FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.
- (iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.

Gentlemen:-

Unquestionably you receive all kinds of odd requests from every type of "crackpot". For that reason, one hesitates about pursuing the subject of this letter. However, as one who is gravely alarmed that the subversive influence of the Communists that are unquestionably working "hand in glove" with Russian diplomats and Russian military operations in the Middle East, I can hardly repress the instinct to suggest this matter to you.

Enclosed is an article by the International Latex Corporation which is a reprint of a news item that appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer this week. In that case, the statement was attributed to a Lt. Colonel from Venice, California; in this ad it is attributed to a Colonel from Texas.

The propaganda with which this country is being constantly barraged is a very serious threat to our security and articles like this go a long way toward softening the public for a possible Russian attack. No one can dispute the right of free press, but I thought you might be interested in checking the origin of this alleged statement to see whether it is just a pure myth or whether such a person ever made the statement. Even if this statement was made, why should it get such extraordinary attention?

Stop-Look-Listen WARNING

By a regular U. S. Army Colonel and a Texan who asked that his name be withheld for reasons of modesty. He was interviewed by the celebrated New York Times Correspondent C. L. Sulzberger at Wuerzburg, Germany, March 10, 1946. Here is the Colonel's printed order to the men under his command:

"It has been brought to my attention that the morale of the civilian population of Wuerzburg and vicinity has been greatly raised as the result of a speech in the United States by a British politician relative to our allies, the Russian people.

"I have also learned that a few men from this battalion have expressed agreement with these policies to German fraeuleins. This practice will stop immediately and you may be sure that I will use great effort on the part of the counter-intelligence corps and S-2 personnel to see that it stops right now.

"The Soviet Government is an ally of the United States of America and you are individually and collectively representatives of our Government. I will not tolerate any disparaging remarks against our allies to the German people.

Points to Soldier Graves

"I do not hate the German people. My policy in regard to dancing and social gatherings should indicate that fact to you. But I cannot forget that the sun can never set upon the grave of some American soldier.

"From Pearl Harbor and Bataan to the Elbe, your buddies are lying dead because of the Nazi party and the evil machinations of Hitler and his gang.

Lynch Mobs Don't Always Wear HOODS

by JIMMY CANNON
America's ace sports writer

You don't always lynch a man by hanging him from a tree. There is a great lynch mob among us and they go unhooded and work without the rope. They have no leader but their own hatred of humanity. They are the quietly degraded, who plot against the helpless with skill and a coward's stealth and without fear of reprisal. Their weapon is as painful as the lash, the hot tar, the noose or the shotgun. They string up a man with the whisper of a lie and they persecute him with ridicule. They require no burning cross as a signal of assembly and need no sheet to identify themselves to each other. They are the night riders who operate 24 hours a day.

They lynch a man with a calculated contempt which no court of law can consider a crime. Such a venomous conspiracy is the one now trying to run Jackie Robinson out of organized baseball. It does not go for all ball players and not even all the St. Louis Cards, some of whom are accused of trying to arrange a strike to protest against the presence of a Negro in the big league. But such a state exists and we should all be ashamed of it, not only those connected with the sport, but any one who considers this his country. It is an indication, I believe, that as a people we are a failure and not as good as the laws by which we live.

We are a people guaranteed more freedoms than any other on earth. Yet there are among us some who would refute those documents which pledge us the things that people fight for everywhere and rarely achieve. When such persecutions become the aim of a government it is the record of history that men rise in revolt against the leaders of their state. It was to defeat such persecutions that men fought in the undergrounds of Europe, and in every righteous army since man first realized freedom is seldom achieved without struggle. We are a people who consider such privileges as ordinary because they were written down in the book for us to live by long ago. But among us are those who consider these liberties as their own and would take them from the defenseless whom they can afford to torment. They form a lynch mob that is out to avenge a right.

BUFFALO COURIER-EXPRESS
FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1947

Only the stupidly bold among them collect on mountain sides by the light of torches. You find them wherever you go and their lodge is national although they pay no dues and carry no card. It is only natural that baseball, being our country's sport, should be played by some of them because they are in all trades and professions and they carry an invisible rope with them at all times. It is my belief that such a philosophy of hate does not dominate baseball. If it does, then they should burn up all the bats and balls and turn cattle to graze on the outfield grass. Baseball is not a way of life but an escape from it. It is to the bleachers and the grandstands that the multitudes flee to forget the world beyond the fences. Such a haven should not be corrupted by senseless hate, but once it is, baseball has no reason to exist.

Baseball is supported by the people and I have heard them demand justice for Robinson. If their applause is any indication, they ask that Robinson be accepted as an athlete and is entitled to the right to be judged by the scorer's ledger and not by the prejudices of indecent men. It is my belief that Robinson is a big leaguer of ordinary ability. If he is not, then he should be sent down to the minors because it is the opinion of all of us who consider baseball a sport that skill and honesty are the only qualifications a man should have. It is doubtful if Robinson has yet shown his true worth. He came up as a shortstop, was transformed into a second baseman at Montreal and now is playing first. It is a tribute to his solidness as a man that he hasn't fallen apart as a ball player. Less heart has burned better ball players out of the big leagues. About him rages the silent uproar of a perpetual commotion. He is the most discussed ball player of his time and his judges do not evaluate him for his actions on the field alone. But he has concealed the turmoil within him and when you talk to him there is no indication he regards himself as a special man who faces problems no other big leaguer ever faced before. The times I have spoken to him he has praised all those with whom he plays.

What goes on in the privacy of the hotel rooms where the Dodgers gather I don't know. I have listened to Eddie Stanky praise Robinson for his alertness. Jackie told me himself that Hughie Casey had helped him when he needed practice and advice on making the difficult plays a first baseman must face.

But in the clubhouse Robinson is a stranger. The Dodgers are polite and courteous with him but it is obvious he is isolated by those with whom he plays. I have never heard remarks made against him or detected any rudeness where he was concerned. But the silence is loud and Robinson never is part of the jovial and aimless banter of the locker room. He is the loneliest man I have ever seen in sports.

We have been involved in a war to guarantee all people the right to a life without fear. The peoples of the earth are still assailed by the same doubts and terrors. The old men once more talk of violence and only the dead are sure of peace. In such a world it seems a small thing that a man be able to play a game unmolested. In our time such a plea should be unnecessary. But when it happens we must again remember that all this country's enemies are not beyond the frontiers of our home land.

MR. MOHR

I had lunch with Irving Ferman, Vice President, International Latex Corporation, today. Spinell, Chairman of the Board, International Latex Corporation, is interested in getting into television. He is a most controversial individual and spends considerable time writing full-page editorials which are published in large metropolitan newspapers throughout the country. Spinell has now instructed Irving Ferman to line up a nationwide television program for his corporation.

Spinell believes that an unusual-type program of 30 minutes in length could be of great value. In this connection, he has had Ferman contact Fulton Lewis, Jr., and Drew Pearson to line them up for the future program. The format will include Lewis at one desk and Pearson at another desk. In front of them will be a nationally known individual of some prominence who will be a guest on the program. The guests will change each week. Lewis and Pearson will question the guest for 15 minutes and for the remaining 15 minutes the guest will question them as to their viewpoints. Both Lewis and Pearson will have an equal opportunity to name the guests, i. e. Lewis will name half of the guests and Pearson will have an opportunity to name half of the guests on the program.

The program is to be definitely arranged this coming Monday at a meeting between Ferman and Lewis and Pearson. At the present time there is some doubt as to whether Pearson will cooperate on it, inasmuch as he is very reluctant to engage in debate with Fulton Lewis.

I told Ferman that while the program had possibilities, it seemed a shame that Pearson would be given such a big forum in order to "air" his poisonous views. Ferman agreed but stated Spinell was most determined to put this program on television.

BRITISH AIM TO RULE MIDDLE EAST THRU PUPPET KING ABDULLAH

by EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER
In the New York Post and The Home News

Here is the real explanation of Britain's current plot against Palestine, the reasons for which have mystified the entire world. I cannot disclose the identity of my informant—but here are the facts.

The world has not been able to understand Britain's secret motives in disarming the Jews while arming the Trans-Jordania Arabs; the motives for permitting British officers to accompany the Trans-Jordanian invaders while Britain was sabotaging the U. S. eleventh hour plan for a trusteeship over the Holy Places. Why, people ask, should His Majesty's Government stoop to a final offensive against its Jewish wards just when Britain was withdrawing from Palestine altogether?

Here are the answers:

Britain does not expect to stay out of Palestine, at least not out of all Palestine. Britain expects to stay out of the State of Israel.

them. This they would never do voluntarily. Therefore it must be captured by Abdullah's British-armed and British-officered Arab Legion. At this point the Jews could, the British believe, be compelled to give up the Negeb in exchange for western Galilee.

But this is not all of Britain's plans. Abdullah's present kingdom is, with the exception of a narrow strip along the river Jordan, a desert waste. Its capital, Amman, is a Bedouin village. The British are planning to let him (Abdullah) take over a new and splendid capital, namely, Jerusalem itself.

