Subject: Delay Tonight

B6

It looks like we have hit a snag tonight. Tomorrow, the lawyers are supposed to convoke at the court at nine am to resolve the bail issue and deposit the check. Al Assar said he had tried to convince the Prosecutor General who could have authorized the departure on his authority, but he apparently failed to convince him. The list of personnel at least seems to be accurate now. One suspicion is that the court couldn't finish its own paperwork tonight.

Plane is parked here overnight, and we are standing down movements.
