RELEASE IN PART B6

From:

Neera Tanden

Sent:

Monday, January 23, 2012 9:43 PM

To:

н

Subject:

Re: new yorker piece on Obama

Seriously! Facts are facts.

So no one called to yell at me. But I heard there was consternation by some. But others recognized it for the truth it was. I mean, at some point we can't bend to some unreality - they ran a negative campaign plain and simple.

And a few former campaign staff emailed me to thank me for telling the truth. That was gratifying.

Miss you Hillary.

Neera

From: H [mailto:HDR22@clintonemail.com] Sent: Monday, January 23, 2012 09:16 PM

To: Neera Tanden

Subject: Re: new yorker piece on Obama

Well, the truth can hurt, can't it?

I hope it doesn't cause you any problems, my friend.

From: Neera Tanden

Sent: Monday, January 23, 2012 10:58 AM

To: H

Subject: new yorker piece on Obama

I have a tough quote on the Obama campaign against us in the primary in the piece. I'm sorry if this creates any problem. But I was asked a factual question (in a public forum), and I answered with the reality that I saw. Below is a link to the page my quote is on.

http://www.newyorker.com/reporting/2012/01/30/120130fa fact lizza?currentPage=2

Hope you're well, and my again my apologies if this is a problem.

B6:

B6