If Abdullah can seize the Holy City, take over the Arab areas of central Palestine, add the Negeb, link up a port on the Mediterranean with Aqaba on the Red Sea, then his country will be one of the most important in the entire area. Arab Trans-Jordania and not Jewish Israel will become the radiating center of occidental influence in the Middle East.

But Britain is very much in Trans-Jordania—and expects to remain there.

Trans-Jordania can, however, serve Britain adequately only if it can be enlarged in a certain way. The frontiers of partition drawn by the U. N. Commission do not satisfy Britain's ambitions for King Abdullah.

These frontiers leave to the Palestinian Arabs northwest Galilee along the Lebanon border—which British plans do not require Abdullah to possess. Yet to permit northwest Galilee to go to the state of Lebanon would alarm unduly the Christian half of the Lebanese. Therefore, the Jews can be permitted to acquire northwestern Galilee.

In exchange, Abdullah must obtain most of the Negeb, that wedge-like portion of Palestine that extends from the Mediterranean down to the Red Sea. This would make Trans-Jordania the only country in the Middle East except Egypt that fronts on both the Mediterranean and the Red Seas. A railway line connecting a Mediterranean port, perhaps Gaza or a place farther west, with Aqaba on the Red Sea, would parallel the Suez Canal. Thereby Britain, forced out of Egypt, could both defend and control the Suez Canal from the eastern side.

For this reason the Jews must be forced to yield the coveted portion of the Negeb which the U. N. Commission bestowed upon Occidental influence would mean . . .

This joint British-Arab dream can be brought about only subject to three conditions:

1. There must be no trusteeship that will let American and French forces back into the area. More important, there must be no international trusteeship over the Holy Places for otherwise Abdullah could not make Jerusalem into his capital city.

2. Abdullah's armies must be strong enough to wrest Jerusalem from the Jewish Haganah. This they can best accomplish under British leadership. Therefore the British commander and the British officers must remain with the Arab Legion unless and until the United Nations make this impossible.

Finally, Haganah must be defeated quickly or it cannot be defeated at all. Once ports of Israel are open to the free influx of Jewish volunteers and Jewish war materiel, Haganah will quickly become unbeatable. Therefore Abdullah must take what he covets now—or never.

To make sure that Abdullah would take all the quick tricks, his troops were brought into Palestine in advance . . . by the British. The Palestinian Arabs who might help him were armed in advance . . . by the British. And the Jews who are now opposing him were disarmed in advance . . . by the British.

On your informal memo to Mr. Mohr of 10-9-61, concerning a contemplated television panel show sponsored by the International Latex Corporation and having as panelists Fulton Lewis, Jr., and Drew Pearson, the Director noted, "I recall that Int. Latex Corp. some years ago was very pro-communist and paid for ads about the same. Am I correct? H."

The Director is absolutely correct in his recollection about the International Latex Corporation advertisements. Briefly, the International Latex Corporation was chartered in Delaware in 1937 and Abraham N. Spanel became and still is President and Chairman of the Board of this company. We investigated Spanel in April, 1953, after receiving a report that he associated with communist sympathizers. The investigation revealed that he had married one Margaret Liberson, who at one time was a contributor to the publication "New Masses" and a communist sympathizer. There are sources that have stated that Spanel was pro-Soviet while others have indicated he is a patriotic American. He is also said to be very liberal in his views. The Bureau conducted an investigation of Spanel in 1943 relative to an editorial by Max Lerner (formerly associated with "PM" newspaper, New York City) which appeared in the 7-7-43 issue of the "Washington Post." This editorial was printed in that paper, according to the caption, as a public service by the International Latex Corporation and the editorial constituted an apologia of the Russians and their methods. There has been no indication that Spanel is a member of the Communist Party.

He was born at Odessa, Russia, on 5-15-99 and by profession is a chemical engineer.

Over the years on numerous occasions he has had published lengthy editorial advertisements in various newspapers. Some years ago his advertisements were of a left-wing nature and he has reportedly advertised in the "Daily Worker" and reprinted articles from it in other newspapers. In more recent years his articles have been of an anticommunist nature. The editorials usually concern foreign political matters and in 1959, Spanel published an article called "An Appeal to Enlighten Self-Interest" in the New York Times which was favorable toward France and critical of the United States concerning the then present problems of the French and the Americans, involving international policies and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Some of his articles in the late 1940's quoted speeches of former Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

An article written by Westbrook Pegler on 3-15-45 charged Spanel with spreading pro-communist and pro-Russian propaganda through his full page advertisement in newspapers which advertisement was characterized as a public service feature. Later, in October, 1945, there was a news article that Spanel was suing the King Features Syndicate, who syndicated Pegler's column, for 6 million dollars alleging that the column by Pegler was libelous.

An informant in the mid 1940's advised that Spanel was "an extreme liberal of the Henry A. Wallace type." The informant stated that Spanel was a personal friend of Wallace and entertained groups of "liberals" in his home at Princeton, New Jersey, which has a dormitory set up in one wing of the building to accommodate a large number of friends who remain at his place overnight and during weekends. The informant attended one or two of the informal meetings at Spanel's home and he stated that all of the conversations seemed to favor Russia.

Albert E. Kahn, who was a delegate to the New York State Convention of the Communist Party in 1945 and co-authored the pro-Soviet work "The Great Conspiracy," gave autographed copies of the book which was published in 1946 to Spanel and the International Latex Corporation. One source suggested that a possible source of funds for Kahn was Abe Spanel. One of the visitors to his Princeton home, Louis Hyman Bean, a former economist at the Department of Agriculture, was affiliated with several Communist Party front organizations and a close associate and advisor of Henry Wallace. In 1948, a confidential source advised that Spanel was a contact of Alfred Stern, subject of a Russian espionage investigation.

In 1943, Spanel reported to our New York Office information relative to the efforts on the part of individuals sympathetic to the Axis Powers to secure the records and models of one Nikola Tesla, an outstanding scientist. Tesla was conducting experiments on a "death ray." In 1945, an informant advised that he had received information which led him to believe that a group sympathetic to Russia was making efforts to secure the effects of Tesla and it was the informant's understanding that the motivating force behind the attempt was Spanel.

Wanted: Presidential CLEMENCY

A. N. SPANEL, Chairman
International Latex Corporation

The insidious activities of domestic communists have long posed difficult legal and moral problems for the democratic societies under Kremlin attack.

When measured by its menace to a free nation's security, Red subversion is a crime more serious, if anything, than "ordinary" crime. To ignore or condone it would be suicidal complacency. But how can a democratic society, treasuring its civil liberties, deal with communists who seek to destroy them — without in the process diluting those very liberties?

For four decades our State and Federal legislatures have tried to frame laws to meet this dilemma, without much success. Either the legislation is nullified by courts concerned first of all with protecting the Bill of Rights, or it is so ambiguous that it cannot be effectively enforced.

The Smith Act, passed by Congress June 28, 1940 has survived a long series of tests in the courts. It has put a handful of Red leaders in prison. But its utility has been limited, and rightly so, by our Constitutional safeguards.

CONVICTIONS SCARCE

One of the vital sections of the Act, the so-called Membership Clause, in theory opens all active members of the Communist Party to prosecution. In practice, the stringent proofs of "knowing" participation in the communist conspiracy prescribed by the Act have made conviction all but impossible.

A number of important communists have been indicted under the clause — but the conviction of only one, Junius Irving Scales, has been made to stick.

The Scales case is so ironical, so unfair, that it offends the common sense and the conscience of patriotic Americans aware of its background. The legality of the man's conviction is not in question, having been reviewed and sustained by the Supreme Court. But legality and justice do not necessarily coincide. It is precisely for this reason that executive intervention is available to redress the balance.

The startling fact is that the only man punished, and punished harshly, under legislation designed against communists, actually is no longer a communist! Here is the gist of the strange and disturbing story:

Junius Scales became a communist in 1940, while a student at the University of North Carolina. Because of his social prominence and his ability as an organizer, the Party bosses quickly assigned him to leadership in North Carolina.

In 1954, he was indicted under the "Knowing membership" section of the Smith Act. A year later he was convicted. On appeal, a retrial was ordered. In 1958, he was again convicted and received a six-year sentence — a heavier term than Eugene Dennis and other top national communist leaders had drawn under other clauses of the Act. In June, 1961, the Supreme Court, by the narrowest margin of 5-to-4, sustained the conviction and four months later Scales entered Federal penitentiary.

Memo to President
Re: Scales
OH 5: WAP

QUITS PARTY: JAILED

But in the years when his case was dragging through the courts, Scales had undergone the kind of change of views all too familiar in the communist movement. The revelations of Stalin's sordid crimes early in 1956 and the brutal crushing of the Hungarian revolt shattered his faith in communism. In February, 1957, he quit the Party in utter disgust. He joined the legions of ex-communists, whom the Party hates and abuses more viciously than mere non-communists.

