Enclosure

The enclosed documents represent the final release of information responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request.

Enclosed are cross-references which are identifiable with the subject of your request. Cross-references are defined as mentions of the subject of your request in files to other individuals, organizations, events, or activities. In processing the cross-references, the pages considered for possible release included only those pages which mention the subject of your request and any additional pages showing the context in which the subject of your request was mentioned. The cross-reference pages were processed pursuant to the provisions of the FOIA and are being released to you in redacted form.

This material is being provided to you at no charge.

For your information, a search of the indices to our Central Records System reflected there were additional records potentially responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request. We have attempted to obtain this material so it could be reviewed to determine whether it was responsive to your request. We were advised that the potentially responsive records were not in their expected location and could not be located after a reasonable search. Following a reasonable waiting period, another attempt was made to obtain this material. This search for the missing records also met with unsuccessful results.

Records which may have been responsive to your request were destroyed. Since this material could not be reviewed, it is not known if it was responsive to your request. Record retention and disposal is carried out under supervision of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), Title 44, United States Code, Section 3301 as implemented by Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1228; Title 44, United States Code, Section 3310 as implemented by Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1229.10.

For your additional information, a record that may be responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request has been transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). If you wish to review these records, submit a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to NARA, Special Access and FOIA, 8601 Adelphi Road, Room 5500, College Park, MD 20740-6001. FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.
- (iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.

Re: HARRY BRIDGES
COMMUNISTIC ACTIVITIES
(IMMIGRATION MATTER)

Dear Sir:

During the testimony of HARRY BRIDGES at the deportation hearing at Angell Island, San Francisco, California, in August and September, 1939 it was brought out that BRIDGES and the C.I.O. had made an investigation of various Nazi and Fascist groups in munitions and aircraft plants. He thereupon turned over to the Department of Justice the names and numbers of the individuals investigated.

The Bureau is respectfully requested to furnish this office with its evaluation of the information furnished by BRIDGES in the light of facts developed through investigation by the various field offices of the Bureau. The Bureau's attention is particularly directed to one HERMAN MANN, whom BRIDGES testified he had used as an investigator, although the testimony did not specifically identify him with the inquiry regarding Nazi and Fascist groups in the munitions and aircraft industries. Any information in the Bureau's possession regarding such a C.I.O. investigator should also be furnished since it is entirely possible that MANN may have been used in the past and at the present time by BRIDGES in connection with the preparation of his defense against deportation. No description of MANN is presently available.

Very truly yours, plants upon aircraft being manufactured for the Army and the Navy. All of the charges and allegations appear in connection with the statement that Harry Bridges has repeatedly called attention to all of these deplorable matters in an unselfish and patriotic attempt to halt sabotage, apparently without any tangible results.

Considerable effort was expended by the Bureau in an endeavor to identify the author and question him concerning the allegations of sabotage appearing in his article. The editor of "The New Republic", Mr. Bruce Bliven, informed that "John Hamilton" was a pen-name and he, Bliven, had promised not to divulge the real name of the author. The identity of this author has never been definitely ascertained. It is noted, however, that there are a large number of statements appearing in this article which are almost identical with statements made by officials of Local 228, U.A.W.A., relative to the North American Aviation, Inc., and the statements contained in the affidavit of Rudolph Faltus relating to conditions at the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation. All of the alleged acts of sabotage which could be identified in this article were checked with Army and Navy officials at the various plants and with officials of the three companies previously named, and all of the charges were denied or proven untrue.

Donald E. Douglas, President of the Douglas Aircraft Company, was interviewed relative to the charges contained in the magazine article as they related to the Douglas plant. Mr. Douglas stated that in so far as this article refers to or concerns the Douglas Aircraft Company, the article is false in each and every respect. Mr. Douglas pointed out that the nearest thing approximating sabotage of the type alleged by the article occurred at the Douglas plant during the C.I.O. sponsored sit-down strike in September, 1937, as a result of which twenty-one of the sit-down strikers were found guilty on felony indictments.

Army officials informed that during the past ten years the Douglas Aircraft Company has delivered more than 1,000 airplanes to the United States Army Air Corps and that official records indicate that there has not been one single accident involving these planes while undergoing test and acceptance flights. Army officials also reported that the system of safety and inspection which has been instituted at the Douglas plants adequately meets the conditions imposed by the War Department.

Respectfully,

H. H. Clegg
