Enclosure
FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

(i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.

(ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

(i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual’s name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.

(ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

(iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

(i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. If specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.

(ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.

(iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks—often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.

(iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.

FBI/DOJ
New date set for I Am trial

The Justice Department in Washington has not yet decided whether to have another go at trying Mrs. Edna W. Ballard, her son Donald and four other leaders of the I Am religious movement on mail fraud charges.

That was the statement of Asst. United States Atty. Ralph Lazarus to Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick yesterday in asking for a continuance of the trial until July 7.

Lazarus said the attorney general's office is balking at the prospective expense of another trial, unless further evidence is developed.
LOS ANGELES, April 12—Mrs. Edna W. Ballard and her son, Donald, leaders of the "I Am" movement, and four of their associates have been reindicted by a Federal grand jury on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy. Specifically, the Ballards, Betty Mundy, Paul Sickell, Louise Majerus and William Cassiere, were accused of using the mails to bilk their followers of $100,000. The followers allegedly were promised bodily ascensions to heaven for their "love gifts." They were tried previously on the charges, but the jury could not agree.
Judge Delays Action in 'I Am' Retrial

As forecast Sunday, the United States Attorney General has not yet decided whether to retry Mrs. Edna Ballard, "I Am" leader, her son Donald and four "messengers" on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the promulgation of the organization's teachings.

When the case was called for resuming yesterday, Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick was informed that the government wished more time to study the case's many ramifications. As a result, Judge McCormick continued the case until April 2, at which time Asst. U. S. Att. Ralph Lazarus said he expects a decision will have been reached.
Continuance to be asked today in new I Am trial

The leading presence of the nationwide I Am movement, Mrs. Edna W. Ballard, is scheduled to materialize in court today to hear Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick set trial for the mail fraud case against them.

Mrs. Ballard is named defendant along with other I Am leaders. But because United States Atty. Gen. Robert H. Jackson has not yet reached a decision to retry the case, defense attorneys said they would ask a six weeks' continuance.

The jury which recently tried the case disagreed, and the transcript of testimony was sent to Washington, D. C., for a final decision whether or not it should be retried.

It was the first major prosecution of a semireligious group in the United States.

"I Am" Defendants on Whom Jury Disagreed Get Court Permission

Mrs. Edna Ballard, leader of the nation-wide "I Am" activity, now is free to go anywhere she chooses just so long as she returns when, if ever, her retrial on mail fraud charges is set.

This was made possible yesterday when Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick granted the request of Charles H. Carr, attorney for Mrs. Ballard, permitting the "I Am" leader to leave this jurisdiction.

OTHER DEFENDANTS

Permission also was given for other defendants on whom the jury was unable to reach a verdict in the recent trial to leave Southern California. These other defendants, Paul Stickell, William J. Cassiere, Betty Mundy, Louise Majerus and Donald Ballard, son of Mrs. Ballard, now are formulating plans to carry on the work of the "Mighty I Am Presence."

It was disclosed that Stickell, a Chicago lawyer, left for the Middle West to carry "the light" and that Cassiere is on a similar mission.

SURETY CONSENT

Judge McCormick granted Attorney Carr's petition after the Western Surety Co. filed a consent to the request with the court.

It was disclosed also that tomorrow Attorney Carr will appear and attempt to have returned to Mrs. Ballard a number of exhibits used during the trial by the government, particularly the letters written to her by her late husband, Gay W. Ballard, at the time he was at Mt. Shasta.

The question of whether the government intends to retry Mrs. Ballard and the five others on whom the jury failed to reach an agreement still is to be answered.

TO ATTORNEY GENERAL

Local Federal officials admitted they placed before the Attorney General the full record of the proceedings during the seven-week trial.

Originally the government indicted 24 persons connected with the "I Am" activity charging them with using the mails in a scheme to defraud. A number of defendants later were dismissed on motion of the government. One was eliminated by Judge Leon R. Yankwich, who presided at the trial, and the jury acquitted three. There were no convictions.

I Am’ Jurors Acquit Three, Split on Six

Government Undecided Whether to Give New Trial to Mrs. Ballard

After deliberating nearly four days, a jury in Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich’s court yesterday disagreed as to the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Edna Ballard, her son, Donald, and four others of the “inner circle” and acquitted the three remaining defendants, all of whom have been charged with mail fraud arising from their participating in the “I Am” activity.

