RE: [REDACTED]

Great to hear from you!

Just landed back in U.S. Will either give [REDACTED] your address or provide you with his once I access my files. What a GREAT person he is - and he reveres you, and wants to help.

And will connect you with Jeff Skoll via Cheryl.

I'd love to see you whenever you can - I'm close by so could scoot over if you find you have a spare (ha!) minute. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] also truly would do anything for you. Would come into State if there is an appropriate role.

I am so sorry we are losing Lael to Treasury, as she would have assured that State had equal voice with Treasury, so now we really have to think. Talked to her last Sat. and it was clear she was torn. What challenges!

I'll talk to [REDACTED] daily - hope you'll meet her soon if you haven't already. The failure to create potential appointee pools for sub-cabinet positions during transition is really handicapping the Administration now. Yikes!

You're doing a great job.

Do consider in your travels taking a page from Bob Rubin's book: he invited a few people outside gov't to join him on his Africa trip, because private sector participants could reinforce his message of what it takes to attract private investment. (That's the trip on which I met Elizabeth Littlefield, then heading JP Morgan's Emerging Markets practice, who I recruited to run the World Bank-based microfinance consortium, C-Gap). I could accompany wherever it might be useful from SBK, if you are including people outside the Admin on a delegation. And, needless to say, I would love to travel with you and help in any way I can.

[REDACTED]

Sending you energy, wish one could send sleep!!!

Jan--

I would certainly attend next year if possible, and I would very much welcome the chance to talk w Jeff Skoll. Can you arrange a meeting for us?

And pls give [redacted] my email address or send me his if it would be better for me to contact him.

Also, thank you for recommending [redacted] who is doing so much to help us identify and screen candidates.

[redacted] I hope we'll catch up soon--all the best. H

I am at the Skoll Social Entrepreneurship Forum in Oxford (which I want you to address next year!). This is the 10th year of the Skoll Foundation and the 6th Forum and 6th annual naming of a set of Skoll Social Entrepreneurs the Foundation will support financially and in other ways to scale. Incredibly inspiring.

I had dinner tonight with the Skoll Entrepreneurs and the Foundation Board and talked with [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. He sees your leadership at State and connection of development and diplomacy as a critical opening not to be squandered. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] He tried to reach Cheryl without success. I don't give out your email address. Let me know if I can do anything to facilitate his staying in touch with you.

I really want you to address the Forum next year - you would draw energy from it.

And would you consider talking with Jeff Skoll about how we can leverage the network of social entrepreneurs for the changes we have to achieve via government, business, non-profit and citizen action collaboration? ...
