Subject: thank you

Cheryl, thanks for all of your fine work in helping the Secretary (yesterday and beyond). I just had a call with General Joe Dunford (on his way to take charge in Afghanistan) and at the end he said about S's Congressional appearance: "It was a proud day for the State Department. She was articulate, tough, and a fierce advocate for the importance of having diplomats out there, facing dangers, often on their own." Amen.

By the way, the reason he was calling: he wants to have [redacted] It is a brilliant choice and the way he plans on using [redacted] is wise. [redacted] has done superb work in [redacted] and we will now have to replace [redacted]