Thus Junius Scales, when he was retried and reconvicted in 1958, actually was no longer a communist. Technically, of course, that was irrelevant to the judicial procedure. His renunciation of communism had not been influenced by his personal plight. It was a genuine revulsion against the cause he had served for nearly 17 years.

The Communist Party protested against his conviction, since it feared that the Supreme Court precedent might put other members behind bars. But in the nature of the affair, the comrades gloated over the discomfiture of one whom they call a "renegade". They relished the joke that the only person ever convicted under the membership clause is an "ex".

BUT JOKE IS ON US

Unfortunately the joke is on us, not on the communists. While 10,000 members of the Party, hundreds of them "knowing" activists, remain free to ply their mischief, this former communist is in prison.

A committee of reputable Americans, is seeking executive clemency for Junius Scales. We believe that simple human decency, logic and political good sense support their effort.

Indeed, there is every reason why more Americans — and especially those who are outspoken and ardent opponents of communism — should add their voices to a demand for a quick and full pardon.

The purpose of the Smith Act and of any such laws is not vengeance but the protection of our national security. As a defector from communism, Scales is no longer a threat to our social order. On the contrary. As J. Edgar Hoover has repeatedly attested, ex-communists have been among the ablest, most devoted and most effective enemies of communism.

At worst, Junius Scales, if released, will fade into anonymity. At best—if he plays true to the pattern set by so many other disillusioned communists — he will help fight the conspiracy of which he was once a part.

In either case, his continued imprisonment is a stain on true justice. All judicial processes in his behalf have been exhausted. Only Presidential clemency remains. We believe it should be exercised without delay. After all, we want more ex-communists. We must bring understanding and human sympathy to the plight of those who "choose freedom" from the dark forces of communism.

MEET THE DIRECTOR ON THURSDAY, 4-23-64

Reference is made to call by Mr. Irving Ferman's secretary to your office indicating that Mr. Heinze will be in Washington on Thursday, 4-23-64. Ferman would like to have him meet Mr. Hoover and, if any time is left, shake hands with Mr. DeLoach. Ferman asked that Mr. DeLoach call him on Wednesday regarding this matter.

Irving Ferman is on the Special Correspondents' List on a first-name basis. On 1-9-64, he was with the group from the Brotherhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation which presented Mr. Hoover a First Century artifact and an engraved Bible.

DATA ON WALTER O. HEINZE:

"Who's Who in America" reflects that Heinze was born in Chicago on 11-11-03. He is a graduate of Lane Technical High School, Chicago. He founded the W. O. Heinze Management Consultants in Los Angeles in 1937. He was a member of the Planning Board, War Productions Board, in 1942 and in 1943 became the Director of Operations of the Smaller War Plants, Inc. From 1943 to 1949, he served as Executive Vice President and General Manager of International Latex Corporation, Dover, Delaware and since that time has been President of this firm. He is listed as Director of the Child Welfare League of America in 1957, and as being connected with the Scott Horticultural Foundation, the Spanel Foundation and the Memorial International House. His home address is Swarthmore, Pennsylvania.

Heinze is not identifiable in Bufiles.

OBSERVATIONS:

In view of Ferman's close friendship with the Bureau, it is suggested that the Director might wish to see Mr. Heinze and Ferman on Thursday, April 23rd, if his schedule permits.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Director, if his schedule permits, indicate a time at which he can meet Mr. Heinze, who will be accompanied by Irving Ferman, on 4-23.

In response to your request, following is a resume of information in Bufiles on captioned firm:

The International Latex Corporation (ILC) has never been a subject of FBI investigation, except for a recently opened inquiry regarding possible Fraud Against the Government violation involving Jen Products, a subcontractor of ILC. This inquiry is based on a letter of 4-3-64 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, indicating an allegation had been received that Jen Products was overcharging ILC in connection with a Government contract. The inquiry is pending. (46-50177)

There is a main Information-Concerning type file (62-107342) on ILC containing three serials. This file and pertinent see references to the firm deal with one individual in the firm, Abraham N. Spanel, formerly listed as President and Chairman of the Board of this firm. He does not presently hold the position of President, but is still Chairman of the Board. Spanel has sponsored public-service type ads in newspapers which in past years have been of a pro-communist nature. In the mid 40's, some of these ads constituted an apology for the Russians. There is no indication he has ever been a member of the Communist Party. He is said to have been very liberal in his views and reportedly was associated with communists in the 1940's. Others have described him as a patriotic American.

In more recent years his articles have been of an anticommunist nature. He has recently attempted to promote a favorable attitude toward France in her efforts to build her nuclear strength in response to the communist challenge. An article by Spanel in the "Washington Post and Times Herald," 2-26-62, condemned "the insidious activities of domestic communists," but suggested that Junius Scales, whom Spanel described as an ex-communist, be released, since like many other disillusioned communists, he might help in the fight against communism.

Irving Ferman, a Vice President of ILC since 1960, is a strong supporter of the Bureau and on the Special Correspondents' List on a first name basis. He accompanied the Brotherhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation group which presented Mr. Hoover a First Century artifact and engraved Bible on 1-9-64.

Mr. A. N. Spanel
Founder-Chairman
International Latex Corporation
350 Fifth Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Spanel:

I have been an appreciative reader of your various paid political advertisements through the years. Like many other Americans, I am grateful for your public service.

In a small way, I am attempting to render public service also. It is my belief that, regardless of one's viewpoint of the actual tack that we should take at this time with respect to Vietnam, and regardless of one's degree of endorsement of President Johnson's policies, we must unite behind President Johnson so as to strengthen his hand when his emissaries commence to treat with those of the communist aggressor in the hope of working out a stabilized situation in Southeast Asia. Towards that end, I have organized a group called The Committee of Responsible Americans for the support of our fighting men and our President.

I have taken the liberty of enclosing a copy of a press release which went out and got just about no coverage that we have been able to determine. Had we been flag-burners, I am certain that we would have had our pictures in the paper. We hope shortly to commence publishing our advertisements and to garner at least one million signatures as tangible evidence of support for our foreign policy. Again, we do not believe that we are unique. Many other fine groups have devoted themselves successfully to showing expressions of support for our fighting men in the field. However, these tokens of support do not normally include support of the Commander-In-Chief as one of their announced goals. In that one regard, we expect to make a contribution of a different sort.

If you agree with our view and our goals, we would consider ourselves privileged to have you join our ranks, as a signatory on our petition, a contributor toward the cost of running advertisements and gathering signatures, and, if you would so desire, as a member of our National Executive Committee.

In order that you may quickly get some background on our Committee members, I would offer the following.

I am a member of the New York Bar, and am presently living and working in the Chicago area. I coordinate the acquisition program for a billion-dollar corporation. Naturally, I do not care to cause it any embarrassment, so I do not think I should link my name with the name of my employer. In the past, I have worked for groups controlled by Nelson Rockefeller, have been counsel to publicly held companies, and served over three years as a Naval officer.

November 8, 1967

Other members of the Executive Committee include Col. John V. Hinkel, USAR (Ret.). Col. Hinkel is Public Relations Director for the Archdiocese of Washington, and has had a distinguished career as a journalist, military intelligence officer, public relations man, and lecturer in military and historical subjects. He bases himself in Washington, D. C. Miss Elizabeth Hurst is a Public Relations Consultant in Washington, D. C. She happens to be the daughter of the late founding Major-General in charge of the U. S. Army Chemical Corps, under President Wilson. Mr. Robert A. Burnside is Manager of the Underwriting Department of the investment banking firm of Willis E. Burnside & Co., Inc., 40 Exchange Place, New York, New York. Mr. Richard M. Shamp is a former Naval officer now engaged in government procurement consulting in Washington, D. C.

If you would like background information on the members of the National Committee, or if you have any other questions, it would be our pleasure to answer them for you.

We certainly look forward to the privilege of hearing from you. But in any event, may we again congratulate you on your long years of public service via the printed word, and urge that you continue your efforts.

Sincerely,

Daniel Stack, Chairman
Committee of Responsible Americans

Dear Mr Spanel:

The article, "For Communists the Target is the World," was most truthful and pregnant with meaning. While the nature of the message did not specifically emphasize the virtues of rubber the truth it set forth did bespeak the integrity of your corporation.

It is refreshing to see a corporation go on record espousing the cause of truth even at the risk of alienating potential customers. What is even more intriguing is the perspicacity shown in separating truth from the mass of erroneous propaganda that is currently circulated. The ability to differentiate between truth and error cannot be cultivated too carefully. It is even more important that one hear the truth in its purity.

A case in point is the wide publicity given the conversation between Bishop Pike and an apparition that personated the Bishop's late lamented son at a Seance on a London Television Broadcast. Thousands of viewers heard and saw the program. Many more read the account and accept it as a genuine manifestation of the dead communicating with the living.

Not one word of opposition has come from either the Press or the Pulpit. Why? The Press claims that setting forth the truth concerning the state of the dead is not in its province. While the popular Pulpit is not in a position to set forth the truth because by and large they neither know nor believe the Bible. For these reasons they are unable - not just unwilling - to set forth the truth of the nature of man.

