Enclosure(s)

FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.
- (iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.

Dear Sir:

After having read a recent article in Time magazine concerning computer fraud, I thought you may be interested in knowing that such a case exists at the Federal Power Commission.

An in-house contractor, Planning Research Corporation, uses an IBM 370, paid for by the FPC, for work on other contracts and its own activities in McLean, Virginia (a telephone inter-connection crossing state boundaries).

This contractor had a former employee, [redacted] in place as [redacted] [redacted] at the FPC when the contract was let.

b6
b7C

Shortly after the computer was installed, operations began on an around-the-clock basis, yet few FPC programs were available for processing, which leads one to wonder what data was being processed.

The crux of the matter is that the Planning Research Corporation controls the passwords for access to the computer, and thus illegitimate data processing can be hidden from FPC management.

It should be noted that PRC had a prior contract with FPC to write programs for the Public Use Form Respondent Reporting System (PUFREPS) to the tune of several hundred thousand dollars. None of these programs worked, and as a matter of fact PRC recommended in writing that these programs never be released to the public. The present contract will produce the same results in my opinion.

Jr3

The principal people responsible for perpetration of this fraud are

[redacted] of PRC and [redacted]

[redacted] of the FPC.

b6
b7C

It might be well to point out that the above are not just the opinions of one person, but that the news media, specifically the Associated Press, has tried to investigate this issue and has been tied up in litigation by PRC to prevent the facts from coming out.

It is hoped you may do something about this situation, and to aid you in your work a copy of this letter will be sent to [redacted] of the FBI who was also mentioned in the Time magazine article.

b7C

The Federal Power Commission (FPC) currently has two Facilities Management Contracts with Planning Research Corporation (PRC), a computer firm based in Mclean, Virginia. Under these contracts, PRC supplies equipment, services and people for the FPC computer facility. PRC also provides analytical and programming services for systems of application that PRC develops for FPC. PRC has been the computer contractor with FPC for the last three years.

[redacted] stated that the FPC computer facility is under the direct control of PRC personnel. He stated PRC programs the computer to best suit FPC needs. He stated that the contract states that the computer is to be used for FPC business 100 percent of the time. He stated that periodic reports keep track of all input entered into the computer. This input record is removed from the computer each Friday of each week. This record is very detailed and is "dumploaded" onto discs for storage. [redacted] stated that to review these discs in order to see if the FPC computer was being fraudulently used would be extremely time consuming and costly. He stated that it was a possibility that even though these discs were reviewed a person may still not be able to find any fraudulent misuse of the computer even though it may exist. [redacted] stated that to date he was unaware of any indications that there was any misuse of the FPC computer facility by PRC personnel or any other individuals.

b7C

[redacted] stated that PRC got the FPC contract by being the successful bidder through a competitive bidding process. He stated that he was unaware of any irregularities involved in the letting of this contract.

b6

[redacted] stated that PRC did in fact write the programs for the Public Use Form Respondent Reporting System (PUFREPS).

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that the Federal Power Commission (FPC) has facilities management contracts with Planning Research Corporation (PRC), a computer company based in McLean, Virginia. Under these contracts PRC was to supply (1) equipment, people and services for the FPC computer facility (2) work on the further developing of the FPC computer facilities. [redacted] stated that under the contract PRC was to program the computer to best suit FPC needs. He stated the computer is directly under the control of PRC personnel. PRC was to provide analytical and programming services for systems of application that PRC was developing for FPC. He stated that approximately 60 percent of computer time is used for developmental purposes of programs and the remaining 40 percent used for current ongoing work.

b7C

[redacted] stated that FPC's computer facility was in place since 1974 with PRC as the contractor supplying equipment, people and services. [redacted] stated that there were 350 to 375 registered computer facility users. Of these, he believed about 75 to be PRC employees. [redacted] stated that it would be possible for PRC to operate the FPC computer facility for work on contract other than FPC business. He stated that it would not be very difficult for PRC personnel to do. [redacted] stated that to date he has never heard of any information concerning PRC's use of the FPC's computer facility for any use other than FPC business.

b7C

[redacted] stated that access to the computer is gained by use of codes known as user identifications. He stated that each person authorized to use the computer has a distinct user identification. Once a proper user identification is used to gain access to the computer, there are not many controls, if any, to determine if the computer is being used for FPC business

b6
b7C

[] stated that all input that went into the computer that week and was not removed is recorded by the computer and is removed every Friday and placed onto a disc. [] stated that this process is known as "dumploading". He stated that these records are very detailed and voluminous. [] stated that in order to show computer time stolen, it would be necessary to show PRC outside work on these stored discs.. He stated that this would take a major effort and would be extremely costly and time consuming. [] stated that even if a review of the discs were done there remains the possibility that the fraud may still go undetected. [] stated that he reviews reports that come through his office each month which gives breakdowns of time used by different departments of the FPC. He stated that there are certain norms associated with each department and with the system as a whole to determine if there are any problems in the system. Deviations from these norms act as warnings that something is wrong. [] stated that he has not noticed any deviations from the norms in any of these monthly reports.

