I hope that when you're in Sarajevo, you have a chance to either meet with some of the key women or say something about the constructive role that women have to play. When I was there a few weeks ago, we had a very good roundtable with women across the divisions who came from across the country. There are so many challenges and if Bosnia is every to solve its problems, it won't be able to do so without women's participation. Pat Moon has been terrific and his embassy has a gender program that is truly integrated.

I hope you had a good birthday and safe travels.