Under a separate cover, Mr. Spanel, I am sending a detailed discussion of the question, "Can the Dead Talk to Us: The sentiments expressed are in complete harmony with the revealed truth of the Bible concerning man's mortality (since God "only hath immortality")# My only request is that you read it personally. Thank you. Believe me to be

Yours for truth,

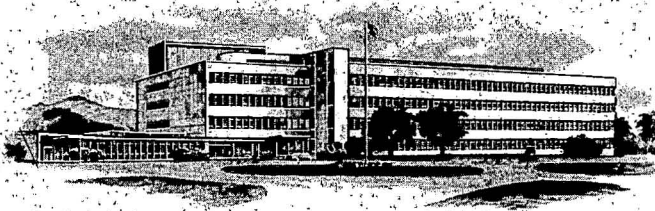

John L Matthews

Dear Mr. Spanel:

I have just read your reprint of Anatomy of Naked Neglect. It is superbly written, packed with commonsense and blends to some extent in tax approach with an idea I have been promulgating.

I have been interested in a theory to revamp our entire tax structure - federal, state and local. This involves the concept that wherever you live or wherever you do business you pay in rent or in capitalized form the market value of all government services available and of other activity that makes the area desirable. How this avoids the needs for other taxes, helps reduce corruption in government, flattens out inflation and encourages initiative of free enterprise through complete elimination of the income tax is part of the ideas I have been presenting at a series of talks at the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

I am enclosing a monograph I recently wrote outlining this theory and would greatly appreciate your comments. I am also seeking a National Tax Foundation or some other body - group - organization or individual who can help put this in its "concrete application form" which could then be presented to major industry, higher areas of learning, the entire Chamber of Commerce, etc.

Thank you for your comments or suggestions you may have to offer.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Spanel:

I was most interested in the reprint from Newsweek which you were kind enough to send me. I read your columns with great interest and appreciation and find that the second reading, via the reprints you have been sending me, is equally stimulating.

Your statement that "every man in business is a trustee of this nation and the world" is most provocative. Unfortunately, this seems to be more of a goal than a statement of reality. If we can create an acceptance of this concept, then I think many of the problems that business faces today would be significantly reduced.

In our own way, we have been trying to create a better understanding and appreciation of private enterprise and to get business executives to realize that they are such trustees. As the first school of business administration in the nation's capital, we feel strongly that one of our major challenges and heavy responsibilities is helping create a better understanding in government personnel of the nature and contribution of our business system. Half of our part-time students come from government, and their understanding of how our business system actually operates will be shaped to a large degree by our effectiveness in the classroom.

While this in itself should give every businessman in the country a deep interest in our success, we have gone further to help create a better understanding of our private enterprise system. Our Annual Washington Conference on Business-Government Relations brings together top executives from business and government in a non-legal atmosphere, to explain the role and contribution of private enterprise to our economy, to help determine the appropriate bench marks for government action, and to create a better understanding by government of the importance to the welfare of our economy of the private "goose that lays the golden eggs."

This has been a wonderful opportunity for business to tell its story. Unfortunately, government has been more anxious to hear the story than business has been to tell it. Imagine having, as we have, the economists of the Federal Trade Commission listening to business executives describe the kind of competition that actually exists in the marketplace as compared to the theoretical models of the economists!

Fortunately, however, the unique opportunities provided by our Conference are being increasingly recognized and last year's had the best attendance from business firms from throughout the country.

We will look forward to your comments on the enclosed and hope you can be with us at our Eighth Annual Washington Conference on Business-Government Relations on April 1-2, 1968.

Sincerely,

Nathan A. Bailly

P. S. Incidentally, Jimmy Dixon has been a good friend of our School. He is a major contributor to our Chair of Real Estate and has been making his "Aditorial" available to us for announcements of School activities. It would be wonderful if you could devote one of your columns to our forthcoming Eighth Annual Washington Conference on Business Government Relations.

Dear Mr. Spanel:

One salutes, thankfully, your decision to republish your excellent and highly prescient article, "For Communists the Target is the World." I have just read it in the November 13 issue of the International Herald Tribune. And if, as you said on April 7, 1959, "Actually the threat to what remains of freedom on this planet is vastly greater than it was ten years ago," how much greater is this threat today, eight years after 1959!

But how shall we overcome these "debilitating delusions," how shall we convince the people of the United States that the communist menace is ever real, that it always has been, and that it is even more horribly real today? Can we, with a map of the world, show them that Russia's aims have always been, even in the time of the Czars, to move south to the warm water of the Mediterranean? And now, having added communist ideology to old Czarist dreams, Russia already has outposts in Syria and Egypt. What will prevent her from taking over the oil-rich countries of the Middle East and moving from there into the new nations of Africa, confused by tribal bickering and ripe for the plucking? Can we show these Americans, again looking at a map of Asia, that China, with half the area of Russia but with three to four times the population, can, unless stopped, easily move south, swallow all of the countries of Southeast Asia, take over the rich islands of Indonesia and, once established, find Australia a helpless victim? With this aggression accomplished by China, what will happen to South Korea, Japan and the Philippines?

These are not silly "communist-under-the-bed" fears. These are very possible and, even worse, probable geo-political facts of life. For the target of the Communists is indeed, as your title plainly spells out, the world.

But, our wishful-thinking compatriots will tell us, Russia and China are at sword's point, they detest each other because each wishes to be the leader of the communist world. Are we so sure of this? If we take the time to read history, we can find that many hoaxes have been perpetrated to the dismay, later, of the hoaxed. Can we be certain that the quarrel between Russia and China is real--or only apparent? Can we be sure that it is not part of a grand design to bemuse, lull and anaesthetize the free world? The "crisis of the month" theory, so cogently set forth first in your article of April 7, 1959, bears out this slow "boring from within" process. Note: Cuba, the Congo, Nigeria, the Middle East, Vietnam, Bolivia. Where will the Communists stoke the fire for the next "crisis of the month?" And shall the United States run from crisis to crisis, bleeding men and money, until there is no blood left?

And now the Russians have announced the FOBS. Secretary McNamara says this does not violate the space treaty, signed last month, which bars atomic weapons in orbit. But suppose the Russians send this weapon only half-way around and drop it on Washington and New York, or on the heart of the continent, or on the West Coast? How much comfort will the Americans who remain be able to take in the knowledge that Russia has not violated the treaty? And when have the Russians not unilaterally violated any treaty or agreement whenever it suited their purposes?

Certainly the public service division of the International Latex Corporation has done and is doing its utmost to apprise the free world of the dangers which threaten to engulf it. You have made it clear that the rulers of the communist world suffer neither from fatigue, nor from human weakness, nor from wishful thinking, nor from "debilitating delusions." They are tough and adamant, and their aim is to reduce the free world of Western Europe and America to a status of vassalage and submission to their rule. Shall we of the free West recognize the danger only when we see that all that remains to us is Western Europe and the Western hemisphere? Is it not possible that such recognition will come too late?

Sincerely,

Gentlemen:

Congratulations on your excellent article on Page 20 of the October 12th issue of The New York Times. It is most encouraging to hear from someone who speaks out as you have calling for the participation of industry in Latin American development.

You could help promote this cause through me. October 29th I am speaking to a joint meeting of eighteen Churches on the west side of Cleveland. The subject is "World Peace-The Christian's Challenge", my own speech, however, is entitled, "Is the Contribution of Private Industrial Enterprise Needed in the Underdeveloped Countries?" One reason for this talk is when at first speaking to this group last year I discovered that almost all the speakers were educators, politicians or lawyers and had little or no concept of the importance of business. For over fifteen years I have traveled to Latin America so I am largely speaking from business and personal experiences.

Any supplementary information you can send me would be deeply appreciated.

I have studied and written about Communist systems in other parts of the world, and from my experience, your observations as to root causes ring true. One of the rewards of a sabbatical leave in New York City is the opportunity to discuss international problems with people who have thought seriously about them. I should be flattered indeed if you were able to be my guest for lunch at the Harvard Club. I have been particularly interested in the relationships between the Western European countries and the United States. I co-authored a recently published book by the Ohio State University Press entitled The Common Aid Effort--The Development Assistance Activities of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. I am currently studying the relationships between national and international officials as a means of studying how the processes involved influence the course of international relations.

Dear Mr. Spanel,

Your article "Anatomy of Neglect" published in the Washington Post 15 October was read and re-read with great interest. I am a career Navy officer with 22 years commissioned service which has included 2 years in the Dominican Republic and 2 years in the Pan American Affairs Division of the Navy Department. I find the candor and conciseness of your article most refreshing particularly after the great number of weighty and weasle-worded tomes I have read recently on similar subjects in my capacity as the only U.S. Navy officer student at the Inter-American Defense College in Washington. My classmates are senior officers from most of the member countries of the OAS.

The subject of my thesis to be published in February 1968 is "Inter-American Economic Development". The thesis outline has developed along lines very similar to your "Anatomy of Naked Neglect" should you have other articles of a similar nature or on similar subjects they and any other convenient materials would be greatly and gratefully appreciated.

