to help them in any possible way and that they could depend upon the location for the fullest measure of cooperation.

They said that they realized all this but that did not seen to bring them much nearer to a decision for they are in complete disagreement as to what should be done. Myers says very frankly that Linde is an incorrigible lying crook (with a lot of descriptive imagery to give color to the picture); that it is a pure waste of time to bother with him any more, and that his whole desire is to chuck the business and go home.

Woods, on the other hand, says that he feels that having gone this far it is worth while to take Linde back as far as Silip Island where an effort can be made to get him to talk and then check up what he has to say. He says that he cannot guarantee any results but that he does feel that it would be too bad to miss any possible opportunity by dropping Linde at this stage of the game. He added that this was merely a personal view, as Woods was the one to make the decision and that in the end it was Myers who would be held responsible for whatever happened, so he, Woods, did not wish to urge any course of action but merely to state his opinion.

They
They both say that they are convinced Linde will accompany them if it can be arranged to have him released from prison. In his conversation with Woods Linde made a condition that he should be allowed two weeks of liberty in Warsaw to see his family as he has not had an opportunity to visit with them during the long period he had been in jail. Myers feels (and I must say that I agree with him) that this is merely an artful dodge on Linde's part to get out of prison and secure a period of two weeks in which to evaporate. Woods is reluctant to admit this but says he feels that if he cannot persuade Linde to forego this condition it is a chance we must take. I mention this merely so that you may know about it in case it becomes of particular interest in the future.

After a rather prolonged discussion it has been decided to inquire through the Polish authorities whether they are prepared to turn Linde loose and allow Dr. Guzikowski to accompany him as far as Danzig, where he can get aboard with Myers and Woods. If this can be arranged they propose to make Linde sign a paper stating that he is going with them of his own accord and at his own desire. I think this is a wise precaution in case somebody springs a story about his being kidnapped.

The whole situation is in a liquid form at the present moment but I may as well give you these few facts so that they may be on the way.

Yours,

(Signed) HUGH GIBSON.

Cable Message from the American Minister at Warsaw, July 9, 8 p.m., 1922, No.71.

Paraphrase.

Communicates a message from Myers for the Department of Justice.

The crisis here is still on and is likely to continue through the summer months and I have put off sending a reply to your message of June 30 until action of a definite character shall have been taken on the appointment of a new Cabinet. I do not deem it possible that we will get the man out of this country until a Minister of Justice who is favorable to us shall have been appointed. The man is such an outrageous liar that I put no credence in anything he states except as to the fact that he did make a prediction that there would be an explosion in Wall Street. This last statement he now denies. The Polish Diet is under the control of the radical party here and the man has friends among these. There is a story afloat, circulated it is thought through some of these radicals, that the man will, as soon as he shall have been released, institute suit against Morgan. Referring to my cablegram and the reasons suggested therein, I am inclined to recommend that the man should should never be released from jail, or brought back to the United States until I shall have been able to confer with you personally. I must confess that neither I nor Woods can get any truth out of this man. You alone can. Consequently, I make the request that you send directions to me to return at once in order that I may confer with you personally and instruct Woods to stay in Poland in order that he may see that the man is kept in prison. I do not recommend the police here or other authorities. They are of no assistance whatever. I regard the condition of political affairs as serious. Hurley can give you details. It will be possible for me to sail on the Majestic Monday and reach New York by July 25. Please send a message by telephone to my wife that I am in good health.
Referring to letter from Director, dated 8/2/22, initialed JEH:H, requesting that a complete investigation be made relative to mail addressed to the Slavick Newspaper Bureau, 110 W. 40th St., during the months of February, March, April, and May, 1921. Agent interviewed JOSEPH MORRISSEY, Chief Clerk, Supt.'s Office, Times Square Post Office, who showed Agent all records of tracings applied for at that office and Agent ascertained that at no time were any requests made for tracings of mail addressed to SLAVICK NEWSPAPER BUREAU.

Agent also interviewed P. O. CARRIER #2686, who stated that no one ever approached him or asked any questions relative to the above matter.

Agent then interviewed JAMES STEVENSON, Chief Clerk, Inspector's Office, of the General Post Office, 8th Ave. and 31st St., and learned that no requests were ever made for tracings on the above matter.

Unless further advised, this matter is considered closed.

Mr. William J. Burns,
Director of the Department of Justice,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir,

I take great pleasure in sending you, dear sir, a few nice words and at the same time express to your government for my government the kindest thanks for the co-operation of the two experienced men, who have been delegated to Poland, Mr. Sylvester Cosgrove and Dr. Paul Altendorf. They aided us in locating William Lindenfeld, who was reported to us in April, 1929, as a very dangerous man. It was difficult to capture Lindenfeld because he knew your office was looking for him. He therefore kept in hiding and his family aided him in doing this.

In this case, in which I am very much interested, the Morgan Wagon Explosion which Lindenfeld is mixed up in - I never doubted about it and have taken every precaution and time to find out what part Lindenfeld took in this. We are short some material which no doubt is in the United States and which would be of great value to me to get and would help my investigation. Furthermore, Lindenfeld knows he is guilty and is keeping quiet now and refuses to give further statements.

For my part I have done all I could that Lindenfeld is kept in very strict order in jail thoroughly guarded so he will not be with anyone outside and he...
Furthermore, we are still investigating.

Your Mr. Cosgrove and Dr. Altendorf know I shall take care of this case but please inform me by cable should anything occur there which will help my investigation.

As to my trip to the United States in this case should I be wanted I shall be very glad to go.

Ending these few lines I express my cordial wishes.

Uważam za miły obowiązek przesłać Wielmożnemu Panu kilka słów w sprawie obchodzącej w równej mierze Pański jak i moj Rząd a zarazem wyrazić najserdeczniejsze podziękovanie za współpracę tak wybitnych fachowców i milięch kolegów jak delegowani do Polski Panowie Sylwester Cosgrove i Dr. Paweł Altendorf, Po wielu trudach, mozolnych poszukiwaniach i wielu zawodach udało się nam w końcu przyaresztować Władysława Lindenfelda vel Wiillama Lindego, którego sygnalizowano tutejszej Policji już w lipcu 1971 jako bardzo niebezpiecznego osobnika. Ujęcie Lindenfelda było tem trudniejsze ponieważ wiedząc o posęgu zaaranżowanym przez Wielmożnego Pana zachowywał się bardzo ostrożnie i działał z ukrycia w czem pomagała mu jego rodzina. Zainteresowany sprawą zamachu na bank Morgana w którą Lindenfeld niewątpliwie jest wmięszany wie szczędziłem czasu ani zachodu, by wyświetlić rolę jaką w tej sprawie odegrał Lindenfeld. Brak materiału zebranego w Amerce, chwilowa niemożność ocenienia tegoż materjali utrudniają mi dalszą pracę, zwłaszcza iż Lindenfeld zorientował się stał się milczącym i nie chce składać dalszych zeznań. Za moj stron uczyniłem wszystko, aby władze więzienne zachowały co do Lindenfelda jak największe środki ostrożności, tak by nie mógł się komunikować ze światem lub uciec.

[Podpisanie]

Warszawa dnia 8 stycznia 1922.
I arrived in Paris March 7, 1921, and registered at the Continental Hotel. Cabled my address to the United States.

Two days later I went to the Press Bureau on La Saunders Street where I met Mr. Lesinokowiskeiego, who is a member of the Third International. I ascertained the meeting of the 3rd International would be held in Amsterdam, Holland instead of in Switzerland.

I ascertained that Barber and his wife were in Paris. I immediately cabled this information to New York.

I arranged with Mr. Lesinokowiskeiego to go to Amsterdam. A few days later, however, I received information that the meeting would be held in Brussels, on March 18.

I left for Brussels. While in Brussels I lived with my cousin on Sumner Street. I went to the newspaper office but did not meet anyone I knew.

I proceeded to the Workmen's Club on Sonson Street - the Communists meet here. The next day at 2 p.m. I met Mr. Vauban at the above mentioned place. He stated there was going to be a big meeting and one of the Communists would deliver a lecture. He also stated Barber had arrived from Amsterdam, and that he was at home in the company of Armano.

I proceeded to Barber's home accompanied by Vauban. Barber was very much surprised to see me in Brussels but I told him the newspaper sent me over and showed him my credentials which satisfied him. Barber told me the whole Technical Committee would be here in a short time.
Miriam, Barber's wife, was with him, also Joe, who belongs to the Communists of America.

The next day there arrived Hoffman and Kaulki from Vienna - Ignatow and Kurmin from Russia and E. Vargo, from Russia, representing the Bureau of the 3rd International of Russia and Poland.

He formerly represented Germany. Mr. Eichler represented Japan and Switzerland and America by Stevenson. As sufficient delegates had not arrived the meeting was postponed and all the delegates left for Paris. All the Americans had Canadian passports.

During our stay in Paris we often visited the Workmen's Gazette. There were six of us. We started the conversation about the Wall Street Explosion. The discussion took place between Barber, Kurmin, Ignatow and myself. I ascertained the bomb was made on 4th Street, N.Y. in a shop and that Barber and Stanley were the men responsible. It was clearly stated as I have reported and I would give my head as guarantee.

I left Paris with Barber and Miriam for Warsaw. First we went to Prague and then to Warsaw where I left Barber and Miriam who proceeded to Danzig, then to Kovel then to Riga and from there they went to Moscow. I immediately cabled this information to New York.

I remained three weeks in Warsaw and left my passport in Warsaw; I procured a fictitious passport and went to Vienna and Austria and then to Berlin and from Berlin to Riga. Then I met Mr. Yansono and Mr. Manynistovw, Mr. Yansono's cousin. We had a conference in the Grand Hotel with Max Beer and Mr. Boreasen and Mr. Reinsteinem. After a long conference with closed doors I met Mr. Yansono, who is a very dear friend of mine. He told me he had taken a large sum of money to the United States for the elections (Luisa do A.F.P. (?)) and to aid the Communists in their propaganda, and as there are some American newspaper men here in Russia he will release Mr. Steitman, because they will not let him go to Russia. The same evening we met Herman Bernstein from a newspaper and Mr. Johnson told him that Russia would not allow him to come in and he returns to America. I have spoken a lot with Johnson and he told me that through his bank will come about $2,000,000.00 for propaganda. Johnson stated that first he must get the A.F.P. and after that start a revolution.

I met Mr. Luica Levine, of Chicago - he was an instructor in the Red Army in Russia. I was with him a few days. He told me if Mr. Rodney's plans are accepted he will guarantee there will be a revolution in America in one year and this will be a big revolution. He did not want to show me the plans.

I met in Riga Mr. Nosaka, from Japan. He had a conference with Mr. Reinsteinem and Beer.

Noquime of Russia
Arlander of Spain
Mayer of Germany
Tom Maux of Hungary
Androistine of America - Androistine is secretary of the Communist Party.
After much trouble I was allowed to attend two conferences. The Disarmament Conference at Washington, D.C. was discussed. They do not believe any good will come of this.

Mr. Nosaka who is officially representing his nation, stated that the Japanese government should give some money for propaganda and if the revolution occurs Japan will start war against the United States.

Mr. Beer carries documents of previous conferences that have been held. In January Beer expects to be in the United States. At present he is in London - his address is 6 Travistock Square London, W.S.

On this occasion they made Japan bring the 3rd International Japanese flag and stated they should deliver explosive material to the United States. Mr. Nosaka discussed a rebellion in California. This was the big discussion of the meeting. Mr. Nosaka has promised money. They decided to elect three men.

Reinsteinem
Beer
Nosaka

They will represent the 3rd International. This will be a separate report.
I have talked over with Reinsteinem the Wall Street Explosion. He also told me that Barber, Stevens and the rest are in the United States. In a long conversation with Reinsteinem I have reached the head Technical Committee of the Communists. The members are in Chicago. He is supposed to be a lawyer by the name of Heller. Papers can be found at his place.

I also spoke to Mr. Quentin from San Francisco. He repeated to me that this discussion has been in the Paris newspapers. Quentin is now in San Francisco - he is now the head of the Communists Party in San Francisco.

I met in Riga Mr. Lozowski - I previously met him in Paris - he is a member of the 3rd International. In a long conversation with Mr. Lozowski he stated they were worrying a lot about this big revolution in the United States - this is the idea of the Communist Party, but they have not much hope of carrying it out. Between them they have organized something new in England and Italy but it will not be a success if their hopes of starting in the United States or Central America are not realized. They are short sufficient capital and supplies. Mr. Reinsteinem could get the American proletariat to start a revolution - they are not very well organized at present but from the seven million they could organize a good Red Army. It is a fact that the Socialist Party, which numbers 12,000, could not get 300 men to strike. The whole A.F.P. will join the Communist Party if they will deal with Clark from the A.F.P.
Johnson has made the same manifesto - he told this to Hessinger and also in a conversation with Lenin in Moscow. Lenin stated all the tailors will join the A.F.P. - even Louise would come over to our party and to the A.F.P. and the whole matter would be in our hands.

It is hoped that Harding will be the last capitalistic President - it is their idea he will not serve his full term. They state it is better that the Republican Party has won in the last election - the working men in America could never expect anything from the Democrats but they can expect less from the Republicans.

I had a long talk with Mr. Lochenski - he stated if the proletariat is established in America, Russia and other countries then the Japanese will have to compromise with them - they should come in the same as the United States. I asked if Japan is helping in any way. He stated they are helping for the reason that in California and other states the Japanese are ill treated. The feeling of the Japanese toward the United States is not friendly. He stated they must gain this proletariat in America from every State and then the 3rd International on the other side they are sure of victory.

I also saw Mr. Levine. He stated the Red Army and the 3rd International sent out two transports of Reds to Mexico and Canada. They will establish an office in Mexico and Canada. There will be a man in charge of each office who will conduct drills. They already have men and ammunition on the border of the United States.
I asked him how much arms they had - he stated they had some in cellars in different small cities.

I would advise that a search be made of the premises of a man named Hall or Hale - he is a mechanic in Chicago or Baltimore. The man controlling these arms is one named Kleinman - the organizer of the Amalgamated Clothing Union of America. He should be very closely watched. Kleinman had an office in New York. In my opinion Kleinman had something to do with the wagon in connection with the Wall Street Explosion. He is now an officer in the Red Army in America. He is an agitator and operates among the different Unions. He works with Hoffman of the Jewish Forward paper. He has changed his name in America. His name can be ascertained at the Jewish Union.

I endeavored to obtain from Miriam Barber information relative to the Wall Street Explosion. She mentioned the name of Aswry, who is an organizer and has been in a conference with Androshine. He begged me to attend the meeting of the 3rd International. I promised to do so. I was then introduced to Aronoff and they got me in the committee. Before I left New York Mr. Burns stated he would see that I was properly protected.

I ascertained that Androshine will call for three and a half million dollars from the 3rd International for use in the United States. I asked how the money would reach the United States and who would get it. He stated they would have to organize... fictitious business bureau and in that way they could work freely; also, the people in charge of these bureaus would have an opportunity to deliver lectures.

I also spoke to Mr. Puseton—he stated he had three good chemists to go from Moscow to America. He mentioned their names but I do not recall them. The chemists will work in laboratories. I asked if they were going to make explosives. He stated they were and he is to make a list of the people he wants. I questioned him further but he could not give me any information at the present time—he stated the results would show.

I made out all my papers and left with Partte and Erlich for Petrograd. We remained there from the morning until the evening. We could not secure rooms. In the evening we left for Moscow. At the station I met Mr. Utermeyer, correspondent for the American newspapers. Utermeyer took me to his place—I was with him for two days. I then went to another place. A Mr. Czeryn secured a room for me in a private home with Mr. Fontaine—he is from America.

I was introduced to Mr. Zolatorff. He is secretary to Mr. Lenawiova—he is not in Moscow but will return in a few days.

I went to see Mr. Andrejowia formerly known as Dr. Goldberg. He has been in America—he is head of the Red Army. It was very difficult to see Mrs. Andrejowia. I also saw Mr. Andrejowia and had to show my credentials. I was with him five and one half hours. He told me that a year ago Max Paine, from America, was to see him. He and Max have worked out all the plans. for the Red Army in the United States. He is thinking about coming to the United States very soon.

Olgein and Reinsteinem are the important men of the 3rd International. They have all kinds of literature for use in America. Mr. Olgein is going to America to take charge of this work and will spend three and a half million dollars.

I went to see Goldberg at his office. He was working out a plan with Paine relative to the army in America.

1 - will be in St. Paul
2 - in Detroit
3 - in San Francisco
4 - in St. Paul. Headquarters will be in New York.

This will be started by one of the cleverest men in the Red Army. They will bring in all unemployed to get an army of 200,000.

The bulletin will come out every two weeks and they will be informed as to what the Central Committee is doing.
Only one member will know the real movements and he will know the correct address of the committee. Trotsky will help to organize - he will work out a plan for a revolution in the United States.

Mr. Andestorff told me of other plans in different countries.

I have met Mr. Arlandis from Spain. He just returned from Lille where there was a meeting of the Red Trade Union. The Congress has accepted his resolutions. They are endeavoring to have the 3rd International get control of the A.F.P. so that Congress can start agitating and recruit revolutionists.

Mr. Bird, a Syndicalist, will carry on the agitation for the A.F.P. This will start February 20th, 1922, and will meet in connection with the 3rd International.

Then Mr. Reinsteinem arrived. I accompanied him to the Hotel European where I had a long conference with him. He informed me that Trotsky and Mr. Zinawieb, Communists, started in the United States, but Lenin was against it.

Had a conference with Mr. Anganius Varga.

a murdering Congress - they will

Mr. Harding will have a very everything will be
We should go to the capitalists and explain the big revolution so they will come on our side - they must join our side.

Mr. Nosaka, the Japanese, is also planning a revolution in Japan. We must get the capital of the whole world together and when we get the whole world the Americans must join us.

Mr. Marchlewski and General Jadek from Poland will help in the revolution in Poland.

On the third day Mr. Zolatorowski explained that in 29 countries the representatives and delegates of the Communist party were not fully qualified. Therefore, they could not attend the meeting. My boss, Mr. William J. Burns told me by all means to attend all the meetings. I begged Mr. Boris Reinsteinem to use his influence to have me appointed a delegate and that is how I came into the 3rd International Congress - After six days work I attended the conference. I found

Mr. Zolato
Mr. Zinawieff
Mr. Rambau
Mr. Daquerve
Mr. Androsine

The above is a list of the delegates.

I ascertained they are organizing armies and sending out agitators and planning all sorts of revolutions and riots.

They are also financing this work through the 3rd International, and Mr. Zinawieff will work with the Japanese to finance for the American propaganda. They also have a Bureau in Germany from which they send communications to the United States.

When the meeting ended Mr. Licinikow told me to do my best and tell the people they should take this meeting very seriously - furthermore, that Mr. Zinawieff should go back to the committee, where a meeting is held, and give out all the lectures so that the reports should be published. The minutes of the lectures were put in the files. In four days the matter will be gone over and then Mr. Erlich will give his ideas about the committee from Germany and if his committee will come to the conclusion about the Russians it will be an easy thing for France and England to make things easy in France for Germany. They made up their mind to send Mr. Bisch to France to accomplish his work.

I went to see Martens and asked why Bisch is going out so strong against the different work that is being done in America. When he was in America he was very prominent and strong in his mind why is he so much against Mr. Erlich. Martens stated he would like to go to America.

Then I called to see Mr. Andrejowia and asked him what he thought about this. He stated he was sending some people to America. I asked if he would go to America to see this revolution. He stated he thought he would be in America in March.

In a few days I went to see Mr. Reinsteinem. He would not see me in the Bureau so I made an appointment. I tried to get in touch with some other.
Then I went to see Mr. Zinawieff to secure a certificate blank. He promised to give me some information.

Then I met Mr. Reizman and had a long conversation with him relative to Communistic matters. He stated these matters would be gone over at the Committee Meetings.

At the meeting I attended they decided to give eight million rubles for American Communistic propaganda. It was decided to pick out some people and send them over to prepare for this revolution. They will be paid $85.00 a week for this kind of work. Offices will be established in Canada and Mexico. Mail will go to Mexico and then be sent by courier. All reports will be given one man. He will send them to Europe.

I ascertained all about the movements in different countries. I have this in my possession but not in writing.

Dear Mr. Burns:

With reference to my telephonic communication, I hasten to send you herewith the following information which has just been received from Warsaw:

"Delicate situation, slow progress on arrival, Linden away evading authorities. Finally met him through father several interviews, it may prove lies. He is writing full report, if story true matter solved, doubt it. Facilities for frequent communication with you disappointing. All mail dangerous except through Legation which has no regular mail service only occasionally opportunities for volunteer courier between Berlin and Paris at intervals of several weeks. May have to go there to mail report, will cable in my code information after another interview. Altendorf not here, expected few days. (Signed) Sylvester".

Pursuant to instructions to locate Ray Clark I proceeded to Brooklyn P. O. to Inspector Killeen's office and requested him to verify correct address of Mr. Clark of whom there were two, 274 Winthrop Ave. Brooklyn, and 1176 E. 13th St., Brooklyn. Inspector Killeen telephoned station covering above addresses and ascertained there was a removal from 274 Winthrop Avenue to 1176 E. 13th St. in June, 1921. Agent then communicated with Mr. Clark at 13th St. address and requested him to meet Agent Charles Scully at Essex Market Court, 2nd Avenue and 2nd St. New York, September 11, 1922, at 9:00 A.M., for the purpose of identifying prisoner that was suspected of possibly being implicated in the Wall Street Explosion. Mr. Clark agreed to report as requested.

Dear Mr. Hinde:

I received your letter dated August 9, 1935, and have read the same with careful attention.

I must frankly state, however, that I had given very careful consideration to all angles of the matter involved, and fully appreciate the various circumstances to which you have referred. However, the investigation is at a complete standstill, and nothing can be done until I have a conference with you. It is impossible to proceed in any further manner in the investigation until such conference is had, and I, therefore, must insist that you comply with my previous request, and suggest that you return at once to the United States with Mr. Clinton Good in order that we may personally go over the matter together.

Anticipating, therefore, that I shall see you at an early date, I am,

Very truly yours,

Cable Message from the American Legation at Warsaw, dated September 8, 10 A. M., 1922, No. 96, received September 10, 4:34 A. M., 1922.

Paraphrase:

Communicates a message signed Wood to Hurley for Justice for Burns. Linde says he must receive a payment of $500 before he quits Warsaw. He says unless they get this, his family will freeze or starve. According to his statement, with a view to defraying the expenses of his arrest, they either sold or pawned all their property and after that they borrowed money. The above amount he says can be taken out of the salary now due him. I have no funds from which I can pay what he asks. My funds will last a fortnight and will cover the amount necessary for the passage of Linde and Wood by a ship of the Baltic-America line, to New York from Danzig. Judge Glass' vacation is just over and he is now back here. Am still waiting for the Polish authorities to answer and take action. All assistance possible is given by Legation. Please answer at once.

William J. Burns, Esquire,
Director of the Department of Justice,
Washington, D.C.

Honorable Sir:

I am pleased to acknowledge your kind telegram of August 4th. I am very happy that you say in your telegram that you are satisfied that I will play fair. Fairness with you was my motto during the five years that I was employed by you. I said before in my letter to you through Mr. Myers that I never thought and do not think now to double-cross you. You would be the last man on earth I would double-cross, and therefore all the time I worked for you. I was honest and fair in my work and I know that you feel that I was honest and that makes me very happy. I think you feel that I now have a right to have bad feelings against the concern of the Burns Detective Bureau in New York. Now I am giving you my word of honor as a man that I haven't any personal feelings toward you. I admire you too much to have any bad personal feelings and therefore I am putting all my personal feelings aside and the only object in my life just now is that you could say to your friends that whatever doubt there was about my honesty or my sincerity was wrong and that you could say that I am honest and sincere and show these people that you were right. By your telegram I should now come back to the States. I hope you will let me continue here for the good of my investigation which I have been waiting three years and suffering enough during eight months to bring to a successful end. To bring that investigation to a success I cannot come to the States just now. From one side I would be very willing and happy to come to the States now and talk to you personally and show you that I was right. Now I think that I have just

Sincerely,

RECORDED
an opportunity to show you with action, not only with talk, in my reports that I was right — by showing you right away one fact that I was right in my investigation. If you take and look up my report of December 30, 1920 — a memorandum to the Principal — and read the first paragraph where I say there was also two couriers from the Third International from Moscow, namely Bernard Wolf and the Russian chemist. I have just succeeded in locating that Russian chemist, and you will see that my memorandum does correspond with the reports which Mr. Clinton W. Wood is sending to you and also pictures enclosed with this letter. The reports are not made by me. I succeeded by very hard work to get the inspector and the secretary of the jail where I was serving to act for us as agents. And the inspector was stringing this chemist and you will read in the report what the inspector writes about it and you will see, as I said before, my report corresponds with his reports. This chemist is now out of jail and I have him under strict surveillance. We could get him any time we wanted. I also made connections here that in a very short time I will know where Shedenits and Barber are. My leaving Warsaw now will mean that I will lose everything that I now have on my hands and I cannot guarantee you that I could get him back. If I should go now to the States that would mean that I would lose three months as the election in Poland will be the 5th of November and before the election
I expect that all these people shall come here and be in Poland as I explained in my letters and as Mr. Myers will also explain to you, that means that I will lose all the things that I can get now. In God's name I beg you do not spoil my work as Cosgrove spoiled it.
I would like to come back now to the States with that which I was sent for sent for and only could come back to the States with that if only you would give a free hand under the direction of Mr. Wood and a personal representative of yours to work. And I can assure you that it will not take us long to bring you just these people whom we are after.

I also want to tell you here that I do not fear under any circumstances to come to the United States. First of all I do not feel guilty of any crime. I should be afraid to come to the States certainly if somebody in the United States should attempt to frame me up. I know that you are too honorable and you were too good to me that you would not allow such a thing to be done. Now as I said in the beginning of my letter, now is the time for me to be here, and I have no right — I feel personally that I have no right under any circumstances, to leave the post where I am now. For after being out four weeks from jail I did more work than I did the two years I was on this investigation in the States. As you see I have already located one. That one will positively give me more. On the other hand I make other inquiries here and I have just now a connection with the Russian Communists that will establish me in their confidence and I am getting from them many things which will be very, very valuable for us. All that I would like is to talk to you — if I could talk to you personally and explain to you that matter. You know it is very hard to explain on paper. You had confidence in me. I beg you, do not lose that confidence and give me some time more and I shall be in a position to give that what you expect from me. There is only one way to do that; if you leave me at the post where I now am.

The directions that Mr. Wood gave were a very great help to me to get to that chemist and his advice to me is so valuable I wish to God that from the beginning of that investigation Wood had supervised. I am sure I would not be not be in jail, you would not have spent so much money and the people who are guilty of crime would long ago be punished. I know I have no right to say to my superior and ask him to come over here. I know that as Director of the Department of Justice my superior must be busy day and night.

Now I take this opportunity, for the good of our investigation, not only for the investigation of the bomb plots, but greater and bigger investigations – that you may be able to choke the radical movement in the United States if you would take a trip for a couple of weeks and come over here. Your presence would be very, very desirable. I can't express in a letter how desirable your presence here would be for a couple of days to establish the investigation as it should be done. Now if there is not a possibility of your health and of your position permitting you to come, please send somebody who shall represent you personally. I can guarantee you that you will make history in the United States and I hope that I will be a big factor in assisting you to make history.

I succeeded in getting the inspector and the secretary of the jail where many communists are arrested and many of these communists were in the United States who belong to different committees of the American Communist Party. I also succeeded in getting a very important man from the Communist Party here to work for us. I could guarantee for him and till now he is doing very good work. But the one trouble is that Mr. Wood just stopped all the expenses except my salary because he is not authorized by you to continue them. I hope that by receiving this letter you will send right away a cablegram to Mr. Wood and authorize him to go ahead with the investigation. I beg you again and again for the good of our cause and for the good of humanity and justice do not call me back just now because I feel, as I said before, that I have no right to leave this neighborhood for just one minute and I hope that after reading the report of Inspector Nowakowski you will see that we are doing good work here and we are getting that which I want.
I also want to beg you, Mr. Burns, that you should take care of my family. That my wife shall be enabled to give my children food and shoes. That my children shall not curse me for leaving them without any means to live. I hope that after reading my letter and discussing with Mr. Myers all the particulars that he knows, you will authorize Mr. Wood and me to go ahead with our work. I also hope that you will find time to come over here and give some directions for that work because I have to tell you that it is a very big job to undertake and that every advice and direction from you will be a wonderful thing for us here. I hope and trust that you will take my letter into consideration and that you will think over carefully what I say in this letter and you will see that I am right.

I am expecting a letter from you as quickly as possible.

I wish you the best health and success, and remain,

Very sincerely yours,

Re: Biernick

Aug 2nd 1922

In completion of previously gathered details concern- ing Biernick, I wish to add: Biernick expressed himself to me; that he fears his activities in the past in foreign countries. He feels that evidence against him reached the point of justice. Where they will make of it a necessary use. In view of that, 306 after his release from prison, he will make an effort to go to America where he thinks he has been forgotten. Eventually to Upper Silesia. Money he is to get at E. Bank in Danzig, where he has a check of 315,000 for Communist work from America.

Hereewith enclosed 2 photographs taken Aug 1st 1922.

Recently I had a chance to get in touch with Bienenick. In the course of our conversation, I succeeded in ascertaining that Bienenick a few days ago, after leaving prison, is contemplating a trip to Upper Silesia, where he is engaged to an American concern in building the railroad in the vicinity of Katowice. Then he remarked of possessing a few passports enabling him at any time to go to a foreign country. Again he stated he is correspond ing with Berlin, Moscow, Danzig, and New York, he also admitted that while an officer of the Regular German Infantry, others have been organizing soldiers meetings and afterwards has participated in the Berlin Communist revolution.

Bienenick has brought to my knowledge, that he was instructed from the Executive Committee of the Third (3rd) International Berlin Branch to assassinate Sheideman in which he failed, due to Sheideman escape from the 3rd floor through a hole in the ceiling. Bienenick again stated the Executive Board in Berlin had assigned him to the 3rd International at Moscow. In his reports of the convention, he asserted many affairs of great import have been undertaken which are known to him up to him as the general plan of the Communist Party. The tales of which he couldn't tell me as yet. Bienenick has given me the following nick names under which he lived in Germany, Poland, and America, namely: Luski, Bienenick, and Joe Ryz, his real name is Bienenick among others Bienenick has told me of activities of Polish Communists male and female, he named the well known active member Vera who is being sought by the Dept. of Justice. About Communism in America and his activities there, Bienenick spoke very little and with reservation adding that he worked there till fearing his arrest left for Poland. He asserted among others there are a great many members belonging to the party on America who are now without lack of capital is responsible for limited agitation here. Bienenick also told me in the month of May, 1920, by orders of the Executive Board of the Communist Party in Berlin he was sent to the Congress of the 3rd International in Moscow. After participating at the Congress, the 3rd International delegated him as a courier to America. Being over there a few months he returned to Poland and worked in Galicia, Slesia and Warsaw. He was organizer of the educational committee and installed illegal libraries. He also organized meetings and strikes and was recently arrested at a strike. Bincnick also told me he was instructor of machine gun and bombs etc.

He also told me he is an inventor of a bomb with gas. When thrown at a range of 10 or 20 paces explodes and causes gas poisoning.

Dear Sirs,-

I have just received a communication from Linde in which he goes into considerable detail concerning the reasons why he could not come to the United States at the present time, phrasing that it would be prejudicial to investigation.

I had given full consideration to all angles of the matter, and must still insist that he return to the United States at once.

I am enclosing a letter to Linde, delivered to me, which I wish you to deliver to him, impressing upon him the importance of returning at once, if at all, as a witness in the investigation.

LINDENFELD ARRESTED
ONCE MORE IN WARSAW
Alleged Accomplice in Wall Street
Explosion Is Held in Passport Fraud.

WARSAW, Oct. 11—Wolfe Lindenfeld, who was arrested last year in connection with the great Wall Street explosion in New York City and who was recently released on bail here, has been rearrested on a charge of obtaining $600 from various persons for whom he promised to get American passport visas.

Lindenfeld, also known as William Linde, when arrested in Warsaw last year was said to have given the names of the ring leaders in the Wall Street bomb explosion of 1920, but to have declined to tell his whereabouts at the time. A dispatch from Warsaw on June 25 announced the arrival there of Detective Sergeant Wood of the New York police, who, it was stated, had been loaned to the Department of Justice at Washington to go to Poland and bring back Lindenfeld.

The dispatch added that bail was refused to Lindenfeld, and the charges in connection with the Wall Street explosion had been suspended, but that the prisoner would be held on new allegations of blackmail and extortion. The recent "release" was probably connected with these charges.

The attached article from the New York Herald of March 31st, is based on a confidential circular which we have been sending to Postmasters and Chiefs of Police in eastern cities and towns for the past two months, with a view to establishing the identity of the driver of the wagon which hauled the explosives to Wall Street on September 16, 1920.

The pictures referred to are the result of an examination of several hundred photographs of anarchists, from which two were selected by the only witness we have who can identify the driver.

A commercial artist made a composite wash drawing of the two photographs with such changes as were suggested by our witness. The wash drawings were then photographed and a large number of them circulated. Many replies to the circular have been received, all of which have been or are under inves-
I have no knowledge as to how or where the newspaper obtained the circular and photograph. It certainly was without my knowledge or consent. Immediately upon the publication of this article other newspapers took it up and elaborated on it, hence the flare-up in the New York newspapers of last week.

when questioned as to his whereabouts in September, he, Ligi, immediately became ill and refused to talk further.

Ligi is an admitted anarchist, and admits being connected with Galliani who was deported as an anarchist, from this country in June 1919 and is now a fugitive in Switzerland with one Nicolo Recchi who had to do with the distribution of the bombs that were exploded in eleven different cities in the early part of June, 1919.

Investigation made by this Department proves beyond doubt that the Galliani group of anarchists are responsible for the several bomb outrages that have occurred during the last two years.

Arrangements are being made at this time to have witnesses Smith and Nally go to Scranton so that it can be definitely ascertained whether or not they can identify Ligi as the man who drove the wagon containing the explosive that caused the death of some thirty-eight people in Wall Street.

Every effort is being made also to locate the movements of Ligi during September of last year.

Information concerning this arrest was secured by the newspapers from the Scranton police and not from Special Agent Ahern of this Bureau.

U. S. TRAILS MAN IN

Charles J. Scully was in charge in the absence of the chief. Mr. Scully, as the head of what is known as the Federal "Red Squad," was one of the first officers on the scene after the Wall street disaster. Since the caluminy he has been one of the most active agents of the many engaged in attempting to solve the mystery. It may fairly be said that those efforts have never been relaxed. But Mr. Scully, when questioned yesterday, refused to discuss the latest phase of the case in any manner in the absence of Mr. Flynn.

Secrecy Around Case.

As illustrative of the reticence and secrecy with which the affair still is surrounded, it is even denied in another official quarter that the suspect who escapes in the police hunt is known by name. A reported was informed, there was a circular of a sort containing a description of a man who was wanted, but that the man's name, not even known, or was he designated, the circular in question by one who always was a favorite of agents.

The only tangible bit of evidence that gave any promise whatever of leading the forces of justice to the perpetrators of the crime. As such its importance was realized instantly by the detectives who are about the scene of the explosion while the ground still was cumbered with the dying and the dead. The shoes from the dead horse beside the wrecked wagon were subjected to the closest scrutiny and it was reported some weeks later that the police had located, the blacksmith who probably shod the animal.

It was that same line of inquiry which, it now is believed, was established almost conclusively the identity of the "Red" who toiled the day table old wagon at noonday of September 16 into its position where a few moments later it became the focus of unparalleled havoc and destruction.

The New York Herald learned Saturday that William Scully, chief of the 10th Ward of the Department of Justice, has sent to certain police chiefs and detectives through the country a circular poster containing a description of the man believed to be the driver of the bomb wagon.

In the largest sense, no facts have been supplemented by a line of investigation. As such the circular are sought. At the same time the anarchists they are hunting. They are not actual photographs for no photographs of the suspect could be obtained.

The Federal agents and detectives who have cooperated with them, however, have found certain persons who are familiar with the personal appearance description of the supposed death wagon. By utilizing an aval of information, the suspects were shown to be three men of a name, but dyed hair and photographs in the wash dyes, which showed several of the suspect's one-time acquaintances good likenesses of him. The suspect is described as being about 6 feet, 8 inches tall, and with rather high cheek bones. The three portraits are respectively a full face, a three-quarters view of a man apparently slightly under middle age. One aspect of the face in which is pulled down over the eyes, but with the visor of the cap tipped up, and another picture the man for whom the police of the world now are hunting as wearing an old fedora.

Personal Work of Chief.

It is known that Chief Flynn himself has done a considerable amount of personal work upon his latest aspect of one of the most mysterious cases that ever enlisted his trained experience. He and his closest associates, it is said, while they do not reveal the identity of the man they seek with that of the driver of the bomb wagon as conclusively established, nevertheless regard him as probably the most promising yet found. They are extremely anxious to locate the man: the following persons have been a name.

HOOVER
MEMORANDUM FROM DIRECTOR
W. J. FLYNN, by telephone
from New York, N. Y.

On Tuesday, April 19, as a result of investigation made by Special Agent, P. J. Ahern, concerning the Wall Street explosion of September 16, 1920, one Titto Ligi, alias Augusto D'Ataletti, alias Talonti, was taken into custody by the Scranton, Pa., police and held on the technical charge of having given a false name registering for the selective draft, Board No. 7, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Immediately upon the receipt of information concerning Ligi's arrest, a number of persons from whom statements had previously been taken, and who had stated that they had seen the driver of the wagon used to transport the explosive, were called to the office of the Bureau of Investigation, New York City, and shown some twenty-five photographs, among them that of Ligi. Two of these persons, namely, Smith and Nally, selected the photograph of Ligi as that of a man closely resembling the driver of the aforementioned wagon.

Ligi has been interrogated by Special Agent Ahern and members of the Scranton police department, and has made known his activities up until the first of September, 1920, and February 25, 1921

Dear Sir:

Attached hereto is a composite photograph of the driver of the horse and wagon, which carried explosives to Wall Street, New York City, on September 16, 1920. This photograph is identified by the Blacksmith who shod the horse on the day previous to the explosion, and it is also identified by another man who states it resembles one VINCENZO LEGGIO of New York City who is at present thought to be visiting Italian friends in the vicinities of Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Rochester, New York, and through the State of Connecticut.

The description of this man has been circulated and is given here for your information should you not be conversant with it.

Apparrelly Italian, 28 or 30 years old; 5 feet 6 inches; medium build; broad shoulders; dark hair; dark complexion; small dark mustache, which at the date of the explosion represented about two weeks' growth. He wore a golf cap, pulled down over his forehead, and khaki shirt turned in at the neck, as indicated in photograph.

Please call the attention of the Carriers in your Post Office to these photographs which are of the same man; pledge them to secrecy and instruct them that should they see any Italian who resembles photo (especially the one showing cap pulled down over the eyes), and who answers the description above given, to quietly locate him and report result to you immediately, after which please convey to me as quickly as possible.

WALL STREET BOMBING SUSPECT BROUGHT BACK FROM ELLIS ISLAND

Wolfe Lindenfeld Held at Ellis Island
With New Roundup Hinted

A new roundup of suspects in the Wall Street bomb disaster of 1920 loomed last night in the wake of secret activity by Department of Justice agents and the attention incommunicado on Ellis Island yesterday of Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, whom William J. Burns called "the only man in the world who knows all about the explosion" when he was arrested last year in Lodz.

Lindenfeld was brought here from Russia on the steamer ship Lithuania accompanied by Detective Sergeant Clinton W. Wood, sent to Warsaw by Chief Burns last May to investigate the reporter "confession" of Lindenfeld and other clues in the bomb horror. Wood reported to his superiors last night.

What the Government intends to do with Lindenfeld remains conjecture. Burns said he would not be taken to Washington, and local Department of Justice agents pretended to know nothing about the alleged suspect's detention. They were silent when asked about a report that several anarchists had been named by the prisoner.

Lindenfeld was reported on a hunger strike yesterday on Ellis Island. He is alone in Room 6, and an armed guard watched the door. He did not enter the dining room, and no food was sent to him for breakfast or lunch. This led to an unconfirmed report that he was being given a third degree and to the hunger strike rumor.

Lindenfeld was arrested in Lodz Dec. 16, 1921, by Polish Secret Service agents at the request of Sylvester Cosgrove, an agent of the Department of Justice, for information which he was alleged to have given about the bomb mystery.

The former suspect went to Europe originally as a Department of Justice agent assigned to keep track of anarchist operations against the United States.

Cosgrove cabled that Lindenfeld had named the blacksmith who made the bomb and said that the money was paid at 100 West 40th Street.

Dear Sir:

Confidential Informant reports that during the past year he has on a few occasions met a certain Russian anarchist to whom he paid no particular attention as he appeared to be merely one of the less interested members of the Russian Anarchist organizations. Last night Informant met this Russian and conversed with him and other Russians. In the course of the conversation subject bragged about the great work which he had done for "the cause", saying that he had been involved in robberies, murders and explosions. Among other things he stated that he had been active in anarchist work in Italy and had been arrested there about one week prior to the arrest of MALATESTA, the famous Italian Anarchist. He stated that he had been arrested in Philadelphia in 1919 for carrying on I.W.W. propaganda. At that time, he was believed by the Police to be an Italian, but they later learned that he was a Russian. At the time of this arrest he had in his possession certain addresses written in code, which he refused to divulge to the police authorities. He stated that for several days he was placed in a steam heated cell and "sweated", but refused to divulge the names and addresses which were coded. At this time he was offered a position by the Department of Justice, which he refused, according to his own statement.

Subject is described as follows: A Russian, about 5' 7" or 8"; 150 to 160 lbs; age about 33 years; dark complexion; clean shaven; dark hair always ruffled, never combed; very thin lips which cause him to have a particularly mean look; has very prominent wrinkles running vertically on each side of his mouth; has a wide receding forehead; very wide cheekbones; he has a typical Italian face and would pass almost anywhere for an Italian; speaks Russian, Italian, Spanish and French, and poor English; wears a dark brown heavy overcoat, which he has had for about two years, a black cap pulled down over his eyes, flannel khaki shirt and black shoes. He resides on Newark Avenue, Jersey City, N.J., number not known. He is a machinist or mechanic by trade and a member of the Russian Self-Educational Union in New York City.

Informant states that this man's actions, in view of his statements, are rather suspicious, as he has always kept to himself and never mingled much with the crowd at meetings. Subject, according to Informant bears somewhat of a resemblance to the features shown on the composite picture prepared in connection with the Wall Street Explosion investigation. This matter is being given further attention by the Informant.

A copy of this letter is being forwarded to the Philadelphia office in order that inquiry may be made among Agents who were attached to that office during 1917, to establish whether or not they have any recollection of the Philadelphia events referred to.

Brought forward
MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BURNS.

On Tuesday afternoon, after I had talked with you in New York, Mr. Henning called and stated that while the Ellis Island authorities had debarred Linde from landing, the Board of Appeals in Washington, to which Linde had appealed, had come to the conclusion that Linde should not be debarred from entry as there were no legal grounds for it.

I told Mr. Henning it was our understanding with the Polish authorities that Linde was to be returned to them within four months after he had left Poland. Mr. Henning stated, however, that Linde would have a right to remain in this country for the period of time until he had to return to Poland. I told Mr. Henning that it was our earnest desire that Linde be returned as soon as possible and that we wished he could be returned on December 27th, the next sailing to Danzig.

Mr. Henning said he would take the matter up and see if the Board would reconsider its decision and would advise me as to whether or not he would be deported on the 27th.

My dear Dr. Kwapiszewski,

I am writing to advise you of the fact that William Linde was deported from the United States on December 27, 1922, aboard the S. S. "Atalanta". The State Department has been advised of his departure but I wanted you also to know it in order that you might, if you so desire, communicate the fact to your government in view of the interest, courtesy and cooperation which they have shown to this bureau in this very important investigation.

The understanding with the Polish authorities was that Linde would be returned to their custody within four months after his departure from Poland and his return is, therefore, in line with that agreement. I thought you might care to advise your government of his departure so that they might make the necessary arrangements to take him into custody at Danzig.

Permit me to take this opportunity to express to you our fullest appreciation of the assistance and cooperation which you have rendered in this matter.

With expression of my highest esteem, I remain

From an anonymous source, I have received information that on Sunday, January 22nd 1923, a man named SABAD (it is not known whether or not this is his correct name) while drunk was in conversation with several of his friends in a local "speak easy" and from this conversation, it appears that SABAD possesses complete knowledge of the MORGAN-WALL STREET outrage. From the tone of this anonymous letter, it appears that he was probably the perpetrator of the crime.

We never heard of SABAD, but we understand that up until several months ago, he lived at 446 E. 11th St., New York, N.Y., and the band with which he is supposed to travel was located at a club at 83 E. 4th Street, New York, N.Y.

The informant states that SABAD in his conversation stated exactly how the explosion occurred.

I have a confidential informant working here in Philadelphia on the case and it may be that we will receive additional information from our anonymous informant and I would ask that the New York office keep in touch with this office relative to this matter.

We then proceeded to 83 E. 4th Street, the second floor of which address has been used as meeting rooms of "WORKERS CHALLENGE" and "UNITED TOILERS OF AMERICA." Agent Covello made inquiries under suitable pretext from persons in the house, but subject was not known, and the second floor where the radicals meet was locked up.

Inquiries were then made at P.O. Station "D", 13th Street & 4th Ave where it was learned there is no person named Sabad or a similar name known to carriers.

DIRECTOR

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HERETO IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 3/7/33 BY SP 5B26/02
William J. Burns, the director of the Department of Justice, found himself in an unenviable position when it became necessary for him to deport one of his own men, who, it so happened, had got the best of Burns himself. A matter where the director of the Department of Justice was so completely fooled as to make it necessary for him to hide the fact lest he become the laughing stock of the very street sweepers, is, you will admit, anything but a pleasant subject for contemplation. It is a safe bet that had he the choice, Mr. Burns would much rather swallow a quart of castor oil than face an affair of this sort.

No doubt you all remember the Wall Street explosion in 1920, where a number of people lost their lives? Well, the talk was current at the time that one of the big explosives manufacturing company's wagon had been seen in that vicinity and that the explosives it carried had caused the explosion. But, as you know, it is not quite fitting to indict a company on such a charge, because in such a case it would not only be compelled to sustain the loss caused thereby but under the United States law, it would lose the right to sell explosive materials. Consequently, a way had to be found whereby the matter could be given an entirely different turn.

At this juncture Mr. Burns and all his agents gave one strong yell that that was the work of the Reds, that the anarchists, the communists and the rest of their crew took it upon themselves to annihilate the American capitalists and that the explosion was meant for this purpose.

No sooner said than done. Arrests and arraignments were started forthwith. All those who had the reputation of being red were put under arrest. The entire work of searching for evidence was limited to the Reds and the radicals.

Meanwhile there comes a Jew by the name of Lindenfeldt, whose occupation had been soliciting ads for the foreign language newspapers in New York. He represents himself as a red of the reddest and is willing to contract for an immediate discovery of the perpetrators of the crime among the foreign born radicals. And considering that provocation with the American spy for the purpose of framing up innocent people is of frequent occurrence, to which the cases of Hooey and Sacco and Vanzetti will bear testimony, why not employ provocation in this matter as well and why not accept the help of Lindenfeldt? Who can tell but what with his help it might be possible to unload the responsibility for this whole affair on to someone's shoulders, in which case the company would escape the suspicion, that's one, and Mr. Burns would have so much added glory, that's another.

Lindenfeldt was accepted. Whereupon we see Burns asking the government for appropriations and says that the perpetrators of the explosion are already in his hands and that there will be more than one red who will see the electric chair pretty soon. In the meantime Lindenfeldt demands money. And gets it. Pretty soon money flows right and left while everybody waits for the slaughter of the reds, for their electrocution, as Burns promised.

However, Lindenfold announced suddenly that the culprits have escaped to Europe and that he must follow them if they are to be arrested, which again means an expenditure of great sums of money.
But Burns, gives him the money and Lindenfold departs for Europe.
Wait! Here wait! But not a sight of either Lindenfold or his culprits. This becomes very aggravating to Mr. Burns and he dispatches one of his spies to Europe to find out what Lindenfold is doing. The spy, upon arrival in Warsaw, arrests Lindenfold for fraud. But what you are going to do when he claims that he is still searching for the criminals and that was soon as they are found he will conduct them to Mr. Burns?

The spy came back with hands empty while Burns stopped talking about the arrest of the perpetrators of the crime.
After a time, however, we see Lindenfold, in company of two American spies, return in some unexplainable fashion to America. Here he was held up by Burns's agents and after a series of examinations was deported to Poland as an undesirable.

In other words, Burns has deported one of his own men and has failed to inform the public what the cause of the deportation was.
It is said that Burns has dispatched his agents to Poland to arrest Lindenfold for the second time and bring him here, although neither the government nor Burns says anything about it. The cause of Lindenfold's deportation after he has been arrested in Warsaw, and brought to America, is also kept a secret.

Dear Sir:

This office has received a letter from the Bureau dated March 14, 1923 initiated FBI:GA, in which it is stated that a reporter for the Los Angeles Examiner, may be able to furnish you with some information regarding the Wall Street Explosion. The letter further requests that you be furnished with pictures of suspects.

I am enclosing herewith a panel picture showing three views of the composite picture of the alleged driver of the wagon supposed to have contained the bomb. Reproductions of these pictures have appeared in the daily press. I am also enclosing a photostat copy of a photograph of one JOSEPH ZACK alias ANSTEDT alias STEVENS alias COVER. The fact that this man is a suspect is not publicly known as he has never been brought up for examination or in any way questioned by the Federal authorities on this particular matter. I would therefore suggest that you be cautious about exhibiting this picture to your informant. I do not think that it would be advisable to give the informant the name or any of the aliases used by the subject of this picture. You will note that there is considerable resemblance between ZACK and the composite photograph.

A carbon copy of this letter is being forwarded to Washington. It is presumed that the Los Angeles office will furnish the New York office with copies of reports in the above matter.

Yours very truly,

FRANK X. O'DONNELL
Acting Special Agent in Charge.

Dear Sirs:

Please refer to our letter of January 27th, and your reply of January 31st regarding bill of $18.84 covering meals furnished Mr. William Linde. We would thank you to kindly inform us what action has been taken in connection with this matter.

Mr. Linde, as you undoubtedly know was deported and his return passage was not paid. We are fully aware of the fact that the U.S. Immigration law gives the authorities the right to deport an alien, as he is likely to become a public charge, but in this case based on advices from our Home office, it seems to us that Mr. Linde's return passage should also be paid for by your department in the same manner as his passage to the United States.

When Mr. Linde appeared at our Warsaw office to arrange for his transportation he was naturally questioned as to his purpose of going to the United States, and he advised our people there that he was engaged as an interpreter to Mr. Clinton Wood. Suffice it to say, that, had our Warsaw office known the real reason for Mr. Linde's visit to the United States, they would not have been interested in arranging for his transportation, unless his return passage and all expenses had been guaranteed in advance.

We shall most likely receive some additional bills to cover Mr. Linde's maintenance at Ellis Island, and we believe, that in view of the circumstances surrounding this case, all of these expenditures and Mr. Linde's return passage will be paid by your department.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sirs:

Please refer to our letter of April 4th in regard to the case of William Linde.

We enclose bills from the Department of Labor for a total of $6.75, which completes the total expenses we had in connection with this party.

May we ask you to kindly arrange the payment of this bill, and at the same time favor us with a reply to our letter of April 4th.

RECORD

[Redacted]
IN RT: MRS. ELIZABETH CAESAR, INFORMANT - WALL STREET EXPLOSION.

Agent was handed a copy of a letter from a Mrs. Elizabeth Caesar residing at the Hotel Grammatan, Bronxville, New York, which letter in effect stated that just prior to the explosion she was walking through Wall Street and remembers a wagon passing, labeled dynamite. She also stated that she could probably recognize a profile picture of the driver of this wagon.

Agent interviewed Mrs. Caesar on the 24th inst. and she furnishes in effect the following information:

Upon alighting from the subway at the corner of Wall and William Street, she proceeded toward 65 Wall St., making it necessary for her to cross Wall Street. Upon attempting to cross, she noticed a ramshackle, single truck driven by one man. This wagon was going from East to West along Wall Street and had not yet crossed William Street. Mrs. Caesar states, that upon crossing in front of this wagon its dilapidated condition caused her to turn and take another look at it as it seemed peculiar to see such an old wagon in that section. She states further, that on the side of this wagon the word dynamite was plainly printed and that a small red flag was protruding from the back. She describes the horse as a bay color; the wagon, she states, was of ancient vintage and probably a dirty yellow. It was a covered affair... and as it lazily proceeded along the street, swayed from side to side.

The driver, whom she states she had a good side look at, she describes as follows: foreigner; very slim build; age, about thirty; dressed like a laborer, without collar or tie; very black hair, straight; medium height; sallow skin; wore dark felt hat pulled down over his eyes; sat in a reclining (lazy) position.

Mrs. Caesar states, she watched the wagon cross William Street and proceed toward the Morgan building which is located at the corner of Broad and Wall, a block further West. Agent suggested to Mrs. Caesar that she must have had a very good view of the explosion, but she then call Agent's attention to the fact that she had seen this wagon about three weeks before the explosion occurred. Asked why she had reported these details so long after the occurrence, Mrs. Caesar states that very shortly after the explosion she and her husband sailed for Europe and have not returned therefrom until the present time, but upon noting in the paper on her return that the search for the driver was still on, she decided to notify this Department of what she had seen.

Agent showed Mrs. Caesar about two dozen photographs of various suspects, but she was unable to pick therefrom anyone who resembled the man she claims to have seen on the wagon described above. Mrs. Caesar is apparently a very intelligent woman and a person of means, not the usual type of crank who writes letters of this kind. There is no doubt that Mrs. Caesar did see a wagon on Wall Street three weeks prior to the explosion as there are wagons passing through that Street daily. It is possible, however, that Mrs. Caesar's remembrance of the wagon's description at this late date is somewhat confused and colored by the various descriptions of the alleged horse, wagon and driver, which have appeared so many times in the various newspapers throughout the country.

Referring to below noted letter, with enclosure of communication from one Tracey, dated New York, May 16, 1923, reading as follows:

"N.Y.C. May 16, 1923.

Mr. W. J. Burns.

Dear Sir:

A short time after the Wall St. Blow up a man told me that the bomb cost him $35.00 and that it did not do what it was meant to do. Now this man and many others were asked to give the same amount of money to carry out the deed, an outside man was to be paid for the work. This man who I was talking to has a family and is not a radical. I see him every Sunday or whenever I go through his block. If I had time I believe I could get him to talk, but I have a wife a child and cannot take days off, after a drunk with him as I do not make much. I have worked for your agency about two years ago and during the bomb scare. I'll watch the News Personal Column for something from you, on Saturday and Monday. I'll know your Ad by W.J.B.

Agent was advised by Agent Charles J. Scully that Agent
Daniel Dwyer had called at the Burns Agency and interviewed Mr.
Sherman Burns, who advised that one Thomas Tracey was formerly employed by the Agency and the latter's record was being looked up.

Agent called and interviewed Mr. Sherman Burns, who advised he could not find any record of Tracey, but furnished a specimen of Thomas Tracey's handwriting on a check. Upon examination there seemed to be a similarity, and agent called and interviewed Thomas Tracey at his home, 526 West 51st Street and obtained a specimen of his handwriting, which is entirely different from that contained in the letter above mentioned.

Mr. Tracey informed agent that he did not know anything about the Wall Street Explosion and never wrote a letter concerning same. He is a man about 60 years of age and appears to be a straightforward and honest man.

Agent will again communicate with Mr. Sherman Burns, in an endeavor to obtain some information concerning Tracey who left the employ of the Burns Agency some time ago.

The letter, which is rather disjointed, furnishes the names of several prominent persons in this city with whom James claims he has corresponded.

Re: WILLIAM LINDEfeldT, alias WILLIAM A: LINDE

The above named is reported as having enjoyed the confidence of the leaders of the Communist Party in the United States, and is now said to be in either Poland or Russia, but will probably return to the United States in the near future. He is traveling on a Bolish passport, and is considered one of the most ideal subjects for observation in the Communist Party of America.

Lindefeldt is listed as being quite active at the Philadelphia Conference of the Communist Party during the month of January of this year, which conference was said to have been held at 505 Reed Street.

For the information of Special Agent in Charge, Edward J. Brennan, it was reported to this office during the month of April of this year, that a William Linde, whose true name was Lindenberg, was sent to Russia by the Burns Detective Agency, or by William Edward Cope, who conducts an investigative agency in this city.

A W. Linde was also in the employ of this office at Providence, R.I., for a period of three days — September 8, 9 and 10, 1917, for which services he received the sum of $30. It is reported that one Linde was quite active in Cleveland during the month of December, 1917, and I have credentials issued to one W. Linde by the Polish Branch of the I.W.W., Buffalo, N. Y., dated February 3, 1917, as well as a letter addressed to Linde at the Hotel Statler, from one of the writers of Pearson's Magazine.