Those acquitted are Charles Sindelar, painter, his wife, Pearl Sindelar, and Frank Von Derhoya, a member of the staff. In addition to Mrs. Ballard and her son, Donald, the jury was unable to reach an agreement as to Betty Mundy, Louise Majerus, William J. Cassiere and Paul Stickell.

UNDECIDED ON RETRIAL

“We have not decided,” said U.S. Atty. William Fleet Palmer, “whether to retry Mrs. Ballard and the other defendants on whom the jury disagreed.”

“We shall go on serving in the Light,” said Mrs. Ballard. “Almost without exception those who have brought greater good to mankind have been first crucified and then sainted.”

The verdict was received by Judge Yankwich in a courtroom crowded with followers of the movement after the jurors reported they considered it hopeless to deliberate longer.

The trial began last Dec. 3 and was placed in the jury’s hands late last Thursday afternoon.

TWO SAVED MRS. BALLARD

Only two men stood between Mrs. Ballard and a possible maximum sentence of 87 years, it was disclosed by L. R. Henderson, foreman of the jury.

In discussing the case following the recording of the verdicts, Foreman Henderson disclosed that the jury from the first had stood 10 to 2 for finding Mrs. Ballard guilty. He also disclosed that the jury stood 9 to 3 for convicting Donald Ballard, 8 to 4 for convicting both Cassiere and Stickell, 7 to 5 for convicting Miss Majerus and were evenly divided as to Mrs. Mundy.

TELLS OF ACQUITTALS

Foreman Henderson also stated that Von Derhoya was acquitted on the first ballot and that the Sindelars were acquitted toward the end of the deliberations when, after discussion, the opinions of the jurors coincided in favor of their innocence.

Although the jury was out approximately 90 hours, Henderson revealed that only six ballots were taken, the rest of the time being consumed in discussing the facts as developed by the evidence in the case.

Attorneys participating in the trial appeared both happy and crestfallen as to its result. Chief Defense Attorney Charles H. Carr stated that in view of the highly controversial nature of the case, involving as it did the religious issues, he felt, that while all defendants should have been acquitted it was perhaps the only ending that could obtain.

On the other side of the counsel table, the government lawyers felt that in view of the way the jury stood on the question of guilt or innocence, they could claim at least a moral victory.

Judge Yankwich specifically thanked all those participating in the case, jury and attorneys alike, for their strict attention and fairness throughout the trial. The judge stated that the philosophy of life or faith is an imponderable thing which could not be measured by an ordinary scale.

CONGRATULATE LEADER

Upon the rendering of the verdict, Judge Yankwich ordered the Sindelars and Von Derhoya discharged and instructed the clerk to return the case of Mrs. Ballard and the others to the senior judge for resetting, probably next Feb. 3.

As the judge left the bench, a number of close friends and followers of Mrs. Ballard closed about her offering congratulations as they did to the other defendants. Members of the jury mingled in the throng, shaking hands with defendants and attorneys and it was agreed by all that they were “glad it was over.”

There was no demonstration by the 200 in the audience, most of whom are followers of Mrs. Ballard and most of whom have been in constant attendance throughout the trial, including the numerous night sessions. Upon returning to her hotel, Mrs. Ballard issued the following statement:

“We thank the Mighty I Am Presence, the Ascended Masters and beloved St. Germain for sending our attorneys for their true, loyal defense of this Light in this I Am activity.

“We thank Judge Yankwich, the jury and those who did the best they knew how considering that they did not have all the information concerning what our beloved St. Germain did for Mr. Ballard and through him.

TRIBUTE TO MATE

“The Ascended Masters have shown us a pathway divine and powerful and I do not understand why our attorneys have not understood the situation. It is due to mankind’s lack of understanding of the great law of life and death that we do not understand.

“All of this trial who have tried to serve divine justice have done the best they could with the information they have. We have not destroyed either the law of God or man in putting forth these books to the public because they are all true and always will be.”
DENIES ANY FRAUDS

"Because unfortunate human beings do not know all the facts does not change their truth.

"We have not defrauded anybody of anything at any time and never shall. We still call for every power of Light and Perfection from the Mighty "I Am" Presence and the Ascended Masters to illumine and bless all who have heard of this activity and to show them its truth so unmistakably that it will enable them to be free from all the cause of their distress."

The defendants, who would have faced a maximum prison sentence of 87 years and a fine of $27,000 each, had they been convicted, were left out of a total of 24 originally indicted.

The government on its own motion dismissed 14 of those accused and one, Grant Lewis, handyman for Mrs. Ballard, was eliminated from the case by Judge Yankwich.