With sincere best wishes I am,

Title: JEN PRODUCTS
INTERNATIONAL LATEX CORPORATION

Character: FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Synopsis: Mr. DAVID CHALE, Cincinnati, Ohio, formerly employed as a Consulting Engineer by Jen Products, a subcontractor to International Latex Corporation, Dover, Delaware, which firm was engaged in the manufacture of Apollo Space Suits, states Jen Products submitted false overhead rate figures to Latex Corporation at Dover, Delaware. CHALE said Jen Products, formerly a one man operation engaged in photographic supply work, had total overhead of $10 per month for office rental, and charged Latex at a fixed rate of 29% of $8 for each hour of work performed by two employees. CHALE also alleges Jen Products used this name in establishing a new Consulting Engineer Firm, in order to meet requirement of having been in business at least one year prior to working on a Government contract.

- RUC -

DETAILS

Investigation in this matter is predicated upon receipt of a letter, dated April 3, 1964, addressed to the Director, FBI, from Mr. CHARLES G. HAYNES, Director of Inspections, National Aeronautics and

CI 46-4169

Space Administration, Washington 25, D.C.

Mr. HAYNES' letter sets forth said allegations against Jen Products, which allegations were furnished to National Aeronautics and Space Administration by Mr. DAVID CHALE, a former employee of Jen Products. According to Mr. CHALE, International Latex is a subcontractor of Hamilton Standard, which company reportedly has a NASA CPFF contract for the development of an Apollo Astronaut Space Suit.

The letter states that Jen Products is a one man company represented by a Mr. JENNER, who employees consultants whenever required by his work load. JENNER is said to be a brother-in-law of Mr. FELLOWS, a vice-president of International Latex.

Mr. CHALE reported that Mr. JENNER billed the International Latex Company for personnel services at the rate of $8 per hour plus 29 percent overhead, plus 2 percent profit. According to Mr. CHALE, Mr. JENNER's only overhead was a $10 per month rental of desk space. Mr. JENNER is said to be involved in the reliability aspects of the work done by International Latex, but according to Mr. CHALE he is not qualified to do this work.

Mr. CHALE also stated he received approximately $360 per week as a consultant to Jen Products and implied that Mr. JENNER was billing International Latex at a considerably higher figure. Mr. CHALE expressed the opinion that this was possible because of the relationship between Mr. JENNER and Mr. FELLOWS. Mr. CHALE is convinced that the Government, through the NASA CPFF contract with Hamilton Standard, is probably the recipient of excessive claims.

Our Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Texas, awarded a CPFF contract to Hamilton Standard Division, United Aircraft Corporation, for the development of Apollo Space Suits and associated life support systems and International Latex Corporation is an approved subcontractor. From the information in our files, we could not establish a contractual relationship between Jen Products and International Latex Corporation or with Hamilton Standard Division, United Aircraft

Corporation.

The above information is being furnished for whatever action you deem appropriate. Our efforts to secure, by mail, more specific information from Mr. CHALE have been unsuccessful, as he has not replied to our correspondence.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 6/3/64

Mr. DAVID CHALE, home address 1125 Fort View Place, Cincinnati, Ohio, telephone 241-5456, furnished the following information under oath:

Mr. CHALE stated that he has known MYRON (MIKE) JENNER for many years. JENNER owned and operated a photographic supply and camera business known as Jen Products in New York. For the last 10 years, JENNER lost money steadily since the influx of foreign camera parts and supplies, and, for the past three or four years he had been doing nothing. He had no income and was residing on his sister's farm in Bethel, Vermont.

Approximately three years ago, while employed in Montreal, Canada, for a Labor Relations Consulting Firm, CHALE said he made frequent trips to Bethel, Vermont, just to see Mr. JENNER.

CHALE said he often brought groceries and arranged dates and entertainment for JENNER just to try and help cheer him up.

During one of these visits, CHALE said he offered to help JENNER find a job and get him back on his feet. He described JENNER as being an excellent tool and die maker, as well as being an excellent mechanic. JENNER holds several patents on small inventions, and is very intelligent in his field, however, he has had no experience as a mechanical engineer and was not qualified to make decisions, furnish estimates, proposals, write documentations, or reports.

CHALE admitted he obtained a position for JENNER

On 5/25/64 at Cincinnati, Ohio File # 46-4169

by SA JOHN L. PUDDISTER:gab

Date dictated 6/1/64

as a Consulting Engineering with Aero Tech, Dayton, Ohio, where both he and JENNER worked for Aero at a General Electric Plant.

CHALE said he carried JENNER in this job, wrote his reports at night, made proposals and recommended prices and explanations for him.

CHALE explained that as a Consulting Engineer, he, CHALE, moves from one consulting engineer firm to another for periods ranging from a year to several years, or until a particular project is completed.

He advised that after working with JENNER for a while, JENNER then got ambitious and thought they could start their own firm. JENNER had a fixation for spy work. He had been associated with "OSS" during the war years as an enlisted man. He did quite well because of his ability to invent and adapt small gadgets for use in "OSS."

He was a close friend of General DONOVAN of "OSS," now deceased.

It was JENNER's plan to hire out to large firms as Consulting Engineers, but in reality they would report on the abilities and work habits of the firm's employees.

Mr. CHALE explained that in obtaining Government contract work, the Government requires that the firm be in business for at least a year prior to obtaining Government contracts. Since Jen Products had been in business for more than a year, even though the operations of Jen Products had been curtailed for several years, this name was used for the new consulting engineer firm.

International Latex Corporation, Dover, Delaware, had agreed to hire Jen Products as Consulting Engineers on a sub-contract, which Latex held from Hamilton Standard.

Mr. JENNER is the brother-in-law of Mr. FELLER, President of International Latex Corporation. JENNER had been in touch with FELLER, and FELLER was impressed with JENNER's idea of starting a new consulting engineer firm.

Apparently Mr. FELLER needed the immediate services of consulting engineers in connection with the Hamilton Standard sub-contract.

CHALE said International Latex Corporation of Dover, Delaware, was awarded a sub-contract from Hamilton Standard to produce Apollo Astronaut Space Suits. Latex Corporation normally produces rubberized goods such as Latex gloves, women's foundation garments, girdles, brassieres, and all types of rubberized fabrics.

In hiring Jen Products as Consulting Engineers, and since a Government contract was involved, a Government clearance was necessary for Jen Products before the firm could work on the project.

JENNER, upon being advised of this, telephoned Mr. FELLER and told him they would not be able to work on the project until a clearance came through on Jen Products.

CHALE said he could only hear one side of the conversation with FELLER, and does not know what FELLER's reply was, but after completing the telephone call, JENNER then told CHALE that they, JENNER and CHALE, were to start on the project as International Latex Corporation employees until the clearance for Jen Products came through.

The organization of officers of Jen Products was handled by JENNER. The distribution of profit was to be 60 per cent for JENNER, 30 per cent for CHALE, and 10 per cent for Mr. AUBREY TUNNELL.

CHALE advised that Mr. TUNNELL is a former U.S. Army Colonel in business for himself in the labor relation field. His address is 38 Park Row, New York City, New York, and he is a close friend of JENNER. TUNNELL was to be designated as Security Officer of Jen Products in order to facilitate security clearance of Jen Products.

Mr. CHALE explained that JENNER had requested TUNNELL to serve in this capacity, and TUNNELL offered office space for Jen Products which space consisted of nothing more than a desk and possibly a telephone.

For this, TUNNELL was to receive $10 a month rental from Jen Products.

CHALE stated that this office space was the only location of Jen Products and constituted the entire overhead.

Mr. CHALE said he and JENNER worked as employees of International Latex at the Industrial Products Division Plant, Dover, Delaware, doing the work of consulting engineers, but were actually being paid weekly salaries by Latex Corporation at the rate of $8 per hour each, or approximately $320 per week plus expenses.

CHALE said they were employed in this capacity from November 1, 1963, to the end of December, 1963.

The security clearance for Jen Products came through in December, 1963, at which time CHALE and JENNER resigned their positions with International Latex and became Consulting Engineers for Jen Products.

This change of employment was a mere paper change. According to CHALE, they remained at the same desks in the same office at Latex; the only change consisted in salary. CHALE and JENNER were dropped from the Latex payroll as employees, and Jen Products commenced to bill Latex for time, expenses, and overhead of CHALE and JENNER.

The total amount established was $12 per hour for each CHALE and JENNER, which included $8 per hour wages, plus 29 per cent of $8 for overhead, plus two per cent profit plus expenses. This came to slightly above $12 per hour, but was rounded off to the nearest dollar.

CHALE said he cautioned JENNER, who computed the rates, to be charged, that the rate was too high and the Government would not stand still for these rates. CHALE stated that the overhead rate of 29 per cent of $8 per hour is completely false in that the only overhead consisted of $10 a month agreed upon with Mr. TUNNELL for rental of a desk and telephone in Mr. TUNNELL's office.

CHALE stated he doubts if Mr. TUNNELL was ever paid $10, that the agreement to rent office space was a means of obtaining a mailing address for Jen Products rather than an actual office.