It may be quite possible that Lindefeldt and Lindenberg are one and the same person, therefore if this should be true, and in order to avoid possible complications, it is respectfully suggested that the matter be taken up with Mr. Allen Meyers, Assistant Manager of the Burns Detective Agency.

Scully.
The Honorable
The Secretary of State,
Washington, D.C.

Sir:

I have the honor to transmit herewith copy of letter of November 4, 1923, in original and translation, from Ernest Adolph Kolb, at present confined in the penitentiary at Amberg, Bavaria, Germany. Mr. Kolb claims to have been connected with the plot leading to the bomb explosion in Wall Street, New York City, during 1921, which it is remembered worked certain damage to the United States Treasury Building at that place.

This office made inquiry of the prosecuting attorney, as well as the prison management at Amberg, concerning the possible reliability of the statements of the informant, and copies of their replies, in original and translation, dated November 23, 1923, are also transmitted herewith.

Should the Department of Justice consider the statements of Mr. Kolb as meriting further investigation, this office will be glad to make endeavor to secure a detailed account from Mr. Kolb.

Amberg, November 4, 1923.

To the Consulate General of the United States,

Berlin.

I beg to make the following statements to the representative of the United States Government:

I am at present undergoing a term of imprisonment of nineteen months, 14 months of which are completed. This term of imprisonment expires on March 26, 1924. In consequence of the serious economic conditions, which have brought indescribable misery on my wife and child, I have resolved, after mature reflection, to communicate to the United States, that I am in a position to make statements concerning the bomb outrage on the bank buildings in Wall Street, New York.

In November 1921, by order of the Communist Party in Germany, I was to have gone to New York by the S. G.
' Daneck (Danzig-New York). In Danzig I awaited a gentleman, who came from New York by the S. G. 'Daneck, and had instructions to take me with him to New York. This gentleman was a member of the I.W.W. District Secretary Leo Klinger (I.W.W.) and I negotiated at the party's office with the member of the I.W.W. concerning our passage. I leave the rest to the American authorities. Should my statements be of interest to them, I am ready to make an appeal on the following conditions:

As the witnesses for my statements are in part in Berlin, in part in Danzig, and as a transfer to these places will probably prove necessary, I must demand that the time of transport be mercifully limited to detention. Otherwise I can only place myself at the disposal of the authorities on completion of my term of imprisonment.
I must also ask immediate financial help for my family.

I also wish to mention in this letter that I passed some time in America previous to the war.

Dear Sir:

Referring to code telegram received from you on December 27th, quoted below, Agent Starr spoke to Mr. Olds and was instructed by him to write this letter. The matter is being given attention and will be taken up further with Mr. Olds upon his return to New York City. The telegram reads as follows:

"Every effort being made to ascertain whereabouts Marion E. Sproule whose hat may have some bearing upon Wall Street Explosion stop. Latest information from Boston is to effect that she is at present in New York City residence unknown stop. Mail for subject from Boston goes under cover to Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, seven east Fifteenth street New York City stop. Kindly give this matter immediate attention advising results, stop two."

Special Agent in Charge.
In compliance with your request I am giving herewith a rough memorándum of information which I have received from various sources upon the Italian activities leading into the bomb plot of June 2, 1919.

In February of this year Special Agent Stone, of Newark, took into custody twenty-nine anarchists at Paterson, N.J., who were members of the L'Era Nuova Group. This organization no doubt is well known to you. Among the members taken was one Ludrico Caminetta. Caminetta was the leader of the group. He was the editor of "La Jacquerie." The evidence taken at Paterson showed that this group was actively identified with Italian activities. I am, however, convinced that the group at Paterson as a group had nothing whatsoever to do with the actual carrying out of the bomb plot. It is no doubt true though that members of the group were cognizant of the operations incident to the bomb plot outrage.

Caminetta was taken to Ellis Island and held on a $10,000 bail on a deportation warrant. He has finally given some very valuable information incident to the bomb plot which is briefly given as follows:

It is believed that the bombs were made at Gallianni's home in Massachusetts. While Gallianni himself has been deported, Caminetta claims that his children are carrying out the work of the father. There is living in Gallianni's house a man who is supposed to be the bomb maker. This individual has all of his fingers of his lefthand blown off.

Caminetta states that following the bomb explosion he went to Boston and was approached by certain members of the Gronica Sovversiva to write a manifesto justifying the bomb outrage. Caminotta however states that he did not do this, as he did not approve of the tactic being followed.

Caminotta gives the name of one Jim Kontelbano, who, he states, is a barber in New York City and who acts as a traveling delegate between Buffalo and Jersey City for the Terrorists. He is described as being five feet in height and of a very heavy build.

Caminotta also gives the name of Paolo Schicci, whom, he states, is an Individualist and as a traveling delegate.

Caminotta gives the name of a man called Campanella, a barber, residing on 115th Street, New York City, who it is believed placed the bomb at the El Progreso office, in New York City, in conjunction with Capraella.

Caminotta is a very close friend of Karani. Karani is at present held by the police authorities, and Caminotta claims that he is a very dangerous man and no doubt knows a great deal about the bomb plot.

Karani is Gallianni's correspondent, and is the publisher of El Diritto, in issues of which have been justified the attempted assassination of Clemenceau.

Caminotta states that Giannini and Madorini, of Massachusetts, are no doubt directly connected with the bomb plot from the information which he has. Giannini's address is given as El Short Street, Lawrence, Mass., or 12 Margin Street, Haverhill, Mass.

Caminotta states that the bomb outrage was committed by the Gronica Sovversiva group, which is now known as the "Circolo Studi Sociali," Box 48, Sta. A, Haverhill, Mass. All members of this group are now in hiding. Tomborini, lives at 163 Chambers Street, Boston, Mass. He is a tailor by trade.
Members of the group are now planning a repetition of the June 2nd outrage.

The Cronica Soversiba is still being published. It is now published in Turin, Italy, by Gallicioni, financed by contributions from the United States. The old type of the Cronica Soversiba which was originally printed in Lynn, Mass., is supposed to be stored in Newbury Hill, Mass. No doubt Tomborini and Gallicioni know of the whereabouts of this type.

Caminetta states that one of the worst anarchists which has not yet been taken into custody is a person by the name of Cacci, alias Corzi. This subject is supposed to be living somewhere in Paterson, N.J.

Caminetta states that the informants of Becker as well as of this department were known to the group in Paterson. Becker's informant is living in the house of Gallo in Paterson, is a very dangerous anarchist leader. Gallo is an American citizen by naturalization and for that reason is not in custody.

No information has been obtained to show that Gallo knows anything about the June 2nd bomb plot, but I feel that a further examination of Gallo might bring good results as he is a typical anarchist wolf.

Caminetta also gives the names of Nathaniel Sunco of 451 Pearl Street, New York City, and his brother L. Sunco, 91 Baxter Street, New York City, -- the latter stated to be active anarchist and the New York correspondent for Malatesta.

All the names given above of course are not claimed by Caminetta to be actual members of the bomb plot. They are, however, not members of Cronica Sovversiva group in Paterson, N.J., and while he will not make any definite accusations against any of the names given, yet he throws them out as being persons who might know something. This, of course, is significant and typical of the Italian nature, as seldom will they actually turn up their members.

In connection with Caminetta personally, he is a very not high-class Italian and can be handled in any third degree manner. He has a boy about ten years of age in whom he has centered his affection, and it is through this boy by playing on Caminetta's emotions that much information has been obtained. Further, that we have given Caminetta to understand that these Italians have double-crossed him and this has made him very bitter. None of the information given by Caminetta to date has been obtained by examination, but merely through voluntary remarks from Caminetta. No questions have been asked. It will thus be seen that he has willingly told a great deal, and possibly upon suggestion would tell a great deal more.

He has expressed a desire to assist the Government in obtaining information. Insofar as information which is given it is correct, for in checking the same up with that from other sources it agrees entirely. It was through O. that we obtained the lead upon Elia, who printed "Plain Vot. So it appears that Caminetta does know a great deal about the bomb plot.

The above is the substance of the information obtained from Caminetta to date. I will now give the information

Dear Sir:

Attention - Mr. Hoover - 2

I have just been informed confidentially by Agent Di Lillo of this office that he has recently received several communications from [blank] formerly an undercover operative connected with the Bureau [blank]. Mr. [blank] at the present time is employed by former Director, William J. Flynn, and I believe is located in New York City. In his letter to Mr. Di Lillo, he states that he has valuable information concerning the Wall Street explosion, which he would like to impart to Mr. Burns personally, and should this not be possible, he would give the information to Mr. Di Lillo. [blank] does not care to give this information in any other manner except verbally.

The above is given to you for your information.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. HOOVER.

The attached letter, dated November 7th, from Agent-in-Charge Blackmon, giving the address of one as Brooklyn, N.Y., has just been received by me.

The letter is apparently in response to the Director's telegram of November 6th, which is based upon Blackmon's letter of November 1st. This apparently refers to a confidential matter which the Director is handling, and I am therefore transmitting same to you.

I suppose the matter has been attended to but I did not want it to escape your attention.

Respectfully,

Re: Wall Street Explosion - James Degan, Detroit, Michigan - Informant.

Dear Sir:

I am attaching a photostat copy of a letter and envelope received by the J. P. Morgan Co. of Wall Street, this city, purported to have been written by one James Degan of 4798 Flumer Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, on November 5, 1923.

Director Burns, while on a visit to this city today, instructed me to forward this communication direct to your office with the request that Degan be interviewed in a very careful and discreet manner. It is suggested that he be interviewed alone at some place other than at his business or residence address.

The Director further instructed that the matter be given immediate attention and that a copy of your report be sent to this office.

Yours very truly,

Edward J. Freeman,
Special Agent in Charge.
This office is in receipt of a letter from Special Agent in Charge Brennan of the New York office dated Nov. 10, 1923, inclosing a photostat copy of a letter with envelope received by the J. P. Morgan Company of Wall Street, New York City, written by one, James Bogan, of 4798 Plumer Ave., Detroit. This letter sets forth that the writer can give "real evidence of the blowing up of the buildings in Wall Street", also that he had been working on the case for some time and thinks he has the right party.

On the evening of Nov. 12, at 4798 Plumer Ave., I talked with James Bogan and made an appointment with him to meet me at the Wolverine Hotel on the following morning.

On the morning of Nov. 13, Agent in Charge Hessler and I waited for him at the hotel but he did not put in an appearance. Later I visited his home and talked with Mrs. Keenan, his sister, who informed me that her brother had been confined at the Insane Asylum at Elise, a short distance from Detroit, for about 12 years; that he had been injured in a salt mine, which injury resulted in his becoming insane. He fancies he is a detective. He is employed but when he is brought in contact with strangers or becomes excited about anything he has read or heard discussed, he quits work and is out of his mind for periods of from three to four weeks. His sister tries in every way to avoid his meeting strangers.

Dr. Benner of the Eloise Asylum informed me that James Bogan had been confined at that institution from Jan. 28, 1899 to August 10, 1908.

Because of this man's mental condition, no further effort will be made to interview him.

Case CONCLUDED at Detroit,
Dear Sir:

From an informant in Boston who has been in close touch with the underworld here, I have just learned that one PHILLIP SPEARE, who is now in the Charlestown, Mass., jail held under $18,000 bond for burglary with attempt to kill, claims to know who the gang was that caused the Wall Street explosion.

He has stated to an acquaintance of this informant that the explosion was not the work of radicals, but that the intent was robbery; that this terrific explosion was to occur and the gang was all set to rush in and loot the place, but that the explosion was premature and failure followed. He has stated also to the man above mentioned that the leader of that crowd was a big Pollock who runs a garage somewhere in Greater New York. This informant tells me that if Speare could be helped in any way in his present trouble, or could be assured of any substantial reward for turning up this crowd, he would be willing to do it.

Will you let me know as soon as possible if there is any reward for the perpetrators of that crime. Of course this all may be fiction, but from what little I do know of the circumstances surrounding that episode, it seems to be an entirely different proposition and may lead to something in the solving of the case.

Sincerely yours,

DIRECTOR GENERAL OF PUBLIC SAFETY

ROME, November 7, 1923.

Referring to your letter of October 4th last, I am glad to inform you that, notwithstanding the active investigations made, no proofs have been found of the presumed complicity of the anarchists Roberto Elia, Nicola Recchi and Carlo Valdinoci in the attempted terrorist incidents in America, during the time they were there, with other anarchists.

Regarding Elia, it would seem that he was not in written communication with the anarchist Luigi Galleani (who, as has been noted, is still in prison serving his sentence), no results having been found in that respect.

Recchi, according to information received, emigrated to France last May, but his present address is not known.

Of Valdinoci, his relatives have had no notice for about three years. Furthermore, they believe him dead.

I will inform you of the result of investigations requested of the Prefect of Genoa regarding Galleani.

Mr. Becker has been engaged in investigations into the bomb plot, the full nature of which I do not believe anyone is entirely advised.

He states that Tedesco was in the bomb plot; that he is now in New York, should be located and is known by the police.

Marianni was also connected with the bomb plot and is now held by the police. The grocery store of Albano & Co., at 511 East 106th Street, has been the centering place for these anarchists. Albano and wife are anarchists, and they have now gone to Cleveland, Ohio.

Becker gives the name of Campanelli, whom he states is in hiding, being scared at the arrest of Mariano.

Becker gives the name of Borggillo, 326 East 116th St., who conducts a print shop and he feels that possibly some valuable material may be in this shop.

Becker stated that Il Dirito was printed by Joe Ceresa in Greenwich Street. This is in Italian type and might be of some assistance.

Becker thinks that the Gimbel Brothers wrappers might have been printed in Borggillo's shop or in Ceresa's shop. It is significant that the type used for printing the Gimbel Brothers wrappers came from the American Type Foundry. But it is also true that the type used in printing the Cronica Sessoriva in Turin, Italy, consisted of American Type Foundry type which apparently was stolen from this side.

Borggillo refused to print Mariani's paper. There is a man who works at Morelllos' shop by the name of Renato who is a chemist.

It is stated that the man killed in Washington is known by Mariano.
MEMO to Chief Flynn:

All information contained herein is unclassified.

Date 3/3/20.

Today, March 8, 1920, I went to Ellis Island and interviewed Caminetta. I told Caminetta at the outset that he had been accused by certain Italians of being the head of the June 2nd bomb plot, which information I had received through Mr. Booker. This seemed to anger Caminetta exceedingly, and I told him that unless he came across with all the information he had that I thought the evidence was sufficient to send him to the penitentiary for twenty years, and that further if he told all that he knew I would more likely be able to arrange for the cancellation of his deportation, thus enabling him to return to his wife and child.

I believe that Caminetta is telling the absolute truth when he says that he knows none of the facts of the June 2nd bomb plot, but all that he has is based upon suspicion. He has been in a position to know all of the various anarchist groups and thus the information which he can furnish is exceedingly helpful.

It appears that the Cronica Sovraiana group, now known as the Circola Studi Socialisti, was the organization responsible for the bomb plot. In addition to the information made a part of Special Agent Stone, Caminetta told me that while he was in Boston, last October, delivering a lecture, an Italian by the name of Feliciani, who works in Boston for the newspaper "La Notizia" and who lived in Cambridge, Mass., came to him and asked him to write a manifesto justifying direct action and the use of dynamite. This person is described as tall, thin, and smooth-faced. Caminetta points out, of course, that... while this person did not specifically state that he was in on the bomb plot, yet circumstances justify this suspicion.

Ceminotta promised me that he would be very glad to go over the list of subscribers to the "American Sovereign" and check off the dangerous individuals. He said that he had not seen a copy of "Printed Words," but that if he was shown one he would be able to state definitely the type used and might be able to twill where printed.

I did not inform him that we had learned the print shop where this circular was put up.

By working upon Ceminotta's feelings I was able to point out that by assisting the Government in this matter he was also helping his own group in Paterson, N.J., for he claims that his group is not a terrorist organization, and has always opposed acts of violence. This is exactly true in view of his writings, which I have carefully gone over.

The authorities in Washington are somewhat adverse to permitting Ceminotta being released into the custody of a federal officer, and Ceminotta is of course most desirous of keeping quiet the fact that he is supplying information. The reasons for this are obvious.

I arranged at Ellis with Ceminotta that should I be able to effect his release from the Island that he would tell his comrades on the Island that he is being taken to New York for Grand Jury Proceedings, as I thought this was the safest course to tell his acquaintances on.

I am arranging to have Kasutta, a printer in Patterson, N.J., to be brought to New York at once. Nazotta is a citizen and has supplied valuable information. It was Nazotta who first stated that if anyone printed "Printed Words" in New York it was Roberta Elia.

JAN 181924
January 10, 1924.

Captain H. E. Osann,

o/o American Embassy.

Berlin, Germany.

My dear Captain Osann:

Under date of November 30, Mr. R. D. Murphy, the American Vice Consul in Charge at Munich in his despatch No. 50 transmitted information to the State Department from Ernest Adolph Kolb who is confined in the penitentiary at Amberg, Bavaria, Germany. Mr. Murphy will show you his letter as I have today arranged with the State Department to assist you in every way in investigation of this matter.

I will ask you after you got the details of this case from Mr. Murphy and after the facts have been gotten in your mind, to call on Kolb in the Amberg prison and have him make a very minute, detailed and complete explanation of his movements during the months preceding September 16, 1920, as on that date the Wall Street Explosion occurred.

We have information that the Third Internationale through Ludwig Martens, their Soviet Representative in the United States, was responsible for the explosion. Our understanding is that some representatives of the Third Internationale and also two Italians were connection with this explosion and arranged to 'pull it off.'

We knew at least six weeks in advance that it was going to take place, but we didn't know where. We also knew from positive proof we have that a number of people did know exactly where it was to take place.
and we have the documentary proof of this.

Those responsible for the explosion manufactured a time bomb. We do not know whether it was made with a fuse, but it must have been a bomb weighing two to three hundred pounds and it was filled with broken parts of iron sash weights. It was placed in an old, dilapidated wagon drawn by an old horse and driven up to the front of the United States Assay Office opposite the offices of J. P. Morgan & Company. One of the persons who drove the wagon to this point must have immediately proceeded to Broadway for within three blocks of where the explosion took place, a typewritten note was dropped in a street letter box and we are almost able to determine the exact time it was placed there through the lifting of the mail from this box by the letter carrier and we concluded that it was placed in this box a few minutes before the explosion occurred. We also found the blacksmith in New York within ten blocks of where the explosion occurred who shed the horse the day before.

Now, if Kolb had anything to do with this and was present or knew it was going to take place he ought to give you a great amount of detail. To be very frank with you, I am rather skeptical as to his having any direct knowledge of the explosion and it is possible that he is seeking to aid himself and his family by making this statement having, like millions of others, read of this explosion in the daily papers. He of course must have read the German daily papers at the time a great deal of publicity was given to the fact that I had sent a man by the name of Wolf Linde to Poland and Russia to locate the persons responsible for it. Linde knew positively weeks in advance that the bomb was going to be exploded and I am satisfied that he knew all about it as he was a warm personal friend of Trotsky and a representative of the Third Internationale in this country. However, this man Linde double-crossed us.
Now with these facts, I am satisfied in your interview with this man you will be able to determine whether or not he can give us any trust-worthy information. Make it very plain to him that he has not a chance in the world to bunco us and that before we can give him a five-cent piece, he will have to convince us with actual facts of this explosion.

If he is able to convince us, he will be perfectly satisfactory with what we will do for him.

If you will forward your report as quickly as possible directly to me or in whatever way you are transmitting your reports, and also send me a list of your expenses, I shall be very glad indeed to reimburse you.

Thanking you for your kindness in this matter, I am with very best wishes,

Yours very sincerely,

Director.

My dear Mr. Armour:

I have your letter of December 26 together with enclosures transmitting information from Mr. Murphy, our consul in charge at Munich, Germany, in which he advises us that one Ernest, Adolph Kolb has some information.

Will you be good enough to advise Mr. Kolb that one of our agents will call on him very shortly at Munich in connection with this matter and I would thank you to have Mr. Murphy arrange so that Mr. Osann our Agent will be given the privilege of interviewing Kolb.

We have today written to Mr. H. E. Osann, whose address in Germany is 1 Altenaustasse, Bad Pyrmont, asking him to make an investigation of this case.

Very sincerely yours,

Title and Character of Case:

RE: JERRY TURIELLO, 82 - 13th Avenue, Newark, N.J.

Possible Informant re Wall Street Bomb Explosion.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At New York, N.Y.

Mr. Frank Wallace, a representative of the Associated Press, 51 Chambers Street, N.Y.C., today called at this office and exhibited to Agent a letter which the Associated Press had received from above subject reading as follows:

"I would like to look into the Wall street explosion mystery and I would be glad if you could personally help me to get all information pertaining to it.

"Awaiting your earliest reply,

Sincerely yours,

JERRY TURIELLO."

Copy of this report is being forwarded to the Newark, N.J. office in order that TURIELLO may be interviewed by an Agent of that office to ascertain what, if any, information he has regarding the Wall Street explosion.

The Associated Press asks that in view of the fact that this information was submitted by them, that they be informed of any developments in the case.

It is respectfully requested that this office be furnished with a copy of any report submitted by the Newark office.

This case originated at Newark, New Jersey, Office.

Title and character of case:
Herman Nadall, the Magician, alias Professor Beno, the Hypnotist, alias Flamieron, the Telepathist, etc.

Said to have knowledge concerning the Wall Street explosion.

Facts developed:

At Peoria, Illinois

Reference is made to report of Special Agent Joseph F. Hommes, Newark, New Jersey, Bureau Office, dated January 22, 1924, entitled: Herman Nadall, the Magician, alias Professor Beno, the Hypnotist, alias Flamieron, the Telepathist, etc.--said to have knowledge concerning the Wall Street explosion.

Agent interviewed Chief of Police J. C. Wambacher, Peoria, Illinois, who advised that Charles Engels, 1000 Greenlawn Avenue, had called on him on several occasions and informed him that he had been hypnotized and blamed subject for it.

Chief Wambacher further stated that after listening to Engels' conversation, he was convinced that he was of unsound mind.

Agent, accompanied by Ted Selmin, Deputy Marshal, interviewed Charles Engels, at 1000 Greenlawn Avenue, where he is residing with his wife, and he stated that he was 60 years of age, German, and carpenter by occupation. He claimed that subject had hypnotized him twelve years ago. He stated that he was unable to furnish any information with reference to the Wall Street Explosion. From his conversation, Mr. Engels appeared to agent to be of unsound mind.

Concluded unless otherwise instructed.

JERRY TURIELLO, 82-13th Ave., Newark, N.J. Possible information re Wall St. Bomb Explosion

FACTS DEVELOPED:
At Newark, N.J. DATE 3/7/24 BY 01-01-01

Reference is made to report of Agent G.J. Starr, dated at New York City, Jan. 25, 1924, referring to the subject of this report.

Investigation discloses that JERRY TURIELLO is the son of an Italian shoe-repairer, working with his father at that trade at 82-13th Ave., Newark, these premises being owned by Jerry's father. JERRY TURIELLO, although 20 years old, has the appearance of a boy 15, and is an extensive reader of detective stories; he only recently graduated from grammar school. JERRY has seen much in the newspapers appertaining to the Wall St. explosion and the rewards offered for the capture of the perpetrators, and he felt that through his knowledge, he would be able to run them down and collect the rewards.

Agent, after closely questioning JERRY TURIELLO, is satisfied that he has absolutely no knowledge or information in relation to this matter.

Attention Mr. J. E. Hoover
Re: Wall Street Explosion - Ralph Thurber, alias Louis Repell, alias George Pard, alias Walter Sharr

Dear Sir:

Late last evening this office was advised by a representative of the "City News" that the above named, a prisoner in London, England, had made a confession involving the identity of the persons responsible for the explosion in Wall Street on September 16, 1920.

In the despatch received by the City News Thurber is alleged to have implicated Jeff Dalron, alias Big Jeff, alias Thomson, address, 96 Malberry Street, this city; Sloan Cleveland, alias The Kid, residence, Cleveland, Ohio, and Michael Ormanoff, residence, Apartment 53, Pizaro Street, Mexico City; and, further, that the Reverend Herbert Willson of San Diego was in possession of full facts concerning the outrage.

Agent Scully last evening conferred with Police Inspector Thomas M. Fay at Police Headquarters and was advised that up to that time the names alleged to have been mentioned by Thurber did not appear in the records of Police Headquarters. It can be added that other than the name of Herbert Willson, this office has no record of the persons alleged to be implicated and the information concerning Willson was sent this office about a year ago from the Los Angeles office of Bureau.

Subject: Investigation of Ernout Adolph Kolb.

The Honorable
Secretary of State,
Washington.

SIR:

I have the honor to refer to the Department's instruction of January 31, 1924, File No. 611.108/1123, requesting this office to endeavor to make arrangements through the appropriate local officials for Mr. W. C. Conn, an agent of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice to interview Mr. Ernout Adolph Kolb, at present confined in a penitentiary at Ansbach, near Bayreuth, Bavaria, Germany.

Mr. Conn called at this office on February 15, 1924, and upon his request the necessary permission to examine Mr. Kolb was secured from the Bavarian Department of Justice at Munich.

As of possible interest to the Department a copy of Mr. Conn's letter of February 25, 1924, to this office concerning his examination of the prisoner is transmitted herewith.

Dear Sirs:

May I express my sincere thanks for the courtesies you have extended to me during my recent visit to Munich and for your kind introduction to the Bavarian authorities.

Iy prisoner was not confined in Asberg, but had been transferred to Asbach, a small place near Bayreuth. As predicted by you, his alleged knowledge of important events connected with the Wall Street Explosion turned out to be a crude attempt of getting financial assistance from the U.S. Authorities. His story is simply that of a would-be stow-away who, not unfairly, the steamer selected by him, a member of the crew claiming to be an L.W. The latter may have claimed to know something about the bomb affair but after the wide publicity given this matter, there is no reason to believe that this knowledge was based upon any personal connection.

Colb's story contains, however, some statements regarding the stow-away traffic in Danzig, which should prove to be of interest to the competent "U. S."
Authorities and I have sent a detailed report to "r.
"A. W. Burns, Director of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, who I am sure would join me in expressing our thanks for your kind assistance.

Trusting that you will not hesitate in using the use of my services if ever you should have occasion, I am,

Yours very truly,

[Address]

Since the 1st of October, 1920, the writer has been at work spasmodical upon the subject of the Wall Street Disaster, taking place on Sept. 16, 1920, and while so engaged have submitted data, correspondence, etc., to U. S. Department of Justice, Capt. Arthur Carey, Homicide Squad, N.Y. City Police and Mr. Allen O. Myers, of the Burns International Detective Agency, this city:

Throughout I have been treated with the utmost courtesy, and at the same time something has been added to my fund of information, which together with what I have found out, seemingly presents:

1. That the Wall Street Disaster is attributable to the efforts of the Communistic International.

2. That four men were immediately engaged, one of whom was a military officer in the Italian army.

3. That the master mind of the plotters did respond to a decoy advertisement inserted by myself on October 21, 1920, in spite of the refusal of all investigative forces to appropriate any funds to carry out the plan. That a photostat copy of the most important letter was supplied all parties named above.

4. That correspondence to an assumed party and parties, has revealed certain plans and desires by those classified with the Communistic crowd.

5. That some of the correspondence was written by three different parties and comprising one letter—three persons present and forming the threatening letter.

6. That the progress of my efforts has been retarded by the fact that I am unable to lay aside my other duties to properly follow up the subject.

7. At one stage of the work a driver's badge was slipped me, together a memorandum as to the advantage of following up the directions on note. This and other papers were turned over to city officials and I am unable to gain possession of them, same, also with the Department of Justice.

In conclusion, may I not ask, if in any way, I can be associated with your department with the purpose of concluding my work and not destroy my present means of living.

Thanking you, I am, Very truly yours

Information was received by this office early today to the effect that the above named individual had visited the West 47th Street Police Station last evening and confessed that he had driven the "Red Wagon" used in the Wall Street Bomb Explosion several years ago.

Inquiries by Agents Starr and Scully developed the fact that at the time O'Hara visited the 47th Street Police Station he was suffering from an attack of delirium tremens.

O'Hara, who was committed to Bellevue Hospital for observation, was interviewed by Agents Starr and Scully and Detective Henry Barth of the Police Bomb Squad.

O'Hara stated that he was 48 years of age, born in Ireland, single, has been in the United States for a period covering about thirty years. That he has no permanent residence, but, has lived in various rooming and lodging houses in this city and to the best of his recollection his most recent home was at Mills Hotel #1, which is located at Bleecker Street.

O'Hara, who is still suffering from over-indulgence in intoxicating liquors, stated, that he had been employed as a laborer by the Erie R. R., located in a labor camp near Binghamton, New York. Further, that about twelve days ago he gave up his position, came to New York and stopped at the Mills Hotel and that since that time he has been drinking continuously. That late last evening he recalls being with a man named John Lynch, a chauffeur, residence unknown and as a result of the continuous use of liquor he went into the 47th Street Police Station and informed the Lieutenant that he was the man who had driven the wagon used in the Wall Street Explosion and that his purpose for making this statement was to secure lodging as he had not slept in two nights and had but one dollar left of his pay. The Agents were both convinced that O'Hara knows nothing whatsoever of the happenings in Wall Street other than what he read in the newspaper and he stated that he did not know why he had informed the Lieutenant he was the man who had driven the wagon. But nevertheless it is our intention to make inquiries concerning him at the office of the Erie Railroad in this city.

STATEMENT to COMMISSIONER LANDIS from E.A. LINDH

I was waiting for Mr. Burns for the last five years. I started to work for $4.00 per day and raised to $7.50 per week, with expenses. That shows that my work was absolutely satisfactory to the concern I was working for.

At the last investigation of the bomb in Wall Street I was assigned for that investigation. I was working very conscientiously and I could say that I was not very far to solve the mystery work of different people what they called themselves "Red". I blame that the investigation did not come until now to success. I blame Ellen O. Myers as the head of that investigation. He made mistakes and he did not conduct the investigation as it should be conducted. I still claim that I had the clue of that investigation, and I hope to solve this mystery bomb. I came back to the United States voluntary, because I was asked by Mr. Burns, Director of the Department of Justice, to return. Mr. Wood was delegated to Warsaw, Poland, that I shall come back because Mr. Burns wants me. After I received telegrams through the American Embassy in Warsaw signed by Mr. Burns and by Mr. Charles Hughes asking me to come over here for conference, I was held up in Ellis Island and was deported as not a vicious man for the United States. The newspapers wrote about me many things, because I did not have any chance to make any statement to the Newspapers. I am not going to make any statements. I am going back to Poland and I will work with all my ability to show the American people that I was not a fourflusher and not a double crosser. I was working honestly, and I condemned the act that was taken by the Reds on Wall Street where forty-one people lost their lives. I shall work so long till I have shown to the American people that I was right in my investigations, and I hope sometime to come back to the United States with results of my work.

PARAPHRASE

I sent a telegram nine days since which so far has not brought an answer. Subsequently to the date of my telegram bail has been allowed and the man has been released. Woods and I have seen him every day and to us he has talked at great length. I cannot vouch for the truth of his statements. He assumes the high hand and offers terms which cannot be accepted. As he has usually done in the past in regard to matters of vital importance he avoids direct answers. He demands from you certain promises in writing before he consents to return to the United States. At present the Polish Government will not insist on his return. The man declares that should the terms offered by him be accepted, he will keep on working with a view to solving the question. The opinion I express in my cable message of June 10 has been changed by (omissions in telegram.) As it is a vitally important matter, I desire an expression of your opinion which is experienced. I decline to make a final decision in regard to it. The man declares that all he has accomplished has been ruined by Cosgrove. After you have received details you can form your own opinion in regard to this. I am returning at once to have a personal conference with you. Taking this action on my own responsibility. I shall keep Woods in Warsaw to keep the man under his supervision. Tonight I start for Paris and will leave by the AQUITANIA from Cherbourg on the 22nd instant; will be in the United States on the 28th instant. I beg that you will send a message by telephone to Mrs. Woods telling her when I shall arrive and sending love.

Memorandum for Mr. Burns.

I telephoned to Mr. Pope today and arranged with him for me to leave here at 11 o'clock tomorrow, Friday morning, and on my arrival at New York, to go direct to his office at 1606 - 350 Madison Avenue.

He stated he had some important information for me.

THE WALL STREET EXPLOSION

The Wall Street Explosion occurred at noon September 16, 1920.

On August 9, 1920, Edwin Fischer at Marywold Park, New York, informed Mrs. Wm. Haynes, Jr. that the Reds would blow up Wall Street on the 15th of September, 1920.

On August 15, 1920, Fischer gave the same information to Mrs. Taxamine, Jr.

A German musician by the name of George Riemann, who was spending the summer at Marywold Park with Fred Alexander and Fischer, stated that on or about August 20, 1920, Fischer informed him Wall Street would be blown up on September 15, 1920.

About September 1st, 1920, Fischer warned the French High Commission in New York that Wall Street would be blown up on September 15th, 1920.

He also imparted the same information to a Miss George and several people of prominence connected with the West Side Tennis Court Club.

Fischer left New York about September 10th, 1920 and proceeded to Philadelphia where he warned friends there that Wall Street was to be blown up September 16, 1920.

He then went to Toronto, Canada, and mailed post cards to both Mr. and Mrs. Taxamine, Jr. and Mrs. Haynes, Jr. and several prominent men in Wall Street warning them Wall Street would be blown up at noon September 16, 1920.

While at Marywold during the month of August, 1920, Fischer associated with four or five well known radicals - one of them being a German, another a Russian Jew and the other two Italian musicians.

Sylvester,
London, England, Dec. 10. D. J. Lindefield, who in the recent London explosion with the fall of the bomb explosion in September 1920, had been arrested on a previous occasion in this city, but was released in order to allow American detectives to check his further, it was learned today.

It is believed that Lindefield's present arrest was due to the release of eight of his confederates and his desertion of their plans to go to New York and there obtain the society of another donor of funds to the cause. The donor, who had been promised funds to be used in London, has been absconded with a large sum of money.

Jan. 1922

He went to Marywold about Aug. 1

He found it out with his contact with the people in and about freight terminals - about the last errk in July - the nature of the letter said: "Your brother had nothing to do with the bomb outrage as he got the information from putting on another man's coat". The letter was marked either Newark or Hoboken but there was something in it that mentioned Buffalo.

He seemed very much upset - he was at Marywold in June - showed signs of a break-down in July. He went to Canada to tennis tournament at Toronto - Pope went after him. He wired for money and wrote peculiar letters.

He said he got it out of the air was said simply to put people off. Dr. MacCurdy will frame a letter persuading him to co-operate - have him employed by the French Commission or the government employ him. He was looking up freight cars for the French Com and having them delivered to the right places.

We can see the doctor Wednesday - can also see Mrs. Pope. Tell her I greatly appreciate her offer to aid.

A letter was received by Miss Fisher asking for 200 from an Italian. It was written to Fisher not the sister - this letter was turned over to McCoy and O'Hara. She can tell the details (Maud).

Dr. John MacCurdy, 173 E. 70th St.
Tel. Rhinelander 5287

See him Wednesday morning 10 o'clock - 1am to go to the Pope house Thurs. morning 10 o'clock.

If the French Commission is out of business get him a similar job, with a shipping concern who do a lot of shipping or something similar; perhaps it would be well to have him employed by the government - he got $70.00 a week. Mr. P. wrote him apologizing and telling him he could get a job for him. Have him to investigate the whole underlying traces of Communism.
Mr. Pope does not think the Soviet Government is responsible - Mark Sullivan Pope took dinner with Martens and Neurotiva at the Lafayette Hotel, Washington.

Get Eddy to take the advice of Dr. MacCurdy - he said if they could get him to come across it may be the beginning of his career.
Memo. by Mr. W.J.B.

Pope called me at 11 a.m. to-day and said Ed got back - wife said Ed. Medford said something at Marywold that started Ed.

I am to telephone in the morning before going out there.

P. want to go to the French Commission to find out where Ed was in July and August - just when he left there.

RE: MICHAEL FEELEY alias RICHARD O'HARA; Wall Street Bomb Explosion Suspect

DETAILS

Reference is made to letter of Special Agent in Charge Edward J. Brennan, regarding the above matter, dated October 31, 1924 initialed CJS:EP.

Continuing on this investigation Agent, accompanied by Special Agent J.W. Dillon, proceeded to the Postoffice at 51st Street and Broadway and learned from the Superintendent of the Postoffice that there was a family named OBRIEN residing at 416 W. 56th Street. This is one of the addresses given by subject to the Police Department. At the address mentioned Agents interviewed MRS. MICHAEL FEELEY, subject's wife. MRS. FEELEY states that she has been separated from subject since last March, as she found it impossible to live with him on account of his excessive drinking. She confirmed the information originally given by subject to the effect that he was born in Ireland, is about 48 years of age, but stated that most of his work in recent years has been as an employe of a garage, particularly COWAN'S Garage. Recently, that is within the past few weeks, subject worked for a short while, according to information which came to Mrs. Feeley, on the Erie Railroad, in what was known as the Great Notch Camp, near either Elizabeth or Harrison. Other than that he has hardly ever been away from New York City. To the best of her recollection and knowledge subject was residing with her at 444 West 56th Street during September 1920, and was working at Cowan's Garage. Subject, according to Mrs. Feeley, is not a member of any Labor Union, Lodge or political organization, and has never taken interest in any such matters. When sober he spent practically every evening at home with his wife.

At Cowan's garage, 124 W. 54th Street, Agent interviewed MR. THOMAS COWAN, one of the sons of the proprietor, and others. All of the persons present during the interview knew subject quite well, as he had worked for them during a period of two or more years. The last occasion on which he worked for them was within the past few weeks when he worked for a period of about 4 days and then went on a drunk and did not return any more. The garage has, at this time, no records or time sheets covering 1920, but to the best recollection of the people at the garage, end of Mr. Tom Cowan, subject was employed in the garage during September 1920. Questioned as to whether or not subject had been at work on the day of the Wall Street Explosion, they all agreed that he was either at work or drunk. This statement is based on the fact that subject who was employed as a garage man, having the particular duties of cleaning the upholstery and windows of automobiles, was the most efficient man ever employed in the garage for that work and he was able to do at least 50 percent more work than any other man engaged on similar work. The only times that he was absent from his work at the garage was when he was too drunk to appear. Both the Cowans and Mrs. Feeley state that never at any time did they hear subject make any comment on the Wall Street explosion or any radical matters other than the common-place remarks that any person might make on seeing references to such matters in the newspapers. Subject originally stated that he had been employed in a labor camp near Binghamton, N.Y., working for the Erie Railroad. Agent visited the office of the Erie R.R. Co., in this city and arranged to have that company communicate immediately with its representative at Binghamton and also with the office of the Owens Construction & Repair Co., 158 State Street, Binghamton, N.Y. This was done by telegraph and replies from both offices indicate that there is no record of either Richard Ohara or Michael Feeley having been employed there during September 1920, or for that matter at any time during recent years.

This matter is also being checked up by the Homicide Squad of the New York City Police Department, in view of the fact that there appears to be nothing to substantiate subject's statement made while intoxicated to the effect that he drove the wagon containing the Wall Street explosives, this investigation, unless further information is received to the contrary, will be discontinued.

MEMORANDUM FROM DIRECTOR
W. J. FLYNN, by telephone
from New York, N. Y.

On Tuesday, April 19, as a result of investigation made by Special Agent, P. J. Ahern, concerning the Wall Street explosion of September 16, 1920, one Titto Ligi, alias Augusto Ditaletti, alias Talonti, was taken into custody by the Scranton, Pa., police and held on the technical charge of having given a false name registering for the selective draft, Board No.7, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Immediately upon the receipt of information concerning Ligi's arrest, a number of persons from whom statements had previously been taken, and who had stated that they had seen the driver of the wagon used to transport the explosive, were called to the office of the Bureau of Investigation, New York City, and shown some twenty-five photographs, among them that of Ligi. Two of these persons, namely, Smith and Nally, selected the photograph of Ligi as that of a man closely resembling the driver of the aforementioned wagon.

Ligi has been interrogated by Special Agent Ahern and members of the Scranton police department, and has made known his activities up until the first of September, 1920, and when questioned as to his whereabouts in September, he, Ligi, immediately became ill and refused to talk further.

Ligi is an admitted anarchist, and admits being connected with Galliani who was deported as an anarchist, from this country in June 1919 and is now a fugitive in Switzerland with one Nicolo Recchi who had to do with the distribution of the bombs that were exploded in eleven different cities in the early part of June, 1919.

Investigation made by this Department proves beyond doubt that the Galliani group of anarchists are responsible for the several bomb outrages that have occurred during the last two years.

Arrangements are being made at this time to have witnesses Smith and Nally go to Scranton so that it can be definitely ascertained whether or not they can identify Ligi as the man who drove the wagon containing the explosive that caused the death of some thirty-eight people in Wall Street.

Every effort is being made also to locate the movements of Ligi during September of last year.

Information concerning this arrest was secured by the newspapers from the Scranton police and not from Special Agent Ahern of this Bureau.

Confidential memorandum for the information of the Attorney General, and Assistant Attorney General.
I need something for tomorrow morning's paper on the Wall Street Bomb confession story. Are going to take the liberty of calling us your apartment later.

Mr. Reilly, we sure. New York Tribune.

The following is a copy of a letter, addressed to the Buffalo Police and signed "CITIZEN", postmarked Buffalo, N.Y., Station "A", September 21st, 1920, 3:30 PM.

"To: - Buffalo Police,
From: - A Citizen.

"WARNING"

Keep on guard on Sept. 24, 1920. Don't allow a similar accident to happen in Buffalo as it did on Wall Street, New York, and it will happen unless all the gov. buildings are well guarded.
They will travel west.
Take a good hint."

Of this letter was forwarded to this office by Chief of Police Higgins of this city and a copy also furnished to E. J. McHugh, Secret Service Agent in Charge in this city and to John J. Sweeney, custodian of the Federal Building.

While this letter is thought to be a hoax, it was considered advisable to take proper precautions in the matter. Therefore a conference was held between Mr. McHugh, Mr. Sweeney, Mr. Davidson, Collector of Customs and myself and an arrangement made to have a detail of "plain clothes men" from the local police department to cover this building. The members of the marine service at the recruiting station in this building were likewise requested to be on the alert for any suspicious circumstance which might arise. The Collector of Customs also BOMB EXPLOSION, New York City.

Under date September 18th, last, this office was in receipt of the following letter:

"Cincinnati,

I was in Ward N-1, Cincinnati General Hospital, discharged Thursday, and while there a woman in Ward N-2 made a singular prediction that New York City was to be destroyed in five days. Do you think that she could have had any pre-knowledge of what occurred in that city Thursday? I do not know the woman's name but I am sure she is in the Hospital yet. N-2 is the Psychopathic Ward.

Respectfully yours,

E. L. Cudebeck, Hotel Thoma."

Agent interviewed writer of the letter, E. L. Cudebeck, who stated that he did not know the name of the patient in the hospital who had made the remark but that two nurses, MRS. HULDA EMERSON and MISS LULA WENNING, could give the desired information.

At Cincinnati General Hospital interviewed MRS. EMERSON and she stated that about three days ago some woman patient was brought in who was crazy on religion and that she had made remark that "There would be Hell or Heaven in New York in five days". As the woman was evidently deranged no importance was attached to the remark.

MISS MRS. EMERSON did not know the name of the patient but I learned from MISS EDWARDS, nurse in charge of this ward, that the patient's name was ALICE POPPENBURG, who is a middle aged woman who is crazy on religion, claiming that she had messages from the

I talked with the patient, ALICE POPPENBURG, and very evident that she was insane upon question of religion.
She said she did not know anything about the explosion other than someone had said there had been one there. She went on at great length about messages she received from the Lord regarding destruction of all people on earth unless they mended their ways.

Agent was satisfied after few minutes conversation with her she knew nothing whatever of any interest regarding the explosion in New York City.

Investigation concluded.

Mr. T. O. Stilcox,
In Re: Wall Street Explosion
F. O. Box 5451,

Dear Sir:

New York File #70-4

In connection with an investigation in the Wall Street Explosion now being conducted by this office, it is necessary to ascertain the correctness of a certain statement made by ELMER P. CABEL. Among other things CABEL states that he was employed by the Victor Talking Machine Company at Blackwood, N. J., during the latter part of 1920 or during 1921.

The New York office of the Victor Talking Machine Company informs us that the company has no plant at Blackwood, N. J., but that there is one at Camden, N. J., and that any information regarding that plant could best be obtained at Camden.

Will you, therefore, have an agent call at the Camden plant of the Victor Talking Machine Company and examine the records of that company for the purpose of ascertaining whether ELMER P. CABEL was ever employed by that company in any capacity and if so, kindly secure the dates, etc.

Very truly yours,

ROY A. DARLING

Attention: Mrs. Hoover.

Dear Sir:

Attached herewith, please find a copy of a report submitted by the Military Intelligence concerning Fischer, the suspect in the Wall Street Explosion of September 16, 1920.

This memorandum was evidently prepared by Mrs. Olney, who is connected with the Military Intelligence as a volunteer operative, and who conferred with Agent Scully of this office prior to visiting Fischer.

You will note that the last part of the report is rather confusing and it would appear that said part of the report is more or less a personal matter with Mrs. Olney and the man in the Military Intelligence to whom she submitted her statement.

Very truly yours,

T. M. Reddy

ACTING SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE.
October 20, 1920.

Arrived at Amityville at 12:10. Spent nearly three hours with Fischer. Much difficulty in getting access to him. Officials there most stagnant type ever met.

Principal points gained from Fischer as to what he believes are the following:

1. Wall Street was work of Sinn Fein.

2. Aimed to get Morgan and that outfit--because he controls the cables--is in league with England financially.

3. They thought Morgan there--did not know he had gone to England--thought only Sabin had sailed.

4. Asked why that method when it involved killing many innocent, hard working people, Fischer explained that it is always that way in a huge plan for the reconstruction of the world such as this--there must be sacrifice of innocent as well as guilty--that the innocent are lucky, for when they die they go on.

5. Lloyd George is to be killed within the next three or four months, when England will recover and start on a new regime (probably like Russia). That at present she is on the verge of being wiped off the map. This strike is the beginning of the upheaval. He told me to watch Russia, Germany and Japan--that everything big was coming from the last two in combination.

6. He stuck hard to his "alter-ego" theory of communication--hunches coming to him--but I did not feel the sincerity there. I do believe that he feels intimations of trouble just as everybody does, and he is using this for all it is worth--but there is more in it than that. He is very thick with these two Japanese up at Meriwold Camp--showed me a letter from a Japanese whose name is, or sounded like, Yamasaki, who wrote him on paper with a "chemical laboratory" heading. I said "A Japanese a chemist." Fischer said "Most marvellous chemist you ever knew." I happened to notice on the paper that one of the branches of this chemical laboratory was in San Antonio, Tex. The letter from Yamasaki was written in a most jolly American slang fashion. I take it that Fischer's belief in Japan's hatred for England comes from this connection. What connection the "chemical" laboratory, the Wall Street explosion and a Japanese Sinn Fein may all have is merely guesswork, but there was no getting away from the conviction that that was where Fischer got his information.

He volunteered, as proof that the explosion was Sinn Fein--and not Italian or Russian--that so far the D. of J. had done nothing. "Why I know" he said "that half the detectives in the Department, and the police force, are Irish sympathizers." He rattled off several names I couldn't quite get as instances.

His mind is statistical one moment and Biblical the next. "He will run along fairly well for a while, and can be interesting. His big resentment is England--says that in 1914-15 she borrowed from us (through organ) at the rate of 2½ interest, turned about and loaned. France at 4½—and that right now, while France is loaning Austria money at 6½ (through Morgan again) we are floating a Swiss loan at 6%. He predicts the smash of everything here during the next three months, due to the English bonds going to pieces. Says the Stock Exchange will probably suspend. He wound up by saying that in all this bombing business it was an absolute duty at times to kill people. I said, looking extremely earnest, "If I felt it right to kill you, it would be a crime for me not to do it." (Incidentally I agreed with him heartily).

That was about all that was of interest to the Department. The rest of the time he rambled along about the Alexanders, his own geneology, and Indian, and Brahmin and Confucian religions, with the bible thrown in.

I wish to add, however, that forty Fishers are preferable to the caretakers of that place down there. I would take my chances any day for fair play with the inmates rather than either Dr. Price or Dr. Wilcoy; the attendants look like crooks and degenerates. Poroxide blondes, as nurses, are wandering around, and my whole impression was of something evil and unclean and unfair to any suffering bit of humanity. Fischer needs care and scientific treatment. His room is totally bare of anything to make it livable. Some leaves he had gathered were on the dresser. His pockets was full of newspaper clippings—but no books. No exercise save one hour a day, nothing to do but just sit there and brood. The man has an active, intelligently intended sort of mind that might be helped under other conditions. Here he is, physically and mentally thrown back on himself, and it is a wonder to me that he stands it without going totally crazy. He said I did him good—just the friendly talking—and I hope I did. I have met many men on the outside fully as wild in their ideas as he. I wish something different could be done for him.

Please phone 33 at once and ask them to forward all mail. I have not received any mail from 33 since Saturday A.M. I particularly want to know what the Fischer Mission wrote because I have quite a little business information that no one else knows, and they might be writing me for it.

Dear Rob—Greetings to /a and you:

Charlie Vill and Vien Yamasaki are worth ten Fredds. Cha. has a wife that raises hell with him all the time and yet he sticks. Vien is wearing and bearing his cross for Japan. Eddie Conlin is my friend.

Your mistake with Eddie Conlin got me with O.J. Gude & Co., and Percy Mildreth got me with the F.Com. and Percy got a rake off on it, but Eddie just got my appreciation, which he still has.
Pursuant to instructions from Agent Scully, based on telephone communication from Mr. A.J. Smith, of Taylor Smith & Hard, Brokers, 49 Wall Street, agent interviewed Mr. Smith, who states that one E.B. FISCHER was introduced to him by Theodore Konrad, 52 West 75th Street, business 45 Pine Street. That he deposited $2,000 with the firm, to buy stocks, which was invested in Canadian Pacific & Baldwin; that he suspected this man was the FISCHER implicated in the Bomb Outrage, Sept. 16, 1920.

Agent interviewed Theodore Konrad, 45 Pine Street and Dominick Burke, Netherland Hotel, 5th Avenue and 67th Street; and positively ascertained that it was not the same person. Mr. E.B. FISCHER is at present living at the Commodore Hotel, New York.
Garel wired Agent that he has Harrison's address. Asks what Morgan people intend to do. States must have reply before the evening of November 13, 1925. Agent wired him to communicate with Special Agent E. R. Newell. Wired Newall to obtain address and all facts. James Harrison not known at General Delivery, this City, but letter addressed to that name is at General Delivery at present. Mailed from a local Post Office. Post Master being requested to obtain all possible information regarding person who applies for this letter.

Details:

Agent this date received following wire from EIMER F. GAREL, informant on this case at Mobile Alabama:

"HAVE HARRISON'S ADDRESS STOP I MUST KNOW BY EVENING WHAT YOUR PARTY INTENDS STOP NO TIME TO FOOL"

This telegram was addressed to Agent at 1 West 34th Street, N.Y.C., which is the old address of the World Wide News Association with which Agent claimed to be connected for the purpose of interviewing GAREL. Agent told GAREL that he was with this Association and at times makes confidential inquiries for J. P. MORGAN. The message was telephoned to Agent's residence by the Western Union.

Details:

The following message has been sent to Special Agent E. R. Newell, at Mobile:

"GAREL TELEGRAPHED STARR THAT HE HAS HARRISON'S ADDRESS STOP SEE GAREL IMMEDIATELY AND OBTAIN ADDRESS AND ALL ADDITIONAL INFORMATION STOP GAREL SAYS MUST KNOW BEFORE TONIGHT WHAT STARRS PEOPLE WILL DO STOP"
The above telegram was signed by Agent in Charge R. A. Darling. A telegram was sent to GAREL direct, signed by this Agent.

"YOUR WIRE RECEIVED STOP SEE NEWELL STOP ENTIRE MATTER IN HIS HANDS"

Agent communicated with the Post Office authorities, and was informed that James Harrison is not known at the local General Delivery. There is a letter at General Delivery at the present time which was redirected there from the Times Square Station. This letter was mailed at a local Post Office. The Post Master is being requested to secure all possible information regarding the person who calls for the letter addressed to James Harrison.

James Weitsman, of the United States Secret Service, who is familiar with the so called "Gimbel Brothers Bombs" is out of the City at present, but will return in a few days. He will then be interviewed regarding this matter.

Elmer F. Garel interviewed at Mobile, Ala., states that he in company with James Harrison, Thomas Griffen, Jacob Sonoff and two others, prepared and staged the Wall Street Explosion. That Griffen procured the explosives, Garel did the electrical work, Sonoff drove the wagon and Harrison financed the work.

MR. J. PIERPONT MORGAN, through his personal representative submitted to this office two letters, one dated October 26th and one dated October 28th, both from E. F. GAREL, 959 Old Shell Road, Mobile, Ala. The first letter reads as follows:

"J. Pierpont Morgan.

Dear Sir,—Do you remember the Wall St., blast on Sept. 16, 1921? This is not a crank letter or from one who is insane. The persons who were responsible for this crime, have never been apprehended as you know.

I am writing this to you knowing that you are a patriotic American and a man in whom the people can place confidence. So as my conscience has been worrying me I appeal to you to keep what I am about to tell you to your Self and not to tell the police or Government agents. Any interference on their part will cause my death and the death of my family.

I have been watched for the last four years. I did not have any part in the crime or am I a fugitive from..."
justice. Though I have done things that were not within-the-law. That is how I became associated with the perpetrators of that crime. With the fear of death hovering over my family and self; I make a direct appeal to you to help me to turn over to justice the gang that caused the blast an who are now planning similar outrages throughout the country.

Most of the larger robberies in the East can be laid to the door of these men. A man in your position could assist to bring these men to prison. If I appealed to the police or Government as I stated I or the ones I love would be killed. I appeal to you because you will not let anything out an you have men who are not known who can work with me. So that no one will know I have a hand in rounding up these men, I do not want any reward glory, or newspaper write up or any other honor for doing same. I do not even want my wife or boy to know as what I have done in the past they have never known. I can place enough evidence into your hand upon arrival to send several men to the chair: Are you willing to go through with me?

If you will I require transportation for my family and self back to New York. Enough expense money to buy clothes, pay a few bills and have enough to pay my expenses while I am with my wives people in New York.

To show you I am on the square I ask you if you go through with it to keep my family & self under surveillance by your own men from here to New York and as long as you care to do same. If you are not going through with it please destroy this an forget same.

The expense of every thing; transportation and ect. will be about $1200.00:

Will you spend this to see justice done? If so wire me at once as there is not much time to lose. I will expect telegram with expenses before Oct. 29, 1925. We can leave here in 36 hours. I know they expect to pull something big before December. Hoping that you will respect my confidence as my life depends on same.

If you send same to my residence just state in telegram that you have something better for me in N, Y, in the line of work. Sign any name you wish. I will report to your office, #22 Wall St. upon arrival.

Yours Truly

The second letter is as follows:

"Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan,

Dear Sir,

Did you receive my letter of Oct. 24th? Sent to your home by Special Delivery. Please dont think this is the work of a crank or a gaffer. Havent you a little faith in human nature? Please answer this by wire before the 1st of Nov. It is positive necessary that I hear from you before then. And that I be in New York by Nov. 5 to cooperate with your agents as there is no time to lose. Not only your own life but others or in danger. You can easiy enough have me watched to show that I am playing fair and not interfered with till I reach New York. Dont think that I am crazy or off my head for I am not. And I also appeal to you not to turn this over to the police or Govt. agents as my life will be forfeited. If I was not on the square with you, you could easiy put me away in jail when I arrive in New York. As I will report to you upon arri-vale. My wife and baby do not know of the danger that is hanging over our heads. I am not doing this only for the you but I am risking my life and the life of my family for other innocent people at the same time. You could have Pinkerton men or others watch me from here to New York but please dont let them interfere with me, except to shadow me till I can see you or your repre-sentatives in New York. Wont you stake me to the expense money which I asked you for in the letter of the 24th. So that I can leave here at once. As there is no time to lose. Maybe you think $1200.00 is to much for expenses but consider the fare, clothing, and living expenses. Then consider your life and the lives of others and see if you dont think that it is reasonable enough if I can stop the plans of others. I will expect answer by wire before Nov. 2. Please dont fail. I you have any love for Your Country.

Yours truly,

(Signed) E. F. GAREL,

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge ROY A. DAR-LING, Agent proceeded to Mobile, Ala., arriving there on November 3, 1925. Upon arriving Agent communicated with GAREL by telephone at his place of em-ployment, which is the METER REPAIR SHOP of the MOBILE ELECTRIC COMPANY, #711 Dauphine Street, Mobile, Ala. GAREL met Agent by appointment at the Cawthon Hotel. He stated that, becoming nervous over the delay of MR. MORGAN in replying to his letters he had communicated with E. R. NEWELL, the local Agent of the U. S. Department of Justice and had discussed the matter with him.

GAREL related briefly the events leading up to and following the Wall Street Explosion insofar as he claimed to be familiar with them. Agent suggested that GAREL and he communicate with the local Department of Justice Agent as GAREL stated that he had an appointment with Agent NEWELL. GAREL and Agent then went to the office of the Bureau and continued the interview with Agent NEWELL present. The interview was discontinued in order to permit GAREL to return to work. He returned to the office of Bureau on November 4th, and the interview was continued.