GOVERNMENT'S CASE

The trial started last Dec. 3 and the government attorneys in their opening statements to the jury, asserted that the following were among the things the government would seek to prove were misrepresented:

That the late Guy W. Ballard, founder of the "I Am" activity, had falsely represented that he had attained a supernatural state of self-immortality through which he was enabled to conquer disease, death, old age and poverty.

That Ballard had been selected by St. Germain, the ascended master, as a divine messenger and that later Mrs. Ballard and Donald were also similarly designated.

That by reason of the "I Am" teachings the United States was saved from destruction, and that the world was approaching a cataclysm and that the public should therefore turn their funds over to the defendants as "love gifts."

During the trial the government produced witnesses from many parts of the country, some of whom, had formerly been closely connected with the movement and all of whom testified that they had subsequently become disillusioned.

TOLD OF BENEFITS

The defense likewise produced many witnesses from the East, Middle West and the South who declared that to them the activity had become the greatest thing in their lives and that they had received untold benefits, spiritually, physically and mentally.

The judge at the outset of the trial declared that the jury was not impaneled to try the verity of anyone's religion and cited the Bill of Rights which guarantees the right of all to worship God in their own way. Despite this effort on the part of the judge to keep the religious angle in the background, by the very nature of the case this proved unavailing. Time and again both sides were told by the court that the jury was "here to determine whether or not the defendants had devised a scheme to defraud and use the mails in furtherance thereof."

During the trial the court struck from the record all testimony and reference pertaining to sex continency, supernatural happenings, all reference to the efficacy of color and its relation toward healing and other matters which the judge decided were erroneous in the record.

STATES BELIEFS

From the witness stand Mrs. Ballard testified that she had always been a close student of theosophy and had a sincere belief in the teachings in her mighty "I Am" presence and its power to aid mankind.

She declared that she had never asked a penny from anyone and that most of the money derived from the sale of the "I Am" books and that received as love gifts was used in carrying on the work.

Her will, disposing of her entire estate to the St. Germain Foundation, a nonprofit corporation organized so that the activity might be perpetuated, was introduced in evidence.

In this last testament, Donald, however, was given a life interest in the estate, but not to exceed $500 a month.

The rest of the defendants also testified in their own behalf, avowing their good faith and sincerity and belief in the activity.
Jury Acquits Three Leaders of ‘I Am’ Cult

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26 (U.P.). A Federal Court jury today acquitted three “I Am” leaders of using the mails to defraud their followers of an estimated $3,000,000 but were unable to agree on a verdict in the case of Mrs. Edna Ballard, leader of the sect, and five other defendants.
Both Sides Confident as Jury Studies Mail Fraud Case Evidence

To all outward appearances, the jury deliberating the case of Mrs. Edna Ballard, her son Donald and seven others charged with using the mails to defraud the public through the operation of the "I Am" movement, is hopelessly deadlocked.

The jury retired at 6:30 p.m. Thursday and debated the questions until 11:30 Thursday night, when it was locked up.

JURY SILENT

The jury was taken from a downtown hotel to the Federal Building yesterday morning and from that time on gave no word of progress. At no time during the day did the jury ask for any of the 200 exhibits nor for advice from Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich.

At 11 p.m. the jurors were locked up for the night. Deliberations will be resumed at 10 a.m. today.

Defense Attorneys Charles Carr, W. I. Gilbert and Ames Peterson said that they were confident that as soon as the jury is able to eliminate the various injected religious issues from the case a verdict of acquittal would be returned.

COURTROOM FILLED

Equally confident were the government lawyers, Asst. U.S. Atty. Norman Neukom and Ralph Lazarus.

Meanwhile Mrs. Ballard and the other defendants sat smiling in the courtroom, which was filled with 200 of their more intense followers.

Judge Yankwich indicated that the jury will be given every opportunity, including "plenty of time," to reach a verdict in the case, which was one of the most highly controversial cases ever tried in this district.

Acquittal Refused, 'I Am' Case Goes to Jury Today

Fate of Nine in Balance
Judge Says Question of Defendants' Good Faith Must Be Determined

A jury of 12 men late today is expected to begin deliberations on the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Edna Ballard, her son Donald and seven others of the Inner Circle of the 'I Am' activity, charged with mail fraud.

Final arguments to the jury began yesterday afternoon and Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich stated he will charge the jury in sufficient time today to permit it to begin deliberations at a reasonable hour.