During the month of January, 1964, CHALE said he had many differences of opinion with JENNER. He said JENNER became an obnoxious know-it-all.

Later in January, 1964, after the Latex Plant had closed for the day, CHALE said the security guard for Latex came up to his desk and said he was sorry to hear that Mr. CHALE had resigned, and that he wanted to be sure that Mr. CHALE left his identification badge at the office before he left the plant.

CHALE said he was momentarily stunned. He said he confronted JENNER and asked him why he was being discharged. JENNER told him he no longer needed him and was not cutting CHALE in on something this good.

A few words were passed, and Mr. JENNER threatened CHALE that if he started trouble for JENNER, he would know how to take care of CHALE.

Mr. CHALE said he was fired from Jen Products the day before they were to finalize their agreement in writing, of shares in interest and organization of Jen Products.

Mr. CHALE said he has heard that JENNER or Jen Products was removed from the Apollo Project by Mr. FELLER of Latex. The reason given to JENNER for his dismissal was the fact that he had too many lies on his clearance questionnaire.

Verdict
<sup>DAVID</sup> Mr. CHALE furnished his present home address as 1125 Fort View Place, Cincinnati, Ohio, telephone 241-5456. His prior address was 3057 Brighton Second Street, Brooklyn, New York, where his parents presently reside. His date of birth was furnished as July 29, 1918, and he has a high school education. He is divorced and was remarried about three weeks ago.

CHALE said MYRON JENNER resides in the 400 Block of West 24th Street, New York City, New York, and is listed under the name of MYRON JENNER in the local telephone directory.

ENCLOSURES TO THE UNITED STATES ATTORNEY, WILMINGTON, DELAWARE:

BA 46-3991

DETAILS:

The investigation conducted was initiated as a result of information furnished by DAVID H. CHALE advising that Jen Products, Inc. obtained a purchase order from International Latex Corporation, Industrial Products Division, Dover, Delaware (ILC) for the services of three engineers of Jen Products, Inc. CHALE advised that ILC was charged a rate of $12 per hour for the services of the three engineers. This $12 per hour included 29 per cent overhead which CHALE alleged was overstated as the only overhead of Jen Products, Inc., consisted of $10 per month for renting office space from TUNNELL. CHALE also furnished information that the Security Clearance Questionnaire submitted by Jen Products to ILC contained false statements. CHALE also advised that Mr. FELLER, President of ILC was a brother-in-law of MYRON S. JENNER, who had determined the rate of overhead and other services to be billed ILC by Jen Products, Inc.

On June 30, 1964, this matter was discussed with [redacted] Wilmington, Delaware, by SA LEROY DENE WEDGE, JR. [redacted]

ROBERT J. REDDEN, 20 Fairfield Drive, Dover, Delaware, furnished the following information after being placed under oath and advised by SA(A) CHARLES W. ROHREN that he did not have to make a statement, that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law, and that he could consult with or obtain the services of an attorney prior to making any statement.

REDDEN advised that he has been employed by the International Latex Corporation, Industrial Products Division, (ILC), Dover, Delaware, since December, 1955. His present position is that of "Manager of Design Engineering", and he is also the Corporate Security Officer. His duties as Corporate Security Officer consist mainly of interviewing new employees and verifying information furnished by them so that a security clearance can be granted the new employee.

The new employee is furnished a copy of ILC pamphlet dated October 8, 1962, entitled, "Standard Practice Procedures for Safeguarding Classified Information", and a copy of "Federal Laws Covering Espionage, Sabotage and Subversive Activities".

The employee is told to read the two pamphlets and then fill out DD Form 48-2 entitled, "Application and Authorization for Access to Confidential Information". After the employee fills out the form, REDDEN then reads the first paragraph and the section regarding "Certification" on DD Form 48-2 to the employee. After reading these two items to the employee, he then asks the employee if he would like to change any of the information which he has furnished prior to signing the form. The employee also fills out Form Number 1619 entitled, "Security Statement" at that time.

REDDEN then verifies the employee's birth and checks with other companies should the employee have listed that he received a Security Clearance prior to seeking employment with ILC.

On DD Form 48-2, the employee states where he was born and that he does not belong or has ever belonged to any organization designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

REDDEN said that he does review the employee's personnel file and obtains information regarding his educational background which the employee has listed on his application for employment. This application for employment is filled out by the employee prior to being interviewed by him. There are no warnings on the employee's application advising the person seeking employment that false statements submitted are in violation of any Federal law.

The DD form 48-2 and form number 1619 which the employee fills out and signs for a Security Clearance as well as the other information furnished the employee does not contain any statement or information to the effect that false statements on the application for employment are in violation of any Federal law or that the application for employment is to be utilized in any manner regarding the Security Clearance.

Someone whom he does not recall made a statement regarding MYRON S. JENNER's educational background. He then obtained JENNER's personnel file and found on the application for employment that JENNER had listed he attended Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn, New York in 1934. He had also listed under colleged, NYU, New York City and that he obtained a M.E. in 1939. REDDEN stated that he assumed that M.E. meant Mechanical Engineer. JENNER's file revealed he had used the name of MYRON S. SCHWARTZ, at one time.

JENNER's personnel file indicated that attempts to verify his education at Erasmus High School were negative. A letter in his personnel file dated January 3, 1964 from the New York University, Office of the Registrar, advised that MYRON S. JENNER had satisfactorily completed an extensive War Training Course, entitled "Design of Production Tools," given from October 14, 1941 to December 11, 1941, consisting of 45 hours of study and that the course was not offered for college credit. There was no confirmation in JENNER's personnel file that he attended New York University in 1939.

REDDEN then wrote a letter to the Second U. S. Army Industrial Security Field Office, Building number 7, Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, directed to the attention of Mr. G. EDGAR STEFFEE, JR., Chief Industrial Security Field Officer, regarding JENNER's education background which had not been verified. He did this not because he thought JENNER had violated any law but merely to have this checked out and if he was not a graduate engineer it could be used to terminate his employment with International Latex Corporation. He did not question JENNER regarding this matter and to the best of his knowledge no one else did. He also reviewed DAVID H. CHALE's personnel file and found that CHALE had listed on his application for employment that he had graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C. in 1929. A letter in CHALE's personnel file dated January 18, 1964, from the University of N. C., Chapel Hill, N. C. advised that a search of the file at the University failed to locate any record of DAVID H. CHALE having attended that University. CHALE was not questioned regarding this as he had already been terminated by MYRON S. JENNER.

REDDEN had also heard something about ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN's educational background and had also attempted to obtain REGELMANN's personnel file with negative results. He had examined REGELMANN's personnel file at the time REGELMANN began his employment with ILC and at that time it had contained an application for employment.

The files regarding the Security Clearance Questionnaire submitted by Jen Products, Inc. can not be located and he has no idea what has happened to them.

REDDEN furnished copies of the following documents from his security files regarding REGELMANN, JENNER and CHALE:

Seven copies of documents from file of MYRON S. JENNER;

Seven copies of documents from file of DAVID H. CHALE;

Six copies of documents from file of ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN;

Four copies of documents regarding Security Clearances.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 8/17/64

MYRON S. JENNER, 440 West 24th Street, New York, New York was interviewed at 38 Park Row, New York, New York. Mr. JENNER was advised that he did not have to make any statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law; and that he had a right to consult an attorney before making any statement.

Mr. JENNER was placed under oath and was interviewed at length concerning the contract JEN PRODUCTS, INC. furnished engineers to International Latex Corporation during November and December, 1963 and January, 1964. Mr. JENNER stated that the overhead rate of 30% of direct labor was based on actual overhead experienced by the Company. He stated that the records of the company are in the possession of Philip Rubin, a public accountant, 327 Central Park West, New York, New York and he would request Mr. RUBIN to make them available for examination.

JENNER was questioned concerning information furnished to International Latex Corporation that he was a graduate of New York University and Erasmus High School. JENNER advised that he attended Erasmus High School but did not graduate. JENNER said he attended a short course at N.Y.U. but never was enrolled as a regular student. JENNER said that the false information was supplied only because International Latex needed their help very much and he did it for the benefit of International. JENNER stated further that employees of JEN PRODUCTS did very good work on the contract and they were paid almost as much as JEN PRODUCTS received.

JENNER declined to furnish a sworn, signed statement.

JENNER stated that JEN PRODUCTS has been in business since 1946 and the plant is in Bethel, Vermont.

JENNER said that other engineers also indicated that they were graduate engineers when in fact they were not.

On August 26, 1964, Mr. ROBERT J. REDDEN, Security Officer, ILC, Industrial Products Division, Dover, Delaware, advised that he had not as yet located the security clearance questionnaires regarding JEN Products, Inc. employees, which should be in the files of ILC.