GAREL's statement is substantially as follows:

That he was born on October 20th, 1899 at New Orleans, La. He commenced working for a living when he was about 15 years of age, having falsified his date of birth in order to do so. He worked on board vessels of the United Fruit Co.; and other lines out of New Orleans. During 1915 he met a man named JAMES HARRISON at a saloon in New Orleans. After some conversation HARRISON suggested to him that he could make some easy money by bringing in packages for HARRISON from Colon, Panama. GAREL agreed to do so and he was given instructions to get a package from a man named LOPEZ at Colon and bring it to New Orleans on his next trip. Upon doing so and for considerable time thereafter GAREL delivered these packages to a disorderly house located at Fifteen thirty or some other number in the Fifteen thirties, Custom House Street, New Orleans. The proprietor of this house was known as EVA TANGUAY on account of the similarity of her name with that of the famous actress. Altogether GAREL made about twelve deliveries of this nature. From the first delivery which he made he knew that the packages contained narcotics and that he was violating the law in bringing them in.

On July 22, 1916 GAREL joined the New Orleans National Guard at Camp Stafford, Louisiana. On August 5, 1917 his organization was mustered into the Federal Service for duty on the Mexican Border and two days later GAREL was discharged by reason of defective eyesight at Camp Nicholls, New Orleans. GAREL continued then to work on United Fruit Company ships and bring in narcotics for HARRISON. He estimated that he brought in a total of eight hundred pounds.

GAREL served as an oiler on the SS. "ABANGAREZ!" (U.F.C.) from January 22, 1917 to November 14, 1917; on the SS. "PARISMINA" of the same company also as an oiler from December 15, 1917 to February 20, 1918.

GAREL left New Orleans and came to New York City where he again connected with HARRISON. He entered the Army Transport Service, serving on the SS. "LUCIA" from February 20th to May 2, 1918 and on the SS. "EL SOL" as a water tender from June 1918 to July 15, 1918. While GAREL was in the Army Transport Service HARRISON gave him a package of papers or letters which he delivered to a jeweler at St. Nazare, France. GAREL does not know the exact address but it was a jewelry store located near a large clock in the town square.
This was in June 1918 and GABEL received $400. for his part in the transaction. Upon his return to the U. S. during that same year HARRISON persuaded GABEL to stay ashore. GABEL in the meantime had met a girl named ROSE MURPHY who was born at Glasgow, Scotland but had been in the U. S. for sometime. He met her at the home of her uncle T. D. GLEASON #417 47th Street, New York City. GABEL and MISS MURPHY were eventually married as he states, at the Holy Cross Cathedral on 42nd Street, New York City. (There is no Holy Cross Cathedral on 42nd Street but there is however; a Holy Cross Rectory, which is probably what GABEL refers to. He is not Catholic and consequently could not be married in a Catholic Church and as the marriage was performed by a Catholic Priest it would seem logical that it was performed in the rectory).

GLEASON referred to above now owns and operates a gravel pit at Maspeth, L. I.

About this time HARRISON sent GABEL to Pittsburgh with a package of papers to be delivered to a party employed at a lumber yard. GABEL does not recall the name or address.

GABEL next went to Philadelphia and secured a position in the MIDVALE STEEL WORKS at Nicetown, Pa. This position was secured through the efforts of THOMAS GRIFFEN who is employed in boiler house number 3 of the MIDVALE STEEL WORKS. He is still employed there and resides in the vicinity of the West Moreland Station of the Pennsylvania R. R. HARRISON knew GRIFFEN and referred GABEL to him when GABEL was leaving for Philadelphia.

While employed at the MIDVALE STEEL WORKS, GABEL roomed with a MRS. LACKMAN at #1923 West, West Moreland Street. That was during 1919. He also roomed over Mogul's Candy Store, at the corner of 22nd and Bellview Streets. GABEL remained there until the latter part of 1920.

In May 1919 GABEL was in New York City and HARRISON in the course of the conversation told him that he, HARRISON, had mailed out two bombs; one to MRS. HARDWICK, wife of the former Senator of Georgia and one to OLE HANSON, former mayor of Seattle, Wash.

On about May 15, 1919 HARRISON instructed GABEL to get a truck and to get it from some place uptown. GABEL states that he hired a truck driven by a negro who has a stand at about 170th Street & 10th Avenue. GABEL described this as being in what is known as the black belt; (This is not correct as the black belt does not extend to 170th Street, nor does 10th Avenue extend that far uptown. A continuation of 10th Avenue in that part of the City is Amsterdam Avenue). GABEL states that he and the truck driver proceeded to First Avenue and 20th Street to a room on the second floor of a building next to a bar room where they were joined by HARRISON. HARRISON and GABEL took thirty-six bombs from this address and placed them in the truck, taking them to the General Post Office to be mailed out. These bombs had been prepared, wrapped; address and stamps had been affixed to them by HARRISON. They were wrapped in paper having the return address of GIMBEL'S NOVELTY DEPARTMENT. Each bomb was about eight Inches square, done up in white wrapping paper and they were mailed about noon. GAREL left New York the same night and returned to Philadelphia having been paid $75. by HARRISON for his part in this work.

In July or August 1920 HARRISON came to Philadelphia and in a conference with GRIFFEN and GAREL, outlined a proposition to explode a bomb in New York in front of MORGAN'S office for the purpose of creating a panic; HARRISON arranged with GAREL for the latter to secure the necessary explosives. He was unable to obtain the exact quantities desired but he did succeed in getting one hundred pounds of black powder, fifty pounds of nitro-glycerine and twenty-six sticks of dynamite. GAREL who has a knowledge of electrical work was instructed by HARRISON to make a timer to set off the explosives. GAREL made said timer out of a clock-work arrangement with an electric switch. He did the work during his spare time while on the night shift at the MIDVALE plant; in the meantime GRIFFEN kept the explosives stored in the basement of his home. On about September 10, 1920 HARRISON, GAREL, JACOB SONOFF and two other Polish men met at Philadelphia and took the timer and the explosives with them by train to New York City; leaving the train at the Pennsylvania Station they went by ferry direct to Jersey City and from there in a hired automobile to a farm owned by an Italian near Newark; N. J. (In his first statement to Agent, GAREL stated that they left the train at Newark and proceeded to the farm). GAREL states that he could locate the farm although he does not remember the name or the address.

HARRISON had purchased a horse and wagon from this Italian for $50; later on the Italian apparently became scared and wanted more money: HARRISON paid him $2,000; in cash in GAREL'S presence. The horse was white with brown spots. The wagon GAREL describes as being a common truck wagon, with no top; the original color of the wagon was yellow but it was old and dirty. (GAREL pointed out to Agent a wagon of the type described. It had sides about 2 feet high with a spring seat on the front end). HARRISON and the rest of the men remained at this Italian's farm for about five days, sleeping on blankets in the barn and eating with the Italian.

On the day of the explosion SONOFF and GAREL rode on the wagon, SONOFF driving. HARRISON and the two Polish men who GAREL describes as gun-men, followed in an automobile which was driven by one of the Poles; GAREL does not recall the make of the automobile. Upon arriving in New York City, after crossing over the ferry to New York City, they drove up 10th Avenue for about fifteen blocks; then drive downtown again, stopping at Canal Street where as GAREL recalls it, HARRISON removed the license plates or identification marks from the wagon. They drove on to the corner of Wall & Broadway near Trinity Church where GAREL left the wagon and proceeded on foot to the battery; SONOFF stayed on the wagon. This was about fifteen minutes to twelve.

They all met by appointment at 2:30 that afternoon in the lobby of the Maalpin Hotel. GAREL was paid $5,000 in cash by HARRISON. He believes that SONOFF and the two Poles were paid like amounts. HARRISON stated that he had received $100,000. for the job; $75,000. of which he retained for himself;
After the Wall Street Explosion GAREL returned to Philadelphia; then he went to Blackwood, N. J., where he secured a position with the VICTOR TALKING MACHINE COMPANY. He also went out West for a while and finally returned to New Orleans, going from there to Mobile to his present address.

HARRISON and GAREL have communicated with one another about once a month, GAREL directing his mail to HARRISON in care of General Delivery, New York City. About a month ago HARRISON wrote to GAREL instructing him to secure at New Orleans and mail to him, HARRISON, two high power rifles with telescopic sights. The purpose of securing these rifles was to arm ten snipers or marksmen who had been sent here from Russia and were kept in concealment by HARRISON somewhere on the West side of New York City. GAREL presumes that GRIFFEN; SONOFF and others had also been instructed to make similar purchases, the purpose of this being to distribute the purchases and not arouse suspicion by making them all at one place as it is presumed that he desires to secure ten rifles. GAREL is supposed to deliver these rifles during November.

JAMES HARRISON according to GAREL is a notorious narcotic importer and dealer. He is about 45 to 50 years of age, weighs about 180 pounds, has a florid complexion, close cropped mustache, 'two' noticeable gold teeth, quite fat, has reddish hair, steel blue eyes, habitually smokes or chews on the stub of a Pittsburgh stogie, usually wears blue serge clothing, tan shoes, is single and very wealthy. GAREL does not know his address but states that if he comes to New York he will have no difficulty in locating HARRISON at some of his haunts.

JACOB SONOFF is about 40 years of age, weighs about 160 pounds, 5'8", dark complexion; dark hair, dark brown eyes, heavy black eyebrows meeting in the center; hair maybe sprinkled with gray, has a peculiar swinging motion when walking; believed to be round shouldered, usually wore a cap, Russian born, in U. S. about 20 years; married, has several children, his wife's first name is Sarah. GAREL does not know SONOFF'S address but he believes that if he went to Chicago he could locate him.

THOMAS GRIFFEN whose place of employment is given above, is 5'6" tall; has a fair complexion, turned-up nose; distinctly Irish appearance, large mouth, has worked around Philadelphia even since his arrival in the U. S. as a Stationary Engineer, having a license as such; has worked particularly around hospitals and similar institutions; married and has several children.

GAREL was born October 30, 1893; is 5'10½", 160 pounds; brown hair, greenish or hazel eyes, fair complexion, wears gold rim spectacles, flat footed; small but protruding ears. On the day of the explosion he wore a dark greyish heavy suit, fedora hat and tan shoes.

Since the Wall Street Explosion, GAREL attended the U. S. Shipping Board Free Marine School during July 1921; he served as an oiler on the Shipping Board vessel "DANVILLE" from August 15, 1921 to September 15, 1921 and on the SS. "SOKESIT" of the Lykes Line as an oiler from January 22, 1922 to March 29, 1925.
He was employed as an engineer at Kolth's Tavern, 125 St. Charles Street, New Orleans; for a period of four months, February to June 1923.

In the early part of the present year GAREL became worried over what might happen to him in view of narcotic raids which were being made throughout the country and fearing that something might be disclosed which would involve him he decided to leave the country. He, accordingly, applied for and secured a passport to visit "all countries" for the purpose of "employment". This passport was issued on February 20, 1925, numbered special series 686, New Orleans. He secured a Guatemalan visa on February 20, 1925. This visa was secured from the Consul General at New Orleans and is numbered 80. According to GAREL the explosives were placed in three containers in the wagon. Nearest the rear end of the wagon was a large box containing the powder. Ahead of that was a box containing the nitro and in the front end of the wagon was a box with the dynamite. Ahead of the dynamite box and just back of the seat was a box containing the storage batteries and to the left of that the timing device. Wooden partitions were built in the wagon to keep the boxes from moving and they were all connected with the timer and the storage batteries. The intention was to have the wagon stop immediately in front of the Morgan Building in order that the explosion would result in the death of MR. MORGAN. The explosion occurred ahead of time according to GAREL.

Questioned as to the result which was hoped to be obtained from killing MR. MORGAN or any other prominent person either then or now, GAREL explained that it was intended to cause a financial panic through these deaths which would result in a chaotic condition in Europe which would enable the Communists to stage a successful revolution over there.

GAREL is not aware of Agent's connection with this Bureau. He is under the impression that Agent is connected directly with the World Wide News Association in this city and indirectly with the office of MR. J. P. MORGAN.

An examination of the files of the Wall Street Explosion investigation of the New York Office shows that the final decision as to the description of the wagon used, based on the examination of a number of eye witnesses is as follows:

Single, top, capacity one to one and one-half tons, red running-gear, striped black with fine white lines. Three-foot wheels on front, 4 1-2 foot hind wheels of Sarvant patent. Body 5 feet 6 inches high, 53 inches wide on outside, about 8 or 8 1-2 feet from ground to top of wagon. Shaft attached was not the one originally belonging to it, as it was narrower than the couplings provided for holding shaft to wagon.

The horse is described as being:

Dark Bay Mare, about 15 5-4 hands, 15 years, weighing approximately 1050 pounds, long mane and stubby foretop, evidently clipped about a month ago. Several scars on left shoulder. Few white hairs on forehead.
The horse had been recently shod on the hind feet and the shoes are described as follows;

Hind shoes marked JHU and NOA in same size letters about half an inch apart. The front shoes were pads, circle in center reading "Niagara Hoof Pad Co., Bison, Buffalo, N. Y."

The description of the harness is that it was a single set of heavy wagon harness, old and worn, had been frequently repaired. Turret rings were originally of brass, one now broken, the other silver mounted and evidently belonging originally to coach harness.

The shoeing of the horse was done by GAETANO De GRAZIAO, 205 Elizabeth Street, New York City, a blacksmith, who stated that he shoed the horse on September 15, 1925, that the wagon to which the horse had been harnessed was a very-old one-horse wagon of the type known as delivery wagon and it was painted a light red color.

GAREL stated to this Agent that he was the writer of the two anonymous communications which FISHER was accused of having written. Search of the files has failed to indicate the whereabouts of the FISHER letters. If the originals of these letters are in the Bureau files at Washington, it is respectfully requested they be forwarded to this office in order that the handwriting may be compared with the handwriting of GAREL as shown in the two letters which he directed to J. P. MORGAN.

Copies of this report are being forwarded to the New Orleans, Philadelphia and Chicago Offices.

Agent B. R. NEWELL is familiar with the investigation desired at Mobile, Al.; and New Orleans, La.

The Philadelphia Office is respectfully requested to make a very discreet investigation of the activities, etc., of THOMAS GRIFFEN during the period of 1920 and since that time. Also of GAREL'S activities while residing at Philadelphia and while employed by the MIDVALE STEEL CO.

The Chicago Office is respectfully requested to obtain whatever information possible which will tend to locate and identify JACOB SONOFF referred to elsewhere in this report. He is believed to be engaged in some sort of a small business for himself at Chicago.

Extra copies of all reports should be forwarded to the New Orleans Office as well as the New York Office.

It is respectfully suggested that nothing be done with reference to bringing GAREL to New York City until some of his information has been checked up. Agent in accordance with instructions from Special Agent in Charge DARLING will refrain from conferring with the MORGAN representatives until further information is obtained and instructions received from Washington.

Information obtained at the VICTOR TALKING MACHINE COMPANY, Camden, N.J., indicates that subject (ELMER F. GAREL) was evidently employed in that plant on dates that he claimed that he was in other places.

DETAILS:

This report has reference to information contained in report of Special Agent George J. Starr of the New York office dated 11/6/25, that information being the result of an interview which Agent Starr had with a man named ELMER F. BAREL in which GAREL confessed to the part which he says he played in the above matter.

Agent secured the following information:

ELMER FRED. GAREL was hired by the VICTOR TALKING MACHINE COMPANY of Camden, N.J. on August 19th 1919 and resigned on April 1st 1921, after having been reprimanded for not giving his work proper attention. He was what is known as an oil rubber. His salary was $18.70 per week. His rating as to ability was fair and his record was poor. At the time that he was employed by the VICTOR TALKING MACHINE COMPANY, he gave as his address: 125 Morris Ave., Ames Farm, Blackwood, N.J., stating that he formerly lived at 3330 N. 22nd St., Philadelphia, Pa. He was born in Louisiana and his signature appears upon Victor Card #41371. He claims to have been 25 yrs old in 1918 and stated on his card that his last place of employment was the MIDVALE STEEL COMPANY where he had worked nine months as a water tender. The card shows under physical examination that he was suffering from "varicose veins". The part that is significant in the information contained on the Victor records is that GAREL seems to have worked the entire month of September, 1920, and the following record will show the days that he was off, indicating that on September 10th and September 16th 1920, he was at work at the VICTOR TALKING MACHINE COMPANY. Therefore, he could not have been employed on the night shift at... the MIDVALE STEEL "COE" unless he had worked both night and day:

Inquiring made at Blackwood, N.J., developed that he was known in that little country town and on June 11th 1921, he left with the Postmaster an address: 417 East 47th St., New York, N.Y., which is one of the addresses mentioned in Agent Starker's report. Blackwood, N.J., has a large summer population but a small winter population.

Information obtained from the present Postmaster at Blackwood developed that the N.J., (COE) above mentioned in a farmer in that locality and moved to Clayton, N.J., about two or three years ago, but shot and killed himself.

Information obtained from the former Postmaster named GAMBLE developed that GAMBLE was not very well thought of in the town because of the fact that he had defrauded money from some of the people and never paid it back, otherwise he was practically unknown.

Investigation at the MIDVALE STEEL COE'S office, Philadelphia, etc., developed that the man, W.R.C., GAMBLE mentioned by GAMBLE is no longer employed at the Midvale plant. He left there in May, 1925, to get a better position, but he was employed at the plant at the time that GAMBLE stated and in the position which GAMBLE mentions.

The address given by GAMBLE the time he was employed at the Midvale plant was 3805 N. 36th St., Philadelphia, Pa. He would now be 56 yrs. old. He was born in Ireland; is 5 ft. 6 in. tall; weighs 140 lbs.; his employment began in June, 1912. Photographs of both GAMBLE and GAMBLE are available at any time they are required.

GAMBLE worked all day Sept. 16th and Sept. 17th 1920. The records show that during both of those weeks, he worked full time. GAMBLE's reputation while at the plant was good. He was a steady worker. The address which he gave was 2300 N. 32nd St., Philadelphia, Pa., which was a rooming house over a cigar store operated by a man named LEME who sold the place to the present owner, a man named J. LAUX who took possession on November 1, 1919. GAREL has not lived there since LAUX took over this place and Agent was unable to locate MOGUL at the address given by GAREL.

3325 W. 24th Street is occupied by a woman named MRS. GOTH BROWN. Whether or not GRIFFEN lived at that address at the time he worked at the MIDVALE plant Agent did not determine, for the reason that he did not want to make too many inquiries at this time. However, GRIFFEN is living at 3051 W. 24th Street. He has a brother, MICHAEL GRIFFEN, living at 5035 W. 24th Street. From the appearance of this house, the people are not of the better class. Things seem to be rather dirty and dilapidated. THOS. GRIFFEN himself was in the house on this day while Agent was making confidential inquiries.

The result of Agent's investigation here shows that GAREL was working at the VICTOR WALKING MACHINE COMPANY in Camden, N. J., on Sept. 10th and 16th 1920, on the dates he claims he was in New York City, and that THOS. GRIFFEN was working at the MIDVALE STEEL COMPANY plant on both of these days. It might be possible that GAREL was employed at the Midvale plant on the night shift under another name.

November 14, 1925,

Mr. R. A. Darling,
Box 70, Wall Street Station,
New York, New York.

Dear Sir:

The Bureau is in receipt of the report of Agent Starr of November 6, 1925, relative to the Wall Street Explosion, detailing certain inquiries made by Agent Starr at Mobile, Alabama, more particularly his interview with Elmer F. Carol there.

It is believed that it would be proper to communicate the results of this interview to the personal representative of Mr. J. P. Morgan who transmitted to you Carol's letters of October 23, 1925, and October 23, 1925, respectively.

Referring to the paragraph of Agent Starr's report wherein he makes inquiry as to the Fischer letters, I beg to state that I have made an thorough search made of the files here and no record can be found therein of such letters.

Very truly yours,

Director.
SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Mr. Leach being furnished with a report on plain paper of Agent's interview with GAREL. Facts of "Gimbel Brothers" bombs did not agree with GAREL's version. Philadelphia office requested to check up time cards on GAREL during September 1920. New Orleans office requested to notify GAREL of this Agent's correct (under cover) address. CONTINUED:

DETAILS:

Reference is made to bureau letter of November 14, 1925, instructing that the information obtained from GAREL be brought to the attention of the representative of the person to whom GAREL's two letters were directed.

Agent accordingly called at the office of the person to whom the letters were directed and had an interview with MR. LEACH, the personal representative of the addressee.

MR. LEACH asked for a copy of the report on Agent's interview with GAREL. Agent explained to him that there was only one copy of the report at this office and that report belonging in the office file. Agent has written up the substance of the report on plain paper and will furnish MR. LEACH with a copy of it.

In going over this report Agent noted that an error had been made in dictating the report. On page 6, first paragraph, it was erroneously stated that the explosives were secured by GAREL. This should be corrected to read that HARRISON arranged with GRIFFEN for the latter to secure the necessary explosives. It should also be noted that GAREL's service on the SS "Gokesit" terminated on March 29, 1925, (last paragraph page 7). The correct date on which De GRAZIO shot the horse is September 15, 1920, accord...
Agent in interviewing GABEL asked him whether or not any missiles or "slugs" had been used in making the infernal machine. He stated that slugs were placed in the container with the explosives. These slugs were small bolts, screws and old nails which HARRISON brought out to the farm at Newark in a suitcase. GABEL described the slugs as being very small. He gave no indication of having seen anything resembling the sash weights which were used.

With reference to GABEL's description of the so-called GIMBEL BROTHERS bombs, 36 of which he states were transported to the General Post Office in New York City with HARRISON on about May 15, 1919 and deposited at the Parcel Post window for mailing. It appears that GABEL'S statement is very much at variance with the truth. Agent called at the General Post Office and interviewed Inspector SHAFFER who made some investigation on this matter. Agent did not disclose to the Inspector the nature of nor the reason for the inquiry. Inspector SHAFFER exhibited to Agent a newspaper report covering this matter. From this report it would appear that the bombs were placed in a package receptacle somewhere in the central part of the city and were brought to the General Post Office at about 9 PM by a collection wagon. There were only 16 of them in the lot. The total number of such bombs mailed or detained by the Postal Authorities was 36, throughout the entire U. S. Many of them had already been mailed previous to the day on which the 16 referred to above were mailed. These 16 were mailed probably on the last day of April 1919. When they were delivered to the General Post Office it was discovered that the wrappers were held together with small paper seals. This made it necessary to consider the packages as first class mail. The postage affixed to the packages was not sufficient for first class mail consequently they were detained until sufficient postage was furnished to cover the first class mailing charges. The newspaper of April 30, 1919 carried articles describing the receipt of bombs through the mail by Senator HARDWICK and OLD HANSON. One of these bombs had exploded and inflicted serious injuries on MRS. HARDWICK and a maid. CHARLES KAPLAN, a Post Office Clerk, after leaving the General Post Office on April 30th, read in the newspapers a description of the bombs and immediately recalled that the 16 packages held for additional postage at the General Post Office were of the same description. This lead to the discovery that the 16 Gimbel Bros., packages contained infernal machines. These packages were wrapped in white wrapping paper, marked Gimbel Brothers, New York City (with the proper street address), bore on one side the word "novelty" and on the other side the word "sample". The fourth side was blank. The packages were somewhat similar to the ordinary biscuit packages being about 8" long and 2" wide. This differs considerably with GABEL'S story.

The Postal Authorities, Madison Square Post Office, have been requested to make inquiries of the various carriers for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not there is or was in the past any person named JAMES HARRISON residing in the vicinity of the corner of 22nd Street and 3rd Avenue or the corner of 20th Street and First Avenue.

MR. LEACH states that his principals are ready to render every possible assistance in conducting this investigation and as soon as any information is obtained that will in the slightest degree substantiate any part of GAREL'S story they will arrange to bring GAREL to New York City.

Merely as a matter of record Agent wishes to call attention to the fact that GAREL undoubtedly violated the Postal Laws in writing the two letters which he sent to New York City as in them he attempts to obtain $1200 from the addressee by describing the possible danger which threatens the addressee. If GAREL cannot substantiate his statements, this is very clearly a violation of the law. He also violated the law by presenting a false birth certificate when obtaining a passport. He admits making this false affidavit.

Copies of this report are being forwarded to the various offices interested for their information.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

The Philadelphia office is requested to ascertain whether GAREL, while employed by the Midvale Steel Works was absent from his work during the ten days immediately preceding September 16, 1920. This may require considerable examination of the Time Records of the Midvale Steel Works but it is of sufficient importance to justify such examination.

Agent NEWELL at Mobile, is requested to inform GAREL that Agent's address is GEORGE J. STARR c/o WORLD WIDE NEWS ASSOCIATION, #303 - 5th Avenue, New York City, telephone Caledonia 5300. This is the cover used by Agent in interviewing GAREL. The address of the Association has been changed to the above. Should GAREL write to Agent the above address is to be used.

DIRECTOR,
Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of the 18th instant, wherein you commented upon report of Agent STARR made November 13, 1925, showing developments in the investigation of the WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION, our file No. 70-4.

Report received today from the Philadelphia Office shows that investigation made there confirms, to a certain extent, some of GAREL'S statements, and I believe the man was implicated.

Your suggestion relative to taking this matter up with the New York Bomb Squad, I believe to be an excellent one, and I will immediately instruct Agent STARR to make this contact.

We will follow this matter through very carefully, in hopes of developing more interesting information.

Yours very truly,

ROY A. DARLING
Agent in Charge.

GAREL interviewed to secure address of JAMES HARRISON, which information was wired direct to S.A.C. Darling, New York. GAREL still claims that unless HARRISON is apprehended soon there will be killings of prominent people in the United States, and claims to be in touch with HARRISON by mail but fails to produce any letters or wires corroborating this. CONTINUED.

DETAILS:

AT MOBILE, ALA.

Reference to all former reports on this case:

Agent received a wire from S.A.C. Darling, New York Office, requesting GAREL be interviewed and address of HARRISON be secured from GAREL, who wired Agent Starr he had this address. GAREL was interviewed and said HARRISON was now living in an apartment house on the Northeast corner of 22nd and 3rd Avenue, second door from corner, exact number unknown, and that HARRISON had recently written from this address. GAREL promised to produce this letter but when again interviewed later the same day claimed to have mislaid the letter.

GAREL was anxious that he be sent to New York at once and stated that there would soon be several prominent people killed if HARRISON was not apprehended, and if he (GAREL) could get to New York he could locate HARRISON at once. Agent advised GAREL that as soon as this Department could verify enough of his statement to know he was telling the truth, he would be furnished transportation to New York, for the purpose of apprehending members of this bombing outrage, and that if he (GAREL) would furnish Agent something more definite, such as letters from HARRISON, or other men who were in this bombing, he (GAREL) would be sent to New York. GAREL promised to do this at once.
GAREL has quit his job with the Mobile Electric Company and was requesting a loan from this Agent on November 16th, 1925. He was advised to secure other work pending the results of this investigation.

Mr. R. A. Darling,

Wall Street Station,
New York City.

Dear Sirs:

I perused with considerable interest report of Agent Starr of your office, dated November 13th, showing developments to that date in the investigation of the Wall Street Explosion.

It has occurred to me that you should carefully consider the advisability of conferring with the Board of Commissioners of Public Safety in regard to these developments. The Governor, in course of course, is definitely established, Governor having been destroyed in the course of the explosion, however, if the interest of the City and the State of New York itself might be considered paramount, to much as human lives were lost by reason of this explosion, I am submitting this matter to you for your own judgment as to the desirability of a treaty with the New York Police, my idea being that in the event the facts, the information in this case, are discovered, the Bureau might possibly receive a contact from competent sources for nothing being said in the police of the progress that had been made of the investigative action taken in this matter.

Very truly yours,

Director.

IN RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION:

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:
Careful inquiry made through the Postal Authorities shows no record of JAMES HARRISON in the locality of 20th Street and First Avenue or 22nd Street and 3rd Avenue, this city. There is no record of any one by that name receiving mail at the General Delivery or having mail forwarded to any address from the General Delivery. CONTINUED:

DETAILS:

Reference is made to report of Special Agent E. R. NEWELL of the New Orleans, La., Office under date of November 18, 1925 giving the address of HARRISON as "living in an apartment house on the northeast corner of 22nd Street and 3rd Avenue, 2nd door from the corner". Reference is also made to this Agent's report of November 6, 1925 wherein GAREL relates that he drove to the corner of First Avenue & 20th Street, second building from the corner for the purpose of getting the so-called Gimbel Brothers bombs.

From the Superintendent of Madison Square Post Office Station, it was learned through inquiries made to the carriers delivering mail to the localities described and to the carrier who delivered mail to those localities for several years up to about two years ago that none of them have any knowledge of any person named JAMES HARRISON in either of these localities.

DETAILS:

Inquiries failed to produce any information to indicate that HARRISON now resides there.

Inquiry was made of the Postmaster, New York City, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not JAMES HARRISON received mail through the General Delivery in this city. The following reply has been received from the Postmaster:

"Replying to your letter of November 14, file 70-4, I would state that no person of the name of JAMES HARRISON was known to the Post Office Department as being in residence in New York City.

This entire investigation insofar as it refers to GABEL and his statement is being this date submitted to the New York City Police Authorities.

Agent has conferred with Special Agent CHARLES J. SCULLY regarding the matter as he is thoroughly familiar with the investigation of the Wall Street Explosion and he finds numerous errors in GABEL'S statement.

CONTINUED:
GABEL matter brought to attention of New York City Police. After conference decided advisable Captain JAMES GEGAN and this Agent return to Mobile to question GABEL further. GABEL has written Police and wired this Agent. Now wants five hundred dollars for expenses. Philadelphia office requested to obtain photos of GABEL and GRIFFEN, also Police Record, Phila., if any. Agent NEWELL at Mobile, being wired to inform GABEL of Agent's intention to come to Mobile. Also for NEWELL to keep informed as to GABEL'S activities. CONTINUED:

On November 27, 1925, Agent accompanied by Special Agent CHARLES J. SCULLY had an interview with Inspector SULLIVAN and Captain JAMES GEGAN of the New York City Police Department, regarding the investigation of the information furnished by EIMER FOR GABEL.

It was learned that a letter had been received by the Police Department from GABEL. In this letter GABEL, after telling that he could help clear up the Wall Street Explosion, asks for $500. for his expenses for the transportation of himself and his family to New York City.

Agent related to the Police officials the entire story told by GABEL, together with the results of the investigation to date. While doubting very much, the veracity of GABEL'S statements, the officers feel that in view of the seriousness of the crime committed, it would be inadvisable to ignore the information. It is their opinion that GABEL should be interviewed by a representative of the Police Department. In this connection they would like to have the co-operation of this Agent.

It has been tentatively agreed that...
Captain GEGAN will be ready to leave for Mobile on Sunday, December 6, 1925. The question of this Agent's returning to Mobile to question GAREL further was taken up with the Director by Special Agent in Charge, and in view of the Director's comments to this suggestion, this Agent will accompany Captain GEGAN to Mobile, leaving on December 6, 1925, at 3:40 PM.

A telegram was received from GAREL on November 28, 1925, reading as follows:

"GEORGE J. STARR

E F GAREL"

"See him" means to see J. P. MORGAN regarding finances for GAREL'S trip. Agent will wire Special Agent NEWELL at Mobile to notify GAREL that Agent will probably be in Mobile next week. At the same time Agent NEWELL will be requested to keep informed as to GAREL'S movements in a discreet manner.

WAINQUIST'S record, description and photograph was obtained through the Chicago office. There is nothing to indicate any similarity between WAINQUIST and SONOFF.

The Philadelphia office is requested to ascertain whether GAREL was employed by the Midvale Steel Works, and the dates, etc., as was done at the Victor Talking Machine plant at Camden. Also obtain photos of GAREL and GRIFFEN, forwarding them to the New Orleans office marked for the attention of this Agent; to be forwarded to Mobile in care of Special Agent NEWELL. Also, the Police records of both GAREL and GRIFFEN, if any, should be obtained from the Philadelphia Police.
SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:
Informant GAREL was notified of Special Agent Starr's new address. GAREL claims that Fred Wanquist, who was recently arrested in Chicago for bomb outrages is the same person referred to in previous reports on captioned case as "Sonoff".

CONTINUED.

DETAILS:

Special reference to report of Agent George J. Starr dated 11/17/25, New York City:

This Agent as requested notified Informant GAREL of Agent Starr's new address in the event GAREL wished to communicate with him.

GAREL called Agent over telephone on November 28th, 1925, and stated that Fred Wanquist, who was recently arrested in Chicago for complicity in bomb outrages in that city, was the same man as he (GAREL) had told us about called "Sonoff" and who was one of the persons responsible for the Wall Street Explosion; that he (GAREL) had heard, Harrison refer to "Sonoff" as Fred Wanquist and that when he read the recent articles in the papers about the bomb outrages in Chicago he remembered this. GAREL still insists that if he is taken to New York he can locate Harrison and that if he fails to do so he is willing to undergo any punishment the Officials want to give him. He also told Agent that he knows he can be arrested for blackmail if he fails to produce evidence to corroborate what he wrote to Mr. Morgan and does not appear to be at all worried about what charges could be filed against him for this offense.

This Agent has not discussed any of the results of investigating his story and has always told him the matter no doubt was being investigated and as soon as his story had been verified he would be taken to New York to assist in apprehending Harrison.
CAREL is again working and communicates with Agent nearly every day.

This Agent will not confront CAREL with the discrepancies in his statement until notified by the Bureau to do so.

SYNOPSIS of FACTS:

Full data concerning employment of subject Elmer F. Garel at the Midvale Steel Works and also photograph of Garel and Thomas Griffin secured and same forwarded attention Agent Starr of New Orleans Office of the Bureau, as requested. No Police record here of either subjects.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to report of Agent George J. Starr of the New York Office of the Bureau, under date of 12-6-25, entitled as above; wherein it is requested to ascertain whether subject ELMER F. GARDEL was employed by the Midvale Steel Works here, and if so to obtain all data covering his employment at said plant and to also secure GAREL’S and Thomas Griffins’ photograph and forward same to the New Orleans Office, attention Agent Starr. At the Midvale office, the following data was ascertained at the office of MR. ORF, in charge of the employment office:

On September 17, 1918, ELMER F. GARDEL was employed as assistant water tender at the Boiler House, giving his date of birth as Oct. 20, 1892, born at Rulings, La., his height as 5-7, weight 165, wore glasses; married to one Rose, residing at 417 West 47th Street, New York, while he was employed at the Midvale Steel Plant; himself residing at 3330 North 22nd St. (which address was covered in Agent McDevitt’s report; dated 11-17-25). As a water tender he was getting 48¢ per hour and was working on an eight-hour alternate shift. His file indicates that the punctuality and attendance record was very good. There is no record of his being absent from work on sick leave or otherwise from the date of his employment, until April 17, 1919.
when he left his position, giving as his reason "establishing business for himself." Records also show that prior to his employment at the Midvale Steel Works he was employed for 2 months by the U. S. Transport Service; place and exact date not being recorded.

The photographs of both SARN and GRIFIN, with their respective names marked on the back of the pictures, having been obtained from the office of the Midvale Plant are being forwarded — Attention Agent Starr, New Orleans Office of the Bureau, as requested in his report.

No Police records could be found here of either SARN or GRIFIN. It is desired by the Midvale Steel Company that the photographs be returned to them, through this Office, after they serve their purpose.

REQUESTED PAAK TO OFFICE OF GRIFIN — NO FURTHER ACTION IS NECESSARY.
Procured picture of FRED WANQUIST under arrest by local authorities here. Description of WANQUIST and history does not agree with story told by E. F. CAREL. Picture with description on back attached to New Orleans copy of this report with request that same be returned to this office when it has served its purpose. Undeveloped lead for New Orleans Office. R. U. C.

DETAILS:

Agent obtained a picture and description of FRED WANQUIST mentioned in the report of Agent E. R. Newell and who in said report is said to be JACOB SONOFF, the description of FRED WANQUIST being on the back of the picture obtained by this office. In the description of JACOB SONOFF given in Agent Starr's report dated November 6th, gives the age of Sonoff as 40 years while the description of Wanquist gives age as 30. Sonoff's description is given as dark brown eyes while Wanquist has slate blue eyes. The weight of Sonoff is given as 160 lbs. while that of WANQUIST is given as 200 lbs. Height of Sonoff is given as 5'8" while that of Wanquist is given as 5'11½". The hair of Sonoff is given as dark while the hair of Wanquist is given as light chestnut. The complexion of Sonoff is given as dark while that of Wanquist is given as fair. In Sonoff's description, it is also stated his hair may be sprinkled with grey. Sonoff is said to have been Russian born while Wanquist was born in Chicago.

In an investigation conducted by Agent L. E. Reed of this office, the record of WANQUIST for the period in question with reference to employment is given as follows: WANQUIST was a special police officer for the B&O Ry with offices at Harrison & Wells Street, Chicago, from April 11 1919 to October 14, 1920. It will be noted that the alleged Wall Street Bomb explosion took place on or about September 16, 1920 at which particular time WANQUIST was in the... employ of the B&O Ry as a special officer in the city of Chicago. Considering the two distinct descriptions which apparently cannot be harmonized and also WANQUIST'S employment with the B&O Ry during the period at which SONOFF was placed in the report of GAREL made to Agent Starr into the city of Philadelphia and New York, it again appears that WANQUIST could not have been JACOB SONOFF wherefor anything said by GAREL should be taken with caution.

The picture of WANQUIST obtained from the Bureau of Identification, is attached to the New Orleans copy of this report with the suggestion that this picture with a number of other pictures, without disclosing the identity of any of them, be shown to GAREL if such is deemed advisable, for the purpose of having GAREL pick out SONOFF therefrom. When this picture has served its purpose, it is requested it be returned to the Chicago Office.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS.

The New Orleans Office is requested, if deemed advisable, to show the picture of WANQUIST with others as outlined in the report of informant GAREL, for the purpose of giving him an opportunity to make the identification, which however, in view of his conflicting statements, would not be of great value.

No further leads to be investigated in this district.

Garel retracted entire story told about Wall Street Explosion. Signed retraction attached to the original of this report. Garel's fingerprints will be forwarded for filing in Identification Bureau as soon as received from Mobile, Chief of Police. CLOSED - INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.

DETAILS:

Continuing on the above investigation Agent accompanied by Captain JAMES GEGAN of the New York City Police Department proceeded to Mobile, Ala., on December 6, 1925 arriving there December 8, 1925. Upon arriving there Agent and Captain GEGAN conferred with WARREN F. BURKH, Chief of Police; and later with his assistance, interviewed EMER F. GAREL at a room in the Battle House Hotel, Mobile, Ala. GAREL had phoned Agent in the morning and an appointment had been made for this interview at 1:30.

GAREL stuck to his original story for quite some time, even going so far as to say that he had seen Captain GEGAN before; that HARRISON had pointed GEGAN out to him as a good man to keep away from.

GAREL informed Agent that he had also written a letter to the "N.Y. American" offering to sell them the story but had not received a favorable reply.

After the various statements made by GAREL had been refuted by calling his attention to the results of the investigations made by the Government he still insisted that he was telling the truth. Finally he was told that his wife was going to be interviewed regarding the matter. GAREL was evasive when it came to giving any information as to where his wife could be located at that time, saying that she had come to the shopping district to do some shopping and he expected to locate her later in the day in one of the stores. When he saw that it was the intention to DO NOT WRITE IN THESE SPACES of Agent and the two Police Chiefs to interview his wife whenever and wherever she could be located. GAREL broke down and admitted that his entire story was wrong from start to finish.

After GAREL had made this admission he was taken to the local Police Headquarters and on the way to Police Headquarters his wife was located and also invited over to Headquarters. At Headquarters a statement was dictated by Captain GEGAN to EDDIE WARREN, Secretary to Chief of Police, in the presence of GAREL, Chief of Police BURCH, Captain GEGAN, EDDIE WARREN and this Agent. The statement reads as follows:

"December 8th, 1925.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I, Elmer F. Gare1, 959 Old Shell Road, Mobile, Alabama, do hereby make the following statement without any duress or any promise of immunity and of my own free will.

I have recently written letters to Mr. J. P. Morgan of New York City, Police Commissioner Enright, of the New York City Police Department and The New York American, New York City. Stating that I participated and helped to construct the bomb that was exploded in front of J. P. Morgans' office in Wall Street, New York City on September 16th, 1920. I also stated that one James Harrison, Thomas Griffin, Jacob Gnooff and two unknown roles were with me in constructing and placing this bomb and that I was paid Five Thousand Dollars in cash by said James Harrison at The Hotel McAlpin, New York City at 2:30 P. M. on September 16th, 1920.

I desire in the presence of Chief of Police Warren Burch, Chief of Police of the Mobile Police Department, Mobile, Alabama and Eddie Warren, Secretary to Chief of Police of that city, Mr. George J. Starr, of The Department of Justice, New York, and Captain James J. Gegan, of the New York City Police Department, that the statements in all of these communications are entirely false and untruthful in every detail. I had nothing to do nor had any of the men mentioned above any connection with this bomb explosion. My knowledge of the entire matter was obtained from The New York World Almanac which I read in The Y. M. C. A. Library in Mobile, Alabama, and my reason for writing these untruthful communications was that I was out of work and without funds and desired to obtain the money asked for in the different letters to pay the expenses of my wife child and self so that I could return to New York City where my wife was raised and where her uncles reside.

I have made this statement at Police Headquarters in Mobile to The Officials mentioned above and also to my wife, Mrs. Rose E. Gare1.

Signed,

**************************************************************************
MRS. E. F. GAREL (ROSE E. GAREL) was present when her husband signed the statement and after reading it signed it herself as one of the witnesses. All of those present also signed as witnesses.

MRS. GAREL denied any knowledge of her husband's activities in this matter. She stated that he did not seem to be able to hold a job very long and that he did spend a lot of time reading detective stories and similar information. She also stated that she would see that he read no more such literature in the future.

GAREL was fingerprinted for future reference and a copy of the fingerprints will be forwarded to this office by Chief BURCH. Upon receipt of the fingerprints they will be forwarded to the Identification Bureau to be filed.

The following telegram was forwarded to the New York office on December 9, 1925 by this Agent:

"CLIENTS GOODS ALL WRONG STOP HAVE SIGNED DENIAL STOP WILL LEAVE FOR NEW YORK NINE TWENTY WEDNESDAY EVENING STOP BATTLE HOUSE HOTEL MOBILE"

Director,
Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am forwarding herewith the photograph and fingerprints of Elmer F. Gare of 959 Old Shell Road, Mobile, Ala., who was recently interviewed by a representative of this Bureau, regarding information which he claimed to have regarding the Wall Street Explosion.

The photograph and fingerprints were obtained through the courtesy of Warren F. Burch, Chief of Police, Mobile, Ala., and are forwarded for the purpose of being placed in the files of the Identification Division, for possible future reference.

Very truly yours,

ROY A. DARLING
Special Agent in Charge
Oct. 28, 1926

My Reptile Morgan,

Dear Sir,

Did you receive my letter of Oct. 14th? I sent it to your home by Special Delivery. Please don't think this is the work of a crank or a grifter. Have you a little faith in human nature? Please answer this by wire before the 1st of Nov., if it is necessary. That I ear from you before then.

And that I be in New York by Nov. 5 to co-operate with your agents as there is no time to lose. Not only your own life but others in danger. You can easily enough have me watched to show that I am playing fair and not interfering with the law. I quote New York. Don't think that I am crazy or off my head for I am not. And I also appeal to you not to turn this over to the police or your agents as my life will be forfeited if I was not on the square with...
You, you could easily put me in New York, won't you take me at the opposite moment, which I asked you to do? I will come to New York, and I will report to you. I have nearly known of the duty.

That is hanging over our heads. Pity only for this and the men's lives, and I am not doing nothing for the money of my family. I am not doing anything for the sake of my family. I am not doing anything for the sake of my family. I am not doing anything for the sake of my family.

I am doing it, and having it done, consider. The others, others, don't know. That is no time to do. To travel, clothing, and having responses. If this is no time to do. To travel, clothing, and having responses.

Encourage yourself.前进, forward. Good luck. You have any letters for Green?
October 26, 1926

J. Pierpont Morgan.

Dear Sir,

Do you remember the Wall St blast on Sept 16, 1921? This is not a crank letter or from one who is insane. The persons who were responsible for this crime have never been apprehended as you know. I am writing this to you knowing that you are a patriotic American and a man in whom the people can place confidence. So as my conscience has been worrying me I appeal to you to keep what I am about to tell you to your self and not to tell the police or Government agents. Any interference on their part will cause my death and the death of my family. I have been watched for the last four years. I did not have any part in the crime or am I a fugitive from justice. Though I have done things that were not within the law, that is how I became associated with the preparators of that crime. With the fear of death hovering over my family and self. I make direct appeal to you to help me to turn over to justice the gang that caused the blast who are now planning similar outrages throughout the country.

Most of the larger robberies in the East can be laid to the door of these men. A man in your position could assist to bring these men to prison. If I appealed to the police or Governor as I stated I or the ones I love would be killed. I appeal to you because you will not let any thing out and you have men who are not known who can work with me. So that no one will know I have a hand in rounding up these men. I do not want any reward, glory, or newspaper write upon any other honor for doing same. I don't even want my wife or boy to know as what I have done in the past they have never known I can place enough evidence into your hand upon arrival to send several men to the chair. Are you willing to go through this with me?

If you will I require transportation for my family and self back to New York. Enough expense money to buy clothes, pay a few bills and have enough to pay my expenses while I am with my people in New York.

To show you I am on the square back you if you go through with it to keep my family self under surveillance by your own men from here to New York and as long as you care to do same if you are not going through with it please destroy this as forget same.

The expense of every thing, transportation and act. will be about $1200.00.

Will you spend this to see justice done? If so wire me at once as there is not much time to lose. I will expect telegram with expenses before Oct. 21, 1925. We can leave here in 36 hours.

I know they expect to pull something big before December. Hoping that you will respect my confidence as my life depends on same.

If you send same to my residence just state in telegram. That you have something better for me in N.Y. in the line of work. Sign any name you wish, I will report to your office 22 Wall St. upon arrival.

Yours Truly

SYNOPSIS of FACTS:
Informant GAREL has made statement that all information he had given this department concerning this matter was false and that he knew nothing about this matter except what he had read in the newspapers. For this reason the photograph forwarded this office by Agent Max P. Burger of Chicago Office was not shown GAREL for purposes of identifying Fred Wanquist as Jacob Sonoff. This photo is being returned to the Chicago Office as requested. Case CLOSED.

DETAILS:

Reference to report of Agent Max F. Burger of the Chicago Office, dated 12/11/25, in which this office is requested to show GAREL the photograph of Fred Wanquist, for the purpose of identifying Wanquist as being Jacob Sonoff, which GAREL had informed this Agent was a fact, and was so reported by this Agent:

Since making that report GAREL was again interviewed by Agent Starr of the New York Office and admitted that he knew nothing about the Wall Street Bombing and was only claiming that he did for the purpose of getting some money for his and his wife's transportation to New York City.

In view of the above the photograph was not shown to GAREL and is being returned to the Chicago Office, as requested.

REFERRED BACK TO OFFICE OF ORIGIN - NO FURTHER ACTION HERE.

Chief Clerk,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am attaching a letter which was addressed to this Bureau by Mr. Mike Brady, 153 E. 23rd Street, New York City, concerning the persons involved in the explosion in Wall Street several years ago. For such investigation as you care to make, Mr. Brady has been informed that his letter was sent to you for further action.

Very truly yours,

Inclosure.
During Nov. 1924, a driver named Tim O'Hara, aged about 52: 5' 10" in height, and about 170 lbs. wt., while intoxicated, confessed to the police at Oak St. Station of this City, that he had just returned from Jersey and was the missing driver in the Wall St. explosion. Some of our newspapers totally ignored the story. But it found its way into a few publications.

The police gave out a story, to the public, that Tim suffered from alcoholism. I may state, for the purpose of a thorough inquiry, that in Jan. 1921 two of A.A. Volk's workmen had informed me that Ray Clark, their boss, and all workmen on Volk's excavation job (and demolition of Wickie's Blok, at Broad and Wall, Sept. 20) knew the driver quite well as an Irishman named Tim: (not an Italian, as Clark told Grand Jury) and later, a Volz watchman remembered Tim as one O'Hara when I casually quizzed him, so I felt certain upon reading it that Tim O'Hara is indeed the driver whom our Tammany Hall officials claimed to be a Red Bomb Plotter.
O'HARA (late man in shovel company) actually added in contiguous sympathy and detestability like Drunk.

Newspaper deliberately concealed with only witnesses who were not failed in connecting present investigators with the scene of the explosion. and it contains the excavation

The Island, July 14, 1930, front page, shows a diagram

O'HARA, the Detective, was attacked by

Instead of questioning the men employed on Volk's job, where high explosives were used, (I personally saw blasts put off in the excavation on or about Sept 13) they rambled off miles away to question UNION horse-shoers (tipped off not to "squeak") who couldn't just remember WHO paid them for SHORING THE HORSSE. They tramped all over Long Island hunting for CLUES such as "finds" of "cached explosives" owned unknown. It was even suggested the CLUES led to CHICAGO: a firm missed explosives there: any place was a CLUE if it was far enough away from Volk's. Now: the Police were missing from this explosion until Firemen came and roped off the crowd. The debris was cleaned up by Battalion Chief O'HARA's men: and Deputy Commissioner Leach investigated. Our Fire Commissioner is DRENNAN.

Volk: Leach: and DRENNAN are all TAMMANY CHIEFS. Volk is a favored Contractor: and it is a NOTORIOUS fact that Buildings to be torn down, or in process of demolition very frequently go on FIRE: as this expedient saves high priced labor and expensive Haulage.
Our Public Library has put on the files any newspaper that carried the story of A. A. Volk as being a likely clue to the World: Herald: Times: American: Journal have all carefully avoided any references to Volk or that Job so it appears only, and none too prominently, in such papers as Sun: Post: Mail: Globe and Minor Bay News now in this explosion two Army officers were killed. One of these was a Col. Neville of Chattanooga Ga. and others were ex-service men. So I trust you will call the attention of the War Dept. to all of this I make no pretence: I say it's a "Cover-Up." I think official won't aid such grafts it is possible that Volk and other contractors were being supplied with city-owned explosives. This Ray Clark is now, delegate to the Pier and Dock Carpenters Union (see N.Y. Leader) also it is my information that he, and all the Union men of the "Building Wreckers and Excavation Laborers" now Tim O'Hara were as a Volk driver kindly have Census takes files examined for Tim Scan all N.Y. City Directories since 1910.
Ray Clark told his grand jury the driver was young.
Volk's employees said "you ought a seen how the poor old driver acted" etc. and "she was a good Irishman like yourself." (That's me) "Wasn't Tim a good Irishman?"
I wrote all of this to J.J. Geegan in Jan. 1925.
The N.Y. City Police adopt an attitude of ignoring Clues.
everybody is a nut: an irresponsible: or a "crank."
They have had charge of the whole affair too long.
They questioned none of Volk's gang: and used a strange cop not the regular Beat patrol or traffic, or Detail, to talk to Clark: they ignored the Street Cleaner as a Cuz.
I fail to see why the Beat Cop didn't miss Tim: also, why the Street Cleaner didn't miss Tim, and this NAG.
The union was altered too: it changed into two different unions, but, the Secys and Organizers: or Delegates won't be hard to trace if any department wants to talk to these 30 or 40 men at any time.
My Informants were Tom Brennan and one Costello. Both Vol'K employees known to Clark and union men.
I know where they reside: and I may know Tim himself, when I finally find him.

WHILE holding the office of Police Commissioner of the City of New York, Richard E. Enright naturally felt constrained to keep secret many amazing incidents and events which came under his notice, or in which he played an active part. During former Commissioner Enright's term of office some murders that afterwards became famous were committed. You will probably recall among other celebrated murder mysteries that of "Dot" King, whose death was enshrouded with such strange circumstances and horror. Joseph Elwell, the world-famous bridge expert and devoted admirer of the fair sex, was found sitting in an armchair in his home with a bullet through his brain. One bright September day, at high noon, Wall Street shook to its foundations. When the police succeeded in calming the panic-stricken people, the corner of Broad and Wall Streets looked like a battle ground.

There were three dozen mangled corpses, some rent asunder, and upwards of two hundred seriously injured scattered on the streets. The public never knew what had happened, and former Police Commissioner Enright thought best not to take them into his confidence at that time. He will prove that "Truth is stranger than fiction" in a manner that no one can dispute, and while he intends no injustice to any, he intends to give the public facts, in the pages of POLICE STORIES, without regard to whom or what may be affected. He fully expects to be abused and threatened, if nothing worse, before his revelations have been published more than a week. The April number will be on the newsstands March first, it has a startling story in reference to a subject about which you have heard much—the so-called "White Slave" traffic.

POLICE STORIES, the editorship of which former Police Commissioner Enright has assumed, is a well-known monthly magazine devoted to gripping, fascinating stories, both fact and fiction, about criminals and their tireless enemies, the police.

Mr. Director, U.S. Census Bureau,
Washington, D.C.

Sir: Today's Evening Graphic carries an ad of Enright's, "Police Story" which implies that he is now about to tell the clear public the TRUTH about the WALL ST. EXPLOSION in its APRIL number on sale MAR. 1. It is rather odd that it should take almost 6 years before Enright wants to tell the TRUTH, now. I ask you to call the War Department attention to the Whole Silly, False, Yarn built up by Enright, Gegan, Leach, Burns and O'Hara (the Mayor, Aylan's, right hand shadow) to cover up A. A. Volk's Driver and arouse IT to probe this Fully. As Explanations, or Excuses at this time are not likely to be SINCERE.

SYNOPSIS of FACTS:

RE-OPENED CASE: 42614
NEW YORK FILE #70-4.

MIKE BRADY, 154 E. 23rd Street, this city, who has written several letters relative to the above matter, some having been addressed to the Police Department, J.P. MORGAN & Co., the Department of Commerce, and this Department, was interrogated for a period of about four hours by LT. REYNOLDS of the Bomb Squad and the writer. All statements made by BRADY thoroughly checked and found to be those of a person apparently demented and who would be classified as a "crank" on the above mentioned closed.

REOPENING this investigation, which appears to have been last reported on by Special Agent George J. Starr under date of December 11th, 1925:

With reference to Director's letter dated February 27th, 1926, Enclosure 38154, which is a copy of a communication forwarded to the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, by one MIKE BRADY, 154 E. 23rd Street, this city, and forwarded to this office for such action as may be deemed proper:

When this case was reassigned to the writer, the papers contained a memorandum from Special Agent George J. Starr which states that the writer (MIKE BRADY) appears to be a "crank"; however, in view of the seriousness of the offense involved it would be well to cooperate with the Police Department and have BRADY interviewed and Mr. Starr further said that he had mentioned it to LT. REYNOLDS of the Bomb Squad.

The writer of this report conferred with LT. REYNOLDS of the Bomb Squad and exhibited letters written by MIKE BRADY, after which, accompanied by LT. REYNOLDS, Agent proceeded to 154 E. 23rd Street, which is a lodging house. BRADY was brought to the Police Headquarters and interrogated by LT. REYNOLDS, DETECTIVE.

MURPHY and the writer. The interrogation lasted about four hours, after which, BRADY was allowed to go with the understanding that if he obtained any information he would gladly inform LT. REYNOLDS and the writer.

The file covering the WALL STREET EXPLOSION was thoroughly perused for the purpose of checking statements made by BRADY and it was found that he is apparently somewhat demented and undoubtedly a pronounced "crank" on the above matter. As BRADY'S statements do not warrant any further action at this time, the matter will be considered closed:

Title: RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION

Report Made At: New York City

Date When Made: 10/11/26

Period For Which Made: 10/9/26

Report Made By: John L. Haas

Character of Case: Investigation of Gus Proksct, who claimed to know instigators of explosion.

Synopsis of Facts:

Reopened Case:

Wire sent by Gus Proksct, of Fort Lee, N.J. claims explosion was caused by his enemies to prevent him from getting a large amount of money belonging to him out of Morgan's Bank. States he is inventor of Third Rail System, Slot Machines, Telephones, etc. Is no doubt mentally unbalanced. Closed.

Details:

Acting under instructions and pursuant to Bureau Letter, noted below, enclosing the following copy of telegram:

"Newark, N.J.

INFORMATION TO WALL STREET EXPLOSION EASTERN DETECTIVES
101 WEST 42nd STREET, NEW YORK CITY. FORT LEE, N.J."

Agent proceeded to this address and found it to be that of May's Eastern Detective Bureau, Inc., Room 407, Agent interviewed Edward J. May, President of this concern.

Mr. May stated that several days ago a man named Gus Proksct, of Fort Lee, N.J. who he believes to be mentally unbalanced, came to him and stated that he was the inventor of the "Third Rail System", used by the Railroad Companies, here and that he had been robbed of his invention, that as he had a large amount of money deposited in a Wall Street Bank, he went to Wall Street for the purpose of drawing his money out of the bank, when the explosion occurred; that the explosion was caused by people, his enemies, who wanted to prevent him from getting his money.
that he had invented the AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE, TRAFFIC TUNNELS, under WATER, SLOT MACHINES, and many other things, out of all of which he was robbed; that persons, tried to kill him many times, because they feared he would tell the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT all he knew; that he had reported all of these things to the Postoffice Department, when HARDING was PRESIDENT, and that HARDING had to die because he had ordered an investigation on the information he, (subject) had given to the Government.