THOSE ACCUSED
Accused with the Ballards of 17 counts of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy to misuse the mails are Betty Mundy, Charles Sindelar and his wife, Pearl Sindelar, Frank Von Derhoya, Paul Stickell, Louise Majusas and William J. Cassiere.

In denying motions of Defense Attorney Charles H. Carr for an instructed verdict of acquittal on behalf of each defendant, Judge Yankwich stated that the question of good faith was the main issue and that was for the jury to decide.

Before Asst. U.S. Atty. Ralph Lazarus opened the argument for the government, Judge Yankwich granted several of Carr's motions to strike certain testimony from the record.

The judge ordered that all testimony concerning the healing quality of color be stricken on the ground that the government had presented no substantial evidence in disproof of the fact that color has healing qualities.

The court also instructed the jury to disregard testimony concerning visions of Jesus Christ, the rays of light by which the late Guy W. Ballard received many of his dictations from the ascended masters, and supernatural events occurring at Mt. Shasta, such as the experience with the panther, on the ground that there was no evidence introduced by the government disproving their occurrences.

The court also eliminated several other matters and instructed the jury to view the case as if they had never heard any reference to them.

PROSECUTORS' REMARKS
In his opening remarks to the jury, Prosecutor Lazarus stated it is up to the jury to determine whether they believe the defendants are sincere or whether they place credence in the government's position that this is a fraudulent business enterprise conceived for the purpose of defrauding the public and obtaining their property and money.

Lazarus stated the government has no quarrel with the students of the activity concerning their belief and the benefits they receive.

"The issue here is whether this is a fraudulent business enterprise, as we contend it is, or whether it is a legitimate religious movement."

DIGEST OF CASE
He said the government has no desire to prosecute anyone for his or her belief but that when religion is used to cloak a wrongful commercial enterprise, it must be stopped.

I Am artist
tells of a vision

Artist Charles Sindelar thought religious painters were "nuts" until Christ posed for him in a vision for 21 consecutive nights, he testified yesterday in the mail fraud trial of nine I Am leaders.

The artist, one of those accused, related before Judge Leon R. Yanwich and a federal court jury how his famous "Cheerful Christ" came into existence, to be sold throughout the world at 35 cents to $6 a copy.

During a crisis in his life, Sindelar said, the beholder appeared at the foot of his bed one night—a vision which the artist's wife, Mrs. Pearl Sindelar, was unable to see.

"The witness said he thought "my time had come" and started putting his affairs in order until the inspiration to paint Christ's portrait struck him.

The subject, Sindelar testified, appeared every night for three weeks. After the portrait was finished the artist said he frequently hid it when friends came to call because he still retained some of his opinion that religious painters were "nuts."

Sindelar declared he has sold copies of the painting to every religious denomination in the world.

However, getting St. Germain, I Am's patron saint, down on canvas was not so easy.

Sindelar said Guy W. Ballard, founder of I Am, tried to "contact a projection" of St. Germain for him, even called on the Mighty I Am Presence for help.

After numerous periods of sitting in silence the artist finally received a mental picture of St. Germain and copied it, he said.

Sindelar, publisher of I Am's magazine, The Voice, put in a plug for the healing qualities of the movement with his story of how his wife, bedridden with a shattered knee, was able to walk again by "making the call," despite assertions of doctors that she could not walk again.

Appearance of Mrs. Edna W. Ballard, high priestess of I Am, on the witness stand caused an awed gasp among her followers in the courtroom.

She was clothed all in white—turban, dress, stockings, shoes.

Mrs. Ballard smiled wanly, testified she had told her students to take their minds off the much discussed cataclysm which has been described as meaning the end of Los Angeles.

"It was predicted by pyramid prophecy to occur September 16, 1936, but it didn't happen then," she said.

"Was the date wrong?" asked defense attorney Charles Carr.

"Not at all, I told my students to take their minds off the cataclysm and call on the mighty host of ascended masters to prevent it."

Mrs. Ballard said I Am wished to protect America from subversive forces of all kinds. She denied she ever preached she could ascend to heaven whenever she wished, or that she had personal healing powers.

As for precipitation, she explained that any acquisition of material comforts through prayer would come through natural channels—"through the air" as some prosecution witnesses understood it.

Mrs. Ballard said the St. Germain foundation was a nonprofit organization, the St. Germain press a commercial outfit which never paid a dividend.

"Love gifts," she explained, were just that.

