

RE: Gail McGovern

From: Cheryl Mills millsd@state.gov

RELEASE IN FULL

To: Hillary Clinton HDR22@clintonemail.com

Subject: RE: Gail McGovern

I did - we spoke - all good

-----Original Message-----

From: H [mailto:HDR22@clintonemail.com]

Sent: Tuesday, May 04, 2010 5:37 PM

To: Mills, Cheryl D

Subject: Re: Gail McGovern

Check w Kris Balderston.

----- Original Message -----

From: Mills, Cheryl D

To: H

Sent: Tue May 04 13:22:48 2010

Subject: FW: Gail McGovern

FYI

From: Klevorick, Caitlin B

Sent: Tuesday, May 04, 2010 12:54 PM

To: Shah, Rajiv (AID/A); Weisenfeld, Paul (LAC/AA); Reichle, Susan (DCHA/AA)

Cc: Roy, Nishant (AID/A); Mills, Cheryl D

Subject: RE: Gail McGovern

FYI

After getting a call from a reporter yesterday, I spoke with Gail's CoS. I think this may have been prompted in part because they are coming under fire from the media—Sanjay and Miami Herald and now NYT is poking around—for not pushing more money out the door on the relief phase and that people “can’t find red cross products.” The reason they give is that they are using local implementing partners so things aren’t marked “red cross.”

Would be a bit cautious in case this a cya move on their part.

Link to Miami Herald story: <http://www.miamiherald.com/2010/04/27/1601420/spotlight-falls-on-red-cross-spending.html>

thanks

From: Shah, Rajiv (AID/A) [mailto:rshah@usaid.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, May 04, 2010 12:50 PM
To: Weisenfeld, Paul (LAC/AA); Reichle, Susan (DCHA/AA)
Cc: Roy, Nishant (AID/A); Mills, Cheryl D; Klevorick, Caitlin B
Subject: Gail McGovern