MR. MAY, in order to get rid of subject told him to write him the facts and that he, MAY, would look into them. On October 5th, MAY received a ten page rambling statement from PROKSCT, reciting the above and other imaginary wrongs, suffered by him. This statement was turned over to Agent and is attached to the Washington Copy of this report.

PROKSCT, is employed in the engine room of the JABEZ BURNS COMPANY, 43rd Street and 11th Avenue, is undoubtedly mentally unbalanced and has no knowledge as to the instigators of the WALL STREET EXPLOSION.

Then in 1901, whereas this Mr. Schaff gave the answer that there were, and that they had nothing else that the City of New York through the Board of Health had a standing Price for an Invention to Substitute the Locomotive, and also to enable this City to build a underground Road, after I received this Information about cash money I informed this Mr. Schaff that the Third Rail could be used in this fashion on the Side of the SP Track will end the face of the rail with 2400 volts, whereas, he gave it a name and also got rough from made the effort to prove that to the Schaff by telling him to hold a finger to the Comutator of his Firame. to wish Action he would not consent claiming that the fuses and lights would short circuit, which would not have happened if it had been a non-Conductor with. all the Ingenieurs of U. A. believed it was because none could give any tangible fact except the Inventor at that time. and no one asked me anymore about it but they sent over to Europe to get some proof to my Invention with. They really found in one Library of (Louvain in Belgium) mist recorded the fact that Mr. Behr, sailing from England, had tried a Third Rail if the wrong was because he would have used it between the running tracks or the Rail with gave Mr. Behr his own cars were relatively specified that. the same condition was for my other inventions the electric light on for Steampower from Rail Road it happened that a Finch Yacht of the New Central R.R. exploded and burned in the Yard at 156 Th and Park Ave the Bronx whereas another argument issued with my Chief Engineer Schaff in which he stated that the Upjohn Central shall have to build another whereas I responded with the statement that such Gas never had been necessary as there could be Electricity generated always with existing Power and all there was necessary to attach a bell pulley to the revolving Axles of a R.R. Car attach a Tender for and Storage Battery and have light while a T-Train is on a Station stop the same process repeated as we came to argue about Automobiles as Mr Schaff stated that the most and best cars were built in this country with Statement it is countered that this could not be so because me as I had taken me a Head Problem meter very young I had worked out the problem of Driving a Fire Engine on its own Steam power by adjusting the pumps in a Wai to Drive the Truck also and by becoming acquainted with Auto power had changed this to the one power unit as it is in existence to-day in this Wai I have to claim also the Double Safety Tender for Trolley Cars but in connection with the Air brakes then Tripple Expansion Engines for Ferry Boats not in a Wai that I invented these but the Invention to make use of them for quick Passenger traffic furthermore this Mr. Schaff had told me that the United States had all the Alumnium in world but had nothing to use it for whereas I stated that cooking utensils could be manufactured from the same. I have also brought here things that I've not invented they are the Parcel Post. The traffic... tired to have me killed and probably will be again the first time one connected with the Harlem River Lumber and Woodworking intended to shot me when I passed their plant at 138 4th and Gerard Ave. A bullet out of an English Air Gun passed between my legs and buried itself in the ground to my right as the bullet came over a high fence. The second time a mass murder had been instigated and that was the burning of the General Storem this murder had been known to persons not connected with it about 2 days before it happened and the day before I did happen to my wife Lizzie Nima Wilhelm Behan took me away to Maryland to the Town of Longwoods near Gaistom my wife was very much upset that I was and cried so much that I could not but get suspicious but could not make out any reason for this until I met an engineer of the City pumping of Gaistom Maryland near this by Rebeck, Fort Lee, N.J.

I have said that I had a wife once, she lives in Portland, Conn. She has been paid by my Pers. for a certain amount of money to leave me break house and also was tipped of by 34 parties that they were out for my life by burning the Steamer Scotia. Hence she took one to Maryland which was before the left me. It is known by the people in general that there that been money set aside for my goods which money I believed had been deposited with the Morgan Bank and after the usual term after it had not been called for the Morgan Bank intended to take this money over to the Bank's Capital. Hence the Wall Street Explosion because my persecuders intended to hold me after my Wife had left me, the second child—turned six she brought this child to Lebanon hospital. The child born to her has there been examined for an other one by a high-class woman which will be done later according to the description. I call will be done at my case if the settled in this country or in Europe, I have also to accuse the United States Patent Office to have right me of the price of the application of the patent principally I have been swindled out of 55% dollars by a bribed Chemist of this said office. I have the return application outside of this I have done and said to many other things that I have forgotten and may not be worth mentioning for me but also no one else could set claim to the same.

A middle-aged man employed in a detective bureau in New York City perfected a plan to promote his business and avoid bankruptcy. All information contained herein is unclassified.

Date: 3/6/33 by S1 526 6/48

He sent out letters to a majority of the banking and brokerage houses.

After these had time to be received and before the memory of the offer has passed, the plan was put into action.

But the actual tragedy that resulted was an accident.

The wagon and the load of explosives were to have been a scare and hint to the bankers and brokers to heed the offer of the detective to provide ...

The more produced he desires results, as the increase in business which immediately followed the crime indicated.

The friend who put into action his scheme, was employed by the government in the investigation which followed.

He had some able detectives who were near the solution of the crime, removed from the scene and they were none the wiser.

The friend is now engaged in his legal capacity in New York City.

Perhaps this inkling may help in the solution of the outrage which happened in Wall St. a decade ago.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. JAMES ROGERS, ACTING HEAD, CRIMINAL DIVISION

The Bureau of Investigation is in receipt of a communication dated November 5th from Harry Brant, Route #2, Box 56, Gorham, Me., relative to the Wall Street Explosion. This letter was received in the Bureau on November 11, 1930 attached to a routing slip from your office. A letter has been addressed to Mr. Brant advising that he may submit any information which he might wish to furnish concerning the explosion to the Boston, Mass., office of the Bureau of Investigation.

Very truly yours,

Director.
Mr. Harry Brant,
Route #2, Box 56,
Gorham, Maine.

Dear Sir:

Receipt is acknowledged of your communication dated November 5, 1930 with reference to the Wall Street Explosion.

You may furnish any information which you may have concerning this explosion to the Special Agent in Charge, Bureau of Investigation, Box 239, Boston, Mass.

Very truly yours,

Director.
McK:HS

November 22, 1930.

Director,
Bureau of Investigation,
Department of Justice,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

There is enclosed herewith, for your information, copy of communication, dated Nov. 18, 1930, received from Harry Grant, Route 2, Box #56, Gorham, Maine, relative to the Wall Street bomb explosion, which occurred in September, 1920. It is believed that the enclosure which I have acknowledged is self-explanatory.

I would thank you to advise me, at your convenience, whether you desire Mr. Grant interviewed concerning the allegations made in his letter.

Very truly yours,

C. D. McKean,
Special Agent in Charge.
Gorham, Maine.
Nov. 18, 1930.

Gentlemen:

In a communication from Mr. J. E. Hoover, I was instructed to write to you.

I was formerly employed as Inspector by the Tradesco National Detective Agency, at the main office, which until recently was located at 218 Adams Ave., Scranton, Pa. The Principal some time ago was refused a renewal of his permit and has since discontinued his detective agency.

The principal was Daniel Anthony Tradesco.

While I was in his employ, I have heard Tradesco make many statements in regard to his work as an investigator of the Wall St. bombing. These statements may or may not be of help to you in your work.

He claimed that he had come too near the solution of the crime, and had been relieved and sent home. He had given me to understand that he had been paid well to go. He stated that a certain head of a detective agency in New York City had been the investigator of the crime in this way.

A letter had been sent to all the leading banks and brokerage houses, stating that he would supply guards and such for their property. The response was very poor. He then decided to put a scare into the banks.

The wagon and its load of explosive were placed in position, and were to have been left there until discovered by the police. A car accidentally rammed it, and the explosion was the result. Tradesco claimed that the same man was employed by the U.S. Government, in the investigation that followed, in a very responsible position. He would not name any one though I tried many times to have him make a statement. The same story was related to me in Tradesco’s office in the presence of Harold Shiffer and George Peters, both former employees of the office.

If you desire any further information I am at your service.

I trust no harm has been done should this letter be of no help to you.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) Harry Brant.
December 2, 1930.

Dear Sir:

There is transmitted herewith, a copy of a letter dated November 18, 1930, which was addressed to the Boston Office of the Bureau by Mr. Harry Brant of Gorham, Maine, with reference to the Wall Street Explosion.

It is suggested that the information furnished by Mr. Brant be turned over to the New York Police Department for such action as it may desire to take.

The Boston Office is being advised that no further action is desired by it in connection with theention reported by Mr. Brant.

Very truly yours,

Director.

Just prior to the explosion there were found several anarchistic circulars, said circulars being made up with rubber stamps on plain white paper.

The file further indicates that the Agents made an examination of the buildings, horse stables, debris found at the crime scene, and investigated numerous suspects. However, all these efforts met with negative results.

In view of the statements of the Chief of Police, Stewart Rippon, and John Stewart, Head of the Port Jervis Credit Bureau, that William Kellerman is an informant of questionable reliability and was never taken seriously around that locality, your office should be governed accordingly and this case brought to an early logical conclusion.

To His Excellency President Roosevelt,
The White House, Washington, D. C.

Your Excellency: In Re: Wall St. Murders.

I have received a reply to my complaint of October 13th, 1933, transmitted by Your Excellency to the Honorable Attorney General, but he insists that the Wall Street Murders of September 16th, 1920 does not come under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government.

I am enclosing an affidavit herewith and after the Department of Justice reads it and gives it the consideration that such a murder warrants they will say: "No murder will out, no expense should be too great, no effort too tedious, when it serves to expose the secrets of this conspiracy", and averts a repetition.

The man that drove the death wagon hounded W. J. Burns for six months to get his pay for the job, but since President Harding was elected it was a case at all times up to the present of "Svein, the devil and holding the trial in hell".

If the Department is befogged, I can pilot them into a safe harbor and to the manufacturers of such special bonds and also to the former owner of the old horse that sold for $20,000.00.

Sincerely yours,

[Handwritten note on the margin]
To His Excellency President Roosevelt,
The White House Washington, D. C.

Your Excellency:

Stephen A. Doyle being first duly sworn depos s and says: "That on or about the 16th day of September, 1920, J. P. Morgan of Morgan & Co. of the City of New York, New York County, State of New York, in the United States of America, did then and there on the above named date and on other dates previously enter into a conspiracy and plot with one Wm. J. Burns of the Burns International Detective Agency, which agency was at that time and still is, the Detectives for the National Bankers Association. And the above named conspiracy the plotters above named, caused a bomb of powerful dimension to be made, such as the said Burns previously used in Los Angeles, California, in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times Building, causing the willful murder of twenty one innocent people, (see affidavit of Stephen A. Doyle, January 22nd, 1920, filed with President Wilson). After Burns got this above named bomb in order he caused it to be driven to the front of the Morgan Building as part of the conspiracy and caused it to be exploded and willfully, intentionally and feloniously murdered thirty two innocent people; and the motive for this conspiracy entered into by J. P. Morgan of Morgan & Co. and the aforesaid Wm. J. Burns of the Burns International Detective Agency and the National Bankers Association, was to lead the gullible citizenry of the U. S. A. to believe that the Russian Soviet Republic was about to overthrow our government and murder all the rich people in this nation.

To further convince the general public, the then Mayor Hylan of New York alleged it was a "RED PLOT" meaning the Russian Soviet Government, United States Attorney A. Mitchell Palmer, his assistant Tracy, P. Covan and Mr. J. Flynn, chief investigator of the Department, Colonel Wm. Mead, that it was a Russian plot to overthrow our government; and to support this claim Mr. Flynn notified every Department of Justice office throughout the United States, to raid labor assembly halls in quest of Soviet plotters. This action on the part of Mr. Flynn was to further convince the gullible public of the U. S. A. that Russia had done the murdering, while he well knew that Burns did it, as he afterwards under the Harding administration received a payment from $25,000.00 to resign his so that President
Harding could appoint the said Wm. J. Burns as chief investigator of the United States Department of Justice and the said President Harding did appoint the aforesaid Burns, chief investigator of the Department of Justice, all for the purpose of heading off any investigation that would likely be made by the Russian Soviet Republic. In the face of this outrage and in the face of the Herrin, Illinois, massacre, and the murder of Ex-Governor Stunenberg of the State of Idaho by pri-ivate detectives, the Department of Justice still remains dormant and allows the Bankers Association to support this murderous invisible army of occupation, and lays obstacles in the way of the President in his efforts to aid the public.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CLEGG.

On February 21, 1934, I discussed with Hugh A. Fisher of the Criminal Division the information submitted by Mr. Stephen A. Doyle, Seattle, Washington, concerning the Wall Street bombing.

Communications addressed to the President were forwarded to the Division by informal routing slips and were returned to the Criminal Division with a memorandum from the Division dated February 9, 1934, requesting to be advised what investigation was desired with reference to Mr. Doyle’s complaint.

Mr. Fisher advised that no investigation was desired and that the complaint of Mr. Doyle may be disregarded.

Respectfully,

John B. Little.
To His Excellency President Roosevelt,
White House, Washington, D. C.

Your Excellency:—

On or about the 9th of January I mailed from this City, under ordinary cover an affidavit exposing the conspiracy in the Wall Street and Broadway, New York City, bomb murders of the 16th day of September, 1920.

I also alleged that I have been prepared to prove my allegations set forth in my affidavit, not only in the above case but also in murder of Four persons in the bombing of the Federal Post Office in the City of Chicago, Illinois, on the 4th day of September 1918, namely Edwin R. Kolkow an old office employee, William H. Wheeler, mail carrier, Joseph B. Ladd a blue jacket acting as messenger for the intelligence bureau, Miss Ella Miehlke who was entering the building to mail a letter.

I have spent a lot of money and time solving those and other kindred criminal activities and ramifications of bombers in the different parts of the country and would like to give this administration the benefit of my information so that the parties to the conspiracies and part thereof could be silenced for all time.

I am now sending this letter under registered mail and asking a return card as I am exceedingly anxious. And want to be sure of my grounds, as to whether or not the above reached you and as to the course to be pursued.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Stephen A. Doyle.

Honorable Homer S. Cummings,

Sir:

Having recently read the article in the Saturday Evening Post covering an interview with you, I am urged to write you the following:

As a result of a two month's confinement in a hospital in New York for a nervous disorder, I came in contact with two individuals who seem to know more about the unsolved "Wall Street explosion" of September 1920 than they were willing to admit to me. Incidentally I may say that at the time of that crime, I happened to be out to lunch on Broad Street and witnessed some of the tragic scenes which resulted from the terrific force of the explosion.

Naturally my information is not sufficiently definite to justify a written official report but if you will put me in touch with the proper Government representative in N. Y., I shall be glad to discuss the matter freely with him and aid in every possible way in following this "lead" to its end.

Respectfully yours,

Captain Harry R. Fox, Informant.

Dear Sir:

With reference to the above entitled matter, please be advised that Captain Harry R. Fox, the informant, is presently the subject of treatment at an institution for mental cases, and that his sister, Dr. Elsie Fox, is authority for the statement that it will be impossible to interview the Captain for at least another month.

Arrangements have been made to again contact Dr. Fox about September 10th; at which time she will determine whether the Captain has as yet improved to the point where an interview with him might be deemed desirable.

You will be advised later as to developments in this matter:

Dear Sir:

Supplementing my letter to you of August 6, 1935, in the above entitled matter, please be advised that subsequent contacts were had with Dr. Elsie Fox, sister of informant, who, as recently as September 17, 1935, informed Agent F. X. O'Donnell that she had been in touch with her brother, who is residing out of town and had notified him of said agent's desire to get in touch with him. Dr. Fox stated that as a result of this advice, on her part, she has been notified by her brother to leave the matter entirely in his hands, and that if she should again be contacted by an agent of this office, he be notified immediately as to the best means through which he might directly get in touch with this office.

Asking as to Captain Fox's present actual whereabouts, Dr. Fox replied that because of her brother's attitude in the matter, she thought that this information had better come from him directly, and promised that she would see to it that her brother was advised of our desire to reach him. She further promised to furnish her brother with full directions as to the mailing address of this office, telephone number and the like.

We are now in receipt of a letter from Captain Fox personally, of which the enclosed is a copy. Agreeable with the suggestions contained in the enclosed letter, the matter has now been routed to an agent working in the territory contiguous to Highland Mills, N.Y., in order that Captain Fox may be personally interviewed. The result of said interview will be made the subject of a subsequent report.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

My sister, Dr. Fox, has advised me that you have been in touch with her regarding the matter I had up with your chief, Mr. Hoover, concerning the Wall St. explosion of 1920.

As we have moved definitely to the country at above address (6 miles from Harriman or 12 miles from Newburgh). I will not have occasion to come to N. Y. very often.

So I would suggest if one of your men will have occasion to be in this vicinity that he drop in to see me, or if this is not practicable, I can write you to have you check up past history on two individuals whom I have in mind as possibly having had most to do with the crime in question. Quite naturally your office is better equipped to check up on the past history and references of these men than am I.

At any rate I am ready to cooperate in every possible way and lay before you all the data I have.

Report Made By: L. G. TUPROU
Character of Case: WALL STREET EXPLOSION OF 1920

Synopsis of Facts:

Capt. Harry R. Fox, presently on parole from Kings Park Hospital, a mental institution, advised that during his confinement at said hospital, one Aloysius Mallon, a mental inmate for eight years, told him that one Vincent Kelly, a male attendant at the institution, was partly responsible for the Wall Street explosion in 1920; and that Kelly, following the explosion, obtained a position as an attendant at the hospital for the purpose of hiding. Mrs. Fox, Informant's wife, does not give credence to the story due to Mallon's as well as her husband's mental condition. No further investigation will be conducted unless instructions to the contrary are received from the Bureau.

Reference:

Details:

Agent interviewed Harry R. Fox who claims that he held the rank of captain, attached to the General Headquarters with the American Expeditionary Forces in France during the World War. Capt. Fox's present address is P.O. Box 166, Highland Mills, N.Y. He advised that from April to September 1935 he had been confined in the U. S. Veterans' Section at the Kings Park Hospital, Kings Park, L.I., a mental institution, and that at the present time he is out on parole from the hospital.

Capt. Fox stated that while confined at the above institution, one Aloysius Mallon, a veteran of the World War confined there as a mental patient, related to him that one Vincent Kelly, the male attendant attached to the Hydrotherapy Ward, No. 53, is partly responsible for the Wall Street explosion in 1920; that Kelly, during the time of the Wall Street explosion, served as a lieutenant with the New York City Police Department, and supposedly had given protection to those who planned the explosion; that the original scheme of the plotters was to bomb the Silk Exchange, but that at the last minute the plans were changed and instead the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. was bombed. Capt. Fox further stated that Mallon also told him that Kelly, shortly after the explosion, fearing the exposure of his connection with the plotters, resigned from the New York City Police Department and obtained a job as an attendant at the aforementioned hospital, and has been in hiding since. He further stated that Kelly obtained this position with the hospital under an assumed name; that at times he had also used the aliases of Vincent Brown, and Gilroy.

Continuing his story, Capt. Fox stated that he had learned while at the institution, that Kelly's real name is Izzy Feldman; that he has a sister named Mrs. Edwin Guvigan, residing at 375 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, N.Y., telephone Nevins 8-3243, and another sister named Victorie residing at 461 West 131st Street, New York City; and that during the Wall Street explosion Feldman was employed by the American Express Co. at 65 Broadway, New York City.

Capt. Fox stated that on several occasions he attempted to discuss with Attendant Kelly the Wall Street explosion, but that Kelly would invariably evade the subject and refuse to talk about it; that in general, Kelly's behavior at the institution was such that it lead him to believe that there may be some truth in the statements made to him by Mallon. Capt. Fox added that Mallon is hopelessly insane and has been confined at the institution for the past eight years.

Capt. Fox requested that if this office should conduct an investigation at the Kings Park Hospital, the source of the information should not be revealed to anyone there, as the administration of the institution might revoke his parole and order his re-confinement.
It may be stated that when Agent called at the residence of Capt. Fox for the purpose of interviewing him, he was not at home, and while he was being sought by his daughter, Agent talked to Mrs. Fox, Informant's wife. She advised that for a number of years her husband had been employed with the brokerage firm of Logan & Bryan, 42 Broadway, New York City; that about three years ago Informant suffered a nervous collapse resulting in the loss of his position. Since that time her husband has suffered periodic mental breakdowns and in April 1935 it was necessary on the advice of physicians, to place him in a mental institution. Efforts were made to have Informant confined to the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Northport, L.I., but due to lack of vacancies, Informant was taken instead to the United States Veterans' Section at Kings Park Hospital, Kings Park, L.I. Following Informant's release on parole from said hospital, he has been constantly talking about the Wall Street explosion in 1920, constantly mentioning the facts related to him by another inmate, Mallon. Mrs. Fox stated that she places little credence in Mallon's story, coming as it does from a man who is apparently incurably insane. She stated that her husband, due to his nervous condition, is unable to work, and that he receives a monthly pension from the U. S. Government which is the only means of livelihood they have.

Unless otherwise instructed by the Bureau, this office will not conduct any further investigation relative to this matter.
MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

June 3, 1936

In the attached telegram the Managing Editor of the Cleveland News asks whether the Bureau files show that Louise Reppelli alias Ralph H. Thurber confessed participation in the Wall Street bombing and whether Reppelli was engaged in international passport forgeries, and whether Reppelli was in the San Quentin Penitentiary at the time of the explosion.

The Bureau files contain a memorandum which you addressed to Mr. Burns on March 8, 1924 pertaining to the alleged confession of Ralph Thurber and according to dispatches appearing in the New York Herald about March, 1924, Ralph Thurber serving 50 years in Pentonville Prison, London, signed an affidavit stating that he had a part in the Wall Street explosion. The papers indicated that the American authorities believed this merely an attempt on Thurber's part to be returned to the United States and the files do not show what further action was taken in this situation.

By letter dated March 5, 1924, Agent in Charge Brennan advised the Bureau of these newspaper dispatches and of the fact that the Police Department had informed him that the names mentioned by Thurber did not appear in the records of the New York Police Department.

According to the Bureau records, Ralph Thurber was arrested on May 29, 1920 at Tia Juana, California, charge forgery, and as Ralph H. Thurber was received State Prison, San Quentin, California, June 19, 1920 from San Diego, crime, forgery; sentence 1 to 14 years. A notation indicates that he was paroled on September 3, 1921. You will recall that the date of the Wall Street explosion was September 16, 1920.

I don't believe it advisable to furnish to the Cleveland paper any information pertaining to the merits of Thurber's claim, but believe we can safely point out that according to the fingerprint records of the Bureau, Thurber was incarcerated in the San Quentin Penitentiary at the time of the Wall Street Explosion. I have accordingly attached hereto a suggested telegram to Rappeto, Managing Editor of the Cleveland Press.

Respectfully,

In regard to the wire to the Cleveland Press the Director stated he did not think the wire sufficiently definite. For example the question is put as to the participation of Thurber in passport forgeries and no definite answer given nor does Mr. Tamm's memo state whether the Bureau files reveal or not Thurben's participation in foreign forgeries. Mr. Hoover states that the Cleveland Press has been very friendly and when a wire like the one in question is sent it will appear either that the Bureau is "dumb" or is trying to stall, neither impression-being desirable. Mr. Hoover states that unless information in files is very confidential or if there is no information in files, he sees no reason for not stating that investigation was or was not conducted and results thereof or stating definitely that files contain no information.

Mr. Hoover thinks a more comprehensive reply should be given unless there is some good reason for not so doing.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HERIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 3/8/33 BY S. RIGGS

JUN 19 1936
With reference to the inquiry from the Cleveland Press of Cleveland, Ohio concerning the implication of Ralph H. Thurber in the Wall Street bombing and his alleged confession thereto, you are advised that according to the Bureau records, Thurber was received at San Quentin Penitentiary June 19, 1920 on a charge of forgery, under a sentence of from 1 to 14 years and was paroled on September 3, 1921. The Wall Street Bombing took place on September 16, 1920. According to the criminal records on file in the Bureau Thurber was incarcerated at San Quentin approximately four months before the Wall Street Explosion and was in jail at San Quentin until almost a year after the explosion. While we can't say where Thurber was prior to his receipt at San Quentin, the criminal records show that he had been arrested on May 29, 1920 at Tia Juana, California and it is not unlikely that he was in custody from that date to the time that he was received at San Quentin.

A review of the Bureau file upon this matter reveals that a memorandum was addressed to Mr. Burns on March 8, 1924 pertaining to the alleged confession of Ralph Thurber, who according to newspaper dispatches, while serving a sentence in Pentonville Prison, London, England, signed an affidavit stating that he had a part in the Wall Street Explosion. These newspaper dispatches indicate that the American authorities believed this confession of Thurber's was merely an attempt on Thurber's part to be returned to the United States. On March 5, 1924, Agent in Charge Brennan advised the Bureau concerning these newspaper dispatches and of the fact that the police department in New York City had informed him that the names mentioned by Thurber did not appear in the records of the New York Police Department.

The Departmental file records a communication addressed to the Attorney General from the State Department under date of March 17, 1924, with regard to Ralph Thurber, then serving a term of imprisonment at Pentonville Prison and enclosing a copy of a dispatch transmitting a photostatic copy of the affidavit implicating himself and others in the Wall Street Explosion. The affidavit reflected that he was confined for having entered the United Kingdom after having been expelled and that he had stated to the American Vice-Consul that he was directly connected with one Michael Oranoff in the Wall Street Explosion on September 16, 1920, to the extent that he supplied nearly all of the explosives to Oranoff and that he procured the material from one Valdorf and that the whole affair was planned in the basement of Jeff Balron, a Russian Jew; that he was to receive for his services the sum of $2,000. Besides himself, the names and last known addresses of the persons whom he knew to be intimately connected with the explosion and who witnessed the said explosion were the following:

1. Big Jeff Balron alias Big Jeff Thompson, 98 Mulberry St., New York City.
2. Michael Oranoff, Apartado 55, Calle de Pizaro, Mexico City (D.F.), Mexico.
3. Lesser Rabosky alias the Frowler, East 33rd Street near Milton Street, Brooklyn, New York; also known at Rochester, New York.
4. Sloans Cleveland, alias the Kid, Cleveland, Ohio.
5. Frisco Tommy, who was killed in a fight between the Chicago police and gunmen at Chicago, Illinois sometime in June, 1922.
6. The Merker, now in France, but late a convict from the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia.
7. Sweik Steffenson, Seamen's Institute, New York City.
8. Miss Girlie O'Day, 156 Glendale Boulevard, Los Angeles, California.

Under date of March 8, 1924, the State Department addressed the Honorable Attorney General, referring to its previous letter and further stating that the State Department had received a further telegram from the Consul General dated March 6, 1924 in which he reports that Thurber after a new cross-examination, said that his testimony was false as to his personal participation in the explosion but still maintained that the statement as to other persons and circumstances connected therewith was correct. Thurber stated that all details of the plot and names of the conspirators were known to the Reverend Herbert Wilson of San Diego and Los Angeles, California.

According to the Bureau files, Herbert Wilson had been interviewed concerning this matter, as is indicated by a telegram received from the Los Angeles Office on April 3, 1923 and Wilson told a very different story from that of Thurber in that Wilson claimed he visited a nitro-glycerin plant near Toledo and later stole 30 quarts of nitro-glycerin which he sold for $3,000. Wilson partially identified individuals named Wolfe, Lindefeld and Albert Balanow alias Ballin. The Los Angeles Office advised that the Wilson story was believed to be an effort on his part to obtain leniency.

Respectfully,

E. A. Tamm

There is no record in the Bureau files of the various individuals named in Thurber's confession other than a single reference to several of the names in a letter emanating from the New York Office, which refers to the newspaper clipping concerning Thurber.

BUREAU CONDUCTED NO INVESTIGATION RELATIVE THERETO

JOHN EDGAR HOOVER
DIRECTOR  FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Capt. Harry R. Fox, presently on parole from Kings Park Hospital, a mental institution, advised that during his confinement at said hospital, one Aloysius Kallen, a mental inmate for eight years, told him that one Vincent Kelly, a male attendant at the institution, was partly responsible for the Wall Street explosion in 1920; and that Kelly, following the explosion, obtained a position as an attendant at the hospital for the purpose of hiding. Mrs. Fox, Informant's wife, does not give credence to the story due to Kallen's as well as her husband's mental condition. No further investigation will be conducted unless instructions to the contrary are received from the Bureau.

REFERENCE:

Agent interviewed Harry R. Fox who claims that he held the rank of captain, attached to the General Headquarters with the American Expeditionary Forces in France during the World War. Capt. Fox's present address is P.O. Box 166, Highland Hills, N.Y. He advised that from April to September 1918 he had been confined in the

U. S. Veterans' Section at the Kings Park Hospital, Kings Park, L.I., a mental institution, and that at the present time he is out on parole from the hospital.

Capt. Fox stated that while confined at the above institution, one Aloysius Killon, a veteran of the World War confined there as a mental patient, related to him that one Vincent Kelly, the male attendant attached to the Hydrotherapy Ward, No. 83, is partly responsible for the Wall Street explosion in 1920; that Kelly, during the time of the Wall Street explosion, served as a lieutenant with the New York City Police Department, and supposedly had given protection to those who planned the explosion; that the original scheme of the plotters was to bomb the Silk Exchange, but that at the last minute the plans were changed and instead the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. was bombed. Capt. Fox further stated that Mallon also told him that Kelly, shortly after the explosion, fearing the exposure of his connection with the plotters, resigned from the New York City Police Department and obtained a job as an attendant at the aforementioned hospital, and has been in hiding since. He further stated that Kelly obtained this position with the hospital under an assumed name; that at times he had also used the aliases of Vincent Brown, and Gilroy.

Continuing his story, Capt. Fox stated that he had learned while at the institution, that Kelly's real name is Izzy Feldman; that he has a sister named Mrs. Edwin Givigan, residing at 375 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, N.Y., telephone Nevins 6-3243, and another sister named Victorine residing at 461 West 131st Street, New York City; and that during the Wall Street explosion Feldman was employed by the American Express Co. at 65 Broadway, New York City.

Capt. Fox stated that on several occasions he attempted to discuss with Attendant Kelly the Wall Street explosion, but that Kelly would invariably evade the subject and refuse to talk about it; that in general, Kelly's behavior at the institution was such that it lead him to believe that there may be some truth in the statements made to him by Mallon. Capt. Fox added that Mallon is hopelessly insane and has been confined at the institution for the past eight years.

Capt. Fox requested that if this office should conduct an investigation at the Kings Park Hospital, the source of the information should not be revealed to anyone there, as the administration of the institution might revoke his parole and order his re-confinement.
It may be stated that when Agent called at the residence of Capt. Fox for the purpose of interviewing him, he was not at home, and while he was being sought by his daughter, Agent talked to Mrs. Fox, Informant's wife. She advised that for a number of years her husband had been employed with the brokerage firm of Logan & Bryan, 42 Broadway, New York City, that about three years ago Informant suffered a nervous collapse resulting in the loss of his position. Since that time her husband has suffered periodic mental breakdowns and in April 1935 it was necessary on the advice of physicians, to place him in a mental institution. Efforts were made to have Informant confined to the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Northport, L.I., but due to lack of vacancies, Informant was taken instead to the United States Veterans' Section at the Kings Park Hospital, Kings Park, L.I. Following Informant's release on parole from said hospital, he has been constantly talking about the Wall Street explosion in 1920, constantly mentioning the facts related to him by another inmate, Mallon. Mrs. Fox stated that she places little credence in Mallon's story, coming as it does from a man who is apparently incurably insane. She stated that her husband, due to his nervous condition, is unable to work, and that he receives a monthly pension from the U. S. Government which is the only means of livelihood they have.

Unless otherwise instructed by the Bureau, this office will not conduct any further investigation relative to this matter.

SAC Johnson called from Pittsburgh and advised he had just received a call from William Shafer, Chief Law Enforcement Officer of the Pennsylvania State Game Commission with headquarters in Harrisburg.

Shafer informed SAC Johnson he has a representative in Pike County which is in the Philadelphia territory, who advised him, Shafer, that he had talked to a William Kellerman, 229 West Main Street, Port Jarvis, N. Y. Kellerman advised the representative that he knows how and who committed the wagon bomb explosion which occurred approximately 20 years ago in New York. Kellerman stated that at the time of the explosion he was working for E. D. Dier Company, 50 Broad Street, New York City, which was just about a block away. Kellerman claims he knew about it a week before it happened and where the horse and wagon came from, and further indicated he knew who was responsible. It was also indicated that the Japanese Ambassador might have been in on the case.

Mr. Johnson stated if the Bureau was interested in the above, he would get the complete details from Shafer. He was instructed to go ahead and get the facts from Shafer only as a matter of interest to the Bureau. He was also advised not to conduct any investigation.

Bomb Explosion, Summer of 1920
WILLIAM SHAFFER, Informant

Dear Sir:

At approximately 11:30 A.M., February 2, 1944, Mr. WILLIAM SHAFFER, Chief Enforcement Officer, Pennsylvania Game Commission, headquarters, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, a personal and official friend, telephonically informed the writer that he had received a report from one of his men, JOHN H. LOHMAN, District Game Protector, residence Milford, Pike County, Pennsylvania. LOHMAN informed SHAFFER that one KELLERMAN reportedly had information concerning the identity of those who caused an explosion in or near Wall Street in New York City about 1920, which explosion resulted in the death of 33 persons, the wounding of over 150 persons, and certain damage to the outside of the Old Treasury Building on Wall Street. Following the explosion, troops were reportedly called to the scene. SHAFFER furnished the writer with further details, all of which were telephoned to Mr. LEE PENNINGTON of the Bureau, a few minutes after Mr. SHAFFER's telephone call. It was understood that Mr. SHAFFER should obtain all details from LOHMAN without making any investigation or indicating that the Bureau was interested in or had any jurisdiction in the facts investigated

Subsequently, Mr. SHAFFER telephonically advised the writer at 3:30 P.M., February 2, 1944, that he had reviewed the matter and ascertained that his Game Protector, JOHN LOHMAN, worked in New York City at the E. D. Dier Company, 50 Broad Street, about 1920, when the explosion occurred a short distance away and that LOHMAN, in fact, had given assistance to individuals in the vicinity of the explosion.

On January 20, 1944, at the Orange County Sportsmen's Club, Port Jervis, New York, LOHMAN was approached by WILLIAM KELLERMAN, residence 229 West Main Street, Port Jervis, New York. KELLERMAN then told LOHMAN that he, KELLERMAN, had knowledge concerning the indicated explosion and bombing in New York City; that KELLERMAN knew that the bombing was scheduled a week before it happened and knew the identity of the individual who was instrumental in planning the entire explosion. The latter individual threatened KELLERMAN's life if he

UNKNOWN SUBJECTS: Wall Street Bomb Explosion, Summer of 1920
WILLIAM SHAFFER, Informant

Mr. LOHMAN informed Mr. SHAFFER that KELLERMAN appeared to be normal mentally and serious. KELLERMAN is believed to have been a driver, possibly of the type of "Drive-It-Yourself" conveyance in New York City at the time of the explosion.

At the present time KELLERMAN is employed reportedly by the Erie Railroad at Port Jervis, New York, probably as a brakeman. He works for the railroad two days and is off one day, and reportedly is, on his off days, at home on the even dated days of the month. He is described as follows:

Name: WILLIAM KELLERMAN Height: 5' 9-10"
Weight: 190 lbs.
Hair: White (?)
Eyes: Blue
Marital Status: ?
Residence: 229 West Main St., Port Jervis, N.Y.
Employment: Erie Railroad, Port Jervis, N.Y.

Mr. SHAFFER repeated that it was LOHMAN's opinion that KELLERMAN was not a "crack pot" and that KELLERMAN had given LOHMAN the impression that the reason he had failed to report this information before was due to the fact that he felt his life was unsafe while the alleged unknown subject was in the United States. LOHMAN also received the impression from KELLERMAN that a Japanese Ambassador or Minister may have been implicated in the explosion.

For the information of the Bureau, it is stated that Special Agent D. DI LILLO of the Pittsburgh Office recalls that he was personally engaged in the investigation of this matter at the time and after the explosion occurred on Wall Street.

No further inquiry is being made by this office and the matter is submitted merely for the Bureau's information for any action deemed advisable.

Synopsis of Facts:

WILLIAM KELLERMAN, Port Jervis, New York claims that ED FISCHER (first name uncertain), famous tennis player 1914 to 1917 advised him regarding Wall Street Explosion about one week before it took place. Explosion allegedly planned by FISCHER and his friend Jo Ketchie TAKAMINIA, now deceased, wealthy owner of the TAKAMINIA LABORATORY at Clifton, New Jersey. TAKAMINIA and FISCHER experimented with explosives on an estate near Port Jervis. Horses and wagon allegedly used in transporting explosives to Wall Street identified by KELLERMAN as TAKAMINIA's. KELLERMAN threatened by TAKAMINIA in regard to explosion. TAKAMINIA allegedly close friend of PETER BRENNER, convicted impersonator and employee of War Department, First World War. Present whereabouts of FISCHER unknown. TAKAMINIA's son presently operates TAKAMINIA LABORATORY in Clifton, New Jersey. Reliability of KELLERMAN doubtful.

Bureau File No. 64-5

Bureau letter of February 18, 1944, to the New York Office

Letter from the Pittsburgh Office to the Bureau dated February 2, 1944.
DETAILS: This investigation is predicated upon information from the Pittsburgh Field Division to the effect that WILLIAM KELLERMAN, a trainman on the ERIE RAILROAD, Port Jervis, New York, had information to the effect that an explosion which occurred on Wall Street, New York City during the summer of 1920 was previously planned by persons known to KELLERMAN and that he would reveal the names of these persons to an Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Under dates of March 22, 24th and April 6, 1944, KELLERMAN was interviewed and gave the following information:

KELLERMAN stated that from about 1914 to about 1917 he was employed by JO KETCHIE TAKAMINIA as a chauffeur and handyman on TAKAMINIA's estate known as "Merwold Park" located between Port Jervis, New York, and Monticello, New York on Route No. 42. KELLERMAN stated that TAKAMINIA had many famous persons as guests on this estate, including such persons as CECIL B. DeMILLE, movie producer, THOMAS A. EDISON, inventor, and numerous outstanding persons in various fields.

KELLERMAN stated that among these guests was a person by the name of FISCHER who was a famous tennis player from about 1914 to 1917, being a champion in the doubles with FRED ALEXANDER. According to KELLERMAN, FISCHER spent much time on TAKAMINIA's estate and he and TAKAMINIA had a large amount of T. N. T. hidden at various places on the estate, possibly as storage for future use. They were constantly preoccupied and were apparently experimenting with explosives.

According to KELLERMAN, FISCHER would be about 58 years of age at the present time and the last he heard of him, which was about 1920, he was in Hollywood, California, presumably in the movie colony.

KELLERMAN stated that he, KELLERMAN, was rather intimate with TAKAMINIA, FISCHER and other guests at Merwold Park since he was an expert hunter and fisherman, and most of the guests participated in both of these sports while at Merwold Park.

KELLERMAN stated that just before the Wall Street explosion, which KELLERMAN thought took place in the summer of 1917 rather than in the summer of 1920, FISCHER made the statement approximately one week before the explosion, "There will be a big explosion on Wall Street before long."
When questioned by KELLERMAN, FISCHER would not discuss the matter any further. Approximately one week after FISCHER made this statement, KELLERMAN stated that he, KELLERMAN, mentioned the explosion to the effect that he had noted that the explosion did take place, at which time TAKAMINIA made the statement "Keep your mouth shut! You know too much." KELLERMAN then replied "It was a terrible crime". TAKAMINIA then stated "Maybe you won't know so much about it if you don't keep your mouth shut." TAKAMINIA and FISCHER were not friendly with him thereafter and he quit their employ. a few days later because he was afraid that they would arrange an accidental death for him.

When questioned as to why he never reported this incident before, he stated that he never felt that it was worth taking the risk but since this war started and he had a son presently overseas, he thought he would report it since it might have some connection with the present war conditions.

Informant described TAKAMINIA as being a Japanese national with an American wife, but indicated that he did not look too much like a Japanese since he was very white and a very refined looking person. Informant stated that the TAKAMINIA LABORATORY since the death of TAKAMINIA several years ago was being operated in Clifton, New Jersey by TAKAMINIA's son, EBIN TAKAMINIA.

KELLERMAN stated that he had driven TAKAMINIA to Clifton, New Jersey on various occasions during his employment and during the First World War had noted that TAKAMINIA produced bacteria in this laboratory and that these germs were periodically collected by a man who appeared to be a brush salesman of some kind and taken away from the laboratory in test tubes. He stated that he was not sure in regard to the type of germs grown, but was of the belief that they could have been epidemic germs to cause sickness during the First World War and possibly were distributed by house-to-house salesmen. KELLERMAN admitted that he never heard any discussion in this regard by TAKAMINIA and was simply going on his own observations in this regard.

Upon being questioned further in regard to instant explosion, KELLERMAN stated that after the explosion had taken place, he noticed a picture in a New York newspaper of the explosion and in this picture, there was a trap wagon which he recognized as a wagon belonging to TAKAMINIA and that the wagon was being drawn by polo ponies from his estate near Port Jervis. KELLERMAN stated that this wagon was allegedly loaded with eggs and had been driven from the estate just prior to the explosion. It is noted that the approximate distance from Port Jervis to the Wall Street section of the City of New York is approximately 95 miles.

KELLERMAN stated that TAKAMINIA was a good friend of PETER BRENNER (with alias Captain Del Fungs Gira, Mongaup Valley, New York; Bureau Files: 54-696 and 47-1865, convicted impersonator and employee of the War Department, First World War). This man was employed as an explosive expert by the War Department during the First World War and admittedly worked for thirteen different governments during the war as an espionage and sabotage agent, including Japan. It is noted that PETER BRENNER was recently released from Danbury Federal Prison for having impersonated a Naval officer, having served 18 months sentence. PETER BRENNER was recognized during the First War as an explosive expert and was accused of many dishonest dealings with both the Government and large corporations during the last war. However, sufficient evidence was never gathered to convict him until the recent impersonation charge during the present war.

It is further noted that Mongaup Valley is located only a few miles (15 or 20) from the TAKAMINIA estate.

WILLIAM KELLERMAN of 229 West Main Street, Port Jervis, New York is a trainman on the ERIE RAILROAD and is known in and around Port Jervis as a mysterious and possibly "shady" man.

Chief of Police STEWART RIPPON and JOHN STEWART, head of the Port Jervis Credit Bureau, both stated that WILLIAM KELLERMAN was always mixed up in some affair just within the law and that he usually had lots of information about most any subject, but the reliability of this information was never taken seriously by people around Port Jervis.

PENDING
NEW YORK FIELD DIVISION

At New York, New York:

Will review the morgues of the various newspapers operating in New York City between 1917 and 1920 and obtain all available information regarding the Wall Street explosion.

Will at the Treasury Department, obtain all information in regard to instant explosion, ascertain the exact date, the extent of damage to the Treasury Building on Wall Street and determine from the facts, the interest of the Bureau at the present time.

Will after ascertaining the above facts, determine further investigative policy and set out necessary leads for any further investigation in auxiliary offices.

NEWARK FIELD DIVISION

At Clifton, New Jersey:

Will check the indices of the Newark Field Division and make any preliminary investigation necessary to determine the present activities of the TAKAMINIA LABORATORY, if such firm is in existence, and will determine whether or not EBIN TAKAMINIA, who is supposedly one half Japanese, is engaged in the present National Defense Program in any manner.

***

Copies of this report are being forwarded to the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia Offices for information purposes in view of the fact that the original information came from the Pittsburgh Office and may involve the Philadelphia Office, since the pertinent region is in close proximity of Philadelphia territory, Port Jervis, New York.

(Bureau File 61-5)

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND MUST NOT BE DISCLOSED TO ANY PERSON OTHER THAN THE ADDRESSEE. NO PART OF THIS DOCUMENT MAY BE REPRODUCED IN ANY FORM WITHOUT THE WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION.

June 15, 1944

DEAR SIR:

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent JAMES T. DUKE dated April 21, 1944 at New York, New York in which a lead is set out for the Newark Field Division to check the indices and make a preliminary investigation to determine the present activities of the Takamine Laboratory and to determine whether or not EBEN-TAKAMINE is engaged in the present national defense program in any manner.

A review of the files of the Newark Field Division and an investigation conducted at Clifton, New Jersey revealed that there is no laboratory or person of that name known in Clifton. However, there is a laboratory known as Takamine Laboratory and a man, half Japanese, who is named EBEN TAKASHI TAKAMINE.

Inquiries made of the office of W. A. McINTYRE, Vice President of the Takamine Laboratory determined that at the present time the laboratory holds no direct defense contracts but is engaged in the production of a pharmaceutical ingredient of adrenalin on a subcontract.

EBEN TAKASHI TAKAMINE, according to the information in the files of the Newark Field Division, was born at Tokyo, Japan on August 31, 1889, the son of Dr. JOKICH TAKAMINE and an American woman who was born in Fairhaven, Massachusetts and in 1942 lived at Vail, Arizona. The file reflects that Dr. JOKICH TAKAMINE was one of the early founders of the Japanese Association of New York, Inc. and that he died in New York in 1922. He was credited with the discovery and development of adrenalin and Taka-Diastase. EBEN TAKAMINE is married to an American citizen of white ancestry who was born in Birmingham, Alabama.

The files of the Newark Office further reflect that both EBEN TAKAMINE and his wife, ODETTE TAKAMINE, have cooperated to the fullest extent with the Newark Field Division since the outbreak of war. No derogatory information was discovered in a review of the files concerning TAKAMINE. It was noted that under date of December 3, 1943 a letter was forwarded to the New York Office in which the writer, EBEN TAKAMINE, gave information regarding an unknown Japanese who was working for a lawyer named MORGAN at Suffern, New York. It was also noted that a report of the New York Field Division mentioned EBEN TAKAMINE as a director of the Nippon Club, the subject of New York file 100-19634.

EBEN TAKAMINE is presently engaged as director of research of the Takamine Laboratory which was founded by his father and which has a branch office in New York City. The corporation was incorporated in 1915 under the laws of New York.

The files of the Newark Field Division and Capt. PAUL DIETRICH of the Clifton, New Jersey Police Department revealed that the Treasury Department took over the laboratory December 8, 1941, but subsequently permitted the laboratory to reopen under Section 68A of the Foreign Funds Control Act. Capt. PAUL DIETRICH also stated that one of the original agents of the Treasury Department who worked on the Wall Street explosion in 1920 was JOHN FOGARTY. According to DIETRICH, FOGARTY is presently employed by the Canadian Government in Montreal, Canada.

In view of the fact that TAKAMINE presently resides at 9 Grove Street, Montclair, New Jersey and the Takamine Laboratory of Clifton, New Jersey have been thoroughly investigated by the Newark Field Division without developing derogatory information and also that EBEN TAKAMINE has cooperated with the Newark Field Division in developing information, no further investigation is being conducted in the Newark Field Division.

Yours very truly,

S. K. MCKEE

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent Jonas T. Dau, dated April 21, 1924, at New York, New York.

Your office is requested to complete the investigation in this case at an early date and remove it from its delinquent status.

For your information, the Bureau originally became interested in this case back in September of 1920 when a special investigation was made in view of the possibility that this disaster might have been occasioned by anarchistic activities.

It is noted that reference report sets forth a lead to obtain background information regarding the Wall Street explosion.

The Bureau's files indicate that at 11:30 A.M., September 16, 1920, on Wall Street, about one hundred feet east of Nassau Street, an explosion took place in front of the United States Assay Office, opposite the building occupied by the J. P. Morgan Company. According to a report dated October 10, 1920, the explosion resulted in the death of 38 persons and the injury of 175 others. This report states that from the investigation made by the Agents at that time it appeared that shortly before noon on September 16, 1920, a horse-drawn truck was parked in front of the United States Assay Office; that the horse was a dark bay mare, about fifteen years old. The wagon was described as a single truck, deep colored, with red operating gear. Statements given concerning the description of the wagon are conflicting since several persons interviewed indicated that the wagon was covered while others specified that the wagon destroyed was the type known as a rack truck and contained no cover.

An investigation was immediately made of the known Italian Anarchists residing in the New York district for the purpose of ascertaining their present whereabouts and also to learn the character of the business in which they are engaged. This investigation covered more than two thousand Italians who are believed to be advocates of anarchistic doctrines, and particular attention was paid in ascertaining as to the business of these persons and whether or not they operated warehouses.

An investigation was also made by the confidential employees in the various radical groups in this district, such as the Unio of Russian Workers, the I. W. W., etc., and from the result of the investigations it is believed that none of the afore-mentioned organizations had any hand in the matter and that the explosion was the work of other Italian anarchists or Italian terrorists.

Reference is made to the letter from the Bureau dated July 31, 1944, and also to letter from the Newark Field Division dated June 15, 1944.

In view of the fact that previous investigation has been conducted in instant case, and in view of the total unreliability of informant as indicate in the report of Special Agent James T. Duke, dated April 21, 1944, no further investigation is being conducted in this Field Division, and the case is being marked closed.

RECORDED 1944 AUG 26
INDEXED 1944 AUG 26
Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am a retired newspaperman now writing magazine stories and find myself in need of a few facts from the FBI relative to the Wall Street bomb explosion in 1920.

Could you tell me the status of the files on the case?

I would like to state in my story whether they have been marked "officially closed" or whether the case is still on the active list. In either event I would like to have some estimate of the size of the files. I imagine they are quite bulky and if the case has been closed it would be important to me to know when the last active work was done on the case.

To clarify all this I will tell you briefly about the article I am writing.

My story is predicated upon the theory that the explosion was entirely accidental and not the work of any subversive organization. As a working New York newspaperman this was my contention then and I conveyed my opinion many times to both the department of Justice and the New York police department. In my present article I am making the statement that the present FBI would have solved the mystery within a few hours, or days at least, from the clues apparent. I am pointing out that time is running out on the man responsible for the blast and that within the next few years information may be forthcoming in a possible "death bed" statement from the guilty person.

Briefly my story will claim that the wagon load of dynamite which exploded at noon Sept. 20, 1920 was left there by some person engaged in the sale of "bootleg" explosives and that the blast was entirely accidental. The dynamite was contained in a wagon with red wheels and the horse, weighing some 1,250 pounds was killed together with 30 men and women. Shoes on the horse were traced to a Bayonne, N.J. blacksmith, but there the trail ran out, or at least Department of Justice men were unable to follow it further.

It is my theory that the man who took the dynamite there either had arranged to deliver it to the contractor of a new building being erected at Broad and Wall or was shopping around in an effort to negotiate a sale. I believe he left the vehicle unoccupied and was across the street from the U.S. Assay office when the explosion occurred. It was definitely established that he could not have been among the victims killed by the blast. I believe delivery was being made at the noon hour to avert suspicion among
If you recall there was an intensive "Red" hunt going on at the time and investigators, in my opinion, turned to this trail overlooking the other, and most important one. I feel certain that the present FBI, supplied with the dynamite vehicle, the horse and other clues could have solved the mystery immediately, but of course the FBI was not in existence then.

If the owner of the vehicle was 25 or 30 years old then he is 60 or 65 now and I firmly believe he will not want to die with the thing on his conscience, therefore I believe the mystery still has a chance of being unraveled, but time is running out.

So, you can see why I wish to include the role your FBI has played in this case even though all the clues were cold long before you inherited it. I should be more than happy to include any statement you might want to make regarding my theory or any other phase of the case.

I still consider it America's greatest unsolved mystery and think it would be interesting to the reading public and will be most appreciative of any assistance you may give me.

I have written an article about the attempted assassination of President Roosevelt by Zangara which will be in the February issue of Coronet Magazine and have hopes that they, or some other magazine will be interested in the Wall Street story.

Thanking you in advance, and with kindest personal regards,

I am,

Sincerely Yours,

Dear Mr. Crossland:

Your letter of January 11, 1960, has been received, and I appreciate your thoughtfulness in advising me of your plans for a story concerning the Wall Street explosion of 1920.

In connection with your request, however, I must advise that inasmuch as there has been no final disposition in our case concerning this disaster, I am not at liberty, as a matter of policy, to furnish you the information you desire. I know you will fully understand my position and why it is not possible for me to be of assistance to you.

Sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM

TO: Mr. DeLoughry

FROM: Mr. A. Jones

DATE: January 15, 1960

SUBJECT: R. B. CROSSLAND

918 BELL AVENUE
DENTON, TEXAS

DATE 3/2/63 BY S-3864

In the attached letter to the Director, dated January 11, 1960, Mr. Crossland identified himself as a retired newspaperman who is currently writing magazine stories and stated he is in the process of preparing a story concerning the Wall Street bomb explosion in 1920. He requested information regarding the status of our files in this case, including advice as to whether these files have been marked "officially closed" or whether the case is still active. He also inquired as to the size of our files concerning this investigation, and if the case has been closed, the date of last active investigation.

Crossland provides some background information concerning his story which indicates that a prominent theme throughout the story will reflect that if the "present FBI" had been in existence at the time this mystery would have been solved within a few hours, or days at least, from the available clues.

Files reflect that by letter dated February 2, 1933, Mr. R. B. Crossland, editor of "The Hornet," a weekly newspaper in Miami, Florida, furnished information he had collected concerning the attempt to assassinate the late President Roosevelt at Miami. In his incoming letter of January 11, 1960, he advised that he has written an article concerning this attempted assassination which will appear in the February issue of Coronet Magazine.

Files indicate that the Wall Street explosion occurred September 16, 1920, resulting in the death of 38 persons and the injury of 175 others. The Bureau became interested in this case at the time, and a special investigation was made in view of the possibility this disaster may have been the result of anarchists' activities. Investigation indicated that the explosion appeared to be the work of Italian anarchists or Italian terrorists. There has been no investigation conducted in this case since August, 1944, when it was ascertained that an informant who provided information was unreliable. (61-5)

        Deputy Attorney General

SUBJECT: Attached

DATE: June 8, 1970

Attached is a letter from Mr. Theodor Schuchat requesting our permission to review a file in the National Archives containing an investigatory report of an explosion on Wall Street on September 16, 1920.

Would you please inform me of the nature of this report, assuming it can be identified, and any comments you may have thereon will be appreciated.
June 3, 1970

Dear Mr. Kliendienst,

I am a full-time free-lance writer, known to the Department's Office of Public Information for my articles on the Young American Medal for Bravery.

At present I am preparing an article on the explosion in Wall Street on September 16, 1920, with a view to publication on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the incident. In the course of research in the National Archives, in Box 3332, No. 211205, to be specific, I was informed of the existence of a report of the investigation of this matter by the Department of Justice.

I have been told that this report cannot be examined without the permission of the Department of Justice. Sufficient time having elapsed to make this report of minor historical interest, I trust that you will assent to my perusal of the document.

Cordially yours,

Theodor Schuchat

Hon. Richard D. Kliendienst
The Deputy Attorney General
Department of Justice
Washington, D.C. 20530
Reference is made to your communication of June 8, 1970.

With regard to your inquiry concerning the investigation of the Wall Street explosion in September, 1920, it is not possible to identify the report to which Schuchat refers without further specifics as to date and origin of the report. It is noted that the file on this investigation is voluminous and contains a large number of reports.

For your information, there has been no final disposition in this case, and as a matter of policy I do not feel that we should give Schuchat access to this file.

Mr. Schuchat's letter is being returned.

Memorandum

Mr. Bishop

DATE: June 11, 1970

FROM: M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: THEODOR SCHUCHAT
REQUEST FOR ACCESS TO REPORT ON WALL STREET EXPLOSION, 9/16/20

Reference is made to communication from The Deputy Attorney General, 6/8/70, enclosing a letter from Schuchat which requested the Department's permission to review a file in the National Archives containing an investigatory report of the Wall Street explosion in 1920. The Deputy Attorney General would like to know the nature of the report, assuming it can be identified, and any comments we might have.

THEODOR SCHUCHAT

Schuchat's letter identifies himself as a free-lance writer with an office in the National Press Building in D. C. Files disclose that he was the subject of an Atomic Energy Applicant investigation in 1964. The investigation was favorable; however, a T. Schuchat of D. C. appeared on a mailing list of the Washington Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE), which advocates disarmament and ceasing of nuclear tests. A member of the Washington Committee of SANE had supported Communist Party policy. We furnished this information in response to a White House name check in 6/65.

WALL STREET EXPLOSION INVESTIGATION

File 61-5, which has 20 sections, contains the investigation of the Wall Street explosion. There are numerous reports in the case and it is not possible to determine the one which Schuchat is interested in, nor would it be feasible to check with Archives unless we knew the exact date and origin of the report.

It is noted that in 1960, a writer requested data on the explosion; since this case is still unsolved and since there would be little if any favorable publicity and quite possibly could be resulting embarrassment to the Bureau, it was decided that the writer should not be given information. He was advised that since there had been no final disposition in the case, we could not furnish data.