"I want you to understand I have never asked a human being for a dime," Mrs. Ballard said.

She admitted controlling the St. Germain checking account, but said the money was used only to defray legitimate expenses. Mrs. Ballard explained her movement's title in this fashion:

"I Am is the name of God in action. What we ask God for in a constructive manner will be decreed to us if we live properly and purify ourselves."

Another witness was Mrs. Donna Lucas, supervisor of the I Am school at 6367 Wilshire boulevard—an institution of 65 rooms and only 35 students.

She testified no salaries were paid to the 11 teachers and that the school was maintained by love gifts and tuition fees from about eight students.

Paul Stickwell, Chicago attorney, told of a conversation with I Am follower Virginia Ferrera in which she allegedly said:

"Never go back to San Fran."

Senators Widow Tells Court of 'I Am' Secrets

DISILLUSIONED—Mrs. Margaret Schall, widow of blind Senator, who testified she found magic, 'I Am' movement in hopes of restoring husband's sight.

"He said I must visualize a ray of light from the Mighty 'I Am' Presence passing through window and moving out at right angles and passing through his eyes."

In a small yet firm voice Mrs. Schall, who is a relative of the late Thomas D. Schall, he added, Senator from Minnesota, told a jury in Federal District Court, R. F. Rand's court of the vain attempts to restore the sen- ator's sight through observing the advice of Mrs. Schall who said, 'I Am' could cure the ailment without surgery.

ed down from St. Germain through the Ballards.

These decrees required her and the other students to visualize America completely encircled in steel walls and a violet flame which would conquer the smaller forces and would protect the youth, the health of mankind and our Congress.

She told of giving $100 at the Pan-Pacific class, of another $100 at the Shrine Auditorium class, of $200 at the San Francisco classes; of sending $250 to an address at Chicago; of buying many sets of expensive books and of making love gifts at all classes in amounts ranging up to $1.00.

EXPECTED DIVIDENDS

"Mrs. Ballard said many times, "give and it shall be returned to you" and I believed them.

"Did you think you would receive money?" inquired Judge Yankwich.

"Yes, I certainly did," replied the witness.

"Did you ever hear of a church that did return money?" inquired the judge.

"Well, I believed in this case," said Mrs. Schall.

Prosecutor Lazarus then led the witness to a discussion of "precipitation."

DIAMONDS IN SKY

Mrs. Schall replied that she was instructed that if she would look in the atmosphere any sunny day she would see particles of light which were the same as the ascended masters used in the books to deliver diamond necklaces and money, even food and clothing and automobiles.

The picture of automobiles falling on particles of light from the sky was a bit too much for the packed courtroom and a ripple of laughter resulted.

"Did you ever try?" facetiously suggested Charles H. Carr, chief defense counsel.

COULDN'T SEE THEM

"I did, but I couldn't see the sparkles," Mrs. Schall answered.

"Maybe you didn't have enough faith," observed Judge Yankwich.

About this time Attorney Carr arose to his feet and waving his arms declared:

"Your honor, I'm lost in a blaze of . . ."

"I can think of no better time to take a recess," said the judge wearily.

During the morning session, Norman Neukom, Assistant United States Attorney, struck the keynote for the government in an address which officially opened the trial. The vigorous young prosecutor, however, ran into no end of trouble when his discussion of what the government expects to prove got into the religious phases of the case.

REVIEWS CHARGES

After reviewing, generally, the charges made in the indictment, Prosecutor Neukom said that the government would seek to prove as false the representation of the late Guy W. Ballard that he was the second embodiment of George Washington.

"How are you going to disprove that?" Judge Yankwich observed from the bench. "After all there are millions of people who believe in reincarnation. Just remember this is a mail fraud case and you're not going to go into those subjects."

PSEUDONYMS LEGAL

Spurred by Defense Attorney Carr, although he needed no spurring, Judge Yankwich continued by saying that a person can call himself anything he wants to, citing the case of Mark Twain and various French authors who used various pseudonyms.

"You can call yourself Hiram Johnson if you want to," Judge Yankwich remarked, getting himself in stride.

"Look at poor Gladys Smith. She had no glamour. So what did she do? She called herself Mary Pickford. As far as that goes there are lots of people on Central Ave. who call themselves George Washington."

Mrs. Ballard told him her husband had healed 20,000 incurables and that they had 3,000,000 students throughout the United States.

On cross-examination Attorney Carr caused the inspector to admit that during his investigation he was only looking for folks who had a "beef" against the Ballards.

