RELEASE IN PART B5

B5

interest Tuesday, January 25, 2011 10:32 PM (sullivanji@state.gov)  Re: Egypt  Ok	Sent:
in the content of the government in Egypt and its efforts of address the needs of its people.  In the government in Egypt and its efforts of address the needs of its people.  In the government in Egypt and its efforts of address the needs of its people.  In this — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PD:			Tuesday, Janu	iary 25, 2011 10:32	PM
by the control of the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional research that use a few proposing that this come from PJ:	· O'		•	•			•
or Criginal Message  rom: Sullivan, Jacob J <sullivanjj@state.gov>  is: Hils, Cheryl D <millscd@state.gov>  tent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011  ubject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This - combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press - suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:</millscd@state.gov></sullivanjj@state.gov>				atc.gov		•
Original Message rom: Sullivan, Jacob J <sullivanjj@state.gov> io: H  &amp;: Mills, Cheryl D <millscd@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 ubject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This – combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press – suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:</millscd@state.gov></sullivanjj@state.gov>	ubject:		ке. Едурі
Original Message rom: Sullivan, Jacob J <sullivanjj@state.gov> io: H  &amp;: Mills, Cheryl D <millscd@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 ubject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This – combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press – suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:</millscd@state.gov></sullivanjj@state.gov>				•
Original Message rom: Sullivan, Jacob J <sullivanjj@state.gov> io: H  &amp;: Mills, Cheryl D <millscd@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 ubject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This – combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press – suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:</millscd@state.gov></sullivanjj@state.gov>
rom: Sullivan, Jacob J <sullivanjj@state.gov> io: His. Cheryl D <millscd@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 subject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts or address the needs of its people.  This – combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press – suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:</millscd@state.gov></sullivanjj@state.gov>	)k ·
rom: Sullivan, Jacob J <sullivanjj@state.gov> io: His. Cheryl D <millscd@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 subject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts or address the needs of its people.  This – combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press – suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:</millscd@state.gov></sullivanjj@state.gov> ic: H  ic: Mills, Cheryl D < MillsCD@state.gov> emit: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 subject: Egypt  reople are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts or address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:	Original M	essage ce: Mills, Cheryl D < MillsCD@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 ubject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PI:	rom: Sullivan,	Jacob J <sullivan< th=""><th>JJ@state.gov&gt;</th><th></th><th></th><th></th><th></th></sullivan<>	JJ@state.gov>
ce: Mills, Cheryl D < MillsCD@state.gov> ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 ubject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PI:	Го: Н
ent: Tue Jan 25 20:19:35 2011 subject: Egypt  People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts or address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:		l D <millscd@st:< td=""><td>ate govo</td><td></td><td></td><td>i</td><td></td></millscd@st:<>	ate govo			i
People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:			310.60 4
People are taking a line from your press avail out of context about the stability of the government in Egypt and its efforts o address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:		3 20.19.33 2011
o address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:	subject: Egypt
o address the needs of its people.  This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:			••
This — combined with the growing focus on the Egypt demonstrations storyline in domestic, international, and regional press — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:				it of context about	tne stability of the	government in Eg	ypt and its efforts oress — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:	o address the	needs of its peop	ole.
oress — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:
oress — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:
oress — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:
oress — suggests the need for a statement tonight to provide an unvarnished message that has us ahead of the curve without being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:	This combine	d with the growi	ng focus on the	Egypt demonstrati	ons storvline in do	mestic. internation	al, and regional vithout being overly provocative to the Egyptian government.  We are proposing that this come from PJ:
We are proposing that this come from PJ:					ivaimsned messag	e triat rias us arieat	2 Of the curve vitnout being (	OVERIV DROVOCATIV	e to the Egyptia	in government.
		overry provocative	0
		overry provocative	37.
		overry provocation
		veriy provocati	5 7.
							٠.
				·			· .·
				·	·		· .·
				·			· .·
				·			· .
							· .
							· .·
			e from PJ:				