A message frame that may emerge is given all the envoys - all the real work of peace making will be made by others. for some of the color -- might need some stories of how hillary wanted envoys -- reached out to each one -some tidbits of her conversations with them -- she needs to seen as a prime mover in building this team -- also what is the reporting model -- will the envoys report to both hillary and the president--- the state department press will want to know this.