THE LIGHT THAT FAILED

Continuing her story, following the recess, Mrs. Schall told of encircling herself with an electronic light—to protect her before she left her home on one occasion.

She said she uttered the words: "Mighty I Am decree of protection and then went down to the corner.

"That was supposed to protect one," she went on. "But when I got to the corner I fell off the curb, sprained my ankle, broke my glasses and bruised myself."

"You blame that on the I Am presence?" inquired Judge Yankwich.

DIDN'T MAKE GOOD

"I do, because they didn't make good. I asked them to protect me and they didn't do it," said the witness spunkily.

She told of disassociating herself from the I Am movement in June, 1935, and related an occurrence at a meeting presided over by Charles Sinderlar, widely known artist, and his wife Pearl.

"Mrs. Sinderlar said that Charles couldn't sleep the night before and just then he came in and said that a cat had kept him awake."

MOVES TO STRIKE CAT

At this juncture Attorney Carr rose wearily to his feet and waving his arm in a motion of resignation, said:

"Your honor, I think I must be failing. I move to strike the cat out of the record."

Judge Yankwich roose to the occasion and agreed:

"Let's kill the cat and let Charles sleep."

Mrs. Schall painted a vivid picture of a kidnapping scare involving Donald Ballard and his erstwhile blood-wife Marjorie.
INSTRUCTOR CALLED

After this somewhat pungent observation from the bench, Prosecutor Neukom brought his opening statement to a close and called as his first witness W. F. Callahan, post office inspector working out of Washington, D.C. Callahan testified, "In brief, that he had made a year's investigation of the case and had interviewed 500 persons."

KILL THE KIDNAPERS

She said that at one of the classes Mrs. Ballard dramatically announced:

"What do you think has happened? Donald and Marjorie have been kidnapped. I want you all to join me in a decree."

The witness said Mrs. Ballard then raised her arm — "and you know what a dynamic person she is" — and exclaimed "kill the kidnappers."

"I stood there paralyzed," Mrs. Schall testified. "But by and by Donald and Marjorie came in and the next day it was explained that St. Germain did something to their car which protected them."

SERVICES DESCRIBED

On cross-examination by Attorney Carr, Mrs. Schall admitted that at the various classes and meetings of the I Am services were conducted much the same as "in the good old Methodist Church."

The witness also admitted that one of the I Am instructions to "give and you shall receive" was similar to the admonition contained in the Christian Bible. "And you believe in the Bible?" asked Attorney Carr.

"I do now," replied the witness, "but I was confused then, my faith was shaken."

The trial continues Tuesday.

LOS ANGELES TIMES
'I AM' THEORY FAILED TO AID BLIND SENATOR

Schall's Widow Testifies in Coast Mail Fraud Case

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4 (AP)—Efforts to restore the sight of the late Thomas D. Schall, blind Senator from Minnesota, through application of teachings of the 'I Am' movement were related in Federal court today by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Huntleigh Schall.

She was one of the first of the government's witnesses in the mail-fraud trial of Mrs. Edna Ballard, widow of Guy W. Ballard, founder of the movement; their son, Donald Ballard, and eight others.

Mrs. Schall said that she and the Senator first came in touch with the Ballards in 1935 when some publications of the movement were received at his office. Later, she testified, the Schalls attended meetings conducted by the Ballards.

"Mrs. Ballard told me that if I could visualize a ray of light coming down to his head and leaving it at right angles through his eyes, he would be cured," she asserted.

She said she had spent "many hundreds of dollars" in various cures in connection with the movement, but was unable to cure the Senator's blindness of twenty-five years' duration.

"Mrs. Ballard told me that if I looked into the atmosphere I could see particles of light sparkling, which was the exact substance used by the ascended masters in precipitating all material needs," Mrs. Schall testified. "She said the masters could precipitate clothes, money, automobiles—anything."

"She said she could even keep spots off her clothing by calling in the ascended masters."

Judge Leon R. Yankwich, presiding at the trial, cautioned Attorney Norman Neukom against making statements in his opening address to the jury which the government would not be able to prove.

"You might as well delve into other religious beliefs, such as Mormonism," the judge said at one point. "They believe that Joseph Smith found certain tablets of gold and that an angel gave him glasses to read and interpret inscriptions thereon. How can you disprove things like that?"

"Well, if Joseph Smith had used them for fraudulent purposes, we would have indicted him, too," Mr. Neukom replied.