b7C

[] stated that when these contracts were let everything was done with the knowledge of the General Services Administration, General Accounting Office, and the Office of Management and Budget. All were briefed as to what FPC wanted. He stated two bids were received, PRC submitting one and Optimum Systems, Inc. (OSI) the other. [] stated he was on the evaluation committee along with 14 others to chose the proposal best suited for FPC's needs. He stated that in his opinion both bidders were competent but PRC more so. He stated 14 of the 15 on the evaluation committee picked PRC's proposal over OSI.

b6
b7C

[] stated that [] was a PRC employee for years but left to become a [] for FPC. [] stated that [] disqualified himself from this particular contract. [] stated that currently FPC and PRC are involved in litigation concerning proprietaryship over the programs developed under this contract. [] stated he felt PRC was not justified in this litigation. He further stated that this litigation has been going on for three years now.

b6
b7C

WFO 46-10803

POSSIBLE MISUSE OF FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION COMPUTER; LETTER TO SENATOR ABRAHAM RIBICOFF FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) received a copy of an anonymous letter on September 22, 1977, addressed to Senator Abraham Ribicoff referring to a recent article in "Time" Magazine concerning computer fraud, and alleged that a computer fraud is currently being perpetrated on the Federal Power Commission (FPC) computer by FPC management facilities contractor, Planning Research Corporation (PRC). The letter alleges PRC uses the FPC computer for work on other contracts and its own activities in Mclean, Virginia.

On October 27, 1977, [redacted] Regulatory Systems Development, Energy Information Administration, Department of Energy, was interviewed and advised that he had no knowledge of any fraudulent activities involving the FPC computer facilities. He stated that records of input entered into the computer are removed each week and stored on discs. These records are very detailed and voluminous. [redacted] stated that efforts to review these stored records would be extremely costly and time consuming with the end result still being unable to detect fraudulent activities. [redacted] stated that a person more qualified to talk to involving this matter would be [redacted] Office of Automated Data Processing (ADP) Services, Energy Information Administration, Department of Energy.

involving the FPC computer facilities. He stated that there were approximately 350 to 375 registered computer facility users. Of these, he believed about 75 to be PRC employees. Each registered use has a unique user identification to gain access to the computer. When one of these user identifications are used it would be very difficult to distinguish between official FPC work and outside PRC work. [] stated that a review of stored input would be necessary to determine if fraud existed and he stated that this would take a major effort on the part of those involved. He added that it would be very costly and time consuming with the existing possibility that the fraud, if genuine, still not being detected. [] advised that he reviews reports that come through his office each month which gives breakdowns of time used by different departments of the FPC. He stated that there are certain norms associated with each department and with the system as a whole to determine if there are any problems in the computer system. Deviations from these norms act as warnings notifying appropriate FPC personnel that something is wrong. [] stated that he had not noticed any deviations from the norms in any of these monthly reports.

[] each advised that there were no irregularities in the letting of this contract to PRC to the best of their knowledge. [] stated that [] a former PRC employee now an FPC [] disqualified himself from handling this particular contract with PRC because of the possibility of allegations of irregularities based on his previous employment. [] stated that PRC and FPC are currently involved in litigation concerning proprietaryship over the systems developed by PRC under this contract.

[] each stated that PRC developed programs for FPC for the Public Use Form Respondent Reporting System (PUFREPS). Both advised that these programs did in fact work. Both stated they were not used because a more efficient system was developed which made PUFREPS obsolete before its implementation.

"... We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these, are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. As one of the bigger socialist-cCommunist simps in the Senate, know that you are being watched and that your days are numbered.

We are sick and tired of idiot oneworlders like you and Javits and Pell and the other leftist Jewish conspirators in NYC who want to turn this country and its land over to the Eastern Establishment and their ilk.

When the FPC itself urges Congress to decontrol gas and oil at the wellhead, and when you and Pell turnout to the swing votes in a 45-43 decision to nix the idea, we get pretty damn well pissed.

Now, with gas bulging at the seams in our LA refineries we learn today that rationing will be reimposed to reduce reliance on foreign oil. Can't you dummies figure out that you have killed local incentives to drill for petrol with your ridiculously low wellhead prices? How can a man sell gas at 23¢/mcf interstate? He can't, and so they're shutting down interstate wells. In Calif.
we're selling it locally at 95¢/mcf and with no complaints. PROFITS are necessary to pay for machinery and people, contrary to your "humanistic" thinking, esp. with OSHA and your EPA buddies doing great reducing foundry parts and raising costs in that OEM sector.

You bastards are squeezing the middle class too hard and without justification. You want a revolution, just keep it up. The people are arming, whether you think so or not. Better you pass a law prohibiting more bills 'till you've gotten rid of the bad ones we're now saddled with then layin more on us. Wise up Ribicoff. You're starting a new anti-semitic movement that will cut your water off sooner than you may think. We know who the enemy is in this country...it's our own government!