RECOMMENDATION: REC-40

That The Deputy Attorney General be advised by attached letter that without more specifics it is not possible to identify the report in question, and also that since there has been no disposition in the case, it is not felt Schuchat should be given access to the file.

☐ Retain ☐ Destroy ☐ Other Disposition

Reason for Decision: Exhibit consists of original notes, photographs and documents regarding the 1929 Wall Street Explosion which resulted in the deaths of scores of persons. The case has never been solved. While there is little chance of exhibit having future evidentiary value, it is felt that it would have certain historical value.

Pursuant to instructions of Special Agent West to date delivered to Agent search warrant for letters addressed to ALDINO FELICANI at the Hanover Street Postal Station, Boston, Agent secured on December 7th and 8th, the letters enumerated below, and the same were opened at this office, copied, resealed and returned to Postmaster for delivery. Translations from Italian were made by Agent Di Lillo.

Under date of December 7th, Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, 3 Monadnock Street, Boston, Mass., sent Felicani check on the Second National Bank of Boston in the amount of $5 for the SACCO-VANZETTI defense fund.

Under date of December 7th, Mr. ERNEST NEFF, Member of Stafford Springs, Ct. Local of the A.T.W.A. (Amalgamated Textile Workers of America) Box 724, Stafford Springs, Ct., forwarded Felicani $1 for the SACCO-VANZETTI fund.

Under date of December 4th, EUGENE FEDER, Hotel Detroit St. Petersburg, Fla., forwarded check to Felicani in the amount of $5 on the Chatham and Phoenix National Bank of the City of New York, Broadway and 18th Streets, and wrote "very sorry to hear of the stress of your friends. They have my fullest sympathy. Send $5 and my best wishes and good luck."

Under date of December 6th a Miss Alice Hamilton, 227...
Beacon Street, Boston, Mass. forwarded her check in the amount of $10 on the Brookline Trust Company, check #20, payable to Felicani.

wrote as follows:

Dear Felicani:

Having been unable to communicate with you by phone, last Saturday I sent you a telegram. Notify me at what time Giovannitti will be here, as I have made up my mind to meet him at the station. Do your best to send me the hand-bills as soon as you can.

Under date of December 6th, ARMANDO BUCARI, 440 Main St.

Old Forge, Penn., wrote as follows:

Dear Comrade:

Last Saturday I received the circular containing the case of Sacco and Vanzetti. We had among us comrade Calvani Arturo, who held a lecture and gave us exact information on the matter of our two comrades, imocently and cowardly shut up in the prisons of this republic.

I have always answered the appeals. I am now organizing a philodramatic club; all the profit will be used in favor of our two comrades. We are few in this town but we are good. We have collected a little money which I will send you in the near future.

I will spread the propaganda till I will have voice.
I will extend the agitation and my cry of protest will reach everywhere.

Inform me of whatever it happens, I will be guided in my propaganda by the events. Best regards to the members of the committee. Tell them that we will always be conscient of our duty. Best regards to you from all the comrades of this town.

Under date of December 5th, NICOLA PIESCO, Box 558, New Britain, Conn., wrote to FRANK LOPEZ, the Spanish Anarchist, c/o Felicicani, as follows:

Dear Lopez:

Before all take notice of my new address: Nicola Piesco, Box 558, New Britain, Conn.

I enclose herewith a circular being sure that the Committee at Boston will approve it. I also send you under other cover fifty more copies which you will forward to our comrades and to our groups in Mass., Vermont, R.I., and N.H. If you have no time, send me the addresses and I will send them out.

Tell Aldo that if it is possible to have it published by "La Notizia" we would appreciate it very much. I am waiting for an early reply in this matter.

Enclosed in the same letter was a circular printed in Italian entitled "PER UN'AZIONE CONCORDE" (For a Common Action) which reads in part as follows:

"The capitalist prisons of this North American Republic overflow of prisoners of our war.
"It is necessary to act, and to act soon, with all our forces, eliminating forever the faulty inaction and the deplorable confusion by which, unfortunately, we are governed. Comrade think over this terrible situation; Socialist, Syndicalist, Anarchist; representing a group, an organization or a party, it doesn't matter what place you have in the radical movement, you must act soon, with every means, and without waste of time.
"We must agitate the masses in favor of Mooney, Debs, Haywood, Sacco and Vanzetti, and in favor of hundreds of other precious hostages of the capitalist reaction. We must discuss how will our war be conducted.
"The reunion will be held at Hartford, on a certain date, which will be fixed as soon as we will receive your answer. Answer, don't be a deserter. It is time to close up the lines. Don't be absent. You must know that the hangmen and the executioner are at present oiling the electric chair and soaking the rope in the shadow of the democracy.
"It is the duty of every radical to put a stop to the desperate agony of the political victims shut up in the democratic prisons.

Under date of December 7th CRISTINO MEDICINA, 74 Han-lock Street, Woonsocket, R. I., forwarded U. S. Postoffice Money Order, dated Woonsocket, R. I., December 7th, Office #47300, Serial #387518, in the amount of $4.00, and wrote as follows:

Dearest:

I received from a comrade of Franklin two contributions blanks. I have not succeeded in accomplishing very much for the reason of the fact that the majority of the workers are unemployed. I am sending you the small amount I collected. Inform me with a postcard if you receive the money.

Fraternal regards from your comrade.

Under date of December 6th, E. TOMASELLI, 2520 G. Street Granite City, Ill., forwarded U. S. P. O. Money Order in the amount of $15, dated Granite City, November 29th, Office #12040, Serial #241471, and wrote as follows:

Committee:

The delay in sending you the money order is due to the fact that I expected to collect some more money but nobody else showed up. I am sure of my activities. I do my best.

Under date of December 7th, ROCCO COLINO, 12 Clinton Street, Newton, Mass., wrote as follows:

Dear Felicani:

We are now going from house to house collecting funds for Sacco and Vanzetti. Till this day we have collected over $50. We hope to reach at least $50. If Giovanni can go to another city where his lecture could be more important, you can instruct him to do so. If he comes here it will be impossible to collect other funds for the reason above said. I have been informed that next Sunday the society Sons of Italy will have a festival. If that is true we don't expect a big crowd. Think it over, in case you have made up your mind to send him here, the hall is located at 189 Adams St., Newton, Mass.

Under date of December 5th, the GRUPPO MASETTI, Box 28, Taylor Springs, Ill., sent money order in the amount of $22.50, Taylor.
Springs, Ill. Postoffice, Office #13078, Serial #31122 and wrote as follows:

Dearest Comrades:

Initiated by the Masetti Group, there has been organized a mass meeting in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. Enclosed herewith find money order in the amount of $29.50, which has been collected during the mass meeting. Please acknowledge receipt, as we want to satisfy everybody.

We hope that the local union will follow our initiative and will send you some money for the same cause. We have faith to free the two comrades. Regards

We remain yours for the struggle.

Under date of December 6th, Ettore Bellardini, 520 East Street, Pittsfield, Mass., sent U. S. P. O. Money Order in the amount of $39.80, from Pittsfield, Mass., Office #60800, Serial #567618, and wrote as follows:

Dear Comrade:

Instructed by the Defence Committee of this town, of which I am a member together with comrade Sbraccia, I send you this day the little amount that we have been able to collect. The contributors desire that their names be published by the "PROLETARIO" as they do not trust us. If it isn't a great bother I recommend that they be satisfied. For my part I would waste a precious column for the publication of a few names.

We wish that all the comrades do their best to obtain the freedom of our two comrades Sacco and Vanzetti. Best regards from all.

Under date of December 5th, G. Bernaredelli, 20 Maple St.

Chicago, Ill., wrote as follows:

Dear Felicani:

The committee pro Sacco-Vanzetti organized last Sunday, has held its second meeting today. Everyone reported whatever they had accomplished during the week. R. Bobba who was instructed to investigate Mario Flamma, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Chicago, who did his best in defense of Bobba and Pieri, reported that he is at present in New York for business. He reported also that the other members of the chamber of commerce, defen-DEARS OF BOBBA, will be very glad to do something in defence of the two Italians, but they want the colonial newspapers of Boston, Mass., containing the charge and the defence, the statements of the witnesses, of the judge, the cowardly members of the jury, etc. So send me copies of issues containing important articles in the matter. If you can, send the photos of Sacco and Vanzetti and that of the judge because we intend to print large posters and publish the whole case in the newspapers to call the attention of the public.

We will hold another meeting next Sunday, I ask you to send everything by that day as it was deliberated by the committee.

Best regards to all the good comrades.

Under date of December 5th, ROMOLO BOBBA, 2323 West Adam Street, Chicago, Ill., who is prominent in the I. W. W. movement, wrote as follows:

Dearest Comrade:

I believe that Bernardello has personally written to you in this matter and I have also written to PALMACCI; in any case I inform you that next Sunday our committee in this city will start its work.

Consequently I am waiting for the material I asked you in my previous letter. It is necessary that you send copy or copies of all the appeals and handbills in connection with this case, which have been published till this date by the committee at Boston. This is to unify our work as much as we possibly can. Of course we will taken into consideration the several places where our movement is to be conducted.

Can you let us have the photos of the two victims, and those of the prosecuting attorney who conducted the case and the judge who inflicted the sentence respectively? Send the ones you have and do your best to get hold of the other ones.

It is also necessary to have several copies of "La Notizia", containing information that the local newspapers can tranquilly copy. Do you understand it? We can have the local newspapers in our favor as long as we do not go to them with copies of the "Proletario" et similia. Later on, that is, as soon as we start our operations we could agree to subscribe to a certain quantity of copies every day.

It would also be of great value a certified copy of those sentences of the stenographic transcript in which the political or racial prejudice is more evident. We could capitalize such sentences in publications, handbills, appeals, posters and other means of propaganda.
Hoping that you will send what is requested, or part of it, and you will do your best to have everything reach this city by Sunday, I remain yours for the liberty.

This matter is considered CLOSED.
WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION Investigation, handlers of Blasting Gelatine

Facts Developed:
At Lodi, Ohio:-- Reference is made to letter of Division Superintendent Weakley of Cincinnati, Ohio, to Agent in Charge Morton dated Nov. 13, 1920, requesting to ascertain if any blasting gelatine has been stolen from persons who are handling same in this territory; also to get the names of persons who are in charge of such supply.

As per instructions Agent interviewed W.M. H. ZIEGLER at Lodi, Ohio, relative to the received blasting gelatine, who stated that between the 18th and 23d of September, 1920, he received fifty pounds one hundred per cent blasting gelatine from THE HERCULES POWDER CO., of Kenwill Hill, N.J.; and this shipment is in his possession. MR. ZIEGLER is a state licensed oil well shooter being in this business for the last twenty-five years and as such has on hand all the time a certain amount of explosives. He is under the supervision of the State Mining Inspector, who from time to time is checking up the explosives. By request of Agent was taken to the Magazine which is located out of the town in a small forest which is the property of ZIEGLER. The Magazine is a small iron construction with special patent locks on the door. ZIEGLER states that besides himself his partner BERTH HORDER has a key to the Magazine and no one else and it is impossible to get into the place unless cutting through the iron wall. Agent was shown the fifty pounds one hundred per cent Blasting Gelatine which is in the Magazine.

Company informs us under date of November 30th that their Accounting Department, who compiled the statement for the Department of Justice, erroneously showed a sale to us of 25% of 75% Gelatin under date of June 28th, whereas the sale was actually made to the Equitable Powder Company, East Alton, Ill.

We believe with this information that you will not care for further particulars on the shipment made September 17th from our St. Paul, Minn. Magazine to J. C. Zines for the account of Janney-Semple Hill & Co. However, if you wish to investigate this particular shipment further, please so advise and we will write our Chicago office to develop the desired information.

We assure you that it is a pleasure to be of service and if you feel there is more that we can do for you, do not hesitate to make known your wants.

Very truly yours,

Madam:

The Department desires to thank you for the information contained in your communication of September 20th, stating you have information relative to the bomb explosion in New York.

This matter has been referred to our office in your vicinity, with a request that they have an agent interview you relative to this matter.

Very truly yours,

Special Assistant to the Attorney General.

name was Miss Mar. On 30th, she had been a postmistress for years at a girls' school, and was very intelligent. She told the Blackes, and agreed with me that the scheming against our Government Miss Mar. was ill and confined to the room on fourth floor for a few days.

This floor was almost, at that time, the unoccupied portion of the hotel.

In late evening some men met in the room next to the room, they made eccezare, they fetched our nights. By listening intently she repeatedly heard the following words, "Hall Street
Red Seven thousand One Page Red."

She led me to the head paper constantly moving through the around the table, and I am not quite time to, but I think she said, before the left room, she heard the sound of tearing paper, or burning oil. She wrote notes, we repeated many times during the night. Dr. Black changed to the aissistant doctor is always at Charing quickly levels three times.

We sat in the orchestra and heard some music in the big empty parts of the hotel one night when穴穴穴 and Mr. Hotel were talking. I learned "Mr. Hotel" was not his name. He was an Austrian by birth. Some weeks before, he had repossessed an orchestra. Mr. Hotel said something about "Mr. Hotel's" relation to music and faithfulness. All this information may not be very reliable. But I felt it was a duty to record what I was told.

Our friends The left hotel soon after Christmas. They left for California. They had never been to the United States. They were sailing for Australia in May.

Our friends said they would go to Italy for about six years and important business, and fetch their children to the United States. I got this from the diary by skilful functioning. Join the neglected aspect. Given this information, later. There was a more than they read as "Hotel Called Hotel of Grandfather"
The new Annex at Wall Street.
I am enclosing a card of Dr. Charles Littré from the Bank. They were to make one stop at N.Y. City.
It seems my connections to here are confidential. I have a slight relief from my own life.

I think it is my duty to write you this. To help protect our beloved government. I can only express my belief. I think there is an organizing in the "Loop district." Who is plotting to overthrow the government. I was out eating at a restaurant where I overheard a conversation at a table, were four men discussing the terrible disaster. Morgan & Co.

New York City. I heard one man say
They seemed to be determined to carry out their plan to destroy the capital and take control. They made the remark that it must be done before the end of this year.

Their whole sympathy was with Germany & Russia. They denounced Rockefeller & Morgan & President Wilson called the men in Washington all brainless fools. This earth would be better. If they were all dead and...
They spoke of their members being in every city—Champlain, Illinois, and Cleveland, Ohio. Referred to Mr. Adams of Superior Ave. of that city. If I mistake not. Their idea is to form an army and march into the Capitol. They man I just described as being their organizer. Spoke of being one of the busiest men in the world—getting out circulars. Spoke of his printing machine and that he worked late every night on it. In his room also mentioned his landlady as his

IN RE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

At 7:30 A.M. I met Agents Barbera and Loren at Spring and Mulberry St. and took up watch for the purpose of getting spot on subject, who is supposed to be working in a wine cellar at the above address. We watch until 10:00 P.M. and learned that subject was sick and therefore discontinued our watch. After that I spent the rest of the day in and around the Italian Federation of Bakers at 123 West 15th St. for the purpose of getting a line on subject BACCINI who is supposed to be in this place. Baldazzi was there and he was sending out circulars for to-morrow's meeting at the Rand School. I cautiously brought up the subject of Baccini, but Baldazzi does not know him. I helped him to send their circulars out and failing to learn anything of subject I left and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

P-137

JAN 19 1921
Acting upon the above matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent the greater part of the day in and around Chrystie St. in order to get a line on JIM DIAGUARDO. I got in conversation with this man's nephew and I told him that he was the only Diaguardo in the neighborhood. He was the head of the Independent Bricklayers Union, having organized it himself and was known by the name of Jim; that he has six business agents working for him and they pull of the rough stuff for Jim whenever he orders them to do so. They are better known as the strong arm squad of this Union, headquarters of which is at 211 Chrystie St. and this branch of business agents can always be found at the above place between 5:00 and 6:30 P.M. There was nothing further to learn. I left and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

P-137

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your communication of the 9th instant requesting to be supplied with the report of Dr. Walter C. Scholle upon the explosion in Wall Street last December.

As the investigation of the Wall Street outrage has been conducted entirely under the supervision of Mr. Ryan, I would suggest that you communicate with Mr. Ryan at 116 Nassau Street, New York.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN NEW YORK CITY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1920 -
Investigation on purchasers of blasting gelatine.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Reference is made to a letter from Director FLYNN, under date of November 18, 1920, enclosing lists of names and addresses of concerns located within the Chicago District Division, who have been purchasing blasting gelatine of the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY, between March 1st, 1920, and September 15, 1920, and directing to have those firms checked up in order to ascertain if their supply can be accounted for.

Upon instructions from Division Superintendent EDWARD J. BRENNAN, Agent submits the following summary report on the investigations made in this matter within this Division:

CHICAGO DISTRICT.

FITZSIMMONS & CONNELL, CHICAGO, ILL.

August 24, 1920, 500 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent LOUIS LOEBL, under date of November 22, 1920, reports as follows:

"Interviewed H.N. Cooper, treasurer of the Fitzsimmons & Connell
Dredge and Dock Company, Room 1646 Otis Building, 10 So. La Salle Street, this city. Stated that the strongest explosives used by this concern, was 40\% and that the largest purchase was 100 pounds; that on August 24, 1920, 100 pounds of 40\% Keystone Gelatine Dynamite were purchased from the Aetna Explosives Co., and that this Dynamite was used in blasting concrete piers and bridge foundations on Madison Street and Wells Street bridges in this city. Records of this concern show no such purchase as 500 pounds, on August 24, or at any other time.
Mr. Cooper also stated that his men entrusted with handling explosives, were absolutely reliable and loyal."
PENN. TROJAN CO., CHICAGO, ILL.

July 9, 1920, 50 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent LOUIS LOEBL, under date of November 22, 1920, reports as follows:

"Interviewed D.A. Brewster, General Manager of the Pennsylvania Trojan Powder Company, Room 928 National Life Building, 29 So. La Salle St., this city. Stated that his concern is manufacturing high explosives from 30% to 60%, known as 'Nitro-Starch Powder'; that it occasionally buys from the Aetna exploders and detonating cap but had never purchased any blasting gelatine or other Dynamite from the Aetna or from any other concern."

S.B. GEIGER, CHICAGO, ILL.

August 6, 1920, 50 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine; August 23, 1920, 100 lbs. 75% "

Agent LOUIS LOEBL, under date of November 22, 1920, reports as follows:

"Interviewed S.G. Geiger, superintendent of the concern, Room 550 Old Colony Building, 37 West Van Buren Street, this city. Stated that his firm is engaged in shooting wells and in other similar underground work necessary for well constructions; that he is the only one entrusted with the handling of explosives; that the two purchases above mentioned were disposed of as follows:

1.) Aug. 6, 1920, invoice #8052, 50 lbs. K.G.D. 15 lbs. were used in shooting a well for the American Can Co., at Joliet, Ill., to straighten up a hole; 25 lbs. were taken by him to the plants of the Corn Products Co., at Argo, Ill., where the shooting of a well was to be done; however, this work was not finished, because the well rig burned down, consuming the Dynamite; a new rig is under-construction at present, and as soon as this rig is completed, the work of shooting will be resumed; 10 lbs. is the balance of this purchase which is on hand and is being kept under lock and key for future use.

2.) Aug. 23, 1920, invoice #8293, 100 lbs. K.G.D. This amount was used in shooting a well for the Interstate Steel Co., at East Chicago, Ill.

The records of this firm also show that on July 26, 1920, under invoice 7292, 50 lbs. of 75% K.G.D. were purchased from the Aetna, - 25 lbs.
of which were used at the Waukeegan Pure Ice Company’s plant at Waukeegan, Ill., and 25 lbs. at the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road shops at Garrett, Ill., for boring purposes. Mr. Geiger finally stated that his firm buys all the explosives from the Aetna, and that he obtains every order personally from the Lambert, Ill., plant of the Aetna Explosives Company.

ILLINOIS STEEL COMPANY, CHICAGO, ILL.

Disposition of 24,850 lbs. of 75% blasting gelatine, purchased between March 17, 1920, and August 28, 1920.

Mr. W. L. Furbershaw, one of the assistants to the president of said concern, to whom this matter was submitted, writes under date of December 4, 1920, as follows:

"The records of this Company show that all of the items mentioned were delivered at the Gary Works of the Illinois Steel Company, Gary, Ind. All the Company's operations involving the use of explosives are surrounded with the usual protective measures calculated to exercise proper control over the dynamite or high explosives used. The records of the Company show that all of the dynamite received at both the Gary Works at Gary, Ind., and the South Works at South Chicago, Ill., can be properly accounted for."

FRED SINNOFF, CHICAGO, ILL.

May 25, 1920, 200 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine;
July 9, 1920, 200 lbs. 75% .

Agent LOUIS LOEBL, under date of November 23, 1920, reports as follows:

"Subject's correct name is Fred Sinhoff, residing at 8944 Burley Ave., this city. He is a contractor for removing blast furnace salamanders and has a U.S. License #732663. Subject's wife being interviewed, stated that her husband is at McKeesport, Pa., at the present time, working on a blasting job, and is not expected back before New Year; that he is employed in the yards of the Illinois Steel Company and that his work consists of blasting salamanders; that he generally purchases the Dynamite used in his work, under his name, direct, and that he carries a memorandum book with him, keeping a record of the disposition of every pound of dynamite. Subject is 47 years old, born in Germany, came to the United States 18 years ago, and is a naturalized citizen of the United States. His reputation in the community is very good."

Mr. W. L. Furbershaw, of the Illinois Steel Company, under date of December 4, 1920, writes as follows:

"Fred Sinnhoff, 8944 Burley Ave., has been employed by the South Works of this Company from time to time on the work of blasting salamanders."

----------------------

ANDREW LARSEN, WADSWORTH, ILL.

June 16, 1920, 100 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent LOUIS LOEBL, under date of November 24, 1920, reports as follows:

"Interviewed subject at his home at Wadsworth, Ill., where he lives in a little shack, two miles from the railroad station. Stated that he has been engaged in dynamiting since the past 25 years; that his business consists of blowing up stumps, rocks, etc., all over the state; that he uses explosives in an average of one ton every year and that he secures the dynamite from the Aetna Explosives Co., and the Hercules Powder Co. Larsen further stated that he generally uses 40% dynamite but that in exceptional cases, he had to use 75% explosives to blow up hickory stumps or larger rocks; that the 100 pounds purchased on June 16, from the Aetna, were used by him in blowing up hickory stumps on the farm of Charles Farnum, at Wadsworth, Ill. - Larsen's general reputation in his community, is very good; he has been known there since the past 27 years, is considered an honest and trustworthy man and an expert in handling explosives. He was born in Danmark 54 years ago, came to this country at the age of six years and is a citizen of the United States by virtue of his father's naturalization."

----------------------

ST. PAUL DISTRICT.

FARWELL, OZNUM & KIRK, ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

May 17, 1920, 75 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent JAMES H. DALY, of the St. Paul office, under date of November 23, 1920, reports as follows:

"It was learned that this firm has no record of the purchase of 75 pounds of dynamite made on May 17, 1920. With Department Manager A. J. Holmes, Agent went through the firm's invoices of purchases from the Aetna Explosives Co., from January 1, 1920 to October 31, 1920, and no invoice could be found covering the transaction in question. In fact, no invoice covering the purchase of a single item of 75% dynamite was found.

---------------------

JANNEY, SEMPLE - HILL CO., MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

May 28, 1920, 25 lbs. of 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent JAMES H. DALY, of the St. Paul office, under dates of November 23 and December 4, 1920, reports as follows:

"Agent learned from Mr. Hill, manager of the department handling explosives of the Jamney Semple-Hill Co., Minneapolis, that the 25 lbs. of 75% dynamite purchased by that Company were sold, with fuse and caps, to Joseph Bloningen, a merchant in St. Martin, Stearns County, Minnesota. Inquiry was made by correspondence, of Joseph Bloningen, concerning his purchase and disposition of the dynamite. He replies by letter under date of December 2nd, that the dynamite purchased, was for use in blasting stumps in the clearing of land. He has disposed of about ten pounds to John Doll, a farmer living near Roscoe, Minn., who used the same for blasting, and has 15 pounds on hand. He vouches for the character and responsibility of John Doll. The postmaster at Roscoe, Minn., where Bloningen gets his mail, was also communicated with and inquiry was made of him concerning the reliability and responsibility of Bloningen. The postmaster, Mr. John M. Weis, responded with the statement that he has known Mr. Bloningen for 14 years and that he is a reputable, responsible merchant and would not purchase dynamite other than for a legitimate purpose."

---------------------

W. FRITZ, CARVER, MINNESOTA.

Agent GERALD P. MURPHY, of the St. Paul office, under date of November 24, 1920, reports as follows:

"Agent called Clerk of District Court, O. L. LUNDSTRUM, Chaska, Minn., on long distance, relative to W. Fritz. Mr. Lundstrum has helped this office on numerous occasions and is very reliable. He states that W. Fritz is known in the community around Carver and Chaska as a workman, who clears land, and blasts rocks with dynamite. All the farmers around that community employ him, whenever they have work that will make it necessary to use dynamite, and he is sort of an expert in blowing stumps, rocks, etc. Mr. Lundstrum also states that Fritz is a responsible, loyal man and would not use dynamite for any other use than above set forth."
February 28, 1920, 50 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine;
April 10, 1920, 75 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent GERALD P. MURPHY, of the St. Paul office, under date of November 26, 1920, reports as follows:

"Agent interviewed J. Masloski, Fairmont, Minnesota, and found that he is of Polish descent, 50 years old, a citizen of the United States, who owns 500 acres of land, fifteen miles southeast of Fairmont, Minn., and is living on the farm at present. Masloski received both consignments and used the dynamite to blow up some large stones, which had been hauled off his land. He built a foundation for a house and barn on his farm with the smaller rocks. He stated that he never loaned any dynamite to anyone, that it was always locked up, and no one stole any, and that he is sure he used every bit of it himself, and that he has none of the dynamite left. Agent saw the barn which has just been completed and was also shown by Masloski the place where the dynamiting took place and it appears that Masloski used all this dynamite for his own use. At Fairmont, Minn., Agent interviewed Mr. Gamble of Martin County Bank, and postmaster Betts, both stating that Masloski has been in the community for years that he is absolutely reliable and loyal and that he is not connected with any radical organization."

JOHNSON AND HOLMAN, FREDONIA, NORTH DAKOTA.
June 8, 1920, 25 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine.

(Agent Loebl notes as follows: This investigation was originally assigned to the Kansas City office, and was referred by Div. Sup. Bagley to the St. Paul office, stating that the place of investigation was inaccessible from his district.)

Agent JAMES H. DALY of the St. Paul office, under date of December 4, 1920, reports as follows:

"Inquiry was made by correspondence of Johnson and Holman, Fredonia, N.D., as to their purchase, what the dynamite was to be used for and whether any part of the supply remains in their hands. This firm replied by letter that the dynamite is for use in their own business of well drilling and that they have not sold any of it to any person. This firm is a responsible firm in Fredonia, N.D., dealing in hardware, agricultural implements and vehicles, and also does contract work in the drilling of wells.

HACKETT, GATES & HURTY, ST. PAUL, MINN.

June 19, 1920, 200 lbs. of 75% blasting gelatine.

Agent JAMES H. DALY of the St. Paul office, under date of December 4, 1920, reports as follows:

"It was found by inquiry at Hackett, Gates & Hurty Co., St. Paul, that the 200 pounds purchased by that firm was for the Kramer Hardware Co., Greenwald, Stearns County, Minnesota. Hackett, Gates & Hurty, St. Paul, advise that the Kramer Hardware Co. is an old customer of their firm and entirely reliable. Inquiry was made by correspondence of the Kramer Hardware Co., Greenwald, Stearns Co., Minnesota, and their reply is that the dynamite was used for blasting stumps and rock in the clearing of land; that they have disposed of about 75 pounds to different customers in their vicinity in small purchases of two and five pounds; that they are unable to furnish a list of these customers, although they are certain it went into the hands of only reputable, responsible farmers; and that they still retain in stock 125 pounds.

MILWAUKEE DISTRICT.

Owing to the delay on the part of the Milwaukee Office in making the investigation assigned thereto on November 20, 1920, further withholding of this report does not seem practicable.

A supplemental report will follow immediately, upon receipt of reports from the Milwaukee office.

Investigation Continued.
Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent West, and in conformity with authority contained in search warrant, Agent secured the letters enumerated below from the Hanover Street Postal Station on Dec. 9th and 10th, had the same opened at Bureau Office, copied, resealed and returned to Postal Superintendent for delivery. Translations from Italian were made by Special Agent Di Lillo.

Under date of December 6th, HELENA S. LUDLEY of Beaver Street, Waltham, Mass., forwarded to Felicani check on the Old Colony Trust Company, in the amount of $1, numbered 257.

Under date of December 8th, PAUL MUISTER, 71 Broadway, N. Y. C., forwarded American Express money order #A-9813057, issued at 65 Broadway, N. Y., in the amount of $1, payable to Aldino Felicani.

Under date of December 8th, E. LODETTI, 103 William St., Solvay, N. Y., forwarded U. S. P. O. Money Order in the amount of $4.75, Solvay, N. Y. Office #21504, Serial #38618, and wrote as follows:

Dearest Comrade:

In connection with comrades Sacco and Vanzetti, helped by two comrades, I have done all I could. I have collected among the workers the amount of $74.75, which you will find enclosed in this letter.

A few days ago I received a postal card in which I was notified to prepare a meeting for a comrade. But I heard nothing else about it. If you know when said comrade will be here inform me.

Wishing that the two comrades will soon be free accept my best regards.
Under date of December 3d, ANTONIO NELDDA, c/o Banca Fogazi, 2 Columbus Avenue, San Francisco, wrote Enrico Albertini, c/o Felicani, as follows:

Dearest Albertini:

As soon as I received the letter containing the circulars in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti, I opened a subscription. But it will be impossible to raise a large fund.

We have done and we will do in the future our best, but being impossible at present to ask for more funds to the comrades of the group who have financed on a large scale the movement in Italy, it is necessary to turn upon the colonial newspapers, even if they are patriotic ones. If the newspapers will publish the appeals I will go myself to the different societies and I will ask for moral and financial support. The addresses of the Italian newspapers are:

La Voce del Popolo (The voice of the people) Editor Ottorino Ronchi, 710 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal. cisco, California.

Il Corriere del Popolo (The People's Courier) 628 Montgomery St., San Francisco.

L'Era Democratica (The Democratic Era) 62 Columbus Avenue, San Francisco, Cal.

About a month ago I sent you $50 thru Maria Galleani, because we did not know then your address. I believe that you have received that money. As soon as you notify the above newspapers write me a letter and I will, in company with a prominent person, go to the editors and ask them to propagate among the masses the case of our two comrades.

Your brother sends you his regards. Give my regards to Zonchello if he is there, and tell him that we will be proud to have him among us. We hope to collect more funds on his arrival.

The Maria Galleani referred to in the above communication is the wife of Luigi Galleani of Wrentham, Mass.

Under date of December 8th, A. POLLITELLA of 36 Short St. Lawrence, Mass., wrote Felicani as follows:

Dearest Felicani:

I enclose herewith a check in the amount of $71.52, net profit of the performance of the 4th inst., as you will learn from the here enclosed communication which should be passed to La Notizia for publication. As soon as I will receive report of the #2 missed tickets I will have you informed.

We have received a circular from New Britain, Conn., signed by Nicola Piesco which is an invitation to the convention to be held at Hartford having for object the creation of a permanent defence committee. I have been instructed by the committee of this town to ask for more information and I would appreciate it greatly if you would tell me something in this matter.

I do the best I can to interest the friends in Lowell, to organize a soiree in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. We have here several young men willing to give a theatrical performance. In case you need these young men to perform in other cities in the vicinity have me informed.

Nicola Piesco, above referred to, is an anarchist now in New Britain, Conn.; who is arranging a meeting of radicals at Hartford, Conn.; at some future date, as yet unnamed.

Under date of December 9th, GIOVANNI BALDAZZI of the Italian Workers Defence League, 23 West 15th Street, N.Y.C., wrote Felicani as follows concerning the speaking tour of Erasmo Abate, Editor of "La conquista" of Philadelphia:

Dearest Felicani:

I enclose herewith a communication in the matter of the tour of comrade Abate in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti.
The tour will have much more success than that of Caminita from the moral and financial view point for the rea-on of the facts that till this day we have many adhesions.
Abate will receive a salary of only $28 per week during said tour.

While I hope you will have published on the Notizia the here enclosed communication, I beg you to send the enclosed circular to a good comrade of Worcester who can and wants to take interest in the preparation of the meeting. I have no sure addresses of that locality. You will give the same address to comrade Abate when in Boston.

We will see if we can do more for Sacco and Vanzetti.
We will do our possible in the limit of our forces.

Best regards to you and other members of the Committee.

G. BALDAZZI

BALDAZZI also enclosed the following circular in reference to the anticipated speaking tour of ABATE:

TOUR OF CONFERENCES ERASMO ABATE
IN FAVOR OF SACCO-VANZETTI.

Comrade Erasmo Abate, Editor of the periodical "La Conquesta of Philadelphia, has been instructed by the Italian Defense League of New York to start a tour of conferences in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. We publish the itinerary of his tour of agitation, being sure that our comrades of the localities he is about to visit will take interest in the preparatory work and will cooperate for the moral and financial success of the lecturer, for the agitation.

The following is the itinerary:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Waterbury, &quot;</td>
<td>Thu. Dec. 16.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Torrington, &quot;</td>
<td>Fri. Dec. 17.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lawrence, &quot;</td>
<td>Sat. Dec. 25.</td>

</table>

The profit of this initiative, less the expenses, will be turned to the Central Committee Sacco-Vanzetti, 32 Battery St., Boston, Mass. We wish that our comrades, sympathizers and all good men who care for the cause of our two innocent comrades, will do in this occasion their duty and will assist our comrade Abate in his tour. Comrade Abate is recommended for his distinguished intellectual qualities and for his faith for the proletarian cause.

He also enclosed the following letter:

I have the pleasure to notify you that comrade Erasmo Abate, Editor of "LA CONQUISTA", which is a fitting periodical of our part, published at Philadelphia, is about to start a tour of propaganda to help morally and financially the cause of our two comrades Sacco and Vanzetti. He will be in your locality on Thursday, Dec. 22nd, to hold a conference. You will do your best to find a hall, to publish... the handbills, etc. As soon as you receive this communication assemble all the comrades with the object to cooperate with you for the success of the conference of comrade Abate. Do not fail to do your duty on this occasion. Regards and Solidarity.

ITALIAN DEFENCE LEAGUE.

Under date of December 8th; FRED H. MOORE, 3 Tremont Row, Boston, who is counsel for Sacco and Vanzetti, wrote Felicani as follows:

My dear Felicani:

Enclosed herewith you will please find a copy of the letter sent by Caminita with reference to Carlo Tresca. On my return to the office yesterday afternoon after talking with you I received another letter from Miss Flynn complaining over the failure to receive any word from you with reference to this matter. I am writing to both she and Tresca today to the effect that you have told me that your letter has gone forward. I trust that this will clean up the matter. However, if you see your way clear to do it I think a note from you personally to Tresca would be decidedly advantageous.

Enclosed within the same letter was a copy of the following communication from LUDOVICO CAMINITA, the Patterson anarchist:

Dearest:

I have received your letter. At present I am in New England holding public meetings in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. The complaint against Sacco is extremely dangerous. They will be sent to the electric chair and if the good comrades will not protest and will not offer their solidarity. My tour of agitation has had a great moral and financial success, notwithstanding the facts that Carlo Tresca has done his best to put the cane between the wheels. The committee at Boston, which is the Central Committee, President of which is comrade Aldino Felicani, has accomplished miracles. It is enough to say that in six months he has paid out twelve thousand dollars for the defence of the two innocent comrades, even if the agitation was only limited in the New England. The committee at Boston has been unable to enlarge the agitation thru the other states in the Union because I have no more addresses and Carlo Tresca has refused to give them to the Committee. The reason of Tresca's negative is the fact that he wants to take the control of the agitation to exploit it morally and financially. But the comrades at Boston are very careful and have assured that Tresca will not succeed. They beg all the comrades who want... to contribute to the defence, not to give a cent to Tresca. They should send their contributions directly to Boston.

This evening I will return to Paterson because in three weeks I have held 27 lectures and my lungs are tired. As soon as I will be able I will return to work, always for Sacco and Vanzetti, and probably I will go to Pennsylvania. In that case I will pay a visit to you. Receive my best regards together with those of Amelia.

This matter is considered CLOSED.
Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge, J. B. Hannahan, that Agent ascertain the present activities of the GALLEANI FAMILY at Wrentham, Mass., Agent proceeded there on October 13th, and first interviewed POSTMASTER W. H. ROWELL, who stated that the GALLEANI FAMILY were still residing at 85 West Street, Wrentham, the family consisting of MARIE GALLEANI, wife of LOUGI GALLEANI (Deported), SALVATORE ERRERA, aged 34, a son of MRS. GALLEANI by a former marriage; ILIA GALLEANI, aged approximately 24 or 25 years, a graduate of either Tufts, Harvard or Tufts Dental School, and now practising in Philadelphia, Pa.

COSSYRA GALLEANI, aged 19, a graduate of the Wrentham High School, Class of 1919, now said to be a student at the Boston Art School.

Two sons, BALILLA, aged 18 or 19, a graduate of Wrentham High School, Class 1919, and OLIOMPO GALLEANI, aged about 20.

A younger daughter, MENTANA, aged 10.

SALVATORE ERRERA is referred to as the backbone of the family, believed to be working in the Jewelry Manufacturing business in Attleboro, Mass; he is said to be inclined towards Socialism and it is the belief of the Chief of Police of Franklin, Mass., that in all probability he will follow in the footsteps of his step-father, LOUGI GALLEANI; that he is talking along those lines.

The other two sons, BALILLA and OLIOMPO, are said to be employed by the Local Tap & Dye Shop in Wrentham.
Postmaster Rowell further informed Agent that since LUIGI GALLEANI was deported, little attention has been paid here to the family; he showed Agent a notice signed by GALLEANI dated June 18, 1919, reading as follows:

"Remit all correspondence to Mary Galleani addressed in my name and pay to her any money order coming through my name."

While the signature of this notice is that of GALLEANI, according to the Postmaster the notice was written by someone else. The Postmaster further stated that MRS. GALLEANI is receiving considerable mail from various parts of the country, chiefly from Lynn, Mass; he further states that she corresponds with her husband in Italy and that he writes to her. She is said to receive magazines and papers, and the children occasionally receive books and pictures.

While Postmaster Rowell claims that GALLEANI is corresponding with his wife from Italy, Chief of Police Knowlton of Franklin, with whom Agent later talked, informs that he has received information through good authority that GALLEANI has for several months been in Austria. (Postmaster Rowell made no mentioned of Mrs. Galleani receiving mail from Austria) Chief Knowlton informed Agent that MRS. GALLEANI has never been legally married to GALLEANI as she was the wife of the jailer in Spain where GALLEANI was confined; that GALLEANI and the jailer's wife ran away from Spain and went to Alexandria, Egypt, later coming to this country.

Postmaster Rowell further informed Agent that prior to his deportation GALLEANI travelled extensively and often sent money orders to his wife through the Postoffice; that, however, since he has been deported, she has received no money from him through the Postoffice and that the family are apparently in comfortable circumstances, although their only apparent source of income is the earnings of the three boys.

On October 14th, Postmaster Rowell obtained an automobile and took Agent for a ride past the GALLEAHI home, in order to show how secluded the place was and explained that a large number of cars could be parked on the premises without attracting any attention, but he could not state whether or not she was receiving company to any extent or was visited by automobile parties from any part of the surrounding country. The GALLEAHI home is 2½ miles from Wrentham; a small Railroad station, however, known as Wampum, is a mile from their home.

Agent has made arrangements with Postmaster Rowell, that special attention be paid to mail received and sent out by MRS. GALLEAHI, and further arrangements are being made whereby more definite information may be obtained concerning her mail.

Chief of Police George E. Mayshaw of Wrentham could give no information other than that given by Postmaster Rowell, and stated that it would be an easy matter for the GALLEAHI home to be visited without the fact being called to his attention.

This matter will be CONTINUED.
Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge J. E. Hanrahan, that Agent ascertain the present activities of the GALLEANI FAMILY at Wrentham, Mass., Agent proceeded there on October 12th, and first interviewed POSTMASTER W. H. The other two sons, BALILLA and OLIENPO, are said to be employed by the Local Tap & Dye Shop in Wrentham.
Postmaster Rowell further informed Agent that since LUIGI GALLEONI was deported, little attention has been paid here to the family; he showed Agent a notice signed by GALLEONI dated June 18, 1919, reading as follows:

"Remit all correspondence to Mary Galleani addressed in my name and pay to her any money order coming through my name."

On October 14th, Postmaster Rowell obtained an automobile and took Agent for a ride past the GALLEAUX home, in order to show how secluded the place was and explained that a large number of cars could be parked on the premises without attracting any attention, but he could not state whether or not she was receiving company to any extent or was visited by automobile parties from any part of the surrounding country. The GALLEAUX home is 2 1/2 miles from Wrentham; a small Railroad station, however, known as Wampum, is a mile from their home.

Agent has made arrangements with Postmaster Rowell, that special attention be paid to mail received and sent out by MRS. GALLEAUX, and further arrangements are being made whereby more definite information may be obtained concerning her mail.

WALL STREET BOMB PLOT : Radical Activities

At Glen Moore and Cornog, PA.

Reference is made to letter from Division Superintendent Spencer, dated and initialed "RBS:N"-11/27th 1920, listing certain firms in this territory reported by the AETNA EXPLOSIVE COMPANY as having purchased Aetna Blasting gelatine, between March 1st and September 15th 1920, and requesting that these firms be checked up with a view of ascertaining whether or not their supplies can be accounted for. Second

Second on the list of firms submitted is the KEYSTONE TRAPPE, Chester, PA., apparently intended for the KEYSTONE TRAPPE ROCK COMPANY. Glen Moore, Chester County, PA., which company received a shipment of 500 lbs. of Aetna Blasting Gelatine from the magazine of the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY of Norristown, PA., on August 18th last (date and size of shipment corresponds to data in Mr. Spencer's letter)

Agent interviewed JOHN S. GALT 346 W. Chestnut St., Lancaster, PA., president of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK AT HONEY BROOK, PA., at Cornog, PA. MR. GALT is the president and owner of the KEYSTONE TRAPPE COMPANY PLANT at Cornog, PA. (shipping and mail station, Glen Moore, PA.) MR. GALT stated that the shipment of 500 lbs. of AETNA Blasting Gelatine had been received from the AETNA EXPLOSIVES COMPANY of Norristown by truck on August 18th. It was kept carefully guarded and unopened until August 21st following when the boxes were opened and checked in his presence, showing that they contained exactly the amount of gelatine called for on bill of lading. Under MR. GALT'S personal direction, the entire 550 lbs. was placed in three 30-foot holes and exploded simultaneously. MR. GALT gives this department his personal guarantee that not an ounce of this particular shipment was used for any purpose other than that specified. He further stated that this shipment was the only one received by him between March 1st and September 15th, and that he found the need of this particular shipment because of water in the places where it was used. Most of the blasting done by this company is in dry areas where 60 P.C. N.G. dynamite is used.

INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED:
Continuing on this matter I spent some time watching the macaroni store at 24 Spring Street, for the purpose of ascertaining if anyone hangs out there, but only saw people coming in and going out of same.

At 7 P. M. I proceeded to 208 East 21st Street, the home of COLAVECCHIA, and who lives on the top floor of a five story flat, Room 24, and found COLAVECCHIA and DANUNZIO reading. COLAVECCHIA's brother, as well as DANUNZIO and himself, rent four rooms in this house, which are poorly kept. They have a large amount of radical books, and are always studying. They handed me a book to read, and COLAVECCHIA told me that RAVARINI was a spy and was the one that "squealed" on SALSEDO and ELIA and several others who were deported. He further said he was one of the circle on 106th Street, and worked in with us, but he really was a spy for the Government. He informed me that SERRIO was a fugitive also on that account, and is at the present time in Italy, and several others of our circle up there, and after that the circle broke up. It seems now that another, who is also a spy and working for the Government, is this man BLOSSOM of the I.W.W., as in Paterson he stood up for RAVARINI, and went so far as to write articles in favor of him and against TRESCA, and called TRESCA a spy, and that it not so, because Tresca is a hard worker, and it seems that he has turned the tables and has the goods on Blossom; that he is a spy, and he has the goods against him, and now you have to be careful, as to who you speak to, as it seems that they are all spies."

At 10:30 P.M. we left and spent the rest of the time in the Automat Restaurant on East 14th Street and at 1 A.M. I discontinued.
Continuing on this matter, I spent some time at the ITALIAN FEDERATION OF BAKERS, at 123 West 15th Street, for the purpose of getting a "line" on subject, BACCINI, or VACCINI, but failed to see any one that looked like subjects, and no one seems to know him.

I then proceeded to the vicinity of Chrystie Street, in an endeavor to learn something regarding DIOQUARDI. I talked to his nephew, who told me that this crowd is going to run a meeting about the Fiume Question next Sunday afternoon, in a hall on Forsyth Street, near Grand, at 2.30 P.M. Attached is a circular concerning this meeting.

In the evening I proceeded to the I.W.W. Headquarters, and there met COLAVECCHIA and DANUNZIO, and talked for some time, and then went to the Automat Lunch Room on East 14th Street, and remained there with these men until 12.45 A. M., at which time I left and arranged to meet COLAVECCHIA tomorrow at 7 P. M. at his home.
Importante!

At Buffalo, N.Y.

Referring to previous reports in the above named matter, Agent investigated the following named,

VITO DI GIORGIO, 258 Seventh Street, Buffalo, N.Y. He is a young man, about 22 years of age; an Italian; a barber by trade. Formerly resided at this address but now resides at 292 Swan Street, where he conducts a barber shop. He has been in Buffalo for the past ten years and it is known that he has not been out of the city during the past two years.

He has never applied for citizenship, but has a very fair reputation. He is a brother-in-law to Anthony Marinaccio, of 97 Imson Street, a detective connected with the local Police Department.

Some weeks ago in connection with the investigation of the Wall Street Explosion, inquiries were directed towards the location of one Ruggero Baccini, a member of the anarchist group, and whose description answers in many details the description given of the driver of the wagon containing the explosive.

Our investigation shows that Baccini disappeared during March of this year, and later it was reported that he had returned to the United States after killing two policemen in Cali.

During the Summer of this year, Nicholas Cuneo, an anarchist residing in this city, made a trip to Boston and assisted there in a meeting held for the benefit of the defense society, and that Cuneo upon returning to New York reported that the former treasurer, Baccini, had absconded with the sum of ninety-five dollars.

Will you kindly advise this office at the earliest practicable time, whether or not you have any information that would tend to show that Baccini is residing in your territory? He is described as being about 30 years of age, 5' 6 or 7", stocky build; dark complexion, smooth face. This description, as hereinbefore mentioned, answers in a greater part, the description given of the driver of the wagon. However, it is reported that the driver of the wagon spoke very good English while our information tends to show that Baccini speaks little or no English.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE F. LAMB
DIVISION SUPERINTENDENT.
Continuing on this matter, I spent some time watching MIGLIORIS' Mararoni Store at 24 Spring Street, but saw no one during that time hanging about the place. I learned however, that they own a RAINIER DELIVERY Automobile, and have owned same for some time.

In the evening I proceeded to 203 East 21st Street for the purpose of meeting COLAVECCHIA, but on my arrival there found the door locked.

I then proceeded to the I.W.W. Headquarters at 353
Avenue, but could not see him there. I then proceeded to the ARBOR RESTAURANT, on East 14th Street and there found COLAVECCHIA and four other radicals, who were discussing the merits of the different men in the radical move, and it was decided that TRESCA was the hardest worker.

At 12.40 A.M. I discontinued
Continuing on this matter, I spent most of the day at Spring and Elizabeth Streets, but failed to see any men at 24 Spring Street, the mazaroni store, or the blacksmith shop at 205 Elizabeth Street.

I endeavored to get in touch with COLAVECCHIA at I.W.W. Headquarters, but was unable to do so, inasmuch as I was informed he had gone to Brooklyn to visit some friends.
Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent West to investigate the above named subject, Agent proceeded to the Marlboro post office, and from Postmaster Hurley learned that subject was employed as a chef at the Rice-Hutchins Restaurant on Main St.; that subject received thru the mail an Italian newspaper; that he did not bear the reputation of being an Anarchist.

Agent visited the Curtis factory of the Rice-Hutchins Co., Shoe manufacturers, and interviewed Mr. Chas. Curtis, Jr., who stated that the manager of the restaurant was reliable and trustworthy and referred Agent to him.

Agent interviewed Mr. Morrell, the restaurant manager, who stated that subject had worked in the restaurant for over one year, and had shown no signs of Anarchistic tendencies, and though having spoken favorably of Socialistic doctrines he (subject) was a pleasant, likeable man, who had stayed at his job at a time when high wages elsewhere might have lured him away. Subject is married and has one daughter. Subject's wife is also employed at times in the restaurant.

Mr. Morrell also stated that subject had been off the job only once and that at a time when the manager had granted him a three-day vacation. This vacation began on either the first or second Friday of September, and Mr. Morrell is certain that subject spent the time with a relative in Natick, Mass.
Mr. Morrell also stated that subject had never at any time made any statement in favor of anarchy and at the time of the New York Bomb explosion had shown no sign of being interested.

Mr. Morrell suggested an interview with his baker, EMIL MARQUIST, in whom he had great faith.

MARQUIST stated that subject had favored socialism in his talks with him but had never expressed any desire for violent action. Subject was well liked by the help in the restaurant and was easy to get along with.

Case closed.
BOMB EXPLOSION, Wall Street, NYC., Sept. 16-20: 1920: Anarchistic Activities.

Facts Developed at Boston and vicinity:

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent in Charge Hanrahan, based on letter from W. J. Flynn, Director, Bureau of Investigation, dated New York City, Nov. 30th, 1920, to the effect that disposition made of the material (75% dynamite) by the purchasers is desired by all means, Agent visited the purchasers contained in list furnished by the American Powder Co., of 75% dynamite, as per report made November 24th, 1920. Detailed report follows, though no loss or theft has been found and all purchasers seem to have used the dynamite for legitimate purposes.

At Fitchburg, Mass., December 7th:

Fitchburg Hardware Co., May 10.....

To Lari Mollanen, Sheldon Road, Fitchburg, a farmer clearing his land of stone.

Agent interviewed Capt. Cox of the Fire Dept., who knew subject well. Showed a license granted and bond filed for $500. Capt. Cox has kept in touch with subject. No loss or theft reported.

At Brockton, Mass., December 13th:

F. W. Cary, Brockton, Mass., May 10.....

" " " " " Aug. 23.....

Agent interviewed Mr. Cary at his farm two miles from city. He stated that he handled a limited quantity for his own use and did some contracting for others.

Agent interviewed Capt. Murphy of the Fire Dept. who spoke well... well of this subject and verified above facts.

At Manchester, N.H., December 9th:

John B. Varick Co., Manchester, N.H., May 17... 500 lbs.

To W. H. McElwain Co., Merrimac, N.H.

Agent interviewed Mr. Jordan, engineer of the McElwain plant, who stated that he was responsible for the dynamite, and that the firm had used this in building a tannery. All dynamite used for foundation and well. No loss or theft reported.

At Meredith, N.H.:

John B. Varick Co., Manchester, N.H., May 12... 200 lbs.

To E. B. Dane, Meredith, N.H.

Agent interviewed Mr. Sanborn, caretaker of the estate of Mr. Dane, who stated that Mr. Dane is a Brookline, Mass. resident and has purchased about eight farms for a summer estate. Dynamite has been used to clear premises of rocks and stumps. No loss or theft.

At Woburn, Mass., December 6th:

Merrimac Chemical Co., Woburn, Mass., May 26... 50 lbs.

Agent interviewed the Chief of the Fire Department at Wilmington, the adjoining town, who is conversant with the use of dynamite by the above concern. This material was used to build an addition to plant. Has been used for foundation purposes. No loss or theft.

At Wilmington, Mass., December 6th:

G. Ferrulla Co., Wilmington, May 27... 300 lbs.

Agent interviewed Chief of Fire Dept. who stated that above concern had a state road contract this spring and used material for blasting in road work. In his official capacity he was constantly on scene. No loss or theft.
At Belmont, Mass., December 3rd:

John A. Gaffey, Belmont, Mass., June 10... 100 lbs.

Agent interviewed Mr. Gaffey, who is a contractor, of Medford, Mass., and who has used this material in a subdivision of land on the Atkine estate. Accompanied by Chief of Police, Agent visited plot and verified statement. Less than one-half a case remains now in sheet-iron storehouse. No loss or theft.

At West Alton, N.H., December 10th:

L. T. Wallis, West Alton, N.H., June 14... 100 lbs.

Agent interviewed Allie Stowe, employee of Wallis at Alton, who stated that material was used for clearing land on an island in Lake Winnipesaukee, this place being used as a boys camp in summer. No loss or theft.

At Swampscott, Mass., December 6th:

M. McDonough, Swampscott, Mass., June 21..... 200 lbs.

Agent interviewed clerk of McDonough, in his office, who said that his firm had some state road contracts this spring, and also controlled a quarry. A watchman is employed when dynamite has been stored. None in shanty at present time.

Above statement verified by Chief of Fire Dept. No loss or theft.

R. J. Teasdale, West Quincy, Mass., various purchases.

Teasdale has been interviewed and reported under date of Oct. 23rd. He is the agent for the American Powder Company and sells to quarries in his vicinity.
At Milford, N.H., December 14th:

Lovejoy Granite Co., Milford, N.H.  June 7... 400 lbs.
  "    "    "    "    "    "    "    Jul 23... 100 "

Above concern situated a mile from town on hill. Agent interviewed the superintendent and two foremen of this quarry. Dynamite on land is checked weekly and no loss or theft has occurred in forty years. Statement verified in town.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today. I spent sometime watching the stable at 205 Elizabeth St., but failed to see anyone enter there that looked anyway suspicious. In the evening I proceeded to 208 E. 21st St. for the purpose of seeing Coloucchia, but on my arrival there I found no one in. I then left and proceeded to the I. W. W. headquarters at 33 Second Avenue and here found D’Nunzio who lives with Coloucchia and he informed me that Coloucchia had gone to Brooklyn to see some friend. While here I learned that McGregor Ross was being talked of as Secretary of the Defence, as Beyer is going to be recalled. I also learned that this Hall is being given up on the first of the month, and a committee is now out looking for another hall. D’Nunzio and I proceeded to the Automat on East 14th St. and remained here until 12:30 A.M. and I discontinued for the day.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today. I proceeded to the Italian Federation of Bakers at 123 West 15th St. and there met Baldazzi and he told me that it was advisable to run a ball under the auspices of the Syndicalist Party. He asked me if I could not call on Miss Mason at Carnegie Hall and ask her if she could send a ballet down to the dance. I said that I would as soon as I got a chance. He said, that at the ball he is going to have an illustrated lecture with pictures about the Russian Revolution. He informed me that he has the slides and the machine.

In the evening I met Coloucchia at his home at 208 East 21st St. and we talked on different subjects and he said that he misses the gatherings at 106th St. He wished they could get together again as the reunions were most interesting. We then went to the I. W. W. headquarters where there was a dance going on; after which we spent the rest of the evening in the Automat on East 14th St. and talked about things in general, nothing that would have any bearing on this matter. At 1:00 A.M. I left him and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

Chief Secret Service Bureau,
Washington, D.C.

Gentlemen:

The enclosed resolutions were passed and adopted by Hamilton Council #77, Junior Order of American Mechanics, New York State Council of New York City at the stated meeting of November 12th, 1920.

yours in patriotism,

Recording Secretary.

IN RE: WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent some time in the vicinity of the Stable at 205 Elizabeth St., but in the course of my stay there I failed to see anything unusual going on. No one who looked suspicious called on the Blacksmith.

In the evening I called at the I. W. W. Headquarters and met COLAVECHIJA here, and while talking we learned that this Hall is being given up on the first of the month, as they are losing money on the Hall. While there talking, a man came up to us and asked us if we wanted to buy the Communist and we did. I tried to find out where he got them. He would not say, but told us that he would serve us with every issue. He said he would come up and bring every issue. Then we went up to the Automat and spent the rest of the night there, talking on general conditions, etc. At 1:00 A.M. I left and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

Pursuant to instructions of Special Agent West, on this date the following letters addressed to "ALDINO FELICIANI, 32 Battery St., Boston," was secured on search warrant process at the Hanover St. Postal Station, Boston, taken to Bureau Office, opened, copied, ressealed and returned to Postal Station for delivery.

Under date of November 4th, SAMUEL BROSS, 255 Covert Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., forwarded Felicani, U. S. Postoffice Money Order issued at Station 109, Brooklyn, N. Y., December 4th, Office #21252, Serial #69488, in the amount of $1.00, and wrote Felicani as follows:

Dear Felicani:

Enclosed please find money order for one Dollar, a contribution of Branch 103, Evergreen, Workmen's Sick and Death Benefit Fund, for the Sacco-Vanzetti Defence Committee. Please send receipt.

