Ami,

Thought I'd send this along to you as an FYI – Ed thought you might like to be aware of this. The attached document outlines some challenges Comet-Me is having in making progress on their CGI Commitment to Action (renewable energy systems).

Joe

Dear Joe,

Our organization is facing quite some political opposition from the Israeli authorities in the occupied Palestinian territories (see attached description) and I was hoping the CGI can sound a voice in defense of the work we do.

Do you think that would be possible?

Many thanks,

elad.

Dear Elad,

As a past member of the Clinton Global Initiative (CGI), you or your organization made one or more formal Commitments to Action - new, specific, and measurable projects to address pressing global challenges. In an effort to track the impact of these commitments, CGI requests progress on an annual basis. With that in mind, we are eager to learn about the progress of your work.

At the bottom of this email, you will find a link to the progress report form to be submitted electronically. We encourage you to report on progress regardless of the status of your commitment (ongoing, stalled, or completed). Please note:

We ask that you complete and submit your report by Friday, March 30, 2012.

In an effort to assist you in this process, information about your commitment has been pre-populated in the form.

It is very important that you complete the entire progress report for your commitment as incomplete reports prevent us from communicating your success to President Clinton and the public. Because partially-completed forms cannot be saved online, we recommend that you prepare your answers in a separate document and complete the form in a single session.

While we appreciate hearing reports on your progress at any time, reports received after the deadline may not be considered for featuring opportunities for that calendar year. Additionally, commitments that do not report progress for two years will be removed from our website and considered inactive.

If you have any trouble using this form or submitting it via the web, please feel free to contact progressreport@clintonglobalinitiative.org directly with any questions.

Progress reports allow us to showcase your work through CGI platforms (including our website, and the media) and serve as the basis for featuring selection at our events throughout the year. These featuring opportunities range from photographs, videos, and displays to onstage report-backs during our events. Thank you in advance for your time and efforts and I look forward to hearing about your ongoing work.

Kind regards,
Joe
