

RELEASE IN PART B6

---

From: Sullivan, Jacob J <SullivanJJ@state.gov>
Sent: Sunday, October 23, 2011 10:34 AM
To: H
Subject: FW: Fwd:

This email is UNCLASSIFIED.

---

From: Harold Hongju Koh [mailto: ]
Sent: Saturday, October 22, 2011 02:14 PM
To: Sullivan, Jacob J
Subject: Fwd:

B6

Fyi

Harold Hongju Koh
[redacted]

Begin forwarded message:

From: Larry Tribe <[redacted]>
Date: October 20, 2011 10:33:44 PM EDT
To: "kohhh@state.gov" <kohhh@state.gov>, "haroldhongjukoh [redacted]" <haroldhongjukoh [redacted]>

I'm so happy things have worked out thus far as they did in Lybia, Harold -- happy for the people there, happy for NATO, happy for the administration, and happy for you personally. It's true that I was among the people who were unpersuaded by your and the WH's legal view of what constitute "hostilities," and I know hindsight can be 20/20, but in retrospect I have to say that your view of the matter may have been the wiser one. We obviously can't know precisely what the future there will hold, but thus far it's a marvelous triumph and one that sacrificed no American lives and relatively little American treasure.

Larry

Sent from my iPhone