Under date of December 4th, D. FUMA, Box 116, Carlinville, Ill., wrote Felicani as follows:

Dearest:

We have been informed by a comrade that Zonchello will in the near future come to this town. Why didn't you send the handbills. How can we hold a meeting without advertisement? Till this date we have not been notified by him (Zonchello) of the day of his arrival. If you know the date he will get here and you think that a letter would not reach him in time, you can notify use by telegram. You could address the telegram to Anton Nanny, North West Street, Porching, addition.
Under date of December 2nd, ALFREDO MARCONI, 213 River Street, Haverhill, Mass., on behalf of the Syndicalist Branch of that city, forwarded Pelicani, "as the profits of a dance held November 20th," U. S. Postoffice Money Order in the amount of $27.14, issued at Haverhill, Mass., December 3d, 1920, Office #61020, Serial #505247.

Under date of December 2nd, B. COLLE, Box 154 Rice's Landing, Penn., forwarded U. S. Postoffice money order in the amount of $100 payable to Pelicani issued December 2nd, office #41939, Serial No.
84111 and wrote as follows:

Dearest:

I enclose herewith a money order for one hundred dollars. Inform me about the case. We will never forget our duty. Note the name.

Under date of December 5th, LUIGI SERROTTI, 15 Dale St., Providence, R. I., wrote as follows:

Eminent Treasurer of the Sacco-Vanzetti Committee:

I believe that you have read the registered letter
I addressed to "La Notizia" on the 3rd inst. Today I have received the answer containing cunning jokes having for their object to disguise and to evade a true subject and essential matter. In my registered letter I did not insist that you had to publish my letter. I only said that even not publishing the letter you had no right to reply so shamefully and impolitely as you did. In so doing you accused us of being two "Suspects" and of being against the cause of S. and V. In my letter I only asked you — also in name of A. Marinelli — to withdraw publicly or privately the unjust accusations, or to prove that we are the persons you accused us to be.
But you — all of you — besides being "oyster", you also demonstrate to be cowards, and like your brethernas — the priests — you prefer the coward by silence or the shameless language. But time and warm temperature will ripen bananas", and in the future we will see where are the cowards and suspected persons.

Last week I wrote a letter to you, but you have preferred the perpetual silence, because you knew very well that you cannot sustain what you have cowardly said, and you do not want to withdraw your accusations. But you also know that it is your duty to do so. I believe that you have been the very author of the impolite answer to the letter addressed to La Notizia. It is fine. But the opportunity will present itself some day and it will be very probable that the coward by persons like you are will be unmasked.

Under date of December 2nd, CONSTANTINO ZONETELLO, at 242 Kendall Avenue, Detroit, Mich., wrote as follows:

Dearest:

I am waiting for the copies, I believe that Guardiani has completed the relation and corrected the biography of Vanzetti. I also believe that you have composed the biography of Success. Know that in New York they will publish a copy of the "Guardian Rossa" (The Red Guard) and you will be asked for the autographies, it isn't just that others publish them before us. If you will send what I requested by special delivery and soon, on the 10th the number will be ready. Do me the favor to send me also the cuts of S. and V. and the papers containing extracts from Spanish newspapers. Marinello knows where they are.

I heard from Kansas that they have sent you fifty dollars and that they are waiting for your receipt. On the 12th inst. there will be held a festival at Taylorville. I will be there. It is necessary that I prepare the number before I leave Detroit, so I must have the material.

Remember that I will publish that the contribution should be sent directly to you, for the reason of the facts that many comrades are still sending them to New York. Therefore it is necessary that the recommendation be published soon.

Next Sunday I will be in Cleveland. In the meantime I am getting ready for the tour in Illinois. They want me in Chicago for three or four meetings. I hope I will accomplish very much there.

Everywhere and by everyone is approved the Bostonian movement. My invitation to get in touch with you has been accepted. In Pennsylvania Arturo was expelled from the anthracite zone, but now he is free. I expect to receive from him some details. I know that his tour has had a fine moral and financial success. Write as soon as you receive this letter. I will send you the address where you shall write in the future. How you may address to "42 Kendall Ave., Detroit, Mich."
left Boston some days ago and is on a tour of the middle west soliciting subscriptions for SACCO and VANZETTI. Marinero, mentioned in the above letter, is one JOSE MARINERO of 32 Battery Street, Boston, who has solicited the Spanish Anarchists throughout the country on behalf of SACCO and VANZETTI. It has been thought possible by the Boston Office that MARINERO is a pseudonym assumed by FRANK LOPEZ, the Spanish Anarchist of Boston, who is now awaiting deportation. The person named ARTURO in the above letter is either ARTURO CALVANI of Scranton, Pa., or ARTURO ARTONI of the same city, Scranton, formerly of Lee, Mass., who has been an organizer for the United Communist Party. It is believed, however, that the person referred to is CALVANI. Grassi is a recently appointed Secretary of the organization at Hartford, Conn.

Under date of November 30th, CONSTANTINO ZONTHELLO also wrote from Detroit as follows:

Dearest:

We need for the 15th three thousand copies of the circulators printed in English. It is necessary that you send them by special delivery, otherwise we would run against some inconvenience. I have spoken at Rochester, Hartford and Niagara Falls. Not a great financial success, but they have promised to do something. They are now organizing soccers of benevolence and they are preparing the ground for the meetings which will be held by Miss Flynn, to whom I have written this very day.

The divergence have been adjusted, and the mistrust towards the committee has disappeared. I have arranged to speak in Italian in several places. I have written to Guadagni for the addresses.

Don't forget to send me the list of the prisoners and the relation of Guadagni. I hope that the special issue will be ready for the 10th.

Regards yours,
C. Zonhelio.

Sunday I will be at CLEVELAND, OHIO. I will then proceed to ILLINOIS.
The circulars referred to in the above letter are circulars put out by FELICIANI, on behalf of Sacco and VANZETTI.
The MISS FLYNN referred to is of course ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN of New York City, while GUADAGNI is Professor FELICE GUADAGNI of Boston, Mass., who is also one of FELICIANI'S speakers.

Under date of December 2nd, JOE BARDA of Benld (?)
Ill., forwarded Felicani a check on the National Bank of Benld, Ill., dated December 26, 1920, $6, in the amount of $10 and wrote FELICIANI
as follows:

Dear Felicani:

We have not been in correspondence for a long time. Since you were the publisher of "LA QUESTIONE SOCIALE" (The Social Question) in New York of which I was a collaborator.

Now in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti, of which you are the Central Committee, has given us the opportunity to recon en our relations. Some time ago I made a tour and I have collected a few dollars in favor of the political victims, which I have divided between the "UNAHTA NUOVA" (New Humanity, a daily anarchist newspaper published in Italy by Em-rico Malatesta) and Sacco and Vanzetti. Therefore I enclose herewith a check in the amount of $10 in favor of our two comrades, victims of the wickedness of this Free Country (?) and of the wickedness of the renowned Wilson. Truly speaking, I am against the usual niggardliness of the Christian Charity to save our victims for the reason that the money collected is always used to fatten "big pieces" and lawyers. This is not our tactic, because it is a wrong notion. But who is ready for the direct action?
It is clear that for the moment no other means can be used, and willingly or not we must pass the hat for the collection, like the Franciscan monks. When will this radical imbecility end?

I have had no chance to do more. Times have changed. I am not so disposed now as I was when colaborator of the Questions Sociale. Then I had no children, but since then I have became the father of five children and even being willing to do the most I cannot accomplish much. Nevertheless I am always in the field on every occasion. It doesn't matter how the storm is.
I am always ready to face it for the social revolution.

I hope that in the near future we will have among us Constantino Zonchello who is in Illinois and I hope that we will do more for the two innocent comrades, Sacco and Vanzetti.

A cordial 'bravo' for your great work in favor of our two comrades.

Always yours for ANARCHY.

Joe Barra.

At Lansford

Agent continued investigation of the sales of dynamite in the Lansford District and endeavored to locate E. H. W. L. O. N. G. Chief of Police of the LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY, but as he was attending a Federal Court in Harrisburg, agent was unable to see him.

Agent interviewed W. G. WHILDIN, member of the LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY at Lansford, PA., who stated that OSCAR LONG was attending Court in Harrisburg testifying in the case of GABRIEL TOAD whose case had been referred to Assistant U.S. Attorney Sickler at Scranton. MR. WHILDIN said that on October 14th, 1920, O. CHARLES BOYLE of LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY and ALBERT WASHBOURNE Constable of Nesquehoning, got a search warrant and searched the home of GABRIEL TOAD at Nesquehoning, who it is alleged had in his possession a jack hammer which was the property of one of the rock contractors at the mines of the LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY. Instead of finding the jack hammer, they found one firing battery initialed "D.P." NO. 25111 - the property of the LEHIGH COAL AND NAVIGATION COMPANY also 7 sticks of dynamite, 4 boxes of blasting caps and 200 lbs. of Carbide. TOAD was taken before Square JOHN K. MORGAN Nesquehoning, PA., on a charge of having stolen goods in his possession and held under $300.00 for Court at the next term of Court - Mauch Chunk, PA.

GABRIEL TOAD was born in Austria, had been in this country for 13 years, not a naturalized citizen. Then the officers questioned him he claimed the dynamite was placed in his cellar by some of his boarders, unknown to him.

ALDINO FELICIANI

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent West, and in conformity with authority contained in search warrant issued by U.S. Commissioner Hayes, the following letter was secured at the Hanover St.; Postal Station, brought to this office, opened, resealed and returned to said Postoffice:

Aldino Felicani, 32-34 Battery St., Boston, Mass.

Dear Aldino:

I wish to see my lawyer. Not knowing his address I decided to write to you, and pray you to let him know my wishes. I will be very glad to see you together with him.

Last week I only received the paper three times. This week two times. I don't know what is the matter and I wish to know if you had sent it to me regularly or not.

With the hope that this will find you very well, and to see you very soon, I remain Yours fraternally, Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

Nov. 21, 1920: Tonight I do not receive the paper of last Saturday and Sunday. Happy beginning.

This matter is considered CLOSED.
On November 14th 1920, the same officers took TOAD to D. S. SITLER, U.S. Commissioner at Mauch Chunk, PA., gave him a hearing for having in his possession the dynamite and caps. The case was turned over to the U.S. Marshal at Scranton. Officer LONG questioned the subject, TOAD, and he claimed he knew nothing about the dynamite or how it came into his house. He said he had a boarder in March 1920 for eight days named FRANK HOWATH, who worked in Newtown, PA. for two days for some contractor and said he did not know the contractor's name. He could not give any account of his habits or his employment in the Lansford Mines.

Investigation was made as to the employment of HOWATH in the mines. T. J. JENKINS, Superintendent of Employment of the LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY, states he did not employ FRANK HOWATH during March of this year or at any time; SANTO FERRERI, a contractor at Newtown, PA. was interviewed and he said he had not employed a man by the name of FRANK HOWATH.

Since my arrival in the Philadelphia office from Lansford, PA., I have endeavored to get in communication with the U.S. Attorney's office at Scranton, for the purpose of finding out what Federal charge was filed against TOAD, but Asst. U.S. Attorney Sickler has not given me this information up to date. A further report will be made on receiving this information. I am informed by Chief of Police Long that the Federal Grand Jury at Harrisburg ignored the bill.
December 22, 1930

Admiral Charles B. Noyes,
In Charge of Ordnance, Navy Department,
Washington.

My dear Sir:

Mr. Fairfax Dandridge, who is at the present time engaged upon making a scientific investigation of certain aspects of the Wall Street Bond Explosion, is desirous of obtaining certain information in the files of your office, as well as the assistance of certain representatives of your office. It would be considered a great favor if you can extend to Mr. Dandridge any courtesies or kindness in this matter officially.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. E. Hoover,
Special Assistant to the Attorney General.
Pursuant to instructions of Special Agent in Charge Reddy in reference to information received while on my recent vacation on a trip out West, I met Mr. A. F. Johnson, of 50 Broad Street, New York City, Geo. W. Cole Company, Inc., Telephone 3949 Broad, and stated during a chat we were having at that time, that he saw something that attracted his attention on the day of the Wall Street Explosion that seemed as if it may lead to a clue. He stated that on or about 1 o'clock on September 16th, he observed at the corner of 81st Street and Riverside Drive, three men driving up in a brown automobile and about the same time, four men in a Green car pulled up alongside the curb. The four men got out and got in the car. The men looked like laborers and seemed a bit nervous. Mr. Johnson stated that he would call on me when he arrived in New York and give me the number of said car.

About a week ago Mr. Johnson called as agreed upon and stated the car was registered in New York State under V-404. I immediately got in touch with the Secretary of State's office and had a conference with Mr. John Redmond, who was in charge of said office. The car is owned by the Secretary of State and his records show that about that time of the day two cars were about this neighborhood. with men taking examinations to be chauffeurs. The driver of the car at that time has been dismissed from their service, but inasmuch-- as that is a neighborhood that they usually work in, I have every reason to believe now that there was nothing to said actions.

Case closed.

ALDINO FELICANAL

Pursuant to instructions of Special Agent and in conformity with authority obtained in search warrant issued, Agent secured from the Hanover Street postal station, Boston the following communications addressed to ALDINO FELICANI, 32 Battery St., Boston, had same opened at the office, copied, re-sealed and returned to the postal superintendent for delivery.

On December 11th the following letters were secured.

Under date of December 7th, VENANZIO MAYER, 278 East Central St., Farmington, Ill. forwarded a money order in the amount of $29.50, which represented collection made by Comrades Giovanni Giovanni and Frank Giorgi.

An envelope postmarked Newark, N.J. December 7th, 1920 containing the following printed card "WORKERS! Sunday, Dec. 12th, 1920, in the Di Capua Hall, 248 8th Ave., Newark, N.J. at 3 P.M. will be held a meeting of protest and solidarity in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti, two victims of racial and class odium. WORKERS come to the meeting in which CARLO TRESCA, the well known agitator will demonstrate with proofs and documents the innocence of the above said comrades who are implacably persecuted by the Puritans of the State Massachusetts. Free entrance.

The Committee"
Under date of December 8th NICOLA PIESCO, New Britain, Conn. wrote as follows:

"Dear Aldino:

I have here $11.50 for your initiative. The comrades in Italy want to collect half million of liras. I would like to send the amount of them, what do you say about it? I believe that in these critical moments it is necessary to give as much as we can to the comrades overseas even if the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti absorbs all our energies.

Salve.

Yours Piesco"

Under date of December 8th VIRGINIO DELLA VESA, 305 Grove St., Brockton, Mass. wrote as follows:

"Dearest Felicani:

Didn't you receive the news concerning the ball in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti which will be held at New Bedford, on Saturday evening 11th inst.? I did not write to you before because I was told by Vittorio Rizzo that he would have written to you himself. See if you can announce the dance as soon as possible. The dance has been organized by Mr. Riccardo Ravario and Vittorio Rizzo, and other militants in favor of our propaganda and the triumph of the cause Sacco-Vanzetti. The ball will be held in the Liberty Hall. The cost of the ticket is 50c. Naturally I will speak for half an hour during the intermission and I will explain the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti, with the object to collect other funds. Publish the dance in the newspaper if you want us to have success. I will write to you concerning anarchists of Brockton.

Best regards, I am always for the struggle.

Virginio Della Vesa
305 Grove St., Brockton, Mass."

Under date of December 8th GIUSEPPE SPAGNUOLO, 17 Messenger St., Providence, R.I. wrote as follows:

"Dearest Comrade:

Answer soon and inform me if I must be in communication with you or with Guadagni. Have you in mind to have me criticised in Bristol as I was in Providence? In Providence, after having advertised the meeting for three or four times, we had not the pleasure to see the orators. The last time Miss Flynn was there but she came after nine o'clock. I beg you to let me know which one of the two will be there.
Regards to all.  Giuseppe Spagnuolo

Enclosed with the same envelope was a note from PROF.

FELICI GUADAGNI as follows:

"Dear Friend:

I am engaged for next Sunday. You would have no time to prepare the meeting, at Bristol, anyhow. After the next Sunday I will be at your disposal. We will see about the Portuguese orator as soon as you fix the date.

Best regards,
Boston, Dec. 1, 1920  Felice Guadagni.
P.S. We will look after the pamphlets advertising the meeting."

R. PELLISCIARI, Box 67, Tovey, Ill. forwarded check in the amount of $35.85 on Farmers State Bank of Bulpitt, Ill., P.O. Kincaid, Ill., signed CHARLES CARDOSI CO., and advised that same represented collection taken by CIONI ENRICO at Tovey.

VINCENZO VIOLA, Box 41, Franklin, Kansas, wrote FELICANI, inquiring relative to money order in the amount of $50.55 sent him by ALBA GENISSIO.

On December 13th the following communications were received, CONSTANTINO ZANCHELLO, writing from 242 Kendall Ave., Detroit, Michigan c/o NUCCI, as follows:

"Dear Aldino:

Frankly I was angry at you. I supposed that it was because of your negligence that was cause of the obliquity of others. You will excuse my captiousness.

It is repugnant what Tresca and his committee is doing, and the duplicity of the lawyer is disgusting. I will write him a letter and I will call him to his duty of a defender, and I will also tell him to be neutral towards the committees.

Carluccio (for Carlo Tresca) is very independent. I believe that you have read his last issue, in which, besides other imbecilities, hooks a debate for Lo Giudice. You know all about it. But you must also know that Carluccio is attempting to monopolize all our contributions. I have the intention to write to him in this matter.

I am sorry that Guadagni let himself drive by reprisals, which he thinks to be against the childish attitude of the lawyer, but in reality are against our agitation. I am sure that Guadagni will be able to curb his anger for the interest of the cause, which he has till this day sustained with such faith and efficacy. He must not worry about the radical vampires; later on, he can be sure of that, we will put things in their right place and he will see how our comrades will appreciate men who give to the cause—as he does—all they can morally and financially, and how our comrades will repudiate the other radicals "a-la-Barsotti" who want the whole without risking anything.

We cannot put now things at their place. You know the salvation of our two dearest comrades must be considered. Nevertheless in the issue, which I believe will come out next week, I will recommend to the comrades what I had promised you. Tonight I will leave for Illinois. Write to me in the care of Bruno Fune, Box 115, Carlinville, Ill., where I expect to be on the 20th inst. Have you sent the pamphlets? Do your best to send very soon the relation of Guadagni and to obtain the biology of Vanzetti from the harpies at New York. Best regards to Guadagni, Bosco, Marinero and you.

Yours,
Constantino Zanchello"

Under date of December 10th ANDREA F. Box 146 R.F.D.1, Youngstown, Ohio wrote as follows:

"Dearest Aldino:

I have read with great joy the note of dear Bartolo (abbreviation of Bartolomeo) but I was very sorry to read in it the dreadful conditions of his life. Let us hope to save him. His innocence must triumph. I will do the best I can in sending you more money. I will be able to collect, but you mustn't forget that good comrades are scarce in this city.

I enclose herewith a check in the amount of $58.00. The check is signed by Moritti Bros. because they have a bank account. Albertini has passed thru this city. He has explained better the conspiracy of the police against Sacco and Vanzetti. I have received the other letter containing the photos, I thank you greatly.

Fraternal regards
Yours, ANDREA F."
Enclosed in the same envelope was the following communication signed Andrea, which apparently was to be delivered to Bartolomeo Vanzetti at Charlestown State Prison:

"Dearest Bartolo:

You can imagine with what pleasure I have received and read your letter. The fact that you are in good humor even in the dreadful prison has made me very glad. You must be brave. Only brave people have the courage that you have for the common cause. Yes, I know your history and I know of your innocence, and I feel very sorry that you must suffer being innocent. The only crime you have committed is to have loved the cause of those who were hit by the brute reaction, and by the whole humanity.

But those people do not care for truth and justice for innocent persons. They are blinded by the racial and class odium which they let run on their victims. But at last the truth will triumph, and that will be a day of joy for all the persons who know you. I have seen the "Rosignolo" who is feeling well, together with Eugenio, Tonina, Wando, Erante, Darvina. We have a new one in the family since four months.

I haven't seen the one you mention in your letter, but next Sunday we will pay a visit to him. Be brave. Best regards from everybody and from Andreon"

Under date of December 11th F. De Stefano, Box 332, Lilly, Pa. forwarded a U.S. postal money order, dated Lilly, Pa., office number 42633, serial number 69488, in the amount of $10.00, representing contributions of $7.00 from himself and $3.00 from F. Temporelli. In closing DE STEFANO said "Accept my reddest regards, in company with all the good comrades over there. Yours for the Social Revolution"

Under date of December 11th F. Nucci, 242 Kendall Ave., Detroit, Michigan forwarded postal money order in amount of $20.00, Detroit, Station 53, office number 08163, serial number 147424. In his letter he stated in part as follows:

"I believe that Zanchello has written to you in the matter of the $200.00 I sent you by telegram. In any case I repeat that we had not such amount.
Saturday, 4th inst., we organized a ball which had a very good success. We have thought better to return the money to the persons who had advanced it.

I have seen the two telegrams (Lopez's and yours) sent to Cernuto. Do your best to send the other matters which you have had no chance to mail before. You know that everything will help the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti.

Monday, 13th, we will have a meeting in which Miss Flynn will be the orator. You haven't sent the pamphlets as yet, why? Put down my new address:

F. NUCCI, 242 Kendall Ave., Detroit

Under date of December 13th V. DELLA VESA, 305 Grove St., Brockton, Mass. wrote as follows:

"Dear Felicani:
The object of this letter is to give you information in regard to the meeting held here by Arturo Giovannitti. The Italian colony of Brockton, in considering the cause for which the meeting was held, was widely represented in the Clark Hall in that occasion, and ready to vindicate our two comrades Sacco and Vanzetti. As we had foreseen the fighting voice of indomitable Giovannitti had its echo of triumph. Giovannitti spoke for more than an hour and was greatly applauded by the masses not only, but his voice and his convincing arguments of the seriousness of the case affected many present. It is of no use to speak about the orator for the simple reason that he is very well known by everybody. About 250 persons were present who generously and spontaneously contributed to the collection made after the lecture. The profit of the collection was $77.05, deducted from it the expense for the use of the hall you have here a net profit of $73.05.

The Committee
per V. Giovanniello

P.S. Please send us ten copies of the first issue of "Agitazione" (Agitation). I had no opportunity to go to New Bedford last Saturday, because I had to go somewhere else. I was just informed that the festival was a great "fiasco", due to lack of practical work. Be good. V. DELLA VESA.

Please publish the present communication, and publish something in regard to the disunion of the committee. Note also the persons going out and those remaining in. Do this as soon as possible for the reason that the air is infected here, and everybody is afraid of...you know what.
SECOND LETTER

"Dear Felicani:

This is to inform you that we have been very satisfied that you have sent over Giovannitti. The meeting has had a great success. I thought that you were coming with him to discuss concerning the disunion of the local committee. In this matter I notify you that the members of the contrary part, besides having stated that they did not want to work in company with comrade Della Vesa, cooperate to the unsucces of our work with a terrible criticism. Today I have spoken to Giovannitti and I have informed same that they refused to give us the pamphlets, and refused to work with us. We do not want work in cooperation with them because they have used the police and other coward means. We are three. Their number is more than three. We tender our resignations but at the same time we are waiting your word. Orciano can tell you everything in this matter because when I came to Boston I spoke to him. If you come to Brockton I will tell you the rest. Don't forget to answer. Best regards from Della Vesa, Rolli and from Vincenzo Giovannello

P.S. Sacco and Vanzetti's cause will be always of interest for us, and in spite of the disunion of the committee, we hope that the bars and the chains of the capitalistic system will free our two comrades very soon.

THIRD LETTER

"Dear Felicani:

As you see, comrade Giovannello informs you of everything, and if you want come down some evening let us know it, and we will have a long talk on the subject. I suppose Orciano has told you the reason of the disunion of the committee. I have given to the ideal my force and my activity, but now, as I see that some members of the committee have not the required dignity to belong to it, I, as its organizer and not as its chief, declare the local committee dissolved. The defender of the truth are three: Virginio Della Vesa, V. Giovannello and Peppino Rolli. I am waiting for a reply, authorizing us to continue or discontinue our work, or to let the other continue it. I do this because I fear that other facts would happen in the future of much more importance. A letter from Mrs. Maria Ravaro ex-wife of D'Allessandro will inform you of the rest. Fraternal regards.

Yours for the struggle,

Virginio D.
Under date of December 13th one J. KAPELOFF, 468 Riverside Drive, New York City forwarded check in the amount of $10.00 on the bank of the U. S., 77-79 De Lancey St., New York dated Dec. 13th.

Under date of December 13th V. BRINI of Plymouth, Mass. wrote Felicani the following letter and also enclosed a letter from BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI, Charlestown State Prison addressed to COMRADE ORESTE at Haverhill or Beverly, Mass., which letter had been smuggled out of the prison by ATTORNEY FREDERICK H. MOORE, Counsel for Vanzetti.

"Dearest Aldino:

I have received Vanzetti's letter together with yours with which you notify me your desire to have a personal talk with me. But if you don't make up your mind to come over here, I suppose that our conversation will never take place. I am anxiously waiting for you. So is my wife. She would be very pleased if you could come before the so-called Christmas, especially because she is not working now and she would have enough time to talk and etc.

In regard to the meeting which was to be held here by Arturo Giovannitti, I must say that nobody seems to care any more. But it is necessary to prepare one now. It does not matter if the speaker will be TRESCA, UBALDO GUIDI or CUNEO. Anyone of them will do. But it is necessary that the meeting be held as soon as possible for the reason of the facts that we will organize another afterward and collect as much money as we will be able to.

Hoping that you will satisfy me, don't forget that I am waiting for your arrival. I am yours for the great cause.

V. BRINI

P.S. I enclose herewith one of the letters of Vanzetti you have sent me. It is for one ORESTE who is residing either at Beverly or at Haverhill.

Enclosure

"Dearest Oreste:

It is sad for a person who has the fortune to have so many good friends, and at the same time the misfortune of being jerked away from them, not to have the possibility to communicate with them thru the mail. And when it is known how much those friends do for our liberty and our life the obligatory silence becomes a moral torture. The most terrible torture of all those inclosed in a prison.

I have thought to send you this letter thru the lawyer. I do not know if you reside at Beverly or Haverhill, in any case I know that very often you come in contact with the comrades of those vicinities. I beg to show this letter to all the good ones with whom you come in contact. The privation generates the desire, and the inaction the necessity, the desire of action. It is a comfort to me to think that so many good ones will fill up the lagoon caused by my absence. Well? What are you doing? What do you say? What are you thinking of? How is the world treating you?

Physically I am sufficiently well, morally I am very well. If you answer directly do not mention this letter, and remember that all the letters are read. But you can address your letter to Aldino, and the lawyer will hand it to me.

Best regards to all,
Yours for life,
Bartolomeo Vanzetti

P.S. See if you can find a copy of the manifesto made in occasion of the opening of the circolo of Haverhill, if I am not wrong. You can ask Moro and comrades for it. If you succeed in finding a copy send it to Aldino. I have received your last postcard. I renew my regards.

Under date of December 15th the following letters were secured.

F. CERRUTO or CERNUTO, 283 Pallister Ave., Detroit, Mich.
wrote as follows:

"Dearest:

I enclose herewith a money order for $94.00. $43.00 were collected in occasion of the public meeting held by Miss Flynn, and $51.00 were collected among comrades and friends in other occasion. We will do our best to collect more money in the near future. I received the telegrams and I also received the biographies of Sacco and Vanzetti. You will excuse for the unkind letter I sent to Felicani. The present need and the duty we undertook with the Rebel, was the cause of my writing that letter.

Best regards to everybody and all the good ones, particularly to Biaichini.

Yours good comrade,
F. Cernuto"

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent most of my time today in and around the vicinity of Elizabeth St. I went into the so-called Restaurant at 230 Elizabeth St. and found it deserted. The proprietor Brienza was there alone and he said that business was bad. I left him and went to the Cafe at 261 Elizabeth St. and here found no one in. The boxx Lopinto was there alone and I asked him where the crowd was and he said that they are keeping away because they are afraid that the place will be raided on account of the drive that the Police are making. Most of them have coke on them and they are afraid they will get arrested. I spent some time here and a few men came in and played a few games of cards, but nothing important took place. In the evening I went to the I. W. W. headquarters and tried to get in touch with Colavechia, but he did not put in an appearance. The I. W. W. Hall from what I can understand is being given up the first of January and there is a committee out looking for a hall now. At 11:00 P.M. I discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent some time in the vicinity of the Blacksmith Shop at 205 Elizabeth St. and noticed one of the Di Grazia Brothers standing in the doorway of the shop, apparently doing nothing, but in the course of my stay there I did not see anyone go into the shop nor did he try to get in touch with anyone. In the evening I met Colavechia at his home, 208 E. 21st St. and I found him reading a book by Darwin, the philosopher. We discussed things in general and he told me that Roverino was accused of being a spy on account of the fact that he did not work and he always spent a lot of money, which lead them to believe him a spy. We then discussed the Italian Revolution and he said that the Revolutionists were too easy and that is why they lost out; that they should have used bombs, first on the House and then on the King, and that by this time, if they used these tactics, they would have been in control. We then left the house and spent the rest of the night in the Automat on East 14th St. At midnight I left him talking to some others there.
Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent some time in and around the vicinity of the Blacksmith Shop at 205 Elizabeth St., but in the whole of my stay there I failed to see anything out of the ordinary going on. No one who looked suspicious entered the shop or left it. In the evening I went to Colavechia's home at 208 E. 21st St. and there found him in, together with D'Nunzio. They were reading radical books. Colavechia started a conversation in which he stated that the reason why he did not believe in any form of organization was because you meet all kinds of spies. He said, "I am an Individualist and will remain so until I die". Then he went on to explain the article in Carlo Tresca's "Il Martello" in which he accuses Frederick Blossom, a writer of the I. W. W. of being a spy and working for the Department of Justice. He said, that Blossom has worked just like Rainino. "He is selling out the I. W. W. the same as Raverini, who was supposed to be one of us, sold us out and had Sperno and a number of others of our circle deported, and therefore one cannot trust his own brother; and, the best thing a man can do today is to keep his mouth shut. It is possible that even Tresca, who is accusing the others, may be a spy himself. So; no one should be trusted and if a man wants to do anything that would be a violation of the law, he should do it himself and let no one in on it." D'Hunzio, who is a member of the I. W. W. disagreed with him and tried to convince... him that you could not get anywhere without organization, but this fellow was too stubborn; he could not convince him. Later in the evening we went to the Automat in East 14th St. and spent the rest of the night there. At midnight I left there and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

P-137
Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I went to the Italian Federation of Bakers at 123 West 15th St. and met Baldazzi there, who told me that he was going to answer Tresca's article in "Il Martello" wherein he called Baldazzi a crazy-man. Baldazzi said that he was going to say something about him in "Il Proletariat" and was going to practically show him up. He also informed me that he had arranged to hold a mass meeting for the defence of the political prisoners, at the Rand School on January 23rd, 1921, Sunday afternoon. I spent the evening at the I. W. W. Headquarters at 33 Second Avenue in an endeavor to see the man who sells the "Communist", but in the whole course of my stay there I did not see him. From Beyers the Secretary of the Defence, I learned that he has all his printing done by the Graphic Press on East 13th St. I did not see I did not see Colavechia here to-night. I therefore left and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

REPORT MADE AT: New York City DATED: 12/27/20 PERIOD FOR WHICH MADE: 12/24/20 REPORT NO.: P-125
At New York, N. J., Kingsland, N. J., and Rutherford, N. J.,

Pursuant to instructions of Director W. J. T. H 2, I this day called on Chief of Police Thomas Landells of Kingsland, N. J. and requested him to look up the licenses of all junk-dealers and peddlers in his jurisdiction and ascertain if any of them had lost a horse since September 15th. He said he would see the Town Clerk as soon as possible, secure the names requested, make the investigation and report the results to me.

He accompanied me to the plant of the Nitro Chemical Corporation, which was until recently the plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company. At this plant I saw a number of shells about fifteen by three inches, loaded with trinitoluid, all piled together, and I was informed that a number of other shells are strewn about the plant, all being the result of a comparatively recent explosion. This plant is not in operation at present and is guarded by two watchmen. The shells weight about eighteen pounds each and could easily be taken away by any person who feels inclined to remove them. This plant covers a large tract of land and the property is surrounded by a fence which is in such a bad condition that a man could get thru it in several places. This would make the theft of these shells an easy matter.
RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION (PAGE TWO) 84636

FACTS DEVELOPED:

The following men were employed at this plant during the months of June and July, 1920: A. J. SELLERS; J. SINIELLA; L. LENTINO; M. MADICI; A. RUSSELL; D. J. MORONE; J. SCURELLA; P. J. NAZARI.

I next went to Rutherford, N. J. and there interviewed Chief of Police George Burnham, who states there are no peddlers residing in the town, but offered to assist the department in any possible in this investigation.

I then interviewed Chief of Police George McClelland at East Rutherford, N. J., who stated there are no peddlers in the town, but that a man of the name of John Marion resides in East Rutherford who had been employed in the vicinity of Wall Street some time previous to the date of the explosion; that he (Marion) had frequently seen a powder wagon in the vicinity and stated to several persons that "This damn thing will blow up some day." I went to this man's home, accompanied by the Chief of Police but found no one at home. However, Chief McClelland stated he would get the address of Marion's present employer and inform me promptly. I have since ascertained that John Marion is at present employed as interior decorator at the house of R. P. Grace, Great Neck, L. I.; also that he is employed by the firm of Batterson and Eisele, Edgewater, N. J.

REFERENCE: COPIES OF THIS REPORT FURNISHED TO:
I later went to Hoboken, N. J. and there interviewed Chief of Police Patrick Hayes, who stated that he would have all peddlers and junk licenses looked up immediately with a view to ascertaining if any of the horses belonging to peddlers and junk dealers are missing, and will report results as soon as possible.

I returned to New York about 5:30 p.m. and discontinued for the day.

Dear Sir:

Thank you very much for your letter of December 14. We are taking the matter up with Mr. Flynn, as you suggest.

Very truly yours,

IN RE: WALL STREET EXPLOSION
(BENNY CARRO, alias BENNY CARROLL).

FACTS DEVELOPED:
The following memorandum was received from Special Agent Richard Maher, of the New York Office:

While in Buffalo, New York, he was informed by SHANNON, that on the morning after the Wall Street Explosion, an Italian named BENNY CARRO, alias BENNY CARROLL, arrived in Buffalo from New York, and that SHANNON overheard CARRO tell two other Italians that he had left New York one hour and a half after the explosion occurred, and that the Government men at 15 Park Row were up in the air, but if they knew what he did about the explosion, the matter would be cleared up quickly. At this point CARRO was warned by the two Italians that Shannon spoke Italian fluently and he said no more. Carro is believed to have a criminal record with the New York and Buffalo Police, and has the reputation of being a gunman and safe blower, and has done work both for and against unions in different parts of the country. Shannon is an ex-taxicab driver, who has done some good work for the Prohibition Enforcement Agent in Buffalo, in reporting boot-legging autos.

Pursuant to instructions received from Special Agent Scully, I proceeded to Identification Bureau, Police Headquarters, New York, and was informed that there is no record on subject. I then inquired at the WASHINGTON DETECTIVE BUREAU, 366-5th Avenue, New York which concern handles a great many of the strikes, and Mr. REICHERT, the Manager, examined the files and telephoned other strike breaking agencies, but subject was not known to them. The information was given to Agent Barbera, who is endeavoring to learn something concerning subject through confidential sources.

BUFFALO OFFICE.

Agent Maher states that Shannon is well known in Buffalo by the police, and by District Attorney LOCKWOOD, and also the Prohibition Agent, and it is respectfully suggested that Shannon be further interviewed concerning the statement about CARRO or CARROLL.

Copy of this report being forwarded to the Buffalo Office of Bureau for further investigation.

WALL STREET EXPLOSION.
BEN CALLO, alias CARRO, alias CARROLL, alias KELLOW.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

At Buffalo, N.Y.

With reference to a letter from Special Agent in Charge Reddy, dated December 27, 1920, initialed "C-S-ENJ", in connection with the conversation between subject and others, heard by one Shannon, of this city.

Agent interviewed John T. Shannon, who is now [illegible] temporary employee with the Prohibition Enforcement Office in this city, and a copy of his statement, which is self-explanatory, is being attached to this report.

A partial investigation has been made, regarding subject, by Agent, with the following result:

Correct name: BEN CALLO, also known by the following names: KELLOW, CARROLL, and CARRO. He is an Italian between twenty-five and thirty years of age; single; about 5'8" in height; weight about 138 pounds; has been in Buffalo off and on for the past eight or ten years; has been a taxi driver and associated with all of the sporting fraternity, both male and female.

Was arrested in Buffalo, August 17, 1915 for carrying a gun. Was discharged.

Arrested in Buffalo, August 7, 1919, for robbery, first degree; turned over to the North Tugnawanda police and afterward released.

Arrested in Buffalo January 6, 1920 for being drunk and disorderly; was fined $5.00.
Arrested in Buffalo July 27, 1920 for speeding; fined $15.00.

Arrested August 20, 1920, for assault, third degree; discharged.

Arrested December 3, 1920, assault, third degree; discharged.

Arrested December 9, 1920, assault, second degree; discharged.

Agent has been unable as yet to ascertain whether or not subject is still in the city.

Shannon formerly worked for the Van Dyke and other Taxicab Companies and in connection with this work frequented the different railroad stations and his work brought him in contact with all-classes of people.

FURTHER INVESTIGATION WILL BE MADE.
STATEMENT MADE BY JOHNT. SHANNON TO SPECIAL AGENT WM. L. BUCHANAN, OF

Q. Mr. Shannon, you had a talk with Mr. Maher, one of our Agents, when he was in Buffalo, a short time ago, about an Italian by the name of Carro, who had a conversation with two other Italians the day after the explosion in Wall Street, when did you tell Mr. Maher about that.

A. It was near the end of the Silverthorne trial,
Mr. Maher and I were having lunch together, at McLeod's Hotel.

Q. Will you please state briefly to me just what that conversation was, that you overheard between these Italians.

A. At the time I overheard this conversation, I was acting as an Agent for the Van Dyke Taxi Company and was stationed at the New York Central, Exchange Street Depot. I think it is train #41, that gets in around 12:45 PM at night from New York City, that the Italians came on. There was Benny Carroll (Carro), known as a gun man, who was brought to Buffalo during the Taxi Drivers strike last spring, and two other Italians. They came from this train and were met in the Station just in front of the Van Dyke office, by two other Italians, who had apparently been waiting for them.
They stopped in front of the office and I heard Carroll say that 15 Park Row would be all upset, but it was a good job. They then changed the conversation and started talking about some horse.
The first part of their conversation was carried on in English, until Carroll spied me and then they started to talk in Italian, but one of the fellows who had been waiting for Carroll, by the name of Ma Marco, spoke up and said, "be careful, Shannon understands Italian, too." So they went outside the door and stood there and continued their conversation in Italian, I could hear a little of it and it was about some building in New York City, and they talked about bombs and about a fellow by the name of Maggio that they left in New York City. That was all I heard, because I had to leave and take care of a passenger. Later,
Carroll secured an automobile from the station,
I mean by that that it was not one of the Van Dyke cars, I think it was a Dodge car, that is at the station for hire, and they all got in and went away.
About two weeks after Agent Maher left Buffalo, and after I had started working in the office of the Prohibition Enforcement Agent, I was going down the street one night on my way to McLeod's Hotel, to meet Agents Horie and Fuery and I saw Carroll and one of the Italians who came with him from New York talking with one of the Van Dyke taxi drivers. I wondered what they were talking about so I stood back in an alley that is just back of the hotel and listened and I heard Carroll telling the driver about how they kept a man a prisoner in an office and two silent men were waiting for his appearance outside the door; that they must have fed him in there because he never came out and finally that he committed suicide by jumping out of the window, and he said, that if they could have made that man talk they would have the whole gang.

Q. Is that all of the conversation you heard?
A. Yes, just then someone who knew me came along and saw me in the Alley and spoke to me, so I had to walk along.

Q. Did I understand you to say that when you heard this first conversation at the New York Central, it was on the night following the Wall Street Explosion?
A. The Explosion was on the 16th and they came in on the 12:45 train from New York City, that same night.

Q. At the time you heard this first conversation, what was your business?
A. I was an Agent for the Van Dyke Taxi Company.

Q. When you heard the first conversation, why did you not report it?
A. I wasn't interested particularly, at that time, and besides it was a bad thing for me to talk of those things, on account of the business I was in.

Q. How long have you known this man Carroll?
A. Since he was brought here as a gangster to break the taxi drivers strike, about May 1st, 1920. I was introduced to him by a man by the name of Hank Riester.
Q. Previous to that time, you had never known him to be in Buffalo?

A. No.

Q. Since that time he has been in this city, a good deal?

A. Yes, he has been in and out of Buffalo.

Q. Do you know him by any other names than those you have given us?

A. No.

Q. Do you know the names of any of his associates?

A. Yes, one, his name is James Parlato, alias Jakie Rogers.

Q. Where is Parlato now?

A. He is serving a term of from 7½ years to 15 years in Auburn Prison for murdering a man at 112 East Genesee Street, this city.

Q. When was he sent there?

A. About a month ago.

Q. Do you know any other of Carroll's associates?

A. There is an Italian called "Dike" who runs some place in New York City, who is a friend of his and there is a fellow called Red Wilson, a gangster from New York City, who is now on parole for some crime committed in this city, who is also a friend of his.

Q. Is Carroll in the city now?

A. The last time I saw him was about a week ago.

Q. Have you any idea where he lives or hangs out when he is here?

A. I have heard that he runs a place somewhere on Elm Street.

Q. Have you any idea where it is?

A. No, but I think I can find out. He was arrested a short time ago for assaulting a policeman from #3 Station, by the name of William Fern, but he got out, I don't know how.

Q. Can you describe him?

A. He is about 30 years of age; about 5'7" in height; chunky build; looks like a gorilla; always has plenty of money.

Q. Do you know how or by whom he is employed at the present time?

A. I can tell you this, every Wednesday night he draws $50.00 from the Van Dyke Taxi Company. I don't know what he does for them or what kind of a contract he has got. A man who can tell you more about this man than I can, is Edward W. Branton, Manager of the Van Dyke Company. He can tell you about Carroll's activities in Buffalo.

Q. This place he runs on Elm Street, what kind of a place is it, are there any women there?

A. Yes, I have heard there are.

Q. Do you know any of his associates among the women? Are they among the "sporting" element?

A. Yes they are. I know some of them by sight but not by name.

By Shannon: Carroll has everybody around that station "bullied" He is understood to be a gun man.
BOMB EXPLOSION, WALL ST, NYC, SEPT 16, 1920.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

GIOVANNI COSTA, alias LOUIS COSTELLO, alias VALERIO VANZI, alias JULIUS TERRY, alias JULIUS FERRY.

This report is predicated upon a long-distance telephone call received this date from Special Agent C. J. Scully, of the New York City office, advising of a press report to the effect that one ERIC LUNDBLAD now confined at Wampum Penitentiary, Wisconsin, had stated that while serving a sentence at Massachusetts State Prison, Charlestown, Mass., he became acquainted with the above named Costa, or Costello, an Italian inmate serving a sentence for burglary, and that Costa, or Costello, who professed to be an expert on explosives, threatened to "get even" with Wall street when released and also that he would prepare a bomb and place it in a suitcase near the bootblack stand near the police station in Charlestown. Agent Scully directed that all leads looking toward the location of said Costa should be followed out in this district.

At the Department of Corrections, Bureau of Criminal Identification, State House, Boston, through the courtesy of Mr. R. C. Hill, Agent secured the following data concerning GIOVANNI COSTA:

Giovanni Costa (true name), Massachusetts State Prison No. 15574, was arrested March 5, 1916, together with Rosario Conti (S.P. No. 15573), claiming to live at 81 Prince street, Boston, and John Di Natali (S.P. No. 15575) who claimed residence in New Haven, for attempting to break and enter and for having burglar tools in their possession. At that time Costa, under the name of Costello, lived with his wife and six... year old child at 59 Myrtle street, Boston, Mass. On March 23, 1916, in the Suffolk County Superior Court, Criminal session, at Boston, they pleaded guilty and were sentenced to State Prison, COSTA and Conti receiving three to five years and Di Natali four to seven years.

The narrative of the crime, as given by Sergt. J. T. Corcoran of Precinct 1, Boston, is as follows:

Between twelve and one a.m. March 5, 1916, three men attempted to enter St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Endicott street, North End, Boston. A boy standing on the sidewalk heard them talking about a break and followed them. He saw them turn into Lynn street and go over the fence. He told his story at Station 1, and officers were sent there when Officer Dallinger got over the fence. Di Natali threatened to shoot him. They took the men to the station and did not think much of the arrest. They went back to the yard and found in a snowbank one press drill, three loaded revolvers, one stick of dynamite, three percussion caps, five fuses, one flashlight, two jimmys, one screw driver, and four drill bits. They found they attempted to force the door. They were unable to determine whether they intended to blow the safe or blow up the church. Costa worked in Boston and gave his residence as Nantasket Beach where it was learned he kept a store.

COSTA was born in Italy October 24, 1887 (33 years at present writing), his father being Abdon Costa, a clerk, now dead in Italy, but no information is at hand concerning mother or any relatives in the United States. He received a common school education and claimed automobile school training. After attending school eight years in Italy, at the age of seventeen he went to sea, which he followed three years. He then came to the United States, locating in New York, where he remained two years. He returned to Italy for a year and then came back to the United States. He lived in Philadelphia five years and then located in Massachusetts, where he had lived about a year when arrested.

At time of arrest, he lived at 59 Myrtle street, Boston, with child Lydia and his wife, JENNIE POGGI, to whom he was married in 1910, in Philadelphia, by a Justice of the Peace, when she was sixteen years of age. According to reports his wife bears a good reputation.

As to previous criminal records, the following are convictions against him:

NEW YORK:

Under the name of EDWARD FERRY, arrested August 30, 1904, New York City, for petty larceny and discharged. As JULIUS TERRY, arrested January 10, 1911, at New York City, for petty larceny from poor boxes and given six months in penitentiary. Under name of Costa, on June 16, 1906, at New York City, given six months in penitentiary for petty larceny. March 3, 1919, sentenced to Albany County Penitentiary, from Albany county, (N.Y. No.E-14463) as poor box thief. See Also New York County Penitentiary record as No.K10222, and Onondaga County Penitentiary as L-12513.

PENNSYLVANIA:

Under name of JULIUS FERRY, or FERRIE, at Philadelphia, on June 24, 1908, arrested for larceny from poor boxes and on July 14, 1908, for same offence, and was sentenced to two years in Philadelphia County Prison, terms to run concurrently. The following two charges appear to be scratched out, for some unknown reason, but are noted for their interest: On November 12, 1912, arrested in Philadelphia as a suspicious person, supposed to have thrown a bomb in a butcher's.
shop, and on November 26, 1914, at Philadelphia arrested on charge of entering with intent to steal and discharged.

OHIO.
At Cincinnati, under the name of LOUIS COSTELLO, arrested December 15, 1914, for practicing a trick game and fined $50 and costs.

MICHIGAN.
At Detroit, under name of JULIUS TERRY, arrested October 9, 1912, for robbing poor boxes, fined $50 and sentenced to thirty days

On December 31, 1918, COSTA was paroled from the Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown, Mass., securing his release through Mr. James Donnaruma, editor of "Gazzetta del Massachusetts" (Massachusetts Gazette), 141 Richmond street, Boston, and was evidently employed by him for some time, but on March 3, 1919, was sentenced to three months at Albany, as hereinbefore mentioned, and on June 3, 1919, his Massachusetts parole being revoked, was brought back to Charlestown where he was confined until May 8th, 1920, when he was paroled and went eventually to Beaverton, Oregon, where he was conducting a confectionery store in partnership with wife. He kept in touch with the Massachusetts authorities by writing them weekly. His last letter, however, so far as could be ascertained from the files, is dated Beaverton, Oregon, August 7th, 1920. This matter was carefully checked by Mr. R. C. Hill, in charge of Bureau, and he states that is the last letter received from Costa.

Further incidentals indicate that Costa also ran a confectionery store at one time in Cincinnati and has worked at times as a waiter in restaurants. Giovanni Costa is understood to be the true name; Valerio Vanzì he used one year at the Eastern Penitentiary in Pennsylvania.
to conceal his identity, as well as the other aliases being used for same purpose; while the claims he adopts for business purposes at times name of Louis Costello.

Mr. James Donnaruma, who secured his parole, stated at that time that he met him only a few months before arrested and was of the opinion he was a traveling salesman; was much surprised to learn of arrest, as he had good opinion of the man, who was always active and smart.

Special Agent Lewis was sent to interview Mr. Donnaruma at 141 Richmond street, Boston, and finally ascertained that Mr. Donnaruma is in New York City and can be located at 1482 Broadway, care of Mr. Arthur Spizzi. Agent Lewis will report on his inquiries at Barry's Barber Shop, 132 Staniford street, Boston, where Costa was said to have worked at time of arrest in Boston, and on Rosario Conti who arrested at the same time with Costa.

Special Agent Di Lillo reports that inquiry at 59 Myrtle street, Boston, brings the information that Costello, as he was known there, left some months ago with his wife for the far West. He will attempt to secure further information. He was unable to locate any Costa at 431 Hanover street, Boston, given as address of subscriber to "Cronaca Sovversiva".

Special Agent Tevlin, who visited State Prison to secure any additional information not covered in above states that officials there inform him that Lundblad was a "smart" prisoner and not "easily fooled".

Agent secured from the Identification Bureau the usual double photo and is having three photographic copies made. These could not be furnished tonight but will be sent over to New York tomorrow afternoon.
For a personal description of Costa, the following is given:
Aged now 33 years; 5' 52" in height; weight, 156; complexion, sallow; eyes, dark slate blue; hair, black.

The last letter from Costa to the State authorities, that dated August 7, 1920, reads as follows: "Sir, I am still residing in Beaverton, conducting my place of business as I have already stated. Yours truly, (signed) Giovanni Costa." His address was Box 356, Beaverton, Oregon.

Therefore, in view of the fact that the papers are carrying this reference to the alleged participation of Costa in the bomb explosion, which would serve to warn Costa were he the right person, Agent is taking the liberty of wiring the Portland, Oregon, office - which is but a short distance from Beaverton - as follows, encoded:

Bryon,
Old Postoffice bldg,
Portland, Oregon.

immediately

Please make most discreet inquiry/whether Giovanni Costa, alias John Costa, alias Louis Costello, alias Julius Ferry still residing Beaverton, Oregon, stop. Costa said to be conducting confectionery store there with wife Jennie Poggi and receives mail Box three five six Beaverton, stop. Wire answer to Lamb, New York City office.

Pursuant to instructions of Special Agent West, and in conformity with authority contained in search warrant, Agent secured at the Hanover Street Postal Station, Boston, on December 16th, 17th, 18th and 20th, the following letters addressed to "ALDINO FELICANI, 32-34 Battery Street, Boston, Mass." which letters were opened, copied, resealed and returned to Postal Station for delivery:

Under date of December 14th, ENRICO FLORIANI, of R.F.D #2, Sorlini Box, Taylorville, Ill., forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order No. 13072, Serial #231422, in the amount of $21.00 for the Sacco-Vanzetti Defence Fund.

J. BARRA, of Belld, Ill., writes as follows:

"Dear Felicani:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter. All I will be able to do will be done after the meetings of Comrade Zanchello. For my part I cannot do more for the reasons I explained you in my letter. Zanchello wrote that you would have sent the pamphlets. Zanchello will speak at Belld on Christmas. Send the leaflets as soon as possible otherwise I will publish them myself."

ALBA GENISSIO, the Italian Anarchist girl of Arma, Kan writes Felicani under the name of "TONY ITALY, Box 68 or 69, Arma, Kan" as follows:
Dearest Felicani:

Before all I must beg your pardon if I answer your very pleasing letter with a little delay. I have been occupied and preoccupied for the sickness of one of my small children, three years old, who is at present better, but not completely re-established. I am very sorry that your previous letter has been lost, in case it returns to you you will forward it, won't you?

I have always remembered you and I have never known how to explain the cause of our reciprocal silence. Thousands of thoughts were occupying my mind, and very often I asked to myself if I had involuntarily offended you. What am I doing? I am bringing up the best I can the nestfull. Galeotti has been deported since ten months, at present he is at Santa Sofia. Did you know that?

Be sure that I will do my best to help our prisoners. We are terribly suffering apathy and pincers are needed to pull us up.

Have me yours for the cause.

The Sub-Committee of the PORFIRI-PORFIRIO, 722 So. Morgan Street, Chicago, Ill., under date of December 15th, advised Felicani that a sub-committee in defence of Sacco and Vanzetti had been formed at Chicago for the purpose of spreading propaganda in favor of the two anarchists.

JOSEPH WILLIAM BURCHARD, of Lindenhurst, N. Y., under date of December 16th, forwarded Check #590 on the First National Bank, Lindenhurst, N. Y., in the amount of $200, payable to Felicani.

Under date of December 16th, E. ZUCCHI, 73 Factory St., Ansonia, Ct., forwarded U. S. P. O. Money order, Office No. 32016, Serial #234662, in the amount of $14.90, which he informed Felicani, was "the result of a collection on behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti."

Under date of December 15th, G. MONTANARI, 2047 Murray Hill Road, Cleveland, O., wrote Felicani as follows:
Dear Felicani:

Yes, with delay, but I always answer to the appeal of the good ones. Albertini passed thru here and I accompanied him over Dr. Baricalli, President of the "Figli d'Italia" (Sons of Italy) to whom we explained the situation of Sacco and Vanzetti. He promised that he would have interested himself of the matter and promised also to take it up before the several branches of that organization in this town.

I am now sending $40 which I collected among the workers. I am still collecting money. I did not write before because I received a letter from my home town informing me of my mother's death on the 16th of last month. Now I am preparing a meeting which will take place early next month, Zanchello will be here. Best regards to you and all the good ones.

MONTANARI also enclosed check on the State Bank & Trust Company, Mayfield, O., #13301, in the amount of $40, payable to Felicani.

Under date of December 16th, ALFONSO GIANMATTEO and F. NATALINI of Dentonville, Penn., forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order, Office #41756, Serial #83656, in the amount of $21.10, and wrote as follows:

Dear Felicani:

Accept our small contribution. We trust and are disposed to do better in the future.

This amount has been collected in favor of all the political victims, held as hostages by the cowardly society of the bourgeois desiring eternal contempt.

The contribution is to be used in defense of those good... Explain me better how happened.

Under date of December 15th, SEVERINO MAJER, FIOR-ENTINO FERRARE, G. LUEFI and RICCARDO RINALDO, Box 767, Virden, III., forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order, Office #15166, Serial #158902, in the amount of $34, which they state, "represent our collection on behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti."

Under date of December 18th, BNEA ZUCCHI, 73 Factory Street, Ansonia, Conn., forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order Office No. 32016, Serial No. 234828, in the amount of $5.10, which he stated, "had been collected by VENERINO DIAMOND."

The Gruppo Masetti (Masetti Group), Box 28, Taylor Springs, Ill.; forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order Office #13078, Serial #31285, in the amount of $25, payable to Felicani, and wrote as follows:

Dearest ones of the Defence:

I enclose herewith $25, contribution made by the Local of Taylor Springs, Ill.

Even knowing that such amount is not sufficient for the salvation of our dear comrades, I believe that it is useful for other causes.

All the comrades, members of this group, wish to know how things are going. Please notify us.

Agent considers this matter CLOSED.
Continuing on the above matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

Acting upon instructions, I spent most of the day in the neighborhood of 176 East 114th St., home of subject, for the purpose of trying to get a spot on him, and keep him under surveillance. I watched attentively from different positions, but in the course of my watch I failed to see anything of subject. At 6:00 P.M. I discontinued.

Respectfully,

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

As per instructions, I proceeded to the vicinity of 176 East 114th St. and then took up watch at intervals for the purpose of picking up subject and keeping him under surveillance. I kept up my watch until 6:00 P.M. and seeing nothing of subject (as I saw no one leave that answered subject's description), I decided to discontinue for the day.

GIOVANNI COSTA, alias LOUIS CASTELLO, alias VALERIO VANZI, alias JULIUS TERRY or FERRY.

At Boston, Mass.

Referring to Bureau telegram dated Dec. 31st, 1920 and report made by Special Agent William J. West of this office on same date, in the matter of GIOVANNI COSTA, alias LOUIS CASTELLO, alias VALERIO VANZI, alias JULIUS TERRY or FERRY, suspected to be implicated in the Wall Street New York City Bomb Explosion.

Agent was furnished with several addresses and instructed by Special Agent West to conduct a very discreet investigation in order to ascertain whereabouts of Costa, alias Castello, alias Vanzi, alias Terry or Ferry.

The following are the addresses given:

A. COSTA, 451 Hanover St., Boston, Mass.
Rosario CONTI, 61 Pringo St., Boston, Mass.
Giovanni COSTA, 59 Myrtle St., Boston, Mass.

At 451 Hanover St., Boston, Mass., Agent was informed by the tenants of the house that A. Costa never resided at that place, and that, very probably, he had only his mail addressed there in care of a little candy-store occupying the ground-floor of that tenement. The mail carrier covering that section of the city does not remember to have delivered any mail there addressed to A. Costa. However, he informed Agent that one Costa is receiving mail 479 Hanover St.
Complete facts concerning Costa living at 479 Hanover Street, are not in agent's possession at this moment.

