University Bible Fellowship

"Go into all the world and preach the good news to all creation"  Mark 16:15

6558 N. Artesian, Chicago, IL 60645
(312) 338-1155
1. PURPOSE

The UNIVERSITY BIBLE FELLOWSHIP is an evangelical student organization dedicated to the task of campus evangelism. Our main work is helping students to study the Bible and live according to its teachings.

The function of an evangelical student organization is to be a bridge between college campuses and the local churches.

2. BIBLE STUDY

A. One-To-One Bible Study

In this collective society one person can easily be ignored. But when we learned through Bible study how God helped one person Abraham for 25 years, and how Jesus our Lord helped the Twelve one by one, we were greatly inspired to study the Bible with each student on a one-to-one basis.

This kind of Bible study is costly because it involves investment of one's personal time, love and care. But we believe the Bible teaches that one soul is of greater worth than the whole universe.

In one-to-one Bible study, usually we begin with Genesis or John's gospel, in order to learn basic Christianity.
B. Daily Bible Reading

We also encourage students to read the Bible daily and to pray regularly, using the Daily Bread booklets. Some students meet in small groups once a week to share their personal responses to the word of God.

C. Discipleship Training

As Jesus raised disciples from the outset of his ministry, we also pray that God may raise many disciples of Jesus Christ through our prayers and labor of love. For this purpose we hold an annual Summer Bible Conference, Easter Conference, and special one-week Bible school.

D. World Mission Vision

In the course of Bible study we also learned that our Lord Jesus Christ gave his disciples the World Mission Command, "Go into all the world and preach the good news to all creation." So far, God has enabled us to send lay missionaries to Argentina, Bangladesh, Brazil, Canada, France, Guatemala, Philippines, Taiwan, Malawi, Mexico, Saudi Arabia, Switzerland, and West Germany, as well as to Korea and the U.S.A. We pray that God may raise many lay missionaries and send them out to 145 nations of the world, and that God may bless this country to be more of a missionary-sending country than it ever has been.
3. HOW CAN WE HELP STUDENTS?

We know that no one can change anyone else. So we try to help each student to study the Bible, that through Bible study he or she may come to know God personally, and also come to know himself or herself, and find the clear purpose and meaning of life in our Lord Jesus Christ. In doing this, we can only depend on the work of the Holy Spirit.

4. OFFERING FOR RELIEF WORK

As we study the Bible we learn again and again the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ. As his followers we pray that we may learn his mercy practically. At our 1984 Christmas worship service in Chicago, we were so encouraged to see students offer $20,000 in Christ for starving Ethiopian brothers and sisters. This offering was sent to Ethiopia through World Vision's president Ted W. Engstrom.

5. WHAT WE BELIEVE

We believe the Bible teaches the following fundamental Christian truths:
1. That there is one God in three persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit.

2. That God created the heavens and the earth and all things; that he is the Sovereign Ruler of all things; that the Sovereign God reveals himself; that he is sovereign in his redemptive work and in his final judgment.

3. That the Bible is inspired by God; that it is entirely trustworthy; that it is the final authority in faith and practice.

4. That all people have been under the bondage and power of sin since the fall of Adam, and deserve the judgment and wrath of God.

5. That Jesus Christ, the Incarnate Son of God, through his atoning, sacrificial death on the cross for our sins and his resurrection, is the only way of salvation; that he alone can save us from sin and judgment, and purify us from the contamination of sin.

6. That Jesus Christ rose bodily from the dead, ascended into heaven, and sits at the right hand of God the Father.

7. That regeneration is the work of the Holy Spirit; that it is necessary if one is to enter the kingdom of God.
8. That we are made righteous by grace alone, through faith alone.

9. That the Holy Spirit works in the heart of every believer to lead him.

10. That the Church is the body of Christ and that all Christians are members of it.

11. That Jesus Christ will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead.

6. HOW UBF BEGAN

UBF was begun in 1961 in Kwangju, Korea, through a cooperative endeavour of the Korean Presbyterian Church and the Korean Mission of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. By 1962 there were more than 100 student-led, on-campus Bible study groups on the two campuses of Kwangju. Soon, the movement became self-supporting, and students sent missionaries to pioneer other campuses in South Korea. When UBF grew too large to be under the auspices of the local Presbyterian committee, it became an independant evangelical student movement. UBF owes its growth in part to International Fellowship of Evangelical Students (IFES) staff members who visited and taught our staff, and who encouraged us from time to time.
7. HOW SOME EVANGELICAL HISTORIANS SEE UBF

Recently, the Korean church has been recognized as one of the most sacrificial, prayerful and Bible-believing churches in the world, and its spirit of revival has inspired Christians everywhere.