Date _____

LEONARD F. SHEPARD, 54 Rodney Road, Dover, Delaware, was interviewed at his place of employment, the International Latex Corporation (ILC), Industrial Products Division, Dover, Delaware. SHEPARD was advised as to the nature of this investigation and that information would be furnished on a free and voluntary basis. SHEPARD was advised he did not have to furnish information and that no threats or promises would be made to him to induce him to furnish information. SHEPARD was also advised that any information furnished by him could be used against him in a court of law, and that he could be called upon to testify in court in this case. SHEPARD was advised as to his rights to consult an attorney prior to furnish any information and that he would be requested to furnish information in this case under oath.

SHEPARD stated he had no objections to furnishing information in this case and furnished the following information under oath:

SHEPARD is presently the Apollo Program Manager for ILC, which is a project title and previously was Director of Research and Engineering, which is a division title, but has always been directly responsible for the Apollo Program at ILC. SHEPARD has been employed by ILC for the past 13 years and with the Industrial Products Division for the past 10 years.

In the Fall of 1963, ILC was in need of engineers for an expedite phase of their work in connection with the contract ILC has with Hamilton Standards Division, United Aircraft Corporation on the Apollo Program. A number of prospects for this work, who had been sent to ILC by M & T Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, an Engineer Employment Agency, had been interviewed but failed to qualify for the work.

SHEPARD stated he was becoming anxious about the situation and, because of his prior association with MYRON JENNER and JENNER's contacts in the engineering field, felt that possibly JENNER would help him locate competent engineers. Due to the fact JENNER is a brother-in-law of MAX FELLER, Vice President of Industrial Relations, ILC, SHEPARD cleared his contact with FELLER and JENNER with his superior, Mr. D. IRVING OBROW, Vice President and Treasurer, ILC, prior to contacting FELLER regarding contacting JENNER. SHEPARD stated he recalls that Mr. FELLER also cleared his hiring of JENNER by ILC with Mr. WALTER HEINZ, President, ILC, Empire State Building, New York, New York.

SHEPARD stated he has known JENNER for approximately 10 or 12 years through his association with MAX FELLER, who is, in addition to being Vice President of ILC, also a neighbor of SHEPARD. Through this association, SHEPARD has learned that JENNER had developed, patented and produced a minox flash attachment and a blue dye for dipping flash bulbs in photographic work. SHEPARD does not have personal knowledge of this and has never seen the Jen Products, Incorporated, place of business, but all of his information was obtained from JENNER and FELLER and he also noted he has seen these products on the market.

SHEPARD contacted FELLER regarding contacting JENNER and he and FELLER jointly contacted JENNER, by telephone, from FELLER's office. SHEPARD contacted JENNER with the idea of employing the engineers as employees of ILC and JENNER proposed that he, JENNER, furnish the engineers to ILC on a contract basis. To the best of his recollection, SHEPARD believes that JENNER was working for or had recently worked for Republic Aviation, Dayton, Ohio. At this time, JENNER advised he had two engineers in mind but he was not positive they were available, JENNER stated he would contact these two men and advise SHEPARD if they were available. SHEPARD stated he does not recall if he specified to JENNER he was looking for engineers or implied this from the description of the work he wanted them to perform.

SHEPARD stated he has no idea as to when this occurred or the time lapse between contacts, but JENNER subsequently contacted him and advised that the two men he had considered for them were available and he would make them available for interview. SHEPARD stated he does not recall the details, that is if JENNER identified these perspective contract engineers or other arrangements at that time, but subsequently DAVID CHALE and JOHN REGELMANN were interviewed and accepted by DONALD WOHLGEMUTH, Manager of Engineering, ILC, Industrial Products Division, on the basis of the interview and the resume submitted by CHALE and REGELMANN.

At that time JENNER advised that he was also available for work at ILC, and SHEPARD, based on his personal knowledge of the capabilities of JENNER, accepted JENNER. SHEPARD stated he was aware of the fact that JENNER was not a graduate engineer, but personally felt that JENNER had acquired equivalent ability and experience and was capable of doing the work. SHEPARD advised that JENNER was doing reliability work, which is the personal responsibility of SHEPARD and JENNER was therefore working directly for SHEPARD and CHALE and REGELMANN were working in the engineering section.

To expedite obtaining the services of these men they were hired as ILC employees until JENNER could obtain a Facility Security Clearance for Jen Products, Incorporated. When the necessary clearance was obtained their employment with ILC was terminated and they were considered as contract engineers furnished by Jen Products, Incorporated. SHEPARD does not recall when this occurred but the date will be reflected in ILC records.

With regard to the fees charged by Jen Products, Incorporated, SHEPARD stated that to the best of his recollection, the following events occurred in this regard:

JENNER first made an oral quote of $15.00 per hour per man, SHEPARD advised him this was too high to be considered and that he had to be competitive to be considered for the work. SHEPARD does not specifically recall, but believes JENNER asked him what would be considered competitive and SHEPARD advised him that $12.00 per hour per man would be the maximum offer considered. SHEPARD based this statement on the fact that ILC was paying M & T Company a maximum of $12.02 per hour per man regular time and $15.13 per hour over time, for contract engineers. As an example SHEPARD furnished the following breakdown of fees paid to M & T for a contract Mechanical Engineer:

Hourly Rate	$7.75 per hour
Overhead	2.17 per hour
Profit	.60 per hour
	$10.52
Per diem	1.40 per hour
Total	$11.92 per hour

SHEPARD stated he believes negotiations were carried on between [redacted] buyer for ILC, and JENNER, until there was a difference regarding the per diem rate. SHEPARD advised JENNER the per diem rate in his quote was too high and he could not approve a per diem rate of $2.40 per hour as JENNER had quoted, because it was not competitive. SHEPARD told JENNER that employees were not particularly interested in the breakdown between the hourly rate and the per diem rate, that they were only interested in the total income. JENNER then reduced the per diem rate from $2.40 per hour per man to $1.40 per hour per man and increased the hourly rate from $7.00 to $8.00 per hour per man, resulting in the same charge to ILC, but still a competitive rate. JENNER submitted a new quote in writing on this basis, which was approved by SHEPARD. SHEPARD stated, to the best of his recollection, he did not discuss the other items in the itemized quote submitted by JENNER and accepted by ILC, with his, SHEPARD's, approval.

SHEPARD stated he subsequently received a report, he believes from WOHLGEMUTH, that CHALE's work was sub-standard and they were also having an administrative problem with CHALE. SHEPARD was asked if he objected to CHALE's being released and SHEPARD referred the report to JENNER. The problem of sub-standard work and the administrative problem continued with CHALE and JENNER was instructed to release CHALE.

The work performed by JENNER and REGELMANN was satisfactory, but subsequently, information came to the attention of ROBERT REDDEN, ILC Security Officer, that JENNER and REGELMANN had furnished false information on their employment application. When this was confirmed, the employment of JENNER and REGELMANN was terminated. SHEPARD advised that REDDEN would be in a better position to furnish information in this regard.

SHEPARD stated he was unable to furnish further information regarding this matter.

"I have known Myron Jenner for many years. Jenner owned and operated a photographic supply and camera business known as Jen Products Co. in New York City but his camera business went practically defunct during the past few years. Jenner is very intelligent in his field but has had extremely limited experience as a mechanical engineer. I obtained a position for Jenner as a Consulting Engineer with Aero Tech, Dayton, Ohio, where we both worked. After working with Jenner for a while he got ambitious and thought we could start our own firm. It was Jenner's plan to hire out to large firms as Consulting Engineers, but in reality we would report on the abilities and work habits of the firm's supervisory employees.

On 9/8/64 at Norfolk, Virginia File # Norfolk 46-1564
by SA RAYMOND E. TALLEY:JW Date dictated 9/10/64

In order to meet the Government contract requirement of being in business for more than a year, he used the name of Jen Products for the new Technical Consulting firm.

"International Latex Corporation, Dover, Delaware, had agreed to hire Jen Products as Consulting Engineers on a sub-contract which Latex held from Hamilton Standard. Mr. Jenner is the brother-in-law of Mr. Feller, Vice Pres. of International Latex Corp. Jenner had been in touch with Feller, and Feller was impressed with Jenner's idea of starting a new consulting engineer firm. Apparently Feller needed the immediate services of consulting engineers in connection with the Hamilton Standard sub-contract.

"In hiring Jen Products as Consulting Engineers, and since a Government contract was involved, a Government clearance was necessary for Jen Products before we could work on the project. Jenner contacted Feller by telephone one day about this, and, after the phone call, Jenner told me that we were to start on the project as International Latex Corp. employees until the clearance for Jen Products came through. Jenner submitted some sort of facilities clearance form which was a Government clearance form. I have no knowledge of any false information having been placed on this form by Jenner or anyone else attached to Jen Products.

"The organization of officers of Jen Products was handled by Jenner. Profit was to be distributed 60% to Jenner, 30% to me and 10% for Mr. Aubrey Tunnell. Mr. Tunnell is in business for himself in the hardware manufacturing field and has offices at 38 Park Row, New York City. He is a close friend of Jenner's. Tunnell was to be Security Officer of Jen Products in order to facilitate security clearance for Jen Products. Jenner had requested Tunnell to serve in this capacity and Tunnell offered to continue office space for Jen Products, which space consisted of nothing more than a desk and possibly a telephone. For this, Tunnell was to receive $10 a month rental from Jen Products. This office space was the only location of Jen Products and constituted the entire overhead.

