I share because, as you know, he's right about the Cochran/Lugar relationship... if it "would turn the entire debate around" I don't know:

"If Senator Cochran decided to support this, it would turn the entire debate around. No one is expecting something from him, yet as I said in the last email he is a friend of Lugars. Cochran should call Lugar and get a briefing. Then he could join with Lugar in declaring that politics stops at the waters' edge. This isn't about supporting or opposing Obama, this is about doing what's right for national security and taking an action that our military leaders -- active duty and retired -- say will make the country safer."