THE NEW YORK TIMES, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1940.
Jury selected to try 10 officials of 'I Am' cult

Jury selection was completed yesterday for the trial of 10 leaders of the "I Am" cult, charged with fraudulently using the mails as a collection plate for their religious movement.

The court session ran overtime—until 8 p.m.—before prosecution and defense agreed upon 12 jurors and two alternates to hear the case.

Opening statement of the government's case alleging 18 counts of mail fraud and one of conspiracy will be made today by Asst. United States Atty. Norman Neukom.

Charles Carr, chief of the defense counsel, said he would make no opening statement.

Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich, who is trying the case, early in the day clamped down on attempts of Carr to inject religious controversy into the case by questioning jurors on their religious beliefs.

"The question of the jurors' religious beliefs is not relevant and this court will not permit questioning along that line," the judge snapped.

"I wish to make it clear that we are not here to investigate the religious beliefs of either the jury or the defendants. The right of every person to follow his religious beliefs is one of the great fundamentals on which this government is founded.

"Still another point to be made clear, however, is the fact that the law will not permit religion to be used as a cloak to cover violations of the law."

On trial are Mrs. Edna Ballard, widow of the founder of the movement, her son Donald and eight other officers of the cult.

The government charges funds were obtained on the false statements that the founder, his wife and son had attained a state of supernatural immortality.

Other defendants are Betty Mundy, confidential secretary to Mrs. Ballard; Charles Sindelar; noted artist, Mrs. Pearl Sindelar, Frank von Derheyne, Paul Nickel, Chicago attorney; Grant E. Lewis; Louis Majorus and William J. Casdier.

"I Am" Trial Opens Today

Special Guards Assigned to Handle Crowds in Ballard Mail Fraud Case

Deputy marshals and special guards yesterday were assigned to the court of Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich to handle the crowd of followers and curiosity seekers expected to attend the opening this morning of the trial of Mrs. Edna Ballard, her son Donald and eight others of the "inner circle" of the I Am movement.

The case attracted capacity crowds at the preliminary hearings.

LIST 19 COUNTS

The Ballards and their co-defendants are accused of 19 counts of mail fraud in connection with the organization and operation of the nationwide movement.

Charles H. Carr, chief defense counsel, will be aided in the defense by Judge James R. Armstrong, former Oklahoma jurist, W. J. Gilbert Jr. and Amos Peterson.

The case will be prosecuted by James E. Ruffin, special assistant to the Attorney General, and Norman Neukom and Ralph Lazarus, Assistant United States Attorneys.

OTHER DEFENDANTS

The defendants in addition to the Ballards are Charles Sinde lar, artist; Mrs. Pearl Cinder, group leader; Frank Von Der Hoy, assistant; Paul Stickell, "messenger," Louise Majerus and William J. Cassiere of Chicago, and Grant Lewis, assistant to Mrs. Ballard.

The government charges that the defendants used mails to defraud persons from all parts of the country through false representations that Mrs. Ballard, her son Donald and her late husband, Guy W. Ballard, had attained a supernatural state of self-immortality and had been selected by St. Germain as the medium for the transmission to mortals of the words of the ascended masters.

MONEY COLLECTED

As a result of these asserted fraudulent representations, the government maintains, they collected large sums of money.

Attorney Carr, however, contends that all contributions in the furtherance of the I Am movement were voluntary.

Today will probably be entirely consumed by the selection of a jury to hear the case which is expected to last two months.

The American’s Creed

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

ECSTASY

(Melody—Original: published by Saint Germain Press)

I pledge the Unfed Flame a vow,
Its Glory all-commanding now;
I face my Source above and see
My Presence smiling down at me.

I feel Its Great Enfolding Love
Pouring o’er me from above;
I gaze into Its Glorious Eyes,
I hear It say: “Arise! Arise!”

I see Its Blazing Heart of Light
Its Beauteous Garments dazzling bright;
I ask Its Help and do implore,
I hear It say: “Adore! Adore!”

I watch Its Light become a Sun
Whose Rays pour out to everyone;
I now behold These seem to blend,
I hear It say: “Ascend! Ascend!”

I must obey Its Mighty Call
Surrendering now myself—my all;
I do attain my Victory,
I hear It say: “All free! All free!”

Its Arms reach out and raise me high,
Its Light illumines all the sky!