At 218 Charles Street, E. Cambridge, Mass., Agent found that James A. Costa, residing at that place, is not an Italian subject. He is a young Portuguese about 25 years of age, and does not answer to the description of Costa, alias Castello, alias Venzi, alias Terri or Perry, of which description Agent has been furnished.

At 59 Myrtle Street, Boston, Mass, Agent met Mrs. Paisa an American born subject, to whom he introduced himself as an employee of the Immigration Bureau. Agent told Mrs. Paisa that Costa's brother is at present detained at Ellis Island, and will not be allowed to enter the United States until the Immigration Authorities are sure that he has a relative living in this country. Mrs. Paisa stated that Louis Costa alias Louis Castello resided at 59 Myrtle Street, together with his wife JENNIE FOGGI and a six years old child; that he had served a term in the State Prison at Albany, N.Y., and that he was released on parole. She stated also that during his stay at Boston he was re-arrested and served another term in the State Prison at Charleston, Mass. Being released from Charleston prison he received $300 from his mother-in-law, Mrs. Foggi, who is conducting a small restaurant in the vicinity of HEAVERTON, Oregon, together with a request that Costa, wife and child leave Boston at once. This -- according Mrs. Paisa -- occurred during the month of May, 1920.
In leaving Boston, Costa left to Mrs. Paisa the following address: LOUIS COSTA, P.O. BOX 356, BEAVERTON, OREGON. He also told her that he expected to receive 2000 liras from Italy, addressed to 59 Myrtle St., Boston, Mass., and that, in case the letter containing the money would be delivered at that address, she could forward it to him at Beaverton, Oregon. Mrs. Paisa informed that the a registered letter addressed to Costa at 59 Myrtle St., Boston, Mass., was delivered to her in June, and she forwarded it to Costa as soon as she received.

Informant stated that she has kept in correspondence with Costa for several months, "but in having known some stories concerning Costa's life, and fearing that the Authorities would question her in regard to some stories, she did not keep on in corresponding with him". However she sent a Christmas present to Costa's child. She has had no reply, till this day.

Mrs. Paisa is a widow. Her husband died four years ago. She has two children 14 and 12 years of age respectively. She works in the check-room of the "Casino" a burlesque show located at 44 Hanover St., Boston, Mass. Mrs. Paisa informed also that Mr. Donnarena, Editor of an Italian periodical, "La Gazzetta del Massachusetts", can furnish more information concerning Costa.

At 81 Prince St., tenants of the house do not know Rosario Conti.

This subject will be fully investigated and reported.
I spent most of the day in the cafe at 261 Elizabeth Street, and saw a few men playing cards. I met Cockey Brown there, but he did not stay long, as he was afraid of a raid. I learned nothing of any great importance.
FACTS DEVELOPED:
Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I proceeded to the Italian Federation of Bakers at 123 West 15th St. and here found Baldazzi who was writing circulars to different people in New England apprising them of the fact that ABBATA was making a tour of the New England cities for the defense of the Italian prisoners. He was also making arrangements for the coming mass meeting in the Rand School on January 23rd. He informed me that the I. W. W. General Executive Board had issued the statement of the outcome of the referendum vote taken by the members of the I. W. W. regarding the Third International. It seems that there were three questions sent out. First, whether the I. W. W. would affiliate with the Third International as it was. Second, whether it would not affiliate, and third, whether it would affiliate with reservations. The reservation was that the I. W. W. take no part in any political demonstration, but just simply take part in an industrial demonstration. The first question was defeated. The second and third questions were carried by a big majority, and therefore, the I. W. W. by a referendum vote has decided to belong to the Third International with reservations. After spending some time with Baldazzi I left him and then proceeded to the headquarters of the I. W. W. at 33 Second Ave., but there were only a few there. Waited there for some time, but saw no one, so I proceeded to the Auto-mat on East 14th St., expecting to meet some of the anarchists, but saw none there, only a few I. W. Ws. who spent the greater part of the evening here. I therefore left and discontinued for the day.

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent the greater part of the day in the vicinity of Elizabeth St. Went to Cafe at 261 Elizabeth St. and here found JOE RIVERS, who deals in cocaine. I asked him what the trouble was that there was never anyone in the Cafe and he said, that the boys are afraid to come in, because they expect a raid from the Police at any time. He told me that a Cafe on Prince St. had been raided the other day and a bunch had been caught with cocaine on them. He said, that they keep out of the place as they do not want to get caught in the raid and LAPINTO is cursing because he is not doing any business. After spending some time here I left and later proceeded to the I. W. W. headquarters for the purpose of meeting COLAVECHIA, but neither he nor D'NUNZIO was present, but there was a man named JOHN BECKER there, delivering a lecture on conditions in Central Europe. He had travelled in that part for fifteen months. His subject was not important as he outlined the conditions there in which people were starving through lack of food, which was the cause of revolution, and said that the time was not far distant when all of Europe would be Soviet; that America will then have to fall in line, because it cannot compete with the working class Governments of Europe. From there I proceeded to the Automat on East 14th St. and met D'Nunzio and Colavechia with several other I. W. Ws. who were eating. In talking I learned from Colavechia that he got word from the Immigration Authorities that his brother had arrived from Italy on Friday and asked that he go and claim him as they would release him to-morrow. He said he was going in the morning and would keep him here for a few days and then ship him to his other brother in Michigan. He said his brother was also an anarchist. At 1:00 A.M. I left there.

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent some time in Cafe at 261 Elizabeth St., but found only a few old men playing cards. I talked to DOPIUTO, the proprietor, and he said that business was very bad; he was doing very little. I spent a little time here then left and went to the vicinity of the blacksmith shop at 205 Elizabeth St. and spent a little time here, but failed to see anything out of the ordinary going on here. After that I proceeded to the I. W. W. headquarters and here learned from Beyer, the Defense Secretary, that a hall had not been secured as yet. I spent some time here but learned nothing of interest, nor did I see any of the crowd about. I therefore left and discontinued for the day.

Dear Sir:

I am herewith attaching, copy of a report submitted by Agent William J. West of the Boston Office, for December 31, 1920, in connection with the investigation of the Bomb Explosion in Wall Street, this city, on September 16, 1920.

You will note that Costa, alias Ferry, was arrested on June 24, 1908 in your city. Again, on November 12, 1912, he was arrested in connection with a bomb explosion in a butcher shop, and on November 26, 1914 he was taken into custody on a charge of entering with intent to steal.

It is respectfully requested by Director Flynn that an immediate and discreet investigation be made of this man, and that two copies of the reports be forwarded to this office, one for the attention of the Director and the other for the files here.

Very truly yours,

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today. I spent part of my time today around Elizabeth St. I met Joe Rivers on the corner of Division St. and we both went into Cafe at 261 Elizabeth St. and found a few men playing cards. Joe said that he would not stay long as he was afraid the place might be raided. He told me that he had not seen the Wolf lately, but he knew he was still running a game in 253 Elizabeth St. We then left there and spent a little more time with Rivers, then left him.

In the evening I went to 208 East 21st St. for the purpose of getting in touch with Colavechia, but found him out as no one was home. Later in the evening I went to the Automat on East 14th St. with the expectation of finding him there, but did not. There was a number of I. W. W. members there, but none had seen Colavechia. I therefore left and discontinued for the day.

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today. Acting on instructions, I canvassed the neighborhood of Bleecker St. to Bayard from Bowery to Broadway, looking for stables and other places where a wagon could be stored for the night. In the course of my search I found the following place:

209 Hester St. - stable.
77 Mott St. - stable.
106 Mott St. - coal yard.
159 Mott St. - stable.
223 Lott St. - blacksmith.
357 Broome St. - junk shop.
223 Mulberry St. - stable.
224 Mulberry St. - stable.
25 Spring St. - stable.
124 Elizabeth St. - stable.
155 Elizabeth St. - junk shop.
138 Elizabeth St. - stable.
205 Elizabeth St. - stable.
265 Elizabeth St. - stable.
288 Elizabeth St. - chicken yard.

I will cover other areas later. For the present the above were the only ones I could find. I spent some time with Lopinto in Cafe at 261 Elizabeth St., but there was no one there and Lopinto said that unless business changes he will have to close up. In the evening I went to the I. W. W. headquarters for the purpose of trying to find Colavecchia, but was informed that he had relatives in Stamford and he had probably taken his brother, who just arrived from Italy, wanted for the holidays, and I therefore left and discontinued for the day.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing herewith copy of a report made by Agent French at Tampa, Florida with reference to a letter received by the Chief of Police of Tampa, purported to be signed by one TOAGUIN ALONZO GARCIA.

This letter, as you will note from the report, refers to someone who is possibly connected with the Wall Street Explosion. Photostat copy of the letter and envelopes mentioned in the report are also enclosed.

This report is forwarded in order that Director Flynn may have further investigation made if he deems same worth while.

Dear Sir,

I am taking the privilege of asking how to get an appointment as one of U.S. Agents. The reason is that I am a witness against a certain Alexander who made the remark that his hotel in New York City is going to fall in inside 2 weeks. You also have a chance that this man could give you information to the Wall Street Agent as he has been from New York. He must belong to some secret org. and come to town the story of a hanger-on claiming himself a Magician. He has sold some of the goods he is the owner of, and from what I have heard, he is not a hanger-on but an honest man who wants to help. All I ask is give me a chance.

Respectfully,

At Lansford and Nesquehoning, Penna.

Supplementing my report on subject of December 9th, agent called on J. W. LONG, Chief of Police of the LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY at Lansford, Penna., and conferred with officer CHARLES BELL who on October 14th 1920, found in the home of subject, seven sticks of dynamite and four of blasting caps and about 200 lbs. of carbide and a blasting battery.

The subject has been employed by JOSEPH PANCHURI, a rock contractor for the L. C. & NAVIGATION COMPANY and agent was informed by Officer Bell that the blasting battery found in the home of subject has been missing since July 1920 but it is impossible to find out where the dynamite came from as it is possible for the miners to take out of the mines a stick or two of dynamite and in this way accumulate a supply. The subject does not have any use for dynamite outside the mines.

As this case was referred to the U.S. Attorney at Scranton who presented the facts to the recent Federal Grand Jury at Harrisburg Pa., but the Grand Jury ignored the bill.

Agent got in communication with LT. SNYDER of Penna. State Police at Pottsville who assigned Serg. Harrison Lantz to make an investigation of this case to find out if there had been a violation of the Penna. State Law. With Sergt. Lantz and Officer Bell, I went to the home of CARVEL TOAD, and he made the following statement:
United States 1907 - is not a naturalized citizen; purchased $200.00 worth of Liberty Bonds. He stated he had sold these bonds. He stated that he never saw any of explosives found in his home and did not know where they came from. There is no entrance to the cellar of TOAD'S home except through the kitchen of his home.

Serg. Lantz decided there was a violation of Act 286-July 1st 1919 of Penna. State Law, in having this dynamite and caps in TOAD'S possession and he put TOAD under arrest and he was given a hearing before Squire W. R. Watkins of Nesquehoning, PA., and held in §300.00 Bail.

There is a possibility of the dynamite and caps being in possession of TOAD prior to the Wall Street Explosion but agent does not see any way of proving it.

The subject admits that he had a boarder who was in his home in March - his name was FRANK HAWATH. He stated that this man worked in Newtown for a contractor.

Officer Bell of the LEHIGH VALLEY RAIL & NAVIGATION COMPANY Police, made an investigation and he could not find any men by this man working for a contractor in the mines of the District.

INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED:
December 30, 1920.

Mr. Hatrick,

General Manager, International Film Service,

226 William Street,

New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of 103 feet of black and white positive film of the Wall Street Explosion which was arranged for at your office with Mr. Mathieu by Mr. Fairfax Haulty, together with a bill for furnishing same. When Mr. Haulty talked with Mr. Mathieu he was anxious to get a positive print of all the negatives made that day including the 160 extra feet of negative. Mr. Mathieu quoted Mr. Haulty a price of $25 a foot for this film, giving as a reason for this charge that special service would have to be rendered in producing a positive print. We are obtaining positive prints of all the motion pictures made of the Wall Street Explosion and the other concerns have provided such prints gratis. I should be glad to know from you, as being in charge, at what price you can furnish us the balance of this explosion film.

Very truly yours,

Special Assistant to the Attorney General.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Hancock informs me that you have arranged to forward to us a black and white positive print of all the negatives taken by your camera men on September 16th at the Wall Street Explosion. In mailing, please paste attached envelope on package.

I desire you to know that your cooperation is sincerely appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Special Assistant to the Attorney General.
I am returning herewith your memorandum of the 11th instant relative to procuring certain photographs for the use of Mr. Naulty in which you request that the approximate cost be ascertained. Captain Betts of the Photographic Division of the War Department, who is to make these prints, advises today that the two dozen 5 by 7 prints will cost $3.60, and the one dozen 6½ by 8½, $1.80, a total of approximately $5.40.

Facts Developed:

AT FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pursuant to suggestion of Agent West based on letter from Chief of Police Knowlton of Franklin, Mass. that he had some information to turn over to the Department, Agent proceeded to Franklin, Mass. and received the following information from Chief of Police Knowlton.

RAFAEL TARAGLIME who lives at 55 Arlington St., Franklin, Mass. came to Franklin in the Spring of 1919 with his wife and family. When checked up for 1919 poll tax by Chief, Taragline gave his occupation as barber and age as thirty years and claimed he came from New York City. From then until Sept. 4, 1920 he would not stay in Franklin more than three or four days at a time and would be away from two weeks to two months. TARAGLINE is very friendly with the radical Italians in Franklin and when home is in constant company with Nick Masorone who is a bad actor and belongs to the radical element here and at Milford, Mass. MASORONE and TARAGLINE go to Milford, Mass. whenever the radical Italians have a meeting there. The last time TARAGLINE left Franklin he was away for over two months. Returned Sept. 4, 1920 and has been here since.

Chief Knowlton inquired for TARAGLINE in July of this year but did not tell Mrs. TARAGLINE what he wanted him for. When TARAGLINE returned to Franklin he called on Chief Knowlton very much excited and nervous and wanted to know what was the matter and why the Chief was looking for him. The Chief informed him he was looking for him to pay his poll tax for 1920. The Chief noticed that this information greatly relieved...
TARAGLINE. When TARAGLINE paid his poll tax the Chief noticed that he was well supplied with money. When he paid his poll tax he asked the Chief if that was all he wanted him about.

Chief Knowlton told Agent that he might get some information from Nick Deblazio, 9 Washington St., Franklin. Agent interviewed Diblazio at his fruit and vegetable store as follows:

RAFAEL TARAGLINE formerly lived in Diblazio's house with his wife and four children. Made frequent trips to New York City and Philadelphia and got in trouble with the police.

Question by Agent. Why did you tell TARAGLINE to move?

A. I was afraid he would make trouble for me. He and his wife don't go to church. My wife and I took his last baby and had it baptized at the Catholic Church here.

Q. What was the trouble in Philadelphia?

A. I don't know.

Q. What else do you know about TARAGLINE?

A. Not very long ago I got a letter from TARAGLINE saying he was in prison in Canada and he wanted me to send him $500.00 so that he could get out. I did not send the money. Nick Mosorone went to Canada and they both came back to Franklin. Nick must have got him out of prison. Don't tell anyone here I told you anything about TARAGLINE for I am afraid that TARAGLINE would burn me out. He is no good. He brought another woman to Franklin and she is living with him and his family. He is in this country about nine years and is not a citizen. He told the Chief of Police that he was a barber. That is a lie. He never works and always has plenty of money.

Chief Knowlton remarked that he was surprised that TARAGLINE was so excited and nervous when he called to see him and that his stay in Franklin this time is nearly three weeks. TARAGLINE speaks good English and is always well dressed.

This investigation will be continued.
REPORT MADE AT: BOSTON, MASS. DATE WHEN MADE: Dec.31/20 PERIOD FOR WHICH MADE: Dec.31/20

TITLE AND CHARACTER OF CASE:
BOMB EXPLOSION, WALL ST, NYC, SEPT 16, 1920 BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

FACTS DEVELOPED:

GIOVANNI COSTA, alias LOUIS COSTELLO, alias
VALERIO VANZI, alias JULIUS TERRY, alias JULIUS FERRY.

This report is predicated upon a long-distance telephone call received this date from Special Agent C. J. Scully, of the New York City office, advising of a press report to the effect that one ERIC LUNDBLAD now confined at Wampum Penitentiary, Wisconsin, had stated that while serving a sentence at Massachusetts State Prison, Charlestown, Mass., he became acquainted with the above named Costa, or Costello, an Italian inmate serving a sentence for burglary, and that Costa, or Costello, who professed to be an expert on explosives, threatened to "get even" with Wall street when released and also that he would prepare a bomb and place it in a suitcase near the booth block stand near the police station in Charlestown. Agent Scully directed that all leads looking toward the location of said Costa should be followed out in this district.

At the Department of Corrections, Bureau of Criminal Identification, State House, Boston, through the courtesy of Mr. R. C. Hill, Agent secured the following data concerning GIOVANNI COSTA:

Giovanni Costa (true name), Massachusetts State Prison No. 15574, was arrested March 5, 1916, together with Rosario Conti (S.P. No.15573), claiming to live at 81 Prince street, Boston, and John Di Natali (S.P. No.15575) who claimed residence in New Haven, for attempting to break and enter and for having burglar tools in their possession. That time Costa, under the name of Costello, lived with his wife and...
year old child at 59 Myrtle street, Boston, Mass. On March 23, 1916, in the Suffolk County Superior Court, Criminal session, at Boston, they pleaded guilty and were sentenced to State Prison. COSTA and Conti receiving three to five years and Di Natali four to seven years.

The narrative of the crime, as given by Sergt. J. T. Corcoran of Precinct 1, Boston, is as follows:

Between twelve and one a.m. March 5, 1916, three men attempted to enter St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Endicott street, North End, Boston. A boy standing on the sidewalk heard them talking about a break and followed them. He saw them turn into Lynn street and go over the fence. He told his story at Station 1, and officers were sent there when officer Dallinger got over the fence. Di Natali threatened to shoot him. They took the men to the station and did not think much of the arrest. They went back to the yard and found in a snowbank one press drill, three loaded revolvers, one stick of dynamite, three percussion caps, five fuses, one flashlight, two jimmys, one screwdriver, and four drill bits. They found them attempted to force the door. They were unable to determine whether they intended to blow the safe or blow up the church. Costa worked in Boston and gave his residence as Nantasket Beach where it was learned he kept a store.

COSTA was born in Italy October 24, 1887 (33 years at present writing), his father being Abdon Costa, a clerk, now dead in Italy, but no information is at hand concerning mother or any relatives in the United States. He received a common school education and claimed automobile school training. After attending school eight years in Italy, at the age of seventeen he went to sea, which he followed three years. He then came to the United States, locating in New York, where he remained two years. He returned to Italy for a year and then came back to the United States. He lived in Philadelphia five years and then located in Massachusetts, where he had lived about a year when arrested.

At time of arrest, he lived at 59 Myrtle Street, Boston, with child Lydia and his wife, JENNIE FOZZI, to whom he was married in 1910, in Philadelphia, by a Justice of the Peace, when she was sixteen years of age. According to reports his wife bears a good reputation.

As to previous criminal records, the following are convictions against him:

NEW YORK:

Under the name of EDWARD FERRY, arrested August 50, 1904, New York City, for petty larceny and discharged. As JULIUS FERRY, arrested January 10, 1911, at New York City, for petty larceny from poor boxes and given six months in penitentiary. Under name of Garcia, on June 16, 1905, at New York City, given six months in penitentiary for petty larceny. March 5, 1919, sentenced to Albany County Penitentiary, from Albany county, (N.Y. No.6-14483) as poor box thief. See Also New York County Penitentiary record as No.KL0222, and Onondaga County Penitentiary as L-12513.

PENNSYLVANIA:

Under name of JULIUS FERRY, or FERRIE, at Philadelphia, on June 24, 1909, arrested for larceny from poor boxes and on July 14, 1909, for same offence, and was sentenced to two years in Philadelphia County Prison, terms to run concurrently. The following two charges appear to be scratched out, for some unknown reason, but are noted for their interest: On November 12, 1912, arrested in Philadelphia as a suspicious person, supposed to have thrown a bomb in a butcher's shop, and on November 26, 1914, at Philadelphia arrested on charge of entering with intent to steal and discharged. 84569

OHIO.
At Cincinnati, under the name of LOUIS COSTELLO, arrested December 15, 1914, for practicing a trick game and fined $50 and costs.

MICHIGAN.
At Detroit, under name of JULIUS TERRY, arrested October 9, 1912, for robbing poor boxes, fined $50 and sentenced to thirty days.

On December 31, 1919, Costa was paroled from the Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown, Mass., securing his release through Mr. James Donnaruma, editor of "Gazzetta del Massachusetts", (Massachusetts Gazette), 141 Richmond street, Boston, and was evidently employed by him for some time, but on March 3, 1919, was sentenced to three months at Albany, as hereinbefore mentioned, and on June 3, 1919, his Massachusetts parole being revoked, was brought back to Charlestown where he was confined until May 8th, 1920, when he was paroled and went eventually to Beaverton, Oregon, where he was conducting a confectionery store in partnership with wife. He kept in touch with the Massachusetts authorities by writing them weekly. His last letter, however, so far as could be ascertained from the files, is dated, Beaverton, Oregon, August 7th, 1920. This matter was carefully checked by Mr. R. J. Hill, in charge of Bureau, and he states that is the last letter received from Costa.

Further incidentals indicate that Costa also ran a confectionery store at one time in Cincinnati and has worked at times as a waiter in restaurants. Giovanni Costa is understood to be the true name; Valerio Vanni he used one year at the Eastern Penitentiary in Pennsylvania.
to conceal his identity, as well as the other aliases being used for the same purpose; while the claims he adopts for business purposes at times name of Louis Costello.

Mr. James Donnaruma, who secured his parole, stated at that time that he met him only a few months before arrested and was of the opinion he was a traveling salesman; was much surprised to learn of arrest, as he had good opinion of the man, who was always active and smart.

Special Agent Lewis was sent to interview Mr. Donnaruma at 141 Richmond street, Boston, and finally ascertained that Mr. Donnaruma is in New York City and can be located at 1482 Broadway, care of Mr. Arthur Spizzi. Agent Lewis will report on his inquiries at Barry's Barber Shop, 132 Staniford street, Boston, where Costa was said to have worked at time of arrest in Boston, and on Rosario Conti who arrested at the same time with Costa.

Special Agent Di Lillo reports that inquiry at 59 Myrtle street, Boston, brings the information that Costello, as he was known there, left some months ago with his wife for the far west. He will attempt to secure further information. He was unable to locate any Costa at 451 Hanover street, Boston, given as address of subscriber to "Cronaca Sovversiva".

Special Agent Tovlin, who visited State Prison to secure any additional information not covered in above states that officials there inform him that Lundblad was a "smart" prisoner and not "easily fooled."

Agent secured from the Identification Bureau the usual double photo and is having three photographic copies made. These could not be furnished tonight but will be sent over to New York tomorrow afternoon.
For a personal description of Costa, the following is given:
Aged now 33 years; 5' 5½" in height; weight, 156; complexion, sallow; eyes, dark slate blue; hair, black.

The last letter from Costa to the State authorities, that dated August 7, 1920, reads as follows: "Sir, I am still residing in Beaverton, conducting my place of business as I have already stated.
Yours truly, (signed) Giovanni Costa." His address was Box 355,
Beaverton, Oregon.

Therefore, in view of the fact that the papers are carrying this reference to the alleged participation of Costa in the bomb explosion, which would serve to warn Costa were he the right person, agent is taking the liberty of wiring the Portland, Oregon, office – which is but a short distance from Beaverton – as follows, encoded:

Bryon,
Old Postoffice bldg.,
Portland, Oregon.

Please make most discreet inquiry whether Giovanni
Costa, alias John Costa, alias Louis Costello, alias Julius Forry still residing Beaverton, Oregon, stop. Costa said to be conducting confectionery store there with wife Jennie Foggi and receives mail Box three five six Beaverton, stop.
Wire answer to Lamb, New York City office.

Pursuant to instructions from Agent Scully, based upon confidential information received at this Bureau, agent in company with Agent Ahern, proceeded to the County Jail, Hackensack, N. J. and there interviewed above named subjects. Both are held by the Hackensack authorities without bail, charged with making a dynamite bomb and attempting to explode same alongside the home of JOSEPH DI BRIGIDO, a contractor of Hackensack, N. J., with the probable object of destroying DI BRIGIDO, his family, and home.

Through the courtesy of the Bergen County Prosecutor, I was enabled to interview both subjects: From GIUSEPPE MODICA I ascertained that he is 35 years of age, born in Giganti, Italy; married has two children; in the United States 11 years; a declarant for past six years and has recently made application for final naturalization papers.

Modica upon his arrival in the United States, went to live with his brother at Corning, New York, where he remained about three years, going from there to Trenton, N. J., where he lived about one year, then went to Jersey City, where he has lived for six years, then going to Passaic, N. J., where he has lived for the past 14 months. During his stay in this country, Modica has followed the occupation of laborer, never working steadily, being rather lazy, and contented with his small earnings. Recently he opened a bootblack

Sept. 18-20

Mr. J.J. McNeill, 221 East 32nd Street, N.Y., says that in 1917 he was in the U.S. Penitentiary in Atlanta, Georgia, and while he was there in the summer or fall of 1917 a man by the name of CRAMER or KRAMER in June, about 5ft. 7in. tall, weight about 170 lb., dark complexion, eye turned high, with high cheek bones, black hair; together with a small fellow also a Jew who was very thin and was said to have tuberculosis was sent up from New York for two years each. Both of them were Anarchists, and associated with Berkman all the time; until Berkman was locked up, and they talked about blowing up the Penitentiary and said a lot of different buildings were going to be blown up.

He thinks they might have had something to do with the explosion.

In the Penitentiary he was known as HENRY J. McNEILL.

Agent, Barbosa December 30, 1920 stand in the LEXINGTON BARBER SHOP, State Street, Passaic, N. J., the proprietor of which is CHARLES DI BELLA, a well known and highly respected citizen of Hackensack.

From my conversation with Codice, I learned that he was arrested in Trenton, N. J., for carrying concealed weapons, and was sentenced to pay a $100 fine, $75.00 of which still remains to be paid to the County authorities. He is adverse to hard work, giving as an excuse his poor health. He stoutly denied any connections with radical organizations, and further stated that he liked this country and that he was wholly in accord with our form of Government.

I next interviewed the other prisoner, LUIGI HAISTRANGELO, who stated he is 35 years of age; born in Giganti, Italy; married; has two children; in the United States nine years, and has no naturalization papers. He further stated that upon his arrival in the United States he went to Jersey City and lived there about six years, going from there to Passaic, N. J., at which place he has been ever since.
He is a laborer and has not been working for a long time, due to the fact of his undergoing several operations upon his throat, his throat at present being swathed in bandages.

Both the subjects are boyhood friends, being born in the same town and lived next to one another in Italy. Hastrangelo denies any radical tenencies and claims to be in favor of our form of Government.

With reference to the offense for which both are being held, they both tell the same story, denying any knowledge that they were doing wrong, and that they are the victims of a conspiracy on th part of the police to send them to jail. Their story in substance is as follows: On December 7, 1920, both subjects were standing on the corner of State and Passaic Streets, when a person came along in an Overland automobile and asked them to take a ride, to which they both consented, and proceeded toward Hackensack, N. J., that when they reached the vicinity of the home of JOSEPH DI BRIGIDO, they both alighted with a small pillow, which had been given them by the driver of the car, with instructions to place same alongside the house occupied by DI BRIGIDO, and that when they had put the pillow alongside the house, they were seized by a number of policemen and placed under arrest. During the excitement, the car that brought them to the scene of the attempted crime, had disappeared. Both prisoners denied knowing the driver of the car by name, he being known to LODIA, the latter knowing him through the fact of being a steady customer at his bistro stand.

From the Police authorities we learned that the driver of the car was one LOUIS GUCCHIA, and that he was hired by the two subjects to take them to Hackensack, make a short stop at a certain place and then take them back to Passaic.

We then proceeded to Passaic, N. J., and met Captain of Detectives TURNER, with a view of ascertaining from him the whereabouts of GUCCHIA, as we desired to interview him. He informed us that GUCCHIA was the informant in this case and that through fear he had left town, but that he expected to be in communication with him soon, and would arrange for us to have an interview with the said Gucchia.
Medics-Hastertangle

agent Barbara-December 30, 1920.

Louis Guccia is considered about the town to be a gangster and gunman; has violated his parole, and if apprehended will have to serve a sentence of 14 years. Guccia is the leader of a band of gangsters who will attempt any crime for pay. Attached are photographs.

It further developed from our conversation with Captain Turner, that the motive for attempting to blow up the home of DI BRIGIDO was business jealousy on the part of another contractor named CASANOVA, who is charged with conspiracy and released on bail in the sum of $1,500. Both these contractors are considered wealthy, highly respected, and keen rivalry exists between them, with a view of absolute control of the home building in and about Hackensack and Passaic.

Our purpose in conducting this investigation was with a view of probably obtaining some information relative to the recent disaster in Wall Street.

The bomb found near the home of DI BRIGIDO was made of a metal container, about 14 inches long, filled with about 60% gelatin dynamite, bound with heavy fishing line cord, had detonation caps on both ends and was imbeded in a feather pillow about 20 inches square, sewed on both ends and slit in the middle. In the home of Hastertangle, feathers were found that appear to be the same as those in the pillow that covered the bomb. Feathers were found in the inside of the oversoot of both subjects.

As I led both subjects to believe that I would help
Modica-Mastrangelo

Agent Barbara—December 30th 1920.

then, they agreed that they would soon write me in Italian and give me some information that might be of value to the Government. I gave them a fictitious name and an address, at which I made arrangements to receive mail.

It is probable that these men belong to a band of terrorists, and that they may know something of other bomb outrages that have occurred throughout the country.

Matter pending.

SPECIAL AGENT.
The following memorandum was received from Special Agent Richard Maher, of the New York Office:

While in Buffalo, New York, he was informed by one SHANNON, that on the morning after the Wall Street Explosion, an Italian named BENNY CARRO, alias BENNY CARROLL, arrived in Buffalo from New York, and that SHANNON overheard CARRO tell two other Italians that he had left New York one hour and a half after the explosion occurred, and that the Government men at 15 Park Row were up in the air, but if they knew what he did about the explosion the matter would be cleared up quickly. At this point CARRO was warned by the two Italians that Shannon spoke Italian fluently and he said no more. Carro is believed to have a criminal record with the New York and Buffalo Police, and has the reputation of being a gunman and safe blower, and has done work both for and against unions in different parts of the country. Shannon is an ex-taxicab driver, who has done some good work for the Prohibition Enforcement Agent in Buffalo, in reporting boot-legging autos.

Pursuant to instructions received from Special Agent Scully, I proceeded to Identification Bureau, Police Headquarters, New York, and was informed that there is no record on subject. I then inquired at the WASHINGTON DETECTIVE BUREAU, 366-5th Avenue, New York which concern handles a great many of the strikes, and Mr. REICHERT,
H. O. Leslie for December 28, 1920. Wall St. Explosion

the manager, examined the files and telephoned other strike breaking agencies, but subject was not known to them. The information was given to Agent Barbera, who is endeavoring to learn something concerning subject through confidential sources.

Agent Barber states that Shannon is well known in Buffalo by the police, and by District Attorney LOOKWOOD, and also the Prohibition Agent, and it is respectfully suggested that Shannon be further interviewed concerning the statement about CARRO or CARROLL.

Copy of this report being forwarded to the Buffalo Office of Bureau for further investigation.

H. O. LESLIE
SPECIAL AGENT.

Miriam Horman is traveling with Joe Shemudis. We are now looking for him.

Report of Jan. 1, 1921:-

Barber's first name is either James or Frank.

Report of Jan. 6, 1921:-

We are endeavoring to ascertain the address of William Silic. Miss Betty Kaizerman lives on 12th Street, N.Y.C. She can be located in Strumsky's Restaurant, 201 - 2nd Avenue, or the Royal Restaurant, 12th Street and 2nd Avenue.

Report of Jan. 9, 1921:-

Mr. Balcomb is a carpenter. We do not know his first name but will look it up. He lives in Passaic, N.J.

John Dorok is a member of the Bohemian Communist Party. He can be found in Bohemian Hall, 309 E. 72nd Street.

Mr. Ruben, of Trenton, N.J., is an organizer of the I.W.W. His first name is Joe or Jack. He can be located at the headquarters of the Trenton I.W.W.

Report of Jan. 16, 1921:-

Anthony Niedwosky, Bohemian Hall, 309 E. 72nd Street. He is an organizer for the I.W.W. He is also a member of the Communist Labor Party. He can generally be found around the Bohemian Hall; much of his time is spent in playing billiards in Bohemian Hall.

The first name of Mr. Rice, of New Jersey, is Jack. He is an insurance broker.
Rice lives in Newark, N.J. and we will try and find exactly where.

Report of Jan. 14:

Webster's first name is August. He is an organizer of the Communist Party and is travelling all the time. The Revolutionary Committee is going to open headquarters in Chicago or Cincinnati for the unemployed and Webster will be the manager of that office. Webster knows Barber purchased the horse and wagon from C. Louis Plache, because he participated at the meeting as a member of the technical Committee of the 3rd Internationale of the Communist Party when it was decided to use the bombs.

No. 4 rode from Atlantic City to Philadelphia with Webster on the same train and it was during this journey that Webster gave No. 4 the information contained in his report of January 14.

Report of Jan. 15:

Yes, it is the same man Rice, and his name has been given - Jack Rice.

Report of Jan. 19:

Fanalen is an organizer for the Red, White and Blue Union and also for the One Big Union. His first name is Joe. He lives in Perth Amboy, N.J. #4 does not know how Fanalen knows Barber is in Detroit. He told #4 he was in Detroit - that is all #4 can tell. Fanalen introduced Investigator to a Jewish Family in Newark, N.J., named Rosenstein. Investigator #4's report shows this.

Report of Jan. 20:

First name William. "William Isaacs" is a metal worker by trade. He is a Communist Organizer. We do not know where he lives.

Report of Jan. 21:

Adolph Saul lives in N.Y. Will get the address. Later, Saul obtained his information because of the fact that he is an organizer and he probably obtained information from some of the other organizers.
Arthur Saunders lives with the Rosenstein family in Newark, N.J., previously reported by #4.

Sam Ostroff is an organizer for the Red, White & Blue Union. He can be located in the general headquarters of the I.W.W., 306 E. 12th Street, N.Y.C. He knows so much about Barber's alleged whereabouts because of the fact that he talked with those who participated with Barber in secret meetings and from the records of different organizations he knows about Barber.

Report of Jan. 24:

John Dubrenik is secretary of the Bohemian Branch of the Communist Party, N.Y.C. He lives in N.Y. City. He can be found at Bohemian Hall.

The organizers of the Revolutionary Societies do not remain in one place very long - they are kept on the move, obviously to prevent their identity becoming known. They generally stop at the best hotels, under aliases.

Henceforth #4 states when you want to know where a man lives he will locate his place, telephone the office and have us send a shadow and follow the man. It is only in this way that #4 can find out just where they live because he could not, under any circumstances, ask where they live without taking the chance of arousing suspicion.
Dixon W. Smith is a guest at the Imperial Hotel, 31st St. & Broadway, New York, and is well known there, mingling freely with the other guests and is known as the Government man. He states that he is at present selling "Tanks" for the Shipping Board and owns two homes in the vicinity of Washington, D.C., from which city he always registers. He corresponds with one J.W. Smith at Elmira, New York.

Mr. Smith is a man about 60 years old, has been staying at the Imperial Hotel for some time, going and coming at intervals.
A permit was necessary for the export of coal at the time of shipment. An export declaration giving the names of the shipper and consignee, the country and port of destination, name of vessel, the quantity in tons and value in dollars; was filed in duplicate in the custom house at the port of exportation; one copy of this export declaration was retained in the custom house and the other was forwarded to the statistician of the Department of Commerce located in the New York Custom House. The statistician then compiled these statistics for each port and forwarded the same to the Division of statistics, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce located at 1800 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Investigations made since forwarding report on December 21, 1920, in the above matter having failed to develop the present whereabouts of the above named COSTA or COSTELLO, Agent on this date made further search of index of criminals at the Bureau of Criminal Identification, State House, Boston, for the purpose of securing further information relative to JOHN DI NATALI and ROSARIO CONTI, arrested with the above named COSTA or COSTELLO in March of 1916.

ROSARIO CONTI (S.P. No. 15573) was arrested at the same time and on the same charge as the above named COSTA or COSTELLO, on March 5, 1916, and confined with him at the state prison, Charlestown, Mass. The records indicate that CONTI, who is a Sicilian, arrived in Philadelphia from Italy in 1913 and after working in the Victor Talking Machine Company in Philadelphia came to Boston in 1915, later bringing here his wife Domenica, male child Filippo, born in 1908, and Domenica female child, born in 1915. While in Philadelphia CONTI was also employed by ANTONIO SARTORO, a barber at 211 9th street, Philadelphia. He also gave as references one
SANTO CARDELLO of New Jersey and PAUL BRECK of Philadelphia,
CONTI, according to the records, is now residing at 156 Salem street, Boston, and is running a grocery and olive oil store at 159 Salem street, Boston. This information relative to the Boston address has been turned over to Agent Di Lillo to make inquires of CONTI relative to the whereabouts of COSTA.

JOHN DI NATAI (S.P.No.15575), now 26 years of age, a baker by occupation, at the time of his arrest gave his address as New Haven, Connecticut. The records indicate that as JOHN DEVIN, alias JOHN DAVEN, alias GIOVANNI AVENA, he was arrested November 12, 1912, in Philadelphia as a suspicious person supposed to have been implica-ted in the throwing of a bomb in a butcher shop. He was, however, discharged. As JOHN AVENE, on November 26, 1914, he was arrested in Philadelphia on the charge of entering with intent to steal, but was discharged. As JOHN AVENE, on May 11, 1910, he was arrested in New York City on the charge of burglary and discharged. On October 18, 1912, at New Haven, Connecticut, under the name of AVENE, he was arrested on the charge of burglary, and the case nol prossed. On March 1, 1912, he was arrested at New Haven, Connecticut, under the name of JOHN AVENE, alias GIOVANNI AVENA, on the charge of breaking and entering a dwelling house in the day time and was discharged.
His last known address, that of December 1, 1920, as per records, is that of 2013 South 11th street, Philadelphia. Previous to that he wrote the State authorities on paper bearing the heading GAETANO AVENI, 1027 South 6th street, Philadelphia.

The records appear to indicate that COSTA, DI NATAI and CONTI came to Boston from Philadelphia at about the same time and it would be inferred were acquainted with one another in Philadelphia. This information is being submitted with a view to the possibility of locating the whereabouts of COSTA through CONTI at Boston or through DI NATALI at Philadelphia.

VALERIO VANZI, alias JULIUS TERRY, alias JULIUS FERRY.

In continuance of report made by Special Agent W. J. West dated Dec. 31, 1920, in the above entitled matter, also report of Special Agent De Lillo dated Jan. 2, 1921, Agent, accompanied by Special Agent
De Lillo, made inquiries at 479 Hanover Street concerning one COSTA living at this address. Agent learned, however, that this party is an elderly man, said to be around sixty years of age, full name being BIAGIO COSTA, married, and has lived at that address for the past twelve years.

At the Walton Lunch Co., 1083 Washington Street, Agents interviewed Mr. E. F. FORSYTHE, vice president of this company, which conducts a chain of restaurants. He was shown a photograph of COSTA. After studying photograph carefully he stated that he is positive this party has never been in the employ of his company; that he personally comes in contact with all employees; that while having had employees bearing the name of Costello, these were of Irish extraction.

At the Waldorf Lunch System, Inc., 169 High Street, which company conducts a chain of restaurants, Agents were unable to interview Mr. Munroe who has the hiring of all of the help for these restautrants and an endeavor will be made to locate Mr. Munroe as soon as possible in order to show him the photograph of COSTA as it may be possible that he will recognize him as a former employee. The books show, however, that there is no one in the employ of this company at present bearing the name of COSTA, COSTELLO, or the various aliases used by him.

At the Cooks and Waiters Union, Washington Street, Boston, Agents were given every assistance by the officials who went through their files and books but did not locate the subject as having ever been a member of this union.

At the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America, Local 182, 995 Washington Street, Agent De Lillo interviewed John B. Manganaro, organizer of this union, who stated that he did not recognize photograph of the subject or does the subject's name or his various aliases appear upon the books of this union.

Agents called at 124 Eliot St., Boston, formerly Boston Headquarters of the International Federation or Workers in the Hotel, Restaurant, Club and Catering Industry. They found, however, that they have moved to 724 Washington Street. At this address Agents found their new headquarters locked and will endeavor later to make inquiries here.

Agents interviewed police officials at Station 15, Charlestown, Costello having told Eric Lundblad that he was to prepare a bomb in a suitcase and place it near the bootblack-stand near the police station in Charlestown. The police officials stated that nothing of this kind was ever found in this vicinity and Agents found that the nearest bootblack-stand is several hundred feet from the police station.

Agents interviewed Sgt. Corcoran at Police Station 1, to who arrested subject on March 5, 1916 with Rosario Conti referred report of Special Agent West. Agents are informed that Conti in place of business at 25 Tileston Street (Italian section of Bost

Sgt. Corcoran stated that he had pointed out Conti to one of the oficers of Station 1 two days previous; that he had learned that Cont was in some difficulty with the Internal Revenue Office regarding a permit for the manufacturing of hair tonic at 25 Tileston Street; that it is his belief that his business is not legitimate and that the permit had been revoked. He further informed Agents that it will probably be useless to attempt to obtain any information from Conti regarding COSTA; that it would be best that Agent De Lillo find some pretense on which he can approach Conti, make his acquaintance and later obtain his confidence and in this way may be able to learn the present whereabouts of COSTA.

Agent conferred with Mr. Brignotti, Superintendent of the Hanover Postal Station and asked Mr. Brignotti to watch all mail addressed to Conti and furnish this office with tracings. Mr. Brignotti stated that Conti has been living at 156 Salem St., Boston, but believes that he has moved from that address; that the carrier had been instructed by tenants at that address to leave Conti's mail here in their care.

Agent conferred with the Postal Authorities at North Station Post Office. The carrier covering Myrtle Street stated that he knew Mrs. Paixa who lives at 59 Myrtle Street but does not recall having ever seen COSTA and when shown his photograph could not identify him, stating that COSTA'S wife or child usually accepted the mail delivered here for COSTA; that Mrs. Costa instructed this carrier on May 12, 1920 to forward any mail for her husband to William H. McDonnell, 40 Court St., Boston. Agent is endeavoring to learn if Mr. McDonnell was COSTA'S attorney before approaching Mr. McDonnell for any information concerning COSTA'S whereabouts.

In view of the fact that COSTA has in the past corresponded with Mrs. Paixa, Agent asked the carrier to take tracings of all mail received by Mrs. Paixa.

This investigation will be continued.

AT BOSTON, MASS.

The following is a continuation of report made on December 31st, relative to the above named person.

JAMES V. DONNARUMA, editor of "Gazetta del Massachusetts", 141 Richmond street, Boston, was interviewed this date by Agent. Mr. Donnaruma is a well-known representative of the Italian race in Boston and bears a very good reputation. He informed the writer that he became interested in the parole of COSTA through the appeal of Costa's wife for assistance and a talk with her and inspection of her home satisfied him that she was a girl deserving of sympathy and assistance. Mr. Donnaruma therefore secured the parole of Costa and gave him a position as a solicitor of subscriptions for the "Gazetta", which position he held but a short time, the next being heard of him was his incarceration at Albany, New York. Subsequently COSTA was returned to the Charlestown, Mass., State Prison on a revoked parole and while there secured the services of Attorney William McDonnell, Room 611, 40 Court street, Boston, who secured another parole for COSTA. Donnaruma was a signatory on the note of COSTA guaranteeing payment of fee to attorney McDonnell, and since then COSTA has been writing.

REFERENCE:
Copies of this report furnished to:
Boston; New York City; Portland, Oregon; Washington, DC.
Mr. Donnaruma each time he made a payment to the attorney.

Mr. Donnaruma further stated that COSTA'S correct name is VALERIO VANZI; that he comes of a well-known and highly respected family of one of the northern provinces of Italy; is a well-educated young man; that he married his wife, JENNIE POGGI, somewhere in Oregon, she being a native of that State; and that after marriage they came East, living in Philadelphia, where he is known, and in Boston. While Costa, or VANZI, professed no religion, yet he was not a man of the radical type and took no interest in such matters. Mr. Donnaruma showed to Agent a number of letters written him, and undated, signed "VALERIO VANZI". All of these came from Box 356, Beaverton, Oregon, and Mr. Donnaruma states he is positive that Costa, or Vanzi, is not in Boston or vicinity, for were he here he would beyond doubt call to see him.

Attention is invited to letter from New York City office dated January 5th, 1921, initialed CJS-JWD, containing reference to a letter from Box 356, Beaverton, Oregon, November 16th, 1920, addressed to JOHN P. WHITE, Boston, Mass. JOHN P. WHITE is an attorney and law-partner of WILLIAM McDONNELL, Room 611, 40 Court street, Boston. Mr. White is also known to the writer.

ATTORNEY JOHN P. WHITE, being interviewed, stated that about one hour before arrival of Agent, Police Inspector Hart, of Boston, made inquiries of Attorney McDonnell in the same matter, informing him that a prisoner at Charlestown State Prison stated Costa, or Vanzi, was implicated in the Wall street explosion. Mr. White stated that COSTA, as he is known to him, was a former client of his whose parole he secured; that in May, 1920, when Costa was released from Charlestown he came out on a Thursday or Friday and left Boston for Beaverton, Oregon, with his wife and child the following Monday, the parole being conditioned on the production of railroad transportation from Boston to Beaverton; and that when Costa and his family left here no other person accompanied him. As to Costa himself, Mr. White stated that while Costa was the type of person who might be involved in a bank robbery, he was farthest from the type of person who might be involved in a bomb explosion, for the reason that he was a man without any religious or political views whatever. He also expressed it as his belief that since his release Costa was attempting to lead a good life and was conducting, with his wife, a confectionery shop at Beaverton, Oregon. He also interposed the request that any inquiry made at Beaverton be made discreetly so that in event of Costa not being the man responsible nothing would happen to force him into his old pursuits.

The file in his office, which he produced, contains several purporting to have been written by "Giovanni Costa, Beaverton, Oregon" Two envelopes were found, both registered letters, one postmarked "Beaverton, Oregon, Sept. 10, 1920, 4.00 p.m., registry number 101"; and the other postmarked "Beaverton, Oregon, November 16, 1920, the envelope of which was registry number 221". The letter/postmarked September 10th, 1920, bears the date of September 8th, 1920.

In closing it may be stated that the inference drawn from investigations at Boston to date indicates that COSTA, or VÀNZI, is not in Boston. Adverting to the telegrams from the Portland, Oregon, office to the New York City office, under dates of January 3d and 5th, it is noted in the former that "Costa received mail box..."
three five six till a month ago under name of William Poggi xxx where his son-in-law, VALORE VANZI, conducts a confectionery store". It is respectfully suggested that VALERIO VANZI, or VALORE VANZI, rather than William Poggi, is identical with COSTA, and is the man wanted. William Poggi, therefore, must be a relative to Jennie Poggi, wife of Valerio Vanza, or Costa.

Concerning the telegram of the 5th, from the Portland, Oregon, office to the New York City office, it is desired to report that no information has been developed to date relative to the appearance in Boston in May, 1920, of one "NELLO SALARA, son-in-law of Poggi", now receiving mail at Sacramento, California. If Valerio Vanzi is not now in Beaverton, query is made as to whether or not Nello Salara is not another alias of Valerio Vanzi.

In view of the above telegrams indicating that Valerio Vanzi, who is, Costa, is still living in Beaverton, Oregon, further advices as procedure at the Boston end are awaited.

This office is in receipt of letter dated January 3 from T. M. REDDY, Special Agent in Charge, New York City, enclosing a copy of WILLIAM J. WEST'S report of Boston, Mass., dated December 31, in which it is requested that immediate and discreet investigation be made relative to the above subject, who was apprehended in this city on October 9, 1912.

Pursuant to instructions of Special Agent in Charge, I proceeded to police headquarters where I learned from the Records that JULIUS TERRY and JENNY TERRY were apprehended on October 8, 1912, for simple larceny. At the time of their arrest it is alleged that they had been robbing poor boxes in churches in this city and were apprehended in the act of robbing the poor box of St. Alberta's Church on Canfield and St. Aubin Streets; that they were arraigned before Judge Stein, where they both entered a plea of guilty and were sentenced to pay a fine of $50.00 or thirty days in the Detroit House of Correction. The fine was paid and they were allowed to go.

At the time of their arrest JULIUS TERRY gave his age as 26; occupation, waiter; address, Boston, Mass.

JENNY TERRY gave her age as 22; occupation, housekeeper;

I interviewed LIEUTENANTS, REPP and REUTER, who apprehended JULIUS TERRY and JENNY TERRY and they stated that TERRY robbed the poor box at St. Alberta's Church by using whale bone with leather attached covered with glue, which was inserted into the box and money taken therefrom. At the time of their arrest JENNY TERRY, wife of JULIUS TERRY, kneeled in prayer along side of the poor box while her husband robbed same. LIEUT. REUTER stated that when they were arraigned before Judge Stein both pleaded guilty and stated that it was their first offense and that they had never been apprehended before, and the woman pleaded not to be sent to jail as she had a baby two months old who was in Boston.

I then proceeded to the Identification Bureau, where I found pictures with the bertillon measurements of JULIUS TERRY and JENNY TERRY, which I am forwarding to the New York office. I endeavored to interview FR. MILLER of St. Alberta's Church, but learned he had since died.

Investigation concluded.
Continuing reports in this matter, upon instructions from Agent in Charge; information having been received at this office, Agent accompanied by Agent in Charge G.O. Holridge proceeded to Schenectady, N.Y. to investigate subject, CESARE BARBUTO, who is working at watch making and who appeared rather suspicious. Agent interviewed this subject at a very late hour on Jan. 4th, 1921, and gained entrance into his rooms and made a thorough investigation as to any explosives being concealed therein. A number of clocks and watches were found there and it was shown that he was working on them. Subject informed Agent that he was an expert on fire works before he came to the United States and that he intends to build a factory for this purpose for which the ground is already bought. This Subject has a large number of envelopes printed to send out. These envelopes read as follows: Ideal European Fireworks Co., Crane Street, P.O. Box 15, Schenectady, N.Y. Nothing was found in the place to show any indications of this man being a dangerous one in the community, while his appearance is very much against him in making such an effort for the Agents not to gain entrance.

Report concluded unless otherwise instructed.

who puts the finishing touches on them. I was unable to get the description of Fredo as Cuccio stated he did not know him well enough. He, however, stated that Angelo Angeloni of Garfield is a much larger man than the brother at Hackensack; that he has light hair, light mustache, light complexion and is about 45 years old.

As far as I could ascertain from Captain Ben Turner there is no photograph of the Hackensack Angeloni available and I thought I could see Chief of Police Shay of Hackensack at the police convention in Newark and get further particulars regarding Hackensack Angeloni from him. I returned to Passaic and from there went to Newark, N.J. with Chief of Police Schmidt. I did not see Shay there so I was unable to get any further information regarding Angeloni.

I was presented to the Convention by Chief of Police Tracey who is President of the New Jersey Chiefs of Police Association, as your representative. I addressed the Convention along the lines of continued cooperation with you in an effort to arrest the perpetrators of the Wall Street explosion, after which I distributed circulars similar to the one attached, then thanked the President and the members of the Association present for courtesies extended and returned to New York about 6:30 P.M.
Memorandum

Description of the driver of wagon used to convey the explosive to Wall Street on September 16th 1920.

28 to 30 years of age, 5 feet, six inches, stocky build, dark complexion, small dark mustache (probably two weeks growth), dark hair, flat nose, was dressed as a laborer, wore no coat and had shirt that was turned in at the collar; wore dark cap, spoke good English, was either born in the United States or has been in this country for a number of years.

Description of the wagon used to carry explosive:
Single top, capacity one to one and a half tons, red running gear, striped black, with fine white lines. Three foot wheels on front, four and one half foot hind wheels of Servent patent, body five feet six inches, about eight to eight and one half from ground to top of wagon. Wagon painted a light red. Very old make. Covered sides. Resembled the type of vehicle ordinarily used as a delivery wagon.

The following is the description of ------- Angeloni----- near Hudson St., Hackensack, N.J. He is a bomb thrower, bootlegger, anarchist etc. and has never been known to work according to information given by Guseppe Cuccio.

Italian, 30 years, 5 ft. 6 in. stout, (no paunch), dark complexion, black hair, small dark mustache and sometimes smooth face, dresses ordinary and speaks English well. Has flat nose.
Investigations since made since forwarding report on December 31, 1920, in the above matter having failed to develop the present whereabouts of the above named COSTA or COSTELLO, Agent on this date made further search of index of criminals at the Bureau of Criminal Identification, State House, Boston, for the purpose of securing further information relative to JOHN DI NATALI and ROSARIO CONTI, arrested with the above named COSTA or COSTELLO in March of 1916.

ROSARIO CONTI (S.P. No. 15573) was arrested at the same time and on the same charge as the above named COSTA or COSTELLO, on March 5, 1916, and confined with him at the State prison, Charlestown, Mass. The records indicate that CONTI, who is a Sicilian, arrived in Philadelphia from Italy in 1913 and after working in the Victor Talking Machine Company in Philadelphia came to Boston in 1915, later bringing here his wife Domenica, male child Filippo, born in 1908, and Domenica, female child, born in 1915. While in Philadelphia CONTI was also employed by ANTONIO SARTORO, a barber at 814 9th street, Philadelphia. He also gave as references one SANTO CARDELO of New Jersey and PAUL BRECK of Philadelphia, CONTI, according to the records, is now residing at 156 Salem street, Boston, and is running a grocery and olive oil store at 159 Salem street, Boston. This information relative to the Boston address has been turned over to Agent Di Iillo to make inquiries of CONTI relative to the whereabouts of COSTA.

JOHN DI NATALI (S.R. No. 15575), now 26 years of age, a baker by occupation, at the time of his arrest gave his address as New Haven, Connecticut. The records indicate that as JOHN DEVIN, alias JOHN DAVEN, alias GIOVANNI AVENA, he was arrested November 12, 1912, in Philadelphia as a suspicious person supposed to have been implicated in the throwing of a bomb in a butcher shop. He was, however, discharged. As JOHN AVENA, on November 26, 1914, he was arrested in Philadelphia on the charge of entering with intent to steal, but was discharged. As JOHN AVENA, on May 21, 1915, he was arrested in New York City on the charge of burglary and discharged. On October 19, 1912, at New Haven, Connecticut, under the name of AVENA, he was arrested on the charge of burglary, and the case not pressed. On March 1, 1912, he was arrested at New Haven, Connecticut, under the name of JOHN AVENA, alias GIOVANNI AVENA, on the charge of breaking and entering a dwelling house in the day time and was discharged. His last known address, that of December 1, 1920, as per records, is that of 2033 South 11th street, Philadelphia. Previous to that he wrote the State authorities on paper bearing the heading GASTANO AVENA, 1027 South 6th street, Philadelphia. The records appear to indicate that COSTA, DI NATALI and and COSTA came to Boston from Philadelphia at about the same time and it would be inferred were acquainted with one another in Philadelphia. This information is being submitted with a view to the possibility of locating the whereabouts of COSTA through COSTA at Boston or through DI NATALE at Philadelphia.

Left New York at 8:00 A.M., went to Passaic, N. J. and there met Captain Ben Turner and with him went to Hackensack; saw Prosecuting Attorney Hart and from him got permission to see Giuseppe Cuccio who is at present locked up in the Bergen County Jail.

After some minutes conversation he told me that one Angeloni who resides one block from Hudson Street, Hackensack, N. J. and is regarded as a man who never works, is a bomb thrower, anarchist and fire-brand, etc. He stated that this man Angeloni belongs to a gang of anarchists and bomb makers located at Passaic, Garfield and Patterson, N. J., also at 107th Street to 116th Street, New York between Second and Third Avenue. Angeloni's description is as follows: - and is almost identical with the description of the driver of the wagon which conveyed the explosives to Wall Street on the 16th of September last: - Italian, about 30 years, 5 ft. 6 in. stout no moustache, flat nose, dark complexioned, black hair, small black moustache, sometimes smooth face, dresses ordinary and speaks English well.

Cuccio states that the so-called Captains of these different gangs located in the above towns plan the work of destruction to be done and get others to do it. Angeloni has a brother in Garfield named Angelo Angeloni, who makes the bombs which are then transferred to a man named Fredo (last name not known) residing in Passai...