"From about 11/1/63 until about 11/25/63, Jenner and I worked as employees of International Latex, Dover, Del., doing the work of consulting engineers, but were actually being paid weekly salaries by Latex at the rate of $8 per hour each or approximately $320 per week plus expenses. At this time, the security clearance for Jen Products came through and Jenner and I resigned our positions with International Latex and became Consulting Engineers for Jen Products. This change of employment was a mere paper change. Jenner and I remained at the same desks in the same office at Latex and the only change consisted in salary. We were dropped from the Latex payroll as employees and Jen Products commenced to bill Latex for time, expenses, and our overhead.

"The total amount established was $12 per hour for Jenner and I each, which included $8 per hour wages, plus 29 per cent of $8 for overhead, plus 2 per cent profit, plus expenses. This came to slightly more than $12 per hour, but was rounded off to $12.

"Time sheets for the employees of Jen Products, that is, Jenner, Ernest John Regelman and myself were submitted to Latex Corp. weekly and were used as the basis for payment by Latex to Jen Products, and the reimbursement to the 3 of us by Jen Products. The 3 of us signed these time sheets, certifying we had worked the hours indicated on them and for which Latex would be billed by Jen Products for these hours. I know of no falsification in the hours listed on these time sheets.

"I cautioned Jenner, who computed the rates to be charged, that the rate was too high and the Government would not stand still for these rates.

"The overhead rates of 29 per cent of $8 per hour is completely false because the only overhead expense consisted of $10 a month agreed upon with Tunnell for rental of a desk and telephone in Tunnell's office. I never actually saw this $10 paid and this agreement to rent office space was a means of obtaining a mailing address for Jen Products rather than an actual office.

"In December, 1963, I had many differences of opinion with Jenner and, also in this month, I was fired from Jen Products. I was actually fired the day before we were to finalize our agreement in writing pertaining to shares in interest and organization of Jen Products.

"I have read the above statement on this and eight (8) other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

DETAILSAT CINCINNATI, OHIO

The following investigation was conducted by
SA QUENTIN F. HANSEN:

On November 9, 1964, inquiry was made of the General Electric Company, Evendale, Ohio, to determine whether ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN was employed by that organization. At that time it was determined that the Allstates Design and Development Company, 6459 Kennedy, Cincinnati, Ohio, was performing some work for the General Electric Company at Evendale, Ohio, and further that ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN was employed by the latter organization.

CI 46-4169

On that same date, an attempt was made to contact ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN with negative results.

On November 20, 1964, arrangements were made through the Plant Security Manager of the General Electric Company, Evendale, Ohio, to interview ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN on that organization's premises on November 24, 1964.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 12/3/64

ERNEST JOHN REGELMANN, employed as an engineer for the Allstates Design and Development Company, 6459 Kennedy, Cincinnati, Ohio, and who resides at 36 Gahl Terrace, Reading, Ohio, was interviewed on the premises of the General Electric Company, Evendale, Ohio, where his organization is presently performing work. At this time REGELMANN furnished information which was incorporated into a sworn signed statement which is as follows:

"Evendale, Ohio
November 25, 1964

"I, Ernest John Regelmann, being duly sworn, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Quentin F. Hansen, who has identified himself to me as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. No threats or promises, no force nor violence have been used in the obtaining of this statement and I have been advised that I do not have to make any statement and that any statement I do make may be used against me in a court of law. In addition, I have been advised that I am entitled to an attorney before making any statement.

"I am fifty one years of age and presently employed by AllStates Design & Development Company 6459 Kennedy Cincinnati, Ohio, on a project at the General Electric Company, Evendale, Ohio.

"I originally met 'Mike' Jenner in December while I was employed at General Electric Company, Evendale, Ohio & he was employed at Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. David Chale introduced me to Jenner. Later on Jenner

"came to General Electric Company Evendale, Ohio where he was employed until May 1963. I lost contact with him at that point.

"At about at this same time I left General Electric Company, Evendale, Ohio, and went to work for the Continental Aviation Detroit, Michigan. David Chale was also employed there too. Chale left this employment at the end of August.

"Sometime during October 1963 Jenner contacted me originally through my wife, at our home in Babylon, New York concerning going to work for him at the International Latex Corporation located at Dover Delaware. I finished my job at Detroit, Michigan the last week of October, 1963 and drove to my home in Babylon, New York, where I spent the weekend, then drove on to Dover, Delaware where I met Jenner.

"I believe I reported for work at the International Latex Corporation on November 1, 1963 & learned that I was to be tentatively hired by International Latex Corporation at an hourly rate of $8 per hour with no per diem. This arrangement was made as Jen Products, Inc., clearance had not come through.

"I wish to state that Jenner agreed to reimbursing David Chale, who also had been hired, and myself the per diem which is based on the rate of $1.40 an hour for the first 40 hours. I recall that Jenner later paid me $224 which represented the per diem due me.

"Originally International Latex Corporation paid my salary for the first month from November 1, 1963 through November 30, 1963. At that time

"Jenner & David Chale were also being paid by the above named corporation, to the best of my knowledge.

"As I recall about December 1, 1963 Jenner received clearance & then started paying David Chale & myself at the rate of $8 per hour plus per diem. Jenner also agreed to pay us holiday pay for Thanksgiving, 1963 as we would have received this pay at our former place of employment.

"I wish to state that I have no information as to what Jenner billed International Latex Corporation. I do not have any information as to any false information Jen Products, Inc. submitted to International Latex Corporation in any security clearance questionnaire. I do know that Jenner's overhead at least consisted of paying each of us holiday pay, back per diem, as well as having business cards & stationary printed for us which certainly was an expense to Jenner.

"I also wish to state the only unusual arrangement in my being employed by Jenner Products, Inc. was working alongside of Jenner even though he was the official of that organization.

"I completed my phase of the crash program of this project on January 31, 1964, and it was at this time that my employment was terminated. David Chale had left the early part of January, 1964 after having a disagreement with Jenner.

"I also wish to state that I was an employee on field assignment, not an official of Jen Products, Inc., therefore I was not familiar with any arrangements dealing with the original formation of that corporation by Jenner.

"I also recall that Mr. Jenner had travel and motel expenses prior to the start of work by Jenner employees and also had secretarial expense during the duration of the job. This information has come to mind since stating the other expenses I recall Jenner having had on this job.

"I have read the above statement, consisting of this page & four other pages, & it is true & correct to the best of my knowledge.

"Sworn to and subscribed before me on November 25, 1964, at Evendale, Ohio.

"/s/ Quentin F. Hansen, Special Agent, FBI, Cincinnati, Ohio"

In addition to the above information, REGELMANN advised that he preferred furnishing the following information regarding his personal opinion:

He stated that he believed that JENNER & DAVID H. CHALE had a "falling out" due to the fact that CHALE had anticipated becoming a partner with JENNER in the organization Jen Products, Inc. He also stated he believed CHALE had expected to be more closely associated with JENNER in this organization and when this fact did not materialize, he left the organization during the first week of January, 1964.

REGELMANN stated that he has recently learned that DAVID H. CHALE is presently residing in Cincinnati, however, he does not know the location of his employment, if any.

Public Accountant advised that JEN PRODUCTS, INC. had no direct labor expense during that year except that incurred on International Latex Corporation.

ENCLOSURES TO USA, WILMINGTON, DELAWARE (3)

Enclosed for the United States Attorney, Wilmington, Delaware are copies of three accounting schedules of Direct Labor and Overhead of JEN PRODUCTS, INC.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Mr. PHILIP RUBIN, Public Accountant, 327 Central Park West, New York, New York was contacted on 10/26, 11/13 and 12/4/64, regarding the records of JEN PRODUCTS, INC. and he advised that he had not yet been able to obtain them again from Mr. JENNER.

On 12/22/64, Mr. RUBIN made the records of JEN PRODUCTS, INC. for the fiscal year ended 4/30/64 available for examination. Direct Labor and Overhead for the period applicable to November, December, 1963 and January, 1964 were examined and scheduled. Mr. RUBIN advised that he did not keep formal records on the company since it is small but prepares schedules of payments and receipts which he uses for the income tax return.

Regarding overhead Mr. RUBIN advised that the two payments of $118.21 each in December, 1963, and January, 1964 respectively were made to Clarendon Management Company for rent on the apartment of Mr. JENNER at London Terrace Apartments, West 23rd Street and 10th Avenue, New York City which Mr. JENNER uses to operate his business in New York since he has residence established in Bethel, Vermont.

The records indicated that the following items of income were reported for the fiscal year ended 4/30/64:

Jen Dip	$ 1,126.72
International Latex	10,051.60
Consulting Service	2,616.76 (none during 10/63-2/13/64)
	$13,795.08

Mr. RUBIN advised that no direct labor was incurred except that of the International Latex Corporation contract and the examination of the records verified this. RUBIN said he also believed all of the per diem payments could be considered overhead.