(Copyright by Saint Germain Press, 1939)

THE ASCENSION

(Melody: ALOHA OE) Key of A

I feel my God Flame touch my brow,
The Breath of Love—eternal now,
I raise my eyes and Lo! I see,
My own Great God Self over me.
A Dazzling Cloud envelops all,
I hear my Real God Presence call!
I feel a surge of Love’s Great Might,
I enter deep Its Breath—Its Light.

I see within this Pulsing Flame,
I listen and hear my Secret Name!
I feel the Glow—the Great Flame Breath,
“’I AM’” the Victor over death!
I stand forth free—ASCENDED NOW!
To my Heart’s Light all things do bow:
“’I AM’” a Being of Cause alone
And that Cause Love—the Sacred Tone!

I pour out Life—I lift, I raise,
My Heart o’erflows and sings Its praise;
My Power strengthens and inspires,
My Great Light Rays are God’s Own Fires.
“’I AM’” a Sun! My Love Its Light!
All else grows dim—earth lost to sight:
I know that “’I AM’” GOD—the ONE!
The Source! the Great, Great Central Sun!

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Key of B♭

Oh say! can you see, by the dawn’s early Light,
What so proudly we hail’d at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O’er the ramparts we watch’d, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rocket’s white glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that Our Flag was still there.

Oh! say, does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave
O’er the Land of the Free and the home of the brave?

On that shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe’s haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o’er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?

(Copyright by Saint Germain Press, 1939)
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream;
'Tis the Star-spangled Banner; Oh, long may it wave
O'er the Land of the Free and the home of the brave!

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with Victory and Peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must! for our cause it is just,
And this is our motto—"In God we do trust":
And the Star-spangled Banner in triumph does wave
O'er the Land of the Free and the home of the brave!

AMERICA

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of Liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the Pilgrim's pride;
From every mountain side,
Let Freedom ring.

My native country, thee—
Land of the noble free—
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills,
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees
Sweet Freedom's song;
Let mortal tongues awake,
Let all that breathe partake,
Let rocks their silence break—
The sound prolong.

Our fathers' God to Thee,
Author of Liberty,
To Thee we sing:

(Copyright by Saint Germain Press, 1939)
Long may our land be bright
With Freedom's Holy Light:
Protect us by Thy Might,
Great God, our King.

For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties

Whose stern impassioned stress,
A thoroughfare for Freedom beat
Across the wilderness.

God mend thine every flaw,
Confirm thy soul in Self-control,
Thy Liberty in law.

Oh, beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved,
And mercy more than Life.
America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness,
And every gain divine.

In My Heart's Dazzling Light;
"I AM" Saint Germain speaking—
Take My Hand! Reach My Height!

"I AM" here! Do you feel Me?
"I AM" pouring Light thru—
Cosmic Light Rays transcendent
To enfold and lift you!
Then accept Them and use Them,
Feel the Help that I give!
Be My Luminous Presence—
Blaze My Love! Make Joy live!

"I AM" here! You have called Me!
"I AM" answering you!
I prepare each one—daily
To be raised to Me too!
Do you know how I love you,
"I AM" off'ring you all—
Then accept My Full Power,
Answer now My Heart's call!

"You are FREE evermore!"

THE ASCENDED MASTER,
SAINT GERMAIN

(Melody: The Bells of Saint Mary)

Oh blest Saint Germain, Dear,
Thou Holy Great One,
We love Thee and bless Thee
Thou God from the Sun.

We feel Thee and see Thee,
The Work Thou hast done,
For the Cup Thou dost carry
O'erflows from the "ONE."

We praise Thee and greet Thee,
Thou Great Lord of Light,
And raise now the Scepter
To Thy glorious Height.

We wield all Love's Power,
Love's Wisdom and Might;
Blaze thru us forever
Thy Flame—dazzling bright.

MY PROMISE

"Lo 'I AM' with you always,"
Is My Promise true;
The Way I have opened,
I point It to you!
My Help "I AM" pouring,
Do now your own part;
Oh, call unto your Presence,
Feel It now in your heart!

"Lo 'I AM' with you always,"
Those Words long ago,
Rang out o'er the ethers
To let mankind know
My Love and My Vict'ry
That each must attain;
For Cosmic Light in Its Splendor
Shall now rule earth's domain.

"Lo 'I AM' with you always,"
Because We are One;
God Beings of Life's Flame
Come forth from the Sun.
Then will you believe Me
When I call to you?
"I AM" Light's Full Perfection
Be ye all Perfect too!

"Lo 'I AM' with you always,"
Your Brother of Light;