J. Christy Wilson, in his book Today's Tentmakers (Tyndale House Publishers, Inc.; Wheaton, IL, 1979), wrote about mission work in many countries. When he wrote about Korea, he wrote mainly about UBF:

THIRD WORLD TENTMAKERS FROM KOREA
The University Bible Fellowship in Seoul is a mission agency which provides a model of success in the area of self-supporting witness. It was started by the Rev. (Samuel) Chang Woo Lee as a small indigenous student movement in Korea in 1960. Since then, it has grown rapidly, both in Korea and in other nations. By 1976 they had sent 137 tentmaking missionaries abroad. Before leaving, these missionaries receive at least six months of vigorous training as preparation for their service. In other countries they take secular jobs in line with their vocations and professions for which they have received previous training. They not only support themselves, but also financially back the mission's other spiritual ministries. Pastor Lee visits and ministers to the missionaries on their various fields. Chaeok Chun, who herself was a missionary from Korea to Pakistan, and Marlin Nelson comment on this work in their book Asian Mission Societies: “It is one of the rare cases where self-support is working efficiently without workers losing their vision for missionary work. We do think this structure and pattern for foreign mission work is one of the best known and practiced by Asian missions.” These self-supporting missionaries concentrate on one-to-one personal evangelism, Bible study in small groups, and the quality of their Christian life and work. Furthermore, they now have started giving support to other missionaries from their fellowship in Third World countries where they cannot earn their own way. This has been begun by sending to Bangladesh a couple who are involved in cross-cultural witness. (p. 136)

P. J. Johnstone in his book, Operation World: A Handbook for World Intercession (STL Publications; England, 1980), has a brief section on prayer topics in Korea. Even though there are other student organizations in Korea, he mentions only UBF:

Student work in the 97 colleges and universities and among the 190,000 students has made great progress through the University Bible Fellowship. The UBF emphasizes Bible study and personal evangelism, and now has workers who have gone out to the USA, Germany, Switzerland and other lands to witness among students. (p. 143)
Chua Wee Hian succeeded Stacy Woods as general secretary of IFES, whose head office is in London. Chua holds a B.D. from London University. He wrote an article entitled, “Campus Evangelism Korean Style” for World Vision magazine (11/68). One paragraph reads:

The seed is sown

The story of this rice roots movement is really an account of the transforming power of God’s Word in the lives of Korean Christians. It began in 1961 when the paths of two Christian workers crossed. One of the two was Mr. (Samuel) Chang Woo Lee who was then pastoring a small church in the economically poor southern provincial city of Kwangju. He saw the university students in that city, spiritually lost, drifting, and unreached by the church. The other was a young Southern Presbyterian missionary from the United States, Miss Sarah Barry. Miss Barry had always been sensitive to the needs of the Koreans and had sought in every way possible to identify herself with them. At this period in her ministry, she thought that God was calling her to be a rural evangelist. When the paths of these two workers converged, neither of them realized at first that God had a new plan for their ministry. Gradually, however, it became clear that the good news of Jesus Christ must be proclaimed to Korean students at the university level.
Dr. Marlin Nelson has been in Korea for more than twenty years with World Vision International. He studied at the School of World Mission and at Fuller Theological Seminary. He wrote The How and Why of Third World Missions. (William Carey Library; California, 1976) Here is one of many excerpts:

The University Bible Fellowship was organized in 1961 by Sarah Barry, a Southern Presbyterian missionary with Intervarsity experience, in cooperation with (Samuel) Chang Woo Lee, the present director. Lee was discipled by Navigator trained Doug Cozart and readily gives credit to his teacher. Lee also writes the Daily Notes for Scripture Union in Korean and is a capable Bible teacher. Before UBF missionaries are sent out, they must complete an intensive study of the Bible and learn how to share their faith with others. Though UBF seldom provides financial support they do provide spiritual support by keeping in touch with their alumni. On special occasions they have collected funds for typhoon and earthquake victims in other lands. These laymen are commissioned missionaries, sent to other countries with the primary purpose of sharing their faith. (pp. 60-61).