FACTS DEVELOPED:

Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent most of my time in and around Elizabeth St. and for some time watch the Blacksmith Shop at 205 Elizabeth St. and in the course of my watch did not notice anything unusual going on. Did not see the smaller one of the Di Grazia brothers, but noticed the big one working. I spent a little time in the Cafe at 261 Elizabeth St. talking to Lopinto, but learned nothing of importance there. In the evening I proceeded to 33 Second Ave., I. W. W. Headquarters and here met Colavechia and another named Trusco talking. He said, he had been in Stamford over the holidays; also, that his brother had been put in Quarantine and he had been unable to get him out, but expected to do so soon and ship him right up to his other brother in Michigan, because he has a ticket for that place already. We then went to the Automat on East 14th St. and spent the rest of the evening there. Up to date he has never made mention of the matter at hand, but he must eventually do so, sooner or later. At midnight I left and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

Referring to previous reports in the above matter, below is embodied further information, relative to some of the persons named on the above mentioned list.

C. GIOVANNINI — 83 Lakeview Avenue, Buffalo, N.Y. This man is unknown at this address. Two Italian families occupy this house, V. GENUTES lives in the lower flat and CARMILLA OREFEGO lives in the upper flat. Subject is not known to either of these families and inquiries in the neighborhood failed to disclose any information regarding him. The postal authorities have no record of his having been receiving mail at this address. He is not listed either in the city or telephone directory.

A. FLANNINI — 17 Marvin Street, is unknown at this address. This house is occupied by one, JOHN AMBROSE. FLANNINI, so far as I was able learn, is unknown in the neighborhood. He does not receive mail at this address and is not listed in either the city or the telephone directory.

PRIMO GUIDORI — 833 East Ferry Street is an Italian about 30 years of age and is a citizen of this country. He has conducted a grocery store that the corner of East Ferry and Kehr Streets for the past four years. He has a good reputation and so far as could be learned has no radical associates of any kind and is not inclined to be radical in his ideas.

Reference is made to report of Agent WILLIAM J. WEST, Boston, Mass., under date of Dec. 31, 1920.

At Beaverton, Ore., this agent, with the postmistress, went through all the registry receipts and money orders for August and September, 1920. We found that on Sept. 10, 1920, VALERI VANZI, bought a money order for $25.00, in favor of JOHN P. WHITE, and registered the same to him, to 40 Court St., Boston, Mass. This man is an attorney. On Aug. 2nd, 1920, he registered a letter to the same man. We compared the writing and find it is VANZI'S handwriting. He was not away more than three days at a time since coming here. VALERI VANZI has sold out and is now running a roadhouse four miles from Vancouver, Washington.

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent William J. West and in conformity with authority obtained in search warrant issued, Agent secured from the Hanover Street postal station, Boston, the following communications addressed to ALDINO FELICANI, 32-34 Battery Street, Boston, Mass., opened same at the office, copied, translated, re-sealed and returned to the postal superintendent for delivery. The following letters were secured:

An envelope postmarked Carlinville, Ill., Jan. 2nd, 1921, containing the following letter:

Dearest:

I received the "leaflets" printed in English yesterday, together with the letter addressed to the Local of U.M.W. of A. I will do my best, but I am quite certain that I will not be in the position to accomplish a great deal, on account of the autocracy of this Union. At the same time I will get in touch with some American and Polish Socialist with the purpose to raise more funds.

We have also received the second issue of "Agitation." Twenty copies are sufficient. We are but few Italians here. However, I will not burn the other copies. I will send them to other comrades. I will also send a few copies to Italy, for a possible advertisement in the Italian radical papers.

I am working at present with a friend of mine in order to interest the publisher of the "Searchlight," a weekly newspaper, organ of the Farmer Labor Party of Bloomington, Ill., of our agitation. My friend is very well known among the members of said organization, and he has promised me his support. I do not know if I will ever have any success.

S. G. B.
We are anarchists and we have no sympathizers in the Union, exception made of a few individuals who admire how we conduct our struggle against the enemy, in spite of everything. The friend I mentioned informed me that weeks ago the Searchlight contained an article concerning Sacco and Vanzetti. It would be very convenient to send more news directly to the newspaper. The address is: The Searchlight, 722-724 West Washington Street, Bloomington, Ill.

If you have the opportunity to see our two comrades give them my best regards. Best regards to you.

Dearest Felicani:

I have received the newspapers and the circulars of the Central Committee at Boston. I thank you. We hope that in the future you will not deprive us of your suggestions and documents.

The Sub-Committee at Chicago is obstinately working and we are hoping that besides the moral and financial help of the political groups, we will also have the support of all the non-political associations. These would certainly help the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti.

The local newspapers, exception made of "Il Proletario" and "L'Avanti!", till this date, have only reprinted the articles published by "La Notizia" of Boston, sent by you.

Sunday, Jan. 9th, we will hold the second Protest Meeting in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti, and we are certain that it will be a great one.

Red regards from President, Bobba and from

PORFIRIO PORFIRI.

Under date of January 3rd, 1921, HELEN WEST HELLER, of Canton, Ill., forwarded a money order in the amount of $1, to be used by the Defence Committee in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti.

Under date of January 5th, 1921, an unknown person forwarded a $2 bill. The envelope was postmarked New Haven, Conn.
Under date of January 4th, 1921, J. PIOVANO, Box 147, Lucerne Mines, Pa., forwarded a check on the Homer City National Bank, in the amount of $87.75, signed by D.L. TRONZPO together with the following letter:

Mr. F. R. Lopez and Mr. A. Felicani,
Sacco-Vanzetti Defence Committee,
32-34 Battery St., Boston, Mass.

Dear comrades:

About two weeks ago I received a plea of Sacco and Vanzetti from comrade A. Felicani of Boston, Mass. I referred the plea to the Socialist Branch of Homer City, Pa., which, after a short discussion elected ten persons for the purpose of collecting funds in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. Over $155 were collected, and sent by comrade FRONCAZI to Aldino Felicani Treasurer of the Defence Committee.

About a week ago I received a second plea for Sacco and Vanzetti through our secretary B. Wilson of Reading, Pa. This time I thought to refer the plea to the miners of the Local Union 2428. As circumstances prevented me to be present at the meeting before last, comrade JOE CONTI was kind enough to take the plea himself and have it presented before the miners. At the meeting it was decided to appoint two persons to raise funds in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti, on pay-day, that is on Friday, Dec. 29th, 1920.

The two persons elected were JOE CONTI and Herbert SHICK. They collected the sum of $87.75, which they have reported to-night at the regular meeting of the miners of Local Union 2428 of Lucerne, Pa. The members present appointed two officers to take the responsibility of sending the money collected to the treasurer of Sacco-Vanzetti Defence Committee. With the money they send their best wishes to the two heroes of labor and hopes to be able to greet them out soon.

We are ever fraternally yours,

Local Union of the U.M. of A.

Under date of January 3rd, 1921, M. SABINO, Box 74 Summitville, Ohio, forwarded a postal money order in the amount of $5, collected among few comrades of that locality.

Under date of January 3rd, 1921, Y. VANNI, Fayette City, Pa., sent a postal money order in the amount of $40.75, collected among members of the Society "Principe di Piemonte" of Fayette City, Pa.
While talking to a fellow whom I know as "BOCHO", and who I knew to be friendly at one time with RAY CLARK, mentioned in connection with the Wall Street Explosion, I asked what he thought of the Wall Street matter and if he thought Clark had any connection with it, and he said "Yes, I do believe it was them Pollocks from Zarako's Union who did it. I was with Brindell in the Dock Builders Union, as was Clark. Those Pollocks are old hands at it. What does Clark or any of us know about tearing down a house. Those Pollocks have worked at this many years, they are experienced, they can do more work and easier, they know how, and when Brindell came along with the new union, that got their nerve, as well as the $10 they were compelled to pay and the crowd going around beating them."

I then asked him who he thought could have done it, and he said he believed it was some one in Local 96 of the old union. He further said that those Pollocks were in it all their lives, knew their business, and when a fellow like Clark and the rest of the crowd forced the new union on them, together with the $10.00 they had to pay, that could have forced them to "pull off that bomb stunt".

I learned that Bocho is working for a barrel dealer, buying up old barrels.
Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today. I proceeded to the cafe at 261 Elizabeth St. and here found Cocky Brown talking to Lopinto the proprietor. There were no others in the cafe. They talked of things in general and the conditions prevailing today and the activities of the Police, saying "Why don't they look in the right place and leave us alone". They told how two central office men were in there last evening and searched everyone in the place. I left soon after. In the evening I proceeded to the I. W. W. Headquarters and here learned from Beyer the Defense Secretary that they were going to hold the hall for another month, as they were unable to secure a new place as yet. I met Trusco, an Italian member, and he informed me that the Italian convention of the I. W. W. would be held Saturday at 23 Carroll St., Brooklyn. After which I left and discontinued for the day.
Continuing on this matter, I beg to report the following in the course of my operations today.

I spent some time in the vicinity of the Blacksmith Shop at 205 Elizabeth St. and in the course of my watch, at intervals I saw a couple of men taking horses in to be shoed. Outside of that there was nothing of importance that took place.

In the evening I proceeded to the Italian Federation of Bakers at 123 West 15th St. and here found Baldazzi using the typewriter. He was glad to see me and told me that he had just taken an Anarchist by the name of Benedetti to a hospital as this man had just arrived from Italy having been forced to leave there on account of being persecuted by the authorities. He said, "I am going to have him speak at the mass meeting at the Rand School on January 23rd." He also informed me that he has a lady friend on 14th St. somewhere, who has meetings in her house of Communists. I will try to learn who this woman is. He asked me to see him again as he wants me to help him out in arrangements for the coming meeting. I then left him and discontinued for the day.

Respectfully,

Pursuant to instructions from Special Agent West, and in conformity with authority contained in search warrants issued, Agent secured the following mail at Hanover Street Postal Station, addressed to "ALDINO FELICANI, 32 Battery St., Boston, Mass.," had same opened, copied and returned to Superintendent of Postal Station for delivery.

Translations were made by Agent Di Lillo:

"DEAREST FELICANI:

I enclose herewith $3.50 to be used for the defence of our two innocent comrades Sacco and Vanzetti. On Dec. 20th took place a meeting of stonecutters at Barre. After discussing local facts, we brought before the audience the case and the agitation in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. ANGELO TRUEBA, with proper words, illustrated the situation of the two prisoners, and he knew how to impress the American element, till then ignorant of the conspiracy which this democratic country is framing up against conscientious workers.

Trueba spoke in English in favor of all political victims. The members of the union proposed the §15 be sent to the Defence Committee. The cashier was instructed to do so."

SAN VALETTO, 97 Division Street, Waterbury, Conn., forwarded check §400, Waterbury Trust Company, signed "ORAZIO SANTOPIERRO" in the amount of §12, and wrote as follows:

"Dear Comrade:

I have read in "Il Proletario" as well as in "Il Martello" the case of Sacco and Vanzetti. And I feel that it is my duty to help the two comrades at present in the hands of the Unjust. We produce everything but we are robbed by modern Justice of everything we produce. They only leave us sufficient air to breathe. If they could, they would take the air away from us. But some day God Proletariat will wake up and there will happen to all these masters the same thing that happened in Russia where princes and similis were sent to hell.

Comrades, we can do our duty even if we do not possess the same amount of science. It is our duty to stand for those comrades who are fighting for us. I regret that I am an ignorant and I can hardly express my ideas with the pen. But I will never fail to talk to my fellow workers with whom I come in contact. I do not fear anyone because the truth cannot be hidden.

Best regards and wishes for success."

O. BIANCHI, Box 370, Beverly, Mass., wrote relative to a play to be given at the Dreamland Theatre, Beverly, Mass., on Jan.8, on behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti.

ETTORE GIANNINI, the well known anarchist, writes from 206 Oak Street, Lawrence, Mass., on December 21st, as follows:

"Dearest Felicani:

I do my best to wake up the different factions of Lawrence in favor of our two dears, Sacco and Vanzetti, and it seems to me that I am having some success. There is a terrible struggle in this town between Social Democrats (Socialist Party) and Syndicalists (Sacco-Vanzetti Committee) and I am doing the best I can in order to trace a right path before them leading to a good work in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. In the meantime you ought to do me a favor. You ought to publish in La Notizia, as soon as possible, the various amounts received from Lawrence, Mass., because they all claim that they have done very much for the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti."
Be notified that I need very bad a comrade who could speak English. He must speak on "Anarchy" on Dec. 25th, in the local of the Young Men's International Club of Lawrence. The members of this club are all radicals, but they do not know anything. This is the reason why I was invited to lead a discussion on "Anarchy". If the discussion was to be carried on in Italian I would have accepted, but I cannot accept if the discussion is in English. Therefore I beg you to send either comrade Lopez or somebody else. Don't forget that he must be an Anarchist Communist. This is a very good propaganda for our faith and at the same time for Sacco and Vanzetti. The second favor I asked is more important that the first. Do it. I will be only able to pay the traveling expenses. Write soon. Regards.

J. MORO, 307 River Street, Haverhill, Mass., wrote as follows:

Dear Felicani:

I have read in La Notizia that Abate should speak in this town on the 24th inst. If you can, send him in other localities, for the reason of the facts that the colony of Haverhill has been sufficiently exploited. You ought also consider that we do not work since last May. Besides that we do not know the orator, and we do not know how good he is. The Christmas Eve is a bad day for any meeting. Nobody would go.

Yesterday I was paid a visit by an American who came to me under the name of a reporter of the Federated Press, and he asked me if I knew anybody working in the factories at Bridgewater and So. Braintree who could be of any help for the defence. Cordial regards.

The person named ABATE referred to above is the Editor of "LA CONQUISTA" of Philadelphia. The "representative of the Federated Press" above referred to is John Nicola Beffell of the New York Call, who is doing publicity work for the Defence Committee for Sacco and Vanzetti.

Under date of December 25th, MRS. ANNA M. DAVIS, 44 Edgehill Road, Brookline, Mass., one of the so-called intellectual radicals, forwarded check #797, Brookline Trust Co., in the amount of $10.
AGOSTINO AGOSTINI, 1219 Main Street, Duryea, Pa., forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order, Office #40879, Serial #35405, in the amount of $15.50, and wrote as follows:

Dear Comrade:

I enclose herewith $15 for the defence of our two comrades Sacco and Vanzetti. $11.50 of the enclosed amount is the net profit of a roasted pig. I wish I could have in my hands other domestic pigs...like the judges of Boston, Mass. I would broil them. The other contributors are: Serafino Francesco $1, Lasciohi Tomi $1, Armando Bugari $1, Serafino Domenico $1.

One of my best regards to the comrades who are in jail at Boston, Mass. All the comrades ought to do their duty to defeat the American democracy.

Best regards to everybody.

ZANCHELLO, who is on a speaking tour of the middle west on behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti, writes under date of December 17th, 9/o Battista Tasiani. Box 168, Staunton, Ill, as follows:

"Dear Felicani:

Send, as soon as possible, 400 circulars in English at Staunton, Ill. The circulars will be spread among the miners of these localities. The object is to inform the miners concerning the case and the agitation. Knowing that the miners will propose that funds be sent to the Defence Committee by their local unions. They could also press on the local unions, as the miners of Taylor Spring have done, to send telegrams of protest to the Governor of Massachusetts. It is understood that such a method is against our tactics, but it is necessary to take what we get. You will also send circulars in other centers.

The agitation here is spreading itself in a wonderful manner, thanks must be given to the activities of these comrades. To tell you the truth, I am optimistic now. I wasn't feeling the same way when I left Boston. Don't give any attention to the insinuations of a few persons. Tell the same to Guadagni. You have got the courage and the spirit to go forward and you will have forever the gratitude of Sacco and Vanzetti.

Don't forget that Sacco and Vanzetti are our friends and our comrades. Always yours,

FRANK BRANCAZI, Box 25, Waterman, Indiana County, Pa., under date of December 20th, forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order #42269, S.N. 94126, in the amount of $100, and wrote as follows:
Dear Felicani:—

Having read in the "Proletario" and other newspapers the cowardly and criminal frame-up of this dirty society, having for its object to cut the existence of our two best comrades, Sacco and Vanzetti, we have constituted in Homer City a sub-committee in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti and have collected among comrades $157.25, which I enclose herewith.

Fraternally yours,

Yours for the cause,

Frank Brancazi.

Under date of December 24th, F. ANTIPOMARIO, 165 Ludlam Street, Lowell, Mass., wrote Felicani asking for the services of a speaker for a public protest meeting on January 1st.

Under date of December 22nd, F. TELPORELLI, Box 91, Emeigh, Penn., wrote Felicani, asking for contribution blanks and copies of the paper "L'AGITAZIONE" and informing that $57.25 had been collected for the Defense Fund.

Under date of December 21st, C. ZANCHELLO, whose address was then, Box 115, Carlinville, Ill., forwarded check on the banking house of C.H.G. ANDERSON, Carlinville, Ill., in the amount of $95, and wrote as follows:

Dearest:

I enclose herewith a check for $95. It isn't much but it will be more in the future, if you will help the comrades. Send as soon as possible 200 copies of the circulars printed in English to Staunton, Benld, Carlinville, Farmington, Ill., respectively. They will be able to obtain funds from their local unions and at the same time they will circulate the leaflets among the masses to spread the agitation.

I believe you have received more money from these parts of the country besides the money I am sending you know. They have promised me to organize dances, performances, etc., in favor of the movement. I believe I have interested them. I will be in Chicago the 26th, where a great feast will be held in favor of the defense, and I hope will have a great success. Best regards.

Under date of December 24th, the Rev. and Mrs. Albert
FARR of Flagstone, N. J., forwarded check on the First National Bank, Madison, N. J., in the amount of $1.00.

Under date of December 23d, ANGELO CALDERARA, Treasurer of the Granite Cutters International Association, Barre, Vt., forwarded check in the amount of $15.

E. TOISELLI, 2520 G Street, Granite City, Ill., under date of December 27th, forwarded U.S.P.O. Money Order in the amount of $15, which he collected in Granite City.

Under date of December 26th, PASQUALE O'ALESSIO, Box 223 Nashwauk, Minn., requested contribution blanks for the purposes of collection.

This matter is now considered CLOSED.

E. H. Hailand, Recording Secretary,

Hamilton Council No. 77,

Jr. O. U. A. M.,

New York City.

Dear Sir:

I wish to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your letter of December 16th to which you attach the resolution adopted by Hamilton Council No. 77 of the Jr. O. U. A. M., New York State, at the meeting of November 12, 1920 in which resolution you went on record as deploiring the horrible results of the bomb explosion in New York City on September 16, 1920.

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

Chief, 2/12/205 - H.H.
At Rochester, New York.

Referring to my report for December 30th in above matter, I endeavored to locate CALLO, but was unable to do so. I did learn, however, that he is employed by the Van Dyke Taxi-cab Company as an investigator and informant. His duty is to keep tabs on the Van Dyke Taxicabs and drivers. His salary is $50 per week. Mr. Van Dyke states that since he has been in his service, he has done good work for him. He also states that he knows that subject was in New York once last summer for a few days, but since that time does not know whether he has been out of the city or not; also that his duties are such that he could be away a day or two without the company knowing it. I therefore arranged to have subject come to the office for the purpose of making a statement. While I was absent from the city on other business subject came to the office on the 6th instant, and his statement, which is attached herewith, was taken by Agent in Charge Blackmon, and is self explanatory.

From subject's statement it will be seen that John T. Shannon was formerly employed by the Van Dyke Taxi-cab Company, and was discharged for stealing, upon evidence furnished by CALLO.
which would furnish a reason for Shannon making such statement in order to get even. It has also been learned that Shannon's reputation is not very good; that he was not at any time officially connected with the prohibition enforcement agent's office or in the Government employ, but that he was acting as an informant for them.

The United States Grand Jury is now in session in Buffalo and they are investigating conditions in connection with alleged violations of the Volstead Act; also of the enforcement officers.

Shannon has been accused of accepting money after impersonating an enforcement agent, and after making raids and arrests, as such, and the Grand Jury is considering his case. As his reputation is not good and as some of his associates consider him dopey and not normal mentally, I am of the opinion that no credence should be placed in his statement, so far as the Wall Street Explosion is concerned.

Further information will be reported.

To be continued.
Q. What is your full name?
A. Benjamin Callo.

Q. Where do you work?
A. For the Van Dyke Taxi Company.

Q. How old are you?
A. 26.

Q. How long have you lived in Buffalo?
A. Fourteen or fifteen years.

Q. Do your people live here?
A. My mother is dead, but my father lives here.

Q. How long have you been working for the Van Dyke people?
A. Since sometime last May.

Q. What did you do before that?
A. Drove taxi cabs, I had my own cars.

Q. Since you have been working for the Van Dyke people have you been out of the city?
A. Yes, I have several times, I went to the races in Canada last summer and I have been on trips to New York and Detroit, just on short trips I never stayed away very long.

Q. On what occasions since last May have you been in New York?
A. Last June, a friend of mine got married and we went to New York on a little trip, I think we were gone about four days.

Q. Have you been there since?
A. Yes, I just came back from New York this morning, I went down there to visit a friend of mine whose wife died just a little while ago, and who has been sick himself. His name is Tommie Dyke.

Q. Have you been in New York any other times since last May?
A. No.

Q. You were not there in September?
A. No.

Q. Do you remember on about September 17th, meeting two Italians in the Exchange Street Depot after train #41 from New York and stating to them that you had just come back from New York?
A. No.
Q. Do you recall the explosion in Wall Street, which occurred in September of last year - 1920?
A. Yes, I remember reading about it in the paper. I think I was in Toronto at the races at the time.

Q. Do you recall along about the middle of last September, talking with two Italians in the Exchange Street Station about this explosion in Wall Street?
A. I do not remember.

Q. Do you recall telling two Italians fellows in the Exchange Street station, about the middle of September or shortly after that explosion in New York, that you had just come from New York City and that the Department of Justice were all up in the air about the bomb explosion and that if they knew as much about it as you did, it wouldn't take long to solve the mystery?
A. I do not remember anything of the kind, whatever.

Q. If I should tell you that a man who claims to have overheard this conversation, heard you make that statement would your memory be refreshed?
A. No.

Q. Do you remember talking with a man near the Exchange Street Station about a man in New York having jumped from a window in the building in which the Department of Justice has its offices, in New York?
A. No, I don't know very much about New York. I only know about three streets.

Q. You never told anyone that there were a couple of "silent" men waiting for this man who was being kept a prisoner in an office in New York and that in case he came out of there alive they would have "got" him, but he committed suicide by jumping from the window?
A. No.

Q. Have you every furnished any information of any kind to any government officials?
A. No.

Q. Did you ever give any information to any Enforcement Agent relative to whiskey, at any time?
A. There is a fellow who used to work for the VanDyke Taxi Co., by the name of Spike Shannon, he hangs around with the enforcement fellows now, but I don't think he is an Agent. I fired him once from the VanDyke Company for stealing. He was telling me one time, sometime ago, about the things the enforcement officers were pulling and he mentioned the name of a fellow whom he said they were going after, said that they almost got him, and I remember saying to him, that if that fellow was caught, he deserved it. I never gave him any information other than that. I never had a great deal to say to Shannon, you know he has got a big mouth. As I said before he worked for us but we couldn't keep him because he was not honest, he used to send bills to people who had never ridden with him for $100 or so taxicab hire.

Q. How long have you known this man Shannon?
A. I think I met him last June. He was out of work when I was introduced to him and I gave him a job but we could not keep him. Sometimes I think that he isn't quite right in his head. Mr. Van Dyke will tell you the same thing. He will do something wrong and knowing that you have seen him do it, if you call it to his attention he will deny that he did it.

Q. Have you ever been in trouble with the authorities?
A. A little, for getting drunk and for fighting, nothing serious.

Q. Did you ever know or hear of a fellow by the name of Maggio, in New York?
A. No. The only people I know in New York are the Dykes.

Q. Do you know a fellow in Buffalo by the name of Marco?
A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall having had any conversation, such as I have outlined to you, with this man?
A. No.

Q. Do you know a fellow by the name of Parlato who is sometimes known as Jackie Rogers?
A. Yes, he used to work for us. He is in Auburn doing a seven to fifteen sentence, he got mixed up in a murder.

Q. Do you know a fellow in New York by the name of Dyke?
A. Yes, that is the fellow I have just been in New York to visit, Tommie Dyke. I know all of the Dyke boys. Tommie runs a restaurant at Broome St., and the Bowery in New York.

Q. Do you know a fellow called Red Wilson?
A. No, last night before I started home from New York I met a fellow whom they called "Red", but I don't know his last name. ---- Yes, I do too know a Red Wilson, he's a taxi driver and used to work for us here in Buffalo. He doesn't work for us any more, I saw him about a week ago.

Q. Can you recall where you were about the seventeenth of September?
A. I can't recall exactly. It seems to me that I was in Toronto at a racing meet at about that time, but I don't know the exact date.
At Olivet, S. D.

Agent following receipt of letter from Division Superintendent Arthur T. Bagley, dated Kansas City, Dec. 21, with enclosure of letter from Division superintendent Brennan Chicago, requesting investigation of disposition made of a shipment of 75 lbs. 75% blasting gelatine by the Aetna Explosives Co., to one WM. RAMES, Olivet, S. D., proceeded to Olivet, S. D., and there interviewed WM. RAMES, a farmer who states that he ordered 75 lbs. of dynamite last spring from a firm in St. Paul, Minn., and had it shipped to Marion Jct., S. D. That the reason he didn't ship the goods to his nearest railroad station, Menno, S. D., is that he needed the dynamite badly and on account of the caps and dynamite being shipped in two different cars and would have to been re-loaded at Marion. That he drove to Marion Jct., in his Ford car and received the shipment and took it to his farm. That he had some stump land he wanted to plow in the spring and used the dynamite to blow the stumps and trees. That he only used 25 lbs. of said shipment of dynamite and that some one stole the remaining 50 lbs. from him while he was away from the farm, threshing, and that he had to buy some more dynamite and did buy 50 lbs. from the firm DEWITT Bros. MENNO, S. D. That he still has a good quantity of said dynamite on hand and intents to use same to split large trees for fire wood this winter.

Agent made further inquiry in the vicinity of Olivet, S. D. and learned from several people that WM. RAMES did use dynamite to blow up stumps last spring and that a considerable amount blasting has been done in the vicinity last spring in building
In Re: BOMB EXPLOSION IN NEW YORK, SEP. 16, 1920—SPECIAL INVESTIGATION OF PURCHASERS OF BLASTING GELATINE:

FACTS DEVELOPED:

AT CHICAGO, ILL. AND OLIVET, S.D.

1. HUEBGEN & SINNOFF, Contractors, 8933 Burley Ave., Chicago, Ill.

   August 21, 1920; 500 pounds, 75% blasting gelatine.

   This refers to the report made on the Illinois Steel Co. in paragraph 2, Page 3, of Agent's report for December 13, 1920, and the above shipment of 500 pounds of blasting gelatine is included in the 24,950 pounds accounted for by the Illinois Steel Company.

   CHRIST HUEBGEN, 8933 Burley Ave., and FRED. SINNOFF, 8944 Burley Ave., being interviewed, stated that the 500 pounds of Dynamite as well as all other shipments received by them either directly or in care of the Illinois Steel Company, were used for blasting salamanders and slacks for the Illinois Steel Co.; that all shipments of Dynamite are being handled by the Safety Department of the Illinois Steel Company and that the contractors have to account for every stick of Dynamite which they receive from the Department.—With reference to Agent's previous call on SINNOFF, when Agent found him absent from the city, as per Agent's report for December 13, 1920, paragraph 3, page 3, Sinnhoff stated that Huebgen and himself had just returned from Pittsburgh, Pa., where they were engaged in blasting salamanders for the Carnegie Steel Company; that 800 pounds of 75% blasting gelatine were ordered for this job from the Du Pont Powder Co., of which amount, 650 pounds and 42 sticks were used up, and 100 pounds and 50 sticks were left in charge of the Carnegie Steel Co., to return it to the Dupont Powder Co.

2. S. B. GEIGER, 37 West Van Buren St. Chicago, Ill. 84473

July 23, 1920; 50 pounds, blasting gelatine 75%.

This refers to paragraph 4, page 2, of Agent’s report for December 13, 1920, reading as follows:

"The records of this firm also shows that on July 26, 1920, under invoice # 7292, 50 pounds of Keystone Gelatine Dynamite, 75%, were purchased from the Aetna, 25 lbs. of which were used at the Waukeegan Pure Ice Company’s plant at Waukeegan, Ill., and 25 lbs. at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops, at Garrett, Ill., for boring purposes. Mr. Geiger finally stated that his firm buys all the explosives from the Aetna, and that he obtains every order personally from the Lambert, Ill., plant of the Aetna Explosives Company."

3. WM. RAMES, Agriculturist, Olivet, S. Dakota;

May 17, 1920; 75 pounds, 75% blasting gelatine.

This matter was referred to the Division Superintendent at Kansas City, Mo., on December 20, 1920. The following report of Agent Werner Hanni of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, dated Jan. 3, 1921 was received at this office this afternoon:

"Agent proceeded to Olivet, S. D., and there interviewed WM. RAMES, a farmer, who states that he ordered 75 lbs. of dynamite last spring from a firm in St. Paul, Minn., and had it shipped to Marion Jct., S. D. That the reason he didn’t ship the goods to his nearest railroad station, Menno, S. D., is that he needed the dynamite badly and on account of the caps and dynamite being shipped in two different cars and would have to be reloaded at Marion. That he drove to Marion Jct. in his Ford car and received the shipment and took it to his farm. That he had some stump land he wanted to plow in the spring and used the dynamite to blow the stumps and trees. That he only used 25 lbs. of said shipment of dynamite and that some one stole the remaining 50 pounds from him while he was away from the farm, threshing, and that he had to buy some more dynamite and did buy 50 lbs. from the firm DEWITT BROS., Menno, S. D. That he still has a good quantity of said dynamite on hand and intends to use same to split large trees for firewood this winter. Agent made further inquiry in the vicinity of Olivet, S. D., and learned from several people that W. RAMES did use dynamite to blow up stumps last spring and that a considerable amount of blasting gas been done in the vicinity last spring in building roads. The reputation of RAMES Agent finds to be a splendid one."

The delay in receiving this report accounts for the delay in complying with the letter of Director FLYNN of Dec. 17, 1920.

New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing herewith copy of a report made by Agent Ramsdell at Philadelphia in re one GABRIEL TOAD of Nesquehoning, Pa.

As you will note from the report on October 14th, 1920 there was found in the home of subject 7 sticks of dynamite, 4 boxes of blasting caps and a blasting battery. It appears from the report that the facts in this case were presented by the United States Attorney at Scranton to the Federal Grand Jury at Harrisburg, Pa., but the bill was ignored. However, Toad is now being held by the Pennsylvania State authorities.

This report is forwarded in order that same may be called to the attention of Director Flynn.

Very truly yours,

Chief.

At Lansford and Nesquehoning, Penna:

Supplementing my report on subject of December 9th, agent called on J. W. LONG Chief of Police of the LEHIGH COAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY at Lansford, Penna., and conferred with officer CHARLES BELL who on October 14th 1920, found in the home of subject, seven sticks of dynamite and four boxes of blasting caps and about 200 lbs. of carbide and a blasting battery.

The subject has been employed by JOSEPH PANCHFRI a rock contractor for the L. C. & NAVIGATION COMPANY and agent was informed by Office Bell that the blasting battery found in the home of subject has been missing since July 1920 but it is impossible to find out where the dynamite came from as it is possible for the miners to take out of the mines a stick or two of dynamite and in this way accumulate a supply.

The subject does not have any use for dynamite outside the mines. As this case was referred to the U.S. Attorney at Scranton who presented the facts to the recent Federal Grand Jury at Harrisburg PA., but the Grand Jury ignored the bill.

Agent got in communication with LT. SNYDER of Penna. State Police at Pottsville who assigned Sergt. Harrison Lantz to make an investigation of this case to find out if there had been a violation of the Penna. State Law. With Sergt. Lantz and Officer Bell, I went to the home of GABRIEL TOAD and he made the following statement:

Subject was born in Austria, aged 33 years; came to

COPY TO: 3-Wash; 1-Philadelphia
United States 1907 – is not a naturalized citizen; purchased $250.00 worth of Liberty Bonds; He stated he had sold these bonds. He stated that he never saw any of explosives found in his home and did not know where they came from. There is no entrance to the cellar of TOAD’S home except through the kitchen of his home.

SERG. LANTZ decided there was a violation of Act 286-July 1st 1919 of Penna. State Law, in having this dynamite and caps in TOAD’S possession and he put TOAD under arrest and he was given a hearing before SQUIRE W. R. WATKINS of Nesquehoning, PA., and held in $500.00 Bail.

There is a possibility of the dynamite and caps being in possession of TOAD prior to the Wall Street Explosion but agent does not see any way of proving it.

The subject admits that he had a boader who was in his home in March – his name was FRANK HAWATH. He stated that this man worked in Newtown for a contractor.

Officer Bell of the LEHIGH VALLEY VOAL & NAVIGATION COMPANY Police, made an investigation and he could not find any men by this man working for a contractor in the mines of the District.

INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED:
At 8:00 A. M. I left for Hackensack, N. J. and arrived there about 10:00 A. M. Went to the office of Prosecutor Hart, who I was informed, was out of town for the day. I then saw the Assistant Prosecutor, Mr. McCarthy, and talked the Cuccio matter over with him, stating that it was the desire of the Director of this Bureau that, if possible, Cuccio be liberated from jail for the purpose of cooperating with us in the investigation of the Wall Street explosion. Mr. McCarthy thought that this could be done, but stated he would have to talk the matter over with Prosecutor Hart, which he would do during the afternoon as he expected to have a conversation over the phone with him. Subsequent to this conversation the matter of liberating Cuccio will be taken up with the Judge and the Sheriff so that the matter could be amicably arranged, and he would then phone you of the result, which would be late during the afternoon or during the forenoon of tomorrow (11th instant).

I then went to the jail and had a long talk with Cuccio, who seems to be very willing to come to New York and work under your instructions in ferreting out the Wall Street Bomb gang. He seems to know Morella and other leaders of the blackhand gang in New York, Brooklyn and different towns in New Jersey and expected to get all the information and locate this gang within two weeks after he starts to work. He stated that in his opinion the Wall Street explosion was an inside job, that is, that the explosion was desired and paid for by someone outside of the gang itself.

I then went to the vicinity of 113 Grove Street and located the residence of suspect Nuncio Anzelloni. I then went to the post-office and saw Assistant Postmaster Shay and arranged with him for a room in the building should we need it later on.

I returned to New York at 4:45 P. M. and phoned this office and was informed that no telephone message had been received from Hackensack.
With reference to my report in above matter for January 7, 1921, I made further investigation as follows:

The list of fireworks, explosives, etc., enumerated in previous report is correct. The articles carried in the local papers in regard to same exaggerated the amount of powder found. Acting under instructions from the Chief of Police in Rochester, Property Clerk Foley threw all of the explosives in the Genesee River in Rochester. There is no doubt but what all of the powder and other material came from the Antonelli Fire Works Company, where subject had been employed. The black powder is used by them in the manufacture of fireworks. I examined all of the effects of subject but nothing incriminating was found. There were a few addresses of local people, considered unimportant.

I also secured police record of such, which follows:

August 6, 1908 - sentenced to 60 days in Monroe County Penitentiary - petty larceny.
Exact date not recorded.
Jan. 7, 1909 - arrested on charges of carrying concealed weapon.
Jan. 6, 1910 - sentenced from Rochester to Elmira Reformatory, 5 years; grand larceny, second degree; transferred from Elmira Reformatory to Dannamora Hospital July 16, 1910.
Jan. 16, 1917 - 4 months Monroe County Penitentiary for carrying gun.
As it has been proven that subject was at work in Rochester at the time of the Wall Street Explosion, September 16th, I feel he was in no way connected with this matter.

FACTS DEVELOPED:
At Rochester, New York.

Referring to my report for December 30th in above matter, I endeavored to locate CALLO, but was unable to do so. I did learn, however, that he is employed by the Van Dyke Taxi-cab Company as an investigator and informant. His duty is to keep tabs on these Van Dyke Taxicabs and drivers. His salary is $50 per week. Mr. Van Dyke states that since he has been in his service, he has done good work for him. He also states that he knows that subject was in New York once last summer for a few days, but since that time does not know whether he has been out of the city or not; also that his duties are such that he could be away a day or two without the company knowing it. I therefore arranged to have subject come to the office for the purpose of making a statement. While I was absent from the city on other business subject came to the office on the 6th instant, and his statement, which is attached herewith, was taken by Agent in Charge Blackmon, and is self explanatory.

From subject's statement it will be seen that John T. Shannon was formerly employed by the Van Dyke Taxi-cab Company, and was discharged for stealing. Upon evidence furnished by CALLO which would furnish a reason for Shannon making such statement in order to get even. It has also been learned that Shannon’s reputation is not very good; that he was not at any time officially connected with the prohibition enforcement agent’s office or in the Government employ, but that he was acting as an informant for them.

The United States Grand Jury is now in session in Buffalo and they are investigating conditions in connection with alleged violations of the Volstead Act; also of the enforcement officers.

Shannon has been accused of accepting money after impersonating an enforcement agent, and after making raids and arrests, as such, and the Grand Jury is considering his case. As his reputation is not good and as some of his associates consider him dopey and not normal mentally, I am of the opinion that no credence should be placed in his statement, so far as the Wall Street explosion is concerned.

Further information will be reported.

To be continued.
Continuing operations in this matter, and in view of report submitted by Agent F. G. Spellacy relative to suspicious circumstances surrounding the applicant's present activities, I proceeded, in company with Agents Spellacy and Krüger, to 175 - 10th Ave., Schenectady, N.Y. Shortly after 10:00 P.M., we knocked at the door of BARBUTO'S flat at the above address, but received no response. A card appeared on the side of the door jamb:

"Please leave my groceries at 175 - 10th Ave. down stairs.

S. Barbuto."

While we were making an inspection of the hallway, someone from inside BARBUTO'S flat called out asking, "Who is there?", in fairly good English. A response was made which had the effect of an attempt being made by the persons in the BARBUTO flat to open the door. After fussing with the lock for two or three minutes, an explanation was made to the effect that there was something the matter with the lock; that the door could not be opened. In view of the somewhat suspicious delay, Agent Spellacy and I took up positions on opposite sides of the house intending to watch over the front and rear; this being possible as the house is triangular shape and not more than forty feet deep at the greatest dimension. Almost immediately a man appeared at one of the windows of the BARBUTO flat and invited us to come up and going back to the hall, we found that the door had been opened. We made a thorough examination of the contents of the flat and found nothing of a suspicious nature other than the possibilities suggested by a work table with a number of clock movements; also a number of watches evidently in process of being repaired.

BARBUTO stated that he had been in the fireworks business all his life — remarked that he was "almost born in a fireworks factory in Italy". He stated that he had been employed in Schenectady by the Schenectady Fireworks Company; also by HENRY BOTTINI, fireworks manufacturer at 803 Congress Street, Schenectady, N.Y. He had on hand a considerable quantity of correspondence with Italians and with Italian Societies, all indicating that he expected to be in a position to supply fireworks for Italian festivals and celebrations in the near future; also blue return envelopes with the name, "Ideal European Fireworks Company, Crane Street, Schenectady, N.Y., P. O. Box 15". BARBUTO stated that he intended to go into business for himself under the name, "Ideal European Fireworks Company". In explanation of the fact that he had apparently been in a position to supply fireworks for some months past, he stated that whenever an order came in, he could fill it by purchasing from one of the existing fireworks companies in Schenectady. (It seems quite unlikely that there would be much profit in transactions of this kind unless BARBUTO acted as a "fence" handling fireworks and explosives obtained by dishonest employees of the fireworks concerns where he had been employed formerly. His record will be thoroughly checked up along this line.) BARBUTO was unable to make any satisfactory explanation as to how and why he went into the decidedly technical business of repairing clocks and watches; this in despite of his statement that he had been engaged from childhood up to the present time (he is about 37 years of age) as a workman in fireworks factories.

A number of questions were asked. BARBUTO for the purpose of leaving no doubt as to the nature of the inspection - whether City Fire Department, county or state authorities. He displayed a letter from the Bureau of Mines as evidence that he had applied for a Government permit to handle explosives for the purpose of manufacturing fireworks.

I took a number of slips from the table which appeared to be formulas (in the Italian language) of explosive combinations. On translation, this has been verified. (See report by Special Agent Boyd). Original slips herewith attached.

From his own admissions and from documents and letters in his possession, it appears that BARBUTO has several aliases - SALVATORE ANTONIO BARBUTO - SALVATORE ANTONIO CESARE - BARBER - SALVATORE BARBERO.

Although nothing in the way of real evidence against BARBUTO was discovered in this inspection, it seems advisable as a matter of ordinary precaution to place this man on the office list of suspects. The principal reasons favoring this is the coincidence of this man's knowledge of clock work mechanisms with an expert knowledge of explosives; the suspicious delay in opening the door, presumably in constant use; the fact that he has apparently been dealing in fireworks although not holding a Government permit to manufacture fireworks. This man is of the alert, intelligent type but with a peculiarly repellent personality.

Agent would recommend that no favorable action be taken in the matter of granting him a permit until this office has had further opportunity to investigate his record and present activities.

New York Special Investigator reports:

New York, Sunday Jan. 9, 1921.

At 9.30 A.M. I left for Newark and there took a car for Paterson, where I proceeded to Van Houten Street and met Mr. Halcomb. He is an Executive board member of the Essex District of the Communist Party.

I had a long talk with him about the fight of the Radicals in Jersey State and he also informed me that Mr. Barber was very active in this district last summer.

I left him and met Mr. John Dovok, and we went for a walk through Paterson, finally going into a restaurant. I learned that a horse and wagon was bought from a junk man and the wagon was broken. Barber and other persons fixed the wagon with new lumber and painted the new lumber the same color the wagon was before. Dovok heard this from Mr. Barber himself. I asked him where Barber is now but he did not know. He said that a Mr. Hueben of Trenton would know.

I then took a car to Trenton and had a very hard time locating Mr. Hueben. Finally, at the Soviet Bureau, I saw Mr. Cohen the Secretary of the Party, and he told me that I will meet Mr. Hueben in a very short time, at the headquarters of the party.
At about 8 P.M. there was a lecture at the headquarters and Mr. Kueben came up. I had a long conversation with him and he told me that Barber was in Trenton for a long time. He was even Secretary of the Communist groups, but left for Detroit, Michigan and is now working in an automobile shop. He also informed me that the movement of the Communist Party and the O.B.U. is very good in the Jersey district. In a very short time, they expect to show what they can do to the Capitalist class.

I discontinued and returned to New York at 1:15 A.M.
Continuing reports in this matter, acting under instructions of Agent in Charge G.O. Holdridge, Agent called on MR. JOSEPH VIGNOLI, a very influential and reliable Italian, who conducts a grocery store at Albany, N.Y., in an effort to have certain papers translated which were found among BARBUTO'S effects when search of his quarters was made. VIGNOLI was unable to translate these papers but referred Agent to his brother-in-law, CARRY CAPERBELLO, employed in the State Civil Service Department of the State of New York, who MR. VIGNOLI claimed could be trusted. Agent called at the State Civil Service Department but learned that CARRY CAPERBELLO was absent on sick leave and no doubt, would be absent for a week or more. Agent being anxious to have these papers translated, made an appointment to meet MR. FRAZI, the station house keeper at the First Precinct Police Station at Albany, N.Y., a city employee, who often acts as interpreter for the Police Department and Judges of the City Court. Agent met MR. FRAZI, who, after looking over the newspaper in Agent's possession, said that the paper contained nothing of a radical or suspicious nature. That the paper was printed in Springfield, Mass. Friday, Dec. 31st, 1929, at the office of this newspaper which was at 193 Chestnut St., Springfield, Mass. and that newspaper was mailed from Springfield, Mass. under permit 7617 filed in the postoffice at Springfield, Mass. MR. FRAZI examined the five slips of paper which was also found in BARBUTO'S quarters and one of the papers appeared to be a time slip of some workman which read as follows: Heading reads: "Mixed his powder or formula:"

"Monday, arrived 8 A.M., went away 9 A.M. Tuesday, arrived 7:45 A.M. I colored the bomb. Wednesday, arrived 7:45 A.M. I loaded up 250 shot. Thursday, arrived 7:30 A.M., did up some -" but MR. FRANI was unable to tell me the word that completed this sentence owing to bad writing and spelling. The other four slips of paper contained about twelve receipts or formulas for the manufacture of fire works of various shapes and design also aerial bombs. The formulas told how many inches of powder and coloring were required to make a certain set piece and how much green coloring and how much red coloring to make stars and windmill set pieces. MR. FRANI also says that all of these twelve receipts were practically the same containing information in regard to the manufacture of fireworks. MR. FRANI, being a prominent Italian of this city, is generally on the fireworks committee of the Italian Society of Albany, N.Y. at their celebrations which are generally wound up with a display of fireworks in one of our city parks and MR. FRANI says that at different times they have let the firework contract to a Schenectady firm but he had never heard the name of CESARE BARBUTO mentioned. Investigation continued."
Reference is made to the report of Special Agent WILLIAM J. WEST, Boston, Mass., under date of December 31st, received at this office with letter from Special Agent T. M. REDDY, New York City, under date of January 5, 1921, under the above entitled caption.

This agent was detailed by Agent in Charge SCOTT to make this investigation, and called at the Identification Department, Detective Headquarters, this city, and find that their record on LOUIS COSTELLO is the same as that shown in the report of Agent WEST. The $50 and costs which they show as having been assessed against COSTELLO in Cincinnati December 15, 1914 was the result of an attempt upon the part of COSTELLO and a party named STEINER, who represented to AUGUST BUSH, grocer, 4173 Hamilton Avenue, this city, that they wanted to purchase this grocery store, STEINER telling BUSH that as "evidence of good faith," he, STEINER, would place $300 in the hands of some "honest man," and that BUSH should also do the same, and that they would then close the deal. BUSH's suspicions became aroused and he notified Detectives LOUIS BELL and SAM DALTON, who were in the neighborhood of the BUSH grocery. LOUIS COSTELLO was waiting in the vicinity of the grocery, and was the "honest man" referred to by STEINER. BUSH and STEINER went to where COSTELLO was standing to deposit the money with COSTELLO, and the detectives were then to apprehend COSTELLO and STEINER, but BUSH not seeing the detectives became frightened and ran. COSTELLO and STEINER were then arrested by the detectives, and COSTELLO was given $300, and costs for making a twist case.
A grocer at 6th & Plum Sts., Cincinnati, Ohio, out of $2000, was sentenced to the Ohio State Prison. There are no other police records here against LOUIS COSTELLO. Agent made inquiry in the vicinity of 152 E. Kellicken Ave, this city, where the COSTELLOS are said to have resided, but failed to find anyone there knowing LOUIS COSTELLO. P.W. WENDLE, grocer at 144 E. Kellicken Ave., states that he remembers MRS. COSTELLO, who traded there for a short time in 1913, but that he did not know her husband, LOUIS COSTELLO. THE B. W. COR. COURT & Main Sts., this city, who owns the property at 152 East Kellicken Avenue, have no record of ever renting property to LOUIS COSTELLO and claim they know nothing whatever pertaining to him, as the property was evidently sub-rented during the year 1914 and no record could be found showing that COSTELLO ever resided there, although P.W. WENDLE, the grocer at 144 E. Kellicken Ave., remembers MRS. COSTELLO as residing there a short time and that she still a small grocery bill.

Agent called at the GENEVA CLUB, a club composed of waiters and cooks, on Garfield Place, this city, and learned from the secretary, who produced the books for 1914, which failed to show the name of LOUIS COSTELLO or any of his aliases, as being a waiter in this city. Agent then called at the headquarters of the Waiters Union, 620 Main St., this city, and talked to the business manager, DANIEL RUEHLMAN, who stated they had no books previous to 1915 of any records of any waiters, and the books at that time failed to show the name of LOUIS COSTELLO. Detectives LOUIS BELL and SAM DALTON state that they never knew COSTELLO to work any place while in Cincinnati, and that he evidently was here a very short time.

No further information could be obtained here regarding COSTELLO, and investigation will be considered closed.
FACTS DEVELOPED:

About 10:00 A.M. I left New York and proceeded to Hackensack, N. J. On arrival there I went to the office of Prosecuting Attorney Hart, and was informed he was at lunch and would get in touch with his office at the Courthouse from his private office on his return. About 12:45 P.M. he phoned and stated he was about to leave for New York by the 1:10 P.M. train so I was unable to see him.

I then went to the jail and talked with Giuseppe Cuccio. During our conversation I showed him the attached photo-print which I got from Special Agent Scully previous to my leaving for Hackensack. After looking at it for a few minutes he stated it was very indistinct but to the best of his belief it is intended for the photo of one Salvatore, last name not known, who is a bomb maker, anarchist and blackmailer, etc. That he belongs to one of those anarchist gangs located in the different towns of New Jersey, also New York and Brooklyn. Cuccio also stated that this man Salvatore frequents Elizabeth Street and Thompson Street, New York, also the Italian district which he thinks is located at Columbus Avenue, Brooklyn, and stated that if he (Cuccio) gets out of prison he can locate him and others of the gang. Cuccio stated that Salvatore told him he did time for breaking and entering, and that his pal was a man named Lombardo who is also called Lombardino. I told Cuccio I would see him again in a day or two. I then went to Police Headquarters and saw Chief of Police Shay, who stated he did not know Angeloni (correct spelling Anzelloni) who resides at 103 Grove Street, but he knew that a lot of Italians lived in that section. I then went to the postoffice for the purpose of getting or corroborating the address or getting a correct one. I saw Assistant Postmaster Shay who on looking over the books told me that Nunzio Anzelloni formerly resided at 103 Grove Street but at present resides at 113 Grove Street.

I would suggest that an undercover man be placed in this vicinity who could get in touch with the movements of this suspect and also the location and movement of his brother Angelo Anzelloni who is one of the Captains of this bomb gang, residing in Passaic.

I returned to New York at 7:30 P.M.
Continuing reports in this matter, on Jan. 3rd, acting under instructions of Agent in Charge Holdridge, Agent proceeded to Schenectady, N.Y. for the purpose of investigating subject's character and fitness for a permit for the manufacture of explosives license. Agent called at 175 Tenth Ave., Schenectady, N.Y. to interview subject. Subject was not at home. Agent again called later in the afternoon and could not find subject at home. 175 Tenth Ave., is located in the section of Schenectady known as upper Mt. Pleasant, populated principally by Italians and Agent has the knowledge that a great many Italians of questionable character reside in this section. Agent again called at night of the 3rd inst. and went up stairs and knocked at the door of subject's apartments. There was a light burning in the room and immediately on the sound of the knock, the light was extinguished, and Agent could not get any response to the summons. He walked down stairs and was met on the street by an Italian who seemed to be out of breath from running. The Italian asked Agent if he was the man from Washington who was expected to call on BARBUTO. Agent asked him what he knew about it and the Italian who would not give his name, said that he was instructed by BARBUTO to meet the man from Washington and answer all questions. Agent asked Italian what BARBUTO was employed at and an Italian woman standing in the door of the grocery directly under 31502 BARBUTO's apartment answered that BARBUTO did not work. Agent then asked this woman if BARBUTO had any money. She answered, "Yes, lots of it." Agent then asked Italian woman where BARBUTO got his money and she said repairing clocks. Agent then became suspicious of one who could handle clock work and explosives at the same time and being unable to find subject, he left the house and returned on the morning of the 4th inst. but was again unable to locate subject. Agent then returned to headquarters and reported same to Agent in Charge Holdridge.

Agent in Charge Holdridge also became suspicious of one who would handle explosives coupled with the repairing of clocks which clock work is actually used in time bombs. Agent in Charge Holdridge then instructed Agent to meet him in Schenectady on the night of the 4th at 9:00 o'clock and we would proceed to subject's apartment and make a search.

Agent met Agent in Charge Holdridge and Special Agent Kruger and proceeded to subject's apartment at 175 Tenth Ave, and after knocking several times, and getting no response, Agent in Charge Holdridge instructed Agent to go on one side of the house and he went to the other, leaving Special Agent Kruger in the hallway. Agent looked up at the window and saw subject peering through the curtains, and with Agent in Charge Holdridge, and Special Agent Kruger, Agent then rushed up the stair way and gained entrance to subject's apartment. Found subject and one Italian who claimed to be his brother-in-law in a small apartment. A number of old clocks and watches were found in the place as well as the works of old clocks. A thorough search was made and some paper taken. No powder or explosives of any nature was found in subject's apartments. Business envelopes and cards were found in subject's apartments advertising the Italian Fireworks Company and envelopes of the Ideal Fireworks Company of Schenectady, N.Y., of which subject claimed he was the proprietor. When asked why he was engaged in the fireworks business without a permit, he stated he took orders and secured fireworks through other firms but that he had some land bought and in anticipation of permit being granted, he had cards and envelopes printed with which he expected to do business later on.

Agent, in company with Agent in Charge Holdridge and Special Agent Kruger, went to 618 Cutler St., Schenectady, N.Y. which is in this section and talked to a well known Italian called DOMINIC and asked about subject and DOMINIC stated that subject was a Calabrese and was known as a bad character and that he would not trust him. An Italian paper and some slips written in Italian, suspected of being formulae of some sort of explosives, were brought back to headquarters by the Agent and as Agent had to leave on a Radical case in/other section of the state, same was turned over to Special Agent Boyd for translation.

Investigation continued.

Anarchist Activities.

GIORONDO COSTA, alias LOUIS COTTELLO, alias

JUAN VANCE, alias JULIUS DERRY, alias JULIUS DERRY.

In continuation of report made by Special Agent W. J. Lent dated Dec. 3, 1920, in the above entitled matter, also report of Special Agent De Lillo dated Jan. 2, 1921, Agent, accompanied by Special Agent
De Lillo, made inquiry at 479 Hanover Street concerning one COSTA living at this address. Agent learned, however, that this party is an elderly man, said to be around sixty years of age, full name being GIORONDO COSTA, married, and has lived at that address for the past twelve years.

At the Walton Lunch Co., 1083 Washington Street, Agent interviewed Mr. F. F. FORSYTHE, vice president of this company, which conducts a chain of restaurants. He was shown a photograph of COSTA. Af-

At the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, which company conducts a chain of restaurants, Agents were unable to interview
Mr. Lumce who has the hiring of all of the help for these restaurants and an endeavor will be made to locate Mr. Lumce as soon as possible.
In order to show him the photograph of COSTA as it may be possible that he will recognize him as a former employee. The books show, however, was in some difficulty with the Internal Revenue Office regarding a permit for the manufacturing of hair tonic at 26 Tileston Street; that in his belief that his business is not legitimate and that the permit had been revoked. He further informed Agents that it will probably be useless to attempt to obtain any information from Conti regarding COSTA; that it would be best that Agent De Lillo find some pretense on which he can approach Conti, make his acquaintance and later obtain his confidence and in this way may be able to learn the present whereabouts of COSTA.

Agent conferred with Mr. Brignotti, Superintendent of the Hanover Postal Station and asked Mr. Brignotti to watch all mail addressed to Conti and furnish this office with tracings. Mr. Brignotti stated that Conti has been living at 155 Salem St., Boston, but believes that he has moved from that address; that the carrier had been instructed by tenants at that address to leave Conti's mail here in their care.

Agent conferred with the Postal Authorities at North Station Post Office. The carrier covering Lyrttle Street stated that he knew Mrs. Paiga who lives at 59 Lyrttle Street but does not recall having ever seen COSTA and when shown his photograph could not identify him, stating that COSTA'S wife or child usually accepted the mail delivered here for COSTA; that Mrs. Costa instructed this carrier on May 2, 1920 to forward any mail for or her husband to William H. McDonnell, 40 Court St., Boston. Agent is endeavoring to learn if Mr. McDonnell was COSTA'S attorney before approaching Mr. McDonnell for any information concerning COSTA'S whereabouts.

In view of the fact that COSTA has in the past corresponded with Mrs. Paiga, Agent asked the carrier to take tracings of all mail received by Mrs. Paiga.

This investigation will be continued.
that there is no one of the employ of this company at present bearing the name of COSTA, COSTELLO, or the various aliases used by him.

At the Cooks and Waiters Union, Washington Street, Boston, Agents were given every assistance by the officials who went through their files and books but did not locate the subject as having ever been a member of this union.

At the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America, Local 162, 995 Washington Street, Agent Do Lillo interviewed John B. Manganaro, organizer of this union, who stated that he did not recognize photograph of the subject or does the subject's name or his various aliases appear upon the books of this union.

Agents called at 124 Milton St., Boston, formerly Boston Headquarters of the International Federation of Workers in the Hotel, Restaurant, Club and Catering Industry. They found, however, that they have moved to 724 Washington Street. At this address Agents found their new headquarters locked and will endeavor later to make inquiries here.

Agents interviewed police officials at Station 15, Charlestown, Costello having told Eric Landblad that he was to prepare a bomb in a suitcase and place it near the bootblinder stand near the police station in Charlestown. The police officials stated that nothing of this kind was ever found in this vicinity and Agents found that the nearest bootblinder stand is several hundred feet from the police station.

Agents interviewed Sgt. Corcoran at Police Station 1, Boston, who arrested subject on March 5, 1926 with Genero Conti referred to in report of Special Agent East. Agents are informed that Conti has a place of business at 26 Tilton Street (Italian section of Boston). Sgt. Corcoran stated that he had pointed out Conti to one of the officers of Station 1 two days previous; that he had learned that Conti
